Smith Gets 2-Year Suspended Sentence in District Court

Court is Lenient With Man Who Stole Wool to Provide Care for Invalid Mate

Kyle Smith, who was under indictment in this county, charged with felony theft, and with burglary, went to trial last Friday in district court on the felony theft charge. Smith was represented by Judge W. A. Wright of San Angelo, and the state's case was in charge of Julian LaCrosse, district attorney.

Smith entered a plea of guilty to the charge, and waived jury trial, which was agreed to by the state. The court assessed a two-year sentence which, however, was suspended. The burglary case was continued during the two-year period of the sentence, and will be called to trial only when Smith violates the provisions of suspended sentence.

Stole for Sick Wife

Smith, it was alleged, stole the wool from the storage barn of Son Lawhorn, who ranches in the north part of this county. He stated that his reason for the theft was to provide funds to pay the hospital expenses of his wife, and this testimony was substantiated by witness and by record from a San Angelo hospital.

Much Business Is Disposed of At Short July Term

The regular term of the district court adjourned Wednesday afternoon after being in session almost the two full weeks.

Several cases were disposed of and others were either continued or transferred to other counties in the district.

Monday a personal damage suit, C. F. Haass vs. the T. & N. O. railroad, was continued until the January term, due to the illness of Mr. Haass' lawyer, who was unable to be present.

Tuesday the divorce case of Celia Saldivar vs. Melecio Saldivar, was tried, taking up most of the day on account of the many witnesses who were called to testify. The case was settled in favor of Melecio Saldivar and he was awarded the custody of their three children.

On Wednesday morning with District Judge Montague on the bench,

Vote for Judge John H. Sharp of Ellis County

JOHN H. SHARP
For Associate Justice of the Supreme Court to succeed Judge Greenwood who is not a candidate. He is now a member of the Supreme Court Commission and has filled this position with honor and distinction. He is well qualified for the position.

at 9 o'clock, a petition was heard and granted for the transfer of the John Martin case to Kinney county. Judge Joseph Jones of Del Rio represented Martin.

At 10 o'clock the Gutierrez case was called and after counsel for both sides had presented their arguments a special term was ordered for trial of this case. The date set was August 15.

A jury commission composed of Joe Kerr, O. H. McAdams and A. F. Buchanan was named by Judge Montague to select the jury for the regular term of court as well as for the special term.

Following adjournment of the July term the court attaches returned to their homes in Del Rio on Wednesday afternoon.

Judge B. W. Teagarden, Jr., of San Antonio was a business visitor in Sanderson this week. Judge Teagarden was appointed by Judge Montague to defend Braulio Gutierrez, charged with murder, and whose case was called for trial on Wednesday of this week.

Presiding Judges for Primary Election In the Several Precincts are Selected

Appointment of judges to hold the Democratic primary election on next Saturday, July 28th, have been made, according to announcement given the Times this week by L. M. Baze, county chairman. Judges in the different precincts were named, and these will select the clerk and other help to hold the election.

Sims Wilkinson has been appointed as judge in Precinct 1, and he has named the following to assist him: W. J. Ferguson, C. M. Breeding, R. H. Murrain, T. R. Arrington, Denny Sullivan, Lynn Harrell and J. W. Happle.

For Precinct 2, Dryden, A. F. Buchanan has been appointed presiding judge. His helpers had not been announced as the Times went to press.

Eugene Thorne will be presiding judge in Precinct 3, and Charlie Turk in No. 4.

The polls in the county will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. All voters are urged and requested that in order to speed up the voting and help facilitate the work of the officers in charge, to bring their 1933 poll tax receipts.

A large vote is expected to be polled at this election as this is the first time that county and precinct officers have entered the primaries, and it will be the only opportunity the voters of the county will have to say who will be their county officers for the next two years. While there will be a run-off primary for state and district officers there will be none for county and precinct officers.

Let's have a large vote next Saturday and let every voter keep this in mind, that in order to help through holding the election to get through counting the votes early, bring your poll tax receipt, and vote early—don't put it off until the last minute—that might be too late.

Up to noon Thursday 34 absentee ballots have been voted, according to records at the office of the county clerk.

July Term Unusual In Many Features

This term of district court has been unusual in that it had three judges to preside over it, and in the fact that the petit jury could not agree on a penalty for a defendant who had plead guilty to the charges against him.

On Monday there was a civil case brought to trial, and due to disqualification of the regular presiding judge, Brian Montague, B. W. Teagarden, San Antonio attorney, was elected to sit on the bench and hear the case.

On Wednesday Judge Montague was again disqualified in the John Martin case, and his brother, Joe Montague of Fort Stockton, came over and presided long enough to enter an order having the case transferred to Kinney county.

Much business was transacted during this term of court, notwithstanding the sessions were scattered over two full weeks.

Mrs. Mozelle Kirksey, who spent the past week here with her daughter, Mrs. S. J. Kellogg, left Wednesday morning for St. Louis, where she will visit relatives. She will also visit the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, and with a daughter in New York City.

Mrs. Bill Bowden and children arrived last Friday from their home in El Paso for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Schupbach and family.

BEN ESTES BREAKS ARM

Ben Estes, employe of the Texas-Louisiana Power Company in this city, suffered a broken left arm at the wrist Thursday morning while on duty at the local plant.

The accident occurred when Ben was removing ice from the freezing bins into the storage room, a hoist, used for this purpose, breaking, whirling around and striking his arm.

Custom Officers Ab Gohlsen and Creed Taylor, of Marfa, were Sanderson visitors several days this week.

Case of Braulio Gutierrez, Charged With Murder Set for Special Term

A called meeting of the commissioners' court will in all probability be held this week end for the purpose of approving the annual report of Lee A. Cook, sheriff and tax collector, which has just been completed. The court at this time, also, will receive the report of the audit report of the firm of John Oglesby, who last week completed auditing all records of the county officials.

The tax collector's monthly report shows that a total of $5,761.17 was collected in taxes for the state, the county collections amounting to $3,455.67, of which amount $2,696.24 was collected for the school.

During the month of June delinquent taxes in the sum of $1,272.66 were collected.

However, the report shows that there is still a large amount of taxes on the rolls to be collected. Several large taxpayers failed to pay, among them the railroad, largest taxpayer in the county. The total amount of delinquent taxes due the state amounts to $12,186.49; total of taxes due the county yet delinquent is $16,389.90. Amount of school taxes that remain unpaid is $7,511.12.

Effective July first the old law was again in force. This imposes a 10 per cent penalty and 6 per cent interest on all taxes not paid, from date of delinquency to date of payment.

A special term of the district court will be held in this city on August 15 to try Braulio Gutierrez who is charged with the murder of Manuel Coronado which occurred about noon on the 4th day of July, in the Mexican part of this city.

Gutierrez was indicted by the grand jury which was in session the fore part of last week. He has been in jail ever since he committed the crime and waived preliminary hearing at the trial held in justice court on July 5th. At that time his bond was set at $5000 which he has not made and will not likely make before his trial.

On Monday of this week District Judge Brian Montague appointed B. W. Teagarden, a San Antonio attorney, to defend Gutierrez.

The case was originally set to come up for trial on Wednesday of this week, but after arguments were presented by both sides, the special term was agreed upon.

In addition to the regular jury which will be summoned for that time a special venire will also be summoned.

There are many witnesses in the case both for the State and for the defense.

This case has attracted considerable attention not only among the Mexican population, but among the Americans also. Both Coronado and Gutierrez are well known here and their families have been long-time residents of Sanderson.

Texas Birth Rate High According To Latest Census

Terrell county had an increase of 17 more births in 1933 than in 1932, according to a report received this week by Justice of the Peace R. L. Henry, from the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health.

Included in the report were facts stating that Texas leads the six big states, namely, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio and California, in birth rate, being highest with 17.9 birth per 1000 population. This was according to the U. S. census report for 1933.

This is the first time in history that the U. S. Bureau of the Census published the Texas birth rate with that of the other states of the Union. There were 2,064,944 births in the United States last year and although Texas, according to the 1930 census, had only 4.7 per cent of the nation's total population, there were 107,924 births, or 5.2 per cent of all filed in the United States.

According to the U. S. Census report just published Texas ranks fifth in population, third in the number of births filed in 1933, highest in birth rate among the six big states of the Union.

Everett Case Draws 50-day Jail Term And Prohibits Driving Car for 2 Years

A very severe penalty was meted out here last Friday afternoon in district court by a jury who heard the evidence, or rather the plea of guilty, of Haymond Everett, who was charged with operating and driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

G. J. Henshaw was appointed by the court to defend Everett and upon selection of a jury and after a plea of guilty to the charge, the State's attorney recommended that defendant be given a 90-day jail sentence and that he be prohibited from driving a motor vehicle for one year.

After several hours of deliberation the jury reached an agreement, and assessed a 50-day jail sentence and prohibited Everett from driving a motor vehicle upon the highways of the State for a period of two years.

This was the first case of its kind to be tried in the courts of Terrell county.

Baer-Carnera Bout At Princess Tonite

The feature picture at the Princess theatre tonight will be the heavyweight championship melee between Baer and the late Primo Carnera.

The picture will be shown in connection with the regular program, and will give the big fight round by round, blow by blow and fall by fall. Carnera, the Man Mountain, so the account goes, was felled by his opponent no less than 11 times in as many rounds. Several times his sheer weight pulled Baer on top of him. Many claim that Baer fouled "the Preem" in the eighth round, so you will have something to look for when you see this picture. Was Carnera fouled in the eighth round?

The Times 1 year for $1. Offer expires August 31.

Smilin' Charlie Says

"A man should try to make his reputation what he THINKS his character is..."

Well, it won't be long now. Just one week and the tale is practically told. With married life it's the first hundred years that are the toughest. We don't know just what stage of the office-seeker's career is hardest. To have a sneaking idea that he beats more, thinks more and talks more during the last week preceding the count of noses. He lays down at night, but not to sleep, and there isn't a thing that will help. Instead of counting sheep he's tallying his friends (real and alleged) wondering on what side of the ledger to place the latter. One good thing about country politics anyhow: they don't sling slime like their brothers seeking higher offices, and a man can run for the ordinary country office without fear that his opponent will prove that every one of his neighbors were hoax-thieves and all ended on a hickory limb.

In this issue of the Times is a special page, paid for by the different candidates—and for a reason—no reasons, really. One is that the ballot and the voter get acquainted. That you could study it, select the candidate of your choice and thus speed up the voting. Another was the hope that the full voting strength of the county might be represented at the polls. In former years Terrell county disregarded the primary election, except in the case of the State and District candidates. Never before, in this county, did the county and precinct candidates participate in a primary election. This year's primary includes ALL candidates. In the case of the county and precinct candidates, the race will be over for them after Saturday, the 28th. Where two or more candidates are offering for office, a plurality vote maintains. However, in the case of State and District candidates the majority vote will be the rule where more than two candidates seek the same office. Study your ballot, go to the polls early, but don't vote more than once.

Talking of races, isn't the governor's a palooka? Most everybody you ask are certain that Jimmie Allred will be in the runoff, but from that point the guesses are wild. This column feels reasonably sure of No. 1, but like the rest, No. 2 is hard to lay a finger on. Small, Hunter and Hughes are mentioned most for the runner-up position, but it's a wild guess at best. Who to vote for is a perplexing question this year—more so than any year in Texas politics. This column stands pat on the governor's choice, but has changed its mind seven times in the choice for Attorney General—and there's only three in the race. The last one we hear over the radio is our choice.

Talking about radios. Can't we elect some one who will do something about crooners butting in as we try to listen to a good, vituperative speech. There's a fortune waiting for an invention that will cut those crocheting babies off the dial.

We weren't even interested when we read that Sally Rand's bubble had burst. It isn't the first time that a gold-digging mamma's bubble went floozy!

Lost, strayed or stolen—One perfectly good baseball club with a perfect record of seven won, none lost. Last seen enroute home from Fort Stockton with the heavy end of a 1 to 3 score tucked in the bat bag. Boy, page Tom Breeding.

Not a political speech has been made in Sanderson this month. If you don't know what you're missing just tune in on Clint Small & Co. and hear them give Jimmie Allred a—1. (Guess).

Plans for Comprehensive Celebration of Texas Centennial Now Under Way

Corsicana, Texas.—If there was ever a question in the mind of any Texan as to whether or not a giant exhibition would be held in 1938 that doubt has been dispelled.

This is the opinion of Will H. Mayes, Austin, executive secretary of the Texas Centennial Commission here the first of the week attending a meeting of the commissioners.

"Prior to the organization meeting of the commission in Austin on June 6 my mail indicated that a considerable portion of the public had grave doubt as to whether or not the state would be able to stage the exhibition. Following that meeting there has been a radical change in the viewpoint. Now all the mail is optimistic. All are making suggestions. Those towns having historical shrines near them are indicating active preparation to participate."

Mr. Mayes for more than a quarter of a century was himself an active newspaper editor and publisher, and a former president of the Texas Press Association. His ability to gauge public sentiment is recognized in all sections.

"There was a gradual change in the public viewpoint," Mr. Mayes said, "from the day the legislature made its appropriation for the preliminary work of the commission. The people began to realize that the Centennial idea was not ballyhoo, but the presentation of a great plan which had gotten so far along as to command legislative approval."

"Now with the commission having announced a definite working plan for those cities desiring to secure the central exhibition, with it having been made plain what those locations having historic shrines are expected to do to have their share in the Centennial, everybody has a job, a definite goal, and can go to work."

"In no movement have I ever witnessed this early as much favorable sentiment as has been crystallized in the last few weeks. Everybody wants a part. Everybody wants to help. It will be a job, as I understand it, of the publicity committee to give these folks a job. The service of every loyal Texan is needed. The personal interest of all is wanted because this exhibition must be all-Texas and for all its citizens.

"It is now generally recognized that the Centennial will benefit all Texas. There isn't a hamlet but that will benefit. We want the people to understand this, but at the same time know that the historical, the cultural, the artistic and the religious life of Texas through the last stirring century will be paramount."

Mr. Mayes in connection with the historical side of the exhibition has pointed out that the plans committee in its Corsicana report provided that an authentic and comprehensive history of Texas be written and that it "assemble data for an unbiased chronicle of the events, forces and influences, not only military and political, but in every field of human endeavor."

It provided for a number of worthy celebrations during Centennial year in those places famous in Texas history by reason of military, political or cultural events. It also provided that the main exhibition be all-Texas in its proportions; that the participations of all those nations under whom Texas have lived be asked to participate. Thus it is expected that the glorious history of the State will be paramount at all times in every phase of the great exhibition, plans for which now are active under way in all sections.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. McKnight and daughter, Vivian, left Wednesday for Sonora where they will spend the remainder of the week with friends, and where Mr. McKnight will attend to business matters.

Mrs. Maude Sullivan and daughter, Miss Dorothy, returned the latter part of last week from a motor trip to Carlsbad and Cloudercroft, New Mexico.

Guests of Miss Grace Marie Billings at her home in Langtry for several days this week were Misses Maggie Smith and Earline Ruston.

The many friends in this city of Mrs. T. M. Pyle will be glad to learn that she is getting along nicely in the Masonic hospital at El Paso, where she was taken the past week for medical treatment for a fractured hip. Mrs. Pyle's injury was the result of a fall she received as she attempted to get out of bed, and evidently had fainted.

Fourth Annual School of Coaches Will Be Held at Texas Tech July 30-Aug. 11

There will be no rest for these coaches. After classes from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., there will be golf tournaments, swimming, banquets, dances, afternoon feasts, barbecues and the entertainment with plenty of vents for visiting wives.

Sen. Connally Has Brilliant Record In Serving State

The following letter was received this week from Felix A. Ury, Spanish-American war veteran, and is a plea directly for Sen. Tom Connally and the State of Texas, who is ably representing in the U. S. Senate:

"The writer is interested in the State of Texas because he has been a taxpayer there for years and naturally feels he has a right to express publicly his choice for U. S. senator and reasons therefor.

From personal observation, and it is the opinion generally of those who have watched his congressional record, that Senator Tom Connally classes without question, in debates, as one of the best in the U. S. senate. What does that mean? It takes years of parliamentary study to know when to answer, who to do and what to say to carry weight.

Experience is what you have to have to be sure of your ground, and let me say in Senator Tom Connally you have a man who knows what he is talking about, and he is earnest and sincere. Of the 96 senators in that august body today you can count on the fingers of both hands those who are really able to debate effectively and impressively. To me this is one of the many reasons why the great State of Texas should return Tom Connally to represent you. The State should have a man possessing the gift of oratory—he a ready and convincing speaker—in order to secure the passage of legislation that Texas and this country needs.

Senator Connally has lived an honest and upright life—a life that his friends everywhere, and the citizens in particular may well be proud. A man whom you can absolutely trust with your problems, and don't you forget it!

He is a man for all the people—no special class—and he is exceedingly sympathetic those in trouble, trying to help everyone within his power to do so.

Senator Connally is a Spanish-American and a World War veteran. He is the veterans' friend, having successfully fought for them on more than one occasion, and is a man to whom every man, woman and child in the State of Texas can look to for support in legislation he believes to be for their best interest and for the best welfare of the country as a whole.

Vote for Tom Connally, give him the opportunity to continue the great work he is doing.

C. F. Haass, a former resident of Sanderson but now living in Hondo, was a business visitor in the city Monday. His case against the T. & N. O., for personal damages was continued until the January term of district court.

At the Princess

Joe E. Brown At Princess Tonite In Wild Riot of Fun

Joe E. Brown, in his latest and funniest role will be shown at the Princess theatre tonight and Saturday. The name of the picture is "A Very Honorable Guy," and is based on the hilarious comedy by Damon Runyon, famous sports and short story writer, and is said to furnish Joe with the most comical role he has ever played. Joe has the role of a tin-horn gambler whose reputation is so good that he is able to sell his own body to get a stake, the contract giving him thirty days of grace to deliver his own corpse.

With only a month to live Joe E. is said to go through some of the most exciting incidents and uproariously funny situations that any one man ever experienced.

Alice White, the petite blonde, is Joe's running mate, playing the role of a gold digging chorus girl whose affections vacillate between Joe and a mad doctor, according to which one happens to be in the money.

Other in the cast are Robert Barrat, the doctor that buys Joe's body, Alan Dinehart, the brains of a gang of crooks, Irene Franklin, Hobart Cavanaugh, Harold Huber and Geo. Pat Collins.

11 Tribes of Indians In Princess Picture

Indians from eleven famous tribes played the roles of Chiefs in "White Eagle," Buck Jones' latest Columbia picture which comes to the Princess theatre Monday night, July 22, for one night only.

Tall, stately, dignified and silent, these fine looking redskins still retain their Indian names, unspoiled by our modern machine age civilization.

Hundreds of Indians participated in the stirring Indian scenes in "White Eagle," with Buck Jones enacting the role of an Indian Pony Express rider back in the days of 1863 around Ft. Dodge, Nevada.

The film is typically western, the action authentic, and the romance that threads the story is interesting and entertaining.

Will Rogers Claims Costume Conspiracy

"It's a conspiracy, nothing else," Will Rogers was the speaker and he was referring to the demand in nearly every picture in which he appears that he wear what is known as a dress suit in at least one scene.

Rogers hates evening clothes and never wears them at a public function. He always wears his serviceable blue serge, but the vest "V" is cut low and he completes the ensemble with a black bow tie.

"It looks enough like a tuxedo and it suits my purpose," declared the famous wit and humorist, "but in the pictures they refuse to stand for it and I have to put on a monkey outfit."

"The thing started in my first picture, 'They Had to See Paris,' and they've been writing evening clothes in all my pictures.

"The outfit I wear in 'David Harum' is an old time one and I feel a great deal better in it than I would if it was new. It smells of horse, and that makes me feel even more at home."

"David Harum" comes to the Princess theatre Friday and Saturday, July 27 and 28. Don't miss it!

RANCH MANAGER FINDS INDIANS HAVE SENSE OF HUMOR

PAMPA, July 18, (AP)—T. D. Hobart, pioneer cattleman and manager of the famous JA ranch near Clarendon, has learned that the Osage Indians "are not devoid of a sense of humor."

A large group of the Osages visited the JA recently and inspected it with a view to buying the ranch which is one of the largest now intact in the Texas Panhandle. During the visit Hobart told them a story of the late Col. Charles C. Goodnight, founder of the ranch and former cattle baron of the Panhandle.

"You all knew Uncle Charlie Goodnight, or knew of him," Hobart said. The Indians assented. "Some years before his death Mr. Goodnight staged a buffalo hunt on his ranch and had present some of the old time Comanche and Kiowa Indians whom he knew in the old days.

"These old Indians while sitting on Goodnight's porch one night noticed his horse brand. One of them remarked:

"I believe we bought a bunch of horses from you once."

"Like heck you did, the Colonel replied. "You bought them while I was asleep."

"You should have heard the roar of laughter from the Osages," Hobart concluded.

Jack McDonald was taken to Del Rio late Thursday afternoon for an emergency operation for appendicitis, Dr. W. H. Doty making the trip with him.

The Times 1 year for $1. Offer expires August 31.

RECORD CROWD SEES NEW FAIR

Street of Villages Gets Big Play; Lights All New.

Chicago—More than 235,000 persons saw the new World's Fair here on its first week-end. A record opening day crowd of 154,003 Saturday, May 20, surpassed last year's opening day figure by 34,988. The following day's crowd of 81,241 was greater by 28,557 than the same day in 1933.

President Roosevelt, through the medium of a motion picture shown at several points on the grounds, officially opened the Exposition. As he closed an electric switch the new lights blazed forth for the first time.

Visitors were surprised to find the Fair complete, and fully up to the promises made that it would be new.

Lights Trace Sky Ride.
Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, first lady of the land, inaugurated the outstanding new feature, the world's largest fountain. Like the President, she appeared in a motion picture. At a magical wave of her hand, the giant water-spouts rose from the north in a goon, livened by a play of colored light.

Lighting the most talked-of thing about the 1933 Fair, revealed wonders never approached on the 1934 opening night. Co-ordination of lighting and color were more in evidence. Under the lights the new Century of Progress purple-red, theme color of the new Exposition, presented a glowing beauty that was different. Buildings, grouped with respect to color in light as well as color in paint, revealed a new harmony.

The Sky Ride, almost lost to vision at night formerly, greeted visitors with all its catenary system traced against the sky in electric light. Bright red neon tubes outlined the observation platforms 628 feet above the Fair. Farther south, from the rotunda of the Ford building a pillar of blue light 200 feet thick and more than a mile high, pierced the clouds overhead. The lighting load of this 500-foot-long building is more than one-third the total load of the entire Fair of last year.

Foreign Villages Popular.
New lights in the lagoon and a new "Aurora Borealis" of searchlights at the north end of the grounds, complementing that at the south end, completed the major changes in the night time illumination.

Movers for the opening day thronged the new Street of Villages. The "tour of the world in a single day" offered by the fifteen reproductions of far away lands in the new Fair proved to be an idea that "clicked."

Eleven of the foreign villages are grouped together where the Midway was in 1933. Here are an Irish village, with the atmosphere that was known by the ancient chieftains who met in Tara Hall; the Spanish village, largest ever built for any Fair; Tunisia, the "Land of the Bedouins"; the Italian village, with its leaning tower and time-worn Roman ruins.

Free Entertainment.
Visitors saw the Tower of London and watched Shakespeare's plays presented in a reproduction of Shakespeare's original Globe theater in the English village; saw ice-skating under the summer sun in the German Black Forest Village; saw Old North Church, Mount Vernon, and the home of Paul Revere in the American Colonial village; relaxed in the luxury of a North African desert village in the Oasis; thrilled to the charm of native folk dances in the lovely Belgian village, and entered the gaily of Montmartre in the Streets of Paris.

Elsewhere on the grounds they found a Dutch village, a Mexican village, a Swiss village and the Streets of Shanghai.

Free entertainment projects caught big crowds. Among them were the concerts on the Swift bridge, the spectacular lion and tiger show in the Standard Oil amphitheater, the circuses of the Lagoon theater, the seeming miracles performed in the Science theater and the many shows presented by exhibitors in the various exhibit buildings.

Fair Better Host.
Opening day throngs found that no exhibits remaining from last year were unchanged. Animation has been added everywhere. The Ford "exhibition," altogether new, is a world of motion showing the manufacture of virtually every part that goes into a motor car. Armour and company and Wilson and company, packers, have done much the same with their exhibits, so have the Continental Baking company, Hiram Walker, the Brook Hill dairy farm and others new to a Century of Progress.

Perhaps most important of all, visitors found the new Fair a better host. Eighty per cent of the toilets are free, transportation and restaurant prices are lower and there are more free resting places for the weary, most of them where free entertainment is in progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Billings of Langtry spent Sunday in Sanderson visiting their daughters, Mrs. J. L. Osgood and Miss Grace Marie Billings. The latter accompanied them home.

A. F. Buchanan, Dryden merchant, was in town Wednesday.
