NO POLITICS

The governor told his fellow-travelers that all must forget politics on the trip and there has been none. But Allred has been the star performer.

Lovely Party Complimenting Seniors Held at Joe F. Brown Ranch Home

Complimenting the senior class, Joe F. Brown and Mrs. J. H. Brown entertained with a party at the ranch home of Mrs. Brown last Friday evening. The guests met at the home of the room mother, Mrs. W. J. Brown, and drove to the ranch. The party was in "bon voyage" style, and all the games played associated with the "setting idea. The group first made their passports, then decided they were to take with them, pinned flags on a map designating places to go. Supper was served at a long banquet table in a nautical theme. The table was centered with a blue and white streamer. The streamer was pulled to each end. When the class members were instructed to pull on the streamer they found a favor hidden in the form of a blue card. Mrs. Loehausen recited a poem of what seniors are to expect when they go out into the world. The high school work, pointed out the many places a high school student might visit, but then demonstrated how a student could overcome such obstacles and make a success of life. The final game was played after supper was served. The student had to retrieve his name from a huge improvised web in the ceiling of one of the rooms. The fortunes were read from the web. The guests at this lovely affair were Mrs. Sullivan, Lillian Halley, Ferguson, Bernard Kerr, Deaton, Lois Taylor, Melven, Billie Smith, Anna Lee, O. T. Schupbach, Vick, Roy Deaton, Olivia Gutierrez, Junior Lemons, and Reuben...

Coming Attractions at the Princess

LLOYD'S LATEST IS RIB ROCKING COMEDY FARCE

Harold Lloyd's comedy, "The Milky Way," which will be shown at the Princess Theatre tonight and Saturday, May 8 and 9, is strewn with laughter all evolving around the bespectacled comedian in his timid progress from the uneventful life of a milkman to the pulsing career of a middleweight fight champion. There is a gorgeously goofy idea in this picture. The hilarity is unabated. Lloyd is cast as a poor sap of a milkman, an obscure fellow scared at his own shadow. He is always skipping out of trouble. He steps into the limelight by ducking away from a blow aimed at him by a drunken caddy of the middleweight champion. But the champ gets the sock and goes down for the count. The reporters pounce upon the milkman. He brags, and is egged into declaring that he knocked out the great undefeated champ. This catapults Lloyd into fame as a contender. A promoter collars him and puts him in training. He is forced to fight the champ. There is going to be a massacre—with the ex-milkman scheduled to be on the receiving end of the punishment. It would be spoiling the fun to tell you what happens when the trembling Lloyd, spectacles and all is shoved into the ring. William Gargan and Lionel Stander do exceptional work trying to knock the comedian's block off. The send their hefty rights and lefts from many angles, but never connect. A superb supporting cast makes "The Milky Way" exceptional entertainment.

vealing glimpse into the gaudy world of burlesque, it does not confine its action to backstage drama, but launches into the life story of a genius of the theatre, played by Baxter.

With his two trusted aides, Miss Faye and Oakie, Baxter has climbed from a side street honky-tonk to Broadway's glittering palaces. Then when he falls in love with a lovely society woman who represents everything he had hoped to attain, he deserts his erstwhile friends. Things go from bad to worse with Baxter, until his wife, Mona Barrie, deserts him; when things look blackest, Baxter's old friends return to help him on the most spectacular venture of his life. The close of the picture shows Baxter suddenly realizing that it was Alice Faye he loved all the time.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

Denton.— Formal graduation frocks make their debut this week and the fashion world joins spectators at commencement parades. Some of the graduates will tread the platform in conventional cap and gown, but others will don lovely, sheer, white frocks with ruffles and flounces, and will look as distractingly feminine as possible. Fashion experts have been real kind to the girl graduate and designed her frock with an eye to the practical side. Graduation dresses are no longer wrapped in tissue paper and put away when that all-important May or June event is over—instead, they are making big hits at summer formal. In selecting a frock girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) wager you'll want one that carries its own clever little jacket. Some of them some just to the waistline and are belted so that they look to be part of the dress itself. They feature little caplets of lace or net, and elaborate sleeves with lace or ruffle inserts. Materials are organdy, net, chiffon, mousseline de soie, and French dimity. One smart frock is made of white net with narrow inserts of white satin at four inch intervals all the way up the dress, and a pointed Peter Pan collar buttons at the top of the back with four satin covered buttons, and the placket is open from there to the waist. The dress has a stitched satin belt, and is worn over a satin slip. Another youthful dress is made of mousseline de soie, trimmed with accordion pleated ruffles at the bottom of the skirt. The adorable jacket has a high stand-up pleated collar and full sleeves that are circled with 3 rows of pleated ruffling. The waist fits snugly and a blue velvet ribbon gives the effect of a one-piece dress. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Turk left Tuesday for Uvalde where they will attend the Honey festival being held there this week end. Mrs. James C. Sharp came in last Friday from Iran and visited until Sunday with Mrs. F. B. Pyle. Mrs. Pyle accompanied her home for a visit. Miss Earline Ruston spent last Friday and Saturday in Alpine, visiting with her brother, Ellie Ruston and wife. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Anderson of Marathon spent the week end in Sanderson with their son, "Andy" Anderson and family.

Current Comment

The senior play was a wow! And so was "Dutch" in his stylish suit. We didn't expect such a crowd, but I guess that was the result of advertising. And, just think, we all got to see Otto Timrod propose to Florence (Mrs. Hungerford).

Only two more weeks of school and then—complete oblivion.

Some work, some play—But just the same, they'll remember the day that they took examinations!!!!

And that reminds us to study, study, STUDY!!!!

The Eagle News next week will be the Senior Edition of the paper—the staff being all-senior. We are proud to have edited the paper, and are also glad to have the senior edit the last issue. SO MAKE IT GOOD!

Have you noticed the "Books Overdue" on the blackboard in the study hall? I first thought it was a joke, but found out that some of the books are actually overdue.

Es todo por este and!!!!

Seventh Graders To Present Play

The 7th grade is about to graduate into high school, and all are anxious to graduate. The class will give a play on its graduation night, May 20th. It is a two-act play entitled "The Date."

The class is a large one and has started a review for final exams. They have been handing in book reports and the last one will be at the end of next week. All the pupils have been coming up in their studies for the last two months, realizing final examinations are close, and all want to graduate. As a whole the class is very good in its studies and the majority of the members will be freshmen next year.

We hope you will all come to our play at the high school auditorium on graduation night.

The seventh grade has a bulletin board with a large map of Texas on it, and are giving reports of the larger cities of Texas as a geography project. They will complete this at the end of the coming week. Mr. King, 7th grade geography teacher, said if the class makes a good showing the last two months of school he would not give us a final exam.

The boys in the 7th grade have physical education three times a week. It is in the fourth period on Monday, Thursday and Friday. There have been playing baseball for the last three months and are playing with the eighth grade.

FROM TYPING CHAMP

Mildred Hurst received a letter Friday from Mr. George L. Rosenfeld, world's champion typist. The letter was in reply to one that Mildred wrote to Mr. Rosenfeld asking his opinion on the subject of typewriting for high school students. The letter was one of those sent to distinguished persons by members of the typing classes. One other letter has been received, that to Adair Edmiston, from Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's secretary.

Some men are magnetic without using their power to grip others.

Seniors Will Edit Next Week's Issue Of Eagle News

The senior class will publish the Eagle News next week as a special senior edition. This edition will be last published by the club this school year. No paper will be published during examination week.

The Eagle News club was organized last September and has published a paper each week of the school year with the exception of mid-term exam week. Mildred Underwood was editor in chief of the paper for the first semester, and Sammie Carter was elected for the second semester. Lloyd Gant will be editor in chief of the senior edition. Members of the senior class will compose the staff.

School's Interest In League Work

According to a survey made by Supt. Holt, 119 students from high school and the 7th grade participated in interscholastic work and all students in the five grade of grammar school took part. All grades in grammar school participated with the exception of the first grade which is ineligible.

There have been enrolled in high school and the 7th grade approximately 135 students during the year. Of the 119 students taking part in League work, we have an average of 89 per cent in high school. The average is 100 per cent in grammar school.

This percentage was requested by Mr. Roy Bedichek, chief of the bureau of Public School interest at Austin, who manages the statewide interscholastic League activities.

The statistics for the Sanderson grammar school and the 7th grade are as follows which names the activity and the number of students participating: Football, 22; one-act play 24, speaking 10, volleyball 18, seventh grade declamation 35, essay 1, track 1, and tennis 2. This totals 119.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

The regular high school assembly, Tuesday, May 5, was in charge of the boys' glee club, and sponsored by Miss Chaffin. David Duke sang two cowboy songs—"Boots and Saddles," and "One Wide River to Cross." The songs by the glee club were "The Last Roundup," "Old Faithful," "Home on the Range," "Beautiful Texas," "Eyes of Texas," and "Wahoo."

Student Banquet Tomorrow Night

Other plans include the senior sermon to be preached in the auditorium Sunday morning, May 17 at 11 o'clock by Rev. S. M. Mims.

The last week of school will be taken up with final examinations and end of the year reports, and 7th grade graduation exercises, to be held Wednesday evening, May 20. The seniors will receive their diplomas May 21 at 8 p. m., after an address by Dr. H. W. Murrell, president of Sul Ross college.

All nineteen members of the graduating class had a role in the play.

The play was directed by Miss Lorene Childers, sponsor of the senior class.
