West-Pyle Cattle Ranch, Texas' Second Largest, In 2-Million Dollar Suit

Motion to dissolve the receivership of the West-Pyle Cattle Company one of the largest cattle companies in the state is to be heard in Judge Joe Montague's 112th district court at Fort Stockton Saturday. H. L. Winfield, former county and district clerk of Pecos County and president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, and one of the richest men in the state. The partnership, according to the petition filed by Judge James Cornell and Robert Hughes, of this city was formed on January 27, 1925 when Pyle and West each placed a similar amount of money into the business.

The gigantic ranch of 330,000 acres running 8,000 head of cattle, 300 bulls, 6,000 calves, 400 horses and owning about 5000 steers and heifers now on grass in Kansas and valued at $2,150,000 in the plaintiffs petition. The suit asks that the partnership be ended legally, that an accounting be had and a partition of the properties be made. The ranch lies in Pecos, Brewster, Culberson and Hudspeeth counties and is in the famous Highland Hereford country. The headquarters is near Lobo where there is a handsome stone residence. It replaces another home which tumbled in the earthquake of last year. The ranch is divided into small pastures, has numerous water wells and brands its stock with a P Bar on the lower part of the left hind leg.

T. M. Pyle is joined in the suit by his sons, Forest B. Pyle and Horace T. Pyle who are associated with him in the conduct of the ranch. The suit sets forth that the partnership was dissolved January 19, 1932, says that J. M. West has abused the Pyles, says that he has threatened to dispossess Pyle from the ranches and says that as the financial agent for the ranch, West has made it impossible for the ranch to get credit for operations, even groceries. It further states that the ranch today owes about $6,000 for current expenses for the months of January, February, March and April, and that it requires from $1,000 to $2,000 a month to operate it. It is further stated that West has refused to pay pasturage charge for cattle and that he would not advance money for shipment of cattle to northern grass, that the West Securities Company to which the ranch owes several hundred thousand dollars has threatened foreclosure and that Mr. West is the major stock holder in that company. Under the terms of the partnership, said the petition, Mr. West was to look after the financial part of the ranch while Mr. Pyle was to buy and sell and run the cattle on the range. He was to get $200 a month and each of his sons $100 a month, it is contended further.

The ranch is the second largest ranch in Texas. The largest is the King Ranch in South Texas.

T. M. Pyle is an old-timer. He was born in Blanco County, in the ranch country, in 1869. In 1885 he went up the trail with the John T. Lytle outfit and in 1890 he went to Carrendon where he established a ranch. In 1914 he sold his holdings and moved to Pecos County. He has two sons, F. B. (Buck) Pyle and H. T. Pyle.—San Angelo Morning Times.

DEL RIO NAT'L ADVANCES DATE FOR PAYMENTS

First Installment To Be Made One Month Ahead of Time

The directors of the Del Rio National Bank authorize Ross Stafford, vice president, to make the following announcement:

"When the Del Rio National Bank purchased the assets of the First National Bank and assumed its liabilities, it issued to the depositors of the First National Bank certificates of deposit payable in four installments, the first of which matures on July 1. By careful management and strict economy the bank is now in position to meet the July 1 maturity. It realizes that a great number of these certificate holders are in real need of the money represented by the certificates and it affords the Del Rio National Bank real pleasure to announce that the holders of the certificates due July 1, 1932, need not wait until that date for their money, but by presenting them to the bank at any time after June 1, 1932, the same will be promptly paid."

The bank is exerting every effort to serve its customers and the community efficiently and solicits the continued co-operation of its patrons.—Del Rio Evening News.

Buses To Carry West Bound Mail On New Schedule

With the resumption of operation of the Scenic Border Motor Coaches which began on Wednesday of this week, all towns west of Del Rio were given a new mail service. Since the discontinuance of the passenger trains this past month by the Southern Pacific mail service into this city and, other points, west have been delayed at least twenty four hours.

Buses carrying mail west will arrive here at 10:25 a. m. and leave a few minutes later for El Paso and points west. East bound bus arrives here at 11:15 a. m. and departs at 11:30 a. m. for Del Rio arriving at 3:30 p. m.

Wednesday buses arriving carried nothing more than the daily papers and it will probably be three weeks or more before the mail will be brought in.

This bus mail service is in addition to the regular railway service of one train each way daily.

Mrs. Ed Downie and sons accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Walter Gregory came in Wednesday afternoon from their home in San Antonio to spend the vacation period on the Downie ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick Harrell returned home Monday night from a weeks pleasure trip which carried them through the Carlsbad Caverns, Grand Canyon, Nogales, Arizona, and El Paso, Texas.

Charcoal Car Burns On Track In Yards

Fire threatened several cars of a Southern Pacific freight train here in the yards late last Thursday afternoon.

One car, loaded with charcoal, was destroyed. It was believed spontaneous combustion in the charcoal cargo started the blaze, which spread rapidly.

Adjoining cars were not damaged as trainmen noticed the smoke in time to switch the blazing car onto a siding.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton White left last Friday for San Antonio where Mr. White was placed in the Santa Rosa Hospital. He underwent an operation for appendicitis that afternoon. Last reports from his bedside are that he is doing nicely.

Engineer S. E. Peterson, wife and daughter have returned from an extended visit to Los Angeles, Grand Canyon, Las Vegas, N. M., and other points of interest, making the trip by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cook and children were visitors in Del Rio Tuesday.

Commencement exercises were held at the High School auditorium last Thursday evening, the largest class in the history of the school graduating.

With Bess McAdams at the piano, the processional was led to the stage by the members of the senior class followed by the board of trustees, the faculty members, and the speakers on the program.

The invocation was offered by H. C. Goldwire, followed by the chorus, "Welcome, Pretty Primrose," sung by the girls glee club.

Supt. B. J. Brannan, then in a few well chosen words introduced the speaker of the evening, Judge Brian Montague, of Del Rio, who addressed the class.

"The challenge is thrown down to you," the speaker declared. "It is your misfortune to embark on your careers at a time when the world is out of adjustment, when life and liberty are insecure. The institution of government is being toppled over daily; the rule of the gang has been substituted for the arm of police protection and disregard has been substituted for authority. There is stagnation in industrial lines; ships are tied at the wharves; field and farm are overstocked and the markets of the world are glutted.

"The first thought of each of you should be for a higher education, not that a degree signifies an educated man, but to you who are denied the opportunity, the challenge is peculiarly addressed. You enter the field of life where all available positions are already filled, but there is no need for discouragement. It is true that 'sweet are the uses of adversity,' and it is a living truth that those things easily obtained are of little value. Things full of meaning are the things acquired through effort and earnest endeavor. The most important truth is that under the crucible of adversity burns the fire to mold character of stronger manhood and womanhood."

Breast Adversity
Mr. Montague touched on the effect adversity had on George Washington at Valley Forge, and on the defenders of the Alamo. The tribute paid Lee on his surrender to the Federal forces was cited as an example of recognition of true greatness.

"Emulate these great ones and success is yours. Whether you scale the pinnacle of fame or number one of the lowly workers of the field, have the courage to do and follow the right and success is yours. With your parents and friends I gladly join in expressing the wish that the years to come will be replete with health, happiness and prosperity," Mr. Montague declared.

Following Mr. Montague's address, W. H. Savage, a member of the school board, then presented certificates to those members of the elementary school who completed their work and to the graduates. The response to the presentation to the graduates was made by H. D. Johnson, an honor student of the class. S. E. Nelson presented scholarships to H. D. Johnson as Valedictorian and to Miss Mattieue Newton as salutatorian. These scholarships admitting these two into any college in the Southern Association of Colleges. Miss Corinne Fox also presented an award of $5 to H. D. Johnson for making the highest average in the whole school. This

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK

Character training is chiefly achieved through the reconstruction of emotional life. Emotions are not summonable by the teacher, as are the intellectual processes. Any disciplinary situation is a rich emotional situation. Direct instruction in morals is often futile for the emotions to be reconstructed are absent at that moment.—Henry Suzzallo.

DRYING UP THE SPRINGS OF EMPLOYMENT

In discussing the question of how taxes bear down on the business man, the San Francisco Chronicle recently conducted an investigation which showed that while the average person does not know what relation his taxes bear to his net income, carefully managed business concerns know to a penny what tax load they are carrying.

A San Francisco merchandising house in 1931 paid 63 per cent of its net income in taxes. A large farmer paid 30 per cent, and on some of his land which produced an income of $5 an acre, he paid $25 an acre in taxes. Another nationally known farming concern in the state paid 84-1-2 per cent of its net income in taxes, with an outlook for no net income this year but with taxes just as high.

The Chronicle says these are not extreme cases and then cites an insurance company which paid between 35 and 40 per cent, one of the big oil companies paid 30 per cent and a big butter and egg man dug up 32 per cent of his net earnings.

Anyone who imagines that soaking an industry from 20 to 80 per cent of its net income in taxes, doesn't soak the laboring man, should think again. Such taxation simply means fewer jobs, for it dries up the sources of revenue which create employment.—Industrial News Review.

HOW TO BRING BACK GOOD TIMES

Nothing could do more to bring back good times than assurance of a decrease in taxes during the next few years.

Every effort should be made to increase governmental efficiency, eliminate waste and duplication of effort and do away with the bureau and commissions that milk the taxpayer dry. Doing this would not damage the functions of government—it would greatly improve them.

High taxes have throttled industrial development in England. They have done the same thing in Germany, in Austria, in Australia and elsewhere. They are doing the same thing here. High taxes make and prolong unemployment, cause hoarding of capital and frighten investors. In short, their whole influence is toward the prolongation of depression.—Industrial News Review.

Ray Miller, game warden from Fort Stockton, was a business visitor in the city several days this week.

THIS AND THAT

By JIMMINY

Oil is back to a dollar a barrel in the mid-continent field now, and if events of the past few months indicate anything, the price of a gallon of gasoline will reach a dollar before the Christmas holidays. It begins to look like the oil companies are going to stabilize the price of a barrel of crude oil and a gallon of gas at one dollar each. The big boys apparently want to make the rest of us believe that gasoline and oil is more important than grits and gravy.

Of course, no industry can endure without profits—nobody expects them to. But, by Jimminy, there's no sense in one industry trying to hog all the profits. Let's prorate—that's what the oil companies were crying for not so long ago.

The oil companies claim they have been doing most of their bookkeeping on the red side of the ledger for a year or so and are just trying to get back on their feet. They are not to be blamed for that, but it doesn't look just exactly right for them to put every body else on their feet, too, literally speaking. And the way these big companies operate, it's next to impossible to try to "jew" one of them down a cent or two. When one announces a price change, the rest of them fall over each other in the rush to meet the price—just like they didn't know it was coming.

It may be that we would all be better off if all industries operated that way, the writer doesn't know—Jimminy Allred might.

The secretary of a South Texas printers' association, observing the mounting gasoline prices, was hit with a happy idea, following announcement of the latest increase. He took a news item, doctored it up a little, and here's what he got: LOCAL PRINTING PRICES HIKE Six Major Companies Boost Letter Heads to $8.25

"For the second time in the past month prices of letter heads in Houston were increased Tuesday when Magnolia Printing Company initiated an increase of 50 cents per 1000, and Texas Printing Company, Gulf Printing Company, Sinclair Printing Company, Consolidated Printing Company met the raise, Humble Printing Company will meet the increase Wednesday, it was announced by officials."

Printers and a lot of other business men don't do those kind of things, of course, but the possibilities are there just the same. What's "sauce" for the oil companies, may be "gravy" for the little fellow.

Ira Yates Takes First Plane Ride Rushing To Wife

It took an emergency, the illness of his wife at Dallas, to get Ira G. Yates in an airplane and a landing at night at Hillsboro to await passage of a storm added to his worries before reaching Dallas eight and one-half hours after a message that Mrs. Yates had suffered a heart attack reached him at McAllen, he related here Saturday.

The wealthy ranchman and son, Louis Yates, had left San Antonio by automobile at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, May 14, for the lower Rio Grande valley. Mrs. Yates was stricken while in a store at Dallas at 2 o'clock that afternoon but her husband and son could not be located until they reached a hotel in McAllen. It was 7:30. They telephoned the Gunter hotel in San Antonio to have a safe plane and trustworthy pilot ready at midnight and Louis Yates drove the 272 miles in a little less than four and one-half hours, and his father entering the Gunter at one minute to 12.

The plane trip to Dallas was expected to require only about an hour and a quarter but bad flying weather developed near Hillsboro and the plane landed there until the storm had passed. Dallas was reached at 4 a. m. Mrs. Yates was found to be better and her condition has continued to improve. Mr. Yates came up from San Antonio on a bus Thursday night and left on the train last night for Dallas, where Mrs. Yates still is in the Rushing clinic.

"I was too worried to pay much attention to the airplane trip, but it was all right, though a bit bumpy," said Mr. Yates. Asked if he intended to buy a ship later, Mr. Yates said he would stick to land travel.—San Angelo Standard Times.

the water in the heart of the north beach playground, and one of the city's first class hotels located just across the beach from the pavilion, affording committee room facilities near the convention hall, Commander Karp states it affords one of the most comfortable and unique convention halls he has seen in Texas.

"It is my opinion" stated Adjutant Whitaker, "that the Corpus Christi convention will be one of the largest attended we have ever had" because of the opportunity Corpus Christi offers the summer visitor to take advantage of an economical vacation in the many splendid tourists camps and hotels, it is my belief many of the delegates to the convention will bring their families for the pleasures of swimming, fishing, boat riding, etc., while they attend the convention sessions. The Corpus Christi boys are working enthusiastically on their convention plans and have the wholehearted support of their business leaders."

Mrs. Van Stewart was highly elated over the splendid manner in which the Corpus Christi Auxiliary committees have mapped their plans and stated she was positive the numerous boat rides and other entertainment features to be given convention delegates will cause a large attendance of Auxiliary members.

Bathing Suits Are Bright, Abbreviated

Brevity is the key-note in swimming suits this season. The designers have gone as far as they dare to give us a suit that affords a sensation not unlike that enjoyed in the "old swimming-hole." The almost back-to-nature suits are designed for real comfort and ease in swimming as well as beauty in their attractive lines and weaves. Rough wools, diagonal weaves, all play important parts in the make up of our new suits. Gone is the old loose unfitted suit and presto, in its place snug, backless, daring but oh so comfortable, suit.

The brassiere model will be extremely popular with those who desire real freedom in swimming. It is a suit of two separate pieces, brassiere and trunks. Because of the separate pieces there is no pulling between the shoulders and the hips—this being an exceptionally attractive feature for swimming ease. A model in one instance is of burnt orange. The trunks have a military stripe down the sides, a snug-fitting waistline and a tiny buttoned pocket for the keys.

For the most modest young lady is a striking one-piece suit with basque stripes for the top and sash and a solid color for the trunks. This suit has a deep square-cut back.

Another popular model is the backless suit. This has straps coming together at the waistline in the back. These straps button at the waistline, so that when desirous of a tan, one may unbutton the straps leaving the whole back exposed for a noce, even tan, which is necessary when wearing an evening dress.

Bright colors will reign supreme at the beaches this summer. Various shades of red, orange, green, blue and yellow will dominate; although, of course, we will still see many navy blues and blacks, these being good taste always.

THE STARS AND THE EARTH

By DR. MARS

Horoscopes Questions and Answers The Future

Readers of the Sanderson Times will be given the opportunity to ask Dr. Mars, noted Texas astrologist, questions and receive the answer, through the columns of this paper, as a special courtesy to subscribers and readers.

A few rules are herewith set out for the observance and guidance of readers of the Sanderson Times.

Only one question may be asked and no more. Make question as short as you can and sign any name, or initial you please for identification. This will be answered in a later issue of the Times. Write a short letter of explanation and give your own name and address. Under no circumstances will Dr. Mars divulge the contents of your letter, and all letters will be destroyed after being read. In the thousands of questions he has answered in the past he has never revealed the secret of a single person, and he will not betray your confidence.

How to Ask a Question

It makes no matter what else should know how to do that, but many do not know how to do it to get the best results. The question must be a definite one, for instance:

Will it pay to buy this business? You have explained in your brief letter that you are offered a certain store for a certain price, and you think it a good investment.

Will I marry this man? You have explained that you have been keeping company for so long, and you think you would accept him if he proposed.

Will it pay me to hold my products for a higher price? You have stated that you think it will. Please note in this case you must give your own opinion, and also the reasons for same. If you have reasons for thinking it will not pay to hold, decide in your own mind before you write what you think best to do. State that and ask if you are right. If you decide the price is about as high as it is likely to get, and you had better sell now, state it that way and ask:

Shall I sell my products now? Will I be elected to office? State what office you are running for in your letter of explanation. If you can give the time when you had the nomination tendered you, you may depend on the answer. But even without that you may expect the answer to be reliable if you are really sincere in the query.

Now, to answer a question that will occur to many: Is it necessary to believe in astrology to get an answer. Not at all. But you must believe in yourself and your question. It makes no matter what else you believe, or disbelieve. But to get a truthful answer, you must propound a question that is of real interest to yourself.

If readers of the Times will follow these suggestions in asking questions it will prove beneficial both to themselves and to Dr. Mars.

Dr. Mars, noted astrologist, will make readings and answer a limited number of questions FREE for readers of the Sanderson Times. The answers will be published from time to time.

Write him a letter, explaining fully the problem that is uppermost in your mind, sign your correct name (which is not for publication) and key your letter by signing initials or figures for identification. The answers will appear in the Times as fast as they can be handled under no circumstances will Dr. Mars divulge the contents of your letter, and all letters will be destroyed after being read.

Remember, confine your letter to only one question, and address it to Dr. Mars, Box 123 Del Rio, Texas, or in care of this newspaper. In the thousands of questions he has answered in the past he has never divulged the secret of a single person, and he will not betray your confidence.
