TEX-LA HOLDS COOKING SCHOOL

New Features of General Electric Range Shown To Large Crowd

The two day cooking school held last Tuesday and Wednesday by the Texas-Louisiana Power Company at their office, was well attended and very successful. The school was held under the supervision of Mrs. Louise Newton of this city. Mrs. Newton was assisted in the school and demonstration by Misses Kate Sharp and Louise White.

At the first day's school, Mrs. Newton demonstrated to her audience the practical and economical way of preparing a broiled lunch. Wednesday she prepared an oven dinner consisting of several courses and showed them that in this way one not only had a good meal, but it was prepared at the least cost and time.

The purpose of the school was to acquaint those already using electric ranges as well as prospective users, the many advantages of cooking with the use of electricity, and to help them operate their stoves more efficiently and economically. Mrs. Newton gave the ladies many new practical recipes and brought out many new features of the improved Hotpoint Electric range.

A bed lamp was the attendance prize for the first lady, that went to Mrs. Carlton White, and an electric warming pad was the second day attendance prize that went to Miss Myrtle Harrell.

Both afternoons a large number of interested ladies were out and enjoyed the school. As a result of the school and demonstration, several stoves were sold.

FAG TAX TO BECOME EFFECTIVE SATURDAY; STAMPS HERE

Local dealers who handle the various brands of ready made cigarettes will, after tomorrow, place on them the special stamp of three cents as on that day the new tax goes into effect.

Merchants have been busy this week stamping the cigarettes and getting them ready for the tax law when it goes into effect. On each package sold in the future the stamp has to be placed on the opposite end from the Federal stamp on the package. The stamps were purchased direct from the State Treasurer, as the local bank is not handling them as is being done in some places.

Already cigarettes have taken an advance in price due to the price being raised by the manufacture, and when the new law goes into effect they will advance three cents more making the cost of a package come to 21 cents.

Twins, a boy and a girl, arrived Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Greene Cooke.

New Truck Law Goes Into Effect

Effective Saturday; Governs Drivers As Well As Trucks

The new regulations governing the size, cargo and operation of motor trucks on Texas highways, which was passed by the last regular session of the legislature, will go into effect this coming Saturday August 22, besides prescribing maximum dimensions and loads for every such vehicle, it requires that each truck shall carry a white head light and a red or yellow tail light. The present specifications as to candle power will remain in force, and every lamp must be focused so as to throw the beams on the road surface. An important change is that every trailer must carry a lighted lamp at the rear.

There are new rules governing truck drivers. Each driver must take out a license, the fee being $3; the State Highway Commission may revoke the license for the violation of the traffic laws or proved incompetence of the driver. No driver may operate his vehicle for more than 12 hours continuously without a 10-hour lay off. No truck may be more than 8 feet wide 11 feet high and 30 feet long, or 35 feet with trailer—nor carry more than 7,000 pounds.

His general physical condition is lots better and with proper care and diet it is hoped that Alymer will soon be well.

QUAKE FELT HERE SUNDAY

Tremor Covers Large Territory; No Damage Done Here

Many citizens of Sanderson and Terrell county experienced early Sunday morning their first earthquake when about 5:45 a. m. they were awakened by their beds being shook and houses rocking to and fro. The tremor lasted for a minute and was severe while it lasted.

The tremor, the origin of which was probably in Mexico and moved northward or started in the mountains of Southwest Texas radiated in all directions. The width of the area experiencing shocks was more than 600 miles.

At Valentine the greatest damage was done. Not hardly a building in the community escaped. All the homes and business houses, which were constructed of adobe were damaged to such an extent that they will have to be torn down. The school building there was damaged to such an extent that it will not be safe and will have to be torn down and rebuilt. Another tremor was felt in that city Tuesday and further damage was done to the buildings. The town has suffered in the loss of all its homes and business houses and the citizens are living out under the stars.

Not very much, if any, damage occurred here. One or two stucco places had slight cracks to appear and several houses were considerably shaken and weakened. Plaster fell from several of the stucco houses.

At Fort Stockton, the Comanche Springs, which supplies the city with water, flowed muddy water for several hours after the tremor. The flow of the stream seems not to be affected.

Mrs. J. W. Savage, a pioneer resident of this city, states that in 1900 a slight tremor was felt here, occurring about 8 o'clock in the evening.

Heavy Downpour Here Late Thursday Eve

Sanderson and vicinity witnessed a heavy downpour of rain late Thursday afternoon lasting nearly three-fourths an hour. With the rain was a severe electrical storm. A bolt of lightning in the north part of the city struck an electric wire putting lights, stoves and radios out of commission. The Texas-Louisiana Power Company was busy the remainder of the afternoon and until late that evening repairing the damage. Power in the city was out for over an hour and in some parts of the city there were no lights at all.

According to reports, the rain did not extend very far.

Mrs. Ben Price has returned to her home in El Paso after a visit here with her sister, Mrs. S. S. Daggett.

Misses Delma Harper and Thelma Reagan came in Wednesday from Floresville to visit Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ferguson and family.

Mrs. Joe Kerr has as her guest her sister, Mrs. W. B. Haynie of Llano, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Deaton and sons visited in Comstock and Del Rio this week.

Mrs. Donald Duncan and daughter are spending this week at Fort Stockton with Mrs. Tom McKenzie. S. A. Kernal left Wednesday for San Antonio where he will spend several days visiting relatives and friends.

Wasn't Any Fault!

Earthquake Was Just Depression Hitting Bottom, Says Wise One

Several persons were discussing the recent earth quakes in this section last Sunday and yesterday a geologist came along and said that the quakes were caused by "faults" or folds in the earth. After some discussion, one of the wise ones on the outskirts of the argument said: "Now, it wasn't any fault—it was just the depression finally hitting bottom."—San Angelo Standard.

A GOOD FORMULA FOR DOSING SHEEP AND GOATS

As we have had so many calls recently for the following formula for dosing sheep and goats, given us by R. N. Allen and published in our issue of August 7th, we are reprinting this formula in this issue of the paper and wish to state to all ranchmen wanting it, that we have extra copies of it which we will be glad to furnish you with.

For combating stomach and tape worms in sheep and goats the government formula has been used for years with good success. First, starve sheep or goats 30 hours, then give grown animals 4 ounces and lambs or kids under six months of age 2 ounces of the following mixture:

To 5 gallons of water add 5 ounces Black Leaf 40 and one quart of Blue Stone mixture: said Blue Stone mixture to be made by dissolving 2 pounds of Blue Stone in one gallon of hot water. Keep well stirred while using.

All stock dosed should be kept off food and water from 8 to 12 hours after dosing so that the medicine may have time to effect a cure.

All vessels used in preparation of this formula must be glass, crockery, or enamel ware. Wooden vessels will do but in no case should one use iron, zinc, or tinware, as it creates a poison at once. This amount should dose about 170 head of grown sheep or goats.

To hold a sheep properly in dosing allow one man to hold sheep erect, another man to administer the medicine with dosing syringe. After inserting syringe, hold sheep's nose tightly. Do not allow it one breath of air until the medicine has been swallowed.

CAVALRY BAND CONCERT HEARD BY GOOD CROWD

Appeal Is Made For Retention of Fort D. A. Russell, Marfa

A large crowd of citizens were out last Friday evening to hear the band concert which was given by the First Cavalry Band stationed at Fort D. A. Russell, Marfa.

This band has just completed a 10-day tour of various towns in this section of the state, being presented under the auspices of the various American Legion Posts. The band formed in parade at the east end of Oak street and headed by members of the local post, carrying their new colors, marched to the Kerr Park in front of the Hotel where the concert was given. Just before the concert, Hon. Alfred E. Creigh, Jr., introduced the district commander of the Big Bend Association of Legion Posts, Harry Lambert who made an appeal in behalf of Fort D. A. Russell, which is about to be abandoned by the war department. Arthur E. Owens, an attorney of Alpine, also delivered a very patriotic address and asked the citizens for their support in the movement to protest the abandonment of the fort.

While here the band and speakers were guests of the Clarence Hallie Mulkey Post No. 160 of the American Legion.

Immediately following the speaking and band concert a dance was given at the C. A. C. Hall.

With the exception of El Paso, the local post is the largest in the sixteenth district, having a membership of 58.

Ambition and Talent

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Capt. Martin Scott, who was born on a farm in Vermont, something over one hundred years ago, enjoyed a rather unusual reputation as a marksman.

He went out one morning, so the story goes, with his rifle, and, seeing a raccoon on the branches of a high tree, he brought his gun up to his shoulder.

"I beg your pardon, mister," said the raccoon politely; "but may I ask if your name is Scott?" "Yes," replied the captain. "Martin Scott?" still continued the animal. "Yes," replied the captain. "Captain Martin Scott?" "Yes." "Oh, then," says the animal, "I may just as well come down, for I'm a gone coon!"

I have been acquainted with Martin for forty years or more. He is a most enthusiastic hunter of all sorts of financial and business coons.

He was telling me just the other day of an enterprise which he has under way which is going to make him a small fortune. He is raising peaches in Michigan or figs in Texas or pecans in Florida, or something of the sort, and is on the verge of a great financial clean-up.

I heard him tell the same story ten years ago, I believe at that time, about tobacco in Tennessee.

Gore is a young fellow under thirty, I should guess, but he is a sure marksman. He tackled all sorts of difficult jobs in college for the work of which he was not particularly prepared.

No matter what college course he undertook to carry, it was a gone coon when he fired at it. He proved his ability to do well any subject which he pursued. When he had graduated he tackled an examination for a professional appointment which all his friends told him he was foolish to attempt.

He was too young, they said, too inexperienced, but he proved otherwise, and did himself credit. Young as he is he is now holding an executive position which few men of his age would attempt, but his aim is sure; through hard work he gets what he goes after.

When he points his gun up the tree the coon might just as well say, "I will come down, for I know I am a gone coon."

If you are one of those up-to-the-minute newlyweds who believe that you can play around with all the old gang—and your wife believes honestly that she can do the same—see "Party Husband" the first National picture starring Dorothy Mackaill, which comes to the Princess Theatre tonight.

The Princess takes pleasure in announcing to its patrons that "Dugan of the Badlands," the first of the new Monogram Pictures' series of eight Westerns, featuring Bill Cody and little Andy Shuford, to be known as the "Bill and Andy" series, will open Saturday at the theatre where it will be shown for 1 day only.

The love team that released all your imprisoned emotions in "Manslaughter," Claudette Colbert and Frederic March, are co-starring Monday and Tuesday at the Princess in "Honor Among Lovers," a Paramount talkie based on a story by Austin Parker, and directed by Dorothy Arzner.

Miss Colbert, poised, personable and governed to perfection, is cast as a very modern young beauty whose secretarial duties in the offices of a rich broker introduce her to many hazards, not nearly all of which are so much financial as personal.

When March, you remember his superb performance in "Royal Family of Broadway," proposes private aeroplane flights to big college football games, and other bargains in trifling, including a yacht trip around the world, Miss Colbert is the kind of girl who can say "no" ever so charmingly, and without ever flying into a rage.

Still, shrewd little kitten that she is, she marries the wrong man, Monroe Owsley, and to save him from a prison sentence, she asks the "other man" for one hundred thousand dollars. Strangely enough, this chap decides then and there that she is worth even much more than that. The climax you'll find quite tense, surprising and satisfactory, and you'll long more and more for more Colbert.

If there is anything Anita Page is afraid of it is a gun.

"Be frightened... act as though you are scared to shoot it!" instructed Director Mervyn Le Roy in filming a shooting scene for "Gentleman's Fate," John Gilbert's new talkie, which will open next Thursday at the Princess Theatre.

"I don't have to act frightened," chattered Miss Page. "I am!"

Miss Page plays the tragic role of the underworld girl whose affections Gilbert accepts as a mocking gesture to his society fiancée, who has jilted him, in the story by Ursula Parrott.

Watching the Game

You'll enjoy the musical recital at the high school auditorium next Thursday night.

Miss Colbert, poised, personable and governed to perfection, is cast as a very modern young beauty whose secretarial duties in the offices of a rich broker introduce her to many hazards, not nearly all of which are so much financial as personal.

When March, you remember his superb performance in "Royal Family of Broadway," proposes private aeroplane flights to big college football games, and other bargains in trifling, including a yacht trip around the world, Miss Colbert is the kind of girl who can say "no" ever so charmingly, and without ever flying into a rage.

Still, shrewd little kitten that she is, she marries the wrong man, Monroe Owsley, and to save him from a prison sentence, she asks the "other man" for one hundred thousand dollars. Strangely enough, this chap decides then and there that she is worth even much more than that. The climax you'll find quite tense, surprising and satisfactory, and you'll long more and more for more Colbert.

If there is anything Anita Page is afraid of it is a gun.

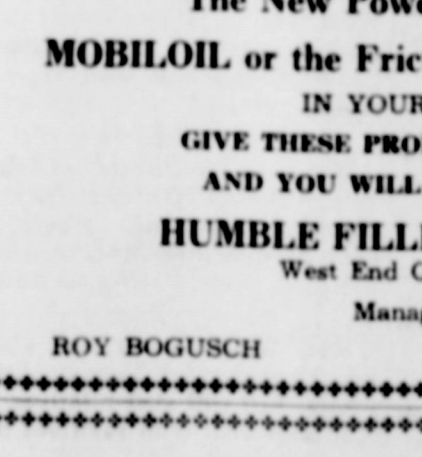

"Be frightened... act as though you are scared to shoot it!" instructed Director Mervyn Le Roy in filming a shooting scene for "Gentleman's Fate," John Gilbert's new talkie, which will open next Thursday at the Princess Theatre.

"I don't have to act frightened," chattered Miss Page. "I am!"

Miss Page plays the tragic role of the underworld girl whose affections Gilbert accepts as a mocking gesture to his society fiancée, who has jilted him, in the story by Ursula Parrott.

Louis Wolheim heads the supporting cast and other players include Leila Hyams, Marie Prevost, John Miljan and George Cooper.

Watching the Game

You'll enjoy the musical recital at the high school auditorium next Thursday night.

Gold of Conquistadores

SOMETIMES nature laughs at those who seek metals in the ground to make them rich, and ignore the bounty of the earth which, with a little care, is constantly renewing itself, to produce wealth for patient cultivators of the soil, and foods for millions.

So it was with those sons of Spain who came to the new world for gold, and who, when they failed to find it, went home in disgust neglecting the unrivalled opportunities for riches through colonization. The Conquistadores wanted to get rich quick, and, when they didn't, many of them pulled up baby pineapple slips because they had grown to love the luscious tropical fruit which they could not get in their own country, and went home to try and grow that fruit under glass, as it does not grow easily in a temperate climate.

Had they remained there and seized this priceless opportunity, today's thriving pineapple industry might have been theirs. For a ripe pineapple is a luscious fruit, and today's Hawaiian pineapple industry puts that ripe pineapple into a can, so that it will reach its millions of devotees with all of its natural fruit sugar, its vitamins, its flavor and its unusual appetite producing taste.

The Taste's The Thing

Have you ever noticed that "more" taste of our pineapples? That, as you eat it, you feel somewhat as though you could keep on eating it? Pineapple is a powerful aid to digestion and helps one to take care of rich protein foods. That's because pineapple contains bromelain. This fact makes this golden fruit an excellent accompaniment to meats. It's the bromelain in the pineapple served with meats which aids in the digestion of them, besides adding a tang and a taste to them that everyone likes.

And now one may have all the pineapple one wants. Increased production in the Hawaiian Islands has not only made available a great deal more pineapple than in previous years, but the price of this tropical fruit has been lowered so that the housewife may use it as lavishly as she pleases, with meats, to make cakes, griddle cakes, waffles, decorative gelatin salads and desserts, frozen and otherwise, or she may serve the golden wheel of pineapple swimming in a delicious syrup, nicely chilled, for an extra "ripy" dessert in every sense but price.

Here are some interesting ways of serving pineapple with meat, and some frozen desserts.

Pineapple With Meat

Pineapple Meat Cakes: Add one slightly beaten egg to one pound of chopped round steak, and mix well. Add one and one-fourth teaspoons salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one cup crushed pineapple and one-half cup cream. Form into round flat cakes and fry bread in a hot 2-3-in. Makes eighteen medium cakes.

Southern Fried Chicken with Pineapple Wheels: Drain syrup from a No. 2½ can sliced Hawaiian pineapple. Add a two-inch stick of cinnamon. Boil three minutes, then add pineapple slices and set aside until cool. Drain and chill. Fry enough chicken for eight in the usual Southern fashion and pile in the center of a large silver platter. Around the chicken arrange a border of eight lettuce leaves, using deep cup-shaped leaves. Place a pineapple wheel in each and make a rosette of macaroni in the center of each. Serves eight, and provides both the meat course and the salad.

Pineapple Desserts

Pineapple and Banana Ice Cream: Scald together three cups evaporated milk, six cups thin cream, 1½ and two-thirds cups sugar, and 1½ cups No. 2 can crushed Hawaiian pineapple and one cup mashed banana pulp, and freeze. Serves twenty-four.

Pineapple Cherry Sorbet: Soak two tablespoons gelatin in one-half cup cold water. Heat to boiling the juice from one 8-ounce bottle green mist cherries, one and one-half cups crushed pineapple, one-third cup sugar, one tablespoon lemon juice and four over gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Color a light green and cool. When starting to set, add cherries cut in pieces and one cup whipped cream and pour into individual molds to harden. Unmold and garnish with sliced pineapple and bits of mandarin. Serves twelve.

Wool Prices Show Constant Increase

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 20.—The underlying strength of the wool market everywhere is apparent, according to the National Wool Marketing Corporation. The National reports it is asking and obtaining slightly better prices constantly.

Mill buyers estimate that dealers have disposed of fully 40 per cent of their holdings. One dealer is reported to have taken much of his wool off the market. He feels that holding it for later sale will net fully 50 per cent greater profits.

With consumption at a high level and foreign imports the lowest for years, the largest clip the United States has ever produced does not appear equal to the present needs of the country, the National feels. This country now is consuming wool for clothing purposes at the rate of approximately 500,000,000 pounds a year, while domestic production of combing and clothing wool for 1931 is slightly over 400,000,000 pounds. Imports of foreign wool, so far this year, have been approximately 20,000,000 pounds below what they were for the same period in 1930.

It is generally acknowledged in the wool trade, the Co-Operative observes, that before the end of the year the tariff again will be fully operative and domestic wool values will be approximately on a basis of importing parity. On a level of today's foreign market, this would mean 10 to 15 cents a clean pound more than domestic wools have been bringing recently. The firm selling policy of the Co-Operative will be an important means of bringing up the market to this level.

The volume of wool consumed by growers throughout the United States to their co-operative continues to mount, indications still pointing toward a 1931 volume larger than that of 1930. On July 29th, 1931, the Co-Operative had received in Boston 96,138,906 pounds of wool. The shipments on approximately the same date last year amounted to 93,722,908 pounds. The Utah co-operative had shipped the largest volume on this date, 10,625,441 pounds; Montana being next

What's News to You?

THRIFTINESS is a state of mind that is nearly as valuable an asset as a bank account . . . For thriftiness can always get a bank account of its own.

And it's easy to tell thrifty people from the way in which they read the newspapers—just as you can usually spot the other kind.

The great majority of men and women never put a newspaper down until they have read the important news which is directed to them through the advertisements.

The modern woman, especially, finds the advertisements indispensable. She spends more than five-sixths of the family income. And the prosperity, happiness and health of her household frequently depend on her reading of the advertisements and of the wisdom with which she chooses everything she buys.

The advertisements bring you complete information about accepted products and new ones. Through them you can compare values . . . efficiency and enjoyment . . . and make sure that every dollar spent will bring its full return.

Advertising Rates Furnished Upon Request

Notices of church entertainments where admission is charged, cards of thanks, resolutions of respect, and all matter not news, will be charged for at regular advertising rates.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character of any person or firm appearing in these columns will be gladly and promptly corrected upon calling the attention of the management to the article in question.

Friday, August 21, 1931.

A local business man remarked the other day that he always traded at home for everything he needed, regardless of the fact that he could buy the same commodity away from home at a much cheaper price.

"Advertising" Racketeers

Our town may not have the blood-thirsty wops who flourish in the underworld of the great cities, but there is nevertheless a class of racketeers who have their eyes on this city, and are continually slipping in and going out with a generous amount of coin for their meager efforts.

There are few more harassed personages in the land than the country merchant. He is systematically coaxed, teased, cajoled and brow-beaten by these racketeers (who are looking for easy money) into taking on their advertising fakes, and these schemes are without end in number, and in the main practically all without advertising value.

They range from railroad time cards, hotel registers, cafe menus, door-knob hangers, so-called booster writeups, to almost every kind of bologna the mind of a human can conjure.

Several years ago illuminated sign boards with changing pictures were placed along roads adjacent to the city. Cars whizzing along at 40 to 60 had a lot of spare time to read these "advertisements." If they did take their eyes off the road they merely flirted with the ditch, a turnover, or a smash-up.

Then there came a bunch that sold "advertising" on cards with the order of services of churches. They told the advertisers the local church was hard pressed for cash and had asked them to help them out. The church got 75 cards that were never used, the printer got $5, and the fakers netted $120 for their profits.

The slicker with the circus shell game has nothing on these birds when it comes to their "con" games.

Scores of times since coming to this city we have been approached by these fakers and offered juicy plums if we would co-operate with them in their schemes, and we have invariably turned them away.

We turned them away because in practically every case there was no advertising value in what they had to offer; because their charges to the prospective customer were outrageous; and mainly because they were fakers, or in more modern parlance—racketeers.

There are home activities which must be supported, but the next time one of these so-called racketeers drops into town and tries to divorce you from your much needed cash—show him the gate—no matter what kind of advertising he is selling.

If you have any doubt as to the probable advertising value of the proposition these fellows offer, consult your local publishers, who in many instances, had the opportunity to analyze the grafts before they were offered to you.

And at the end of the year your bank balance will be the more substantial because you passed up their fakers.—Leader, Pipestone, Minnesota.

Good Times and Old Times

Notwithstanding the period of depression which has engulfed every section of the country within the past several years, there are still some who can, or fancy they can, catch a glimpse of the silver lining of this dark cloud of business adversity.

Thanks we say, to those citizens who have faith in the future. These are the folks who keep things moving. Faith is a wonderful virtue and the lack of it would have long since wrecked the nation, yes the world, and possibly the civilization which those who have lived in 1931 to witness would have dropped completely into collapse.

Even with the hardships which many have undergone, it is doubtful if there are any who would like to see the order of things turned back thirty or more years and a new start made from a point that far back in the past. There has been talk, and lots of it recently, of burdensome taxes, of extravagance in government and lack of confidence in the business world.

While there are those who talk of the return of the good old days and times, how many people living today and who have experienced the pleasures of modern inventions would want to forget about those conveniences as though they never existed, and return to the methods of the so-called good old days? Few, if any, we venture, would agree to such a thing.

What's Wrong With Texas?

Nothing's wrong with Texas—except entirely too many of us get up in the morning at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, button a pair of Ohio suspenders to a pair of Chicago pants, put on a pair of Massachusetts shoes, wash in a Pittsburgh tin basin, using Cincinnati soap, and a cotton towel made in New Hampshire, sit down to a Grand Rapids table, eat pancakes made from Minnesota flour spread with Vermont maple syrup, and Kansas bacon fried on a St. Louis stove.

THIS AND THAT

BY JIMMINY

"Alfalfa Bill" Murray, Oklahoma's moustached, tobacco chewing governor, continues his march to a new publicity record for governors. To date Governor Murray has received more columns of newspaper publicity for such a short time in office than any other governor in a decade or more.

He may not be so hot as an oil price-fixer, but at least he's persistent—and he may win yet. We didn't take him seriously in Texas until he engaged Governor Sterling in that little bridge game, where Mr. Murray played the hand and Mr. Sterling played the dummy. Since then—well, he's more than an ordinary attraction, he's in demand. In Weatherford, Texas, last week people came for miles around to see and hear what this governor who has a way of his own had to say. People are funny that way.

But even the governor of Oklahoma had to take a back seat when Mr. Legs Diamond, the well known New York gangster, hoodlum or what have you, made a bid for page one.

Mr. Diamond is going to move to Atlanta for a few years, upon invitation of the warden of the federal penitentiary of that city to "Come on down and be one of us."

Mr. Diamond has—or had—been playing the little game of "Pleased or Displeased?" with Uncle Sam, and Uncle Sam said he was displeased and ordered Mr. Diamond to Atlanta. Mr. Diamond, being an obliging sort of fellow, will play the game. Everybody will appreciate the kindness of this gangster—they can't be too good to the government.

With "Legs" Diamond apparently satisfied, the government now wants to embrace the cotton growers and shower them with bureaucratic affection. The Federal Farm Board wants cotton growers to plow under every third row of cotton—in an effort to save the farmer. The farm board has relieved the farmer of everything but a few acres of land and plenty of mortgages and hopes that the farmer will relieve them of surplus cotton by plowing theirs (the farmers) under.

W. O. W. To Dedicate New Chapel In Nov.

Plans being formulated for the formal opening of the Woodmen of the World Chapel and Bird Sanctuary at San Antonio indicate that more than 50,000 Texans and representatives from every state in the Union will be in attendance.

It will be the greatest attendance at a dedication ever held in the south, according to plans now being studied by President W. A. Fraser of the Woodmen of the World.

The formal opening and dedication will be held between November 1 and 15. The program will be a three-day one and nationally known speakers from all parts of the country are being considered.

All railroads have indicated that special rates will be offered to those who desire to go to San Antonio for the dedication.

In connection with the formal opening there will be a mammoth barbecue free.

The national board of directors of the association will hold a meeting at the time of the dedication. State managers of the association are now organizing special delegations to come to San Antonio for the dedication. Some of the states are even planning special trains, according to President Fraser. There will be a great deal of color because many of the drill teams of the association will attend in full regalia.

"Because the Chapel is a universal church, every denomination will be represented. Leading church dignitaries of all faiths will take part in the program," said Mr. Fraser. "Regardless whether a person be a Protestant, Jew or Catholic, he or she can worship in our Chapel. The Gentle Hint A Kansas editor hit on the following gentle hint for dunning delinquent subscribers in his paper:

"There is a little matter that some of our subscribers have seemingly forgotten entirely. Some of them have made us many promises, but have not kept them. To us, it is a very important matter—it's necessary in our business. We are very modest and don't like to speak about such remissness."

membership of the Woodmen of the World is made up of people of all religions and nationalities and the church must necessarily be universal in order to serve our membership."

According to the present plans, a nationally known Protestant, Jew and Catholic dignitary will make short addresses as part of the dedication services.

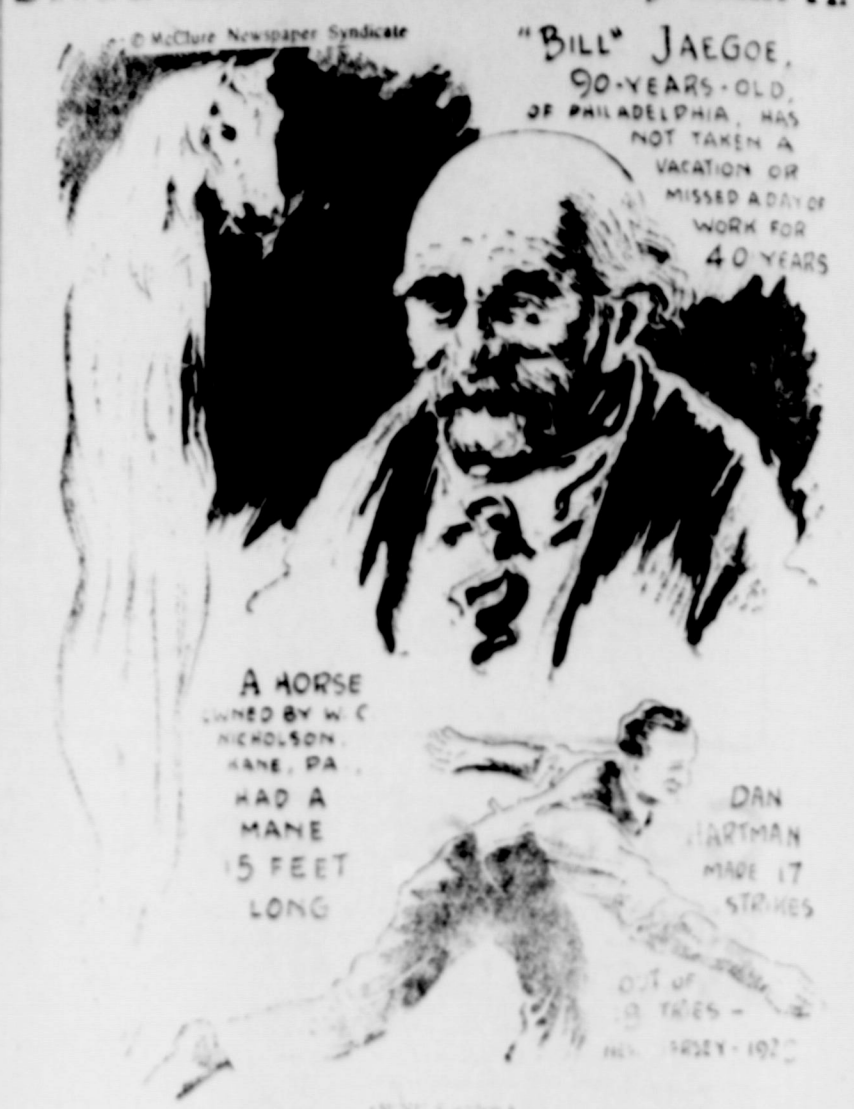

A plan now being worked out by President Fraser, enabling members to earn their way to the convention by performing service to the association. As part of the dedication, a nation-wide membership campaign will be conducted as a tribute to President Fraser for his foresight and vision in the development of the Woodmen of the World Memorial Hospital and the Chapel at San Antonio.

The Chapel is being built along lines similar to the Bok Tower and Bird Sanctuary located in Florida. As part of the Chapel there is a tower which will have a carillon of twenty-five chimes. In the Chapel there is also an Austin organ and this organ will be available to any organist who visits the Chapel. Every window in the Chapel will contain an art memorial glass dedicated to some particular state. Every state in the Union will be represented in these art memorial windows.

"In my opinion this Chapel and Carillon over will be one of the most beautiful ever designed," said President Fraser. "The landscaping and the patio, including a beautiful fountain especially designed, will add to the beauty of the Chapel."

The Chapel and Bird Sanctuary will be a memorial to the departed membership of the Woodmen of the World.

METHODIST PASTOR DEFINES CHRISTAIN FAITH

At the 11 o'clock services last Sunday at the First Methodist church, Rev. B. M. Stradley, while preaching to a large congregation, on the struggle between the carnal and scriptural, defined the Christain faith which justified before God the Christain faith which overcomes the world as a Union of Life with Christ. If we believe in him, if we believe on Him—we will trust Him in an eternal union with Him.

In Jesus, God was forever incarnated with Man; Man and God in Christ Jesus are forever united, and the universal condemnation which John writes of—"He that believeth is not condemned; but he that believeth not, is condemned already, because he hath not believed on the name of the only begotten son of God—is rejecting the offer of marriage, not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

The congregation greatly appreciated the special solo by Mr. Orts at this service, also.

Mrs. C. D. Strange and family are visiting in Sheffield with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wilson.

GETTING BUSINESS GLOOM BEHIND US

By ROME C. STEPHENSON
President American Bankers Association

THERE is such a thing as over-staying a depression just as there is of over-staying a boom. Over-confidence makes the great majority miss the turn in a boom, and under-confidence makes them miss it in a depression. A leading New York banker was asked recently when he could see that a turn for the better had come. "About three months after it has happened," he candidly replied.

There is more significance in that remark than appears on the surface. As more and more manufacturers and business men realize that the turn has already come and that they are over-staying the time to adopt constructive policies, they begin cautiously to press their selling campaigns, to speed up their production, to enlarge their working forces and increase their commitments for supplies. It is the gathering weight of their influences that finally raises the pressure of confidence to the dynamic power of recovery.

The surest way to bring the nation out of the business depression is to raise the pressure of public confidence to the point of becoming such a dynamic force. It has invariably been the push of that force which has started recovery in the past, and it is the gathering power of this force which will start recovery from this present depression.

It is a favorable sign of the times that there seems to be general agreement that the bottom of the depression has been reached and all eyes are peered and looking ahead for the first indications that the turn for the better is in sight. Who knows but what the first thing we know we will find ourselves looking backward instead of forward as we realize that the turn has already come. It is a rough and rocky road that runs across the bottom of the valley of business depression, and most of us are too busy steering the old Ford from bump to bump to be able to take in all the scenery. So who knows but what some important changes in the landscape are already taking place.

BANKERS FAVOR GRADUAL CHANGE

National Commission Believes Local Sentiment Should Govern Evolution in Methods of Conducting Banking.

IF substantial changes are to be brought about in branch banking in the United States they should originate within the states rather than from Washington on inter-state lines as proposed in "trade area" branch banking plans, a recent report of the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association declares. Such changes, it adds, "should develop by evolutionary rather than revolutionary stages."

"The extension of branch banking through state action would mean that states not now permitting state banks to have branches or else closely restricting them, would individually liberalize their laws as an expression of changing local desires and conditions, and this doubtless would insure a deliberate, evolutionary process," the report says. "The other method, that is, through Federal action, would mean a sweeping change for the country as a whole, for legislation granting branch banking powers to national banks in all states, regardless of local sentiment, would, of course, induce equivalent branch banking enactments in every state in the Union not now permitting or really wanting state banks to have branches, in order to keep them on a competitive equality."

Upholds State Privileges
"We find some bankers who feel that a proper stimulus to the development of branch banking would be given by the Federal Government taking the initiative through granting broader privileges within state lines to national banks than they now enjoy. It is argued that state governments could then follow suit as to state banks and that in this way a more progressive branch banking attitude might be promoted by the national banks taking the lead. While we do not deny that there may be some merit in this view as to some specific localities, we stand firm nevertheless on the principle that no such grant of powers to national banks should cross state lines, or exceed the privileges that state legislatures could and would grant to their state banks."

"Moreover we believe that if the choice between these two possible courses of extending branch banking were put up to bankers they would be generally opposed to any forcible imposition of branch banking on the states through the medium of the national bank system. We believe it would be preferable for any change to come about through the more gradual and democratic method of the states granting their banks branch banking powers by state where, if, and as local conditions and sentiment might justify for a change."

The Searchlight

THAT SHINES LACK IN THE DARK CORNERS

MANY OF us got a taste of how quick our lives might be "squelched" early Sunday morning, in the form of an earthquake tremor. It makes a fellow rake his mind right quick to find out what wrong he's done—and then wish he had no conscience.

SEARCHLIGHT SPENT the entire afternoon in town last Saturday afternoon and that darn 'phonograph' at the Empress Drug Store played that "Booba Cuba" record 3 times in 2 hours! It's a wonder it didn't wear out.

THINGS WE'D LIKE TO SEE:
Ed Stirman on the streets without trying to collect for "that little bill you owe, please!"
Jack Stovell without a conscience.
James House without either a wad of gum.

THERE IS all the more reason now why you should send your cleaning and pressing to Frank Robertson's—He has made several improvements lately and has rearranged some of the machinery. That boy just natchurally knows how to do the work. Searchlight sent a pair of trousers there to be cleaned the other day and they were returned with a $5 bill in the watch pocket together with a bunch of "gopher" matches. (You see—the bill was left in the pocket when it was sent down there.)

WERE JUST wondering if the matrimonial bug isn't in the air. All we are going by is that a young couple was caught looking at that attractive bed room suite that Kerr Mercantile has in its show window.

OVERHEARD ON the main Drag: Wonder if there will be any good-looking teachers here this year? Sure, we know there will for Searchlight has been around these parts many years and Sanderson has always employed good-looking school marmes—and furthermore: they usually make their homes here; that is, some few have been known to.

DUFF KESSLER is counting the hours this week, in fact, he has an important date—just when it is to be can't be found out; anyway, it will be after the 21st is our guess.

SINCE BREAKING into print, we have been all puffed up—and that is enough to be swell-headed about—but now we go and see our clippings posted on the Ferguson Motor Company show window. Fine, Mr. Ferguson—we knew we always could write, but it took us a mighty long time to convince others.

Melven Pollard is spending the week in El Paso with Leonard Barksdale.

Mrs. Will Adams and daughter, Miss Florine Adams, of Ozona, are visiting Mrs. Fred Montgomery at the ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Chastain and son of Chattanooga, Tenn., are visiting her mother, Mrs. V. J. Sheffield, and other relatives here.

Mrs. Maggie Stanton and sons, Lawrence and Donald, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Savage, returned to their home in El Paso Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Holland who ranch near Marfa spent several days here this week with friends.

Don't fail to attend the musical recital that will be at the auditorium next Thursday, the 27th.

3,500,000 U.S. ANGORA GOATS PROVIDE MANY USES—MOHAIR CHIEF PRODUCT

GOATS SERVE MAN IN ENDLESS WAYS

Airplanes and Indoor Golf Courses Use Fabric Made from Angora Fleece.

PERHAPS you have sometimes wondered why all railway seats are upholstered in the same material, the familiar mohair velvet that in our childhood days was invariably a bright red or green and always of one or two standard patterns. Today even train interiors have become color-conscious and soft greens and taupes and warm blues are seen but are still of the same mohair velvet to the extent, it has been estimated, of twelve million yards in the trains of the country.

The reason for this is that no other fabric has been found that will stand all the hard wear and tear that 24-hour service means. Made from the fleeces of the angora goat, mohair velvet or velveteen, is one of the most popular and serviceable of fabric materials. One hundred million yards are in use on automobiles alone and many more on motor buses and for the interiors of airplanes.

In addition to this, velveteen is also used for upholstering furniture, for draperies and even for rugs and is especially in favor with the housewife because it is chemically moth-proofed in manufacture. It is also used for theatre curtains and chair coverings, because of the sound absorption the deep pile fabric affords, which is an important consideration in talking picture theatres. Like everything else, mohair velvet has "gone modern" and can be had in an endless variety of colors and patterns and weaves. Over five hundred shades of green alone are reported by one New England mill.

But an upholstering fabric is by no means the only service the mohair fleeces renders. The finest indoor golf courses are made of a rich, deep pile mohair velvet. Lap robes and steamer rugs, lifelike stuffed animals, trimmings for house slippers and even wigs and transformations are made from this snowy fleeces which more closely resembles human hair than any other known fibre.

Each fibre is much stronger than wool and due to its unique physical structure takes a fadeless dye. Because of its sleek surface, it does not readily retain dust and dirt and in fact, the pile surface acts as a brush and makes the traveler's clothing actually cleaner at the end of the trip than it was before!

So great has the demand been for this fleeces that within a comparatively few years, the industry of angora goat raising has been transferred from Turkey and South Africa to the United States, which now leads the world both in the production and manufacture of mohair fleeces.

I will be in Sanderson the last of the month with a full line of Winona goods and will appreciate your trade.
