Depression Possible

THERE'S BEEN a lot of petty bickering between the President's council of economic advis they all agree on They foresee definite depression in 1950 or 1951unless steps are taken to head it

To understand the back ground of the economic council's vitally important business diagnosis, it should be reeafled that for the past 190 years American economy has teen riding a roller-coaster of ups and downs, inflation and deflation, of booms and busts

In the past 50 years these ups severe—so severe that the polit-buro in Moscow is known to have based its global strategy on the depression would wreck the entire American system

History's Greatest Boom

Since V-J day most Americans have been enjoying the greatest wave of prosperity in history for two reasons: 1. The public's un satisfied demand for goods they could not buy during the war; 2 ports, muttered in 1927 that "I do not choose to run" and lifted mort gages for a mob of grateful joke into the world's economic stream. However, the council estimates American people used their pock that the long pent-up demand for ets, the Chicago mobsters fed the humorists by shooting pedestrians er consumers' goods is now just just to sharpen up their marksman | about filled, while the vast expendihip. It was kind of gory joking tures in Europe in another year but we were a calloused bunch. We will begin to taper off, so that de-had to be to survive what happened pression will come in 1950-51.

Another factor is the psychological effect of swiftly rising prices followed by dropping prices. If OPA and inflation controls had not been thrown prices had not shot up so high. business dislocation might not be so bad now.

For, while falling prices at the moment may be healthy, yet a lot of business-especially small business-always gets hurt by falling prices. And the psychological effect of falling prices encourages depression; for people, waiting for lower prices, don't buy.
