New Bill To Punish "Hot Check Artists"

AUSTIN, March 13. (INS)—"Hot check artists" would be made to pay heavily for plying their trade during the current financial difficulties, under the terms of a bill introduced by Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield.

His bill provides a penalty of two to ten years imprisonment for writing a hot check of more than $50, and a jail sentence of not more than two years and $500 maximum fine for one of less than $50.

The custom of giving "hot checks," his bill said, has become so prevalent that it is a "racket" and that the merchants and citizens of the State are losing heavily by it.

IN FT. STOCKTON HOSPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Coates, Jr., were injured Saturday on their ranch, near Fort Stockton, while riding on the range. Both are in the hospital there. Mrs. Coates was thrown from her horse and sustained a broken leg in the fall. Mrs. Iva Trent of this city has gone to Fort Stockton to be with them. She is the mother of Mrs. Coates.—San Angelo Morning Times.

It is with regret that the many friends in this city of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Coates learned of their injuries. Late reports from them are that they are getting along nicely and while their injuries are painful they are not serious.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Moore and children left last Friday for Del Rio where they went to visit relatives. Mr. Moore returned home Monday, but Mrs. Moore and children remained in Del Rio for a longer visit.

Miss Mary Cox accompanied by her mother, Mrs. C. F. Cox Sr., were shopping visitors in the city Tuesday from the Cox ranch near Longfellow.

Expenditures Of County & Schools Are Protested

A meeting was held Monday afternoon at the office of Joe Kerr by taxpayers of the county for the purpose of discussing means whereby expenses of the county officials, schools etc., could be cut and thus lower taxes. Much discussion was made by most every one present and figures were given out in regard to various expenses, salaries etc., for which our tax money goes.

The committee of citizens that were at the meeting went in a body before the County Commissioners that were in session requesting economical supervision of county finances including a cut in salaries and expenditures on public roads. A petition was also circulated throughout the city and county and will be placed before the school board asking similar requisition of them.

A large number of ranchmen from the various parts of the county were in for this meeting as well as several citizens from here, with several of those present being the largest tax payers in the county.

BANK RE-OPENS WEDNESDAY FOR USUAL BUSINESS

Few Withdrawals; Gain In Deposits Made By Citizens

The Sanderson State Bank of this city received word Wednesday from Banking Commissioner Shaw to resume their regular normal business after being closed due to a financial moratorium being declared by President Roosevelt and by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson.

The bank has been opened since last Friday morning accepting only deposits and allowing no withdrawals. The first of the week they were cashing payroll checks and making change where ever it was needed and wanted.

This bank is one of the strongest in this section of the country and has never been in danger. It is very conservative in making loans etc., and have made very few loans in the past year.

Increased deposits were noticed here by the officials and in fact there was not as much withdrawals from the bank as there were on an ordinary business day.

Business conditions throughout the city are picking up and in some instances better than before the moratorium was declared.

Tentative resume of monthly expenditures on account of public school per month: Ex-officio County Superintendent, $50; school superintendent, $300; principal high school, $140, making a total of $640 per month supervision of public schools or $6,810 for the year.

WEST TEXAS OIL LAND BILL HITS SNAG IN HOUSE

Amendment Requires All Companies To Pay Immediately

AUSTIN, March 13. (AP)—A bill to allow owners of state-patented oil land belonging to the school fund in West Texas to pay the state past due obligations in 20 annual installments sustained a setback, at least temporarily, today in the Texas House of Representatives.

Opponents of the bill succeeded in attaching an amendment that would permit its provisions to apply only to landowners under the state and not to oil companies that had obtained oil and gas development leases. The amendment would require oil companies to pay immediately to the state the amounts due under a ruling of the supreme court, which held the state school fund entitled to one-half the bonus and rentals from oil and gas leases.

The amendment was offered by Representative Sarah Hughes of Dallas, who has consistently opposed enactment of legislation affecting the state's land in West Texas. Although sponsors of the bill vigorously asserted the amendment would render the bill unconstitutional, the House adopted it 77 to 48 and later made the action final by tabling, 71 to 50, a motion to reconsider the vote.

The bill would authorize the land commissioner to determine the sums due the state under the supreme court decision and then would allow owners of the surface to pay the amounts in 20 annual installments at four per cent interest. The bill was one of two affecting the West Texas lands. The other would provide for forfeiture of the lands by the present owners and repurchase at a nominal price, with the land owners reserving all the bonus and rentals from future developments.

Another setback was given the bill when the House refused to recess and maintain the proposal as pending business tomorrow. The motion to adjourn, which set the bill back on the calendar, carried 62 to 61, and the bill remained on first reading.

SMALLER LEGISLATURES

Why not smaller legislatures to reduce the cost of government? These are days when our thoughts run to retrenchment and economy, and it would seem that this might well extend itself to include a reduction in representation in the legislature itself.

Representation is the only argument against such a movement, as we see it, and it would seem that such an argument might readily be overcome, if a fair and honest redistricting, cutting down the number of legislative districts, was presented to the people for their consideration and action.

Each reapportionment has shown population changes which have made a redistribution of representation seem logical, and has resulted in an increase rather than a decrease in representation. We are firmly convinced that every such increase in the legislative body has tended to make it more unwieldy and less able to function smoothly and in a minimum of time, to say nothing of the increased cost to the people of such when the watchword is economy and a reduction of public expenditures, and consequent lowering of taxes, it should be a good time for agitation for action to decrease the number of state senators and representatives.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITIES

Progress again is reported on tentative plans for the projected woolen mill at New Braunfels Texas, producing 40 per cent of American wool and 80 to 90 per cent of the mohair, has left all processing of those raw materials to mills in the Northeast, there being not a single woolen or mohair mill in the State.

Purchased electric energy furnished considerably more than 50 per cent of the primary power used in Texas in 1932, according to a table published in the Manufacturers Record. Steam engines supplied 191,134 horse power, turbines 127,113, internal combustion engines 59,980, water 680 and purchased electric power 443,933 horse power. Steam supplied 833,832 kw. of the generating capacity, water 6,480, internal combustion 51,376 and a combination of the two or more of the types 41,104 kw.

Among the Southern States Texas ranked seventh in furniture manufacturing in the 1930 census figures with a total of $6,740,000. North Carolina led with a total of $36,737,000, Virginia second with $28,221,000, Maryland $12,207,000, Kentucky $11,524,000, Tennessee $10,165,000 and Georgia $7,611,000 standing above Texas.

Unfilled orders of Texas textile mills on February 1 were 43 per cent greater than on the same date in 1932, according to figures compiled by the University Bureau of Business Research. January production was 7 per cent above January, 1932, and 19 per cent above that for December.

Universal Manufacturing Company, Abilene, last year afforded a market for 386,000 pounds of shelled peanuts raised within a 100-mile radius of its home city, and 25,000 pounds of shelled pecans from the same area, indicating one advantage of industrial development to the communities in which the development occurs. The same company bought two carloads of ely deal the thousands of different persons, firms, corporations and county officials throughout the State. Serious leaks in State revenue are inevitable. Comptroller Sheppard estimates that at least five million dollars is lost annually in evasions of the gasoline tax and cigarette tax, besides considerable losses in inheritance taxes and losses in ad valorem taxes, because of inability of the field men to make regular and thorough audits. With these evasions stopped, Sheppard believes the State would now be on a cash basis, even without any other needed reforms in fiscal affairs.

Senator Moore of Greenville has introduced a bill limiting benefits of the Confederate pension to those who are in actual need. There is a large deficit in this fund and the total claims are increasing, due to liberalizing provisions of the law. For example, payments increased from $2,917,000 in 1930 to $3,562,000 in 1932. The House has passed a bill reducing the poll tax to $1. The Senate is yet to act on the measure. Proposals to reduce the gasoline tax below four cents per gallon were rejected by the House during the past week.

TIPS ON TAXES

Legislative News Service Of The Texas Press Association, Austin

AUSTIN—As a tax measure of major interest, the sales tax which was the subject of a great deal of discussion during the early days of the session, has given way to other tax proposals. A suggestion, which at the present time is claiming more attention than any other single tax measure, is one which proposes a radical departure in raising revenue and controlling production of oil.

The proposal embodies a repeal of the gasoline tax and the gross production tax on oil as its major revenue features. It is a sharply graduated tax on oil production, beginning, in some bills carrying the idea into effect, with one cent per barrel on production from wells with maximum daily output of five barrels and scaling up to much higher rates as the per well production increases. The top bracket calls for $1 per barrel tax on production of well in excess of 1,000 barrels per day.

The bills on this subject carry into effect suggestions made by Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Railroad Commission, who claims that problems of both oil conservation and taxation would be solved by its adoption. The graduated tax on oil production, would automatically regulate oil production to the market demand, supporters of the bill claim, and at the same time provide an easy and equitable means of obtaining revenue. The bill is facing determined opposition, and the chief argument offered against it is that it will place Texas oil at a disadvantage by imposing a serious price differential. Hearings are being held, and the measure will doubtless undergo considerable modification. Opinion seems to be that while the proposal in its present form has little chance of adoption, there is a strong likelihood that the present State production tax on oil of two per cent of its sale price will be changed to a definite sum per barrel. This would stabilize state income from this source.

The House has passed a bill authorizing the creation of a special division in the Comptroller's department to enforce collection of gasoline taxes, as well as providing more drastic penalties for evasion of these taxes. It is claimed that the State is losing from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 per year in taxes from this source and at the same time subjecting legitimate dealers to unfair competition by gasoline "bootleggers." This is regarded as a highly important tax measure.

The Comptroller at present has a field force of only thirty men. Until recently he had only twenty-five men. The personnel increase was made possible by reducing salaries and thus using the same appropriation to employ a larger number of field men. This force has the duty of enforcing collections of the following taxes: gasoline, gross receipts, inheritance and cigarette. Combined, they brought into the State treasury about forty million dollars last year.

The field men have many other duties, such as auditing records of county tax collectors and generally protecting the State's interests in tax matters. It is obvious that such a small force cannot adequately

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. DARROW Extension Service Editor

At a cost of less than half a cent per bushel, 4312 Texas farmers saved 1,439,983 bushels of stored grain from weevils last year using high-life by methods shown by county agents. The saving was estimated to be $83,071.

Mrs. S. Tomlin of Mt. Sylvan Home Demonstration Club in Smith county is doing her part to enable the county home demonstration council to help 85 per cent of the farm families with their food supply. She canned 13 beebes this winter in 11 canning demonstrations for her neighbors.

About 10 years ago a series of kitchen improvement contests for rural housewives was conducted in successive years by home demonstration agents. The improvement is still spreading, for 1521 kitchens were made into modern workshops in 1932 on Texas farms as a result of the earlier demonstrations.

RECIPES AND MENUS

By Department of Home Economics Texas State College for Women (CIA)

DENTON, March 16.—Oysters are the most important of the shellfish judging by the relative amount consumed. Speaking roughly, quart of oysters contains on an average about the same quantity of nutritive substance as a quart of milk. Oysters also come nearer to milk than almost any other common food material as regards both the amounts and the relative proportions of nutrients.

Oysters may be served either raw or cooked. When raw they are served generally on the half shell, in cocktails, or with vinegar sauce. Raw oysters are digestible and when properly cooked they are often recommended as food for invalids. They may be roasted, pan-fried, broiled, sautéed, fried, served in sauces, scalloped, served in stews, in pastry cups, in crustades, or bread cases. They are less digestible when fried than when they are cooked in any other way.

MENUS

Lunches: Oyster stew, brown bread and butter sandwiches, tomato catsup, canned cherries, date nut cookies, coffee.

Creamed oysters, brown rice, hot biscuits, apricot marmalade, cranberry salad, hot tea.

Dinners: Oyster cocktail, cream of tomato soup, saddle of mutton, currant jelly, string beans, browned potatoes, whole wheat bread, butter, cauliflower-ette salad, maple mousse.

Tomato cocktail, scalloped oysters, baked potatoes, green asparagus, parker house rolls, orange and Malaga grape salad, coffee.

RECIPES

Oyster Cocktail: Clean and chill oysters, allowing five small oysters for each person to be served; use tomato catsup or mix the following ingredients for sauce (to serve 12 persons): 1 T horse-radish, 1-4 t tabasco, 2 T vinegar, 3 T worcestershire, 5 T lemon juice, 3 T tomato catsup, 1 1-4 t salt. Place 5 oysters in a sherbet cup; grapefruit shells, lemon shells, tomato cups, green pepper cups, or cups of tomato jelly set in beds of ice may be used instead of sherbet cups, add 1 T of the sauce.

Creamed Oysters: 1 qt. oysters, 2 c milk, 4 T butter, 4 T flour, 1 t salt. Blend flour and melted butter, stir in hot milk and cook until thick. Heat oysters in their own liquor until edges curl slightly. Combine oysters with white sauce. Season.

Oyster Shortcake: 2 c flour, 4 t baking powder, 6 T fat, 3-4 c milk, 1-2 t salt. Sift dry ingredients. Work in the fat and add milk. Roll out on floured board. Cut into individual biscuits and bake in a hot oven. Split biscuits, butter one side and put creamed oyster mixture between layers and over top.

Orange and Malaga Grape Salad: Halve 1-2 c malaga grapes and remove the seeds. Blanch 1-2 c English walnuts or pecans and break into small pieces. Separate 2 oranges into sections and cut each section into 3 parts. Toss the ingredients together, using two forks, dress with a boiled salad dressing and serve on lettuce leaves.

Trade among Friends

No matter what some folks say to the contrary, there certainly is a lot of sentiment in business. Friendship, for instance, makes more satisfactory sales than all the cleverness and argument in the world.

You like to trade at a certain store—not because its counters are arranged in a scientific way, but because the folks who serve you are always friendly and helpful.

Just that very thing—FRIENDLY SERVICE—is the power that draws people together into communities like this, where everybody can enjoy the many benefits of neighborly cooperation.

And FRIENDLY SERVICE is the sentimental reason why you find it very much to your advantage to trade with our advertisers—to buy where you feel at home, where your friends will see that you are well satisfied.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

Headline news has surrounded the widespread bank holidays which spread from Michigan and Louisiana to Oregon, California, New York and other states, and finally culminated with the general holiday declared by the President.

Immediately preceding the general bank holiday trade reviews reported steady improvement in the business picture. Favorable factors outnumbered the unfavorable—a very definite change from conditions of a few months ago.

A noticeable strengthening of the public morale—shown, for example, in improved security prices—accompanied the inauguration of President Roosevelt. Further strengthening of confidence resulted from the constructive inaugural address in which the President made a flat-footed stand for sound money.

A note of hopefulness is sounded by leaders of the oil industry. Advances in prices, especially in the mid-continent field, are expected in the immediate future.

Bad sign, so far as the industry and most motorists are concerned, is that higher gas taxes—which now range from 3 to 12 cents a gallon—are contemplated in 18 states.

While the wage commission is still deadlocked in the anthracite coal industry's wage dispute, a movement has been gaining momentum among the miners to increase employment and markets through lower wages.

Since 1912 wages of hard coal miners have increased, on the average, 310 per cent. In addition, the eight-hour day has replaced the ten hour day. It is widely believed that anthracite can regain its lost power only if the price is accordingly.

In connection with this, it is interesting to note that a division of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers forecasts that use of oil and gas for energy production will double within 20 years and that use of coal will steadily decline.

Farm prices have been steady. Changes have been small, grain and cattle up, and eggs, butter, veal calves, hides and potatoes down.

Agricultural credit extended by the three banking systems under the supervision of the Federal Farm Loan Board increased by over $36,000,000 last year. Late proposed plan to aid agriculture is that the government lease 50,000,000 acres

Late reports on major industries show: RAILROADS—Car loadings good early in 1933.

LUMBER—Leaders hopeful of slight improvement in next two months.

STEEL—Immediate outlook uncertain, due to almost complete absence from market of the railroads and the indefinite future of the purchasing by motor industry.

TOBACCO—First effect of price-cutting by "big four" 15c cigarette makers, was shown in January figures, when sales of "roll-your-own" declined 9.2 per cent as against 3.8 per cent in "ready-mades."

AUTOMOBILE—Sales fairly satisfactory for this time of year. Seasonal decline in production has occurred.

Unemployment in GERMANY is now smaller than a year ago, with business fairly stable on low level. Production index has strengthened in FRANCE. SWISS business is marking time; unfavorable trade balance rose last year. CANADIAN business quiet. Business stagnant in PHILIPPINES. Business trend in AUSTRALIA, with government finances improved. BETTER THAN 6 CENTS PAID FOR WOOL CLIPPINGS

Producers Think Wool Will Bring 18 To 20 Cents

SAN ANGELO, March 13.—Prices of 18 to 20 cents a pound for the coming season's wool were indicated here Saturday when J. M. Lea, buyer for Draper & Company, secured 75,000 pounds of clippings from the Wool Growers Central Storage Company in a sealed bid sale at a price "substantially over six cents."

Clippings, the sweat locks sheared improve quality of the 12 months clip and to aid ewes at lambing time, usually provide a barometer of the price schedule for the wools that will begin coming in when shearing starts in May.

The price was at least a cent a pound better than that paid last year for the clippings. There will be less clippings this year.

Mr. Lea also bought a carload of the company's 1932 lamb wool.

The Texas Wool & Mohair Company also sold between 60,000 and 75,000 pounds of clippings Saturday to Mr. Lea at a price better than six cents.

Much interest is being shown by the buyers in the incoming clips.

If you paid for your electricity as you used it....

... pennies would pay your electric bill

THE penny is Uncle Sam's smallest coin but it does a big job when it is spent for electric service. There is scarcely a household task that electricity will not perform for pennies or fractions of pennies. One cent, for example, will keep a refrigerator cold three hours. It will furnish an hour and fifteen minutes of radio entertainment. It will percolate seven cups of coffee. It will provide two hours of cooling breezes. It will make toast for four people. It will light a lamp for several hours. It will clean two rugs or wash a tubful of clothes. In fact, if you paid for your electricity as you used it, pennies would pay your electric bill.
