Shallow Coal Vein Is uncovered Near Eagle Pass, Texas

EAGLE PASS, Tex., July 2.—The revival of the coal mine industry in Maverick County appeared possible this week with the uncovering and exploitation of a thick vein of coal, four miles north of this city. The vein is 5½ to 7 feet thick and is just 27 feet under the ground.

Discovery of the bed of bituminous coal was made eight years ago by Gregorio Besa, while he was putting down a water well on his farm. Lacking the means to mine it, he said nothing about it, until recently when he informed A. Kifuri, a manufacturer. Kifuri was looking for cheap coal to run the boilers of his new ice plant.

A fortnight ago, three laborers began digging a shaft not far from the water well. Friday they had completed it, walled it in with timber, and were taking several tons of coal a day from what appears to be a limitless source. They haul the coal to the surface with a bucket and windlass and then transport it by truck to Kifuri's factory. Kifuri said that he was paying 60 cents a ton for it.

It has been known for many years that a coal field underlies Maverick County, but the Kifuri vein is probably at the shallowest. Three abandoned mines within eight miles of Eagle Pass stand as reminders of the period, not so long ago, when coal-mining was a flourishing industry here. There were towns at the Seco Mine, two miles north, the International Otmos Mine, eight miles north. The International Mine was the last to be abandoned, in 1928. The others suspended operations in 1922. The competition of oil and gas for fuel, in railroad locomotives, factories and residence, caused the decline of the coal business.

LOCAL LEGION POST GRANTED STATE CHARTER

A special meeting was held here last Friday by the Clarence Hallie Mulkey Post, No. 160, American Legion for the purpose of greeting the State Commander, Carl Nesbit, who paid the Post an official visit. Accompanying Mr. Nesbit was Mrs. E. H. Roach, Commander of the State Auxiliary.

Mr. Nesbit and Mrs. Roach addressed the members of the Post who were in attendance at the meeting.

At this time the Post was granted a permanent Charter.

Mrs. Roach while here organized an Auxiliary and Mrs. Ben Dawson was elected temporary president with Mrs. A. E. Creigh, Jr., being elected as temporary secretary. There were ten charter members that went into the organization. At a later date the organization will be perfected and permanent officers chosen.

Following the meeting here Mr. Nesbit and Mrs. Roach went on to Del Rio where they met with the Post in that city.

JOHN GARNER TO OKAY JOBS

Texas Appointments Are Based on Approval Of Uvalde Man

DALLAS, July 1.—A dispatch to the Dallas news from its Washington correspondent today said Vice President John N. Garner has been given authority by Postmaster General James A. Farley, the administration's patronage dispenser, to approve every appointment made in Texas.

"Mr. Garner's appearance in the Texas patronage picture," the dispatch said, "is not taken as minimizing the influence of the Texas senators and representatives since a close association has existed between them for many years."

Health Department Offers Suggestions For Vacationists

AUSTIN, Texas, July 6.—Vacation days are here again bringing a desire to get away from the daily grind and a longing for a change of scene. Pleasure without regrets is a goal to strive for, and for this reason the Texas State Department of Health urges you to consider the following suggestions in planning your vacation.

First, pick a spot new to you if possible, where you can see new scenes, enjoy new activities, where you may act and dress as you please and, above all, be carefree. Make up your mind to leave all your troubles behind. Second, make sure that the place selected is right from a sanitary standpoint. Be sure that the water, milk, and food is clean and pure.

Third, before you leave home you should consider the advisability of being protected against typhoid fever. This protection can be secured through inoculation with typhoid vaccine. Fourth, when you start on your vacation, change your regular habits gradually. If you take little outdoor exercise during the year, make this your change. Do not try to set a record the first day but increase your exercise gradually.

If your purse will not permit you to go to a summer resort this year, make up your mind that you will get a real vacation at home. Plan your days as you would were you miles away; sleep a little longer in the morning, read your newspaper in bed. Get out in the morning sunshine, do your exercising, preferably in the morning before the sun is too hot. Relax in the afternoon, get a good book, a quiet spot, and forget that you have anything more important to do than relax and read the book. Vary your activities each day. You can benefit just as much by this kind of a vacation as you could if you went away.

That Texas Exhibit

As yet Texas has no exhibit at the big Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago. This deplorable fact was brought to light at the recent meeting of the Texas Press Association in Houston. Peter Molyneux, editor of the Texas Weekly and loyal Texan, last week appealed to Texas editors to solicit funds in their respective towns, on a basis of one cent per inhabitant, to be used for placing a Texas exhibit among other state exhibits at the World's Fair. One hundred towns had already complied with his request last Saturday.

The Times has been asked to cooperate. On a basis of population, Sanderson's quota will be about $20, a small sum and Sanderson must not fail.

El Paso Seeking Federal Loan For Rio Grande Lake

The total of applications sent from El Paso for recovery act loans now stands at $7,420,830. H. L. Birney, projects committee chairman said that probably no more applications will be sent away.

The lake project would be self-liquidating through the rent of concessions. Sand would be hauled to the lake to make a bathing beach.

State Educators To Be named By Woods

AUSTIN, July 3. (INS)—A system of state supervision, under which deputies from the state department of education will be stationed at strategic centers over the State, has been worked out by L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instructions, and will be put into effect in August.

In announcing the plan here today, Woods said the plan was to place district supervisors within reach of any part of the State during the school year. It is planned to locate the supervisors in such cities as Nacogdoches, Huntsville, Commerce, Texarkana, Waco, San Antonio, Dallas, Denton, Fort Worth, Houston, Alpine, Lubbock, Brownwood, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Kingsville and Canyon.

Mrs. Ed Downie and sons, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Walter Gregory, left Tuesday morning for Chicago where they will attend the Century of Progress Exposition.

J. T. LAUGHLIN NAMED DEPUTY U. S. MARSHAL

Former State Ranger Succeeds H. E. Walker

J. T. Laughlin has been appointed deputy United States Marshal in charge of the Del Rio office, succeeding H. E. Walker.

Laughlin's appointment was announced Saturday in San Antonio shortly after Guy McNamara, former Waco police chief, was sworn in as United States marshal to succeed Scott C. White of El Paso.

Laughlin is a former State Ranger. Walker held the office here about eight or nine years.

McNamara named Henry C. Clifton, A. H. Weir and James Hill to be deputies at El Paso; Frank Carrioco of Hillsboro to be in charge of the Waco office; O. T. Martin of Del Valle, Austin office; and J. C. Camp, Pecos office.

The new marshal retained Fleet T. White as chief deputy. Mack Woods of Waco was appointed office deputy, succeeding Sam Wolf. W. R. Riggs, former sheriff of LaSalle County and a former State Ranger was appointed as process server in the place of George Bottsford. Willis Johnson and two clerical deputies, Misses Sallie McGee and Sadie Kullie, were retained temporarily.— Del Rio Evening News.

Mr. Laughlin, who is the father of Mrs. T. D. Moore, who with her husband ranches on the Brown estate ranch west of this city, is well and favorably known in this city and has many friends here who are glad to learn of his being appointed U. S. Deputy Marshal.

Camp Meeting At Paisano To Start July 28th

The thirteenth annual session of the Paisano Baptist encampment will be held this year beginning July 28th and running through Sunday night, August 6, according to an announcement made by Rev. Buren Spar's, pastor of the Baptist Church at Alpine and vice-president of the encampment, to the Alpine Avalanche this past week.

As usual, some of the outstanding Baptist preachers and laymen of the state will be on the program at this year's session, the Alpine Avalanche states, including Dr. George W. Truett, pastor First Baptist Church, Dallas, who has been preaching each year at the encampment since it was founded. Dr. Truett will probably preach at the evening hour each day, while Dr. W. R. White, pastor Broadway Baptist Church, Ft. Worth, will probably preach each morning, the Avalanche further states.

Each year large crowds from all over the state are in attendance at this meeting and this year a still larger attendance is expected at the annual affair.

Safe and Sane Fourth Was Observed By Sanderson Citizens

Sanderson citizens and in fact Terrell county spent a very safe and sane Fourth of July as there was no celebration held here nor at the city of Dryden.

Picnicing in nearby places was the day's diversion for an number of families while still others spent the day quietly at home or attending the afternoon matinee held at the Princess Theatre.

A large number of our citizens attended the celebrations that were held in the nearby towns of Alpine, Del Rio and Ozona, while some motored to Carlsbad to go through the Caverns and attend the big celebration held there.

Most all of the business houses were closed during the day.

Art Colony To Be Sponsored By Sul Ross Second Term

During the Second Six Weeks of the 1933 Summer Session Paul Ninas of New Orleans will conduct an Art Colony at Kokernot Park, under the direction of Sul Ross State Teachers College. Mr. Ninas is a graduate of the Akademie der Bildenden Kunstie, Vienna, Austria, and is one of the leading young artists and exhibitors of the country.

The program of work will include landscape painting, or black and white work, using the Davis Mountains as subject matter. The application of modern color theories in the building up of plastic form and the constructionist method of composition will be stressed with the purpose of developing an aesthetic appreciation of paintings rather than a critical attitude.

A certain amount of native ability in art is expected, but no previous training in art is required of registrants in the Colony, the Fee will be $15.00 for the six weeks. Teachers of public school drawing may take one additional class in public school drawing without additional cost.

Should Benefit The Big Bend

The concentration this month of 800 men in the C. C. C. camps near Santa Helena Canyon in the historic Big Bend of the Rio Grande river, will undoubtedly mean much to residents of that isolated section of the Lone Star state.

It is approximately 100 miles from the main highway and railroad at Marathon, down to the extreme point of the bend in the river. At present there is no telephone line connecting ranchers in that section with the outside world.

The establishment of the government camps will very probably bring many improvements in the way of roads, mail service and telephone connection beside giving employment to many residents of the Big Bend.

Quiet Observance of 4th

The streets of Sanderson were quiet during the Fourth. Most of the town business houses were closed all day. The peaceful lull of business activity was broken only by the occasional popping of midgeet firecrackers and the joyous whoops of juvenile celebrators.

An Untimely Remark

Frank Norris of Fort Worth, made a very untimely remark in referring to the young men in the reforestation camp as a "bunch of hoboes, throwing money away by planting out saplings that would not give shade for twenty years."

The special taxes on automobiles, gasoline, bank checks, etc., added to the customer's statement. But when it comes to a similar special 3 per cent tax on electric bills, the politicians reverse the process and make the company pay it from earnings of investors.

WHAT HOME BREW DOES

Somebody sent the editor of the Pickettown Gazette a few bottles of home brew. The same day he received for publication, a wedding announcement and a notice of an auction sale.

The chap who asked for exemption from paying an income tax because he had fallen arches reminds us of the fellow who stopped going to church because the electric lights were taken off the wall and suspended from the ceiling.

The greatest miracle that I know of is my conscience. And if God has been able to work that one, there are none of which He is not capable.

A smile will win confidence and friendship, while a frown will lend discouragement to yourself and to your neighbor.

Answer this riddle if you can: Who will pay the tax bill if taxes rise as fast during the next ten years as during the past ten, and if more tax-exempt government business reduces taxable private enterprise.

It is not because men like to fish well but because they are cleaning house at home.

Frank Traylor, minister of the Church of Christ, and Carl Lambert left Monday to visit with friends and relatives in El Paso and Fabens.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Doty and daughter of San Antonio arrived the first part of the week for a visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Doty.

Mrs. S. E. Peterson arrived here Sunday from Del Rio and is making preparations to move to this city, Mr. Peterson being transferred here by the T. & N. O.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings that affect the dinner pails, dividend checks and tax bills of every individual. National and international problems inseparable from local welfare.

The late Congress will go down in history as an extraordinary body. Its total appropriations were exceeded only by the World War Congress. Almost without a dissenting voice, it gave up to the President powers and prerogatives it has prized since revolutionary days.

1. A bill enabling the President to inflate currency by forcing the Federal Reserve to buy Government securities, to issue new currency up to $3,000,000,000, to lessen gold content of the dollar up to 50 per cent, to accept up to $200,000,000 in silver, instead of gold, in war debt payments.

2. A bill giving the President, through a coordinator, wide powers in reorganizing and revising the railroads of the country.

3. A bill authorizing the vast Federal development in the Tennessee Valley.

4. A bill creating a Civilian Conservation Corps to employ 250,000 otherwise unemployed young men in the national forests at $1.00 per day.

5. A bill authorizing the President to regulate transactions in credit, currency and other coinage; to place an embargo, in whole or in part, on gold; to forbid the hoarding of gold by an individual in excess of $100, and to restrict the activities of the Federal Reserve System.

6. A bill authorizing beer in spite of the Eighteenth Amendments, through revision of the Volstead Act.

7. A bill initiating a $1,300,000,000 public works program in the interest of employment, to be controlled by the President through a director of public works.

8. A bill to reduce agricultural acreage in production, with compensation to farmers for all land withdrawn from use.

9. A bill giving the President unprecedented control over industry, with powers to eliminate competition, fix minimum wages and maximum hours of work, regulate production, etc.

There were other bills, of course, but these are out standing. Most far reaching of all is the last--it has not yet swung into action and it is not widely understood. Operation of the bill, in relation to particular industries, will be as follows: A trade group will draw up a plan designed to settle wage, price and production problems. It will apply to the administrator of the bill for authorization to put its agreement into effect.

The bill will strike directly at "depression born businesses"--unhealthy sweatshops paying employes 15 and 20 cents a day and similar anti-social institutions, and will eliminate disastrous, depression-prolonging competition. The danger weakness in the bill is that it will very likely make it more difficult for the small business to oper-

The Livestok Situation

LOS ANGELES, July 6, 1933--Drastic curtailment of the Federal Market News Service, United States Department of Agriculture, is now in effect. However, western stockmen will be able to get complete information on the Los Angeles market, due to a cooperative agreement between the Federal government and the California State Department of Agriculture.

It has been a tradition of many years standing that producers are entitled to complete information on all transactions on the central livestock markets. Realizing that the values established on the open markets are used as a yardstick through out the country, those who transact business on these markets have always made every possible endeavor to keep the producers fully acquainted with values and market trends.

At most of the larger centers, trade newspapers have grown up with the markets. Supported by all factions of the trade and regarded as invaluable to the producers, editors of these trade papers have been jealous of their reputations for accuracy and intelligent analysis of market trends. Commission men likewise have been quick to give producers fair and impartial reports on the markets.

Most encouraging phase of the general business situation is not only that improvement has appeared in basic lines, but that it is being continued. In recent months there have been no "downs"--there have been many "ups."

The United States is not alone in experiencing signs of recovery. Unemployment in the United Kingdom has declined. Favorable factors predominate in French business indexes. Conditions in Spain are fairly satisfactory. Trade optimism persists in Canada. New Business activity is appearing in Japan. While economic conditions in New Zealand are dull, prices of export products have shown sharp rises. Prices for Philippine exports have been firm.

DENTON, June 6. Has your family revolted against eating these hot days? And are you about to follow them because your day in the kitchen is unbearable? Both of you will be glad to surrender if you make a few changes in your daily menus.

There is no need to spend the greater part of every afternoon in preparing the evening meal, and then sit down to it so heated that your own appetite is gone, and the family is equally uninterested. There are many meats, salads, and desserts which may be prepared as lunch is being cooked, stored in the ice box, and forgotten until just at meal time. These cold dishes may be just as nutritious as hot ones and more appropriate to the season.

Try serving your suppers in the living room, or on the porch. A card table may be filled in the kitchen or dining room and carried to a cool spot. You will be surprised how much zest this variation can give to suppers.

The following menus give suggestions for having a hot vegetable meal at noon, leaving the cold things for the evening.

Breakfast: Chilled cantaloupe, muffins, bacon, marmalade.

Lunch: Creamed cauliflower on toast, grilled tomatoes, Waldorf salad, Graham cracker lemon pie.

Dinner: Sliced Tongue, beet and cheese salad, potato waffles (chips) lemonade, frozen fruit Mousse.

Breakfast: Tomato juice, buttered toast, omelet.

Lunch: Harvard beets, potatoes au gratin, cole slaw, Marshmellow apples.

Dinner: Veal a la Shapleigh, pepper aspic salad, bread and butter, sandwiches with nuts, iced tea, banana pudding.

BEET AND CHEESE SALAD:
 Boil large beets, scoop out center or lash into quarters, leaving sections joined at base. To cottage cheese add mayonnaise, nuts, and seasoning, and place it inside the beet. Garnish with paprika and parsley.

FROZEN DESSERTS: Whip the amount of cream necessary for the size of the group. Add oranges, bananas, and apricots if desired. Fold together, place in pan which can be sealed, freeze in brine of salt and ice or in freezing unit of electric refrigerator.

VEAL A LA SHAPLEIGH:
 Any meat may be used, but veal is especially good. Slice a cold roast. Over slices pour a sauce made of French dressing to which 2 t catsup is added. French dressing: ½ cup salad oil, ¼ cup vinegar, salt pepper, paprika. Beat ingredients together well. Cut up celery, pickles green or stuffed olives, and lettuce, and spread over the top.

PEPPER ASPIC SALAD: Prepare tomato aspic in the following way. Boil together for 15 minutes 1 pt. can tomatoes; ½ c water, 1 c chopped celery, little onion, green pepper, cloves, mace, 1 t lemon juice, salt pepper strain and then let cool. Add 1 t granulated gelatin and let it begin to congeal.

Cut out the centers of large bell peppers and put a hard boiled egg inside. Pour stiff aspic around the egg and chill. When quite firm, slice the pepper in thick slices.

Dwayne Puckett and J. C. Green Jr., motored to Ozona Sunday and attended the celebration held there this week.

Judge G. J. Henshaw, J. I. Daniels and John Crow were Del Rio Golden Jubilee visitors the first of the week.

Tire Manufacture and Singing Color Fountain Draw Huge Crowds at "A Century of Progress"

During the early weeks of "A Century of Progress" the spectacular Firestone Factory and Exhibition Building with its Singing Color Fountain, has been a magnetic drawing power. Always noted for his advanced factory engineering Harvey S. Firestone is the only manufacturer with an exhibition of tire making at the Fair, making it possible for millions of visitors to see the patented processes and world's most efficient tire machinery.

The crowds have flocked to the amazing modernistic building at Lief Erickson Drive and 23rd Street. Thousands of people have always wanted to see tires manufactured and particularly have wanted to see how Firestone Tires were Gum-Dipped. They see at this Fair exhibition automatic machines that are almost human-chromium plated machinery that gleams as it rapidly transforms rubber into automobile tires. First in the production line, for instance, is a huge mixing machine—it weighs almost 50 tons—as the rubber is massed loud crackling sounds fill the building as if some giant were amusing himself with chewing gum.

The Firestone building differs widely from the majority in that much of the Firestone space is devoted to gardens where visitors may relax and enjoy the beauty of the spectacle.

In the great hall at "The Hall of Science" Firestone has prepared for "A Century of Progress" an educational and scientific exhibit of rubber which is attracting unusual attention.

In the gardens in front of the building is a pool 100 feet long by 15 feet wide, in which are installed six beautiful dome-shaped fountains of mist-like spray, with a jet of water in the center rising twenty feet above the surface. This marvelous fountain is known as the "Firestone Singing Color Fountain" the first one of its kind in the world. It is a marvel of beauty and scientific development. The world's greatest electrical engineers have worked for years on the various principles combined in this construction. Voice and instrumental concerts are given day and night by this Singing Color Fountain.

Submerged beneath each fountain dome is a battery of colored lights that will reflect varied hues and shades upon the misty fountain domes, and these variations of color will be synchronized perfectly with the shadings of the musical notes, and with the rise and fall of the water.

Overlooking the building and gardens is another scientific marvel that is the first construction of its kind. It is in the form of a sign eighty feet long. Its shadow planes are placed one upon the other and the results that you get is an ever-changing multi-colored array of lights blending into one another—advancing toward you and then receding.

In the Exhibition Hall are the dynamic displays showing by the aid of scientific and engineering development and by electrical devices the marvelous progress that has been made in automotive products and their service to the motoring public.

A BANK REFLECTS THE LIFE ABOUT IT

Loans and Investments on Which Condition of a Bank Depends Determined by the Kind of Business Surrounding It

POLITICAL and popular misapprehensions toward banking are due to little else than failure to realize that it is what the people themselves do that the condition of banking reflects, and that banking cannot of itself reflect events and conditions other than those that actually originate from surrounding circumstances. Francis H. Sisson, President of the American Bankers Association, says in an article in Forum Magazine.

The character of an institution's notes and investments indicates whether it is in the farm regions, a manufacturing center, a mercantile neighborhood or a great financial district, he says, and furthermore, besides identifying the institution as to its locality, a study of its notes will equally clearly indicate the economic conditions surrounding it.

"If a farm district bank's note history shows that its loans rise and fall with the normal cycle of production and marketing of the products of the region, it may be taken as an index of economic good health for the locality," he says. "But if, over a period, the loan volume shows a declining trend it may mean a region that is being drained—becoming exhausted or being robbed of business by another community. Or if a large proportion of the loans are not paid at maturity but are chronically renewed, or if stocks or bonds or real estate have to be taken as additional security, these too are economic signposts, reflecting perhaps crop failures, over-production or inefficient, high cost farming methods in a highly competitive national or world market, such as wheat, inevitably all these facts are reflected in the condition of the local banks.

City Banks, Too

"If the loans of a bank in a manufacturing or merchandising field show a smoothly running condition with production and distribution they, too, mirror a healthy economic situation. Or there may be here also signs that reflect growing unfavorable conditions, such as excessive loan renewals, over-enthusiasm and therefore over-expansion of credit extended to makers or dealers in particular products, and similar circumstances. Similar conditions apply to banks engaged in financing the activities of the securities markets.

"The foregoing is merely suggestive of the infinite aspects of the life outwardly surrounding the banks which form and control their internal conditions. Although these facts seem obvious enough, the discussions and criticisms that have raged about the banks often appear to set them apart as somehow separate from the lives of our people, casting forth a malignant influence upon agriculture, industry and trade from forces generated wholly within themselves.

"The truth of the matter is that the fate of the banks is inseparably interwoven with the fate of the rest of the people and of the nation. What happened to the country happened to the banks and what happened to the banks is in no way different or detached from what happened to the people. They are all part of the same pattern, of the same continuous stream of events. No one element in that stream can be called the cause of business depression.

"If the banks caused trouble to some of our people it was because they were irresistibly forced to pass on troubles that came to them from other people. These troubles impaired the values of their securities and customers' notes—and rendered some unable, in turn, to pay back to other customers their deposits that had been properly used to create these loans and investments. Unless these truths are kept continually in mind there is no such thing as approaching an understanding of the banking problem or of properly safeguarding the very heavy stake of the public in that problem."

San Angelo Bank To Pay Dividend of $4

SAN ANGELO, July 3.—Directors of the Central National Bank in a meeting yesterday afternoon voted to declare a $4 a share dividend on the 5,000 shares of the stock of the company.

Under the new law, the bank must hold out 5 per cent of the sum declared in dividend and pay it to the government. This will mean that the stockholders will receive $3.80 net per share from the bank or $19,000 and the government will get $1,000.

20 Minutes versus ---Three Hours

Have your neighbors ever dropped into your home to borrow the weekly collection of circular letters, hand bills, etc., that the users think are as good as advertising in your favorite country newspaper?—Menomonee (Wis.) Falls News

Few people realize the actual coverage of even the most modest country newspaper. Not so long ago an advertising expert was quoted as saying that careful research had ascertained that a certain well known metropolitan paper is read, on an average, for the space of 20 minutes, while the average country newspaper has a "reading life" of 3 hours to its credit! It is kept round the house for a week and everyone in the family takes his turn in going through its pages.

That is something for both subscriber and advertiser to think about.
