State Amendments Carry In County By Large Majority

COUNTY VOTES WET ON REPEAL AND FOR BEER

Light Balloting In County Marks Saturday's Election

A very light vote was polled all over this county last Saturday at the special election which was held only 258 voters going to the polls and signifying their intentions in regard to the amendments, repeal and beer.

All amendments and the beer and repeal carried in this county by a large majority. No local option election was held as this county was wet before Prohibition went into effect and thus will remain as such unless a petition is presented to call an election.

Total votes cast for the repeal of the 18th amendment were 179 with 23 voting against the repeal. A total of 195 votes for the Home Rule Charter were cast with 42 voting against same. 208 votes were cast for the Bond issue with 41 voting against same. On the amendment authorizing the sale of 3.2 per cent beer, 191 voted in favor of same and 61 were against it. The Homestead amendment received 192 votes with 61 citizens against it.

The Commissioners Court met in a special session Monday morning and canvassed the returns as given above.

Press reports from all over the State are to the effect that the amendments as well as the repeal issues carried by a large majority.

Church Of Christ Revival Closes With 29 Additions

The revival meeting which began Sunday, August 20, at the local Church of Christ, closed Sunday night, August 27, with 29 additions to the local church, 17 of these being baptisms. The services were in charge of Evangelist Frank Traylor, minister of the church, and R. N. Allen, song director.

The auditorium of the church was filled each evening and at the last service all available seats were occupied. Several have remarked that the crowd Sunday night was the largest that has ever attended any church service in Sanderson.

This revival was one of the best that has ever been held in Sanderson.

Rev. Traylor is a young man, only 29 years old, but he spoke with conviction from God's word. He will close his summer's work with this church next Sunday and leaves next week for Abilene Christian College. The public is invited to hear his last address here.—Contributed.

More space has been sold at the State Fair of Texas for the 1933 exposition than has been sold in the past three years, it has been announced by directors in charge of the space and concession departments. One reason for the increase in the demand for space is the Texas Manufacturers Show which will occupy one half of the Main Exhibit Building.

Archie Burns, ranch foreman for the Woodward-Smith Cattle Company, underwent an operation for appendicitis Friday night of last week at a San Antonio hospital. He was doing fine according to latest reports.

TEXANS HAVE MANY NEW LAWS SINCE AUG. 30

Greater Liberty Provided By Most, Some Are Restrictive

AUSTIN—A new set of laws was added to Texas statutes August 30 with the expiration of the 90-day enacting period for acts passed by the 43rd legislature.

Greater liberty is provided by most of the new laws but some will restrict citizens.

For instance, wild flower pickers who have loaded their cars with shrubbery, wild flowers, moss and branches taken from countryside must beware. No longer may they invade the enclosed land of another without permission nor property set aside by the state as a park or animal preserve. Unfenced private property may be invaded. Violations are punishable by fine ranging from $1 to $10. Children under 17 may pick wild flowers at will.

After four years restriction lovers get a break. The "gin marriage law" will be repealed in part. No longer will it be necessary to file "intentions to wed" three days in advance of issuance of a marriage license.

Prize fighting, banned in the state since 1895, becomes legal under regulations. Parimutuel wagering at licensed race tracks, without posting of odds, will be permitted September 1. And as the vote is favorable on revision of state prohibition, 3.2 beer sales will be legal after September 15.

With the passing of the 90th day following the last legislature owners of natural gas wells in fields of 300-1000 acres may use the gas for extracting gasoline if no market is made available.

Spanish may be taught in elementary schools in counties along the Mexican border with cities of more than 5,000 and Latin and Greek may be taught in high school. College tuition fees are raised and students from other states will be required to pay the same fees charged Texas students in their home states. Abolition of teachers institutes to save money is authorized.

Labor laws becoming effective strengthen the penalty clause in the old law against employment of women more than nine hours a day or 54 hours a week; require payment of prevailing local wage on public work; and prescribe fees for barber examinations and shop inspection.

New Law Reduces Tuition At Sul Ross College

A law passed by the Forty-Third Legislature prorates fees charged by the State Institutes of higher learnings on the basis of the number of subjects for which a registrant schedules.

Under the provisions of this law, people who live in a college town or adjacent thereto may schedule for one subject at the rate of $7.50 for a semester of four and one-half months or $15.00 for the nine months Under the old law a charge of $10.00 for each Quarter, or $30.00 for the nine months, was charged each student regardless of the number of subjects taken.

STRICT RULES LAID DOWN ON SALE OF BEER

Beverage May Not Legally Be Sold Before Sept. 15

The stein song, frowned on in Texas since the advent of prohibition, will again become popular when sale of the foaming beverage is declared legal on the morning of September 15. On and after that date Texans may walk into places dispensing the "cup that cheers", order a McGinty, blow off the foam and drink without fear of snooping prohibition agents.

Passage of the amendment legalizing the sale of beer will mean approximately $3,000,000 additional revenue annually for the state, according to Representative P. L. Anderson, author of Texas' 3.2 bill.

Of this sum, according to terms of the beer amendment, one-half will go into the school fund and the other half to the general fund, bringing about a substantial reduction in the state ad valorem tax rate, he said.

Retailers have to pay $100 for a state license and $50 for a county license. In addition to state and county license fees beer dispensers will pay a $20 federal tax. The beer also provides for the assessment by the state of a tax of $1.50 a barrel on all sold, stored or distributed in the state or imported across its borders.

Many stringent regulations are placed upon dealers and manufacturers by provisions of the bill. For example:

The word "saloon" must not be used. No manufacturer or distributor is allowed to own any interest in the business of any retail dealer selling 3.2 beer.

Applicants for licenses for manufacture of 3.2 beer must file a petition with the county judge, must be law-abiding citizens, must be over 21 years of age, and must have been residents in a county at least two years.

Applicants for licenses for retail places must make similar affidavits and must also swear that they have contributed to no campaign fund of a candidate for any public office in the two years previous to the time of their application.

Citizens are given the right to contest facts stated in petitions for licenses and are given the right to dispute the petitioner's right for a license. If denied, the applicant is allowed to appeal to the district court within 30 days.

Full inspection by representatives of the state comptroller's office of any place where 3.2 beer is stored is allowed. The law provides that no person under 18 years old shall be employed in a 3.2 establishment, and that no person under 21 years old be sold beer. A fine and jail term may be assessed for violation of either provision.

Beer may not be sold between the hours of 12 p. m. and 7 a. m. on week days, after 12 p. m., Saturday until 7 a. m. Monday. Any person who manufactures or sells beer is prohibited from contributing to the campaign funds of any candidate for public office.

Beer may not be sold within 200 feet of a church or school, nor within 300 feet of the state capital. Sale is prohibited on any day of a general primary election or general election between the hours of 7 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Licenses will be revoked at places where immoral practices are permitted or where illegal liquors are being sold. Blinds or barriers over doors or windows are banned by the bill.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Nunn of San Antonio visited over the week end with Dr. and Mrs. James C. Sharp. Dr. Nunn is a recognized baby specialist of San Antonio and he and family were enroute to points West on their vacation.

SANDERSON TO HAVE AN X-RAY MACHINE SOON

Dr. Halbert Announces He Will Install Latest Model

The Times has been informed by Dr. E. K. Halbert that he has purchased a new Victor X-ray of the latest type and that shipment of same has already been made from the Chicago factory of the General Electric X-ray Corporation.

From the description furnished this office by Dr. Halbert we believe this machine will fill a long felt need of the people of this county. The X-ray is not only powerful enough to do dental work but will also do anything that might be necessary in the field of general medicine. Any and all parts of the body may be successfully x-rayed with the apparatus. In addition the machine may be used for fluoroscopic work and for x-ray treatments. It is a mobile unit and may be carried to the home of a patient for bedside radiographs. One of the most important features of this x-ray is that it is absolutely 100% shock proof. Being a shock proof machine and without any exposed high tension wires makes it possible to obtain radiographs or make fluoroscopic examinations of various parts of the body from any angle desired with absolutely no danger of shock either to the patient or the operator.

Sanderson is also fortunate in having three medical doctors who are men of wide experience in the use of x-rays and in the interpretation of radiographs. This machine will no doubt prove of inestimable value to these men in both diagnosis and treatment.

Dr. Halbert further states that the General Electric X-ray Corporation will send a factory man to Sanderson to install the machine and give instructions in the operation of this particular x-ray.

As soon as the machine arrives and is installed and ready for service the public will be notified through the columns of this paper.

Moderation Asked By Johnson In Blue Eagle Drive

WASHINGTON D. C., Aug. 28.—(AP)—In a speech formally opening the drive to get the entire nation under the NRA, Hugh S. Johnson pleaded with the American people tonight to "buy under the blue eagle" but to abstain from "boycott, intimidation or violence."

Promising that "wherever the blue eagle flies we shall keep his wings clean and his talon sharp," Johnson said in a plainly worded address that "even a shadow" of boycott, intimidation and violence, would "spoil this whole endeavor."

The industrial administrator's speech, constituting marching orders for an army of 1,500,000 volunteer workers who will canvass the nation in the drive beginning today, was an attempt to clear up misunderstandings which have arisen in the wake of the NRA's swift moving recovery campaign.

At the same time Johnson voiced confidence in the successful culmination of the drive, and estimated that even as it begins between 70 and 80 per cent of the nation's employers in trade and industry are under the blue eagle.

N. M. SPRING MOHAIR SELLS AT 30 AND 40c

145,000 Pounds Sold At Roswell By Angora Association

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 27—Mohair appears to be off again on one of its dramatic recoveries. The Associated Press yesterday reported the sale of 145,000 pounds of spring mohair in New Mexico at prices of 30 cents for grown and 40 cents for kid hair, a total of $45,195. The sale was made to Draper and Company of Boston at Roswell and was announced by the Pinion-Avis Angora Goat Association at Artesia N. M.

The New Mexico sale made predictions of West Texas warehousemen last week that grown hair would bring a minimum of 40 cents and kid hair a minimum of 55 cents this fall a conservative estimate. Buyers are actively interested in mohair now, some purchases having been made at Brady, Mason, San Saba, San Angelo, Kerrville, Fredericksburg and other points at prices ranging from 25 to 30 cents for grown hair.

EXTRA SESSION WILL CONVENE ON SEPT. 11

Legislature Will Be Called Soon Jim Ferguson Announces

AUSTIN, Aug. 26. (AP)—James E. Ferguson, husband of the governor, said today the legislature would be convened in extraordinary session about September 11.

Ferguson pointed out that the legislature could not do anything until the returns of the special election were officially canvassed with reference to the four proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Laws placing the state's unemployment relief program into effect since the $20,000,000 bond issue has been authorized, will be enacted, and statutes passed and other amended to give industry a chance to more fully comply with the president's relief plan.

A proposed sales tax levy also is likely to be proposed as a means of providing additional revenue with which to operate the state government. Some legislators already had advanced the sales tax as a source from which the relief bond issue could be maintained and liquidated.

DRY ARROYAS RUN AS HEAVY SHOWERS FALL

Ranges In This Section Are Benefitted By Precipitation

A few days ahead of schedule this fall the annual September rain and storm period broke over this section, and, from press reports, practically all over the State, Tuesday night, steady down pour of rain began falling. The rainfall continued at intervals throughout Wednesday and Thursday.

Storm warnings were issued along the Texas gulf coast early in the week. The Panhandle section was visited by torrential rains Tuesday. Ordinarily dry arroyos and slow running streams of the western part of the state became raging torrents over night due to continued heavy rains in the Trans-Pecos and Panhandle sections.

Heavy rains and storms lashed the Atlantic coast during the latter part of August, flooding many cities and causing extensive damage to property.

The rainfall in this section will greatly benefit ranges which have long suffered from lack of moisture.

Reports from the various ranches are that good rains have fallen and that in some places the precipitation was heavier than in others. Sections west of this city have been receiving rains off and on for the past week or so.

A total of 1 inch of rain had fallen in the city up to noon Thursday.

No Rules Against Blue Eagle In Ads Johnson Says

WASHINGTON.—Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator recently interpreted his warning against misuse of the blue eagle as having no effect on its publication in newspaper advertisements.

"Another misinterpretation is in relation to a notice warning people against racketeers who are attempting to get people using the blue eagle to pay for inclusion in a so-called roll of honor," Johnson said. "Some people have construed this as preventing newspaper from selling advertising space for the announcement of blue eagle firms and individuals."

"That is an absurdity. The NRA wants all publicity given to the use of the emblem and, obviously, there are no strings on the newspapers as to the form, shape or character of their ads so long as the advertisers are bona fide members of the blue eagle fraternity."

DREAMERS

(By H. A. Stuart)

Not practical, no business ability—a dreamer. Occasionally we hear someone thus characterized by matter-of-fact business executives. The writer has always been interested in and partial to dreamers; nevertheless. Possibly because he, too, is a dreamer.

Most dreamers are, it seems, happy possessors of philosophic analytic minds. They calmly watch, as from afar, the mad rush of the mob in its ceaseless efforts to acquire wealth, power and the pleasures of life.

They know by inherent instinct that the banner, which the breeze of the morning flaunts highest, with the evening may trail in the dust; that the mad seekers after pleasures often meet with the same fate as the proverbial moth attracted by the candle's flame. They know, too, that the real, abiding pleasures are to be found in the simple things of life.

Millet, the great painter, was a dreamer. He died in poverty but left some of the world's greatest canvases for lovers of art to reverently gaze upon.

And not all the dreamers are failures, even in the eyes of the financial world—some of them sell their dreams.

Not one of the towering structures of steel and stone that grace the streets of our cities today was erected without being first envisioned by some dreaming architect.

Lofty cathedral spires, gleaming electric lights, inspiring musical compositions, soft moonlight scenes, caught by the eye of the artist and transferred to canvases—each the culmination some individual's dreams.

This would be a drab, colorless old world indeed if we had no dreamers.

Just around the Corner

Even big-city folks must have their "neighborhood stores"! Most of them would no more think of going down town to fight their way through the crowds in search of a roast for dinner than they would of walking to the factory to get a pair of shoes.

City women know that their neighborhood stores can supply them just what they want — and that, in most cases, the service is more alert and friendly.

The same thing is true of this "neighborhood". Our merchants—the men whose ads you read in this paper — are in position to furnish your home with the best and most popular brands of goods. Not only can they save you money, but they gladly relieve you of a lot of worry and loss of time.

BANKERS PREPARE FARM FINANCE BOOK

Tells Bankers and Farmers
What to Consider in Making
Sound Loans

A book on "Making Farm Investments Safe" has been prepared by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, summarizing material published by it during the past ten years. It presents a compendium of scientific facts, practice and experience in farming, with timely and helpful suggestions to serve as a reference and guide in the daily routine of banking and farming. From it practical workers in these fields can obtain an idea as to what extent and in what manner farm loans should be limited by soil erosion, weeds, plant diseases, rodents and fire hazards, etc.

The book also indicates how much is added to the security of a farm loan by the farmer who keeps accounts and practices good business methods, as well as the extent to which loans are safeguarded by crop rotation, production of legumes, judicious use of commercial fertilizers, the use of quality seed and the providing of home grown feeds.

Another section sets forth the precautions that should be exercised by both the banker and farmer when negotiating loans to increase or improve dairy production, or beef, sheep, swine or poultry production, as well as what factors should be considered in the economic marketing of products and the way efficiency in production affects the efficiency in marketing. Many other everyday details of farm life that have a practical financial significance are treated in the book. A particular important section deals with experience with farm leases and another with directed farm credit.

MEAT, POTATOES and GRAVY

MANY a meal is built around these three standbys—meat, potatoes and gravy. Invariably they are the first dishes that come to your mind as you plan your dinner.

But in spite of their hunger-satisfying and nourishing qualities, this time-honored triumvirate can become monotonous unless it is supplemented by other dishes.

However, it is often a problem to find these "side dishes" in your own head. Of course you can quiz your neighbor, or ask the members of your family what they would like. But even this source of information is often lacking in ideas.

The thing to do is read the advertisements in your newspaper. Every week your local markets display their foodstuffs on those printed pages. You'll read of new vegetables and fruits that have "just arrived." Your appetite will be aroused by the tasty creations of national food manufacturers. With pencil and paper you can make your market list and menus before you step out of the house.

Speaking of monotony, consider this. There are 11 different cuts of beef, 9 cuts of veal, 7 of lamb, 10 of pork; there are at least 20 different breakfast cereals sold in every shop, 16 different canned vegetables, 6 canned fruits, a dozen or more canned Why should there be monotony in meals with such a variety of foods available at your store and so many of them advertised in your paper?
