Here's a reminder for hunters: The pheasant season opens December 13 and continues through December 29, meaning a 16 day season for the game bird this year.

which has cost a lot of time and money. The population has been growing since the birds were raised and distributed in the northern part of the county, but hunters are urged to be conservative in taking them. There just aren't enough birds for hunters to be indiscriminate in their shooting.

It is suspected, though, that some hunters have "jumped the gun" and are hunting pheasant early, sometimes under the guise of hunting quail. (The quail season is open.

During the legal season, only cocks can be shot. The same penalty will be exacted from hunters who have hens in their possession. They are easily distinguished—the cocks are the large, beautifully-colored ring-necked, long-tailed game birds, while the hens are small, brown birds with a short tail.

The limit is two birds per day and four in possession, but many sportsmen interested in seeing them multiply here limit themselves to one or two per season.

All hunters are also reminded to be sure they have permission from landowners before they do any hunting. Hunting without the landowner's permission is trespassing and is subject to a $50 to $200 fine.

Many farmers say that their cotton crop is making just half what they had estimated it would make earlier.

Although the price of cotton has been fluctuating, most good bales of cotton are bringing over $200. Many farmers are selling their cotton for the cash they need while holding their grain sorghum for higher price.

Two Floydada firms are modernizing and enlarging their business offices. Out on the Lockney highway Gary Carthel has just about completed his office improvements at Carthel Oil Company. Some of the expansion will be display rooms.

Expands

Announcement was made this week by Edell Moore and Alton Rose that a remodeling and expansion program had begun on the Floydada funeral home. The funeral home will increase in size on the east and north sides, interior will be completely reworked, and the front area will have an exterior of white brick.

If you know of any child or children up to the age of 12 years who are underprivileged and would like for them to be remembered Christmas, you are asked to call Doug Frazier at the Chamber of Commerce office, 983-3434; Mrs. Patricia Davis, 983-3981 from 8 a.m. until 10:30 a.m., or Kathy Green, 983-3134.

"SURE, I'LL BE IN Floydada this Saturday and look forward to seeing all the boys and girls." (Hesperian wire photo).

Although we have done minor remodeling on the funeral home through the years, we feel that this major expansion will result in a modern new look that our community and trade area will like," Moore told a Hesperian reporter Monday.

In November the Center started collecting money, toys and books, new and used wrapping paper, boxes and ribbon in order to provide a Merry Christmas for the underprivileged children. Beginning December 15, they will be collecting along with these items, fruit, candy, nuts, etc. All of these items may be brought to the Center.

WHAT'S HOLDING UP the building of the 16 new apartments?

SOME OF YOUR NEWCOMERS will be surprised to see in the bank advertisement a picture of Hale's Department Store on the west side of the square. As the old buildings are demolished, old signs appear.

Interested persons may contact Don Daniel or Jerry Finley for information at times when the Scout Hut is not open.

Burglars Hit Brown's

Brown's Department Store in Lockney was broken into sometime between 7 p.m. Sunday and opening time Monday morning. Owner Claude Brown discovered the break-in Monday when he came to work.

At present Ward Construction Company of Lubbock is working on the south area of the building. Moore said it was possible that the Hesperian could publish a sketch of the proposed front of the funeral home in the near future.

Volunteers are also needed by the Center to help repair toys and deliver them to homes of the needy. For additional information on this project you may contact Kathy Green at Della Plains School, 601 E. Ross or call 983-3134.

THERE HAS BEEN a big buyer's run on mouse traps in Floydada as the cold weather has turned the mice to the warm homes . . . and somehow they have managed to get in. We had one to get caught in the wall. We heard him gnawing through the wall a couple of days. He came out near a light fixture. We set a trap, couldn't catch him. Mary Tom came in one afternoon and he had gotten in the dishwasher. She set a trap in the dishwasher...caught him by the tail . . . Mary Tom quit the mouse trap venture at this point and brave yours truly reached in, grabbed the trap, carried the mouse out in the yard and "disposed" of him.

This Thanksgiving week has been good but a very busy one.

We hope all have been careful to give God thanks for all his love and watchful care.

Devotions were brought Monday by the Assembly of God church. There was a good message by Brother Cook.

Tuesday the devotion was brought by Calvary Baptist from the book of Job. Also good singing.

Wednesday's devotion was brought by City Park Church of Christ. Many good songs were sung and a good message was brought by their Pastor. We appreciate these dear people taking the time to minister to our elders who need to know they are not forgotten.

Tuesday at 4:15 p.m. fifteen little Brownies came out and sang songs, visited with the residents and brought table favors. I know they must have spent hours making these little turkeys.

A little later the Homebuilders Club brought little turkey favors made from pine cones. They were so

Mrs. Oetie Dennington, teacher in the Dougherty School System, has been selected to appear in the 1975-76 edition of Who's Who in Texas Education, a compilation of biographical information on outstanding educators in the state of Texas.

This special publication will represent an unbiased collection of factual information honoring those who have dedicated their lives to the education of young people and will serve as a permanent memorial to their successful efforts.

Merle E. Wooley, president of National Research and Development Corp., said to be considered for listing in this important publication, one must have distinguished themselves in the field of education.

Who's Who in Texas Education has been pre-assigned a Library of Congress Catalog Card Number and will be filed there. It will also be filed in libraries throughout the state and copies will be made available to business and government leaders across the nation. Biographical information being listed will be an asset in the future and be invaluable to researchers for years to come.

Wooley informed Mrs. Dennington that effort and time has been spent in the research and planning of this very special publication to insure the finest possible results. Selections for listing are based on one, or more of the following qualifications: special achievements or outstanding accomplishments in the field of education; personal nominations by other educators or individuals; positions of responsibility or length of service; any other information deemed by our judges to indicate an individual's qualifications for this great honor.

Dickson-Smith Vows In Plainview Saturday

The chapel of the First Baptist Church in Plainview was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Rebecca Lin Smith and Tracy Jack Dickson. Rev. Bill Sessom, pastor of Aiken Baptist Church, directed the exchange of vows.

Parents of the bride and groom are Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Smith, Route 2, Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dickson, Route 2, Lockney. A single nine-branched candleholder and flower trees formed of garlands of pink and wine roses interspersed with baby's breath enhanced the nuptial area. Coleus, grown by the bride's mother, further enhanced the area.

Mrs. C. L. Record of Lockney, organist, and Tom Terrell of Edmonson, soloist, presented the program of nuptial music.

Mr. Smith gave his daughter in marriage. Her formal bridal gown of white knit chiffon was fashioned with a high neckline and long slender sleeves accentuated at the wrist by a deep lace cuff that terminated in a ruffle of lace. The empire bodice had an overlay of English net enhanced by Alencon lace accented with seed pearls. The softly gathered A-line skirt extended to a chapel length train.

Her lace-edge chapel length veil of illusion was secured by a close fitting headpiece of matching lace. She carried her bouquet of pink and wine colored roses and baby's breath atop a lace covered Bible which served as "something new." For something old, the bride wore the wedding band that had belonged to her great-grandmother. Something borrowed and blue was her mother's wedding garter.

Maid of honor was Miss Belinda Brown, cousin of the bride, and matron of honor was Mrs. Dwain Nixon of Amarillo, the groom's sister. Bridal attendants were Mrs. Kenneth Cummings of Lubbock and Miss Debbie Thomas, Raelene Smith, the bride's sister, was junior bridesmaid. Shay Nixon of Amarillo, niece of the groom, and Kim Smith of Electra, the bride's cousin, were flower girls.

Gowns of the attendants were fashioned of soft maroon knit, styled with empire waists and floor length skirts and were topped by a matching cape with stand-up collar and encircled with a ruffle. Each one carried a single long-stemmed pink rose.

Attending the groom as best man was Tom Brownfield of Balmorhea. Groomsman were Dwain Nixon of Amarillo, the groom's brother-in-law, Lanny Glascock of Lockney, Tommy Huley and David Criswell, the bride's cousins. Guests were seated by Lee Cramer of Hereford, Don Criswell and Mark Brown, cousins of the bride, and Gail Crum of Amarillo.

The reception was held in the church parlor. Assistants included Mrs. Buddy Brown, Mrs. Elmer Lee Criswell, aunts of the bride, Miss Teresa Criswell, the bride's cousin, Miss Marca Wilson and Miss Janis Ralston.

The bride's table was laid with a white cloth, caught with pink rosebuds, and centered with an arrangement of pink and wine roses. The groom's table was covered with a crocheted cloth laid over wine underlay and was made by the bride's mother.

When the couple return from points of interest in Colorado they will be at home on Route 2, Plainview.

The bride graduated from Plainview High School and the groom is a Lockney High School graduate. They both attended West Texas State University.

The rehearsal party was hosted by the groom's parents Friday night at the Bridal Shop. The bridesmaid luncheon also was given at the Bridal Shop with the bride's aunts as hostesses.

Club Has Annual Christmas Party

Members of the 1934 Study Club met for their annual Christmas party Tuesday night in the Bob Alldredge home. Mrs. Allen Bingham assisted Mrs. Alldredge in serving a delicious Christmas plate.

Mrs. J. P. Moss opened the meeting with prayer, and Mrs. John Reue, program director, gave Great Moments in History.

A Christmas Story concerning New England families of Blueberry's Corner in Connecticut, by Lois Lenski, was presented by Mrs. Floyd Bradley. The story revealed very poor families, who never observed Christmas, until they learned to celebrate Christmas the American way.

After the program gifts were exchanged.

Attending the meeting were Meses Alldredge, Wm. F. Bertrand, Allen Bingham, Wilson Bond, Floyd Bradley, Dennis Dempsey, R. G. Dunlap, Leon Ferguson, Garland Foster, Kyle Glover, Lonnie Hinsley, Thelma Hoffman, Floyd Lawson, M. J. McNeill, J. P. Moss, Vernon Parker, John Reue, George Springer, Fred

With the holidays (again) just around the corner, we see ways and means of saving money by making your own Christmas gifts. Since sugar is relatively cheaper, home-made candy in a novelty carrier, is always a good gift for the teachers, babysitters, beauticians and other special people on your gift list. For the younger teacher why not an attractive scarf, tied and filled with an assortment of colorful hard candies. This gift need not even be wrapped since the scarf can serve as the wrapping. Also there's hardly a teacher with ample containers to keep all pencils, paperclips, rubber bands and other items in, that clutter a desk. If your youngster wants to lend a helping hand in making the gifts let them cover cans or other sturdy containers with adhesive decorative paper, then add your confections. After the sweets are gone, the colorful can may be used on teacher's desk to hold those clutter items. This would be an appropriate gift for the beautician as well. Later she can stash curlers and other shop accessories in the decorative can.

There are not too many teen-age baby sitters who don't like to nibble and from that habit you may already know what her favorites are. All teens like tote-bags, fill one with her favorite nibbles and later she can use the tote for her many personal treasures. Wicker baskets, jewelry cases, travel totes, sewing organizers and dusting powder containers are just a few of the many items that will take on a special sweet aura when you fill or pack with an assortment of tasty confections.

A Christmas party before Christmas, is a good way to decorate Christmas stockings and fill them with small gifts for those in nursing homes and hospital. Each person attending the party may bring a small gift as a stocking stuffer and all join in "cutting out" and "gluing on" pretties on a felt, burlap or nylon net stocking. There's nothing that cheers a shut-in like a small gift and a group singing through the halls, bringing to life the spirit of Christmas. Always check first and get permission to bring your group to a hospital or nursing home.

TIPS to avoid holiday hazards: If you have or plan to buy a metallic Christmas tree, don't use regular colored lights... it's an invitation to a short circuit instead use a spotlight with colored filters; Never spray canned snow on angel hair (glass wool). It creates a highly combustible combination; Check all toys to see that they are non-flammable and have no lead-base paint on them; and beware that any type oil and water paints may contain poison. You can find sets that don't and it will be printed on the box. These tips are passed along by News and Views of U. S. Industry.

Charleston, South Carolina has a way of keeping their streets clean. A new city ordinance passed recently says that any horse on public streets must wear a diaper! Over UIP Monday it was learned that a driver of a horse drawn carriage was issued a traffic summons by a city policeman in Charleston for not complying with the ordinance!

The youngest tennis champion in the world was Charlotte Dodd who, in 1887, won the Wimbledon tournament at the age of 15 years 8 months.

OBITUARIES

Carl Wilson

Rites for Carl Porter Wilson, 72, a resident of Floydada for the past two years, were conducted Sunday in the First Baptist Church in Floydada. Wilson, who lived in Lockney some 30 years before moving to Floydada, died at 6 p.m. Friday in Lockney General Hospital after a brief illness.

A native of Leon County, he was married to Mary Elizabeth Jefferson on March 24, 1934, at Jewett. He was a retired Lockney School custodian, and a member of the First Baptist Church in Floydada.

Survivors include his wife; a son, Carl Dwayne of Floydada; three daughters, Mrs. Glenn McLeod of Abilene, Mrs. Dean Williams of Las Cruces, New Mexico, and Mrs. Ronald Christian of Matador; a brother, Odell Wilson of Crosbyton; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Lou Seigler and Mrs. Lillian Donathan, both of Crosbyton, and Mrs. Helen Harbage of Bedford; and 11 grandchildren.

Dr. Floyd C. Bradley officiated for the service. Burial was in Floydada Cemetery under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were grandsons, Mike, Gary, David and James McLeod, Ronald and Steven Williams and Craig Christian.

Faris Wheeler

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith attended the funeral Friday in Cleburne for a former Floyd and Crosby County resident, Faris Wheeler, 58, who died the previous Tuesday of burns in Brooks General Hospital in San Antonio.

Wheeler suffered third degree burns over 76 percent of his body, from the neck down, at his home in Kingsland November 13. He was attempting to start the fireplace in the family home and reportedly had the kindling going and had placed green logs in the fireplace. Friends said as he attempted to pour diesel fuel on the logs, the container exploded, covering his clothing with the highly flammable substance.

Wheeler was said to have rolled in wet grass in his yard attempting to extinguish the blaze. Mrs. Wheeler wrapped him in a blanket to help smother the fire, and he told her to check the house for a possible blaze and when she returned to him moments later his coveralls, coat and the blanket were in flames, burning the garments from his body. Wheeler was rushed to Llano Hospital then transferred by helicopter to the Army Burn Center. He had been in a critical condition since the mishap and had developed pneumonia, but was conscious at intervals until his death.

The Wheeler family resided in the Lakeview area of Floyd County in the early 1950's, then farmed south of Crosbyton before moving in 1960.

Survivors include his wife, Margarette; two daughters, Mrs. Ken Harris of Odessa and Mrs. Bill Archer of Copper; a son, Larry Wheeler of Morgan; one brother, one sister and six grandchildren.

D. T. Mayo

Rites for a former Floydada resident, D. T. (Pop) Mayo of 409 Lakeside Drive in Irving, were held yesterday (Wednesday) at 1:30 in the First United Methodist Church. Mayo died Monday in Irving.

The family lived in Floydada from about 1945 until 1958 during which time Mayo operated the Dodge-Plymouth agency, located at that time on the corner of Missouri and 5th.

Survivors include his wife, Ida; a son, Gayle of Irving; a daughter; two grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

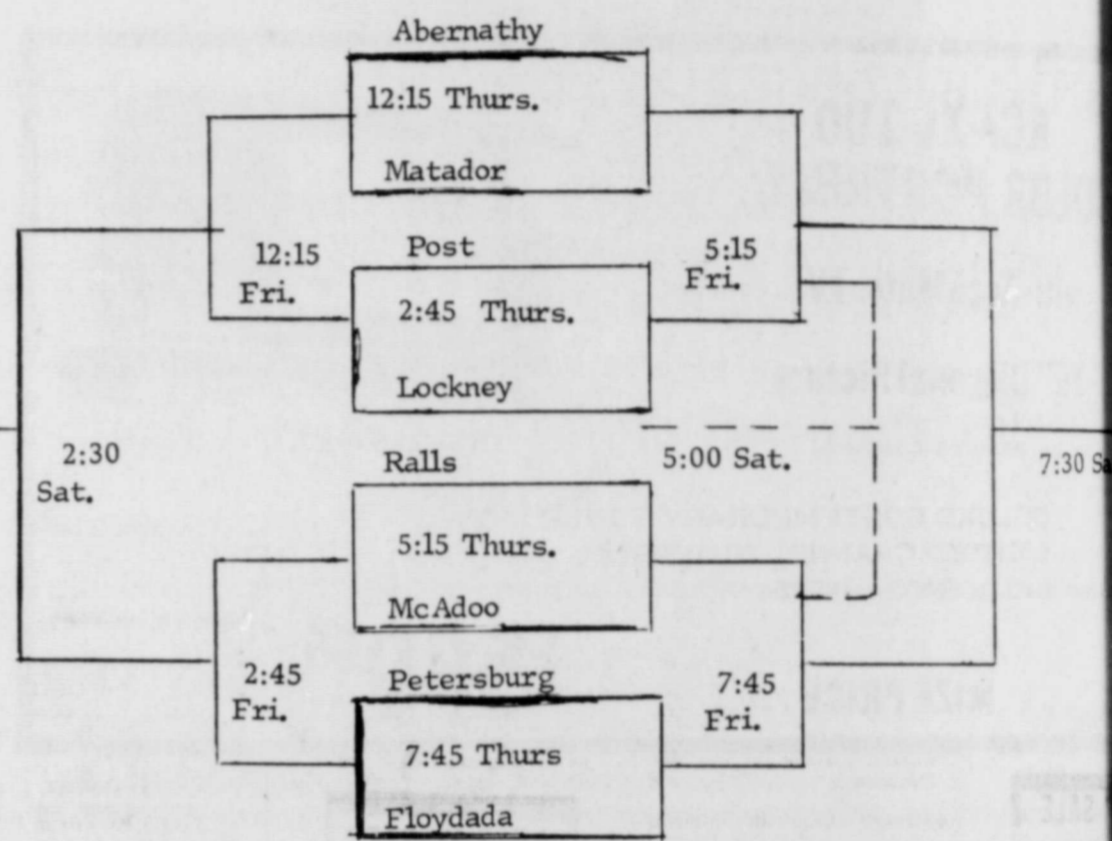

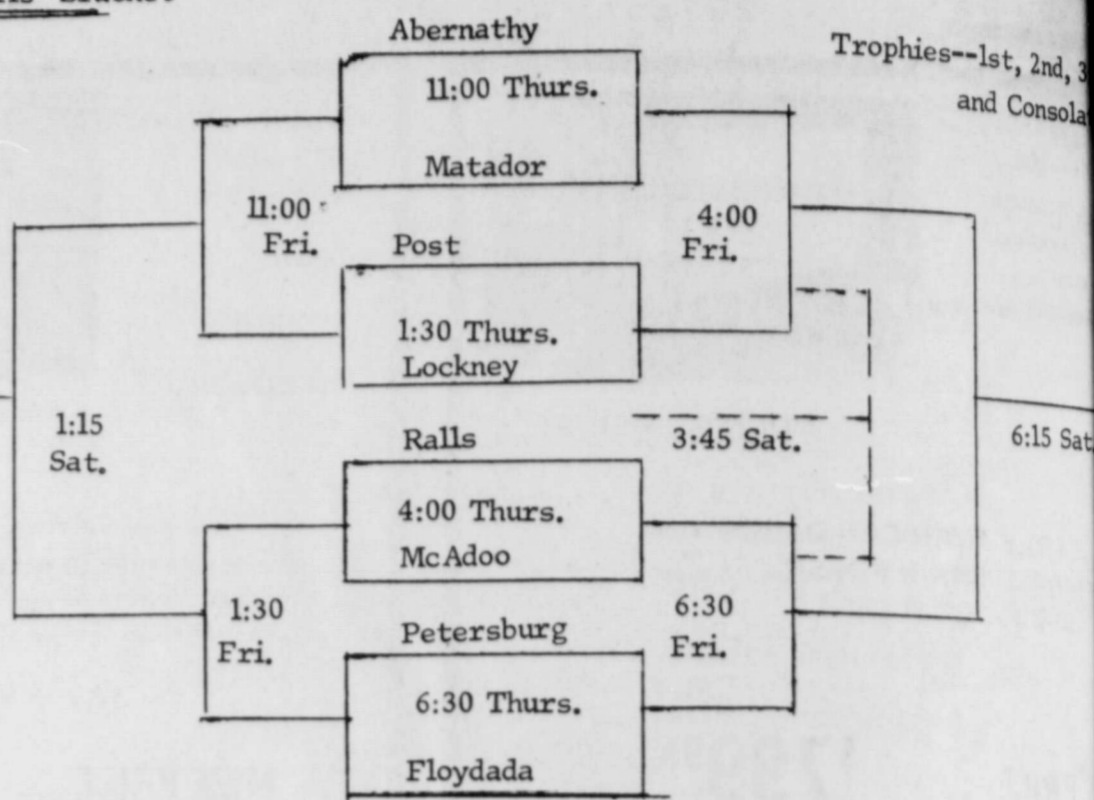

Additional information as to family history was not available at this writing.

Young Dog Keeping Vigil Over Another

Loneliness can be a very dreary situation for the human being, and just as much so, I imagine to the canine population, especially if their loneliness stems from the death of one of their own. There is such a case on the Lakeview road near Floydada. For there, day in and day out, night after night a young pup keeps vigil over another, who is dead.

Attention to the tragic scene came to the Hesperian through a telephone call from a Crosbyton resident. She had made two trips to Floydada over the Lakeview road a week apart and noticed the pups at both times. The dogs, evidently of the same breed, were also noticed by Mickey Dot Hammonds about three weeks ago. They were both alive then and evidently "put-out" to forge on their

on. His mother, Mrs. C. T. Hammonds, said at that time there was a sack of dog food and a coffee can filled with water nearby. Later the sack of dog food disappeared and one of the dogs killed, possibly by a passing car.

Mrs. Hammonds or her son places food each day near the spot where the collie type looking dog keeps vigil over his brother or sister. Mrs. Hammonds said the dog seemed very frightened for it runs into a near-by pasture until they leave, then again it takes up its solemn stance, afraid of the friendly hands that feed it.

NINA TEUTON'S still life was the favorite of residents and employees at Lockney Care Center last week. Mrs. Teuton is one of several Lockney artists whose work will be on display at the nursing home.

Reported rubella (German measles) has dropped by 75 percent since the vaccine came into use six years ago, according to The National Foundation-March of Dimes.

Touch of winter surged into our area on bringing with it rain and freezing. Until then crop conditions were NEAR warm temperatures and sunny skies. Frost did not come until November 11, and warm weather was exactly what was needed. At pork counters, consumers can find best value on loin roasts and liver, she added. "Fryer chickens remain a good buy, pricewise, and quality is excellent. Changes Due In Field Burning Laws

College Station - Agricultural producers, landowners, city officials and others directing outdoor burning operations must soon comply with new regulations set forth by the Texas Air Control Board.

The new outdoor burning regulations which become effective December 5 outline conditions under which burning can be acceptably practiced, points out Dr. John Sweeten, agricultural engineer in waste management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Agricultural producers who in the past have burned crop residues and rangeland to enhance production will be particularly affected by the new regulations," says the Texas A&M University system engineer.

"Outdoor burning in these instances will be allowed when no practical alternative exists. However, certain conditions must be met. The wind must be in a direction that will carry smoke away from urban areas, and wind speed must be between 6 and 23 miles per hour. Furthermore, open burning must take place at least 300 feet from residential, commercial or industrial areas. To allow maximum dispersions, burning should only be conducted between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. insofar as is "reasonably practical."

The new regulations make special reference to the burning of salt marsh grass along the Texas Gulf Coast. Such burning requires prior notification of the nearest regional office of the Texas Air Control Board.

"Several other key items in the new regulations deal with burning of municipal solid waste," notes Sweeten. "The population ceiling on cities and towns that can use outdoor burning to dispose of garbage and trash has been lowered to 3,000 people. And municipal solid waste disposal sites that are burned must be located at least 300 yards from a public road and one mile from a residential or commercial area. Limits are also placed on the hours during which municipal solid waste may be burned."

The new regulations also authorize outdoor burning to dispose of diseased animals to prevent disease transmission. And, garbage and trash can also be burned at private residences when regular collection service is not provided.

"These regulations are designed to help solve most of the problems associated with outdoor burning while at the same time not imposing economic hardship on landowners," says the agricultural engineer. "In effect, they require both the landowner and Texas Air Control Board staff to make sure that atmospheric conditions for outdoor burning are suitable for pollutant dispersal."

Sweeten encourages anyone interested in studying a copy of the new outdoor burning regulations to contact his local county Extension office.

Economist Analyzes U.S.-U.S.S.R. Grain Pact

College Station - The recent grain marketing agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union is designed to provide for orderly marketing of grain. However, there are still some "question marks," contends an economist in marketing for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The agreement states that the U.S.S.R. will buy six million metric tons of wheat and corn each year between 1976 and 1980. However, soybeans and other grains are not included. The agreement still leaves room for instability in the world grain market," points out Dr. Russell McDonald.

"The big question is what the Soviets will do during years when they produce a bumper grain crop. They could break the agreement with the U.S. or boost their own exports by the same amount of their imports from the U.S. These alternatives would still leave unchanged the annual fluctuations in world demand for U.S. grain.

"Another alternative for the Soviet Union would be to expand storage facilities and build grain stocks during years of bumper crops. This would provide the stability sought by the U.S.-U.S.S.R. agreement," notes the Texas A&M University System economist.

Based on history, the Soviets have experienced a poor grain crop every three or four years due mainly to weather conditions that afflict their key production areas. Furthermore, the institutional inefficiencies of collective production to grain shortfalls by individual incentives.

"In addition to themselves from grain crop, the Soviets also trying hard to their diets by livestock numbers they will need supplies of grain their herds. Current Soviets consume half the meat of the U.S. on a basis," points out

As far as the concerned, the safeguard built agreement for producers, consumers other foreign the U.S. grain below 225 million sales to Russia reduced below million metric

Americans Eating More Turkey

TEMPLE - The American consumer is buying and eating more turkey now than ever before.

"Turkey currently ranks fourth among the major meat protein sources in the average American diet, and per capita consumption now stands at about nine pounds annually," Dr. Phillip Cazier, deputy director of the Division of Veterinary Medical Review, Food and Drug Administration, told participants at the Texas Turkey Industry Day here recently.

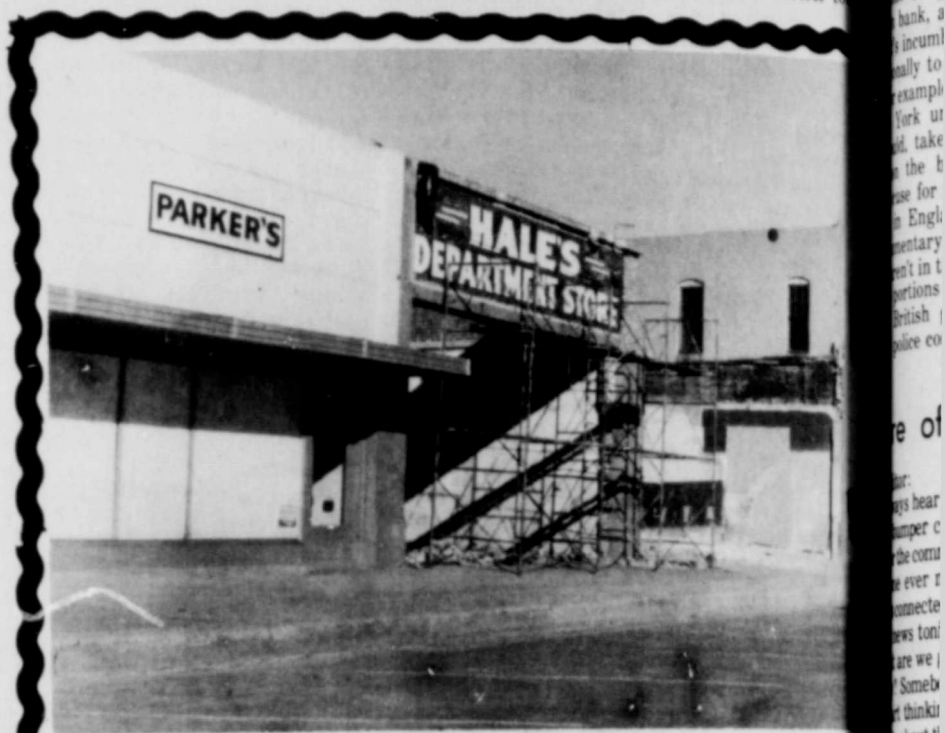

Cazier, who is headquartered at Rockville, Maryland, said that the technological advances in turkey production have resulted from research and particularly the addition of medication to turkey feeds. While it is easier to grow birds on less feed now, Cazier said that producers have the burden of responsibility to grow wholesome meat for consumers by following all label directions concerning use of medicated feeds and care of equipment used in feeding.

The Turkey Day program, sponsored by the turkey industry, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, was chaired by Dr. Bill Cawley, Extension poultry specialist.

Cazier, along with speakers from New Jersey and South Carolina, joined more than a dozen Extension Service specialists and Experiment Station scientists in presenting information on many facets of turkey production.

Quality control in feed production was stressed by Dr. Herbert J. Eoff, animal nutritionist with Hoffman-LaRoche in Nutley, New Jersey. He urged producers to monitor their total operations at regular intervals with improved feeding efficiency and overall health as goals.

Dr. William T. Derieux, livestock-poultry health department member at Clemson University, discussed his success in using a live cholera culture to help control the problem of fowl cholera.

"I'd rather explain higher gas bills than why you don't have gas."

Your natural gas bill is higher. And, you have every right to know why.

One reason is lower temperatures brought on by winter.

The main reason, however, is simply that you are paying more for natural gas. Because we are paying more. This chart shows how much:

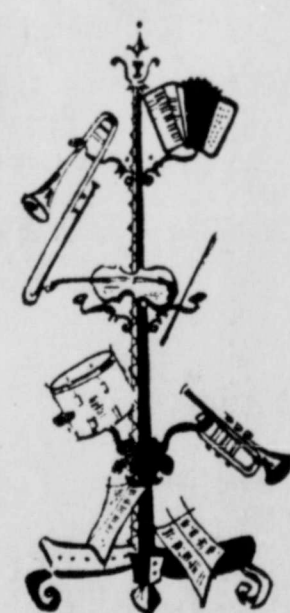

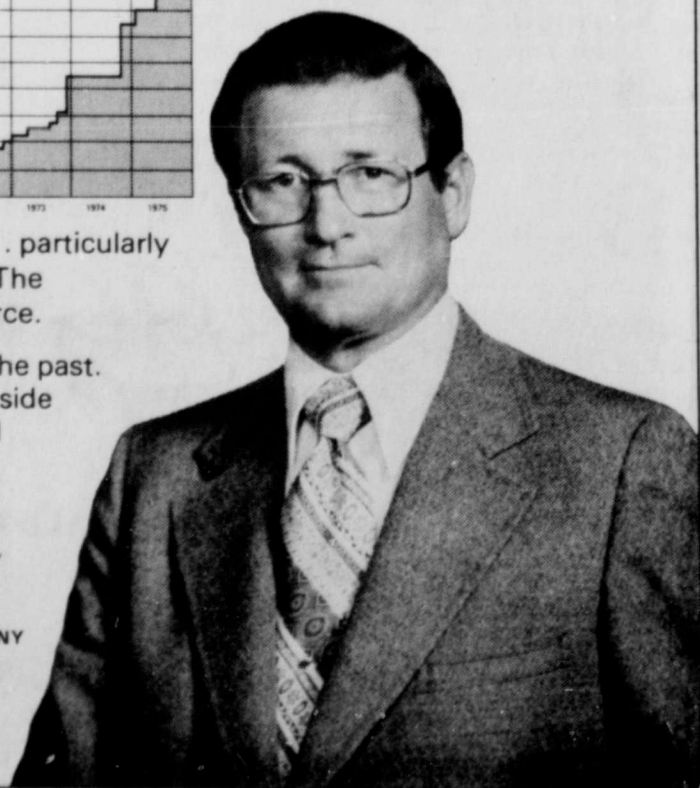

This increase hurts both you and Pioneer. It adds to your bill and to our cost... a cost for which Pioneer is not entirely compensated. It is passed through without mark-up or additional charges.

Why does gas cost more? Competition... particularly from petrochemical and other industries. The competition for gas has never been so fierce.

We will have to pay more for gas than in the past. But by working together, and without outside interference, you'll have the gas you need today and in the future.

Floyd Philosopher

Up With Plan To Keep All Cities

Operating With A Deficit

The Floyd Philosopher on the farm discusses several things we think.

Arguably true that this country 200 years ago by the time it doesn't follow that the country continued to operate it. We don't see anybody going to the mayor, that every county is the smartest man of the nation's Congress is the nation's bank, and things like that. The incumbent on the country's usually to make suggestions to the mayor, although I wouldn't think unless the Gallup poll take the matter of that the brink of bankruptcy. For it, if we'd follow the England. According to a secretary I saw the other night in the shape New York is operations of their expenses are British government, such as welfare costs, welfare, libraries, firemen, etc. So you see, British cities aren't in the red, only the British government is.

That's the way we should handle it over here. There's no use having cities all over the country operating in the red; let's put all the deficits in one basket, namely Washington, which has had years of experience in that line of work and thinks nothing of it.

It's like my theory about the railroads. There's no use having five or six bankrupt railroads. Merge them all into one and we can then announce we've reduced railroad bankruptcy by 500 percent.

The theory can be used in all directions. Too many college drop-outs? Transfer them to one central college, let them drop out there, and keep every other college's record clean. Too much crime in the streets? Abolish the streets. Kids can't read? Turn on the television set. Can't add and subtract? Teach them to stop losing their pocket calculators.

This letter wound up in a different direction from the one it started with, but when I got up to Congress and brains I figured I'd better not go any further.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

of farming

hear about the farmer who the high price the commodities he grows. Why ever mentions the costs and connected with farming?

tonight all you could hear are we going to do to help New Somebody in this country had thinking about what they are about the farm situation. More farmers are having to sell out the difference in the cost of their crops and the cost that they have to buy to make the consumer blames the farmer for the increase in the price of increased processing & costs, in such areas as labor, and transportation. Secretary at a news conference Monday, long range hope for lower "is by putting a little profit out the field." "Farmers have to be able to buy fertilizer, water management systems, to efficiency and improve pest that exports of wheat to do with the rise in of bread. A one-pound loaf of only 4.1 cents worth of total labor involved totals 10.75 cents, a four per cent increase and distribution costs would bread's retail cost, than would increase in wheat prices.

feel that the interference of and State Department people farmers millions of dollars. The longshoreman to load wheat on to Russia, has affected foreign long time. The ban on foreign has been lifted but trade relations built up again. Secretary Butz had no say in the world trade as farmers don't like the policy being set from outside culture department. Mr. Butz is representative in government, the grain is the farmers. Why people make any kind of deal products? I doubt that and Mr. Meany know very farming. It is time that they their business and stayed out of people like Mr. Meany are keep interfering, he isn't even by the government, more and farmers will have to quit. Then who bleed this country?

The farmer has been double-crossed by the people in Washington who called for all out production and free access to markets. Full parity price for milo is $5.16 and if we could get that, we might be able to make ends meet. But with the price of $4.05 it is going to be impossible. Everything we buy has more than doubled this past year. We went ahead and made a crop expecting to be able to sell at a reasonable price. Why doesn't someone see what is going to happen if the farmer has to quit. The damage has been done, the farm policy has more and more been taken out of the hands of agriculture. If you don't believe this talk to some farmer that you know.

Each billion dollars in farm exports provides about 53,000 non-farm jobs here in the U.S. Farm exports give jobs to American longshoremen and shippers, yet they refused to load the ships. So why all the flap about farm exports? Why don't they let men and women of the American soil go about our business? Let us make an honest living and provide food for those dumb people, who think they can do without the farmer.

It costs $16,755 to farm 100 acres of milo from start to finish, plus depreciation and repairs on a $23,000 tractor, $37,000 combine, and $15,400 truck. This figure does not include living cost while farming this 100 acres. At $4.05 per 100 pounds, the milo from this 100 acres would sell for $24,300 but the farmer must pay one-third rent which is $8,100 subtract this and you will have $16,200 to pay for all the above expense. You can't just keep on farming when you come out in the hole every year.

We are a class of people who are free, well educated, know what we are doing and love what we are doing. We want to be able to make a decent income raising the crops and livestock that consumers enjoy in our country and that many other countries need for survival. We own the land, care for it, work on it and produce food. Yet so many people try to run our business. We want to stay on the farm and raise our children in a rural surroundings. We don't want to live on welfare checks and unemployment.

Wake up America and realize you need the farmer!

Farmers Union To Convene In Fort Worth

National Farmers Union President Tony T. Dechant of Denver and recently elected president of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers will be the featured speaker for the 1975 annual convention of the Texas Farmers Union. The 72nd annual meeting of the state-wide general farm organization will convene in Fort Worth at the Hilton Inn on Friday, December 5. The farmer and rancher delegates will be in Fort Worth to develop the organization's legislative and organizational goals for 1976.

Attorney-General John Hill will open the convention session on Friday morning. He will be followed on the program by Rocky Mountain Farmers Union President John Stencil of Denver. The theme of the two-day conclave "1976: THE YEAR FOR PARITY AND ABUNDANCE", will be set when Victor Ray, Assistant to the President of National Farmers Union, presents the "Farmers Union Plan for Parity and Abundance". Ray's multi-media presentation will be followed by a panel discussion and question and answer period.

Novak, President of the National Farmers Union Insurance Companies will make his annual report to the delegates and members on Friday morning also. Texas Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong will be the principal speaker for the evening session. Saturday morning's session will open with a report on Farmers Union Young Couples activities by Gaylon and Margaret Amonett of Lorenzo. Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman will present his annual report on the status of the Texas Farmers Union to the membership on Friday morning. Highlighting Saturday morning's activities will be an address by United States Senator John Tower of Texas. Tower recently introduced a Farmers Union supported bill in the Senate allowing direct marketing of farm commodities to consumers by producers. The entire Saturday afternoon session will be devoted to policy debate and adoption by the convention delegates. President Tony Dechant will be the speaker for the Western barbeque and concluding session of the convention on Saturday evening. Dechant, who was elected president of the IFAP at its recent Washington, D. C. meeting, now heads the international farm organization consisting of agricultural organizations from virtually every agricultural producing country in the world, in addition to his presidency of the National Farmers Union. Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco has issued an open invitation to all farmers and ranchers to attend the convention to learn firsthand the workings and policy making procedures of a "grass-roots" farm organization.

South Plains News

By Mrs. Murray Julian

December 1
 South Plains school children and teachers were dismissed Wednesday, November 26 for the Thanksgiving Holidays, and classes resumed this Monday, December 1.
 Some families were at home for Thanksgiving, and others were visiting friends and relatives. Since this is a farming community, most of the men were in the fields stripping cotton.

 After the beautiful weather of the past weeks, Saturday's dust storm and hard winds were terrible. All farming operations were brought to a standstill, and the South Plains Gin of the Lockney Cooperatives shut down during the height of the storm.
 Steve Kinslow and Rhonda Teeple, who attend the University of Texas in Austin, arrived home Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving Holidays here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kinslow and Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Teeple.

 Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure had their Thanksgiving dinner in Plainview at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Jean McClure, with other present, Rev. and Mrs. Jeff Messer of Fieldton and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cypert and D'Lee who live out east of Floydada in the Lakeview Community. The Cyperts spent Saturday night and Sunday here with her grandparents, the Frank McClures.
 Mr. and Mrs. Grigsby Milton Jr. and Mrs. Jerry Chappell flew to Amarillo on Thanksgiving Day to visit with Miss Lennie Milton. Jerry was with his father, E. O. Chappell, helping him strip cotton during the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Chappell were visitors at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning.
 Mrs. Fletcher Powell and Mrs. Tillman Powell went to New Deal Sunday to bring Mrs. Powell, their mother-in-law, here with them where she is spending the week with the Fletcher Powells. Mrs. Powell is from Anna.
 During the Thanksgiving holidays the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamm, Mr.

and Mrs. Tom Aufdermorte of San Antonio, arrived to spend the weekend here with them, and another daughter, Arlaine, was home from Texas Tech at Lubbock, and returned to her college studies Saturday. The Aufdermortes left for home Sunday.
 The children of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Calahan arrived home Wednesday to be here for the Thanksgiving holidays, including their daughter Beth, Mr. and Mrs. Russell of Liberal, Kansas, Johnny Calahan, from John Tarlton College at Stephenville, where he teaches biology, and from Canyon two sons, Randy who attends WT College, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Calahan.
 Those who spent Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Stewart in Floydada were Mr. and Mrs. Lyndell Roberts and Dan, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Roberts, Pam and Mike of Plano, and Mr. and Mrs. Kendis Julian, Kristi, Mitzi and Tim. Visiting later in the afternoon were Mrs. Mike Smith and Tanner.
 Karl Craig of Lubbock, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton here, was taken to the hospital in Lubbock Wednesday and was in intensive care for several days. He was given all kinds of tests, but was dismissed on Saturday. The doctors were never sure of what he suffered. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Upton and boys of Los Alamos, New Mexico visited down there during the holidays, and the Ronnie Uptons also went to Amarillo where they visited with their daughter Christy and husband. We hope to hear that Karl is getting along well.

 Cindy Whitfill from Plano arrived here Friday to visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nichols until Sunday evening. She had been with her parents, the Glen Whitfills in Sweetwater Thanksgiving Day. Her father had brought home a wild turkey for Thanksgiving which he has shot down in the hills near Sweetwater.
 We offer our sympathy to Mrs. Schacht and family in Lockney on the death of her husband Fritz Schacht, who died last Thursday a week ago, and the services were held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church in Lockney on November 22. We will all miss his kind face.
 Mrs. Beulah Ramsey is reported better and is able to sit up at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock and is doing as well as possible at this time. She fell and broke her leg a few weeks back. Thanksgiving guests with

South Plains Weed Control

Symposium Slated

PLAINVIEW - Latest solutions to weed problems in major crops on the High Plains will be offered in a symposium at the Hale County Agricultural Center in Plainview December 11, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Topics to be discussed include weed control in sorghum, corn, cotton, sunflowers and wheat, as well as new research developments in controlling problem annual and perennial weeds.

The meeting is one of three area-wide symposiums sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M University System and USDA-Agricultural Research Service.

Besides the Plainview meeting, another has been set for Bushland December 9 at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center, and a third at Brownfield, January 22. Place to be announced.

The South Plains Develop-

The Floyd County Hesperian

ment Program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is co-sponsoring the Plainview and Brownfield symposiums, while the Panhandle Economic Program is co-sponsoring the Bushland meeting. Both SPD and PEP are area economic programs geared to the economic and social improvement of South Plains and upper Panhandle citizens.

Speakers for the Plainview meeting include Dr. Allen F. Wiese, TAES weed scientist from Bushland, who will talk on watergrass control in sorghum; James C. Esty, Hale County Extension agent from Plainview, discussing sunflower and soybean weed control; and Jim Schrib, associate weed researcher for the Experiment Station at Halfway who will speak on solving weed problems on corn.

Also, Harry Garretson of Garretson Farm Supply in Hale Center will discuss particular problems in weed control. Dr. James R. Supak, area Extension agronomist from Lubbock, will speak on controlling weeds in cotton, and Dr. Frank C. Petr, area Extension agronomist from Amarillo, is to discuss how to grow weed-free wheat.

Dr. Abernathy will round out the slate of speakers with a topic on perennial and problem weeds. A question and answer session will end the program, with responses from speakers and representatives of several herbicide companies.

Billy C. Gunter, district agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Dr. John R. Abernathy, assistant professor of weed research for the Experiment Station in Lubbock, are coordinating the symposiums. According to Abernathy, both chemical and cultural methods of controlling weeds in major crops on the High Plains are widely used. More recently, systems of limited tillage have been developed and adapted as a method of cultural control.

"Research and education relating to both chemical and cultural weed control have played major roles in the development of commercial agriculture," he adds. "They have done much to make West Texas one of the most efficient crop producing areas in the world."

Everyone is urged to attend. No fees will be charged.

By Mrs. Clyde Bagwell

December 1 the turn the weather took Saturday. We had one of the worse dust storms we have experienced in months. Sunday however was very nice but on the cold side. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Nicholas, Kelli, Lance and Chad of Oklahoma City arrived late Wednesday night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Payne, where they stayed over the Thanksgiving holidays. They left for home Sunday afternoon, all except Chad. He remained with his grandparents for a longer visit.

Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to the family of Carl Wilson whose funeral was held Sunday afternoon at First Baptist Church in Floydada. The Carl Wilson family at one time lived in Fairview Community.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Watts, Scotty and Kim, and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Perry enjoyed Thanksgiving Day dinner together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell had phone calls from his brother, Wayland Bagwell of Los Angeles, California, Tuesday night. Thanksgiving Day they had a call from their niece, Mrs. Bill Pierce of Everett, Washington.

Wayland Bagwell reported the smoke from the bad fire north of Los Angeles was sure bad where they lived. Mrs. Pierce reported in Washington it was rainy and also some snow at that time. Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Denton of Rupert, Idaho came by Tuesday morning and visited with his sister, Mrs. C. H. Wise and family. The Dentons were on their way to Dallas to see their new grandchild and to spend Thanksgiving there with their daughter and family.

Thanksgiving Day dinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walls were Mr. and Mrs. Dean Walls, Roy and Eileen and a girlfriend, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Walls and baby son, Darren of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Walls.

Mrs. Mattie Mulkey of Paducah and W. O. Coaltrain of Guthrie visited Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wise and family.

Mona Dell Wise of Amarillo spent the Thanksgiving holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wise and brother Charles.

Mona Dell returned home Sunday afternoon and in a phone call back to her parents later in the afternoon she said the wind in Amarillo Saturday got up to 90 miles an hour.

The Floyd County Hesperian

Saturday morning the C. H. Wise family enjoyed a nice phone visit from their daughter and sister, Mrs. Mary Lou Coffee, who lives in Delhi, California.

Mrs. Donna Reed visited Mrs. Jewell Teague Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Graham and Mrs. Jewell Teague were Thanksgiving Day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Huggins, Sharron and James.

Mr. and Mrs. James David Wellborn of Hurst visited Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Graham Saturday.

Leonard Wilson and Brent of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen, Mike and Norman of Floydada were Thanksgiving Day dinner guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson.

Leonard and Brent Wilson and Mike Allen stayed over Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Warren went to Lubbock Thanksgiving Day afternoon and visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson spent the holidays at Dallas in the home of their daughter and family, Mr.

and Mrs. Larry Glassmoyer, Melissa, Chris and Michael, Woodrow and Bessie came home Saturday driving into the bad sand storm that we were having here. They hit the storm at Seymour.
