SAN ANGELO NATIONAL BANK REOPENED 4th.

Reorganized Bank Marked Stronger Than One That Closed

Relief For City

Aid Business Throughout Trade Territory Of San Angelo

Special Correspondent.

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 4.—The San Angelo National Bank, which closed October 3, reopened at 9 o'clock this morning. Charter for the reorganized bank was issued Saturday.

The old bank one of the financial strongholds of West Texas, had capital stock of $300,000. The new institution, chartered as San Angelo National Bank, with the article "the" dropped, will have capital stock of $400,000, surplus of $160,000; in excess of $800,000 in cash, providing a substantial reserve; deposits of slightly over $2,000,000, compared with $2,800,000 in loans before.

Officers of the reorganized bank are: Sol Mayer, president; active vice president, R. A. Hall, and cashier, Roy Vance.

Directors, elected November 28, are: John Y. Rust, Hershel C. Upton, Otis L. Greeg, Dr. J. B. McKnight of Sanatorium, C. M. (Dad) Joiner of Kilgore; Mrs. George Bird, Henry C. Ragsdale, Charles Canon, J. H. Tippett, R. A. Hall, Charles W. Hoobs, Edwin Mayer, Abe Mayer and Sol Mayer.

A bank reorganization committee, appointed by the Merchants Board of Trade a few days after the bank failed to open, directed the campaign resulting in the bank's rehabilitation. Its personnel was: Henry Ragsdale, A. P. Luckett, W. M. Hemphill, George H. Cox, L. B. Beazly, B. B. Hall, W. A. Halaminick, John Y. Rust, Houston Harte, Mershel C. Upton, L. B. Horton and W. S. Pickett. Some of these men are directors of other banks in San Angelo, indicating the whole-hearted support accorded the organization program.

FREE MAN HELD AS SUSPECT IN PECOS KILLING

CRANE CITY, Jan. 2.—Held for six days as a suspect in connection with mysterious deaths two years ago of two unidentified women whose bodies were found on the Pecos River, Ed Nickloes has been released from the Crane County jail. Sheriff Bud Blair said Nickloes had been absolved from any connection with the crime.

Nickloes had been arrested upon information furnished the sheriff by oil field workers who asserted the man hung his head when camp conversation turned to the mysterious killings occurring on the Pecos. —Del Rio Evening News.

COMMISSIONERS TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the County Commissioners Court will be held next week. At this time the regular monthly routine of business will be taken care of, such as the paying of bills etc.

The road work for the relief of the unemployed in this section was started this week according to the announcement made by Judge G. J. Henshaw. However, due to the fact that the county has such little money to spend, the work will not last long but will help some Judge Henshaw states.

PRAYER WEEK OBSERVED

The week of prayer was observed this week by the four Protestant churches of the city, began at the Presbyterian church Monday night, with about fifty in attendance. Tuesday night the meeting was held at the Methodist church and Wednesday night at the church of Christ. The last meeting was on Thursday night at the Baptist church.

Capt. W. L. Barler, custom officer was a business visitor in Del Rio Tuesday.

105 YEARS OLD

Grandma Sarah Jane Gillis, who passed her 105th birthday Christmas day, celebrated New Year's by helping herself to a second helping of turkey at the Harris county home for the aged, near Houston, where she lives. "I've been through a lot of hard times," said Grandma Gillis, "and the signs are right for the return of prosperity in 1932. You just watch!"

S. P. Workers Take 10 Per Cent Slice In Their Salary

Seven Forms Of Service In Texas, Louisiana Accept Cut

HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 2.—As a result of negotiations recently concluded with representatives of railroad train dispatchers, yardmasters, supervisory foremen in the mechanical, clerical employes in the general offices, shop crafts, dining car employes and passenger train porters on the Southern Pacific Lines in Texas and Louisiana, these groups have agreed to a 10 per cent reduction in wages, effective, Jan. 1, according to an announcement made by H. M. Lull, executive vice president.

The employes with whom the wage reduction agreement has been reached represent approximately one-half of the personnel of the Southern Pacific Lines in Texas and Louisiana, it was stated. "In our conference with representatives of employes in the various branches of service in which an accord has been reached on this matter, we found them to be very conversant with our present economic problems and difficulties," Mr. Lull said. "They realize that the long continued decline in traffic and resultant decrease in revenues necessitated reduction in expense to meet the situation and the employes in the branches of service where these conferences have been successfully concluded are to be complimented for their loyalty and cooperation."

"Throughout the past year the Southern Pacific has endeavored to carry on its maintenance of way and maintenance of equipment work in such manner as to cause the least possible distress from unemployment," Mr. Lull declared. "This has been accomplished by keeping all principal shops open continuously on a four and five day per week basis, although with somewhat reduced forces, and also by maintaining work continuously for a large part of its maintenance of way personnel by means of spreading the available work among as many employes as possible."

"Through the establishment of a loan fund to which equal contributions were made by employes and the company, approximately $95,000, has been loaned to worthy employes during the past year. This fund, administered by a committee representing the management and the employes, was raised as a means of providing relief for employes of the company temporarily released from service.

"Negotiations for wage reductions are now under way between the President's committee of nine and the labor executives representing employes in railroad service affiliated with the national organizations and a conference has been set for Jan. 14.

Sheriff Lee Cook was a business visitor in Del Rio Tuesday.

HOSPITAL MAY REPLACE ARMY POST AT MARFA

Official Outlines Big Plan If Camp Is Ordered Abandoned

To Aid Veterans

Saving Of Many Millions Is Claimed In Request To Pres. Hoover

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 7. (AP)—Additional hospitalization for World War veterans recommended by American Legion officials to President Hoover can be provided at the army posts to be abandoned at Marfa and Fort Huachuca and Nogales, Ariz., according to the recommendation forwarded by Colonel T. A. Pearce, eight corps area co-ordinator, Fort Sam Houston, to the chief co-ordinator at Washington.

Millions of dollars could be saved for the government and thousands of patients could be cared for immediately after the posts are abandoned without the delay of enacting legislation and erecting huge new hospital plants, he pointed out in his recommendations.

All three posts have permanent buildings, lighting and sewerage systems which render them readily adaptable to conversion into hospitals. The climate, especially at Marfa and Huachuca, is considered ideal for treatment of tubercular patients, he stated.

Sanderson School Gets Membership In Southern Ass'n

The Board of Education of Sanderson Public Schools has just received the following letter from the State Department of Education at Austin: "At the recent meeting of the Southern Association in Montgomery, Alabama, your school was returned to the membership list without adverse comment." Signed: A. M. Blackman, chairman of Texas Committee.

Sanderson was just last year admitted to the Southern Association, and having been returned to the membership list again this year we feel that our school is continuing to progress, for any school which fails to maintain the standards of the Association is removed from the accredited list.

Schools on the Southern list must be in the highest class of schools as listed by the proper authorities of the state. The time for which schools are accredited shall be limited to one year, dating from the time of the adoption of the list by the association. In every case the character of work done by a school must be the determining factor in accrediting. By personal visits of the inspectors, by detailed reports from the superintendent, and by the records made by the students in college, the character of the school's work is determined. The efficiency of instruction, acquired habits of thought and speech, the general intellectual and moral tone of a school are paramount factors; and therefore, only schools which rank well in these particulars, as evidenced by rigid, thoroughgoing, systematic inspection are considered eligible for the list.

J. T. ROBINSON MEMORIAL TO BE PLACED SOON

A bust of J. T. Robinson, late commissioner of the land office at Austin, has been completed by Frank Teich of Llano and soon will be formally placed in the land office building. Recently it has been placed on display at the Witte Museum at San Antonio.

B. M. Halbert, ranchman of the San Angelo section, suggested perpetuation of memory of Robinson through the bust and many other West Texans were the chief supporters of the move.

John Green Jr., left Saturday night for Las Cruces N. M., where he will resume his studies at the A. & M. College.

Five Firemen Hurt In Dallas Fire

Five Dallas firemen were injured in this fire pictured above, when they chose to back away from a falling wall with a hose, rather than drop it and run, because spectators might have been injured if they had. The fire destroyed the Leigh Banana Crate company in South Dallas. The injured men caught under the wall, were W. W. Busby, J. R. Higgins, Captain C. W. Dabney, J. B. Fillingham, and J. E. Whitehead.

Political Calendar For 1932 Prepared By State Secretary

AUSTIN, JAN. 7. (U.P.)—After a review of the changes in election laws and a series of conferences with the attorney general's department, Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of State, has compiled information on the elections of 1932 and a calendar of the days having political significance.

The year will include the presidential election and elections of all State office holders. In addition cognizance should be taken of eight proposed State constitutional amendments to be voted on in November.

In all elections the polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. in all counties having a population of 150,000 or more according to the last Federal census and in all other counties the polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Article 3079C of the State constitution requires names of candidates for president and vice president to be certified to the secretary of State by the chairman and secretary of the State committee of a political party at least 20 days prior to the election.

Names of presidential electors will not appear on ballots for the general elections as heretofore. Instead, names of the candidates for president and vice president of the respective parties will appear and a vote for both president and vice president of particular party will constitute a vote for the presidential electors of that party.

The 1932 voters' calendar follows: Jan. 31—Last day to secure poll tax receipts and certificates of exemption for 1932 voting.

Feb. 8—Election judges appointed by commissioners' courts.

March 10—Last day for tax collectors to make reports to county clerks showing poll tax payments.

April 1—On or before this date tax collectors furnish county election boards with lists of poll tax payers and exemptions.

May 7—Primary (presidential) conventions held in precincts for election of delegates to county conventions.

May 10—County (presidential) conventions held for election of delegates to State (presidential) convention.

May 10—State executive committee of any party which cast as many as 10,000 and fewer than 100,000 votes in next preceding gubernatorial election shall meet and decide whether candidates for State, district and county offices are to be nominated by convention or primary election, and shall certify such decision to secretary of State.

May 24—State (presidential) convention held to name delegates to national convention.

June 6—On or before this date,

POWER FIRM IN RECEIVERSHIP ON $8,000 DEBT

Texas-Louisiana Power Co. And 11 Subsidiaries, Are Involved

Sanderson Affected

Engraving Company Asks Receivership Of Firm

Last Saturday in Fort Worth the Texas-Louisiana Power Company and 11 Texas subsidiaries were placed in the hands of receivers by Federal Judge Wilson of that city. A. P. Barrett, Fort Worth, and Wiley F. Corl, Philadelphia, were appointed the receivers by Judge Wilson.

Clyde Morris, local manager of the company's office in this city, was notified of the receivership Saturday by the Fort Worth office. Just what effect the receivership will have on the local office Mr. Morris does not know.

The receivership was asked by an engraving firm that claimed the power company owed the engravers nearly $8,000.

Three Buildings For Bitterweed Plant Completed

Special Correspondent.

SONORA, Jan. 2.—Three buildings to comprise a laboratory and two residences of the bitterweed unit at the Ranch Experiment Station south of Sonora were finished this week by W. D. Westbrook, San Angelo Contractor. The work is entirely completed with the exception of a small amount of painting.

Very little bitterweed is growing this winter on Sutton County ranches, according to reports from ranchmen.

Usually at this season the weed has acquired considerable growth and is harming livestock. Various theories involving weather conditions, have advanced as reasons for the lack of growth in the weed.

TAX PENALTY REFUND MADE BY COLLECTOR

According to a recent ruling made by the attorney general department in Austin and through notification to the Tax Collectors by Geo. H. Sheppard, State Comptroller of Public Accounts, a refund to the tax payers of penalties and interest paid on delinquent taxes will be made. The refund of the penalty and interest is for 1930 taxes that were delinquent and have been paid since October 1st, 1931. Another ruling handed down is that all 1930 taxes that are paid prior to the close of January 31, 1932 no penalty and interest is to be charged. It is to be hoped that by the refunding of this penalty and interest that it will be a stimulant for those taxpayers who have not paid their 1930 taxes to do so and thus help the county and state both of whom are in direct need of money at this time.

Those taxpayers who have paid their 1930 taxes since October 1st, 1931 and paid the penalty and interest will be given a refund if they will go to the tax collector's office and execute in duplicate a receipt acknowledging a receipt of the refund.

BASKETBALL GAMES

Two basket ball games will be played here Friday night at the high school gymnasium commencing at 7:30 p. m. The first game to be played will be between the boys high school team of Alpine and our high school boys. Immediately following this game our high school girls will play an independent girl's team from Alpine.

Admission to the games will be 20 and 30 cents.

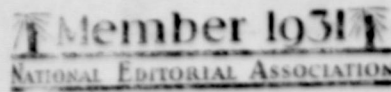

Mrs. Clyde Griffith and son spent several days in Del Rio this week as the guests of Mrs. J. H. Harding.

LOOKING FORWARD

Nineteen-thirty-two may be a crucial year in the history of the United States.

For more than two years we have endured one of the most severe and prolonged general depressions of all time—in company with the other great nations of the world. There is no magic remedy for curing economic ills—how soon our problems will be solved, largely, is up to us, as individuals, and as members of a complicated society.

Nineteen-thirty-two is a "Presidential year." Ordinarily, such an election and the political questions it raises, would loom large on the horizon. But this is not an ordinary period, and local political issues—so far as they attach themselves to men and parties—have become, in the public mind, a very small thing when contrasted with economic and social issues. People who are wondering how to find jobs, are not interested in partisan platforms nor in political backbitings.

The greatest danger of a depression is that we may lose our heads—that a sort of mob hysteria may take the place of reason. We may try to overcome economic law with panaceas. Already many such efforts are being proposed—the new Congress, before it has completed its session, will be swamped with suggestions for relieving the unemployed with gigantic bond issues; for helping the farmer with governmental subsidies and attempts at price-fixation; for helping the small business at the expense of the large one; for helping the poor and those of moderate means by overtaxing the wealthy.

While such proposals may be made in good faith, most of them are based on misconceptions.

Prosperity will return as the result of stimulated employment, stimulated buying, stimulated trade, commerce and building. We cannot produce that by frightening the capital we need. We cannot do it through governmental meddling, which inevitably forces retrenchment and inaction on the business as it touches—and by example, on the entire business structure. The potential destructive forces of politics cannot be measured.

We cannot create prosperity by heaping additional tax burdens on businesses and individuals already struggling under a tremendous tax bill. Relying Peter to pay Paul is not sound economics. All taxes must eventually be paid by the public—business must pass all costs on to those who buy its products or services. For the nation to go further into debt, to appropriate additional millions and billions for temporary and unsound relief schemes, is the height of folly.

Our basic industries have shown a commendable spirit in seeking to solve their problems, which, in reality, are the workers' problems and the consumers' problems. Electricity, insurance, oil, gas, railroads, form organizations—all have shown progressive tendencies. They realize the duty that is upon them to prevent so far as possible, the up-and-down swing of the business chart in the future—the booms that are followed by drops, the inflation that precedes deflation. They are working to stabilize employment, to find a means of assuring the good worker his livelihood at all times, to protect the future of workers when they get beyond their point of usefulness. Business can do this better than government. What the dole has done to England, it would do to a greater degree to the United States for we spend money on a more lavish scale for all things. It could plunge us into debt to the point of bankruptcy and crowd business to the edge of ruin with taxes. The dole shatters self-respect—and, in England, it has apparently helped to aggravate unemployment by discouraging industrial expansion.

There are problems of course, that no nation by itself can hope to solve, problems of international significance. These, too, the pub-

Newspaper editors and managing editors are men of vast patience and skill, and with faithful typewriters mold to their will masses of words so the public may read pleasantly. The wonder is that they do not lose heart in the game they must play incessantly with words.

During the "rush hours" when the presses are whirring angrily and all is pandemonium, their path is apt to become hard indeed, for time is precious and little can be given to the niceties of thought.

I dropped into a newspaper office and passed the time of day with one of these busy editors, who took a few minutes to chat with me.

During our talk he said, "Have you heard the one about the irate butcher and the small boy who whistled outside his shop?"

It seemed that the butcher became thoroughly peeved and at last could stand the whistling no longer. Going outside he said to the youngster, "What are you making that noise for, you little scamp?"

"I have lost my dog," answered the boy.

"Well, shouted the butcher, "do you think I got him."

"I don't know, Mr. Butcher," grinned the kid, "But every time I whistle the sausages in your window wriggle."

UNDER CONSUMPTION

Why talk of over-production when 4,000,000 city families have no tubs.

3,000,000 families have unplumbed homes.

4,000,000 rural families are doing without electricity.

5,000,000 families lack adequate clothing, food and shelter.

13,000,000 families have no telephone.

7,000,000 families have no automobiles.

20,000,000 families have no good radio set.

America is not over-supplied.

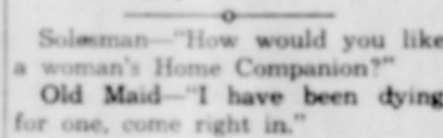

Far from it. We are waiting only for wages and income to make business rushing in every part of the United States so people can buy our so-called surplus.

Salesman—"How would you like a woman's Home Companion?"

Old Maid—"I have been dying for one, come right in."

Miss Phillips: Freddie, can you tell me one of the uses of cow hide.

Freddie: Er, yes, mam. It keeps the cow together.

There is one good thing about the man with trouble on his mind. He never breaks into your office humming selections from a jazz opera.

lic must take an interest in, if we are to have officials capable of representing us in the work of world rehabilitation. Disarmament, the stabilization of silver, the encouragement of international trade, a sound tariff policy for all nations—these may seem abstract things, but they have a direct and important effect on the prosperity of every country, every business, every wage-earner and investor.

To repeat, 1932 will be an outstanding year in our history. It will be a year of great problems. All of our national character, aggressiveness and initiative will be needed to solve them. Courage and faith must displace gloom and fear if the mists of 1930 and 1931 are to rise in 1932.—The Manufacturer and Industrial News Bureau.

THIS AND THAT

By JIMMINY

Here's something to jot down in your memory book: The states of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Western Tennessee, and Mississippi furnish 70 per cent of the cotton crop grown in the United States; and 40 per cent of the world's crop. Cotton is 64 per cent of the entire crop of this region, and occupies more than 35 per cent of its crop lands. Figuratively speaking, that is important.

Think of it! Six and one-half states furnishing nearly half the cotton grown in the world. That's something you can write home about.

But by cutting acreage 50 per cent, as some would have us do, these six and one-half states would raise but one-fifth of the world's cotton. That's something to write your legislator about.

It would mean that half of the 35 per cent of cotton crop lands under cultivation in these states would have to be turned into some other crop or lie idle. And, it must be remembered, mortgages can't be paid off when land is idle.

Speaking of mortgages and that sort of stuff, here is a row of figures to plow through. There are 1,145,737 mortgaged farms in the United States, with an investment valued at $10,306,372,037. Count that on your fingers if you can it's large money. The aggregate mortgage debt on these farms is $4,080,183,433 or 39.6 per cent of the total value. And that, ladies and gentlemen, is quite a few yen in any language.

The U. S. Census Bureau has numbered 6,228,648 farms under cultivation in the United States, representing an investment of $57,246,244,082. Imagine, the farm industry in the United States is worth more than 57 billions of dollars! Quite a few people and a flock of politicians think it's not worth 2 cents. But it's worth saving, politicians to the contrary notwithstanding.

There have been a lot of remedies suggested for farm ailments, but so far none have panned out. Out of it all, one fact remains: one man purchasing a cotton shirt can do more good for the cotton farmers than ten thousand talkers about it.

Some states in the Cotton Belt have sought to "cure" the cotton ailment through legislation. It can't be done. It must be done by organization. Because, as the old soldier would have it: "It ain't the individual or the army as a whole, but the everlasting teamwork of every bloomin' soul."

Sheep, Goats, Wool, Mohair Bring In $15,000,000 Cash For West Texans In Year

Like most of other business men, West Texas sheep and goat ranchmen are looking forward with hope to the new year, glad to see the passing of a period of economic adversity. Although profits were small during 1931, a great deal of cash flowed into the broad ranch country, range conditions are excellent and better times are foreseen just ahead.

Sheep, goats, wool and mohair brought in a conservatively estimated $15,000,000 cash to the range country of West Texas even at the ridiculously low prices of the year.

About 50,000,000 pounds of spring wool was shipped out of Texas, bringing an average of 17 1-2 to 18 cents per pound, or a total of $9,000,000. A total of 3,000,000 pounds of fall wool was shipped, bringing 8 1-2 to 9 cents a pound, for a total of $250,000. Few sheep were shorn in the fall because of poor demand for short wool. Co-operative advances on sheep not shorn were 50 cents a head.

Fall mohair shipped from the area totalled around 9,250,000 pounds, bringing 15 cents for the adult and 35 cents for the kid hair. Most of this cash was in the form of advances from the National Wool Marketing Corporation, Federal Farm Board co-operative, which formed a mohair pool. About 10 per cent of the crop was kid hair, for which $323,750 was received, with $1,233,750, coming from the grow, a total of $1,557,500 for the fall clip.

Spring mohair totalled 7,250,000 pounds, bringing an average of 22 and 33 cents. Prices were lower than in the fall because many broke from the co-operative and placed their mohair on the market at the one time, depressing the price. The spring kid clip brought $24,000 and the adult hair brought $362,500, a total of $386,500.

Around 600,000 head of sheep are estimated by leading ranch and commission men to have moved out of West Texas in the spring for an average price of $3 to $4 a head. This crop of mutton and ewe lambs are estimated to have brought in $27,000,000, figuring the average price at $3.50 a head during the first seven months of 1931.

In the fall of 1931, ranchmen shipped out an estimated million head of sheep to markets, feed lots and as stockers. About 700,000 of these went to feeders for cash at from $2 to $2.75, a head or a total of $1,500,000. Others are being fed by ranchmen themselves and some are on wheat fields. There probably are not as many sheep this year as last year, according to Joe Blakeney, ranchman of San Angelo.

Goats Bring $375,000.
Goats were worth but about $1.50 to $2.50 a head this year, but it is estimated that 250,000 were sold at that figure, for a total of $375,000.

Leading sheep authorities agree that the 1932 lamb crop, which starts appearing in January, will be smaller than in 1931. This probable decrease in lamb production is based on the fact that many of the yearling ewes were not turned in with bucks this year and that a large number of the old ewes will die this winter.

Of the four and a half to five million ewes and ewe lambs in Texas today, about one million are young ewes or ewe lambs, and a million and a half are old ewes. In 1930 not many old ewes were sold out of the country. Those that were sold brought $2 to $4 a head. In 1931 even fewer were sold, and the prices for them today are from $1 to 1.50 a head, with most sales at the lower figure.

Forced Sales Are Few
Young ewes which will bear lambs this spring are bringing from $3.50 to $6 a head now. About 50 per cent less ewe lambs are carried over in Texas this year than are normally carried over during a five-year period.

Local estimates, based on railroad figures, are that there are on feed in Texas now, or have been moved out from the feed lots about 350,000 to 400,000 head of lambs.

The forced sales in West Texas in 1931, due either to drought or foreclosures, have not exceeded 50,000 head of sheep, and most of these have gone to the market.

Texas lamb feeders have not been doing well. The cold, rainy weather during the fall caused some to turn their stock from the pens into oats and wheat fields. These ranchmen say the cost of gain on wheat and oats is about one-fifth of that in the feed lots. Prices paid for running sheep on wheat or oats are 8 to 10 cents per head per month.

Mutton Lamb Prices Rise
The wheat and oat fields are being pretty well filled. The range conditions all over West Texas for sheep and goats are the best of many years. Less sheep will be fed this year than last winter, which was the best winter for sheep that Texas has known for a quarter century.

The tendency on mutton lamb prices is to rise. The sale of 4,000 was made recently at 3 1-2 cents a pound, while ewe lambs are bringing 3 1-2 cents to 4 cents a pound.

Ranch lands have declined in value with the fall in ranch earnings and with the severe decline in the oil business, which had added a new value to these properties. The decline has been perhaps 20 per cent, and is far from being as great as the decline in farm lands.

However, the sheepmen are looking forward with interest, that is perhaps partly inspired by fear, at the increasing numbers of livestock moving back to the farms in other parts of the state.

Goat Men Are Hopeful
At a forced sale in Menard county recently, a four section ranch commanded $14 an acre. This land had sold at one time at $20 an acre. The interest rate of the ranchman is from 8 to 10 per cent today. The goat men of West Texas, who are sitting in fine ranch homes built with the spoils of a prosperity which was ended in 1928, are looking upon the best range conditions they have known in many years which is making the cost of carrying their goats through the winter small indeed.

Scanning the market reports, the goat men see that the demand for mohair the chief product of the goat range, is on the upgrade, though there is a big carryover from this year, most of which is resting with the National Wool Marketing Corporation.

The goat men cannot believe that the affairs of the world have so shaped themselves that this queen of animal fibres has been obscured permanently from the sunlight of textile demand.

Every man of them expects to get the glad news some day that mohair again has taken one of its dramatic price upsurges which have characterized its past history.

Few Made Money
The goat men made little money this year. They raise an expensive fibre that does not fit with the economic readjustment now in progress.

However, only 10 per cent of them today make their living entirely from their flocks. The last few months has seen the purchase of thousands of old goats, which have moved to packing plants at one cent a pound, the cheapest meat in the nation today.

The goat in good times is a prime speculative favorite, but during the current year there has been practically no trading at all. Mixed kid goats are bringing a dollar a head. Nannies are going at from $2 to $2.50 a head. Old muttons are worth from $1 to $1.50 a head.

The kid crop next spring more than likely will be much smaller than it was in 1931, for in the areas where goats are run in large num-

The old story of how terracing improves yields is found again in the experience of Roy Easley of Bremond, Robertson county, who gathered 1 1-2 bales of cotton this fall from three worn-out acres terraced two years ago.

Ed Richter, Nueces county 4-H club boy has crashed the feed market by selling 20-cent corn to 14 hogs for $1.18 per bushel, and 50-cents-a-hundred maize for $1 per hundred.

Undismayed by low egg prices, two Howard county poultry demonstrators have carved out profits of $2.28 per hen above feed cost for the year ending October 31st. They did it by cutting production costs 40 per cent and increasing production 12 per cent through close culling, and feeding home-mixed mash and skim milk. It cost them $1.03 to feed a pullet a year and 7 cents per dozen for the feed to produce one dozen eggs.

By spending $4.25 an acre for fertilizer, Edgar Cruse of Colmesneil, Tyler county, got 45 bushels and 40 pounds more per acre than he would have without fertilization, a demonstration reported by the county agent shows. A yield of 75 bushels and 50 pounds per acre was made on land well-filled with humus from a crop of cowpeas turned under, and fertilized with 100 pounds of acid phosphate and 150 pounds nitrate of soda.

Sending a boy to college on egg money is the accomplishment of Mrs. J. W. Johnson, poultry flock demonstrator in the Live Oak Home Demonstration Club in Coleman county.

A saving of $32 on clothing last year due to making her own garments by help of a foundation pattern and dress form is reported by Mrs. O. C. Humphries, Nueces county home demonstration club member.

Mrs. Helen Coyle and children left Monday morning for their home in Decatur, Ill., after a week's visit with Mrs. R. H. Lewellen and family.

bers there has been a large death toll, thinning the ranks of the goats by a fair percentage. This will be a bullish factor in the goat market during 1932, it is believed.—San Angelo Standard-Times.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT WRITES INTERESTING THEME

The following article is a theme written by Flora Wyatt, a member of the Junior Class of the Sanderson High School. The Title of the theme is, "What My School Means to Me."

In thinking over what my school means to me I feel that I am helped mentally, socially, and physically. Thus my school better fits me for life, both present and future.

The training I receive in school will help me to meet and solve life's problems. I also learn of what has happened in the past and am better fitted to face what may happen in the future. Through the school I learn of the world and its people. This inspires me to want to travel and enjoy the many wonders to be seen in many places.

From the social standpoint my school affords me much pleasure. Through the association with my class-mates and teachers, my view of life is broadened, and my social standards raised. Being a member of the Junior Class means that I may enjoy many class socials and gatherings. This makes school life more pleasant. Recreation is the greatest common bond in any group.

I am sure that the physical training I get in school will give me a stronger, healthier body. Exercise causes the muscles to grow stronger and the blood to flow faster, thereby helping to cleanse the body of impurities. Through our games I learn to regard the rights of others; to be a true sportsman; and to realize that "It is harder to be a good loser than a good winner."

We are all making plans for the future. I am sure that the lessons I am learning each day will help me to realize these plans. A successful life is the result of thoughtful, courageous effort. Realizing this gives me courage to do my best each day in school. My school training means to me that some time, if necessary, I will be able to work and not be dependent upon others. And last, but not least, in importance is that my school life will fit me to be a better and more useful citizen.

Mrs. T. Maxey Hart and son returned to their home in San Antonio Monday evening following a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McKee and sister, Mrs. W. H. Savage.

BREVITIES

The Houston Post-Dispatch, whose influence consistently has been exerted in behalf of the present administration, editorially urged Attorney General Ailred to dispose speedily of his action against the oil industry of the state. It did not criticize the young official's motives, but it did point out he dire consequence—to the people—of the uncertainty that has been projected into the petroleum world. It urged conferences and conciliation and an agreed and equitable termination of the suit. It spoke in a voice to which the attorney general should give ear.

Congressman Joseph J. Mansfield, by virtue of Democratic organization of the House has become chairman of the powerful committee on Rivers and Harbors. As a member of this committee he has been largely instrumental in building Texas' splendid system of ports and waterways. He has been the friend, indiscriminately, of every Texas port. Now as chairman of the body on which he served with so much credit to himself and Texas, his opportunities are enlarged and increased. Texas' friend at the Court of Rivers and Harbors has become the King himself.

Buy across the Counter

WHEN you buy across the counter in the stores of this town, you are using good business judgment. Why? There are many reasons, but one of the most important is this:

You can buy what you want at the price you wish to pay! You are not obliged to accept "something just as good," because you are in a position to compare values and make your own selections.

When you trade at home you are helping your friends to help you! And there is no finer thing in life than neighborly co-operation. It always pays—in happiness and satisfaction as well as dollars and cents.
