ADMIRAL BYRD TO BE HERE TODAY

Pecos, on the morrow, will hold a election to decide whether or not bonds in the sum of $90,000 will be voted for the erection of a modern courthouse building. We can't think of anything that (or county) needs worse. A time there was when it was an imposing structure, the pride of the then "City of Flowing Wells." Why shouldn't it be? It was constructed from native brick dug out of a tract a few miles to the south, and the promoters had a great industry. But, memory isn't awry, it was the only structure in West Texas on which this particular brand of native brick was used. After the drying process those bricks became harder than Pharaoh's heart and no foolin'. Bricklayers imported for the work went haywire trying to chip them with trowels. They finally had to use hatchets. It wasn't long until the city itself started growing, the slogan was changed to the "City of Team Work," and things began to happen. The city grew—when happening was needed, they kept pegging away until they got it. And eventually the surroundings outside the courthouse building. If you don't believe it, remain away several years, return, then look at the surrounding buildings, the well-kept courthouse grounds and the inadequacy of the present building both appearance and convenience will strike forcibly.

About the biggest joke extant in the howl Big Business lets out the idea of new taxes. Take tobacco trust, for instance—federal and state tax is placed on cigars and cigarettes. Here's how it works out: The trust pays the producer less; the wholesaler and retailer pays a little more for goods, but lay in wait for the ultimate consumer—that's you and me, and when we buy a carton of cigarettes, all the taxes are tucked in with it. It's a saying and a true one, that the Little fellow is, and always has, been paying the expense of government.

Poor Al Smith! Like Esau he sold his birthright for a mess of pottage. In this case it was the Empire State building which, according to reports, is 85% empty. In a speech against the administration, two weeks ago, instead of urging the cause of Franklin D. Roosevelt, helped in a big way, the loyal democrats, of course, didn't like the speech or the man who made it. The republicans liked the speech, but not the man who made it. But it's a safe bet that the highbrows who hired Al will see that his Empire State building will be filled up.

The years 1936 is starting out like its going to be a whirlwind, politically. Candidates are going to be thicker than hops. They'll give the public the same old bonny, and make promises it will be impossible to keep, and that they didn't intend to keep in the first place. One good thing: We notice the drug stores are liberally stocked with cigars selling 25-cent or five-cent.

Must be all hokey about this rap year business. Here it is running into the second month and we haven't got a proposal yet. Must be slipping. This may be rap year, in which the ladies get a break, but to us poor devils who don't own cars, every year is leap year, for if we don't leap occasionally, we'll get a break, but it will be in the neck.

A group of nudists set sail the other day from Florida, bound for the Virgin Islands. They were without a navigator, because none could be found willing to shed his clothes. Another lost opportunity! Well, we don't know a cock-eyed thing about navigation, but we'd think it would be lots of fun learning.

Tombstones are queer things. And paradoxical. Often they lie above the person who lies below.

And another way to keep your new year's resolution is just gin and beer it.

The average man and woman in a lifetime enjoys 23 years of restful sleep. This doesn't include married men or bridge players.

THIS WEEK IN Texas History

Week of Feb. 2

1844—On Feb. 5 the act ordering the sale of the navy passed secretly in 1843, was repealed. A quarrel between President Lamar and Commodore E. W. Moore necessitated the proposed sale and this aroused strong popular opposition that repeal resulted.

1848—The Mexican War concluded Feb. 2nd, and the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo was signed in which Mexico gave up claim on Texas and agreed to the Rio Grande as the boundary.

1856—The Washington Co. railroad was chartered Feb. 2, to be constructed from Hemstead to Brenham. This railroad was part of the present Houston & Texas Railroad and was built as an independent enterprise.

1866—The constitutional convention met in Austin on Feb. 7 to restore the regular government, declare against secession, acknowledge liberation of slaves and cancel war debts.

Texas was originally known as the New Philippines.

Mrs. Cornell Dies In San Angelo Hospital Sunday

Friends in this city of Judge James Cornell will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Cornell, which occurred Sunday in a San Angelo hospital, following a major operation.

Funeral services for Mrs. Cornell were held Monday afternoon in Brackettville. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Dooley, pioneer of Brackettville, who settled in Kinney county in the 70's.

She was united in marriage to Judge Cornell in Brackettville on May 27, 1898, two years after he had been admitted to the bar. The couple moved to Marfa where Mr. Cornell served as county attorney and later to San Antonio where he served as assistant county attorney of Bexar county. From 1901 to 1906 they resided in Sonora, and from 1906 to 1917 they resided in Fort Worth.

In 1926 they moved to San Angelo where they made their home and were residing at the time of Mrs. Cornell's death. The couple had no children.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by two brothers: John Dooley and Will Dooley, Brackettville; four sisters: Mrs. Jim Clump, Brackettville; Mrs. Guy Lowe, San Antonio; Mrs. Sadie Roberts, Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Annie Rhome, San Antonio.

HOME FROM EXTENSIVE TRIP TO PACIFIC COAST

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pennington returned home Wednesday morning from a vacation trip of two weeks, their itinerary taking them from Douglas, Ariz., to Los Angeles, thence up the Pacific coast to Vancouver, B. C. The return trip was through the same states, but farther east.

It was Mrs. Pennington's first trip to the frozen North, as she was reared in the Arizona border town. She stated she enjoyed every mile, and no inconvenience or hindrance was encountered due to extreme cold weather. A companion on the trip was her trusty kodak, and she promises to show some snaps of the upper country that will start many of us trekking in that direction.

"Glad to get home? You bet," they both stated. "It was a trip worth taking, thoroughly enjoyed, but Sanderson looked good to us when we rounded the hill."

Giant Plane Is Wrecked at the Dryden Airport

The Fokker transport plane recently damaged in a landing at the Dryden airport, will be salvaged, according to a statement to the Times Tuesday by Sgt. H. L. Richardson, in charge of the airport.

The huge ship, though purchased in 1929, is now obsolete, and was one of several planes that landed at the field for servicing, and in making the landing the pilot, seeing he was headed into the other planes, swerved sharply to avoid hitting them, and the plane veered over clipping off one of its wings. The plane being obsolete, another wing could not be secured, so a crew of men arrived this week to strip the Fokker and to salvage all workable parts.

Sunday afternoon four navy plane enroute to the coast from Buffalo, N. Y., landed at the field. The clipper on the wing of one of the planes was broken and was held at the port until repairs could be made. On Sunday night at 7 o'clock a crew with the repair parts left the factory at San Diego, Calif., by auto, and made a record trip—reaching the Dryden port 4 a. m. Tuesday. Repairs were quickly made and the plane, after a 48-hour delay, took off for the Pacific coast.

An average of 100 planes a month for the past five months have stopped at the Dryden airport, indicating a noticeable increase in air traffic. A few commercial planes were included in this number, but the majority were army and navy planes, according to Sgt. Richardson.

Sanderson Youth Is Appointed to Naval Academy

Word to the Times this week from Congressman R. E. Thomson, was to the effect that he had secured the appointment of Alfred Jack Shelton of this place, to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Jack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Shelton, ranchers of this county who have made their home here for many years. He is a graduate of the Sanderson high school, a member of the class of '35. Most of his school training was received in the Sanderson public schools. This year he is a student at Texas A. & M.

Jack is a fine young man, deserving of this special honor, and his friends here are glad to learn of his appointment and wish him well. Incidentally, he is the first Sanderson youth to receive an appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy.

OIL MAN DIES

C. B. Reynolds, well known oil man, who at one time made Sanderson his home, died last Thursday in San Antonio, following an acute attack of pancreatitis which necessitated an emergency operation from which he never rallied.

Bonus Payments Of Local Veterans Will Total $30,000

Information from the records of the local American Legion post indicate that under the recently passed bonus legislation, Sanderson veterans of the World War will receive approximately $30,000.00 should all convert their adjusted certificates for cash.

The roster of the post contains 44 names, and figuring on a basis of $500 for each veteran, the result will be $22,000.00. Including those who are not active members of the post, the total will be in the neighborhood of $30,000.00 it was stated.

Application blanks for the vets had not arrived in Sanderson until Wednesday evening.

Searching For 100 Year Old Plow

Houston.—A statewide search for a 100-year-old plow, needed for impressive ground-breaking ceremonies for the million-dollar San Jacinto battle shaft, was instituted this week.

The call appeals to all Texas to join in this search. The century-old plow would be a central feature of the ceremonies which will attract nation-wide attention. So, anyone in Texas owning or having information of such a plow should communicate with the San Jacinto Centennial Association in Houston.

The gigantic battle shaft to be erected on the site of Sam Houston's decisive thrust for Texas liberty will be one of the world's most imposing structures. Taller than the Washington monument, and more beautiful architecturally, the Texas shaft will become renowned overnight.

HERE FROM ILLINOIS

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dayton of Decatur, Illinois are here to spend the remainder of the winter with their niece, Mrs. R. H. Lewellen.

Del Rio Hi Plays Eagles Tonight

As an aftermath of several out-of-town trips by the Eagle dribblers they will engage in a home game tonight at 7:30, meeting the cage squad from Del Rio.

Inquiring about the relative strength of both teams, the Times was unable to get any reliable dope on the boys on the border. However, in Les Cranfill, they have a coach who knows what it is all about, being a product of Simmons University, where he starred in athletics, and since he began coaching high schools has always managed to turn out winning clubs. So that's a guarantee that Sanderson fans will see a real battle at the high school gym tonight. Let's all be there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Vaughn were Del Rio visitors this week. Mrs. Vaughn under going a minor operation at a hospital in that city on Tuesday.

Mrs. George Geaslin and children came in Thursday from their home in Van Horn to be with her mother, Mrs. Manley Holmes, who is ill.

FENCES PROPERTY

A worthwhile improvement is the fence erected by Joe Kerr in front of his property on Main street. The old picket fence has been removed and a modern iron fence, with concrete base has taken its place.

Six More Weeks Of Cold Weather Says Groundhog

The ground hog saw his shadow last Sunday, ducked back into his hole for another six weeks of hibernation.

Though there is no basis for the superstition, it looks as if the ground hog was right, for the weather continues cold, the thermometer registering 26 above in this section Tuesday morning.

All in all, the weather in this section has not been as cold as that reported in adjoining towns. Livestock are reported in the best shape in many years and will continue to do well far into the summer, regardless of rain, according to the ranchers.

Eagles Capture Runner-up Prize

From a strong field in which practically every team in the Trans-Pecos area took part, the Sanderson Eagles had to be content with the consolation trophy in the invitation tournament held at McCamey last week end. This year's champion was the Panther squad from Fort Stockton, who decisively downed the Eagles in the final by a score of 26 to 7.

The tournament opened Friday afternoon, with Sanderson drawing a bye. Saturday morning they tangled with the Big Lake Owls, touted as one of the favorites to win the tournament. But Sanderson downed them, 36 to 16.

In the next bracket that afternoon, the Eagles met McCamey, tournament host, and nosed the Badgers out for the second time this season, 29 to 26, putting Sanderson in the finals, pitted against the Fort Stockton Panthers. Sanderson's offensive plays were effectively bottled up in this game, while the Panthers, scratched, chewed and clawed their way to a 26 to 7 victory, led by Warren, ringer center, who was high point man, chucking into the basket for 10 counts.

Sanderson's seven points came from two field goals by Halley, one field goal and one free try by Deaton.

Box score of the champion game:

Player	fg	ft	tp
Fort Stockton
Edwards, f	3	0	6
Barbour, f	2	1	5
McSpedden, f	1	0	2
Warren, c	4	2	10

Halley, f	2	0	4
Deaton, c	1	1	3
Sullivan, g	0	0	0
Totals	3	1	7

Commenting on the teams that took part in this tournament, Coach Duane Smith of the Eagles, stated that seldom did he see such an array of top high school talent as was represented at McCamey. "Every team represented a real threat, regardless of their previous showing," he said. "For example, Sanderson walloped Big Lake decisively 36 to 16. Fort Stockton barely nosed out Big Lake by one point. On paper we were better than Stockton; but just look at what they did to us."

Smith stated that he is perfectly satisfied with the showing of the Eagles to date—won 9 and lost three. He also stated that Ft. Stockton had one of the best basketball teams he ever saw in high school, and that whoever hung their hides on the fence in the district, would win in the regional contests also.

Halley was rated as second best all-tourney player at McCamey, although he was placed on the second all-tournament team, with Lochhausen and Mussey, for which they received silver footballs.

For rating as second best all-tourney individual player, Halley was awarded a medal.

Discoverer Of Little America Guest at Airport

Admiral Byrd, who many hail as the greatest explorer of all time, will be a guest at the airport, in Dryden, today, and our people will have an opportunity to see and greet this intrepid American, who in turn, has conquered the North and South poles.

Today Sanderson people will have an opportunity to see a real hero, in the person of Admiral Richard E. Bird, who will be the guest of Sergeant Richardson at luncheon today, at the airport in Dryden.

There is little the Times can say in the way of introducing Admiral Byrd. The entire nation knows of his trips to the poles, of his contributions to the scientific knowledge of these out-of-the-way places. A national hero, and the ideal of every red-blooded American youth.

According to the best information Admiral Byrd, in company with Major Strickland, will fly from El Paso this morning and will reach here about noon—be at the airport about 11:30, if you desire to see him. A good sized crowd should be on hand to welcome the admiral.

CAFE IS CLOSED

Holt, who operates the Loma Alta cafe, and is now undergoing repairs and remodeling which, when completed, will be reopened by Mr. Holt, who will serve sandwiches, short orders, etc. Mr. Holt stated he will reopen the place in another week.

Three Marfa Boys Drowned in Lake

Over 700 citizens and soldiers were patrolling the banks of San Estaban lake near Marfa yesterday morning, as the lake was being searched for the bodies of 3 Marfa youths missing since last Monday.

At first it was thought the boys had run away from home and a general alarm was sent to officers in neighboring towns to be on the lookout for them. But on Tuesday a capsized boat on the lake and articles which identified the youths led to the belief that they had drowned. The lake is 50 feet deep in places.

Thursday afternoon after a diving suit had been brought from El Paso, it was reported that two of the bodies had been found.

Jacket Is Found

Any doubt that the boys had drowned in the lake were removed when a jacket belonging to one of the boys had been found near the point where the boat capsized. The youths' names are J. L. Stiles, Jr., 15; Leroy Cleveland, Jr., 15; and Donald Nichols, 19.

A professional diver arrived from Galveston Wednesday, and though frigid water and bitter cold winds hindered the searchers, workers remained at the lake, night and day, and at night were aided by more than 300 lights from automobiles.

VISITS SISTER

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Carter were in Sanderson Sunday visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Higgins. Mr. Carter, who is a brother of Mrs. Higgins, is employed as section foreman on the T. & N. Austin—Complete harmony between the state and national machinery of the Democratic party, with the incumbent state Democratic administration taking a militant leadership for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket in Texas, and some of its able campaigning members lending their aid in the other states for the national ticket, was reflected by the meeting of the state Democratic executive committee in Austin. The committee voted to cooperate fully with Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham, designated by National Committeeman Garner to represent the national organization in the Texas campaign. It laid plans to finance and carry forward a vigorous fight to obtain an enthusiastic Roosevelt-Garner instructed delegation from Texas. Of special significance was its resolution praising the Allied administration and pledging "continued support" to him.

This resolution adopted in the face of the announced candidacy of Roy Sanderson, the Ferguson entry, and Judge F. W. (Big Fish) Fischer, Tyler, means the Democratic state organization intends to do what it can to discourage the good old Texas custom of "tearing the state wide open" every two years regularly with a bitter primary fight that engages all the time and energy of every able political leader in Texas—and denies to Texas, in presidential years, the opportunity of rendering a needed service to the national party.

This year the national democracy needs the aid of capable campaigners in doubtful states. Texas, in Gov. Alfred, Chairman Ernest Thompson of the rail commission and Attorney General Bill McCraw, has three young leaders who between them, originated and carried to a successful conclusion in Washington, Texas' memorable fight for states' rights in oil control. All are brilliant campaigners, and with this background they are ideally fitted to demolish the "states' rights" issue which Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas and other GOP aspirants have so brazenly sought to steal from the party that went to war for states' rights in 1961. The national committee has passed along the word that it wants them—the State chairman, Myron Blalock, too—for this service. The governor laid the groundwork when he devoted most of his keynote talk to "reading the record" on Governor Landon, who urged "the iron hand of dictatorship" for oil, in 1933—and now as an active G. O. P. presidential candidate is offering "states' rights" as a vote catcher.

The inside story behind the governor's decision not to call a special session of the legislature "immediately" involves a good deal more than the one reason he gave—lack of pressing need for funds for pension purposes at this time. With the pension board preparing to set up its organization by Feb. 14—and the several hundred jobs to open up thereby—the wise ones in Austin foresaw a multitude of job seekers sufficient to swamp both the governor and the legislature in their frantic efforts to land a job. Nobody dares complain openly about the situation, but both state officials and members groan privately whenever anything happens that brings down the army of job-hunting constituents upon them. Observers feel sure this influenced the governor's decision for no special session until after Feb. 14. Since that decision was made hundreds of letters, telegram and message by word of mouth have come to the governor, congratulating him on not calling the session, and urging him not to do so at all until the regular session next January, when the new legislature meets.

While the politicians are shouting from the housetops their various schemes of financing pensions for everybody, for relieving this or that group of taxpayers, and other fantastic tax plans, it might be well for the citizens to read carefully these figures. They are from the official report of the state comptroller, Geo. Sheppard, for the fiscal year 1935, and from a report submitted by a sub-committee of the house taxation committee at the last regular session, and are submitted here without prejudice, simply as facts that are worth knowing:

The state took in $113,342,782.50 from all sources last year. Of each dollar received only 72.87 cents were from taxes, 27.13 cents being from fees, permits, land sales, court costs and fines, federal aid, etc.
Of each dollar taken in, ad valorem taxes (on real estate and personal property) paid only 18.99 cents, gross receipts taxes 9.8 cents, cigaret tax, 3.79 cents; gasoline tax, 29.6 cents; licenses (including automobiles) 4.77; county, federal and other aids, 15.97 cents; land sales, rentals and royalties, 3.78 cents; interest and penalties, 3.92 cents.

Petroleum produced in 1935, gasoline and oil production taxes, about $45,000,000, or more than half of the total tax income.

PROGRESS MARCHES ON

Items of Interest From Towns in the Southwest

Marfa—Work has started on a new theatre in this city, another link in the O. K. chain, of which the Princess Theatre in Sanderson is one.

Fort Stockton—The Pioneer of this city reports the birth of a calf with 2-heads, on the J. M. Morlan farm. The freak lived only an hour. It was prepared for shipment to a San Angelo taxidermist, and later will be placed on exhibit at the Centennial Exposition in Dallas.

Brackettville—Prospects in the wool and mohair industry loom bright, according to the Brackettville News-Mail, which reports that J. B. Blakeney of San Angelo has already contracted for some 760,000 pounds of spring clip at top prices. This is attributed to the fact that the carry-over at the present time is the lowest in several years.

Sierra Blanca—A pair of huge mountain lions were killed last week on the Gordon McAdoo ranch near this place. Ranchers generally are reporting that signs of this predatory animal are more numerous at this time than in many years.

Ozona—Heavy snow, rain, hail and sleet, contributed to the "most prolonged cold spell of the season" in Sutton county during the past week, according to the Ozona Stockman. Offsetting this was news that most of the spring clip of wool in that section had been contracted in advance, at prices ranging from 30 cents to 31 cents. Sutton county offering 400,000 pounds.

Rocksprings—An election ordered on the question of legalizing the sale of all liquors in Precinct No. 1, Edwards county, was scheduled for Feb. 1, but was called off when the attorney general of Texas held that "the county being dry prior to national prohibition, such election could not be held in any sub-division of said county."

Pecos—A bond election involving $90,000, locally, will be held in this city tomorrow. This sum, which will be supplemented by federal funds, will be used in the construction of a new courthouse, which is sorely needed.

Fort Davis—Federal funds for the purchase of the old fort at this place will soon be available, it is reported. Its rehabilitation will be a memorial to Jefferson Davis, by whose order, when he was secretary of war, the fort was created.

Alpine—Funds have been appropriated by the state highway department to build a scenic route in this city. The road will begin near the Sul Ross college grounds, wind around the hills to Kokernot Park, recreational center, thence west to connect with the Alpine Fort Davis highway—approximately 1 1/2 miles.

and cultural traditions which extend back to the tenth century. Prices of admission are 40c for adults and 25c for students.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb Townsend and his father, H. W. Townsend, were visitors in Del Rio and Brackettville for several days this week.

Tonight, Friday, Feb. 7, the Sul Ross college will be host to the Latvian Russian singers on their first American tour. These singers are professional musicians and they will enact Russian Orthodox Church ceremonies, using beautiful scenery and authentic costumes.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

Denton.—The advent of February marks the turning point in fashions. Heretofore, when spring was two months off, only scattered glimpses of the approaching season were noted in the fashion world.

Dresses, coats and suits for the coming spring season are to have individuality—but not in the extreme dictated by some past era.

Pleating, tucking and shirring are used extensively, and of special importance on dark daytime frocks are the lingerie touches of lace, chiffon and organdy.

Skirts for sports, street and dressy afternoon wear are scarcely a fraction shorter than last year (varying from 12 and 14 in. from the floor) and most of them are very slim and straight.

For early spring they are, of course, the black and white, navy and white, brown and white combinations. Black and white predominates for tailored and dressy daytime wear.

Mrs. J. C. Mitchell left last Thursday for San Antonio where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Fred Hoey.

Mrs. Manley Holmes, who became ill on the ranch and was brought to town last Thursday, is able to be up this week.

PRACTICAL COOKERY

By the Home Economics Dept. Texas State College for Women

Denton.—Cooking three or more foods in the oven at the same time with no attention needed until removal time, gives the busy homemaker more freedom and it saves considerably on the fuel bill.

Dinner No. 1.—Roast beef, scalloped potatoes, carrots and peas, green beans, hot rolls, raisin puffs, hard sauce.

Rub roast with salt and pepper and place in an uncovered roasting pan. Allow 20 to 22 minutes per pound for cooking time of the roast.

The vegetables should be salted and placed in vessels with tight-fitting covers containing only a small amount of liquid.

Raisin Puffs: 2 cups stale bread crumbs, 1/4 cup of sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup of hot milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon shortening.

Mrs. H. G. Newton left Wednesday morning for San Antonio where she will meet her daughter, Miss Mattieue, who is a student at Texas State College for Women (CIA), Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell and son, C. C., left Sunday for San Antonio where Mr. Mitchell went for a medical examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Hicks and son were in town the first of the week from their ranch on the Independence.

Dinner No. 2.—Oven fried chicken, scalloped corn, pickled beets, creamed onions, blueberry pudding and cream.

Place on rack in roaster for 25 minutes and 450 F. Reduce the temperature to 275 F. Cover and bake for three hours.

Place the onions in boiling water, salted and cook, cover in the oven with the chicken for three hours. Cover with hot cream sauce when ready to use.

Scalloped Corn: 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1/2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, beaten, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, pepper, 1 pimento, 2 cups of corn.

Melt the butter, add flour and stir until smooth. Add milk and cook until thickened. Combine with remaining ingredients. Turn in greased baking dish and bake in oven with the dinner.

Blueberry Pudding: 2 cups of flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup of milk, 1 cup blueberries and sugar. Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Cut in the butter with a knife. Add the blueberries that have been sweetened to taste, and stir until well floured.

Health Letter

Austin.—Pellegra, while not a communicable disease, is of concern to the state health department of health, as many people die of it each year in Texas.

The longer one has pellegra the harder it is to cure, so one should be on the lookout for early symptoms, such as nervousness, indigestion and burning of feet and hands.

The prevention of pellegra depends upon eating the right kind of food at all times. To make sure that the diet is right it should always include plenty of milk each day, some fresh meat and as many fresh vegetables as possible.

Civil War Scenes Background for Love Romance

Although the war between the states serves as its background, "So Red the Rose" which will be shown at the Princess next Monday night, Feb. 10, is a romantic story of the South, for the author of the novel, Stark Young, endowed his story with a nostalgic appreciation of the Southerners of that period.

"So Red the Rose" is the story of the Bedford family, owners of an old plantation. There is the mother, the father and the daughter, the latter portrayed by Margaret Sullivan. Also two brothers and a distant cousin, played by Randolph Scott, who is in love with the daughter.

The picture has many interesting backgrounds. The historic battle of Shiloh is enacted. There are scenes both humorous and romantic involving hundreds of negro slaves who work on the Bedford plantation.

Negro Spirituals Featured: A feature of this picture is the singing of spirituals and folk songs by a large number of darkies. "So Red the Rose" is realistic in every phase, as considerable attention was given to reproduce details authentic with the 1860 era and condition then existing in the South.

Betty Burgess is Starred in Year's Best Musicals

Judging from her performance in her first picture, Paramount's tuneful "Coronado," which shows at the Princess Theatre tonight and Saturday, Feb. 7 and 8, you are going to hear a great deal about a young lady named Betty Burgess in the future.

Miss Burgess has the feminine lead in the musical romance, and she's got what it takes. She is an 18-year-old high school girl who can act as well as sing and dance, and the ever-increasing popularity of musical screen plays will no doubt lead her to top-ranking stardom.

"Coronado" is one of the best of this year's musicals, mainly because of the presence of Eddy Duchin and his popular orchestra, though the singing of both Miss Burgess and Johnny Downs is all that could be asked.

And there is plenty of comedy in this picture, too, mainly by Jack Haley, Andy Devine, Alice White and Leon Erroll. Here, truly is entertainment for the entire family.

Mesdames H. R. Laurence and A. F. Thrift of Fort Stockton visited here Monday with friends.

GOOD LIGHTING

PREVENTS THIS..... in your bridge hand

EVER get a spade mixed with your clubs! It won't happen if you have enough light on the bridge table. For it's a scientific fact that good lighting automatically draws your attention to such mistakes.

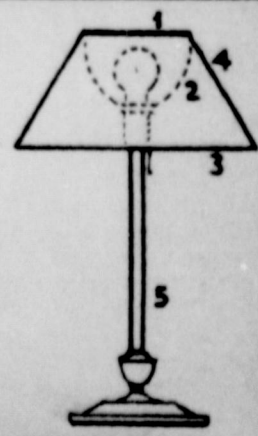

And good lighting does another thing for your bridge game. By making it easier for you and your guests to see the cards, it relieves the strain—puts new pep into the party. Psychologists have proved that good lighting is stimulating even for tasks that do not require close, prolonged eye-use.

Good lighting costs only a few pennies a day more than poor lighting and is dirt-cheap protection for the most precious asset you'll ever have—your eyes. Consult us today about your lighting problems. We'll gladly advise you on the recommended sizes of lamps and the proper placement of fixtures.

This I.E.S. Better Sight Lamp Helps Prevent Eyestrain

- 1. Wide opening at top of shade throws light to ceiling, eliminating shadows. 2. Glass reflector softens light, prevents glare. 3. Wide shade gives ample light over your work. 4. Shade lining is white to reflect more light. 5. Lamp is high enough to light a large working area.

COOPERATION
Cooperation is a simple word. It sounds as if it might be a little word, but it has a large meaning. There are many people who do not understand the meaning of this word. It means unity, working together as a whole group.

The word "cooperation" applies to Volleyball. In order to win a game each player must cooperate with the others. They must also cooperate with the coach. The five or six players must work as a unit.

If one player does not cooperate with the other players, the game is ruined. If they unite and work as a unit they are like a well-oiled machine, each one doing his or her part.

The Groundhog

By Jack Bogusch

We shall have to keep our coats out of the moth balls for six more weeks, because the groundhog saw his shadow Sunday, Feb. 2. This is the age-old superstition of "ground hog day."

It is said that every February 2 the ground hog comes out of his burrow. If he sees his shadow he returns to his winter home for six more weeks. Though this tradition has no basis of fact, many people take it for the truth. On last Sunday, the ground hog came out of his winter home only to dash back in again; so winter is still here.

Del Rio Cagers Play Here Tonite

The Del Rio Wildcat basketball team will invade the Eagles' nest tonight at 7:30, in the high school gym. This is the first time this season that Del Rio has met the Eagles in any kind of combat. Admission tonight will be 10 cents and 25 cents.

This will be the first home game the Eagles have played in two weeks. Last week end the Eagles won the runner-up prize at the McCamey tournament, but were defeated by Fort Stockton in the finals.

Grade School Is Studying Projects

As it makes work more interesting, most of the grades in the grammar school have undertaken projects. The first grade is studying Washington and Lincoln, and are making silhouette drawing of these men. They have a sand table, and are working on a farm project to put here. The class is divided into two groups—and the younger members of the class are studying about pets.

The second grade is also studying about Washington, and are making posters of Washington and the cherry tree. They are also working on a Washington program to present at assembly. They have been working on character study, but have left that to study Washington and the Centennial. Next month they will make a bird book.

The third grade won in the P. T. A. baseball game. They are spending most of their time on an assembly program. They have a reading project started which interests them very much. When a student reads a book of 60 pages a star is placed by his or her name.

Fourth Grade Has Contest
The fourth grade is working on a national park project. They are also making nature books in grammar. In arithmetic they are running a car race. The cars are pinned on the blackboard and are moved along as the pupil works more problems.

The fifth grade has just been given the Stanford achievement test. It shows whether they can really do fifth grade work. It is a summary of all their work and is composed of ten tests. They are: paragraph meaning, word meaning, dictations, language usage, literature, history and civics, geography, psychology and hygienics, arithmetic reasoning, and computation.

The sixth grade have finished painting cans for the flower pots, and are now planting cacti in them. This project will be put on exhibit.

Why Graduate from High School?
Every year there are thousands of pupils who enter high school in the fall only to drop out of school before the end of the year. Every year thousands of pupils attend the public schools of the nation with no ambition to complete the course prescribed in high school for graduation. Below are some of the reasons why the boy or girl of today should at least complete a course in some good high school, as pointed out by the president of Draughon's Business colleges in Texas a few years ago:

1. Graduation from a good high school is a distinction and an honor which places the graduate above the rank and file as to mental training.

2. It is a joy and a real satisfaction to complete anything and especially a task which has been well done. Any task done with eagerness brings forth a tonic makes a person dissatisfied with anything short of completion.

3. The completion of a high school course gives a stronger mind than if the pupil had not been in school. The pupil who uses his opportunities and abilities in high school is strengthened in his power to analyze, compare and draw conclusions. "The mind employed is the mind enjoyed."

4. The completion of four years of work in high school will certainly strengthen the character of the pupil because it will bring him in contact with those who generally stand for good citizenship. After all, character is the greatest of all human assets.

5. The boy or girl who completes a course in high school generally has a broader vision and can see farther than if they had not attended high school. "The eye observes only what the mind, the heart, and the imagination are gifted to see."

6. The pupil who graduates from high school can better choose his life's work and this is of greatest importance to each person.

7. A high school diploma is set as a standard in education at present. It is required for entrance into college and the professions. A high school education means more about what the third grade did fifty years ago.

8. The competition is less for the high school graduate than for the one who has not completed high school. The competition is far keener now for all jobs than it formerly was, and preparation is the method needed to meet the growing competition.

9. A person who completes a high school course can, on the average, earn more money than the one who does not have a high school education. When the technical training is added to a high school education, the earning power of the person is still greatly increased. A high school course is intended in general for foundation work for specialization in some profession. "Poverty is very good in poems, but very bad in the house."

10. The "educated person" will spend his leisure time more profitably and more happily than the one who does not complete high school.

A noted American educator says:
A High School Diploma is—
Necessary for a profession;
Desirable in business;
Helpful in a trade;
College demands it;
Business asks for it;
The shop respects it;
With it—
You get a job more easily;
Advance more rapidly;
Climb much higher.

HISTORY CLASS MEETS

Mary Ferguson and Lois Taylor gave good reports Monday morning of current events on Texas history in the Texas History class. The composed the first committee assigned to collect clippings for the bulletin board. Mary passed around old pictures of Sanderson, and some were taken when Sanderson was only a station. Others were taken before the courthouse was finished. She also showed old badges of the United Confederate Veterans, and a toy pistol.

He had lived in Roanoke for six years, and there he studied algebra, English, physical education, commercial geography and health. Algebra is his favorite subject. His greatest sport is wrestling and he also likes track.

H. E. NEWS

By Constance Richardson

Both classes in vocational home economics have begun the study of clothing and personal grooming this semester. The unit of study has been carefully mapped out and the following projects will be undertaken: All first year girls will plan and construct a sleeping garment and a cotton or linen school dress; all second year girls will plan and construct two garments for an infant's layette; a major play suit for a pre-school child and a street costume for a high school girl.

Aside from these class projects each girl will carry on a home project closely related to the work done in class, and among those chosen at present are: Rayon and cotton undergarments; dyed and remodeled garments; dresses to be made from salt or sugar sacks and party dresses. If time permits the classes will also make some minor improvements in the clothing laboratory.

With the completion of these projects the girls are planning to exhibit them in a public showing in connection with the home economics program. All garments will be judged and ranked. Major projects ranking highest may be modeled at the State Home Making rally, which will be held in San Angelo April 25th to 27th. An exhibit of other projects also will be held.

At the last club meeting of the H. E. girls Mrs. McDuffy Kessler gave an interesting talk on "Personality and Personal Improvement," which was the theme of the club's study for the day. Mary Beth Banner, Adair Edmiston and Elizabeth Brown had charge of the entertainment.

7th Grade

The pupils of the 7th grade have to display several interesting articles that relate to work they have been studying this term. They keep these projects in the filing cabinet and outsiders are invited to inspect the work at any time.

C. G. Carpenter has carved a small horse and cart out of wood as a part of the work in this art class. John Fisher Charlton has put a miniature wooden train together and has it on display.

On the seventh grade bulletin board are pictures that pertain to the unit of art work this class is taking up at various periods.

Mr. Parker is the 7th grade arithmetic teacher. The work in arithmetic now is with equations. Mr. King is the history teacher and is having the class draw maps pertaining to the subject. Miss Wilson is the home room teacher.

IN THE GRADES

By Margaret Arrington

The ages of pupils of the sixth grade range from eleven to sixteen. There are seventeen pupils that are eleven, six that are 12, three pupils that are thirteen, one pupil who is fourteen, and one 16. The most popular months of the year for birthdays are August and November. Some member of the class has a birthday in every month of the year except October.

Swimming is the most popular hobby, with football second. The most unusual hobby was collecting relics.

History ranks first as the favorite subject of the class, with arithmetic and art second. The majority of the girls have chosen school teaching as their vocation. One girl wishes to be a surgeon.

Most of the boys want to be aviators. An unusual vocation as chosen by one boy—is that of operating a wireless.

Englishmen didn't have to buy hats, unless they chose, in the middle of the 18th century. Three hats could be rented for a season for six dollars.

Glee Club Is a Howling Success

"Take Me Back to My Boots and Saddle." "Home on the Range," and other familiar tunes of the West can be heard over the high school building every Wednesday at the sixth period, the meeting of the boys' glee club.

There are 22 boys in this newly organized club and Miss Leitha Chaffin is the director. The club will study only cowboy songs. Laurence Gutierrez is accompanist.

Boy Scouts Are Holding Meetings

The Boy Scouts have been holding meetings regularly for the past two weeks. There are eight new members and many old scouts. The boys have been learning to tie their eight different knots: the square knot, granet knot, bowline, sheep-shank, slip knot, figure eight, overhand knot, and the timber hitch.

The oath and laws are being taught the new members. The group is divided into four patrols which are based on the ages of the members. The Stag patrol has already elected its officers. They are as follows: Patrol leader, Kenneth Litton; assistant patrol leader, C. G. Carpenter; and Scribe, Malcolm Davis. This patrol is already doing very good work.
