FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN CAR CRASH

Local Aviator Has Narrow Escape in Forced Landing

Returning to Sanderson in his private plane, after a Christmas party with home folks in Ft. Worth and Etes, flying over the hilly country in the Joe F. Brown plane, at an altitude of 3800 feet, he was forced to "pancake" when his motor went dead. The trouble was caused by a bursted gas line, which drained his tank.

Ben, who knows the country and incidentally, the flying business, began looking for a place to land. The only likeable spot was a canyon whose floor was reasonably smooth due to the recent heavy rains. Considering everything the landing was successful, the plane landing on a level stretch, but it taxied into the ditch and gently nosed over, and the only damage reported was a bent propeller.

Ben, the Times is glad to report, climbed out unhurt, surveyed the damage, and started hiking toward town, and came upon the Frank Harrell ranch, about seven miles east of Sanderson. Mr. Harrell brought him to town.

The location of the accident is about 8 miles from Sanderson on direct line, and Ben stated that he had been able to remain in the air about four minute longer he could have reached this city, but heavy wind was blowing against him, and he figured the safest thing to do was to find a comfortable place and "sit down."

To Check Liquor Imports: 1 Bottle Every 30 Days

Importation of Mexican liquors through the Del Rio port, as with other ports along the border, has been limited to one bottle every 30 days on instructions from the commissioner of customs.

During the holidays a veritable flood of liquor flowed over the border and under the regulation that up to $100 worth of liquor could be brought into the United States duty free if bought incidentally to the trip to Mexico.

Deputy Collector of Customs Hugh Wood stated Tuesday that only one quart of liquor can be imported into the state under the Texas law unless with a permit from the Texas Liquor Control board.

"In the event such a permit is given out," Mr. Wood said Tuesday, "an admission is made that the trip is made to procure the liquor and the customary duty is to be paid."

Local officers were overworked during the holidays checking the liquor being brought over the border.—Del Rio Morning News.

Teachers Whose Ears Were Cut Off

These two rural school teachers near Jalisco, Mexico, were attacked by what the Mexican government terms "religious rebels," and their ears were cut off because they taught socialist doctrines. Police officials report many teachers have been mutilated and some have been killed.

GOVERNOR CALLS FOR HOMECOMING

Austin, Dec. 31—Governor Jas. V. Allred today pointed to 1936, 100th anniversary of Texas' independence, as a year of reverence and of homecoming.

Texas citizens and Texans in other parts of the world were asked in an official proclamation to join in making a Centennial observance "bold enough to please the hearts of Austin, Travis and Houston, and big enough to mirror the accomplishments of Texas."

"Surely there is no hour more propitious than this to acknowledge the great debt of a century ago," Governor Allred said.

The proclamation was issued before the governor left Austin for El Paso and Pasadena, California.

Govt. Lawyers Plan Tax Levies For Security Act

WASHINGTON —Treasury lawyers were still working Tuesday night on regulations for collecting the Federal Unemployment Insurance taxes which became effective Wednesday Jan. 1.

As a result, officials said many employers probably would not know for several weeks whether they will be subject to the levies. The taxes are not payable, however, until January, 1937.

The Social Security Act, under which unemployment insurance as well as old age pension taxes are levied, specifies that after January 1 every employer of 8 or more persons—except agricultural labor, domestic servants, officers and crews of vessels, persons employed by their children and children under 21 employed by their parents, public employes and employes of non-profit institutions such as churches—is liable to a 1 per cent payroll tax.

2,500 Teachers To Get Employment Under New Setup

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 2—Seeking to extend educational privileges to 100,000 adults in Texas, Works Progress Administration officials today had enrolled 1,700 teachers from the Texas Relief Commission program which was closed December 26.

"We intend to employ 2,500 teachers on the WPA emergency education program and are hopeful that all sponsors will have all teacher applicants registered with the National Re-employment Service as quickly as possible," declared A. A. (Pat) Bullock, state director of the education project.

Previously operated by the Texas Relief Commission, the Texas education program gave employment to 2,000 teachers and extended educational advantages to 84,000 persons, it was estimated. Under the WPA the project will be financed by grants of $1,865,650 for general adult education and $94,430 for nursery school projects.

In addition to the extending of free school facilities to thousands of Texans, this project is proposed for the purpose of providing work for teachers and persons competent to teach who were receiving relief during May, 1935, and those certified for relief subsequent to that time and whose eligibility has not been cancelled by the Texas Relief Commission. Unemployed needy teachers who were on relief rolls at any time between May 1 and November 1 may be given jobs on the program if all available eligible relief teachers have been employed.

Types of training which will be considered by project officials are freshman college centers, general adult education, literacy education, nursery schools, parent education, recreation and leisure time education, vocational training, and workers education.

Miss Whittle is Instantly Killed When Car Hits Bridge Curb on Highway

It was with deep regret that the many friends in Sanderson learned Wednesday of the tragic death of Miss Wilma Grace Whittle, daughter of W. A. Whittle of this city. Her death occurred early Wednesday morning near LaPryor, Texas, when the car in which she and a group of young friends were riding side-swiped a bridge. The front door of the car was folded back, and Miss Whittle was thrown from the car and instantly killed. None of her companions were reported to be hurt.

Upon receipt of the news her father, accompanied by John L. Newton and L. H. Lemons left for Uvalde, to which city the body was taken following the accident.

Miss Whittle was born in Sanderson and spent her childhood days here. Since moving away she had been a frequent visitor with her father, and was well known by our older residents.

As the Times goes to press funeral arrangements had not been made, as word had not been received from her mother who resides in Nevada, and who was not notified of the accident until late Wednesday night.

A full obituary will appear in next week's paper.

Men's Dormitory At Sul Ross Gets O. K. of Regents

The new residence hall for men at Sul Ross was formally accepted by the building committee of the board of regents on Thursday, December 19, and will be occupied by students immediately after the holidays.

This hall is built of native stone and is of Spanish architecture. It is in the form of a rectangle with every room having an outside exposure, and a large patio artistically designed occupies the entire inner space. In addition to the usual quarters for a matron, a cook, and bedrooms, the residence hall is provided with an immense hall, which is used as an art studio. The art colony is conducted by Julius Woeltz during the long term, and Xavier Gonzales and Julius Woeltz during the summer session.

The residence hall was designed by W. E. Ketchum, architect of Austin and was constructed by J. F. Morgan & Sons, contractors from El Paso. It fits admirably into the architecture of the new band home for boys and the student cottage program on the campus. These projects, together with the outdoor theatre, tennis stadium, the stone wall around the athletic field, the Big Bend historical memorial and science center and the rifle range represent improvements on the campus during the present biennium of more than $200,000.—Alpine Avalanche.

Houston Man Is Chosen President Of Montana U.

Austin.—Dr. George F. Simmons, formerly of Houston, has been appointed president of the University of Montana. Dr. Simmons received his bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from the University of Texas and since has made a notable record in his chosen field of science, that of geology. Following his graduation from the university, Dr. Simmons was for a time a member of the faculty of that institution. He obtained his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Chicago.

One of the significant accomplishments of Dr. Simmons is a study which he made of the birds of the Austin region. He wrote and published a book on the subject which is regarded as an authority by ornithologists. In 1923 Dr. Simmons was head of an expedition which spent three years visiting remote islands of the South Atlantic Ocean for the purpose of studying their wild life.

Following his return to the United States he was made curator of ornithology of the Cleveland Museum, Cleveland, Ohio, a position he held until 1929. Since then he has lectured on biological subjects at the Western Reserve University and elsewhere, and during the last four years he has done research work in zoology in the Hull Laboratory of the University of Chicago.

Patience is bitter, but its fruit sweet.—Rousseau.

PRACTICAL COOKERY

By the Home Economics Dept. Texas State College for Women

DENTON, T. S. C. W.—On a cold frosty morning lack of interest in breakfast is unknown and there comes the urge to "stoke up the engine" for good, lusty day if there is the smell of good ham and eggs, or perhaps sausage and waffles.

With interesting variety from day to day the desire to eat a good breakfast will be built up in any family. Even those who have formed the habit of catching a few more winks of sleep instead of taking time to eat will begin to realize what they are missing and just how much easier it is to wake up all over after a substantial meal.

Breakfast No. 1: Chilled orange and prune juice, creamed chipped beef, corn bread, pineapple-pear marmalade, coffee.

Breakfast No. 2: Stewed figs, sizzling ham and egg, toast, butter, coffee.

Breakfast No. 3: Chilled grapefruit and apricot juice, hot cereal, scrambled eggs, maple muffins, butter, coffee.

Breakfast No. 4: Stewed apricots, grilled sausages, biscuits, honey, coffee.

Breakfast No. 5: Orange and grapefruit sections, plain waffles, crisp bacon, butter, waffle syrup, coffee.

RECIPES MAPLE MUFFINS: 2 cups of flour, 2 eggs, beaten, 4 teaspoon baking powder, 1-2 cup milk, 1-4 cup butter, 1-4 cup maple syrup, 1-2 teaspoon salt. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in butter or rub in with fingers. Mix together the eggs, milk and maple syrup. Add to this the dry ingredients with as little beating as possible. Turn into buttered muffin pans and bake in a moderate oven (400 F.)

PINEAPPLE-PEAR MARMA-LADE: 2 cups dried pears, 2 cups water, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup crushed pineapple, 2 tablespoons Orange juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Soak and core the dried pears, then chop very fine, cover with water and cook until tender. Add the sugar, crushed pineapple and orange and lemon juices. Simmer till thick or add 2 T. commercial pectin and cook as directed. Dried apricots or peaches might be substituted for the pears.

PLAIN WAFFLES: 1 1/3 cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 eggs, 1-4 cup melted butter, 1 cup sweet milk. Sift dry ingredients together. Beat egg yolks light and foamy. Add the sugar and shortening. Mix well. Add milk alternately with dry ingredients to egg mixture. Fold in egg white. Bake on a hot waffle iron. (six servings.)

Two-Fisted Actor Hugs Trouble When Two Women Enter His Life

He was the big boss of everything except his own cockeyed emotions! Jack Holt, starring in the Columbia drama "Awakening of Jim Burke," which comes to the Princess Theatre next Monday, January 6, answers the above description.

He is seen in the picture as a hardboiled, two-fisted construction boss on a California engineering project, who rules his men with an iron hand sheathed with steel. He knows what he wants when he wants it—until two women break into his life and they change the whole scheme of things.

Florence Rice is one of the disrupting women; Kathleen Burke the other. As the local storekeeper's attractive daughter, Miss Rice taunts Holt into realizing his parental responsibilities toward his 12-year-old son, played by Jimmy Butler. Kathleen Burke, as Holt's designing girl friend, attempts to estrange the boy from his father, hoping to further her own ends. And Holt, himself, is not so sure that he has any use for his son.

All this wrecks havoc with the engineer's nerves. And one should be steady when blasting mountains and riding across gaping gullies on a platform suspended by a single strand of wire.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Kessler had as house guests during the holidays Mrs. Evelyn Bumpers of Houston.

Supt. and Mrs. R. D. Holt and children returned Tuesday from Santa Anna and Coleman where they visited relatives during the Christmas week.

C. B. Reynolds, who formerly was engaged in the oil leasing business in this county, was a visitor here the first of the week from San Antonio.
