MUCH PROGRESS BEING MADE IN SCHOOL WORK

Classes Organized; Enrollment Shows Increase Over Last Year

Much Progress has been shown in the Public Schools since their opening on the 12th of this month. The pupils have settled down to work and interest is being shown in the school. There is an increase in the enrollment over last year.

The following news indicate the activities that has taken place at the school this week:

Chapel Program

Mr. Harry McAdams and Mr. Stump Duke led the High School assembly in an informal sing-song program at the chapel period on Wednesday.

They also sang several solos and duets, which the assembly enjoyed very much.

Miss Mildred Williams and Mr. Duke sang an impromptu duet and Mr. Duke entertained the audience with some clever dramatic skits.

Enrollment

There are 155 pupils enrolled in the grammar school and 110 pupils enrolled in the high school for the school term. This is a slight increase over the enrollment of last year.

Class Meetings

All the classes met last week and elected room mothers and sponsors for the school year. Those elected were:

First Grade: Room Mother, Mrs. Clyde Harrell; Sponsor, Mrs. Parker.

Second Grade: Room Mother, Mrs. C. C. Chambers; Sponsor, Mrs. Nelson.

Third Grade: Room Mother, Mrs. Joe Kerr; Sponsor, Miss Noble.

Fourth Grade: Room Mother, Mrs. E. W. Hardgrave; Sponsor, Miss Martin.

Brooks Field Plane Crashes In Big Bend At Johnson Ranch

An airplane from Brooks Field was wrecked in a crash which occurred at the Elmo Johnson ranch in the Big Bend country Friday morning, according to word reaching here Monday.

No details of the accident were available but it was stated that neither the pilot, Lieut. W. L. Kennedy nor Private T. J. Davis, passenger, was injured in the crash.

They were on a long distance radio mission at the time of the accident.

BODY OF OZONA CITIZEN FOUND AFTER 2 DAYS

Say Allen Robertson Was Bucked Off Cliff By Horse

OZONA, Texas, Sept. 26.—The body of Allen Robertson, 34, prominent ranchman, was found at the foot of a cliff Sunday morning after he had been missing from his home since Saturday.

V. R. Pierce, another ranchman, who headed a search party for Robertson, said that it appeared as though Robertson's horse had started to buck at the top of the sloping cliff and had bucked all the way down. The horse was found entangled in a pile of brush near the body of its master.

In view of the fact that the horse was unsaddled when found, it was believed that the saddle had come off and thrown Robertson and that he was dragged until fatally injured. That he did not die at once was evidenced by efforts to bandage his wounds.

Robertson is survived by his widow, Mrs. Maylan Robertson, and an infant daughter. He was a native of Ozona and was an athletic star at Texas A. and M. College several years ago.

It was with regret that the many friends in this city learned on Monday of the death of Allen Robertson. He was a frequent visitor in this city and was well known and liked. His wife was the former Miss Maylan Couch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Couch, who formerly made their home here before moving to Ozona where they now live.

Funeral services for Mr. Robertson was held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Ozona.

NEPN Inaugural Broadcast Set For October 2

EAGLE PASS, Sept. 24.—If construction continues at the present rate, Station NEPN will be ready to broadcast its inaugural program at noon, October 2. C. M. Bres, Piedras Negras financier and part owner of the station said today. The 3-hour opening exercise which is short in comparison with the two and three-day programs put on by other border stations, will contain speeches by Piedras Negras and Eagle Pass officials as well as songs and instrument numbers by local artistic talent.

Through the Eagle Pass Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Bres and W. E. Branch have invited Governor R. S. Sterling to be present Sunday. While it is not expected he will be able to attend, arrangements are proceeding nevertheless to accord him a place on the program along with Governor Ortiz Garza of Coahuila. Mr. Bres is almost certain that Governor Garza will be present, with members of his staff and representatives from the Legislature. Others invited are: Gen. Manuel Perez Trevino, head of the Revolutionary Party of Mexico, and Texas Representative Turney Terrell and A. P. Johnson.

Mrs. H. K. Peters of Sabinal arrived last Friday for a visit with her father, A. Tyler and sister Mrs. O. H. McAdams.

Marathon Ranchman 83 Years Of Age Is Amazed When He Sees Picture Show

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 24.—"What in — will they be doing next?" asked Hubert Wiggell, 83-year-old ranchman from the Rio Grande section, when he saw his first moving picture show in San Angelo last night.

Back in San Angelo for the first time since 1870, the bearded cowboy was inquiring of bystanders, "What's going on in there? Are the actors real?" when L. D. Bowen, of the theatre management, in-

BRIDGE WORKER BREAKS ANKLE IN ACCIDENT

Accidently Falls Off Bridge Being Repaired Near Here

T. C. Adams, Del Rio, an employee of the J. C. Hunt Bridge Crew of the T. & N. O. Railway, accidently fell from the top of a bridge about six miles east of this city Wednesday night, breaking the ankle of his right foot.

Adams was a member of the crew that was repairing the bridge which was recently washed out, when in some manner he lost his balance and fell.

The injured man was brought to town and his injuries were dressed by Dr. Utterback. His injuries will keep him from work for several weeks.

Post Office At Longfellow To Be Discontinued

The Post Office at Longfellow will be discontinued on October 15, 1932, according to a notice received on Monday of this week by Postmaster Lee R. Grigsby from First Assistant Postmaster General, Arch Coleman.

Those who are receiving their mail at Longfellow will after that date get their mail at the local Post Office.

Mrs. Max Harrell and son who have been visiting her mother returned Monday to their home in El Paso.

W. E. Lea is in Houston this week having gone to the S. P. Hospital for treatment for an injured knee.

Miss Ella Savage, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Savage for the past several weeks, returned to her home in El Paso Wednesday.

Charlie Rogers was a business visitor in San Angelo the first of the week.

AUTO TRAFFIC AGAIN STOPPED BY HEAVY RAIN

Recent Construction Work Damaged By New Floods

Heavy rains which have been falling here continuously since Tuesday night brought creeks to flood levels and again has tied up both rail and highway traffic.

Heavy rains last Friday afternoon in the vicinity of Del Rio brought Devils River down on another rise and caused the temporary bridge across that stream to be washed out halting highway traffic. Most all day Saturday the temporary railroad bridge over Devils River was threatened to be washed away again and nineteen cars of gravel were switched onto the bridge as a precaution to keep the structure from being carried away.

It has been raining here continuously since early Tuesday evening and the Sanderson canyon has been running steadily since early Wednesday afternoon. Two railroad bridges one just a little beyond the edge of town and the other about 5 miles east of town, were washed out and rail traffic from the east is again interrupted. The Maxon Bridge on the railroad was also washed out tying up train service from the West for several hours. Eastbound Passenger train No. 2 arrived here about ten o'clock while the Westbound passenger train No. 1 was tied up at Dryden all day Thursday.

Since last Friday a total of 4.31 inches of rain fell with 3.41 inches of that amount falling Tuesday night, Wednesday, Wednesday night and up to 7 o'clock Thursday morning. The total rainfall for the month of September up to Thursday morning amounts to 9.63 inches.

Reports reaching from the ranches and nearby towns are to the effect that rains have been heavy, but very little loss of livestock or property damage has been done.

Considerable drop in temperature was felt Thursday afternoon when a cold norther blew up.

Methodist Begin Two-Week Revival Meeting Sunday

Rev. D. T. McMahon D. D. of San Antonio will arrive in Sanderson on the midnight train Saturday and will assist the local pastor, Rev. B. M. Stradley in a two-weeks revival meeting at the Methodist Church which will begin Sunday October 2 and will last through Sunday October 16.

Dr. McMahon will hold a childrens service at the Church every afternoon from 4:15 to 5; a young peoples Prayer service every evening from 7:15 to 7:45 p. m. and will lead the singing at both the morning and evening services at the two-weeks meeting.

Rev. B. M. Stradley, pastor of the local Methodist Church, will lead a Bible study each morning from 10 to 11 and will preach each evening at 7:45.

All are cordially invited to attend all or as many of these services as they can.

P. T. A. TO HOLD FIRST MEETING ON THURSDAY OCT. 6

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold their first regular meeting of the year when on next Thursday afternoon they will meet at the High School Auditorium at 4 o'clock according to an announcement made this week by Mrs. A. P. Utterback, the president.

All parents, who have pupils in school are urged to attend this first meeting and to become an active member of the Association.

The Association has adopted a worthwhile program for their years work and will need the help of the entire community to carry on the good work they are doing for our students and schools.

TO ESTABLISH OBSERVATORY IN DAVIS MTS.

Yerkes Experts Find Night Conditions Ideal On Isolated Peak

FORT DAVIS, Tex. Sept. 26. (AP)—Establishment in the Davis Mountains of the McDonald Astronomical Observatory is probable, according to a letter received from Dr. C. E. Elvey of Chicago. Dr. Elvey and T. C. Mehlin spent part of the summer in the Davis Mountains and other parts of Texas taking atmosphere tests to determine the best place in Texas to locate the observatory.

Dr. Elvey made a report to Dr. Struve of the Yerkes Observatory which is a branch of Chicago University, in Wisconsin. Dr. Elvey enclosed a report in his letter which Dr. Struve made to other observatory officials. It said in part:

"The results of Dr. Elvey's tests this summer are now being discussed, but it seems probable that with the approval of the regents of the University of Texas the new McDonald Observatory will be located on a peak in the Davis Mountains.

"Conditions of seeing in these mountains are unsurpassed," Dr. Elvey reported. "The percentage of clear night sky is three times greater in the Davis range than at Yerkes."

Dr. Elvey soon is to return for further observations in the Davis Mountains on the summit of Black, or Spring Mountain, several miles from the Fowlkes Ranch House. It is one of the highest peaks in the Davis range. From its summit may be seen the rim of the State of Chihuahua, Mexico and 19 Texas counties.

The telescope of the McDonald Observatory will be the most powerful in the world in some respects, according to Dr. Elvey. The concave mirror will be 80-inch aperture, while the one at Mount Wilson is 100 inches, and the Yerkes Observatory 60 inches.

If the observatory is established on Spring Mountain it will be only four miles from the scenic highway the State is now building.

A force of five men will be maintained at the observatory at all times, Dr. Elvey stated in his letter. These will include an assistant director and two assistant observers, an engineer and a janitor.

Baptist To Hold State Convention November 9 To 16

The Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas meeting in Dallas, September 13, voted to change the date for the meeting of the Baptist Convention from November 9 to November 16. The Convention voted last year to meet in Abilene in 1932.

Plans were completed for the raising of $600,000 for missions and benevolences by means of the Every member Canvass Campaign now in progress among the 490,000 Baptists of Texas. Dr. J. Howard Williams Executive Secretary of the Board was placed in charge of the campaign, and he has appointed seventeen organizers in as many districts representing every portion of Texas.

The campaign will continue until October 30. The final week, October 23-30, is designated as pledge week, at which time every Baptist in the state will be solicited for a pledge to the $600,000 fund.

The money raised by this campaign is to be used by the Baptists for their work of missions and benevolences; every Baptist institution is to share in the funds, whether it is in Texas, in China or elsewhere. The proportion of the funds to go to each institution will be worked out at the meeting of the State Convention to be held in Abilene November 16.

Fireman M. I. Taylor made a trip down from El Paso on passenger Tuesday.

Every governmental official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent. This is a fundamental principal of democratic government.

WE CAN UNITE ON THIS

At Least one act of the State Democratic Convention at Lubbock deserves universal commendation. It adopted a resolution endorsing the proposed amendment to the State Constitution authorizing State participation in a formal celebration of the Centennial of Texas independence in 1936, which will be voted on at the November election.

Texas is receiving a lot of questionable advertising right now because of the gubernatorial squabble. But really it is not likely to do us any permanent injury. In the long run it will all be ironed out, and long before the Centennial year we shall have forgotten it, and our neighbors of other States will have forgotten it also.

So while the air is surcharged with feeling over the election, let us keep the Centennial Amendment in mind. Whatever else happens in November, let us make certain that it is adopted by an overwhelming vote.—Texas Weekly.

PUBLISHING THE BUDGET

We were recently asked by one of our citizens, a tax payer and a former County Official, why we did not publish the County Budget as required by law? Our answer to him was that the Commissioners and those responsible for the publishing of the budget did not give it to us to publish and we suppose they were not publishing it for the same reason that they gave for not having the County Treasurer Quarterly report published—the cost too prohibitive.

Well we have looked us the law now and studied law books until the Editor believes that she can almost pass the bar examination to be a lawyer and finds that she is not getting anywhere. What good does it do for me to read upon the Law when those officials who should uphold the Law and see that it is properly enforced fail to obey the Law when it comes to having the Quarterly Report Published?

More than 200 manufacturing plants will be represented in the Texas Manufacturers Show at the 1932 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 8 to 23, it has been announced here by Col. W. E. Talbot, managing director of the Southwest Development Bureau, sponsors of the show.

WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Several of our subscribers who have been in arrears have sent in their renewals for which the Editor wishes to thank them. We still have a few that have not paid up and would certainly appreciate it if they will kindly send in their renewals at once.

Mrs. Alexander Mitchell has our thanks for a new subscription this week to the Times which she is having us to send for one year to her niece, Mrs. Sid Harkin at Austin. Mrs. Harkin will be remembered as the former Miss Mary Frances Corder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Corder pioneer ranch people of this county. We are sure that Mrs. Harkin will enjoy getting the home news each week.

Nothing like sending the son or daughter who is away to school the home paper every week is the way that John Hayre thinks for he is having us send the paper each week to his son Jack, who is attending Freed-Hardeman College in Henderson, Tenn., this year. Jack will not feel quite so homesick after reading the home paper each week and we hope that he enjoys every line of it.

Another one of our recent subscribers is Mrs. Emily M. Rayson, who as a bride came to Sanderson about 20 years ago to make her home here. T. M. Rayson, her husband, was in the mercantile business here and following his death Mrs. Rayson went to Washington, D. C., where she now makes her home.

Mrs. Flora Reeve, "Mother Reeve," another former resident now living in Munith, Mich., recently sent us her renewal together with a little personal note to the Editor. We thank Mrs. Reeve for this renewal and hope that she pays us a visit one of these days. Mrs. Reeve, who owns several rental houses here has been very fortunate in that they are kept rented.

R. E. Corder is another new subscriber added to our list this past week. Mr. Corder is a successful ranchman and is making the race this year for County Judge. Marion Briggs, who is interested in the oil test being put down in Terrell County near Dryden gave us a year's subscription this week to be sent to his home in Los Angeles, Calif.

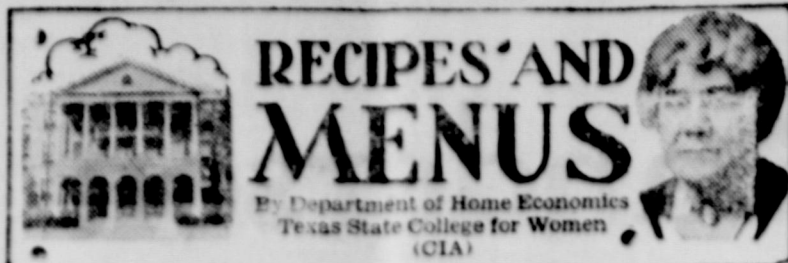

Several inquiries from would be subscribers have been received lately in regard to Terrell County and its oil possibilities. We have several subscribers who are interested in Terrell County and take the paper to keep up with what is going on here.

Lee Roy and Walter Grigsby left Saturday afternoon for Del Rio where on Sunday Walter underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Williams Sanitarium. He is doing nicely according to last reports.

RECIPES AND MENUS

By Department of Home Economics Texas State College for Women (CIA)

DENTON, Sept. 29.—Do you ever stay at home from church services on Sunday morning to prepare dinner? No family likes to have mother fret and fume over a meal at the last minute and then come to the table all "roasted." Why not try cooking with dry-cold?

With your electric refrigerator, you make take the preparation of Sunday meals or any other meals calmly. You will be surprised and delighted to find how pleasantly the Sunday meal can be prepared and served by cooking with cold. The following menus and recipes will enable you to accomplish this task.

MENUS

Breakfast: poached eggs and bacon; muffins; orange juice and coffee.

Luncheon: salmon salad, ice box rolls, butter balls, stuffed celery, olives, blackberry cobbler, iced tea.

Dinner: chicken supreme, potato chips, buttered beets, jellied vegetables in tomato cases, bread and butter sandwiches, frozen peach whip, ice box cookies.

Breakfast: toast marmalade, scrambled eggs, coffee.

Luncheon: ham rolls, raisin sauce, combination vegetable salad, bread slices, french custard, cold lemonade.

Dinner: cold sliced roast and pickle relish or shredded lettuce, new green peas, potato balls, tomato salad, iced watermelon.

RECIPES

Chicken Supreme: 1 1-2 c cold chicken, 1-4 c crushed pineapple, 6 T pecans, pinch salt, 1 c whipping cream, 1 c mayonnaise. Cut chicken in small cubes, drain pineapple and chop the nut meats fine. Add salt to chicken and combine first four ingredients. Whip cream and blend with mayonnaise. Fold two mixtures together. Place in refrigerator tray and freeze. Cut in squares and serve on lettuce, garnished with mayonnaise and a slice of tomato. Serves ten.

Jellied Vegetable in Tomato Cases: 6 tomatoes, 1 T gelatine, 1-4 c cold water, 1-4 c mild vinegar, 1 T lemon juice, 1 c boiling water, 1-4 c sugar, 1-2 t salt, 1 1-2 c vegetable. Hollow out 6 firm red medium sized tomatoes and place in refrigerator to chill. Soak gelatine in cold water and dissolve in boiling water. Add vinegar, lemon juice, sugar and salt. Chill. When mixture begins to thicken, add a c and a half of any left over vegetables cut in small cubes. Fill tomato cases. Replace in refrigerator until firm. Serve on a bed of lettuce.

Frozen Peach Whip: 1 2-3 c fresh peaches; 1 c sugar; 1-3 c chopped nuts; pinch salt, juice of one orange, 1 T lemon juice, 1 c heavy cream. Mash peaches to a pulp and add sugar, nuts, salt and fruit juice. Chill mixture well. Whip cream and fold in mixture. Turn into tray and freeze three to four hours. Serves six.

SMALLER CITIES INTERESTED IN INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

Publication in Progressive Texans, Inc., bulletin recently of an inquiry from a company of consulting engineers in the East for a list of smaller Texas towns interested in industrial development brought many inquiries from chambers of commerce and others for the name and address of the engineers desiring the information.

Seekers after industrial locations will find a very helpful spirit of cooperation and friendliness from the citizens of all parts of the State, for there is a very widespread realization among them that industrial development is the most important matter before them.

A CORRECTION

By mistake in the issue of the Times of September 23rd, a cut of Rev. B. M. Stradley, pastor of the Sanderson Methodist Church appeared over an article announcing the coming of Dr. D. T. McMahon of San Antonio.

The Methodist Pastor had written Dr. McMahon to send a cut for the paper and in the meantime the Editor of the Methodist paper of Nashville, Tenn., mailed the Sanderson Pastor a cut which he had used and he hurriedly, without looking, wrote the name of Rev. D. T. McMahon on the back of the cut and sent it to us.

Dr. McMahon wrote the Sanderson Pastor a letter, which he received after the paper issue, stating that he did not have available at this time a cut of himself.

C. C. Belcher, well known and prominent attorney of Del Rio, was a visitor in the city several hours last Friday. Mr. Belcher was a passenger on the eastbound train that was held here in the yards last Friday due to a washed out bridge between this city and Del Rio. He was returning home from a business trip to El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stavley and children moved into town last Saturday from their ranch north of Dryden and are occupying the Jim Kerr rent house just back of the Marathon Service Station during the School term.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. DARROW
Extension Service Editor

A Wood county poultry demonstration flock with production below the rest in the county was brought up to par by using the county agent's suggestion to cut out the scratch grain because of a plentiful supply of waste grain in the barnyard, and to keep laying mash before the hens at all times. When the scratch was cut out the hens began eating the mash and production came up to the county demonstration average.

Wheat on terraced land made four bushels more per acre than on un-terraced land on the farm of Allie Walling in Cottle county.

Sixteen silos, mostly of the trench type, have been built by Kleberg county dairymen this year, says the county agent, bringing the total in the county, exclusive of King Ranch to 36.

Summer fallowed wheat on 640 acres harvested by Herman Borth in Sherman county averaged 21 bushels per acre compared to averages of 5 to 8 bushels per acre on unfallowed wheat on adjoining land.

Al Kuntz increased his income $420 per acre by producing 37 bushels of wheat to the acre on old sweet clover land. He lives in Wolf Ridge community in Cooke county and as told by the county agent, wheat an old corn land near by made slightly less than 25 bushels to the acre.

Three years ago not a dairyman in Hardin county grew feed crops, all depending on the open range for pasture and buying their feed, says the county agent, who declares that now every dairyman is growing feed usually soy beans and begart.

McCAMEY NEWS LEASED BY JACK R. MEDLIN

McCamey, Sept. 28.—A Garland Adair, for more than three years editor and publisher of the McCamey News, has severed his connection with the weekly and Jack R. Medlin, who has been connected with the paper for 10 months, has leased the plant and assumed the role of editor and publisher. Adair and his family have moved to Austin.

Adair came here from Breckenridge in 1929 purchasing the Tri-County Record and the McCamey Leader, consolidating them into the McCamey News. He has been connected with newspapers in Breckenridge, Austin, Abilene, Mexia and other Texas cities before coming here.

Medlin has been in the newspaper business 21 years. He was publisher of the Times-Herald at Wink two years and managing editor and business manager of the Daily News at Hobbs, N. M., during the boom days. He also published the Ward County News for a short time.—Big Bend Sentinel.

Lee Grigsby returned Monday night from San Antonio where he went last Thursday to be with his son, Ervin, who underwent an operation at the Medical and Surgical Hospital in that city last Friday. Enroute home Mr. Grigsby stopped off in Del Rio to be with his son, Walter, who on Sunday afternoon was operated on for appendicitis at the Williams Sanitarium. He reports both sons as getting along nicely.

WHAT YOU DON'T KNOW

Is popularly supposed not to hurt you. But it may cost you money . . . it may cause you inconvenience . . . it may tarnish the shimmering surface of happy living . . . in short—when all's said and done—what you don't know will often HURT badly.

When is ignorance bliss? When is wisdom folly? Surely not in this swift-moving commercial world of ours . . . When yesterday might as well be marked "B. C." and tomorrow is pushing impatiently to prove today passe. Now is the time for every one to be informed . . . to know what is going on—not merely in the political, social, and athletic world—but in the business and commercial world as well.

Your newspaper tells you what you ought to know . . . NEWS. Not simply local news . . . but shopping and manufacturing NEWS. It tells you—thru its advertising—what is the very latest and best. From its pages you learn where to shop and what to look for. Its advertisers are the backbone of national and local business: Their message to you is important knowledge that will save you money . . . make life easier . . . give additional happiness to you and your family.

It will HURT you not to know their message.

A SHORT SHORT STORY

Just Try To Be Modern

BY PAUL HAWK

Their first kiss was wonderful; so they tried it again. The second was even better. The third proved to be the height of ecstasy. Then they stopped to talk about this wonderful thing that had happened to them.

"We're in love!" Jack crowed. "Jack Hubbard, do you think you have to tell me?" Louise pouted.

"I am telling you, Louise Morgan!"

"But we must be modern about it," she pointed out. "We've got to use our brains as well as our hearts."

"Sure," he agreed. "Never any silly misunderstandings."

"No jealousy or narrow-mindedness."

"Absolutely. We can make ours a perfect love. It is a perfect love!" Jack said fervently. "And we can make it a perfect marriage too." He hugged her ecstatically.

Louise became practical. "But we can't get married yet."

Jack blinked. "Huh?"

"No, not that, Jack. What I mean is that we must be up-to-date enough to realize we can't just up and marry like they used to just because they had the idea two could live as cheaply as one. And we're both young—there are a lot of good times in store for us yet before we're married."

"Yes, honey, you're surely right. Oh boy, what a woman. You're perfect."

"And we don't want any old-fashioned engagement. We'll just understand always that we love each other. I'll be free to have dates with other men, knowing that you love me and that you'll not be jealous."

Jack thought that over. "We-ell, that's the reasonable way to look at it, all right. And I'll be free too."

Louise thought that over. Yes-ess. That way we'll both have our freedom and our love. And we'll always be interesting to each other. And we'll be married whenever you get advancement enough.

"Be it agreed," Jack nodded.

"Be it agreed," echoed Louise.

It was fun, an ideal arrangement, they assured each other many times after that. It worked wonderfully too. For instance, there was that night they were in a crowd over at Phillip Deaver's house. Louise was standing with several men on one side of the room; Jack was on the opposite side. Their eyes met and lighted us as if to say, "These people think they're happy, but they should know our secret!" That was the most enjoyable part of it: when they were among people, yet sharing those clandestine meetings of the eyes.

Two weeks to the night after that first memorable kiss, Jack dropped in to see Louise.

"You can't stay very long tonight, dear. I've a date," she told him.

"A date?" Jack asked blankly.

"Yes You know—one of those social engagements."

Jack bristled. "But—but—I thought we'd be together tonight. This is a sort of anniversary—two weeks ago tonight. It looks to me like—"

"Now Jack—Remember our agreement," she warned him.

"Oh—sure, I'm sorry, hon. Of course I'm glad you're having a good time."

Jack went alone to the show to which he had intended taking Louise but he didn't enjoy it at all.

In another two weeks, Louise called Jack to come over for dinner.

"Gee, I'm sorry," Jack said. "I've an engagement."

"You mean—a date." Louise asked incredulously.

"Yeah. We're going to Palmer's."

"But Jack, that's where we found out about us. I didn't think you'd ever take anybody else there!" she complained.
