TRAINMASTER'S OFFICE CLOSED HERE BY S. P.

Tom S. Stewart And Woman Clerk Are Affected

DEL RIO, April 1.—A new cut in the personnel of the Southern Pacific Railway Company here was made Friday, when the trainmaster's office was officially closed on order from C. R. Morrill, general superintendent of the El Paso-San Antonio division.

Tom S. Stewart, trainmaster here for more than six years, and the trainmaster's clerk, Miss Frances Mosig, transferred here from El Paso about six years ago, were affected by the order.

The office was closed as an economy move on the part of the Southern Pacific, Railway and its closing was no surprise to Mr. Stewart who stated Saturday that the Del Rio office was one of the last forced to be closed because of the cut in operating budget, necessitated by the enormous loss at which the company has been operating for the past two years. The office was a sub-agency of the general superintendent's office in San Antonio, where Miss Mosig reported for duty Saturday.

According to the orders received here, Mr. Stewart was given the alternative of returning to train service here, where he was conductor until his promotion to the position as trainmaster, or of reporting at Houston as assistant to the general yardmaster in Houston. He had not decided definitely at noon Saturday which move he would make.

AIRSHIP AKRON CRASHES OFF JERSEY COAST

Storm Tossed Ship Lost In Waters Of Atlantic

In a blinding electrical storm, the Akron, mightiest dirigible ever to cruise the skies, crashed at sea off the Jersey coast early Tuesday morning and all hope has waned for 71 missing members of the crew.

Of the 76 men aboard the "mistress of the skies" as she crashed, four were rescued, but one died before he was brought ashore.

Last May when the huge dirigible was enroute to California the Akron encountered thunderstorms and spent the night circling over this city, Dryden and Langtry after failing to penetrate the storm at San Angelo. Next morning, May 10th, the aircraft hovered over Toyah Texas, several hours before deciding to break through the storm. Later they encountered a sandstorm and a stiff wind in the Big Bend mountains.

At that time, Commander Rosendahl, who was one of the few survivors of the Shenandoah disaster, termed the conditions encountered in Texas the most severe ever experienced successfully by a rigid dirigible airship.

TWO-CENT POSTAGE PROPOSED IN BILL

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Restoration of the two-cent postage rate for first class mail was proposed in a bill today by Senator Bone (Dem.), Washington. He said it would result in increased revenue.

The senator also contended that the three-cent rate was chiefly burdensome to the small business man and private individual and that large corporations were using other means of distributing their bills.

S. M. Bruce of Bracketville spent several days here this week visiting his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Thurman at the Stumberg ranch.

Last Rites For Mildred Appel Held Saturday

Funeral services were held here Saturday afternoon for Mildred Mae Appel, 18, who passed away Friday night about 11 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Appel. Her death followed less than a week's illness with pneumonia.

Mildred Mae Appel, was born in Hewins, Kansas, September 10, 1914, and while still a young child she moved with her parents here about 16 years ago, and has made her home here ever since. Here she grew into a young womanhood and only last year graduated from the local high school. The past few months she had been employed as operator at the Del Rio and Winter Garden Telephone Company.

It is with sadness that the writer records the death of Mildred for we have known her for many years. Her sweet, sunny smile, lovely Christian character and her love for her family and friends make her passing one of deep regret and sorrow.

A large concourse of friends gathered at the home for the funeral services which were held at 3:30, Rev. Buren Sparks, of the Alpine Baptist Church, holding the services with interment taking place at the Sanderson Cemetery. The large floral offering attested the love and esteem in which the deceased was held.

Survivors include: her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Appel; one brother, Albert Appel Jr.; two sisters, Mrs. Gene Thorn and Miss Ellen Appel; a niece, Beverley Jean Thorn; her grandmother, Mrs. S. E. Mount; an Aunt, Mrs. Frank K. Harrell; all of this city as well as numerous distant relatives.

Active and Honorary pallbearers were named from the members of her class which graduated with her last year namely: James Daniels, Leo Daniels, Ernest Farley, Henry Goldwire, Aylmer Griffith, Jack Hayre, Andrew Henry, H. D. Johnson Jr., J. A. Kercheville, William Lea, Mattiurue Newton, Elenora Peek, Ray Qualtrough, Charles Robertson, Howard Stavley, Lowry Stradley, D. C. Thrift, Ebel Van-Cleave Hamilton.

Morris, also two brothers and two sisters. Rev. C. C. McKinney officiated at the cemetery.

The many friends in this city of Mrs. R. L. Doak Sr., regret to learn of the death of her brother and extend to her their heartfelt sympathy in her hour of sadness.

There are more than 20 Baptist churches in the two districts which covers the area from this city to Sierra Blanca on the west, and from Toyah to Odessa on the north.

FORECLOSURE SALE DELAY BILL PASSED

AUSTIN, April 3. (AP)—A Senate bill to delay for 30 days the sale of real estate under mortgage foreclosure or deeds of trust scheduled for tomorrow in Texas counties was passed today by the house.

The bill received enough votes in each House to become effective upon the Governor's signature.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kerr and children motored to San Antonio Tuesday where they spent the remainder of the week.

30-HOUR WEEK LAW TAKEN UP BY SENATORS

House Committee Now Has Written Approval Of Measure

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—Legislation to establish a 30-hour work week was taken up by the Senate for consideration today at about the time it emerged from the House committee with unanimous approval.

The bill would compel private industry to adopt the six-hour day, five-day week, and would penalize interstate movement of products made by labor working longer hours.

REDISTRICTING FACES FATE OF 1931 MEASURE

Authors Of Former Bills Are Hopeful Of A Compromise

AUSTIN, April 3. (AP)—The Texas Legislature is pursuing the same policy this year relative to Congressional redistricting it followed two years ago.

The Senate, with little discussion, approved a bill by Senator Julian P. Greer of Elkhart. The House committee substituted a bill by Representative Metcalf of San Angelo. The House likely will sustain its committee's action, and the question will be thrown into free conference.

Two years ago, the Senate passed a bill by Greer. The House substituted a proposal by Metcalf, and a free conference committee was appointed to adjust the differences. The conferees brought out a compromise bill but the Senate refused to accept it by one vote, and Congressional redistricting legislation was killed.

Greer and Metcalf are hopeful a satisfactory compromise bill can be worked out this year by a free conference committee.

Fifty Countries Observe World's Day Of Prayer

A touch of winter was felt here Wednesday morning by daylight when a brisk norther blew up about 4 a. m. accompanied by a heavy dust storm. Most all of the day Wednesday was cold with a slight drop in temperature being felt by night.

Thursday it was still cold but the wind and dust had settled.

Frost in some sections of Texas was reported and in the Panhandle freezing temperature was experienced.

Stuckey Builds Country Home Near Sabinal

H. L. Stuckey, genial station agent for the Southern Pacific Lines in Sabinal, is building himself a permanent home near Sabinal. Mr. Stuckey has been bumped from job to job and from place to place during his thirty years of service with the S. P. He contemplates no more bumps in the immediate future, but if such a thing should happen he plans to be bumped into his new house for the rest of his life. And in course of time he may bump himself out of the railroad service to enjoy the delights of the new farm home.

The house which Mr. Stuckey is building is a nine-room frame structure, veneered with brick. The arrangements of the rooms has been worked out by Mr. and Mrs. Stuckey and planned with a view to permanent residence. They have recently moved into the house and will supervise the remaining work while living in the house. Workmen are busy now papering and painting and putting on the brick. The construction work has been under the supervision of Mr. Frank Payne, Sabinal contractor.

Mr. Stuckey came to Sabinal about two years ago, and from that time until now has grown into the business and social life of the town. He is at present President of the Sabinal Chamber of Commerce, and is active in all civic enterprises. He came to us from Sanderson, Texas. Last year he purchased the 406 acre farm just west of town known as the Mitchell Best place and there is beginning to make his dreams of a farm home come true.

Mr. Stuckey's sons, H. L. and Charles will help him manage the farm, a fine stretch of land, and they will launch upon a program of "balanced" farming. Chickens, play a prominent part in this program, as Mr. Stuckey is a chicken enthusiast. Grain sorghum, feed crops and livestock will complete the program. Pecans and other trees are to be set out for beauty and utility.

A farm water plant furnishes water on tap at various places in the house and about the place. A water heater, modern plumbing fixtures and other conveniences will be a part of the equipment of the home.

Sabinal welcomes into its permanent life families of the type of the Stuckey family and the many friends of the family wish them their full share of happiness and success in this new home of theirs.—Sabinal Sentinel.

Many Cases Of Theft Reported Over Week End

Whether an April Fool's joke was being played or not several citizens are very indignant over the loss of several personal items, such as guns, automobile tires, etc., that were stolen from them or off of their cars over the week end.

Local officers have received several complaints from automobile owners who had their tires stolen and from those who lost guns and are now working on clues.

Motorists have for some time had gasoline to be drained from their cars and even tourists who stop at the Hotel report that they too have had their cars drained.

Officers have been working for sometime trying to catch the would be thieves and are well on to their trail and hope soon to be able to break up the gang which usually do their work soon after the midnight hour.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Strain of San Antonio spent Friday and Saturday at the Dryden Airport. Mr. Strain is a member of the firm, Chamberlain and Strain, who were awarded the contract to erect the enlisted men's barracks at the port.

Miss Mabel Newton returned last Friday night to her home in Valentine following a visit here with her cousin, Miss Willie Mae Green.

TEXANS SEEK TEN MILLIONS FOR COLLEGES

Senate Subcommittee Completes Draft Of Bill For Biennium

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—A subcommittee of the Senate finance committee today had completed its draft of a bill to appropriate $10,054,575.50 for support of the state colleges for the next biennium. The group planned to present its report to the main committee early next week.

The subcommittee's recommendation was $2,350,000 higher than the amount recommended to the House by its appropriations committee. Members of the subcommittee explained however, that $850,000 of the amount they suggested would not be taken from the general revenue fund but would be appropriated from the permanent fund of the University of Texas and A. and M.

The committee recommended that the appropriations be in lump sums rather than itemized as in past bills. However, a rider was attached to provide that no salary should be more than 75 per cent as large as the maximum salary for that position during the preceding biennium.

The Legislature would fix the aggregate allotments for salaries departmental maintenance, general maintenance and summer schools at each institution.

RECIPES AND MENUS

By Department of Home Economics
Texas State College for Women
(CIA)

DENTON, April 6.—The epicure is ever turning from common foods in search of the delicious different. In a survey of foreign foods, the roasts spiders of New Caledonia and the cooked bees of Singalese, although interesting, might not prove so appetizing.

He will probably continue his search until he is back almost where he started, and as for foreign foods, what could be more tempting than pineapple from Hawaii and bananas from Central America. Next to the citrus fruits produced in Texas these two fruits deserve consideration in planning the dietary. Both of them contribute liberally the much-needed vitamins and minerals as well as adding interest to a meal because of their inviting flavors.

Bananas are safe for even very small children if used as a part of a regular meal and given only when the skin is just flecked with brown.

Breakfast: Pineapple juice, bran with milk, scrambled eggs with bacon, muffins with jam, coffee.

Lunch: Waffles and sausage, vegetable salad, white cherries with whipped cream, cookies, cocoa.

Dinner: Baked ham with pineapple, baked sweet potatoes, buttered cauliflower, parker house rolls, butter, grapefruit salad, mayonnaise boiled custard.

Breakfast: Sliced oranges, puffed rice, soft boiled eggs, buttered toast, coffee.

Easter Dinner: Fruit cup, cream of spinach soup, celery curls, radishes, olives, roast chicken, currant jelly, Lima beans, potato roses, rolls, butter, strawberry shortcake, coffee.

Supper: Orange bread sandwiches, cheese balls, cucumber salad, mayonnaise, angel charlotte, mints, coffee.

KERR MERCANTILE COMPANY

Sanderson, Texas

Just around the Corner

EVEN big-city folks must have their "neighborhood stores"! Most of them would no more think of going down town to fight their way through the crowds in search of a roast for dinner than they would of walking to the factory to get a pair of shoes.

City women know that their neighborhood stores can supply them just what they want — and that, in most cases, the service is more alert and friendly.

The same thing is true of this "neighborhood". Our merchants—the men whose ads you read in this paper — are in position to furnish your home with the best and most popular brands of goods. Not only can they save you money, but they gladly relieve you of a lot of worry and loss of time.

The Livestock Situation

J. A. McNAUGHTON

LOS ANGELES, April 6, 1933.—The most substantial upward trend in cattle prices in the past two years took place in the Los Angeles market during March, giving cattlemen real cause for optimism and rejoicing. Cattle prices are generally a full cent a pound higher than at the close of February, carrying steer prices to levels that permitted profit in many feedlot operations. The advance pleased the Los Angeles market on the highest level of any of the larger markets.

Six-cent steers again appeared on quotations, and at the close of the month, choice baby beefs that had been on full grain rations sold as high as $6.50 a cwt., the highest price since last December. There appears to be growing confidence within the trade that the market has sound, underlying strength. Retail trade has shown a very small resistance to the higher scale of prices. However, it must be understood that maintenance of a higher relative price structure on the Pacific Coast must depend to some extent upon actions on Missouri River markets, which have not been too satisfactory so far.

California's annual crop of "baby lambs" is now moving marketward about a month later than usual and hardly up to the normal average quality, owing to unsatisfactory range conditions. Sheepmen have been forced to feed their sheep thru out the winter, although in most parts of the state, there is now sufficient pasture for both ewes and lambs. Many sheepmen practiced creep feeding of their lambs, generally with very good results. Many lambs are coming to market carrying more weight than desired by the packers, who prefer a handy-weight carcass from 70 to 80 pound lambs. It is likely that California will have a larger percentage of feeder lambs than usual.

California grass cattle operators are faced with short feed conditions in most parts of the state, and it is probable that most of them will find it necessary to finish grass steers in feedlots. Concentrates and hay are relatively low priced and cattlemen who are able to finish their stock at home should profit by putting the grain "top" on their cattle. Many cattlemen have found that the feeding of concentrates

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

During and since the bank holidays the best news of each week has been of a psychological character. It has three phases: Faith in the new Administration, demonstrated by the support it is being given by organizations and individuals of all political divisions; confidence in the future of the country; a belief that recovery is underway. Most important of these is confidence. So far as the public mind generally is concerned, the days of gloom are over. The spirit of inertia that gripped so many millions a few months ago, has been replaced by a spirit of aggressiveness and action.

This spirit is naturally reflected in the attitude of industrial organizations. Of great interest is a survey recently made by press association among the major industries of the country. It produced opinion as follows:

STEEL—Prospect for recovery brighter than at any time in past few years.

METALS—An unmistakable return of confidence is felt.

CEMENT—Slow but certain change for the better anticipated.

MACHINERY—Stimulated sales looked for.

MEAT PRODUCTS—Supplies on hand not excessive, and price rise expected.

FLOUR—Moderate price advance, at least, assured.

TEXTILES—Greater buying activity and firmer price levels anticipated.

DEPARTMENT STORES—Predict rise in prices.

SHOES AND LEATHER—Any change will be up, not down.

These forecasts reflect the attitude of leaders of most other industries.

The Department of Agriculture forecasts a general reduction in acreage of major crops this year. Decreases of 3.5 per cent in corn for harvest; 3 per cent in Spring wheat and in oats; 13 per cent in flaxseed, rice and sweet potatoes; 5.4 per cent in potatoes are indicated. Contrary to the general trend is tobacco, for which a 22 per cent increase in acreage is predicted.

Farm leaders made a dramatic move when, led by Secretary Wallace, they called on President Roosevelt and asked him to request Congress for dictatorial powers in the matter of farm products. Under their proposed legislation, the President would have absolute power in fixing the price of wheat, corn, cotton, hogs, cattle, dairy products, etc. Purpose of the legislation would be to bring about parity of prices between agricultural and industrial commodities. The proposal, if it became a law, would give President Roosevelt even greater powers than were given President Wilson under the Food Administration act made necessary by the war.

Farm mortgages remain a pressing agricultural problem. The Administration will give every effort to finding means of equitably solving it. It is not, however, a new problem. A survey has shown, for example, that 45.2 per cent of all farms in New York are under mortgage—and this is precisely the same percentage that was mortgaged in 1900. Best year was 1925, when the percentage dropped to 38.7.

Farm prices have remained fairly steady, and there have been a number of advances. It is doubtful if any major recession will set in.

Aftermath of the banking difficulties is a drive to bring all of the 12,000 state banks into the Federal Reserve System. Some observers hold that this is not enough—in 1932, over 80 per cent of bank failures involved banks of less than $200,000 capital and they believe this to be proof of a need for extension of branch banking. Others point to the fact that thousands of small banks are excellently managed, and are as sound or sounder than many big banks, and hold that banking legislation should simply seek to eliminate poor management and dubious practices, whether the product of dishonesty or inexperience.

The Supreme Court's decision in the Appalachian Coals case is of importance to other industries, principally lumber. Appalachian Coals was central selling agency for more than 130 producers of bituminous coal. The government brought suit against it on the grounds of violating the anti-trust laws. The Supreme Court decided against the government, and held the concern to be legal.

The lumber industry now has underway plans for forming a similar agency for handling forest products. This will make possible elimination of tremendous waste in present methods of selling and distributing, and likewise the elimination of much destructive competition which has disrupted the industry.

Present conditions in the industry are fairly good. Inventories are down, orders exceed shipments. An increase has been reported by Douglas fir mills.

Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Green and sons, came in last Saturday from San Antonio to make this city their home. Rev. Green is the new pastor at the Baptist Church.

Suit values are better today than they have been for several years. Over a thousand patterns to select from, priced from $15 to $45. Made-to-measure and guaranteed fit.
