Miss Taylor, 18, Laid to Rest In San Antonio

Following a brief illness, Miss Taylor, 18, died in San Antonio last Friday night, October 31, at 11:30 o'clock.

The body was taken overland to San Antonio, where funeral services were held at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the chapel of Hagy and McCollum, with the Rev. Jesse Yelvington, pastor of Baptist Temple, San Antonio, conducting the services.

At this service two special songs, "Living for Jesus," and "Disappointments in Heaven," were sung by Mrs. E. A. Beamus and D. L. Duke. Interment was in the Roselawn Cemetery, San Antonio.

Dorothy Lois Taylor was born in Junction, Texas, January 15, 1919. In 1923 she moved to San Antonio with her parents. At the age of 11 she was converted and baptized, becoming a member of the Pruett Ave. Baptist Church, San Antonio, and at the time of her death was an active member of the Sanderson Baptist church. Her life was spent in San Antonio where she attended the E. Lee school and Brackridge high school. She also attended high school in Lake Travis, La., and in 1934 moved to Sanderson with her sister, Mrs. M. Dyal, and was graduated from the Sanderson high school in the class of 1936. Previous to her illness she was employed as cashier at the local office of Community Public Service company.

It is with regret that the legion friends in Sanderson learned of her passing. Possessed of a sunny, sweet disposition, combined with a true Christian character she endeared herself to all who knew her. Always smiling, full of cheerful nature, she cast rays of sunshine wherever she went. The many beautiful flowers that covered her last resting place were mute testimony of the esteem in which she was held.

Surviving are the parents, G. Taylor and Mrs. N. J. Taylor, San Antonio; a sister, Mrs. W. Dyal of Lafayette, La.; and three brothers, D. E., Beryl, and Roy Taylor, all of San Antonio, and numerous other relatives in and near San Antonio.

Active pallbearers were all legion friends and classmates from Sanderson: Albert Appel, Dick Hillman, Jack Deaton, Billy Ferguson, Ernest Farley and Jesse Schausen.

Sanderson friends who attended the funeral services were Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Harrell and daughter, Lillian; Mrs. and Mrs. D. L. Dyal and children, Mesdames Iratona and W. J. Ferguson; Mesdames Dorothy Sullivan, Ellen Appel, Mary Beth Banner, Dorothy Lewellen, Mary Ferguson; Messrs. Frank Weigand, John L. Swinton, Roy and Jack Deaton, Albert Weigand, Hicks Canon, Eugene Banner, Wilburn Short, Billy Goldwire, Billy Ferguson, Jack Hayre, Robert and Bernard Kerr, Joe Kerr, Jr., Albert Appel, Dick Sullivan, Ernest Farley, Jesse Lochausen and Melven Ballard.

VISITS BIG BEND PARK

County Judge G. J. Henshaw, accompanied by F. W. Callahan, supervising engineer of PWA district 19, Don Legge, and Miss Larson, social work of PWA, and Mr. Jackson, all of San Angelo, visited the site of the proposed Big Bend National Park Wednesday. The visitors were very enthusiastic over the beautiful scenery and natural attractions at the park site affords.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the local post, American Legion, will sell poppies next Thursday, Armistice Day. The poppies were made by disabled veterans in the region hospital at Kerrville, and the proceeds from the sale will go to the treasury of the Auxiliary to help take care of the various charities they are sponsoring.

Test Shutdown Awaits Casing to Shut Off Water

Drilling on the Sam Bell test well in the eastern part of Terrell county has not been resumed, as they are still awaiting casing to shut off water encountered at below the 800-ft level. The well has been idle for a little more than two weeks, but announcement was made that drilling would be resumed as soon as the water shutoff was effected.

The company drilling this test are well pleased with indications to date. The reports of geologists on the land where the test is being drilled as well as the surrounding area, is very favorable. The test is located in survey 68, block D-7.

Leasing has been noticeably active during the past week, and the following transactions were filed for record in the office of the county clerk:

Mineral deed, R. B. Lewis to Robert M. Scott, 640 acres in section 12, block D-10, TC Ry. Co. grantee.

Royalty deed, Sara Elizabeth Goldgar to Harry Goldblatt, 1/8 royalty interest in section 55, blk. D-6, sec. 50, blk. D-10, sections 26 and 34, block 150, 640 acres.

Mineral deed, Cargray Corporation to Henry Swift, 1/8 interest in all oil, gas and other mineral, in sec. 15, block 158, and section 22, block 158, 640 acres.

Mineral deed, Keck-Pecos Trust to Ann C. Bradt, 80 acres in section 6, Cedar block.

Mineral deed, Trans-Pecos Development Co., to Ann C. Bradt, 20 acres in sec. 80, blk. D-7.

Mineral deed, Jessie McPhee to Agnes Davis and Ben Wavis, 7-8 interest in oil, gas and mineral on land in section 66, block D-7, involving 100 acres.

Two Months Left To Finish Work In Range Program

With only two months left in which to complete work under the 1937 Range Conservation program, present indications are that about $50,000 of the total of $84,000 allotted to Terrell county will be spent. The balance will revert to the U. S. treasury and will not be available to the individual ranch quotas for next year.

The budget of administering the program in Terrell county will be prorated on a percentage basis against the payments due the individual ranchers. The budget takes care of the salaries of the county committee, range inspector, and other incidental expenses, and is 3% of the $84,000. If only $50,000 is used, then the budget will necessarily be a larger per cent.

PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME:

A specific time has been designated for the observance of American Legion Week. Coincidentally, the rolls of this organization are being opened to World War veterans who served in the armed forces of the United States and received an honorable discharge therefrom who have not yet specified their membership.

The American Legion takes its rightful place among the top-ranking organizations of national importance, notably as an organization whose primary functions are the perpetration of our American ideals and institutions; the rehabilitation of those suffering from service connected disabilities and the employment of all able to work; adequate care of the dependents of those brave men and women who have paid the supreme sacrifice; and the maintenance of lasting peace.

With the President's firm declaration of the stand the United States shall assume in world affairs ringing in our ears, we are proud to join with this active organization of men and women bearing life-long memories of war and its after-effects in their unceasing determination that war shall never return to this world.

Now, therefore, I, James V. Allred, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby set aside and proclaim November 7-13, 1937, as AMERICAN LEGION WEEK in Texas.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of the State to be impressed hereon at Austin, this 19th day of October, A. D. 1937.

(Seal) JAMES V. ALLRED,
Governor of Texas.
By the Governor: EDWARD CLARK, Secretary of State.

Lobos vs Buffaloes at Pecos Tomorrow

Alpine.—"We'll be ready," said B. C. Graves, coach of the Sul Ross Lobos when asked about the prospects for Saturday's game with the West Texas Buffaloes at Pecos under the lights. The game was changed from Alpine to Pecos in order to give the people of that section a chance to see a college football game.

Getting ready for this game the Lobos have been having strenuous kicking and tackling practice sessions. In addition, finishing touches will be added to the new set of plays designed by the Lobos, in an attempt to stop the Buffaloes.

Since so much enthusiasm and interest has been shown by the student body, the college authorities have declared a half holiday in order to give the Smiling Lobo band and the two pep squads a chance to attend the game and add color to the contest. A special broadcast by the band and the pep squad will be given over radio station KIUN, at Pecos, prior to the game.

Gov. James V. Allred, World War veteran and a Legionnaire, has proclaimed the week of Nov. 7-13 as American Legion Week in Texas. During this week, the American Legion in Texas, directed by Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, Department Commander, will make a determined drive to double its 1937 membership. In the above picture Gov. Allred is handing the proclamation to Commander Danforth.

Texas Legionnaires to Start Big 'Push' For Members During Week Nov. 7-13

Austin, Oct. 26.—The greatest drive for members in the history of the American Legion in Texas will get under way Nov. 6, it was announced today by Dr. W. J. Danforth, Department Commander.

Division and district commanders and the numerous posts scattered throughout the state have perfected plans for the "push."

Impetus to the drive was given by Gov. James V. Allred when he set aside the week of Nov. 7-13 as American Legion week and called upon every World War veteran in the state to align themselves with this public spirited and patriotic organization of men and women.

The American Legion program for Texas during the next twelve months has been shaped by the Commander, W. J. Danforth. It includes a 10-point public health program; continued child welfare work; a drive to find employment for men who have passed the 40-year mark; a vigorous campaign against all isms; a lasting and secure peace for the nation; a continuation of its work among the boys of the state; and a broadening service to the state and the communities in the state.

Eagles Get First Win Friday Over McCamey B Team

The Sanderson Eagles scored their first touchdown of the season last Friday, and it proved to be the deciding factor in their win over the McCamey B team—the final count being 7 to 2.

The game was played before a mediocre crowd of local fans, and was a listless affair for the first two quarters, neither team scoring, although the game was played for the greater part of the half, in McCamey territory.

Both teams came back in the third quarter smarting from the effects of "friendly abuse" from their respective coaches, and the game was interesting until the final whistle.

Visitors Score on Safety

In the third quarter McCamey took the aerial route, and made several good gains, finally placing the ball on the Eagle 27-yard stripe—their first real threat of the game. An attempt to pass over the goal line was intercepted by Davis, Eagle backfield man. Before he could get balanced for a run he was tackled hard and jarred loose from the ball which rolled over the goal line, where a mad scramble to recover was staged. When untangled, Lochausen of the Eagles was covering the ball, and the officials declared a safety and two points for the visitors.

Eagles Score and Convert

An exchange of punts followed leaving the ball on the Eagle 22. A pass, and nice runs by Short and Lochausen took the Eagles to midfield, where Short finally got loose for a forty yard scamper to the McCamey 12. Two tries netted five yards, and a penalty against McCamey for offside gave the Eagles first down on the visitors' 2-yard line. On the first try Glenn opened a nice hole over guard and Short slithered to pay dirt with yardage to spare.

On try for extra point the snapback was too high, so Glenn grabbed the ball and tore around his own right end and crossed over standing up. The remainder of the game was a see-saw, and found McCamey taking to the air in a desperate attempt to score, while the Eagle squad was content to keep the ball in rival territory. Short's punting did this very effectively, one boot, in the latter minutes placing the ball on McCamey's 12 yard stripe. At the final whistle the score was Eagles 7, Badgers 2. Outstanding for the Eagles were Short and R. Lochausen in the backfield, and Glenn in the line. Chandler at center also played a headup game, and all of his snapbacks were true.

Play Marfa Here Today

The Eagles will play their first district game when they meet the Shorthorns of Marfa high school. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

The game should be an interesting one, as both teams, judging from the season's records, are pretty well matched. Let's be on hand for this game. The team needs your encouragement, so don't fail them.

Good Rain Here Monday: Ranges In Prime Shape

More smiles for the ranchers of this section!

And smiles for the housewives, also, as they had a season of relief from dust.

These were aftermaths of the splendid rain that fell in this section Monday evening and night. In Sanderson, without benefit of an official gauge, the estimates were that from 1/2 to 3/4 of an inch of rain fell.

From the reports reaching the Times, the precipitation was very spotted. To the north the rain extended about as far as Big Hill; to the west the rain was reported heavy as far as Valentine; from south of here came reports of the heaviest downpour, the A. A. Shelton ranch getting approximately three inches; east of here the rain tapered off considerably, only a shower being reported at Del Rio, which did not extend beyond the city limits in any direction.

Continued mild weather in the wake of this rain will result in much good to ranges. Several of the ranges in this county have recently completed terracing operations, and it is reported that the good results are already noticeable.

Wednesday continued cloudy with indications good for more moisture, which will be welcome.

A. A. Perry Passes At Ranch Home Of His Daughter

Following an illness of several months, A. A. Perry, 70, rancher of Terrell county, died last Friday night at the ranch home of his daughter, Mrs. Col Coates. Burial was in Ozona Saturday afternoon, with Rev. Eugene Slaton, pastor of the Methodist church in that city, conducting the funeral services which were held at the home of Charlie Coates.

Born in North Carolina, Mr. Perry spent the greater part of his life in Texas. Prior to coming to Terrell county he made his home at Ozona and for a number of years engaged in the ranching business in Crockett county. At the time of his death he was ranching in the northern part of Terrell county. Had he lived until this coming January he and Mrs. Perry would have observed their golden wedding anniversary.

In addition to the widow he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Col Coates, residing on a ranch north of this place, and Mrs. Ford Coates of Fort Stockton; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Active pallbearers were J. M. Corder and Clyde Griffith of this city, P. T. Robinson, Joe Oberkamp, Ralph Watson and Charlie Coates of Ozona, and H. W. Lyles, Jr., and W. C. Mitchell of Fort Stockton.

Barney Bros. Will Present "Mother Goose" at Circus

Largely for the benefit of the children who always come to the circus in increasing numbers as the years go by, the management of Barney Bros. big four-ring circus has prepared—as a portion of the mammoth pageant of the Arabian Nights—a Mother Goose section with appropriate music to give it a proper setting.

It is in reality a beautiful and pleasing presentation. There appears in unique and correct costume "Little Bo-Peep," "Little Jack Horner," "Mary, Quite Contrary," "Jack and Jill," "See-Saw, Margery Daw," "Humpty-Dumpty," "Little Miss Muffet," "Simple Simon," "Little Boy Blue," "Little Tommy Tucker."

All are brought onto the stage platform in the center of the big canvas tent and as the band plays they are presented to the Fairy King who is supposed to preside over all of the Boyland. The work of presentation is made under the skillful direction of the master of pantomime producers and directors, Bert Rickman, who has had a world of experience along this line, having been director of the performances in master shows.

No mother living will fail to appreciate the pleasure this educational feature adds to her child's pleasure and knowledge. By all means give the kiddies a chance to see Mother Goose in all her glory and with all of her children. Next Thursday, Nov. 11, at 2 and 8 p. m.

Heifer Offered as Prize for Winner In Feeding Tests

Malone Mitchell, Sanderson rancher, has already indicated his interest in the local 4-H club. Besides having two of his calves fed by Campbell Kerr, he has announced that he will give a heifer calf as one of the premiums in the show to be held next spring just before the calves and lambs are taken either to El Paso or the San Angelo Fat Stock Show. The method of deciding the winner of this heifer will be announced later.

John and Allen Hardgrave each have six lambs, carrying Rambouillet and Corriedale blood, which will be put on feed about the tenth of next month.

Terraces on the Joe F. Brown and Clyde Higgins ranches have been completed, and the crews have moved to the Downie and Holmes ranches to do the same kind of work.

Know Texas

Dogs on the Decline

Denton.—Are Texans turning back on "man's best friend?" Figures show that there are close to 600 fewer dogs in this state now than in 1935, when there were less than in 1934. Counting mongrels, lapdogs, watchdogs, sheepdogs, and all varieties there were only 3900 of them in 1936. Either a great number of grouchy neighbors are getting out the poison kits or owners don't rate their pets worthy of a license any more. Or perhaps their ancient feline enemies are finally getting the upper hand.

Meeting Place of Cultures

Within the borders of Texas may be hidden links in the history of our earliest ancestors, according to archaeologists. Texas is in the heart of the great North American triangle whose corners are the Maya-Aztec section, the Pueblo era and the mound builder area. Since these three great cultures found a common ground in Texas, many hints as to their inter-tribal relationships are being found and studied today.

Keeping Ahead

Although most Texans know that their state leads in many ways, they may be interested in a compact list of "firsts." Texas is first in the production of petroleum, natural gas, natural gasoline, carbon black, sulphur, cotton, grain sorghums, spinach, peaches, beef, mutton, wool, mohair, and hides. Other firsts are in total area, total number of domestic animals, cattle, beef cattle, sheep, goats, mules and turkeys.

FAMOUS HEADLINE HUNTER ADVENTURERS Everybody CLUB

"Murder in Manila"

By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO EVERYBODY!

You know, I've often said that you don't find adventure looking for it—but on the other hand, if you're looking for TRAGEDY you'll usually get your wish. Soldier Charles L. Southern, Co. A, 51st Signal Battalion, Ft. Monmouth, N. J., found both.

In 1931 Charley was stationed in Manila. It was the Army pay day—and pay day means big doings in anybody's army. Though dough in the kick, and a bunch of other fellows to keep him company, he was off to the Maypajo cabaret—the rendezvous of all the soldiers and sailors and marines in town.

The Maypajo is located in the barrio of Calcoocan, several kilometers outside the city limits. The army arrived there in four taxicabs and proceeded to take the place by storm. They stowed away a number of very potent cocktails, danced with the "balainas," and had a big time in general. But after an hour or so even the liveliest place in the neighborhood of Manila began to look pretty tame to Carley.

Charley and Henry Decided to Go Places

Charley and his special pal, Henry, put their heads together and began thinking up places to go. The only spot that promised more action was a native cabaret over in La Loma. It was in restricted territory, where soldiers weren't supposed to go, and had a terrible reputation. But the Maypajo cocktails had been potent and they called a "carromatta," or native two-wheeled sulky, and told the driver where they wanted to go.

The place was a typical, dingy, native cabaret, filled with Filipinos of the working class. The minute they arrived there Charley felt a subtle threat in the atmosphere. The Filipinos glared at them and fingered the handles of their bolos. They didn't like Americans and their threats weren't idle, either. KILLINGS WERE FREQUENT in the neighborhood of that native dive.

"Had I been a bit more sober," says Charley, "I should have left at once. For we were unarmed and I well knew the volatile temper of the natives and the adeptness with which they handled their wicked bolos." But Charley wasn't too sober. And when the manager of the place warned him to leave because some of the younger Filipinos were about to start trouble Charley told him to go to the devil and told the whole room that one American soldier was as good as any twenty natives, and if they wanted to fight, just come right ahead.

Fighting a Mob of Bolo-Armed Natives

But there wasn't any fight. Suddenly the place became ominously quiet. Charley knew there was going to be fireworks and wondered why they didn't start. Then, gradually, he began to get alarmed. He called to Henry, who was at the bar buying a drink for a Filipino girl, and they went out to the "carromatta" and told the driver to go back to town.

The driver went a short distance, then swung off the main road. He told Charley he was taking a short cut. But a moment later he stopped in the midst of a group of nipa huts. Charley saw a mob of about fifty native men—saw the light flash on the NAKED BLADE OF A BOLO—and he knew they were in for it.

"We took off our garrison belts, to use the buckles for black-jacks," says Charley, "and as I got down from the carriage I found a four-foot length of bamboo on the ground. The Filipinos had started to rush us, but they were getting in the way of one another, and before they could reach us we dashed into the nearest shack.

The shack was a straw affair, set on stilts, with a ladder leading up to the door at either end. There was a half dozen women inside, but they screamed and ran out the back door as Charley and Henry came in the front. Henry took one door and Charley the other, and they stood by to repel the attackers. The first native to try to climb the ladder got a blow on the head that knocked him to the ground, unconscious.

They Rushed the Blazing Straw Shack

Only a couple more tried the ladder after that. The natives retreated and began throwing rocks. There was an oil lamp on the table behind Charley and he knocked it off so he wouldn't make such a good target. That was an almost fatal mistake. For the minute it hit the floor the dried straw and palm leaf from which the shack was constructed began to BURN FURIOUSLY.

At the same time the Filipinos made another rush. Charley had to turn his back on the blaze and fight them off before he could give any attention to the fire. By the time they had fallen back again the walls of the shack were ablaze and Henry, coughing the acrid smoke, was gasping, "We've got to get out of here!"

Most of the Filipinos were clustered out in front. They dashed out the back door and charged the thin line of natives who confronted them there. Charley and Henry were swinging the bolted buckles, but the natives were swinging bolos. They crashed that line and went through it—but not before Henry got a bad cut on his arm from a native knife.

They were off, running through a swampy rice field, with the natives behind them. But the natives didn't run far. Suddenly they turned and ran back to their village, and it was not until Charley and Henry had crossed the rice field and gained firm ground again that they saw the reason. The whole village was in flames, and the natives were scrambling to save their household goods.

They began the long hike back to Manila, and when they got there Henry was sent to the hospital, where he spent a couple of weeks recovering from the cut on his arm. Charley himself, with a mass of bruises and aches from blows he received in the battle and from falls he had taken wallowing through the rice field.

"Both of us learned a lesson," he says. "After that we stayed out of trouble by staying out of places on the restricted list."

Bold Exploits, Dangerous Romance Make 'Lancer Spy' an Intense Drama

If he lived, this daring British secret agent sitting with the German high command in the uniform of a Prussian Lancer could strike a deadlier blow than one million marching men.

In a new romantic role, the tall, husky Sanders finds a traitorous woman in love with him, and he finds himself depending upon this love of a woman whose business is betrayal.

The scene is in Berlin during the darkest hours of the war, and Sanders is a British naval officer daringly impersonating a member of the German high command.

Guided more by jealousy of the new hero rather than by any real evidence, Sig Rumann, head of the German counter espionage organization suspects Sanders of being a spy.

Watching his opportunity carefully, Sanders is finally able to secure the information for which he has taken such risks.

Bigger and brazier, madder and merrier, wilder and wackier than in all their other comedies, these three comedy-mad Ritz Bros. are starred for the first time in 'Life Begins in College.'

A hilarious, tuneswept jamboree, 'Life Begins in College' has all the essential elements for a gay, entertaining hit—giddy gags, gorgeous girls and frenzied fun.

IN MEMORY

By Sybil Slaughter

So on one day it came, A mighty blast upon the earth Engraved in sharpest flame The words of its wide birth.

The air and the sky Grew far too still and clear, Who heard the woeeful cry Of London town last year.

The broken bricks, the chaos Whose simple mystery Man's searching thoughts refine Into a vaster law,

Unbridled gas! they saw, And laughter soared no more, Where America's future citizens trod;

Parents stood grief-stricken, so alone As four hundred little souls Passed on to God.

INVITATION TO PARENTS
Friday, Nov. 12, is to be observed over the nation as "School Open House Day." We believe that this plan is good. Accordingly, we urge all parents to visit some of the classes of your children on that day and, more especially, during the afternoon. In this way you may observe some of the regular work of the school as the regular schedule will be followed. No effort will be made to entertain the parents, other than may be done in the regular work of the school.

You parents may attend P. T. A. meetings regularly, or you may attend the assembly programs, or you may talk with the teachers of your children, but you cannot know what is being done in the school until you actually visit some of the regular classes. We urge you to visit your children's classes at least once this year, at any time, but especially on November 12th.

Sincerely,
R. D. HOLT, Superintendent.

"MUG" ONE GIRL WHO HAS RIGHT-OF-WAY

She might be called the No. 1 campus pedestrian. Freshmen give her the right-of-way. Sophs fail to command her. Juniors gallantly turn aside for her—while lofty seniors honor her with attention. Faculty members avoid her.

Even lettered, muscled Eagles fail to challenge her invasion. She goes her way unhindered and "undated." But she is the center of attention wherever she goes. Her good nature is evident to all observers.

"What is her name?" to be heard on every hand. The answer: "Her name is 'Mug.' She belongs to Laverne Halley."

Yes, she is a bulldog pup, but she wears the orange jacket of the Eagle squad.

Eagles Break Into Win Column By Downing McCamey Squad Here 7-2

Up until last Friday the Sanderson Eagles had not scored a touchdown and every one had nearly lost interest.

Some people laughed at them, and said they couldn't make a touchdown, and some of the boys became discouraged and dropped out of the squad. However, those who stayed with it and took all the hard knocks were well rewarded last Friday afternoon when the Eagles came out with the big end of the score.

Up through the first half the score was nothing to nothing. In the latter part of the third quarter the McCamey "Badgers" took advantage of an intercepted pass over the Sanderson goal line. The pass was intercepted by W. C. Davis of the Eagles, who was tackled hard, and he fumbled, the ball going across the Eagles' goal line, where in a mad scramble it was finally recovered by Robert Lochausen. It was ruled a safety and netted the Badgers 2 points, putting them in the lead, which they held but a short time.

Eagles Wake Up

At the beginning of the third quarter the Eagles received the ball on their own 20-yard line, and unleashed a passing and running attack that took them to mid field. Short, the Eagles' quarterback, got loose at this point for the afternoon's most spectacular run, when he shook off several Badger tacklers and placed the ball on the 12-yard line. On the next play he gained five over left tackle. An offside penalty against the Badgers placed the ball on the one-yard stripe, first down for the Eagles. One the first play the Eagle line opened a nice hole over left guard and Short went over with a yard and a half to spare. On try for point Glenn was holding the ball for Short, but the snapback was too high and Glenn tucked the ball under his arm and skirted his right end for the extra point, and the count was now Eagles 7, Badgers 2 and was unchanged when the game ended.

The Eagle lineup: Dishman and Lewellen, ends; M. Davis and Canon, tackles; Allen and Glenn, Guards; Chandler at center; in the backfield were Short at quarterback; W. C. Davis, Druse and Lochausen. Dishman and Herbert alternated throughout the game at the end position.

Ticket Sales for McCamey Game

The ticket sale for the McCamey game was somewhat improved over the Fort Davis ticket sale. Everyone seemed to work harder this time and really tried to sell tickets. In high school each class is running a race, trying to sell the most tickets. The Freshman class is ahead so far. The ticket sales this time were: Freshmen $10.20, Sophomores $3.25, Juniors $6.65, Seniors $4.10. This totals $24.20, and with the gate receipts brings the grand total to $42.40.

The expenses of the game last Friday were more than the receipts. McCamey was paid $35, the referee received $8, and the printing of tickets cost $2.50. Thus the game at home did not pay expenses.

PLAYER ON McCAMEY TEAM RULED INELIGIBLE

At a meeting of officials of Football District 8B Thursday afternoon, Oct. 28, at Ft. Stockton, R. B. Polk, star back of the McCamey Badgers, was declared ineligible. Fort Stockton and Ira-ana officials brought the charges of ineligibility on the ground that the player was too old for interscholastic competition, and that McCamey's records were incorrect. By the decision, McCamey's game with Fort Stockton, which they won by a big score, was declared forfeited.

Notes from the Grades School

First Grade

The class enjoyed giving its Halloween program, and also enjoyed the parade and carnival.

Each school day several children bring interesting story books number work, reading material, or something pertaining to nature.

Bobby Jean Presley is a new pupil in the first grade.

Marjorie Lou Duncan visited the first grade Monday.

Second Grade

Francis Jean brought a large bouquet of flowers.

Edward Chastain brought a flag.

The second grade has learned to pledge the flag. They salute the flag every morning.

Avis McDonald brought a pot plant for the room.

Edward Wheeler was out one day. He was ill.

Jeanette Cobb won the prize in the Halloween parade for girls, and William Grigsby for boys.

Mary Nell Gates from Houston is now one of the second grade pupils.

Third Grade

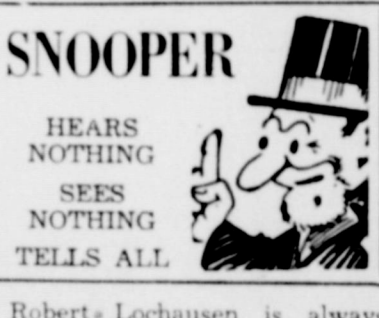

Dudley Harrison won the prize for boys in the Halloween parade, and Marie Morris and Betty Jo Kerr won for the girls. The third grade students are making small ranch cattle and sheep, and are very proud of them.

They have been practicing on a play called "Little Brother."

Fifth Grade

The fifth grade is making a booklet of taxes. They are also studying the state bird, which is the Mocking Bird, and the state flower, the Bluebonnet.

Miss Ruth Murrah is now taking dancing lessons from Professor Lochausen.

Laverne Halley gave a "kid" party on Halloween. Well, kids will be kids.

Why does Bennie want to go to Alpine? (Surely he doesn't drive a green convertible sedan).

Drum Corps at Football Game

Last Friday was our first opportunity to march on the football field. The girls with the drums led the pep squad.

The uniforms of the girls' drum corps are black and white. In the game today with Marfa, the drum corps will again lead the pep squad. With the drum corps and pep squad there are about thirty girls. They are learning to put on some stunts which will be used in the next two football games, which will be played here.

Brain Teasers FROM MATH CLUB

1. If a man was born 2 years B. C. and died 2 years A. D., how old was the man?
 2. A man from Ohio sheared 3 pounds of wool from a sheep. After slaughtering the animal the man found that his heart weighed one pound. How much wool could he shear from a sheep having a heart weighing 8 pounds, assuming the coat of wool to be of the same thickness and the size of the sheep to be in proportion to the size of the heart.
- Answers to last week's problems:
1. The 100 people who attended Sunday school were divided into 4 superintendents, 10 teachers and 86 pupils.
 2. The boy stayed in swimming 46 2/3 minutes too long.

Sanderson Has Had Six High School Buildings—First in 1888, Crude Affair

The first public school stood where the Harrell Dairy is now located. It was a very crude building, made of ties, and the cold came through the cracks, making it uncomfortable for the children. Children were required to attend school only 8 months. Fanny Patterson was the first teacher, then Lou Darling, from Alpine, came to teach in the little school. This first school was built in 1888.

The second school was across the street from where the Al Creigh residence now stands. This school building was constructed of lumber and the children attended school for eight months. This lumber building was then torn down and the third school building, which was made of adobe, was completed. The adobe building was much warmer than the lumber buildings. The children used tables for desks. Mrs. Taylor was the teacher. Later Mrs. Carpenter, Scutter and Edgar Biggs, and Miss Lizzie Savage taught in this school. Mr. Albert Lee and his cousin, Herbert Douglas, started to school here about this time. Then the Savage ages came the next year, and started their children to school.

The fourth school building was constructed near the present Church of Christ. It was built of lumber and an added cloak room was an improvement. Miss Wilson was the teacher.

The fifth school building was built in 1911. It is the present grammar school building. From 200 to 300 students attended this school.

The sixth school building is the present high school building. The gymnasium has been a great improvement to Sanderson high school.
