Owner of the Fieldan Motel in Floydada Bob Jacobs this week announced a major expansion program for the motel to be completed about April of 1976.

A recreation room will be added above the present office and a total of 12 new units will be built on the vacant lot next to the Fieldan on the north. This will make a total of 23 units.

Jacobs said the overall plan would be for a total of 35 units to be built as the needs were verified by Texas A & M Training school students.

Jacobs emphasized that the motel would always be interested in offering the truckers and the business people the best in motel service.

If you haven't been blessed materially, you can join all of us in being thankful for health, strength, life itself. And most of us don't have to look far to see someone who is not blessed as much as we.

All of us can be thankful for the blessings... and privileges of the American way of life... for the miracles of the Christian religion... for the love of our families and friends... and most of all... the Love of God.

County Ag Receipts Top $71 Million

Floyd county continues to be one of the top agricultural counties in the state and according to a recent report from Plains Cotton Growers Inc. is eighth of High Plains counties with $71,684,000 gross farm income in 1974.

Floyd ranks behind Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro, Hale, Lubbock, Lamb and Swisher.

In 1974 Floyd's crop receipts were $58,936,000...livestock receipts amounted to $9,817,000. Add to that some government payments and the grand total is $71,684,000.

The report from PCG, a Lubbock based organization which covers 25 counties on the South Plains, was based on a report from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Although the 1974 report is a good one... it caught Floyd county with its poorest cotton crop in over 25 years.

Floyd farmers will long remember the all time record year of 1973 when total receipts amounted to $89,496,000. In 1973 there was an abundance of rainfall... prices were terrific... there were very little irrigation costs, and natural gas was much cheaper... it was a good profit year.

In livestock alone, Deaf Smith County led the state, followed by Gonzales and Hopkins Counties.

In total cash return from agriculture products, the High Plains area furnished seven of the top 10 counties in the state. In crop receipts alone the High Plains area also furnished seven of the top 10 and had six of the top 10 in livestock receipts.

"The facts in this report emphasize the tremendous wealth that is agriculture in this area," said Don Johnson, PCG president. "The figures are even more impressive when it is considered that agriculture is the world's only source of new wealth."

Total cash receipts from agriculture sources for the High Plains topped the $1.4 billion mark and were $5.9 billion statewide. However, the figures were down from the successful 1973 year when receipts from the High Plains were $1.7 billion and $6.8 billion statewide.

Figures are cash marketings for the calendar year, and should not be confused with the crop year value of sales. The 1974 calendar year cash receipts result from some marketings of 1973 crops sold in 1974 as well as marketing of 1974 production, and 1973 receipts include the sale of some 1972 production.

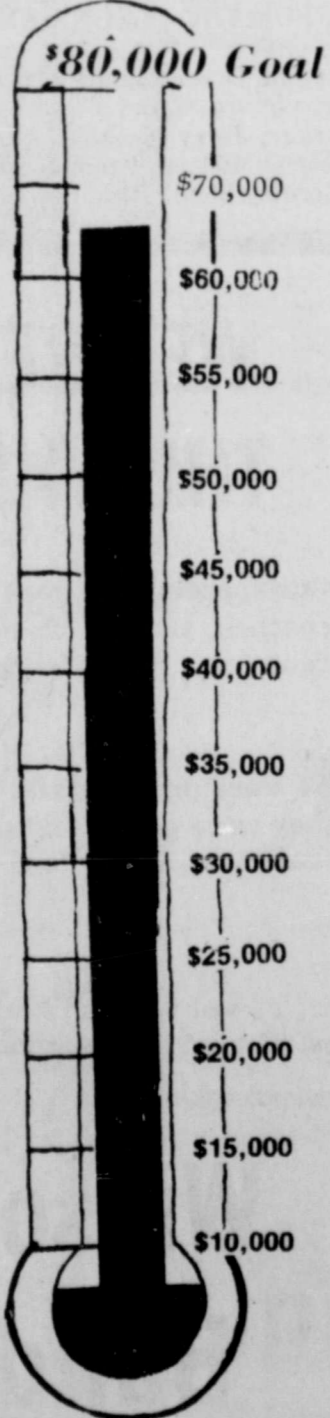

BOB MARLER was elected president of the Floydada Quarterback Club Monday night. He was on the varsity Whirlwind teams of 1968 and 1969... made honorable mention for the all-district team in 1969. Vice president of the club is Frank Barrow, secretary treasurer is Harvey Allen. (Staff Photo)

What One Person Can Do

Wendy Campbell-Purdie is a small, frail-looking woman of 48, with close cropped dark hair. She's as unlikely a desert tamer as you could find. But Wendy Campbell-Purdie has set out to halt the growth of the Sahara desert. And she seems to be succeeding.

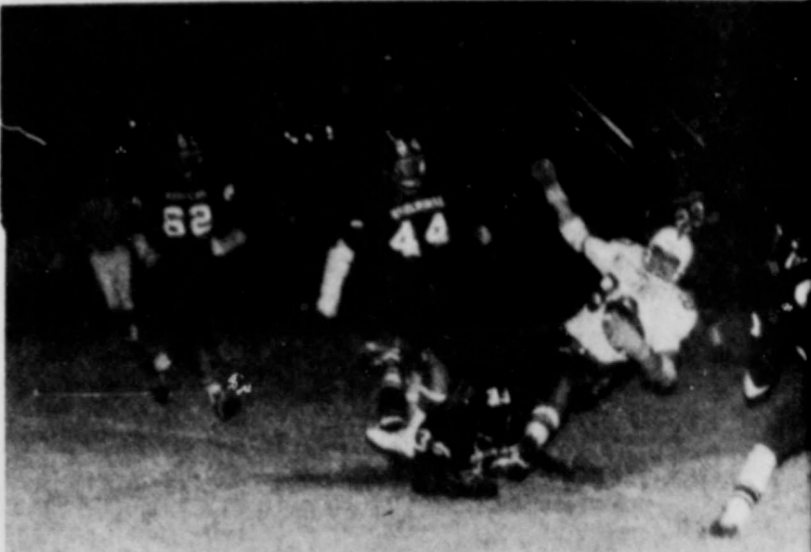

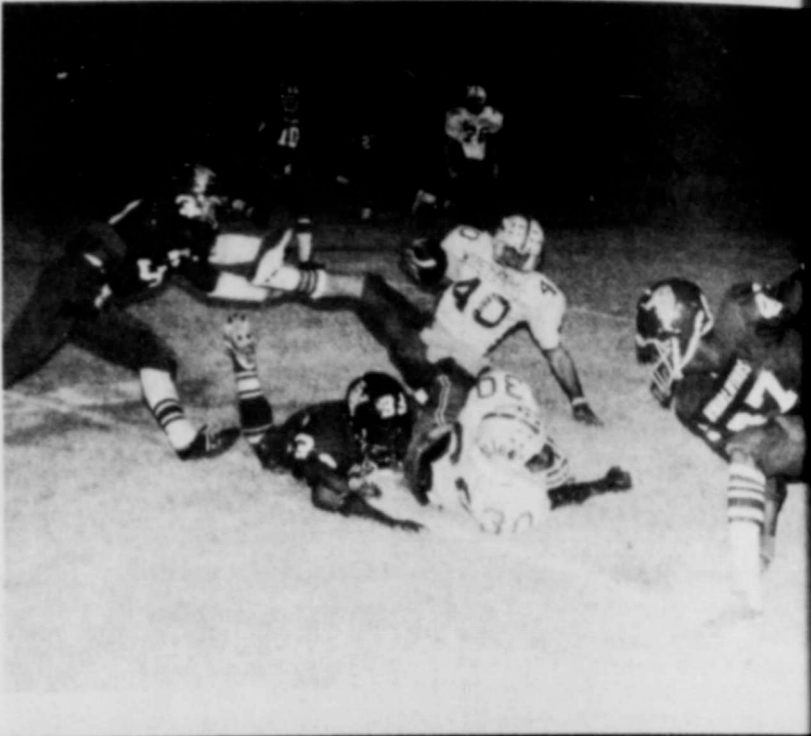

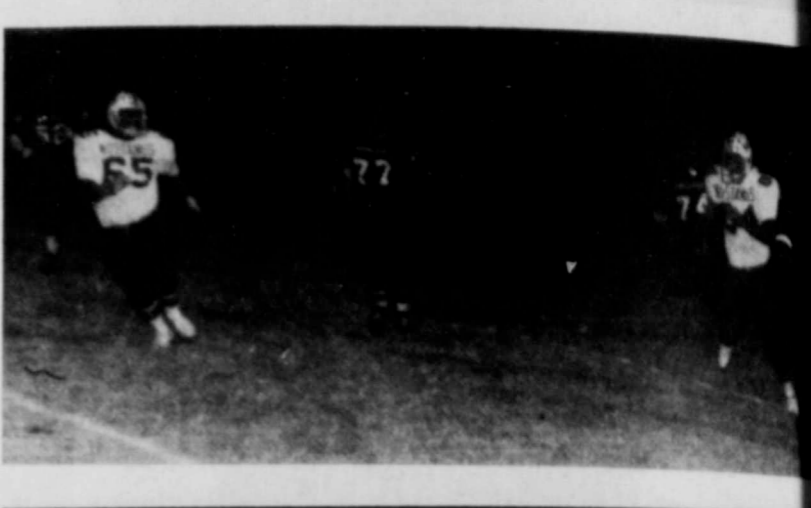

Each year the Sahara claims an area half the size of Connecticut. "Trees will stop the desert in its tracks," claims Miss Campbell-Purdie. "Then you can plant inward, shrinking the desert as you go. And you can plant pretty well all the way across the Sahara."

Miss Campbell-Purdie was working for a lumber company in Corsica when a forestry expert convinced her the "green wall" idea would work. But he fell ill, so she took on the challenge herself. She headed for Morocco, leased 45 acres of desert, and started planting trees. "People thought I was daft," she recalls.

She planted 2,000 trees. In four years, she was able to grow wheat and barley in their shelter. Then she moved on. Algeria is using her idea to create a wall of trees 7 1/2 miles wide clear across the country. Botswana, Gambia and Egypt are also interested. In 16 years, this dynamic Englishwoman has planted more than 130,000 trees to show that the desert can, indeed, be pushed back and tamed.

"An awful lot of people are starving, and it's unnecessary," she claims. "Once there's a green wall right across the Sahara, that's going to save a tremendous lot of lives."

"The desert shall rejoice and blossom," prophesied Isaiah. Wendy Campbell-Purdie has devoted her life to making that prediction come true.

"I'd rather explain higher gas bills than why you don't have gas."

Your natural gas bill is higher. And, you have every right to know why.

One reason is lower temperatures brought on by winter. The main reason, however, is simply that you are paying more for natural gas. Because we are paying more. This chart shows how much:

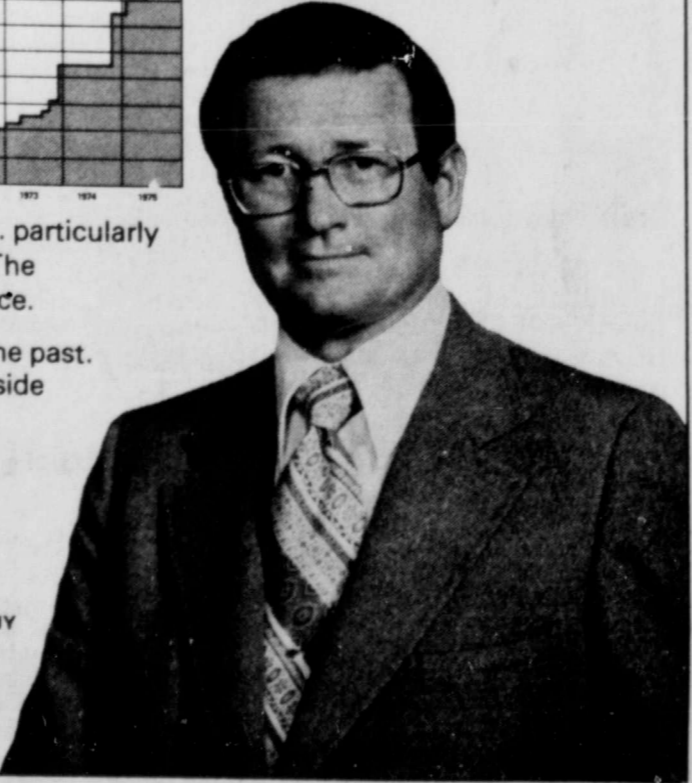

This increase hurts both you and Pioneer. It adds to your bill and to our cost... a cost for which Pioneer is not entirely compensated. It is passed through without mark-up or additional charges.

Why does gas cost more? Competition... particularly from petrochemical and other industries. The competition for gas has never been so fierce.

We will have to pay more for gas than in the past. But by working together, and without outside interference, you'll have the gas you need today and in the future.

II Penseroso Has Program

Members and guests of the II Penseroso Junior Study Club participated recently in a question and answer period to develop a degree of judgment and self-reliance in the field of finances - in the interest of herself, her family, and her country. On hand to answer questions were two guests, professionals in their field: Kenneth Bain, county attorney and lawyer who has his own practice from Floydada, and James Race, Farm Bureau Insurance representative and salesman who lives in Lockney. Race let the group view a film on the importance of owning life insurance and its benefits. Bain answered many questions concerning inheritance, gift taxes, wills, and estate planning.

The program began at 7:30 p.m., November 20 in the home of Mrs. Jerry Perry, with Mrs. Jack Whittington serving as program chairman. Carolyn gave some facts concerning the great stock market crash in the 1920's and showed related pictures.

Pecan pie, sopapillas, honey, coffee and spiced tea was served to 18 members and five guests. Guests were Mr. Bain, Mr. and Mrs. Race, Mrs. James Ferguson, and Mrs. Lena Collins, sister of Mrs. Perry. Members attending were Mrs. Bill Bigham, Van Bradley, Delvin Bybee, Jerry Cawley, Bill Evans, Phil Green, Cliff Hardy, Randy Henderson, Kenneth Holt, D. K. Jackson, Jerry Johnson, Roy Kidd, Audrey McCormick, Rick Mosley, Tom Taylor, Jack Whittington, Johnny Belt, and host Mrs. Jerry Perry. Business followed refreshments. Mrs. Taylor, president of II Penseroso, presided. Members were informed that the art work exhibited at the Lockney Care Center was really enjoyed by the patients. Funds raised by the club from the Christmas greeting page in the Beacon will be given to the Lockney General Hospital toward the purchase of a heart monitor machine. An essay contest for the 7th and 8th graders is to begin immediately. Students will write on 'What America Means to Me' National Prayer Week, November 23-30 will be observed. A thank you note was read from the Children's Hospital in Dallas showing appreciation for the hallo-wen toys and favors sent to them. The Satellite School bake sale was announced and meeting was adjourned.

The next regular meeting will be as scheduled. It will be a program on international affairs with a special guest, our Foreign Exchange student from Finland, visiting.

Pie is now a traditional holiday dessert, but in Colonial days an item like apple pie was something of a year-round, main dish, prepared with fresh or dried apples. One early writer described country house-pie as "made of apples neither peeled or cored with a crust not broken even if a wagon wheel goes over it."

Present were Mmes. A. S. Mize, W. M. Jackson, L. G. Norrell, W. U. Riggles, H. R. Stanley, J. O. Warren, Roy Fawver, A. H. Kreis, T. T. Hamilton and Edna Phillips. A bountiful meal was enjoyed by all.

Plans were made for the meeting in December and for aiding the aging.

Meddlin's BY PEGGY MEDLEY

THE gangling kid from Throckmorton, Bob Lilly, still looks like a kid in person, except for his size. We especially enjoyed the halftime show honoring Lilly at Dallas Sunday. Even though we were comfortably situated in the stadium, the wind really howled around the opening and our legs were covered with blankets. Ticket taker at our entrance was Rickey Holland, son of the T. L. Holland's of Floydada.

The standing ovation for Bob Lilly sure brought lumps to our throats. He is truly loved by one and all and is said to be a gentleman. It is said he shows very little emotion, but one writer recalled he showed emotion in Super Bowl V when in the last few seconds Baltimore kicked a field goal to win the game. Lilly's

Dr. McCulley Gives Program On Atomic Bomb To Club Members

Dr. Andrew McCulley of Floydada presented the program on the Atomic Bomb for members of the 1934 Study Club at their Tuesday night meeting held in the Floyd Lawson home.

Mrs. Lawson led the Club Collect and Mrs. J. S. Hale Jr., was program director for Great Moments in History, introducing the guest speaker.

Dr. McCulley showed a film on the atomic bomb. The military picture was grim before the bomb, when the U.S. was at war with Japan, Germany and Italy. American naval power was not recovering from the disaster of Pearl Harbor, so the decision was made by 1943 that an atomic bomb was desirable, as a means of bringing World War II to an end, though it was obvious that it would not be built in a day or a month or a year.

In December, 1942, a Chicago group under Enrico Fermi had succeeded in bringing about the world's first man-made nuclear chain re-action, a re-action in which the neutrons from fission caused further fission at a sustained level.

The geology and geography of the future Los Alamos played a remote but definite part in the selection of the location on the Pajarito Plateau in New Mexico's Jemez Mountains. An isolated school for boys with adequate quarters for the 30 scientists was all the project needed or so the foundation and others thought.

Actually, J. Robert Oppenheimer discovered the future home of the Atomic Bomb when he rode over the mesa on a pack trip. He admired the setting and visited the school often thereafter, and remembered the place upon being confronted with a momentous decision a few years later. He was asked to advise the Corps of Engineers on the selection of a secret laboratory site. Several specifications were involved and when it was found the site would meet these, the school was closed, however, parents of the emotion was shown, the writer said, when he sailed his headgear halfway down the field in disgust. His team mates bestowed a first to him, "Most yards helmet thrown after losing game!"

I understand the entire half-time honoring Lilly was not televised. So in case they didn't show it, Lilly was presented a station wagon, and being an avid hunter, he also received a dog (Pointer) and his team mates presented him with a shot-gun. His four little Lillys received scholarship funds.

boys were not told why. There was a final spurt of academic fire which gave the boys attending the school a complete full year's course with New Mexico tests to prove it.

Los Alamos, the located between mountains, was also surrounded by a high barbed wire fence and armed guards. In what was probably the most secret project the U.S. has ever had, secrecy became a way of life there. Laboratory personnel were not allowed personal contact with relatives nor permitted to travel more than 100 miles from Los Alamos. A chance encounter with a friend outside the project had to be reported in detail to the security force.

The word physicist was forbidden, for everyone was an "engineer." Drivers licenses, auto registration, bank accounts, income tax returns, food and gasoline rations and insurance policies were issued to numbers rather than names. Outgoing mail was censored and long distance calls were monitored. No one was permitted to mention names or occupations of fellow residents, nor permitted to give distances or names of nearby places or even to describe a beautiful view lest the location be pinpointed. Incoming mail was simply addressed P.O. Box 1663, Santa Fe, New Mexico. Even the birthplace of a baby born there simply carried on the certificate the box number and Santa Fe.

The world's first bomb was exploded only 28 months after the arrival of the first scientific contingent at Los Alamos. After a period of time, scientists met at weekly colloquia made possible by Oppenheimer's insistence upon a free exchange of ideas within the project.

Since essential materials were so limited, on May 23, 1944, Oppenheimer was forced to report to his Jumbo committee that the steel companies approached had expressed strong doubts that Jumbo could be manufactured to specifica-

Grandma's. What a great place to be this Thanksgiving

Tradition has it that Grandma's is the place to go for Thanksgiving. Wherever you spend the holidays, do yourself a favor and drive with extra caution. Anyplace is better this Thanksgiving than where you'll wind up if you're involved in a traffic accident. So drive the friendly way. Take the extra time it takes to be safe.

WTCC Against Helping New York

The Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in a recent Mid-Year Meeting in Amarillo, called upon all West Texas Congressmen to work to ensure that no federal aid be given New York City until the city and the state of New York demonstrate good faith by exhausting all financial possibilities, and actions in correcting New York City's present financial position. Then if all such exhaustive actions have been taken and a satisfactory fiscal reorganization and recuperative plan has been initiated, then federal aid, if loaned to New York City, should be allocated not in a lump sum but in graduated steps in direct proportion to the success of each step in the fiscal reorganization and recuperative plan.

Committee which originated the WTCC position, said, "It was felt in our committee that a very dangerous precedent would be set if the federal government rashly bailed out New York without requiring the city and the state to do everything possible to solve the problem they alone created. It would bankrupt the nation if the federal government were to try to bail out in the future every city in the nation that, through bad management and bad city government, got itself in the same shape as New York. Such a federal policy would remove all restraint and responsibility of local city governments to live within its means. Many, many cities throughout the nation are in good financial shape and sound. It has been done by good business and good government practices. New York City can do it if they will just "face up" to the problems and get going."

DPS to begin
CB operations

AUSTIN — Several songs now popular on the airways herald the virtues of the citizens band radio and its role in perennial, but somewhat subdued duel between the truck driver and the highway patrol.

Truckers using "handles" like "Rubber Duck" and "Cactus Pete" have adopted the CB rigs as a regular cab partner, using the radios to relay road conditions, cafe menus, diesel oil prices... and the location of speed traps, better known as "Smokey Reports."

Beginning Dec. 1 here in Texas, the next "10-04" Rubber Duck receives on his CB unit may be none other than the "bear" himself.

ACCORDING to Department of Public Safety information officer Richard Grimmert, patrolmen will be using CB transceivers in "selected areas of the state" to monitor and transmit on those CB channels which most likely would carry calls for assistance.

Grimmett said at least four patrolmen have already installed the CB rigs in their patrol cars at their own expense. Others have planned to do the same thing.

During the three-month period from Dec. 1 through Feb. 29, patrolmen will be "running some tests using patrol cars with legal transceivers," Grimmert said. Both the equipment and the operators will be licensed Lindley, mother and grandmother, city, was part of the group.

Mrs. Plumlee visited Mrs. Harve Thomas Monday morning. Mrs. Thomas is feeling better.

The Senior Citizens Club which met at Lighthouse Electric was well attended last Wednesday in spite of the cold. There were over thirty present with an interesting program, good dinner and all.

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Roxie Covey met at her home Thursday afternoon. These included Mrs. Plum-lee, Mrs. Carey, Mrs. Whitehead, Mrs. Thelma Jones, Mrs. Ruby Shoemaker, Mrs. Donahue and Mrs. Inez Barton.

The Caprock Workers' Conference which met Tuesday evening with the Calvary Baptist Church was great, we think. Such inspiring programs they have - and we the hosts thought it was wonderful. Reminds us older ones of days long gone when these meetings were held in the daytime.

Friends are in receipt of an invitation to the wedding of Iris Lynn Ronnals and James Moss Jr. on December 6, 1975 at 7 o'clock, Freeman Hights Baptist Church, 1120 N. Star Road, Garland, Texas. James Ulman Jr., most of us know, is the son of Rev. J. Ulman Moss and our Ruth Jordan Moss, S.B.C. missionaries to Mexico. His parents are on furlough and at home in Mesquite, 75149, 2020 Eastbrook Circle. This fine couple has our best wishes.

on their family responsibilities and have done better than most people could knowing he has cancer.

Now it is time for friends to come to his aid, so the c.b.'ers have been there to help. We started the last of October to try to help.

Members of the West Texas Caprockers Radio Club put their heads together to try and decide what to do. Before we could hardly get things rolling the Lubbock C.B.'ers and the West Texas Caprockers had figured on having a ticket sale, and we did.

Hearing the story, C.B.'ers from Garza and Floyd counties joined us.

Thanks to all the good work we all rounded up about $2500.00 for the Kelsey family from tickets sold for the C.B. radio.

Then the West Texas Caprockers had a cake sale. Some of the cakes brought up to $25.00 and some were sold several times bringing the total up to $2776.25 in all.

We all want to thank each and every one of you for your help.

The winners of the C. B. radios were Elton Ellison of Ralls and Bill Richardson of Lubbock.

Pumpkin or potato pie is a traditional ending to Thanksgiving dinner, and it's a rich source of Vitamin A, needed for growth and protection against infection. This vitamin keeps the mouth and digestive system linings in good condition and helps night vision, Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

The West Texas C.B.'ers from Crosby, Floyd, Garza, and Lubbock counties all went to their c.b. radios they had sitting in their homes and told other c.b.'ers the story of the Robbie Kelsey family of Lorenzo. Then all went to work to aid the family in need as we could not help but in one way. We went to work rounding up money so Linda Kelsey, Robbie's wife, could stay at home and take care of Robbie as he is a very sick man. Robbie, 30, has been sick for three years. Robbie and Linda carried

The Floyd Philosopher

Claims World Spending Too Much Time On Problems That Have No Solutions

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm claims he has been thinking, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

After thinking long and hard I have come to the conclusion that the main problem with the world is that it spends too much time trying to solve problems for which there aren't any solutions.

For example, Secretary of State Kissinger has spent the last two or three years flying back and forth between half a dozen countries while we spent 150 billion dollars in Viet Nam - which is enough money to tide New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, San Francisco and several others over till at least Christmas - and so far as I can tell the problems he was trying to solve are still there.

There are 142 countries in the United Nations, and probably a lot more out there somewhere we haven't heard of who haven't heard of us or the United Nations, and for anybody to try to keep up with their internal problems, not to mention solve them, is like asking you to keep up with the name and character of every office-holder in every county within 200 miles of Floyd County.

If Congress in Washington and the Legislature in Austin would confine their attention only to problems capable of being solved, their meeting time could be reduced by about 75 percent. It doesn't follow that taxes would thereby be reduced, as reducing taxes is one of the problems that can't be solved.

Moreover, this theory doesn't apply just to governments. It applies to all sorts of institutions and categories, and here's a list of some of the problems that can't be solved:

- College Students
- Busing
- Teen agers.
- Your neighbor's dog.
- Television programs.
- Cars.
- George Wallace.
- Ronald Reagan.
- Ireland.
- The Mid-East.
- The national debt.
- Family squabbles.

I'm running out of space. I started to list the CIA and the FBI, but there is a solution to those. As I understand it, both outfits have claimed they've been doing what they've been doing because Congress hasn't set up any guidelines for their conduct. Therefore, Congress should pass a law making it against the law for the CIA and the FBI to break the law.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Speed, Drinking Drivers Cause Accidents

Traffic accidents and deaths are going to increase in the next few weeks, according to Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Traffic volumes will mount due to Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday traffic. Christmas shoppers will travel in large numbers. Both deer and quail season will be open and hunters will be out in large numbers. Football traffic will also continue to be heavy and travel to basketball games will add to highway traffic. Increased night time driving will add to the problems of the motorist.

Speed too fast for conditions and the drinking driver continue to be the leading factors in accidents.

Major Bell said that DPS Troopers investigated 1,095 accidents involving 569 injuries and 22 deaths in November and December of 1974 in the Lubbock Region.

Major Bell also reminds the Texas motorist to recognize hazardous weather conditions as a factor in causing traffic accidents. The driver should adjust his speed to prevent a tragedy.

New Businesses In Floyd County

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 - To what extent have Floyd County residents, with an urge to be their own bosses, been going into business for themselves? How many in the local area are now self-employed?

Although the launching of a new business is always a risky proposition, it is especially so in these times, when credit is tight, prices high and competition keen.

Nevertheless, the spirit of individual enterprise and the willingness to venture still prevail locally, despite the hazards involved. Some undertakings succeed and some do not.

Each year, although the failure rate is high among new businesses, there are additional people ready to take the plunge. Many of those who have done so lately have been out of work for a long time and had become tired of waiting for jobs to materialize. They are striking back rather than striking out.

In Floyd County, as a result, the proportion of the working population that is self employed is relatively large, according to the latest Department of Commerce figures.

They show that some 1,020 men and women in the area have their own businesses, professions or farms. This is exclusive of those connected with incorporated enterprises, even though they may have controlling interests in them.

Among them are the storekeepers, the barbers, the doctors, the gas station operators, the farmers and the like.

In terms of the number of local people who are employed, it means that 28.6 percent are self-employed. It 7.7 percent and, in the West South Central States, 9.5 percent.

Nationally, about 500,000 new businesses are started each year, far exceeding the number that are discontinued because of death, retirement or failure.

Most popular among the newcomers are grocery stores and luncheonettes, mail order operations, franchise outlets and service businesses.

What is needed for success, according to advice from the Labor Department, is enough capital or credit to carry through the hazardous start-up period, a willingness to work hard, adequate knowledge of the particular business and imagination and flexibility to cope with varying situations.

Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Washington brought Mrs. Hinsley home Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brewer were host Sunday for an early family Thanksgiving dinner at their home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Brewer, Monty, and Latonya, Terry and Lashie Mooney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glenn Brewer, Amber, Ty and Brandon, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Robison and Kris, all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Millard Watson, Mrs. Fred McDougle and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Watson, Deanna and Amanda.

EMBRYO TRANSFER IN BABOON-A male baboon has been delivered from his mother following the successful transfer of an embryo (fertilized egg) from one female to another. This is the first nonhuman primate infant known to be produced by embryo transfer. The male infant weighing 30.6 ounces was delivered at the Southwest Foundation for Research and Education in San Antonio. Principal investigator on the project is Dr. Duane C. Kraemer, associate professor of veterinary medicine at Texas A&M University. The work has been potential for producing specific strains of nonhuman primates for biomedical research.

By 1985, the U. S. will most likely be using metric measurements for length, temperature, weight and volume. Claudia Mitzel, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, predicts.

Only three men in recorded history have discovered planets, says Clyde W. Tombaugh. "The others were known to cave men. Sir William Herschel found Uranus in 1781, and J. G. Galle of Berlin confirmed the existence of Neptune in 1846. I discovered Pluto in 1930."

When he made his historic discovery, Mr. Tombaugh was 24 and had only a high school education. His astronomy was picked up from popular science magazines. His practical experience was gained using telescopes he built himself, with the help and encouragement of his father, a farmer in Illinois and Kansas.

Young Tombaugh had been sending sketches of his observations of Mars and Jupiter to the Lowell Observatory, a privately funded facility named for the great astronomer, Percival Lowell. Eventually, his achievements impressed the staff sufficiently to win him a job in 1929, as an assistant, specifically assigned to look for "Planet X" - whose existence Lowell had predicted. On January 23 and 29, 1930, he made the sightings that were confirmed six weeks later as the Planet Pluto.

On March 13, 1930, a front-page story in the New York Times announced to the world: "Ninth Planet Discovered on Edge of Solar System." The announcement made no mention of a Kansas farm boy named Clyde W. Tombaugh, who had made the discovery.

"But I did at least get the chance to become a professional astronomer," explains Mr. Tombaugh, with characteristic modesty.

Now retired, Mr. Tombaugh is finally putting on paper the story of his great find. "I remember the discovery," he says, "like it was yesterday."

By Congressman Omar Burleson

WASHINGTON, D. C. - "A Day of Thanksgiving to Almighty God" were the words used by the Governor of Texas, George T. Wood, in 1849 to make Thanksgiving official in Texas. The Governor recognized this day to be a festive family occasion. His reference also called attention to a day for earnest spiritual reflection. Sixty years before, in 1789, George Washington issued the first Thanksgiving Proclamation. His words have remarkable significance even today and they are as follows:

"Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor; and
"Whereas both Houses of Congress have, by their joint committee, requested me 'to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness;'
"Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these United States to the service of that great and glorious Being who is the beneficent author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country previous to their becoming a nation; for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable interpositions of His providence in the course and conclusion of the late war; for the great degree of tranquility, union, and plenty which we have since enjoyed; for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particu-

Floyd Families At Higher Income Levels

NEW YORK. - According to a nationwide survey of personal incomes, a larger proportion of Floyd County families is to be found in the middle and upper income brackets than ever before.

The earning capacity of local residents has been rising steadily in recent years, paralleling if not always equalling the increase in the cost of living.

The upward shift has been taking place all along the line. Many families who were formerly in the $8,000 to $10,000 group have moved up to the $10,000 to $15,000 level, the figures show. Their positions on the income ladder have been occupied, in turn, by those who had been earning $5,000 to $8,000.

In Floyd County, it is shown, no less than 52.5 percent of the households had disposable cash income of $8,000 or more last year after payment of personal taxes.

The facts and figures are brought out in a copyrighted study, made by Sales Management, to determine the makeup of each community in terms of disposable income. All sections of the country are covered. What was sought was a better financial picture of each area than was possible through its "average income" figure alone.

Is that average made up of a small proportion of families with big incomes counterbalancing a much larger proportion with low incomes or are earnings more evenly distributed?

In the local area, it appears, both the level of earnings and the spread are relatively good.

Since the report is concerned solely with money income it understates somewhat the standing of farm communities, where lower living costs and the availability of home-grown products are valuable considerations.

The breakdown for Floyd County indicates the proportions of the local population that lie within each income bracket.

Some 19.8 percent of the households are listed with net earnings of $5,000 to $8,000, 9.7 percent with $8,000 to $10,000, 19.3 percent with $10,000 to $15,000 and 23.5 percent with incomes higher than that. The others have $5,000 or less left after taxes.

$11,832,000 Of Floyd Income From Government

NEW YORK. - How large a part does government play in the financial affairs of Floyd County residents?

How much of their personal income comes from governmental agencies - Federal, state and local - via salaries and wages, social security, unemployment insurance, pensions, welfare payments and the like?

According to the latest statistics, a larger portion of personal income comes from such sources than ever before. Locally and elsewhere across the country, the role of government has grown by leaps and bounds in the last few years.

To a large extent it is attributed to the recession, which has led to a great outpouring of public funds in an effort to turn the economy around and assist those who are most seriously affected by it.

In Floyd County, it is estimated, based upon an updating of the latest statewide figures, about 29 cents out of each dollar of personal income comes from government sources. In the past year it amounted to approximately $11,832,000 after taxes.

Of the 29 cents, it is calculated, some 18 cents is from the Federal government and 11 cents from the state and local governments.

The range, in other parts of the country, is from a low of 22 cents, in Connecticut, to a high of 62 cents, in the District of Columbia, where there is a high concentration of Federal employees. Nationally, the average is 29 cents.

larly the national one now lately instituted; for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed, and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and, in general, for all the great and various favors which He has been pleased to confer upon us.

"And also that we may then unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of Nations, and beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions; to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually; to render our National Government a blessing to all the people by constantly being a Government of wise, just, and constitutional laws, discreetly and faithfully executed and obeyed; to protect and guide all sovereigns and nations (especially such as have shown kindness to us), and to bless them with good governments, peace, and concord; to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science among them and us; and, generally, to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows to be best.

A broken pipe organ and a pastor's promise led to the composing of one of the world's best-loved Christmas carols. This is how it happened.

In 1818, in the Austrian village of Oberndorf, Father Joseph Mohr, the 26 year-old assistant pastor of St. Nicholas Church, had promised his congregation a special treat for Christmas - an organ concert by parish organist Franz Gruber to beautify the celebration of Midnight Mass on Christmas Eve.

But the mice of St. Nicholas's ruined Father Mohr's plans by eating a hole in the bellows of the church organ a few days before Christmas. There was no time to get the organ fixed. Father Mohr racked his brain for some other way to keep his promise to the people of Oberndorf. As he walked the mountains of his parish on Christmas Eve, so the legend goes, the priest stopped at the cottage of a woodcutter to bless a new-born baby. The scene of the peasant couple and their child brought to his mind the scene of another poor couple and a child. Before long, the priest's mind searched for words to describe that event: "Silent night, holy night... round yon Virgin, Mother and Child."

The poem took shape almost without effort. And the excited priest persuaded the organist to set the poem to music and arrange it for two voices. Franz Gruber, the organist would sing bass and accompany the song on his guitar. Father Mohr himself would sing tenor.

And sing they did - to the delight of the parishioners. The man who came to repair the organ heard the song and took it with him from the mountain village. Even-

Floyd Government Spending $380 Per Capita

NEW YORK - The financial predicament in which New York finds itself and the repercussions that it is having in many directions has led to second looks being taken at the spending patterns in Floyd County and elsewhere.

Are local residents paying a high or a low price for the conduct of their government? How much does it cost them per capita in state and local taxes compared with what the cost is in other communities of its size?

Size appears to be an important factor in the cost of governmental operations, both for counties and for municipalities, according to recent reports by the Department of Commerce and others.

"Surprisingly," states Robert Brown, director of the Tax Foundation, "the figures covering 1973 show that the smaller cities are the most economical with the taxpayers' funds."

"Cities under 50,000 population spend an average of $158 per year per capita for services. But in cities over a million the average is $682 per capita."

Among counties, also, local expenditures vary widely, ranging from $421 per capita for those under 25,000 to $680 for those over 250,000.

In Floyd County, based upon the latest figures, general expenditures for local services amount to approximately $380 per capita.

By way of comparison, the average in other counties of its size in the United States, 10,000 to 25,000 population, is $407 per capita. The overall national average for all counties, irrespective of size, is $575 and, in the State of Texas, $444.

In most counties, the services covered by these expenditures include education, highways, public welfare, health, fire and police protection, sanitation and urban renewal among others.

The high rates in certain communities are attributed to special local conditions, such as unusually large welfare costs, housing problems and the like.

As for the revenue to finance these outlays, close to $249 per capita was collected in Floyd County in local taxes and charges, the rest coming from Federal and state payments.

South Vietnamese Family Moves

It was a tearful departure Saturday at the bus station in Plainview when Floydada area friends including the sponsors, the August Schwertners of Sandhill, bid a South Vietnamese family farewell.

The Tran family, who had been working on the August and Arnold Schwertner farms since September, became dissatisfied because their married daughter and her family lived so far away, so decided to join them in Palmerton, Penn.

The Tran family called the Schwertners Monday night to let them know they had arrived safely and were happy at their new destination and planned to go to work shortly. Their daughter there, Mia, and her husband both work. They have one child and are expecting another in about four months, the Schwertners said. Mia and her family came to the United States about two months before her parents.

The oldest unmarried Tran daughter, Nguyet, and a Vietnamese boy living with the Tran family, secured sponsors in Amarillo, and are now living there, making marital plans. They hope to join the other members of the Tran family in Pennsylvania in the future.

The Tran children enrolled in school in Floydada, were very sad indeed in leaving their new found friends here, the Schwertners said. In fact, two of them are making plans to return here for a visit next summer.

Your Thanksgiving Meal Has An Interesting History

The Thanksgiving season in America, with its traditional pictures of the bountiful harvest, the Pilgrims seated at the dinner table with the Indians, and the customary displays of pumpkins, all serve to remind us of the productivity of the nation's farms.

But from those early days of settlers scratching out enough food to survive, to the tremendous harvest of 1975, there are a lot of interesting sidelights. Some of these little-known facts of American agricultural development have helped give us more to be thankful for when we sit down to our Thanksgiving meal.

We've probably all read or heard about the Indians who helped the Pilgrims plant corn with a dead fish as fertilizer. It was a great idea that worked well for the Indians. But there was a bit of a problem the new settlers also had to learn to cope with. Dogs liked to dig up the dead fish, and with it came the seed corn.

So, once again the Indians passed along a farming tip. There dogs were placed under a handicap at planting time. The forepaw of every dog was tied to its neck leaving only three legs to hobble about on. This prevented digging and saved the Indian's crops.

It didn't take long for the Pilgrims to catch on to this trick. And there were more to be learned as settlers moved westward.

Indians didn't take time to clear the land for what little farming they did. Instead, trees were girdled at the bottom by stripping away the bark around the trunks. The trees soon died and sunlight reached the floor of the woods. The fertile ground was ready to produce good crops with very little work.

As land-hungry settlers needed new acres to plant, they put it into production quickly by this method. And, the expansion of our agriculture was underway.

But, the demand for new and better seeds wasn't as easily met. It took some high level shadowy dealings to help improve the American agricultural scene in those early days of the nation.

Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson and John Adams were not only great patriots, they also engaged in a smuggling operation. In many foreign nations it was illegal to carry seeds out of the country. Franklin was a skilled smuggler who brought back many seeds for new plant varieties from nations he visited.

Jefferson, an impeccable dresser, always made certain his clothes had plenty of little pockets. These were convenient for tucking away a few seeds he managed to

No farm product is more closely associated with Thanksgiving than the plump, golden-brown turkey. Its history is as rich in agricultural lore as the bird itself. Colonial farmers first hunted the native wild turkey, which was domesticated in Europe and then brought back to America. Massive turkey drives were once as popular in the East as the large cattle drives of the West.

His mules became famous for their strength and endurance and American agriculture learned another important lesson that would help increase productivity.

Even the famous Conestoga Wagon, which helped move the nation across the mountains and prairies, had its beginning as a farm wagon. It was designed and built by farmers around Lancaster, Pa., as a means of moving the huge volume of produce from their farms to the Philadelphia area and other cities.

Little known, however, is the fact that the farmers also bred the unique Conestoga Horse to pull the wagons. Some historians cite the Conestoga as one of the best work horse ever developed. But its popularity was shaded by the Conestoga Wagon and it never became a popular breed.

In 1809, Richard Peters, president of the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture was actively promoting the development of "a manufacturer of agricultural implements" since none was in existence at that time. Such vision has had tremendous results. Today, within a sixty-mile radius of Philadelphia, are some of the nation's leading agricultural-related industries.

Fertilizers, pesticides, seed companies, animal health pharmaceuticals and farm machinery pour out of plants beyond what Peters had dreamed. The Sperry New Holland farm equipment plant in Lancaster County produces more hay balers than any other plant in the world.

A museum at the plant gives some graphic testimony to just how the nation has developed to being the agricultural marvel of the world. From hand tools to crude horsedrawn implements to steam and gasoline power, the American farmer has progressed.

And at Thanksgiving, the fruits of the progress are usually taken for granted. Even the family dog manages to scrounge a few tasty turkey morsels conveniently dropped beneath the table. His ancestors weren't even allowed to dig up a dead fish.

LOANS UP IN FARM CREDIT SYSTEM - Farmers in the United States are borrowing more money than ever from their own banking system, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Loans made through the Farm Credit System, which is made up entirely of farmers and farmer cooperatives, were up almost 20 percent for the year ending June 30 than a year ago. These loans totaled $30.4 billion. The Farm Credit System is made up of Federal Land Banks, Federal Intermediate Credit Banks and Banks for Cooperatives. Texas boasts a total of 450 agricultural cooperatives which did a combined business of more than $750 million last year.

INSULATION REDUCES HEATING COSTS - Protect yourself from high heating costs this winter by putting insulation in the right places in your home, says an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. A home that is completely insulated can cost 20 to 50 percent less to heat than an uninsulated one. The most important area to insulate is the attic floor. Air rises. Insulation can be a job, using batt or having an "R" Weatherstripping windows and prevents heat loss.

Careful consideration must be given to the planting area since problems arise when attempting to desiccate the crop. The crop should not be planted on the same land year after year. And only high quality seed should be planted. Although the potential for sunflowers is great in Texas, there are still many unanswered questions about proper management practices.

South Plains News

By Mrs. Murray Julian

November 24

The cold front Tuesday night left about half an inch rain in our community, and farmers were not able to strip cotton the rest of the week. The rain was welcome to those who have wheat.

We offer our sympathy to Mrs. Harry Hartman, whose mother, Mrs. Ollie Jarnagin died Tuesday at Floydada. She was almost 94 years of age and has lived in South Plains during the past years, as her husband was postmaster here. She has lived in the Floydada Nursing Home the past few years. Services were held Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in Floydada at the First Christian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davis of Irving came last Monday to spend the night and Tuesday here with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nichols. They later went on to Melrose, New Mexico to visit relatives.

Donna Powell, who entered the Air Force on November 4 is now at Lackland AFB and is undergoing her basic six weeks training there. She made a telephone call to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Powell this Sunday and reports she is enjoying her work.

Mrs. L. T. Wood is planning Thanksgiving dinner for members of her family this Thursday and is expecting Mr. and Mrs. James Teague and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Wood and children all of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wood and boys, Len and Russ, and Mrs. Walter Wood.

Brent Smitherman plans to spend the Thanksgiving weekend down at Ozona hunting for deer with Rance Young and his father, Deral Young of Floydada.

Mrs. E. E. Wells and Thelma Thompson of Plainview left November 14 and returned Monday, November 17 from Denton, where they visited Mrs. Well's son, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wells and girls. While there on Saturday Marvin took them all to Dallas where they got Marvin's aunt, Mrs. Myrtle Wells and brought her to Denton to spend the day with them. Coming home Monday, they stopped in Olney and visited old friends, Mrs. Will Logan and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Guttormorse.

There were twenty-nine dinner and supper guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Powell and Sandra Sunday, and among the guests were his brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Powell of Howe, and his mother, Mrs. W. S. Powell of Anna, who has been visiting here the past two weeks. Others from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Powell and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gibbreath and son of Perryton. The W. D. Powells and Mrs. W. S. Powell were all supper guests along with the Gary Gibbreaths and Mrs. Linda Powell and children Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Powell.

Mrs. Sylvin Kinnibrugh and Mrs. Teddy Horne of Melissa of Plainview spent most of Friday in Lubbock, then went on to Odessa where they spent the weekend visiting Mrs. Kinnibrugh's sister, Mrs. W. H. Smith and family.

Mrs. E. E. Wells is expecting her cousin Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Huyear of Waverly, Illinois to be here Thanksgiving and spend some time with her.

This Monday the Bethel men folks are moving Mrs. Sue Shelton and La Soudra to the home where Mr. and Mrs. Royce Bethel and Sherre formerly lived here in South Plains.

Sylvin Kinnibrugh and Teddy Horne of Plainview left Thursday for Ozona where they hunted for deer over the weekend and came home Sunday night bringing a deer.

Others hunting deer in Ozona this past weekend were L. N. Johnson and Raymond Reeves.

Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham will spend her Thanksgiving in Floydada with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Higginbotham.

Home for Thanksgiving will be Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Chappell of Duncan, Oklahoma with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grigsby Milton Jr. and others planning to be there are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Edwards and sons of Floydada.

Guests with Dr. and Mrs. Fred Howard Sunday in their home in Plainview were Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham and Mrs. Mamie Wood who had dinner with them. We hope that Mark Sanders continues to improve as he is home from the Plainview hospital after suffering an appendectomy last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nichols were distressed to hear of the news of the Sunday nighttime collision of the U. S. aircraft carrier John F. Kennedy and the missile cruiser Belknap, which occurred in the Mediterranean east of Sicily with at least four dead and 16 injured, but they have had news that their grandson Lt. David Allen, who has been with the SS Kennedy for the past four months is safe. He has been flying from the aircraft and is supposed to be home around the middle of January. We hope they hear good news soon, and that David was not hurt in the tragic collision. The Nichols expect their granddaughter Cindy Whitfill of Dallas home with them for a few days on Friday.
