

Festival Begins Thursday

Art-Craft Bazaar Saturday

If you think the Fourth of July was exciting . . . you just ain't seen nuthin' yet! The big excitement in Floydada begins Thursday with over 30 Floydada merchants slashing prices for the big Floydada Bargain Festival. The sales event continues through Friday and Saturday and the Lions Sidewalk Arts and Crafts Bazaar is set for all day Saturday. This will be the third Bazaar sponsored by the Floydada Lions Club and the first two were highly successful.

Persons desiring to feature their arts and crafts are reminded to call the Chamber of Commerce Office at 983-3434 or 983-2191. There is no charge to display items on the sidewalk, but there is a charge of $10 for a booth in the Lemondrop Saloon, which is located in the building between Bealls and Hales on the south side of the square.

The timing of the bargain event is just right for many merchants who have merchandise to clear out on July Clearance sales. Not only will the bargains appear in Thursday's Hesperian, but a 2,000 mailing of circulars will go to the edges of the Floydada trade area not fully covered by the Hesperian.

There will be bargains in everything from automobiles to housewares . . . come see.

FREE TRIP TO SIX FLAGS
Persons of 16 years of age or older are invited to register in the participating firms and a drawing for the winner will be held on the courthouse lawn at 5 p.m. Saturday.

Persons registering do not have to be present, nor is purchase necessary to register.

The free trip to six flags is an all expense paid gift for an average size family, payable in cash.

Chamber of Commerce manager Doug Frazier reminds all participating merchants that each must furnish his own registration box, but the Chamber will furnish the registration tickets and window posters.

Participating merchants are reminded to have their advertising copy ready Monday.

4-H Dress Revue Tuesday

Sixteen Floyd County 4-H Club girls will culminate work on their clothing projects with the annual Dress Revue to be held Tuesday night in Lockney Elementary School cafeteria.

Modeling of costumes made during the project will begin at 8:30 p.m. Narrating the show will be Mrs. Linda Terrell, who is in charge of the program. Miss Ginger Henderson, a senior 4-H member, will provide background music. Theme of the show will be "Flowers of Fashion".

Adult 4-H leaders Mrs. Kay Williams, Mrs. Dorothy Smalley and Mrs. Charlotte Champbell have planned the dress revue and are serving as heads of various committees. Also assisting them are Mrs. Merlene Whitfill, dressing rooms, and Mrs. Juanita Broseh, refreshments. Floyd County extension agent Sharon Hillis is in charge of dress judging and record books judging.

After the girls have modeled their garments and have been given achievement ribbons, refreshments will be served. Following will be a slide presentation by the Indiana 4-H members and sponsors who will be guests this coming week of Floyd County.

Judging of garments was conducted Wednesday afternoon at the cafeteria. Winners will be announced at the dress revue, with two girls to be named as Floyd County's representatives in the District Dress Revue to be held in Lubbock later this month. One representative will be from the senior division, and one from either the junior I or junior II divisions.

Judges included Kathy Burk of Floydada, home economist with Lighthouse Electric Cooperative; Deana Finck of Tulia, a seven-year 4-H member and a high school senior; Deborah Gilleland of Tulia, a 10-year

4-H member and a student at Texas A&M; Mrs. Jack Gilleland of Tulia, a 12-year 4-H adult leader, and Linda Mullin of Silverton, Briscoe County extension agent.

Girls who will be modeling Tuesday night in the dress revue will include the following: Shawnda Brock, pre-4-H division; Libby Williams, Karyn Foster, Sherese Cannon, Jerri McCormick, Nina Campbell and Emma Martinez, beginners division (ages 9 and 10 in their first year of sewing); Melanie Foster, intermediate (age 10 with one year previous experience); Patti Campbell, junior I (ages 11 and 12 with one to three years experience).

Jill Whitfill, Darlene Broseh and Sheryl Johnson, junior II (12-year-olds with three years experience, and 13 and 14 year old girls); Penny Smalley, Caren Campbell, Ann Campbell and Isabel Martinez, seniors.

Blood Drive Here On July 11th

The Floydada Kiwanis Club and the Caprock Hospital Women's Auxiliary are co-sponsoring a blood drive for Floyd County in the community room of the First National Bank, Floydada, Friday, July 11, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Purpose of the blood drive is to build up the quota for Floyd County, which is below the normal capacity.

A blood service unit out of Lubbock will be here to work with donors. Everyone able to do so are asked to come to the bank for coffee and give a pint of blood.

Requirements of a blood donor are as follows:

General Donor Qualifications

- Age — Between 17 and 65 years.
- Seventeen year old donors must have parental permission. Blood Services form must be used.
- Weight — At least 110 lbs.
- No current health problems.
- Can not have had major surgery within past 6 months.
- Can not have had major dental surgery within past 6 months.
- Can not have had tooth extraction within past 72 hours.
- Can not be pregnant now or in the past 6 months.
- Can not have been in malaria endemic area in past 3 years.
- Can not have received blood in past 6 months.

months.

Can not have had tattoo in past 6 months.

Can not have had: viral hepatitis or "yellow jaundice"; malaria; diabetes (requiring insulin or oral drug therapy); surgery for cancer, other than skin.

Volunteer blood donors receive six months of blood protection for themselves and members of their immediate family. This protection, part of the Community Donor Program, includes blood center charges for transfusions.

A person may safely donate blood every eight weeks.

The Lubbock Blood Services provides blood for 38 hospitals in 23 counties of the South Plains. The service provides up to 14,000 units of blood and blood components each year.

FLOYD PEOPLE

Younger Than Before

NEW YORK — How young is the Floyd County population, measured in terms of its contact with the major events of the last few decades?

How many of the local residents were around in 1929, for example, when the great depression took place and the stock market crashed?

How many were on hand in 1936 when King Edward gave up the British throne to marry Wallis Simpson, or in 1941 when Pearl Harbor was attacked?

According to an age breakdown, compiled by the Census Bureau, no more than 21 percent of the local population was alive in 1918, when World War I came to a close.

In 1933, when prohibition ended, nearly 14 years after it went into effect, only 38 percent of Floyd County's current population was around to witness the event.

The advent of the atomic age, in the early 1940's, following the first nuclear chain reaction, can be remembered by only 49 percent locally, the figures show.

All of which points to the fact that the population of the area is relatively young.

The age level in Floyd County, taken as a whole, is found to be well below what it was a generation ago.

Local residents are slightly older, however, than their compatriots in most parts of the United States.

The median age of the local population is given as 28.5 years, which means that there are as many below that age as there are above it.

In the United States the median age is 28.1 and, in the State of Texas, 26.4.

Despite the fact that there has been a pronounced drop in birth rate, national, in the last few years, there is still a preponderance of young people because of the big birth rates that followed World War II.

Currently, the largest five-year segment of the population consists of those between ages 10 and 15. They total more than 20,800,000. Next in order is the 5 to 10 year group, 19,890,000.

Just how large a concentration of young people is represented in this 5 to 15 age span is indicated by the fact that it contains twice as many persons as are in the over-65 ranks.

THE HOTTEST pieces of the hottest topic of these days is indeed the Radio . . . or "two way" . . . This small gadget is the most popular of the trucking industry.

More than a million CB are granted by the Communications Commission. More than half the number are actually in operation; the rest without an issued license.

They are very much a part of the life of a farmer pickup on the highway. It is getting to be a common sight to see a farm pickup with an installed CB.

These radios stay in their trucks and are hired by the farmer's helper in the parts for a stranded . . . or just to talk to his home . . . like "I'm ready?"

A number of women own radios . . . some of them to talk.

There are good and bad uses for them. If used properly, it can save many ways . . . in fact, in many ways CB's have saved the lives of many. A CB and want to talk to the truck drivers, these "Truckers' CB

EARL MINTER HAS DEVELOPED a catfish hook that is really working. It is a colored sponge that you soak in stink catfish bait. The sponge covered hook will stay a couple of inches off the bottom of the lake with proper weight adjustment.

Earl knows it will work, and he is selling his catfish hooks in several sports stores . . . some as far away as Oklahoma.

If you want to see his sponge catfish hooks, Earl lives in Lockney and he has a few of his hooks at Hagood's Department Store in Floydada where he works.

PRINCIPAL to harried second grade teacher: "I appreciate your feelings, but you simply cannot send thank you notes to your pupils when they stay home because of illness."

IS THERE ever anyone so scornful and who exhibits greater feelings of superiority as a repairman who discovers you've been trying to fix it yourself?

Tanner Laine's 'Cattle Call' On Sale

Tanner Laine's new book "Cattle Call" is now on sale in the Beacon Office Supply at Lockney and Hesperian Office Supply in Floydada.

Now . . . after six years . . . a companion volume to "Cow Country" in the face of a Cowboy series is available.

Cattle Call's presents more folklore about the Great Southwest, plus 181 new cowboy faces, each in full-page format. Illustrated with 390 photos and sketches.

The author, a native of Spur in the big ranch country just off the Caprock, has written sympathetically about "cowhands", their courage, fortitude and foibles, about the native lore of the South Plains, West Texas, and the far reaches of the Llano Estacado.

Cattle Call features superb photography and art work by professionals on the staff of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal. The front cover drawing was done by the author's son, Tanner A. Laine.

The book appears in a handsome 8 1/4 x 10 1/2 inch format and contains 368 pages. Index of story titles and cowboy faces. Attractive hard cover in orange and black.

PECOS RIDES HIGH . . . this dog likes to ride (standing up) on top of John Dunlap's pickup. John says he keeps his balance, even at fast speeds. Of course he is careful not to stop suddenly or make a fast turn. Why does Pecos like to ride standing up on the cab? He just likes to see a lot of the fast moving world. (Staff Photo)

NOT SO PEACHY

With peach season in full swing, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service has something of a sour note in its report. Peach production for the state is now estimated at 312,500 bushels; this is a reduction of 52,500 bushels from the 1974 forecast.

The peach crop sustained various levels of damage by a freeze that hit the state last March. Peach picking picks up speed, meanwhile. Harvest is in full swing in the Gillespie County and Limestone County areas. Earlier varieties are also being harvested in north Texas. Most of the crop is expected to come from the southern half of the state.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE MEDICINE FROM LIVESTOCK?

A steer or hog represents more than meat on the hoof. Livestock is a valuable source of medicines used in the treatment of many human illnesses. Among the pharmaceuticals obtained through processing livestock are drugs for treating diabetes, Addison's disease, rheumatoid arthritis, rheumatic fever and blood clots.

SILVERTON YOUNG FARMERS MEET

The Silvertown Young Farmers met Thursday, June 26th, in the Pioneer Room of the First State Bank for their regular meeting and to hear a guest speaker, Joe Taylor, Mr. Taylor, is a representative of Security Saving Life Insurance, from Lockney. He spoke on a savings plan. In the business session of the meeting, Tobe Riddell, secretary-treasurer, read the minutes from the June 12th meeting and also gave a financial report. After quite a bit of discussion it was decided to try to set up a scholarship fund in the memory of the Leland Hugh Wood family. This will be a joint project between the L.O.A. Jr. Study Club and the Silvertown Young Farmers. If agreeable with L.O.A. the Silvertown Young Farmers would like to divide this scholarship between an FFA senior boy and an FFA senior girl.

The Silvertown Young Farmers also decided to give the rodeo queen candidates two weeks in which to sell their tickets for the annual Silvertown Young Farmer rodeo. Prizes for the rodeo queen contests will be as follows, first - $100.00, second - $50.00 and third - $25.00. The Young Farmers and their guests attending were: Tobe Riddell, Calvin Shelton, Jimmy Myers, Dwain Henderson, Donald Perkins, Dick Rober, G. W. Chappell, Hand Baird, Fred Minyard, Bill Rampy, advisor, John Roeher, Veneta Chappell, Fay Perkins and Joe Taylor.

Standing cotton acreage in the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. was estimated June 26 at 2,281,500 by the joint PCG-Lubbock Cotton Exchange Estimates Committee.

Earlier, private industry estimates, prior to extensive acreage lost to hail and sand, had guessed from 2.4 to 2.7 million planted acres for the area. Although the joint committee made no official statement on planted acreage, discussion indicated that around 2.5 million acres were planted and that weather had taken out approximately 200,000 acres.

In round figures, the 1975 estimate of 2.3 million acres is less than 5 per cent above the 2.2 million acres reported by the Texas Crop & Livestock Reporting Service as harvested on the Plains in 1974. But individual members of the PCG-LCE committee comment that the odds greatly favor much more than a 5 per cent increase in production over the 1.2 million bales counted in 1974.

Whereas the absence of underground moisture in 1974 reduced crop yields, subsoil moisture this year is exceptionally high. Another adverse effect on the yields of last year was unseasonably cool weather in late August, September and October. A repeat of those conditions in 1975 is possible, of course, but is not to be expected under the laws of probability.

The 10 year average yield for the 25 counties, 1965-74, is 415.5 pounds per acre, a yield which would result in almost 2 million bales if harvested from 2.3 million acres in 1975. The average for the last 5 years, depressed to 374.3 pounds per acre by the bad years of 1971 and 1974, would mean production in 1975 of only a little over 1.75 million bales.

The PCG-LCE estimates committee will meet again early in August to project Plains production based on acreage and crop conditions at that time.

The chart below shows—a comparison of planted and harvested acreage for each of the 25 PCG counties in 1974 and the estimated standing acreage this year.

Boom, Boom, Boom . . . Good News For How Long Will It Last? . . . Milk Production
Although they will fizzle in some parts, crop prospects this July 4 week-end show Cotton planting is finished on the High harvesting is underway in the Valley; grain is well underway in South Texas as planting in the north; prospects for many crops are they've been in years.

If you're going to celebrate July 4 week plan to make it an all-Texas food affair. peaches produced in Texas; watermelon, cantaloupes are being harvested; and there fresh vegetables such as tomatoes, onions, corn, squash, and many others. And be a Texas-produced beef.

Wheat harvest is about half complete, nearing the final stages; peanut planting completion; and soybean seeding is about All in all this July 4 week-end, crops are over most sections of the state.

GOOD NEWS, a thing which has been agriculture in the past couple of years, is the livestock industry.

Cattle on feed in Texas, as well as the feeding states, is showing an upward trend. the state is up six per cent from a month ago.

Even though the June 1 estimate is 42 per year ago, cattle feeding has shown a turn-around. Cattle on feed in Texas as of June 1 total head. Texas cattle feeders placed 288,000 lots during May.

Cattle and calves on feed June 1 in the feeding states totaled 5,841,000 head. A down from a year ago, it is an increase over May placements of cattle and calves on feed cent compared to a year ago.

Cattle feeders are showing some profit. will this last? Economists note that more coming to market in the months ahead, and to lower prices to producers later this year.

But for the time being, cattlemen are of improvement in their price situation.

MILK PRODUCTION is having its up Texas. During May, milk production in the per cent above last month, but one per cent ago.

Production per cow is the same as last year a month ago. Milk cows on farms are down from a year ago. Milk cow numbers declined April, the largest month-to-month drop in the month of January, 1974.

HAVE YOU DONE IT YET? Have you census of agriculture form? About 99,000 have failed to do this, so the Census Bureau get the census form completed and returned possible.

And they emphasize the figures you used by an other government agency. Individually be combined into county, state, and national

VETERANS NEWS

Jack Coker, Veterans Administration Regional Office Director, reported today that a liberalizing provision of a recent law allowed it to restore GI home loan entitlement to 7,456 veterans in the first quarter of 1975 — well above the previous total for a full year. Requests for restoration in March totaled 4,499. Of that number, 3,540 were approved, pushing the three month total to 7,456. Yearly totals have ranged between 4,282 and 5,272 since 1971. Coker explained that the Veterans Housing Act of 1974 (PL 93-569, Dec. 31) relaxed restrictions on reinstating loan entitlement to previous users. Previously, loan benefits could be restored only for what the agency described as "compelling reasons." This requirement was eliminated by the new law, and VA now may restore benefits whenever the property has been disposed of and the GI loan paid in full. More than nine million loans valued at nearly $112 billion have been guaranteed since World War II. Almost 4.9 million veterans have paid their loans in full, and thus could qualify for restoration of entitlement if they dispose of the property which secured their loans. Another provision of the Housing Act allows VA to restore a veteran-seller's entitlement and release him from liability to VA when a veteran-buyer agrees to assume the outstanding balance on the property. The buyer also must qualify from a credit standpoint, and agrees to substitute his entitlement to the same extent as the veteran-seller. VA guarantees 60 percent up to a maximum of $17,500, whichever is less, of home loans private lenders make to eligible military service personnel and veterans of World War II and later periods. Coker urged any eligible person interested in GI home loans or restoration of loan eligibility to contact the VA regional office which has his records.

HIGHWAY TRAVEL: A recent Gallup poll conducted for the Washington-based Highway Users Federation showed that 82% of the public favors completion of the Interstate Highway System; 46% of those said, "as soon as possible."

Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

TRAIL DUST

Perhaps my observations are those of a fuddy-duddy but it seems to me that many youngsters are burning both ends of the candle and that the candle is a double-fused firecracker.

Deceit is on my hands like the stench of cheap perfume and the shadow of betrayal hugs my path when I walk alone. Two pleading brown eyes keep looking through a window in my heart like the eyes of a condemned and innocent prisoner. I could not look away quick enough and the unwanted little dog brushed my leg, waiting for the word that never left my lips. It was a mute appeal in a world of loneliness and hunger; the voice of a dumb animal left echoing in the chapel of my consciousness.

Music is a tire that melts the thick lead walls of reality which confine the soul.

LEARNS CRIME PREVENTION — L. L. (Bud) Rainey, sheriff of Floyd County recently completed a course offered by the Texas Crime Prevention Institute, headquartered at Southwest Texas State University. Presenting the certificate was Jerry Smith of the Alamo Council of Governments.

SAN MARCOS — Thirty-four law enforcement officers from 21 different agencies across the state recently completed a basic two-week Texas Crime Prevention Institute course. Participants were awarded certificates of completion Friday (June 27) in ceremonies here.

The statewide institute, headquartered at Southwest Texas State University, has provided instruction in crime prevention theory and techniques to 424 certified law enforcement officers since its initial funding a year ago.

In addition to the basics, the institute offers advanced, administrative and specialized schools.

Another two-week basic course is scheduled to begin July 21. Three-day specialized environmental schools are set to begin July 22 and July 29. The specialized courses will be on how to design buildings to prevent crimes.

Officers completing the last basic school include Deputy Santos Martinez and Trinidad C. Rendon of the Frio County Sheriff's Office; Sgt. Fred Dietz and Ptl. Mark A. Hamilton of the San Angelo Police Department; Sgt. Johnny Thomas and Sgt. Conrad N. Mars of the Mt. Pleasant Police Department; Ptl. Leland D. Vance and Ptl. Gerald Walker of the Garland Police Department; and Ptl. David Ray Ball and Ptl. Mike Baxter of the Wichita Falls Police Department.

Also, Ptl. Johnnie E. Teron and Ptl. Richard Ortiz of the San Antonio Police Department; Sgt. J. B. Stevenson and Ptl. Joseph F. Kiefer Jr. of the Temple Police Department; Officer C. B. Choate Jr., Ptl. Philip R. Miles and Ptl. Robert M. Sneed of the Odessa Police Department; Tony Bell of the Southwest Texas State University Police; Billy Burch of the Levelland Police Department; Fred Byrd of the Seguin Police Department; Lee H. D'Spain of the Kendall County Sheriff's Office; Danny L. Dayton of the Waco Police Department; and Steward D. Dickson of the Taylor County Sheriff's Office.

And Ronald S. Henry of the Cochran County Sheriff's Office; William Jones of the Arlington Police Department; William King of the Floresville Police Department; Melvin Lemons of the Bandera County Sheriff's Office; J. H. Long of the Edna Police Department; Bettie Pundt of the Wilson County Sheriff's Office; L. L. Rainey of the Floyd County Sheriff's Office; and Earl Ray Teel of the Bowie County Sheriff's Office.

Simplicity exerts such a powerful influence on our lives that we make them complex as the natural subconscious reaction to force.

'Smokey' Now Operates Own CB

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Long-haul truckers use citizens band radios to let other drivers know when they've spotted "Smokey the Bear" — a trucker talk for a radar patrolman lying in wait along a highway.

In Columbus, "Smokey" has a CB radio, too. And he tells truckers where to find him. Columbus freeway patrolman Keith Evans, 27, got a CB and took the CB name or "handle" of Casper last November. Since then, 12 other Columbus freeway officers have bought their own units and taken their own handles, Casper said.

Official city permission to use the CB units came in March, Casper said, after the officers had proved the CBs have helped.

Casper believes that letting truckers know the location of radar units helps control traffic. He said his speeding arrests have not decreased since he began broadcasting his location. "The idea behind my job is to slow people down, not see how many tickets I can write," he said.

Cooperation with truckers also has become a two-way street, Casper said.

Truckers and other motorists with CB units tell each other when a motorist is in trouble, enabling police to get there faster than the driver can telephone for help. Warnings from truck drivers that someone is "driving funny" have increased drunken driving arrests, he said.

Casper said he's heard the fame of his unit and those of fellow "Smokeys" with handles like "Grabber," "White Ghost," "El Camino" and "Phantom Bear" has spread as far as Florida, Kansas and Massachusetts.

Still, truckers are surprised on a first visit to Columbus, to report spotting a radar unit — in trucker talk, "Smokey sittin' in the grass takin' pictures" — and hear Smokey himself correct the location. Or having his report of a Smokey heading west answered by the Bear asking, "would you like to go around and go east?"

One trucker commented Casper's radar unit officer to "take his state any green speeding."

Casper also warns truckers about other careless practices.

Besides, he says, the job a lot more easy.

One unsuspecting asked Casper what he had an all-time "funny lights on trucker didn't catch up he wanted to see Casper gave the occasion.

The trucker blurted, "Hey, there's nothing but ting there." "Now you're Casper replied.

Henry Greenberg at age 64

Tennis takes more than you

By Murray Olderman

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (NEA) — From his crouched position in the forehand court, Henry Greenberg peered intently at the towering figure of Rick Barry, topped by a white cap.

Rick was serving, and Greenberg knew the ball would come cannonading at him because the Warrior star stretches out his entire 6 feet 8 inches to muscle the tennis ball with terrific velocity.

Hank tensed himself with just as much concentration as he used to await a fast ball by Bob Feller when he was a young man and swung a bat for a living.

The ball blurred past the service line. "Out!" announced Joe DiMaggio from the umpire's chair. That's right — Joe DiMaggio — because this is the kind of talent that assembles for a Dewar's Sports Celebrity tennis tournament.

Hank shuffled his feet and moved forward, across the base line, for the second serve. Whoosh of racket... wham... whirr... whew! "Double fault!" yelled DiMag. A sly grin crossed Greenberg's face.

He turned to Bob Klein, his partner in the backhand court, and advised, "If he doesn't get the first one in, move up on him."

To Hank, who thrives on competition, the situation was desperate since his own serve had just been broken and they trailed the team of Barry and Kyle Rote, Jr., 6-5, in the nine game finals set for the tournament cup. They needed the game to stay in the match.

Barry missed the first serve to Klein. The brawny tight end of the Los Angeles Rams moved on him. You could see Rick turn grim. It was a macho thing with him. He unwound his second serve with full velocity... and squared the match at 6-6 by double-faulting again.

Now they came down to Barry serving again at 7-6 add-out, match point if he loses it. Barry blasted a potential ace.

Too long. "Fault!" Greenberg winked at Klein. Bob moved several feet inside the base line. Barry swung his racket in a strong arc. The ball plopped into the net for a double fault.

And Greenberg wobbled forward to the net to accept congratulations for his fourth championship in five years. He is 64 years old. He is half bent over, no longer the formidable figure who once hit 58 home runs in a single season. His legs are skinny and knobby and his knees have trouble supporting him. He limps rather than runs around but he wins in tennis against two superb athletes whose combined age doesn't equal his.

Not bad.

There are few guys in the United States more wiley at playing recreational tennis than Hank. He took up the sport back in 1947 when he bought the Cleveland Indians, along with a
