Segregation Plan of Del Rio Is Upheld

School Given Right to Segregate Students; Court Rejects Appeal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Parents of children of Latin-American descent today lost their fight to prevent Del Rio, Texas, school authorities from segregating the Latin pupils from those of Anglo-Saxon descent.

The United States Supreme Court today rejected an appeal from Texas courts which denied the injunction sought by Del Rio Latins.

The citizens who brought the appeal held that the proposed segregation would deprive their children of equal right. Del Rio school officials held the segregation was for the benefit of Latins who could not advance as quickly as the Anglo-Saxons in lower grades.

Long Court Fight.

The Del Rio segregation case originated in Del Rio prior to the opening of the Fall term in 1930 after the Del Rio Independent School District voted bonds for construction of a new high school, remodeling and improvements to other grade schools and construction of a building near the old high school for lower grade Latin students. The case moved from the local District Court to the Circuit Court of Appeals in San Antonio, through the Supreme Court of Texas to the highest tribunal in the nation.

Local citizens of Latin-American descent who launched the court struggle were aided financially by funds contributed from Latins in various sections of the State. The League of United Latin-American Citizens, a Texas organization, assisted in the court action.

JUDGE WEST ON THE RETIRED LIST IN NOVEMBER

U. S. Court Veteran Has Served for 15 Years.

Eagles Tie Alpine Bucks Saturday Eve.

Henry Given Credit As An Outstanding Performer; Ezell Leads Bucks.

The fans who saw Friday's contest between the Eagles and Alpine Bucks watched a well-matched game and well-trained teams. The plays were well executed. Sanderson showed more power in the line, as Alpine was unable to gain at the line and were forced to end runs, which Sanderson gained constantly at the line with Jack Hayre being the principal plunger. Robey, Milan and Robertson also made good gains at the line, and Robertson's puntings were good, but he did not seem to find the side line.

Both Teams Threatened to Score. Sanderson placed the ball on Alpine's ten yard line in the second period when Robertson faked around right for twelve yards when he was stopped by Ezell. This play was pulled perfect and looked like a counter, but the speedy Alpine back was on the job as usual.

Alpine threatened to score in the last period as they were stopped by the stubborn Eagle line of the twelve yard stripe when the ball went over to Sanderson. The Eagles took the ball on their own twelve yard line and Hayre took the ball on the first down and sidestepped through the entire Alpine team and was finally stopped on the 40 yard line by Ezell for a 28 yard gain.

The entire Sanderson team played a good defensive game with Henry, left end, being the outstanding defensive man in the line. O. T. Schupbach proved his metal in this contest and made the local fans proud of him. He stopped Ezell in his tracks several times and made some of the best and hardest tackles of the game.

Ezell was without any doubt, the outstanding man on the field. He showed plenty of speed on end runs and in returning punts and was a constant threat.

The Eagles were ahead of the Bucks in punting. It seems to be Robertson's least worry when he is called on to get out of the danger zone. He just placed his educated toe under the old pigskin and sent it down the field and out of danger when necessary. And good punting saves lots of games and wins some.

We are expecting big things of our men Saturday when they meet the Marfa Shorthorns here. Sure, we are, and if we are, we will go out and help them win. So let's all turn out and show our boys and coach that we are really FOR them!

D. HART DIES IN FORT WORTH

A message was received in Del Rio Thursday afternoon from Fort Worth by F. W. H. Wehr announcing the death of D. Hart in Fort Worth. Mr. Hart was one of the leading ranchmen in this section for a long period of time and accumulated one of the largest ranches west of the Pecos.

The old Hart headquarters ranch is now owned and operated by Geo. W. Baker. Mr. Hart left Del Rio some 10 or 12 years ago and has since made his home in Fort Worth.

Funeral services will be held in Fort Worth in charge of the Masonic Lodge. The local Masonic order will send flowers. Mr. Hart is survived by his widow.—Del Rio Herald.

Mr. Hart is well known in this section of the country, especially among the old settlers and ranchmen. Since his retirement from the ranch business several years ago he has been making his home in Ft. Worth. He still owns some land in Terrell county.

A. E. Creigh, Jr., was a business visitor in Alpine Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gregory left last Thursday for Del Rio, San Antonio and Pleasanton, where they visited relatives and friends and attended to business.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Menzies had as their guests several days this week Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Webb and young daughter of San Angelo.

Federal Court In Session at Del Rio

Booze, Smuggling and Alien Cases on Court Docket for Present Term.

The October term of Federal Court opened in Del Rio on Monday of this week for a four-day session. A number of alien and liquor cases were heard and disposed of at this time.

Judge Duval West was accompanied by court attaches and his secretary as follows: John D. Hartman, U. S. district attorney, San Antonio; Egbert Schweppe, assistant U. S. district attorney, San Antonio; Scott C. White, U. S. Marshal, El Paso; D. H. Hart, clerk, accompanied by Mrs. Hart, Austin; and J. F. Caroline, deputy clerk.

Monday morning the federal grand jury went into session with a vast volume of the usual Federal court charges to dispose of. A major part of the cases included violations of the tariff acts, prohibition and immigration laws.

Up to Wednesday, the following cases had been disposed of: J. C. Campbell, of Uvalde, pleading guilty to possession of two gallons of whiskey, drawing a fine of $100. Pedro Guerra drew a fine of $100 and J. E. King, a fine of $50, both pleading guilty to tariff violations. J. E. Ward, Fort Worth, fined $800 and sentenced to serve 18 months in the federal penitentiary at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, on charges of bribery and to serve concurrently four months in Maverick county jail at Eagle Pass on charges of transporting liquor. Jewel Keebler, Dayton, Ohio, received a sentence of one year and one day at Fort Leavenworth, after pleading guilty to violation of the Mann act. Joe Reyes, Roy Payne and J. Hernandez were given penitentiary sentences for violating the immigration acts. A large number of foreigners were ordered deported at the expiration of county jail sentences.

J. L. Merritt of Langtry, entered a plea of not guilty to charges of transporting liquor and will be tried before the petit jury. I. P. Anderson, L. W. Hall and Joan Wall-drock, the 3 men assertedly with Merritt, arrested with him at the same time when an alleged load of rum was being run through from the border, pleaded guilty. Sentences upon the trio were withheld pending trial of Merritt before petit jury.

Rev. J. V. McCall Installed As Pastor at Installation Services Held Sun. Night

The installation service at the Presbyterian Church Sunday night was a solemn, but happy occasion.

Dr. C. L. Alffather of Fort Stockton, a boyhood friend of the pastor, preached an earnest sermon from the text, "Search Me, O God, and Know My Heart; Try Me and Know My Thoughts; and See If There Be Any Wicked Way in Me, and Lead Me In the Way Everlasting." Dr. Alffather said that this was a prayer that both pastor and people should pray daily.

Dr. L. E. Selfridge who was to have presided at this service, could not attend, having been called to Kingsville for the funeral of Rev. J. W. Skinner, president of the Tex-Mex school.

Dr. Selfridge sent as his substitute Rev. N. P. Wilkinson of Crystal City, who asked the constitutional questions, when both pastor and members took very solemn vows.

Dr. B. D. Kennedy of Del Rio charged the pastor to do three things—Preach, Pray, Love. Preach the pure gospel, Progress on your knees; Love the flock.

Rev. Wilkinson charged the members as follows: "Dr. McCall is your shepherd; follow him. He is your friend; come to him for comfort and advice. He is human, support him, both morally and materially. Miss Louise Noble sang a prayer song, "Hold Thou My Hand, Dear Lord."

At the close of the service many members and friends went forward to greet the pastor and bid him God speed.

P. T. A. Carnival To Be Saturday Night

Big Parade Will Be Held in Afternoon; Many Attractions Offered.

For some weeks members of the Parent-Teacher Association of Sanderson have been planning a Halloween Carnival for Saturday, Oct. 31. No time and effort has been spared in making the real Halloween spirit prevail on this occasion. There will be plenty of entertainment with spooks, confetti, noise-makers, etc. to add to the fun and merriment for everyone, both young and old. The proceeds of this carnival will be used for the benefit of the local schools.

The main attractions of this affair will be located on the vacant lot between Bohlman's Confectionery and the Hi-Way Lunch Room. The members of the P. T. A. are very grateful to Mr. J. I. Daniels, proprietor of the Hi-Way Lunch Room, for the offer he made to give P. T. A. a perk sold on all hamburgers and drinks cent during the evening.

Some of the attractions that will be afforded include a candy and pop corn stand, a confetti stand, a fish pond and grab box, a house of horror, a balloon and horn stand, a negro baby stand, a tent for men only, a side show, a Keno stand, and numerous other amusements.

The parade is to start at 5:30 and will be composed of school children, and to the class which carries out the cleverest scheme in the parade a prize is being offered.

As this is to be on Saturday night a large crowd is expected to be on hand. Begin now saving your nickels and dimes, and come early in order to get the full benefit of the night's entertainment.

Dress and Character

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Former Dean of Men,
University of Illinois.

Philip Dormer Stanhope, fourth earl of Chesterfield, was born more than two hundred and fifty years ago—to be exact, on 1694—and yet as we read his shrewd and sensible advice to his son as contained in his letters, he might almost have been born and writing it our own day. Youth wants nothing so little as advice, and though the precepts which the earl laid down for the conduct of his son were worthy of consideration, his biographer tells us that they left the boy "still shy, awkward, tactless, and immature."

Lord Chesterfield recognized the great value of careful dress and the revelation of character as seen through the attention which men give to their personal appearance. We could well listen to his words today if we are not too firmly settled in our habits to change either our character or our dress.

"I cannot help forming some opinion of a man's sense and character from his dress," he says, "and I believe most people do as well as myself. Any affectation whatsoever in dress implies in my mind a flaw in the understanding. A man of sense carefully avoids any particular character in his dress; he is accurately clean for his own sake; but all the rest is for other people's. He dresses as well, and in the same manner, as the people of sense and fashion of the place where he is. If he dresses better, as he thinks—that is, more than they—he is a fop; if he dresses worse, he is unpardonably negligent; but of the two, I would rather have a young fellow too much than too little dressed; the excess on that side will wear off with a little age and reflection. But if he is negligent at twenty, he will be a sloven at forty and stink at fifty years old. Dress yourself fine where others are fine, and plain where others are plain; but take care always that your clothes are well made and fit you, for otherwise they will give you a very awkward air. When you are once well dressed for the day, think no more of it afterwards."

Clothes tell a lot.

True Religion and Beneficence Inseparable, Says First Methodist Pastor

The First Methodist Church was filled at the 11 a.m. Sunday service where the pastor, Rev. B. M. Stradley, preached his 5th serial sermon on the Sermon on the Mount.

During the course of the sermon Rev. Stradley stated that True Religion, my duty to God, and True Beneficence, my duty to man, are absolutely inseparable, and that Christian Faith is not correct opinions concerning the person of our salvation or doctrine, but Life—"My Life hid with God in Christ Jesus"—Christian Faith is aon life working by the love which the Father above sheds abroad in our hearts, bringing us into sweet Christian fellowship and concord with all believers, and a soul aflame with compassion and sympathy for those with out Him; seeing in them not what they are, but what they can be if touched by that magnetic power of Divine love in Christ Jesus."

At each of these services the music committee of the church will render a special vocal number in keeping with the message.

On Sunday, Nov. 1, the pastor will preach at the 11 a.m. service on the subject, "The Light of Life," while Mr. Leo Heisler and Mrs. Vance McLymont will render a special vocal duet in keeping with the sermon subject.

Mrs. Alexander Mitchell returned Monday from San Antonio where she spent the week-end with her son, C. C. Mitchell, who is attending St. Mary's University in that city.

Fred Garrison and Henry Mansfield made a business trip to Fort Stockton the first of the week.

... SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

By RUTH MAVIS STONE

PANCAKES LEAD AS GREAT NATIONAL BREAKFAST DISH

Morning's at seven, God's in His heaven, all's right with the world in America. If breakfast is pancakes, call them what you will—pancakes, hot cakes, griddle cakes, "plate o' wheats," pancakes are the national American dish.

At the family breakfast table in mansion or hovel, in farmer's home or bachelor apartment, at lunch counter, boarding house or palatial hotel, on board train or boat, the breakfast cry is the same the country over. The American chorus swells from coast to coast, East, West, North, South, calling for pancakes.

For the man of the house the pancake is tasty nourishment, a morning benediction on the work of the day. For the lady of the house it is stamina for the morning's housework. For the children, it is a treat, and a healthy foundation for sturdy body and busy mind. The whole family wants its pancakes.

By the use of self-rising flour the housewife, whatever her means, can save time and expense, besides insuring success, in the preparation of this great national breakfast. The following recipe, utilizing self-rising flour, is always successful:

Griddle Cakes. 2 cups self-rising flour, 1 tbsp. sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup milk. Directions: Sift and measure flour. Add beaten egg, milk and sugar. Add fat and bake immediately on hot griddle.

Monday, Nov. 9, the opening day, the delegates will be in charge of local committees. A luncheon honoring the board and all delegates who have arrived, will be held at noon and the official welcome addresses on the part of the City Federation of Lubbock, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and other city officials will be made.

Tuesday, a business luncheon at noon and the annual pioneers' dinner in the evening will be held. The seven district presidents and the highest scoring club of each district and the fine arts department will report Tuesday.

Wednesday, another business luncheon will be held at noon and in the evening, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will entertain with an old time chuckwagon feed. Real cowboys will be on hand to assist in the "western chuckwagon grub." The evening program will be under the direction of the American Citizenship department, celebrating the bi-centennial birth of George Washington with a massed chorus of patriotic songs, assembly songs and addresses.

Thursday, the final day, includes another business luncheon, and climaxing the entire convention will be the Texas Dinner with "Texas Under Six Flags" featured in song and story in a pageant under the direction of Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the Speech arts department of the Texas Technological College.

Parliamentary law classes will be held each morning of the convention under the direction of Mrs. Ben Boydston, Waco, State Parliamentarian, assisted by Mrs. R. E. Buchanan of Ft. Worth.

First Quarterly Conference Held By Dr. A. L. Moore

After the preaching service Sunday evening, the First Quarterly Conference of the New Annual Conference Year was held at the Methodist Church with Dr. A. L. Moore, presiding elder of El Paso district, officiating.

Thirty of the thirty-two officials of the church were present. The recorder of the church reported 22 new members having been added to the church during the months of September and October and none dropped from the church register.

The Sunday School department reported an increase of sixty-five per cent for these months.

The report of the Young Peoples Department, the Hi-Epworth League showed this department most active, and the largest growth, the League now running around fifty in attendance.

The pastor's report revealed many of the additions to be adults received by profession of faith and baptism. The Board of lay activities, and the Christian Stewardship committee reported $215.75 in cash raised at the 11 a.m. service on Sunday, October 11, in a free will offering for benevolences.

Each department of the church reported steady growth and presence of activity.

Dr. Moore, in his sermon, referred to his deep sense of appreciation for the town, and his love and affection for its people.

HALLOWEEN

BRING forth the raisins and the nuts,

Tonight All-Hallow's spectre struts Along the moonlit way.

No time is this for tear or sob, Or other woes our joys to rob,

But time for Pippin and for Bob And Jack-o'-Lantern gay.

The ghosts of all times past parade, Emerging from the mist and shade That hid them from our gaze,

And full of song and ringing mirth In one glad moment of rebirth

Again they walk the ways of earth As in the olden days.

The beacon lights are on the hill, The will-o'-whisps the forests fill

With flashes filched from noon; And witches on their broomsticks

Speed here and yonder in the sky And lift their strident voices high

Unto the hunter's moon. —Anon.

RATTLER KILLED WITH TWENTY-SEVEN RATTLES

SORORA, Tex., Oct. 29.—A rattlesnake with 27 rattles was killed recently by Elton Archie on the G. W. Stephenson ranch. The reptile measured about five feet in length, while the rattles alone were five and one-half inches long.

The rattles, together with a grotesquely crooked stalk from a sotol plant, are on display at the store of E. F. Vander Stucken Co. The snake-like stalk was discovered by Vernon Marion out west of the Pecos.

RED CROSS RELIEF IN 79 DISASTERS IN YEAR

Forest Fires, Plagues, Storms, Earthquakes, as Well as Drought, Call for Help.

The forest fires which have raged in Idaho and other western sections this year have presented a serious disaster—one of a number, in addition to the enormous drought relief problems, which have been met by the American Red Cross relief forces.

Suffering, faith and courage are contained in a story coming from the Priest River section in Idaho, told by a volunteer Red Cross worker as follows:

"Picture a happy little homestead near the banks of Priest river in northern Idaho. While father, with a little son tagging at his heels, is out tending crops and adding to the clearing, mother is at home making preparations for another arrival. Then comes the fire demon, sweeping all in its path. While father fights to protect his little home, the stark announces its arrival.

"Mother and baby are bundled in a quilt and loaded on a truck for the race through the flaming forest. Father drives the truck and the little boy sits at his mother's side, brushing away the sparks which fall like rain upon the improvised litter."

To the Red Cross worker, the mother expressed her anxiety to return to the hills to rehabilitate the little homestead. All they possessed was lost in the forest fire. The Red Cross aided all of the families and is working to help them rebuild their homes.

Altogether seventy-nine disasters called for Red Cross help and money during the year just closed. Aside from the drought, which required services of volunteer workers numbering more than 60,000, and a drought relief fund of more than $15,000,000 of which $5,000,000 came from the national Red Cross treasury, help was given in 32 fires, 13 tornadoes, eight storms and eight floods, six forest fires, four earthquakes and four mine explosions, three typhoons and three epidemics, two cloudbursts, and one each hurricane, mine cave-in and railroad accident.

Aside from a major catastrophe, such as the drought, when the whole public was asked to contribute funds for relief, Red Cross relief in these disasters was met from the organization's funds and from special local contributions. Part of each membership, subscribed to Red Cross Chapters at the roll call period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, goes toward this important work.

BREVITIES

The organization of Texas taxpayers into Taxpayers Protective Leagues is gaining momentum. The latest trend is to consolidate for state-wide as well as county action. And all of this is good. But already in widely separated quarters of the state, there is being evidenced a disposition to use these associations as political weapons; and that is bad. Kept strictly out of politics, this rebellion against waste and extravagance can do much for all branches of the state government; but permitted to become the tool of politicians, it becomes another futile waste of the people's energy and enthusiasm.

Credit Congressman J. J. Mansfield with the first notable success in the endeavor to find new and substantial uses or the surplus of Southern cotton. Mr. Mansfield has been urging the Post Office Department to substitute cotton for the tremendous quantities of hemp twine customarily used, and last week his persistence was rewarded. The Department advertised for bids on 1,300,000 pounds of cotton twine, in the manufacture of which more than 2,600 bales of cotton will be used. This is considered to be an experimental purchase. If the Department finds the twine satisfactory, thousands of bales of cotton will be necessary to supply its annual requirements—and every ounce will represent new consumption.

The waitress who accepted $2,300 from the "Big Spring business man" is due a little sympathy along with the condemnation that is being meted out to her. She accepted a present from the "big business man" and he reniged. He may have been intoxicated, but that does not absolve him wholly. There must have been a quid pro quo in the transaction, and now the girl will pay some more. The man used a lure that would have tempted any but a strong and virtuous, a strongly virtuous, woman. The chances are the girl has paid too much. She will have a life-time in which to ponder that truth. Meanwhile, the score would be no more than even were the man's identity disclosed to the world. It is not just that the woman pay the entire penalty for a mutual indiscretion.

MANY U. S. SENATORS AND GOVERNORS HEARTILY ENDORSE COMING NATIONAL WOOL WEEK — NOV. 9, 14

United States senators and governors in wool-growing states of the nation have given hearty endorsement to National Wool week, November 9 to 14, in statements issued during the past few days. Approval is given through recognition of the value the week will bring to wool growers and the entire industry. Merchants all over the country will feature wool materials and fabrics during National Wool week.

Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio, says "your efforts toward a National Wool week in order to call attention to this great American industry is most commendable. Anything that would increase the interest of the individual farmer in keeping a flock of sheep on his farm ought not to be neglected."

"Every farm as well as the farmer would be benefited, not only in the increased product of the fibre, but also in increasing this most valuable meat product. With the increase of our own population and the cutting down of the size of the farm, both of which are inevitable, emphasis should be placed on the importance of maintaining this industry."

Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa is "entirely in sympathy with National Wool week and hopes it will be a success throughout the United States."

Governor Philip F. LaFollette of Wisconsin says "the Wisconsin department of agriculture and markets are co-operating to make this week of benefit to sheep growers. The National Wool Marketing corporation, speaking for co-operative pools, points out that sheepmen have been hit by the present crisis, but that a nation-wide promotion of wool products may be of substantial assistance. Accordingly, I am asking the press of the state to aid our wool growers in their determination to make the week of November 9 to 14, a period during which all of the wool interests will co-operate throughout the nation to extend the use of their products."

Senator Arthur Capper, Kansas, supporter of all things agricultural, says "National Wool week is a fine move from every standpoint. It should be of substantial value to sheep producers who have been facing real financial troubles because of low prices it will be helpful in reducing the stocks of merchants. And it will be of real importance to consumers in calling their attention to the present bargains in wool clothing. It will be of substantial value to producers, manufacturers and consumers, the three most important factors in the industry."

Senator Lynn Frazier of North Dakota declares that "in order to make a success of this coming Wool week the manufacturers and merchants should cut their profits to the greatest extent possible in order that the people may buy the manufactured goods and thus create a better market for the future."

Wyoming's acting governor and both senators have promised statements approving Wool week, it has been announced. Montana also is active.

Advices from Utah state Governor Dern will proclaim Wool week, as will governors of other western states. Governor Julius Meier of Oregon will endorse the week to Oregon wool growers. In Salt Lake City, Utah, and Portland and Boise, Idaho, chambers of commerce and civic clubs will unite in programs to usher in Wool week. Other cities in the wool-growing centers also will conduct programs to make the public more familiar with the "no substitute" qualities of woolsens and worsteds.

HALLOWE'EN

TOMORROW NIGHT is Hallowe'en night—the night that ghosts and goblins are supposed to be about and do various weird and unusual devilment.

On this night the youngsters of Sanderson will be about until the wee small hours of the morning and on Sunday morning when our citizens awake and go to town many queer sights will be seen.

But remember, youngsters, in playing your pranks on this night, be careful, have your fun, but do not be destructive with it nor leave anything on the highway or streets that may cause a terrible and perhaps a fatal accident.

THE FOOTBALL GAME

LAST FRIDAY afternoon on the High School football field one of the best, squares, as well as cleanest football games was played when the Sanderson Eagles and the Alpine Hi Bucks clashed for their second game this season.

This is as it should be and when we have more football games played in this manner we will find that there will be fewer accidents and injuries to our players.

A NEW CONSTITUTION

MANY SPLENDID men have entered the governor's office, pledged to give the people of Texas a good, straight-from-the-shoulder, business administration. And most of them have despaired of accomplishing the task before their first year was behind them.

In all probability Texas will not have an efficient and economical government until business is administered under the proven principles and practices of a modern system of political economy.

Efficiency and economy in government are difficult enough under the most favorable of circumstances, hampered by a constitution written for times when all roads were muddy and a saddle horse was the world's quickest transportation, that goal is almost hopeless.

Those who oppose a constitutional convention frequently express the fear that Texans of today are less well equipped to write a constitution than the men of 1846. There is little to support such a position.

The need for a new constitution daily grows more apparent, more pressing. Why delay the inevitable?—Editorial Digest.

OUR BROTHER'S KEEPER

THIS PERIOD through which the world is struggling is more than an economic crisis. It involves more than a study of strategic plans to ambuscade the dollars which fled.

Humanity itself is on trial. The civilization which we have evolved is undergoing the supreme test.

If there is such a thing as brotherhood among men, now is the time to show it.

Drunk with wealth, we have strayed a long way from the fundamental and eternal truth. We have been living in a house stuck upon golden stilts. And it has crashed.

In our agony and suffering we have discovered that Jesus Christ meant what he said. The Golden Rule was not a pleasant homily intended for reward-of-merit cards with silk fringe on the edges and diamond dust shining on the snow scenes.

We speak of breaking the law and commandments. You can break them; but they break you. "Love one another" was more than an admonition to light the path of virtue. It was the statement of an eternal principle upon which all law, all philosophy, all business, all ethics, all civilization rests.

During these money-glutted years we have tried each to go our own way alone. Years of greed and money lust have ended with this terrible lesson: That wealth evaporates and leaves men stark and with naked hearts.

It is for us to see that this terrible rebuke has not been in vain. For us to see that we rebuild the fallen structure on the rock of brotherhood.

This winter will be a period that calls for all men to have fortitude, strength and sympathy. It is, for once, clear to the dullest mind that we can only help ourselves by helping others.

Out of this period of re-adjustment we can regain our souls. It can be a better world because of this period of hunger and sorrow; a stronger America and a sounder civilization if it brings to us a realization we are given the privilege of being our brother's keeper.

The remedy for our financial crisis lies not in laws, federal commissions, in panacea or financial errors.

The sound and practical answer was told two thousand years ago in a sermon on a mountain in Palestine.—Los Angeles (Calif.) Times.

THIS AND THAT By JIMMINY

About this fellow Murray: the man has a way. He's different, pleasingly different, from the ordinary run of governors. When he was campaigning for the governorship of Oklahoma he lived on cheese-cracker sandwiches and hitch-hiked over the state to deliver his speeches.

He taught our own portly Governor Sterling a few things the well-informed governor should know. He has won the respect of editorial writers throughout the nation. The man has a way!

Last week when Governor Sterling by military order, closed down five oil wells in the East Texas oil fields in defiance of a Federal court injunction, he got his cue from Governor Murray's Alfalfa Bill.

Instead of being the ignoramus people credited him with being, he appears to be a man who has given much study and thought to governmental offices and duties. Obviously, he has had political ambitions for a long time, and long ago set about to equip himself for such offices as would afford him opportunity to put his theories into practice.

It's the custom of the Democratic party to put a candidate in the race for president every four years. The time for another candidate will soon roll around again.

POTPOURRI

Phosphorescence

Certain bodies possess the quality of becoming self-luminous after exposure to heat or light. This is known as phosphorescence. The color of the light depends upon the kind of light to which the article is exposed and may vary with the nature of the substance.

THE DANGER OF DUST

A report to the American Chemical Society states that silicosis, an illness due to breathing dust, is more widespread than was hitherto believed.

Silicosis is caused by silica, a white crystalline substance composed of oxygen and silicon, the two most abundant elements in the earth's crust. They are believed either to dissolve in the lung or to form a colloid, a substance of glue-like consistency which floats in the lung tissue fluids.

Silicosis, of course, is most prevalent among industrial workers such as drillers and muckers in subways. But this menace to our health is faced, to a lesser degree, by all of us, when we travel over dusty roads, and silica is especially plentiful in sand, of which many roads are partly composed.

This is just one more reason for pushing the good roads movement. Eliminating the dust and dirt by even inexpensively bound top surface, we have always known adds much to comfort, and we now learn it is an aid to health.

THE BETTER WAY

It is better to prevent a crime than to punish someone for having committed it. And, on the same principle, it is better to enforce a few basic laws than to pass new and restrictive laws which are unenforceable, and serve only to make law-breakers of otherwise law-abiding citizens.

This is a fact of which we seem to have lost sight in our passion for passing laws. Probably no other civilized people are bound by so many legal restrictions as we are—and it is certain that no other civilized people are plagued by so much crime, or have so conspicuously failed in apprehending and convicting criminals. That is something legislators and voters might take into account when the time for consideration of new laws comes again.

In order to grow, the home city must receive the united support of every citizen.

Natural advantages alone won't build a city.

Community enthusiasm alone won't build a city.

The business interests must work out a plan for civic and industrial advancement.

Every citizen must get behind that plan.

A combination of natural advantages and community enthusiasm behind well-thought out plans will get a city somewhere.

Many opportunities for development present themselves to every city.

Some of them seize them.

Some cities wear blinders and let them pass by.

Good plans for development, properly carried out, bring an increase in population and industrial growth.

In the race for new industries, the city that is awake gets them.

Cities that are asleep will only creep and crawl along, getting nowhere and will soon become ancient history.

TOUCHINESS

A disease called "touchiness" is one of the gravest sources of restlessness in the world. Touchiness, when it becomes chronic, is a morbid condition of the inward disposition. It is self-love inflamed to the acute point, conceit with a hair-trigger. The cure is to become meek and lowly in heart while the old sensitiveness is becoming numb from want of use.—Henry Drummond.

"I Never Read The Advertisements"

You know this person. He thinks he is telling the truth. But quiz him and he will recite the make of his motor-car, his hat, his shirt, his suit, his shoes, his tooth-paste, his towels, ad infinitum . . . with the accent on the "ad." In other words, they are all advertised products.

Why, he could no more escape the presence and the power of the printed word than he could evade eating or sleeping. The advertisements are a definite part of contemporary American life. Their messages are vital to daily existence. They have a definite association with the pocketbook, than which there is nothing more intimate and personal.

The important thing is not merely to "read the advertisements," but to read ALL of them. The one advertisement you "didn't see" may contain information you would have given a great deal to possess. Certainly, it is as important to you to know that Smiths are having a sale of sheets or shirts, as to read that Congress will hold a special session!

POTPOURRI

Measuring Light

The measurement of light intensities is one of the fascinating, as well as exacting, studies of astronomers. Various units such as the British sperm candle are used to determine the brightness of illumination. The sperm candle burns 120 grains of material an hour. Daylight is estimated at 180 candle per square yard, or the amount of light that 180 candles would reflect on a square yard of surface one foot away.

Comstock Girls Beat Sanderson Basketball Team 30-7 Here Saturday Eve.

Outplaying their opponents in all 3 divisions of the court, the Comstock girls basketball team swamped Sanderson girls by a lopsided score of 30-7, here Saturday. The Sanderson girls drew blood in the first minute of play, but this apparently brought the stage-frightened victors back to earth, and the remainder of the game was marked by a steady succession of goal ripping shots fired by Captain Lydia O'Bryant. Her co-forward, Nadine Deaton, played a splendid game as she continually jockeyed her accurate captain into shooting position with feeder shots.

Sanderson's strongest division of the court was the center, but here, the veteran Comstock pivots outworked their competitors. Geraldine Dillon consistently outjumped Beatrice Nichols at center, while Ella Deaton easily eluded her opponent, Ellen Appel to receive the tip off. The Comstock centers forced play in to their scoring belt and were bulwarks against Sanderson's ever getting the ball in their counting end of the court.

The line-up was as follows: Comstock Position Sanderson Lydia O'Bryant Lillian Halley Forward Nadine Deaton Martha Stradley Forward Geraldine Dillon Beatrice Nichols Center Ella Deaton Ellen Appel Center Mary Ethel Brotherton Rena Dunn Guard Olivia Earwood Dorothy Sullivan Guard
