ROAD BUILDING PROGRAM AIMS OF NEW BILL

Legislature Is Asked To Provide $7,000,000 For Work

(Special To The Times)
AUSTIN, TEXAS, Sept. 30.—A public works program, featuring the building of lateral roads in Texas to benefit the rural population of the state while also furnishing self-respecting employment to the needy, with 15 per cent available for direct charity in actual distress, the absolute elimination of overhead costs with control by heads of five state departments, are the safeguards which a bill by Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman would throw around the first $7,000,000 which the legislature is advised to provide under the voters' August authorization of the $20,000,000 bond issue.

Evidence in hearings before the senate committee of the whole showed that at present no public works are being built, that Texans are given outright doles, that administrative costs are 16 per cent higher than the average of the states, that the fund control is exercised by unofficial persons and excessive salaries paid.

The Woodward bill proposes to correct this by placing the spending of the money for roads and dirt need as a duty on the commissioners' courts of the several counties. By providing for roads and sanitary construction it is estimated that the great bulk of unemployment could be ended by providing work which would enable Texans to earn their living and also provide needed public improvements.

The pre-election legislative guaranty of economy and prudence in the handling of this vast sum and that political jobs would not be created is carried out in Senator Woodward's idea in designating the chairman of the board of control, state highway commission, industrial accident board, board of water engineers and state health officer to administer the bond issue.

A resolution to accompany the bill will urge the federal government to adopt the same plan for its Texas contribution, thus eliminating the federal overhead and assuring the entire amount to relieve need and unemployment. Indications are that the Woodward bill represents the crystallized thoughts of his fellow legislators as a result of the conditions revealed at the hearing and that it or similar provisions will be the measure which will be passed at the special session.

ROAD FOREMAN INJURED
Last Thursday afternoon, W. W. Laughlin, county road foreman, had the misfortune to have three ribs on his left side tore loose from his back bone when the grader he was using struck a solid rock, throwing him up against the wheels.

He was brought into town and his injuries were attended to by Dr. W. H. Doty. Mr. Laughlin has been able to be up since the first of the week and is getting along nicely.

A BIT OF PHILOSOPHY
By E. V. WHITE, DEAN Texas State College For Women (CIA)

Telling lies on another may not be as bad as telling the truth on him.

Making up your mind to change it is not a decision.

Being broke is inconvenient even when it is fashionable.

It is foolish to practice day-light saving and moon-light spending.

Capt. C. Loyd Stafford and daughter, Miss Peggy, of Fort Clark, visited Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Utterback and family on Tuesday of this week. They were enroute to El Paso to attend the annual Army Horse Show and Tournament that is being held in that city this week.

This County has already sent 5 young men to this camp the boys being sent to Lampasas after a two-weeks training at Camp Bullis. The boys that formerly went from here were Fleming Powell, Elmer Haas, J. Riley Dunham, Matias Guterrez, and Norman Harold East. Guterrez was discharged early in the service and Powell received his discharge the past week and Haas and Dunham re-enlisted. They all report that they like the camp life fine and was well pleased with food served them.

Four instructors have been added to the faculty to take care of the increase in enrollment.

Driveway, Parking Space At The Kerr Hotel Is Improved

This past week, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Downum, managers of the Kerr Hotel and Cafe, have completed a beautiful driveway and parking space on the north side of the hotel facing the highway.

About the center of the parking space a mound was made and on this the word "Kerr" was made by means of white native rocks. Native cacti and shrubbery have been placed around the curb and this lends a very neat as well as attractive decoration for the grounds.

HOUSE SEEKING EXTENSION OF MORTGAGE LAW

First 180 Day Period Will Expire Late This Month

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP)—A resolution was adopted asking Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson to submit re-enactment of a law to allow judicial stay of mortgage foreclosures.

The law was passed at the regular session and its constitutionality now is being tested in the state courts.

Opponents of the resolution asserted it had been declared unconstitutional by several courts and that it would be futile to re-enact it.

"Yes, it was declared unconstitutional by a 'pee-wee' court in San Antonio in a dicta opinion," Representative Joe Greathouse of Fort Worth, who sponsored the bill at the regular session, said. "The question of constitutionality was not before the court but the court took it on itself to declare it unconstitutional."

Greathouse said a similar law had been held constitutional by the Minnesota supreme court under the general welfare clause of the constitution and the decision now was pending before the United States Supreme Court.

The law provides that property owners in danger of foreclosures may plead that forced sale of their property will not bring its actual value. Judges were given power to stay foreclosures for 180 days and to grant an extension of an additional 180 days on similar showing.

The first 180-day period will expire October 27. Re-enactment was sought to allow property owners who did not take advantage of the first 180-day stay to avail themselves of the second 180-day extension.

Highest Prices In Three Years Paid At Billings Sale

Billings, Mont., (AP)—The highest prices since 1930 were recorded here at the fifth Billings purebred ram sale an index revealed.

The top was within $5 of the 1930 high of $60, while averages were approximately doubled over 1932 figures.

Montana and Wyoming ranchers paid $13,965.50 for 725 rams and 25 ramboillet ewes the statistics reveal.

The top price of $55 was paid by John Schroeder of Billings for a ramboillet yearling from the Deer Lodge Farms Company of Anaconda.

Sales officials said they were surprised at the trend manifested toward ramboillet, which last year were held in scant favor at the local sale. The breed topped the sale with an average return of $23.64. Hampshires brought $15.09 and crossbreeds $20.85.

Roosevelt Believes Banks Should Give Normal Credit Now

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—President Roosevelt believes banks "should provide the normal credit requirements for business" for "otherwise the recovery program must suffer."

He presented his views in a letter to Jesse Jones, Reconstruction Corporation chairman, approving a reduction from five to four per cent in the charge for RFC funds advanced to banks through preferred stock purchases. Jones made the letter public.

Simultaneously, the NRA set October 9 for starting a national "Buy Now" campaign, in another contribution to the concerted federal effort toward credit expansion.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Brown left the latter part of last week for Chicago where they are attending the Century of Progress Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. O'Bryant, Jr., returned last Friday from a visit with relatives in San Antonio and San Marcos.

28 CENTS HIGH OFFER FOR FALL WOOL IN TEXAS

Buyers Seek Contracts At 25 To Above 26 Cents; Few Sales Made

SAN ANGELO, OCT. 3.—Offers to contract Texas fall wools were being made yesterday by several Boston firms, at prices known to range from 25 in excess of 26 cents a pound, while one of the highest clips in the state was the subject of a reported offer of 28 cents. This big clip comes from one of the best flocks of sheep in Texas, a flock that is well bred and is known for the desirable character of its wool. No sales were reported, but scattered buying has been going on. Some clips brought into town and sold to buyers have gone at prices ranging from 23 to 26 cents.

Wool is coming into the warehouses now. The Wool Growers Central Storage Company of this city has about 150,000 pounds on hand and has sold this fall 115,000 pounds. There are reports here that the Schreiner Wool and Mohair Company at Kerrville, and that some of the Del Rio warehouses are planning sealed bid sales.

In Crockett County, Early Baggett has finished shearing, Eli Hagelstein, Alvin Harrell, George Harrell are shearing and will send their 9,000 fleeces in to the Texas Wool and Mohair Company of this city. This warehouse has about 100,000 pounds of fall wool on hand now.

Some consignments are going forward to the east. Some ranchmen report they have been asked by buyers to shear.

Chisos Mountains To Furnish Theme For A Botanical Survey

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Oct. 5.—A complete study of the various forms of vegetation found on the Chisos Mountains is one of the botanical surveys planned for the future by Dr. B. C. Tharp, associate professor of botany at The University of Texas.

These mountains are situated far down in the Big Bend region of the upper Rio Grande border of Texas. While he has a considerable knowledge of the flora of the mountain regions, some of which he gained during a brief visit there, it is Dr. Tharp's ambition to make a complete survey of the region, since many species of vegetation are peculiar to that particularly locality. Notwithstanding the timberless desert region which spreads out from the foot of the mountains the higher slopes of the imposing range are forested with long leaf pine, pinion, fir, varieties of oaks, Arizona cypress and other trees, some species of which are strangers to those latitudes.

The Chisos Mountains have been comparatively little explored, except by the members of the United States Geodetic Survey which some years ago measured Mt. Emory and pronounced it to be the highest mountain in Texas. Attesting this fact is the survey monument placed near the top of the peak which gives the altitude at 9,996 feet.

Only a few days ago the report came out of the Big Bend country that smoke was issuing from an extinct volcano on the upper slope of Mt. Emory, and that the people of San Vicente were much aroused over the possibility that the long-slumbering volcano was awakening and that it might give forth an eruption of lava and ashes.

Besides the forest of a great variety of trees, many kinds of rare shrubs and plants grow in the well watered canyons of the mountains. Pure water springs create running streams which disappear into the earth before the surface level of the mountains is reached. All in all, it is a mysterious and little known region which offers wonderful opportunities for research along botanical and possibly other lines, according to Dr. Tharp.

Miss Clara Shurley is in town this week from the Joe F. Brown ranch, attending the Methodist Revival.

PORK FOR THIS COUNTY WILL ARRIVE SOON

1,005 Pounds To Be Distributed By Relief Committee

Terrell County is to receive 1,005 pounds of dry salt pork for distribution to the destitute unemployed. The pork will arrive in the carload shipment that is expected in Del Rio the last of this week and will be shipped to here by truck. It will probably be the first of the week before the shipment is received here.

In all, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration has allotted Texas as 3,810,000 pounds of the meat to be distributed to its unfortunates throughout the winter, according to Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission.

Later on the local relief board expect to receive butter, eggs and flour to be distributed to the unemployed who are in destitute circumstances.

The girls of the Home Economics Department, directed by Miss Williams, presented the program at the chapel Tuesday morning.

The first number on the program was a Tap Dance skit, "School Days" by Mary Ferguson and Mildred Staveley. This was followed by a monologue, "Bachelor's Dilemma". Those taking part were: Lillian Haley, as the bachelor advertising for a housekeeper; Thelma Haley, as the untidy girl; Dorothy Lewellen, as the peasant type girl; Florence Hurst, as the ten-cent-store type; Ruby Lee Haines, as negro woman; Nell Lee and Mildred Hurst, pickaninies; Mildred Underwood, flapper and Joy Wyatt, the choice as a housekeeper and wife.

Josefa Perez and Olivia Guterrez then sang a Spanish song, "Don't let her cry." They were accompanied by Laurence Guterrez.

The last number was a one act clothing play, "The Charm of the Old Album." The characters in this play were: Anna Lee Allen, the mother; Mildred Staveley, young daughter; Zada Van Cleave, the grandmother and Mildred Fawcett, the aunt.

SGT. McCABE IS TRANSFERRED TO SAN ANTONIO

Commanding Officer At Airport Leaves This Week

By JACK C. BELL

Orders have been received at the U. S. Army Airdrome, Dryden, Texas, that Staff Sergeant Harold M. McCabe will be relieved from command of that station and will report to San Antonio for duty. Sgt. McCabe will be replaced by Staff Sgt. Homer L. Richardson, who is now on duty at the control office, Southwestern Airways, Fort Sam Houston Texas.

For the past five years Sergeant McCabe has been in command of the Airdrome at Dryden. When he first took charge the only indication of an airdrome was a huge dilapidated hangar and a war cantonment which housed radio station "WYY" and a meteorological station. The building was a fire hazard.

No accommodations were available at that time, to live at the post making it necessary for the personnel on duty to reside in town. The existing conditions made service at the station very unpleasant and inconvenient.

It was through Sgt. McCabe's intercession and influence that this station, in a comparatively short time, has become a place of beauty and activity. The servicing facilities have changed from the old system of pumping gas and oil, by hand from a drum, to an electrical system requiring a mere push of a button. The radio station is now equipped with modern transmitter and receivers while the meteorological equipment is considered to be the best and most modern in the service. All of these changes are due to the interest displayed by Sgt. McCabe.

Recently the approximate amount of $17,000 was spent at this station for construction of a building containing four very modern apartments for the use of married enlisted men. An up-to-date windmill was also constructed. Most of the credit for this work, of course, goes to Capt. William M. Allison, Construction Quartermaster, 8th Corps Area, and 1st Lt. Thad V. Foster, Air Corps, Control Officer, Southwestern Airways. And yet, Sgt. McCabe played no small part in getting these improvements here. It was through his efforts that this field was re-rated intermediate field from e-

BREWSTER ROAD PROJECT IS LET LAST THURSDAY

Pecos County Firm Is Low Bidders For The Project

Bids on emergency highway construction aggregating $1,621,710 were tabulated by the Texas highway department last Thursday as part of the government's national recovery program. Formal awards of the contracts were withheld pending approval of the bids by the federal bureau of public roads, which was expected to be forthcoming immediately.

West Texas projects that were let Thursday included Brewster County, five miles grading and drainage structures, caliche base and single bituminous surface from 15 miles east of Marathon to within 37 miles west of this city, Highway 3. C. E. Armstrong and sons, Pecos, were the successful bidders at $42,931.38.

In all probability the construction work will start about October 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee McCue and son, were Del Rio visitors last Friday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. McCue's sister, Mrs. D. Ambrose of Clinto, Mo., who will visit here for awhile.

Miss Rosa Dunman, of San Angelo spent several days here this week visiting with friends.

DISCLOSURES

The publicity that has been given thus far to Jim Ferguson's bank account this year may provide some difficulty for the hewer of wood and carrier of water when income tax time comes around again.

A bank clerk at Austin Saturday disclosed that the Ferguson bank account had increased approximately $66,000 in this year of the depression. This apparent success when many persons are seeking to get off the relief rolls shows fortune to play favorites or reveals most everybody else passing up the opportunities that are borne of hard times.

ONE GREAT DIFFERENCE FROM FALLEN SYSTEMS

The history of the world thus far has been a tale of myriad fast growing civilizations and modes of living which climbed to their peak, clung on for a time more or less unsteadily, and then plunged downward only to be succeeded soon by another plan.

And the parallels between the troubles which assailed those social systems and our own are numerous. The situations look perilously alike except for one thing: The civilizations of the past had no newspapers worthy of that title as we use it today.

Complete and accurate information on business and political conditions and the astounding ability of the American to adjust himself quickly to suddenly changed conditions, as witness response to the N. R. A., give us in this day an advantage over all other social systems that have come to their "zero" hour.

The use of land is the best form of unemployment insurance.—Henry Ford.

No man is so ignorant but may teach us something.

When Uncle Sam drives an individual out of business by selling below cost of production, who pays the taxes of the "evicted" business man? Ask us an easy one. The consumer is the "last man". He pays it.

PEOPLE MORE SYMPATHETIC

A man said a few days ago that this depression we are going through is having a good effect on the race.

He observed that people are becoming more sympathetic toward each other and each other's problems; that the depression, bringing hardships, is bringing character, as adversity always does.

We have written before that prosperity is a poor field for character building; that it takes adversity to build character. Every day the truth of this becomes clearer. Common problems throw us all more or less upon the arm of our fellowmen for support.

What we need is an automobile that is afraid of trains.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. DARROW Extension Service Editor

What to do with retired cotton acres has not stumped Texas farmers. From every part of Texas reports from county agents come pouring into Extension Service headquarters describing good uses to which extra acres have been put or are about to be put.

There is Garrett Moulton in Franklin county who planted corn in the cotton middles before plowing up the contracted crop. With the help of a few showers he has the prospect of a better corn crop than on his regular land.

In Tyeir county 90% of the farmers have planted fall gardens and half of them are sowing oats, rye, rye grass and hairy vetch for winter grazing and later plowing under to enrich the soil.

A permanent use for old cotton acres may be the growing of sorghum for syrup. In Bastrop county mills have increased four-fold in three years as a result of demonstrations in growing better sorghum cane.

Gonzales county farmers are said to be looking forward to the new cotton contracts with the idea of grooming the retired land up a few years by terracing and planting soil building legumes.

The Livestock Situation

J. A. McNAUGHTON

Livestock Situation

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—Stockmen are awaiting with much interest the final announcement of the signing of the code for the meat industry. It appears that the code will be formally approved by the Secretary of Agriculture within the next few days.

The code is revolutionary in many respects in that processors are not only permitted to organize for the purpose of cutting operating costs and establishing prices but it is the essence of the agreement that this shall be done. It is the avowed purpose of the code to re-establish prices to stockmen on the basis of purchasing power during the prewar period, August 1909 to 1914.

That the code and subsequent marketing agreements will be beneficial to the livestock industry goes without question. The quicker the code is put into effect, the sooner we may hope for improvement in livestock prices.

Western growers are vitally concerned in efforts to bring about immediate relief to the industry. Cattle prices at this time are very low—much lower than a year ago.

Feed prices are still high in relation to livestock prices. Coupled with this condition, range feed is the poorest in many years in most sections of the western country so that producers are not in position to carry over normal numbers of livestock.

While the signing of the code will no doubt help to clarify the atmosphere and instill some additional confidence into the minds of stockmen and feeders, the thing that appears to be most needed is broadened buying power. President Roosevelt's attitude towards currency inflation or credit inflation may have a great deal to do with providing buying power.

All fruits should be thoroughly ripe with the exception of bananas, they should be cooked as should all vegetables except lettuce, cabbage, celery or carrots which may be finely minced and used for sandwich fillings. A large portion of children's illnesses during the spring and summer are due to eating uncooked fruits or vegetables or unripe fruits.

Breakfast: Stewed apricots, rolled oats with milk, buttered toast, milk.
Dinner: Potato and bacon soufflé, stewed tomatoes, lettuce sandwich, jellied prunes, milk.

Supper: Cracked wheat with milk, toast or crackers with butter and jelly, milk, boiled custard.

Breakfast: Grapefruit, Post toasties with milk, buttered toast and bacon, milk.
Dinner: Broiled lamb chop, buttered carrots and celery, cabbage sandwich, Grapenut Ice cream, milk.

Supper: Scalloped potatoes, buttered beets, fruit cup, toast, milk.
Potato and Bacon Soufflé: 3 c mashed potato; 2 c milk, 5 eggs; 10 slices bacon. Beat eggs, add milk. Combine with potato and add bacon, fried and cut into tiny pieces. Bake in buttered baking dish set in pan of hot water.

Jellied Prunes: ½ envelope gelatine or 1-4 box; 1-4 c cold water; 3-4 c sugar; 1-4 c lemon juice; pinch salt; 1½ c boiling water; 2 c steamed and seeded prunes. Soak the gelatine until it swells, in cold water. Pour in boiling water, then add sugar, lemon juice, salt, and stir until all are dissolved. Pour mixture through strainer, place in refrigerator until it starts to set. Add prunes, place in small molds. Place in refrigerator for several hours. Some of prune juice may be used instead of water called for in recipe. This is delicious served with boiled custard.

Grapenut Ice Cream: 5 c milk; 1-2 c sugar; 3 T flour; 1-2 tsp. salt; 3 eggs; 2 tsp Vanilla; 2 1-2 c thin cream; 1 c grapenuts. Scald milk, mix sugar, salt and flour together, add milk gradually, return to double boiler. Cook 15 minutes, stirring constantly until smooth. Add slightly beaten egg, cook 3 minutes, remove from fire, add cream, cool. Freeze to a mush then add grapenuts, vanilla, finish freezing.

Scalloped Potatoes: Scalloped potatoes—so called—are not prepared like other scalloped vegetables. Wash, pare, cut raw potatoes into slices about one-quarter inch thick. Grease pan or baking dish and cover bottom with a layer of potatoes. Sprinkle them lightly with flour and a little salt, and dot them over with tiny pieces of butter or other fat. Repeat until dish is full. Then pour in enough milk to nearly cover the potatoes. Bake until the potatoes are soft, about one and one-quarter hours. Add more milk if necessary. The dish may be covered at the beginning, but must be removed the last part of time so that the potatoes will brown.

Only 20 States Eligible to Sell Liquor When and If It Is Legal

Chicago, Oct. 2 (AP)—Just 20 states will be legally open to liquor traffic when and if national prohibition is nullified, a survey made by the Associated Press showed today.

Somewhat analogous to a football game is the repeal contest: Score now, for repeal 31 states; against none.

State after state has pushed touchdown over the dry goal. But then—those all-significant "points-after-touchdown."

The "points after" are the various state statutes and constitutional provisions outlawing spirituous drink. And 27 states have them and will have them when and if prohibition is repealed whether they intend to do anything about them or not.

One state—Utah—votes on both state and national prohibition Nov. 7, and another, Virginia, votes tomorrow on the 21st amendment. Ohio will also make the dual decision at its November election.

A saloon by any other name would smell more sweetly, in the opinion of the majority of lawmakers, the survey revealed. In the future, it will be "Ten Nights In a Tavern." The word saloon is taboo and many of the states have outlawed its use to designate liquor-retailing establishments.

The states which will be wet when and if 36 states have voted for the 21st amendment to the constitution—by virtue of having repealed their state liquor prohibitions or because they never had any—are Indiana, Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Washington, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland, Wisconsin, Arizona, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Colorado, Illinois,

Mrs. A. Mitchell and son, Keith, left Tuesday for San Antonio where they spent this week with her son, Malone Mitchell and wife, Mrs. Malone Mitchell, who has been in that city for medical treatment for sometime has not been doing very well.

WHAT BANKING WENT THROUGH

By JOHN H. PUELICHER

BANKING in its long career has been compelled to withstand many serious shocks, but it ran into the most perplexing entanglement of its whole history since the general breakdown of values in 1929. The commercial structure of the entire world seemed to have been shaken from its foundations and the banker, with everything breaking down all around him, was able to come through as he has.

J. H. PUELICHER

General business failures, agricultural stagnation, income losses, capital losses, inability to meet debts and therefore inability of bankers to pay back depositors when loans were not paid, were the reasons, in most instances, for the bank failures.

No profession, no department of life is without its weaker elements, but had proper consideration been given to the relatively few instances in banking, had exaggerated and startling headlines been kept in true proportion, had banking not been used as a target for political self-seeking and with vote seeking motives, had unfounded rumors not been spread, the people's confidence might have been retained and far less serious would have been their financial losses, for many bank failures were caused that need not have happened.

There were factors in our banking experience which every earnest banker deplores—factors which many had worked years to eliminate, which it was fearfully recognized would aggravate any difficult days which might arise. One of the worst of these was due to political regulation which chartered many banks that should never have been chartered.

That there have been incompetence and dishonesty in banking is admitted. That the instances that did occur were used grossly to increase fear in the public mind, we affirm. We shall continue to strive for higher attainments in our profession and strive for laws that require competence and ability in management. That we cannot legislate honesty and unselfishness into either a banker or a borrower must be conceded, but dishonesty, wherever found, should be punished. It is as true in banking as elsewhere that no matter how good the law, dishonest and incompetent men can make it ineffective. Good laws are essential. We must strive for ever better ones, but their enforcement will come only as the public recognizes that it is a matter not of laws or codes alone but of the men who administer them.

The Public's Part
Our people must be brought to realize that the welfare of our country depends upon its banking system, that the strength of the banking system depends upon the public's faith and understanding and the vast majority of banks, because of faithful service rendered, even through the whole of this general breakdown, had the right to expect the trust and confidence of the people.

In every great catastrophe, no matter what its nature, no matter what its cause, someone must be crucified. The banker was this time selected. In the late 30's, political agitation started a tirade against the railroads. Some railroads may have done reprehensible things, but the agitation became so general and so violent as almost to destroy one of the fundamental factors in the progress of a country. Today the same thing has been done to the banker. In spite of all that has happened, the fact remains that even most of the banks which failed are paying out infinitely better than are investments in almost anything else.

Bankers Aiding Agriculture

State associations of bankers in many agricultural states are giving time and financial support to encourage practices among their farmers that will bring about better farm results.

The major activities reported from one state to the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association which is nationally active in promoting this line of cooperation are as follows:

1. Drought relief work: Local banks have played a vital part in this work, being represented on the county committees for passing on all seed loans. These committees met practically every day during the spring to pass on the loans in order to get as quick action as possible. A total of 914 applications were received and handled by one committee, 535 being granted.

2. Four-H Club work: Bankers helped stimulate 4-H Club work, financing many members who otherwise could not have enrolled. They also helped finance fifteen 4-H Club delegates to the state club convention.

3. Livestock feeding: The banks cooperated with the Extension Service in the state and the railroads in increasing the amount of livestock feeding. Assistance was given the feeders in securing finances for their feeding operations.

4. Crop improvement: The bankers took part in the crop standardization program of the Extension Service and encouraged the farmers to use pure seed, and in many cases made loans for this purpose.

Traffic through this station, including student flights, has increased to such an extent that at times it is necessary for the entire force to aid in servicing aircrafts. Where before most of the airplanes, flying from San Antonio to El Paso, took the northern route, missing Dryden by approximately 200 miles. Now, because of the conditions of the airport, the majority of planes fly the southern route. All of these improvements are due to the tireless efforts, interest, loyalty and cooperative ability of Sgt. McCabe.

Needless to say all of his men are saddened by the thought of Sgt. McCabe's departure but the fact that he is going to a more desirable and important position, we feel that his efforts are being rewarded and we are all looking forward to the time when we can again serve with him.

State Fair Ready To Open Saturday

DALLAS, Oct. 5.—With the greatest agriculture, livestock and poultry shows on record entered and now being arranged with more than 250 major manufacturing plants of the state with their exhibits in place, and with one of the best amusement programs in history of the organization all set, the 47th annual State Fair of Texas will open its gates on next Saturday, October 7th, 1933.

Officers, directors, superintendents and other connected with the state exposition have gone many steps forward this year to give to Texas and the Southwest its greatest fair, Otto Herold, who is serving his second year as president, said here Monday.

The theme of the agriculture, livestock and poultry shows will be "Replacement programs," and will be carried through out—suggest programs for replacement of cotton acres for the 1934 farmer. The agriculture department will show progress of diversification during the past 14 years with comparative exhibits; the livestock department will emphasize "utility livestock" and the poultry department will plant a picture of more food for the home by raising chickens.

The Texas Manufacturers Show is expected to be a revelation to the world, as it will show Texas factories manufacturing practically every kind of product necessary to the comfort and advancement of mankind in this state. This is expected to be the largest "made-in-Texas" show ever held in this state.

The amusement program will be headed by the three elaborate musical productions in the auditorium—"Bitter Sweet," Oct. 7 to 12; "Nina Rosa," Oct. 13 to 17, and "Florodora," Oct. 18 to 22.

Two Southwestern Championship sport contests will be held at the State Fair of Texas—the cowboy championship to be held in the Livestock Arena, Oct. 7 to 18, and the motorcycle races which will be held under the sanction of the American Motorcycle Association, for the official championship of the Southwest. These races will be held in the stadium on each Sunday afternoon and night during the 1933 exposition.
