Crowd Enjoys Amateur Rodeo Sponsored by American Legion Nov. 11

Exhibit of Stock By 4-H Members

Armistice Day to be observed as a national holiday by the Sanderson and Terrell communities due to the fun and excitement afforded at the Legion amateur rodeo. A large crowd gathered at the school auditorium in the afternoon to enjoy a well-rendered performance by the high school. At the beginning of the program Supt. R. D. Holt inroduced Al Creigh, Jr., who discussed the signing of the Armistice and what it meant to the soldiers in the trenches and to loved ones at home. The program which was comprised largely of songs and war poems, followed.

A big street parade, made up of members of the local high school band Legion members, ladies of the Auxiliary and school students, marched from the school building down main street and then to the American Legion Park where the big free barbecue was served to a large crowd.

Rodeo events followed with a lot of fun for the spectators and a lot of trouble for some of the contestants. Wild cows were milked, goats and calves were roped and other events were enjoyed. To complete the day for the spectators a big dance was given that night.

The banquet served to the members of the Legion by the home economics class of the high school at 7:30 in the evening was the high spot on the Armistice Day program and heartiest congratulations go to Miss Lindley and her girls for a delicious and well-served dinner consisting of baked turkey with all the trimmings. Dinner was served to 68 members and guests.

Another interesting feature of the program for the day was the livestock exhibit displayed by the members of the 4-H Club and by local ranchers. N. M. Mitchell had on exhibit 7 calves which were from his herd of purebred cattle. John Harrison had on exhibit several Ramel-dale buck lambs. These lambs are the only ones of their kind in this section of the country. They are a coarse wool sheep and grow around 7 inches of wool each year. There were also several Corriedale lambs from the E. W. Hardgrave ranch.

GETS FIRST DEER

Woodrow Riley of Doole was the first to bring in a buck for the season. Mr. Riley was here visiting in the home of F. W. Sellers and bagged a deer and had brought it to town by 10:30 the first day of the season. Several others have made a kill at the time we are going to press but we were unable to find out all of them.

BOY SCOUTS, SHOP CLASS TO COLLECT, REPAIR OLD TOYS

The Boy Scouts of Sanderson plan to begin the collection of old and worn out toys this week so that the more unfortunate children of this community will be certain to receive gifts at Christmas time this year. The boys in the wood work classes and clubs in high school will take the old toys collected and repair and repaint them and make them almost like new. The scouts then will see that they are distributed to the proper places.

The general public are urged to cooperate with the Scouts in this commendable undertaking. The Scouts will make a house-to-house canvas of the town but parents and children are requested to select old toys of any kind which have been discarded and send them to the school at once so that the repair work can be started. This project is to show the ideal of giving which goes along with Christmas. Duane E. Smith, Scout Master, and Roscoe G. Morgan, wood work teacher in high school, are in charge of all this work.

Christmas Seal Sale to Start Thanksgiving Day

Design for This Year Unusually Attractive

Plans for the 1938 Tuberculosis Christmas Seal campaign were speeded up this week by the arrival of the supplies and a preview of them by the local committee.

The tuberculosis Seal for this year is unusually attractive, according to Mrs. W. H. Savage, chairman. It shows a mother and two young children in the costumes of the Victorian age lighting a candle in the window of their home. At the bottom on either side is a red double-barred cross, insignia of the international fight against tuberculosis. The Seal carries the words "Health Greetings."

Bordered in red, the seal is carried out in typical Christmas colors, making an attractive decoration for greeting cards and gifts. The corner of each sheet of 100 Seals carries the portraits of four men who have played important parts in the fight against tuberculosis.

The Seal was designed by Lloyd Coe, a New York artist. The theme is intended to signify the protection that the organized fight against tuberculosis brings to the home.

The sale of Christmas Seals will open officially Thanksgiving Day and continue until Christmas. This will be the 32nd annual sale of Christmas Seals. Accompanying the sale will be an intensive educational campaign to direct public attention to the problem of tuberculosis, and the modern methods of combating the disease.

"I know that the Christmas Seal campaign can count on the wholehearted cooperation of the people of this community," said Mrs. Savage. "The work of preventing tuberculosis and promoting good health, which is made possible by the red double-barred Seals, is so well known here that we can count on a generous response."

In this campaign the local association is joining with 1,500 other organizations and 1,200 smaller committees in the United States, all affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association in the campaign to eradicate the White Plague, which annually takes 70,000 lives in this country.

Officers of the Parent-Teacher Association which sponsors the Seal Sale are: Mrs. Clyde Higgins, President; Mrs. Odie Wickliffe, Secretary; and members of the local committee are: Mrs. W. H. Savage, general chairman; Mrs. John Harrison, and Mrs. John L. Newton.

Candlemaker Prepares for Christmas

The robin may herald the spring, but Winston-Salem, N. C., has the most reliable harbinger of Santa Claus. Miss Ella Fuener, official candlemaker for the Moravian church in the South, is busy at her annual task of making by hand, in ancient molds, all the 10,000 candles to be used by Moravian congregations in their Christmas love-feasts. The children of Old Salem crowd around to watch Miss Ella's nimble old fingers and bask in her wise old smile.

Hipps from the Crippled Children's Hospital at Marlin at 2 p. m. and a showing of pictures of the Big Bend Park by Dr. G. P. Smith, Sul Ross College. Alpine. These pictures will be shown in the afternoon.

To Name Judges for Soil and Water Utilization Contest

108 West Texas Counties Entered for First Place

Abilene—The Committee to judge the largest conservation project in the United States—the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Soil and Water Utilization contest—will be named soon, according to Clifford B. Jones, Spur, chairman of the WTCC Agricultural Board.

One hundred and eight West Texas counties, containing 70,000,000 acres of land, are working for first place in the contest, which carries with it a $500 cash award. The second place county will receive $300 and third place county will receive $200. Counties will be judged on records made in soil and conservation work this year.

The committee to judge the contest, winners of which will be announced at the WTCC convention in Abilene next May, will be made up of representatives of the Texas Extension Service, Texas Experiment Station, Texas Technological College, the Texas farm press as selected by the West Texas Press Association, State of Vocational Agriculture, the Soil Conservation Service, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Highway 90 Strip Formally Opened At Marfa Monday

Gov.-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel Officiates at Dedication Service

A formal opening of the last gap of the paving on Highway 90 was held Monday with Governor-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel in charge of the dedication services and offering the assurance that the Big Bend section "is no longer the step-child of the State of Texas." This dedication celebrated the paving of the last gap on the highway extending from Jacksonville, Fla., to San Diego, California.

O'Daniel declared that every effort to make a national park in the Big Bend section will be made. He lauded Texas highways as one of the sources of revenue and as a great aid in the development of the state.

Plans for old age pension and industrialization of the state through more and better highways, bringing more tourists, and development of an advertising campaign to sell Texas to the United States were also mentioned by the governor-elect at the dedication.

Following the dedication service, O'Daniel went to Alpine and Tuesday was inspecting the site of the proposed National Big Bend Park.

Those attending from Sanderson were J. W. Downum, local chairman, M. G. Northcut, Eiton Secrest, and George Short.

WTCC Makes Report on Freight Rate Differential

West Texas Pays 72 Percent More Than Other Territories

Abilene—Favorable response has been received not only from all parts of West Texas but from the entire Southwest by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's recently released study and analysis of freight rates, says H. S. Hilburn, Plainview, president of the regional organization.

Requests for copies of the pamphlet containing the complete report on the freight rate question issued by WTCC boards have poured into the Abilene office from all sections of Texas and from other states, Hilburn said.

The wide spread response indicates the people are ready for a change in rate making principles and policies, Hilburn thinks. Numerous editorials have appeared in newspapers in support of the report, he added.

The report which points out that West Texas pays the highest freight rates in the nation—72 per cent higher than rates in the lowest zone of Official Ter-

'Eye' For Giant Telescope In Davis Mts. To Be Ready Before First of the Year

Cleveland—The second largest "eye" in the world, the 82-inch mirror for the McDonald Observatory on Mount Locke, near Fort Davis, Texas, will be shipped some time before the first of the year, Warner and Swasey Company officials said Sunday.

The four-year task of grinding and polishing the mirror was finished recently, and it is now being used for testing in the completing of five auxiliary mirrors, the smallest eight inches.

The huge mirror will be packed in an inner and outer box and placed in a special railroad box car with the auxiliary "eyes" for the hazardous journey to the Texas Big Bend country.

The last step in preparing the mirror was coating it with a thin layer of aluminum for reflecting the light of the stars.

At Mount Locke it will be installed in the 41-ton telescope also built here and shipped to Texas about a year ago.

When the new telescope goes into operation—probably next May—it will be the second largest in the world, being exceeded in size only by the 100-inch telescope at Mount Wilson, California.

Dr. Otto Struve, director of the McDonald Observatory, which is operated jointly by the Universities of Texas and Chicago, said in Texas the observatory probably would be dedicated in May. At an elevation of 6,791 feet, the telescope will bring closer to human eyes stars 900,000,000 light years away—Alpine Avalanche.

EVERY TWO MINUTES

At the very moment you read this, fire engines are dashing with screaming sirens to someone's burning home. Every two minutes somewhere in American, this dramatic tragedy will be enacted. So it goes, twenty-four hours a day, 365 days a year. Every two minutes a home catches fire.

Here's hoping your home isn't on that list. But hope isn't enough. No one can afford to leave fire prevention to chance. You can have a safe home if you want one, and if you are willing to put in a little time to make it safe. In other words, the safety of your home will be largely what you make it.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has printed a vivid little leaflet, entitled "Two Minutes Tick By—Another Home Goes Up in Smoke," which should be read, kept and referred to by every homeowner. It is free for the asking—simply write to the Board at 85 John Street, New York. One page of the leaflet illustrates by means of a cut-away drawing of a home, 31 distinct hazards—any one of which could cause a fire that would destroy the house. They range all the way from unprotected steam pipes to improper storage of inflammables and the use of wooden containers to hold hot ashes. And in practically every case, these hazards can be quickly eliminated, at little or no cost.

Two-thirds of all our fire deaths occur in dwellings—and 30 per cent of these fatalities are children under ten. Mull that thought over in your mind. Then answer this question: "Is fire prevention worth while?"—Industrial News Review.

Scarcely a day passes without one or more inquiries at the T. M. White and Son Real Estate Office for business lots, residential property, or acreage. The proceeds of the bond sale would be used to complete a modern, paved highway between Fort Stockton and Imperial, and Buenavista, and the town of Iraan and the Old Spanish Trail, thus connecting all major communities of the county with the county seat by all-weather road.

"Too long have cities in West Texas, and all of Texas for that matter, been satisfied to fight for adjustment of rate differences in their own zone," says D. A. Bandeden, WTCC manager. "This is not the solution. After a town has received an adjustment in rates, what does it have? It is still paying rates that average 72 per cent higher than those in Official Territory (Ohio-Indiana zone). We must realize this to see the astounding discrimination against this area. This discrimination can be removed by equalization of rates as between zones," Bandeden declares.

Dentist Not to Be Feared as Much as Neglect, Says Doctor

Austin—"In spite of the great advances that have been made in dental instruments, local anesthesia and operative methods there yet are many persons who entertain an unjustified fear of the dental chair. Unfortunately, this attitude influences thousands to postpone the visit to the dentist until there is actual pain or until an accident to tooth structure occurs. Such a fear complex not only is foolish but often produces real suffering, the possible loss of one or more teeth, an unnecessary expenditure of money and even serious illness," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"It is true that some discomfort is connected with dental corrections, though it is more likely to be fear of pain rather than the pain itself. However, in view of the actual damage that can result because of delay, temporary inconvenience deserves no consideration whatsoever in a wise and economical dental program.

"Commonsense suggests that early discovered conditions are more readily and painlessly corrected than those that are permitted to become aggravated and for which a cure is sought as a last resort. The time to ferret out dental trouble, therefore, is before one is even aware that trouble exists.

For that reason, it is excellent practice to adopt a regular six-month's schedule as the minimum number of visits that should be made to the family dentist. Naturally, if in the meantime the necessity of dental attention arises, it is wise to make an immediate appointment. Postponing a consultation on the fear theory increases the probability of real discomfort, not to mention serious complications.

"In short, what one should fear is not the slight discomfort of the dentist's office when the visits are placed on a routine basis, but the fear of pain, illness and unnecessary loss of money and time because of a fear-postponing attitude."

SPORTS COMMENT

By Pat Harris

Mr. Caraway says that basketball practice will begin Monday afternoon. The basketball boys have a game scheduled with Rankin here on December 2 and 3. That will give the boys about two weeks practice before their first game. According to Mr. Caraway he won't have a tall team but he will have a fast and tricky bunch. Sanderson lost three lettermen last year. They are Albert Weigand, center; Troy Druse, guard; and Harry Lewellyn, guard. The Boys who saw service in last year's battles are Kenneth Litton, forward; Rafael Fierro, forward; John Glenn, guard; Len Haines, forward; and Roger Bassett, guard. These boys made excellent showings in all the games. The Sanderson Eagle Quintet went to district and were beat out in the finals by Iraan. The boys had previously defeated the Iraan Braves on the Eagle court. Sanderson would have probably won the District had not Fierro got one of his eyes injured during the game. It all happened in the closing minutes of the game. One of the Iraan boys stuck his finger in Rafael's eye and made it hard for Lito to see. Sanderson at the time this happened had a six point lead. The Braves finally got the ball and in short time scored ten points and beat the Eagles out.

The jumping at center was abolished last year except at the beginning quarter in the first and second halves. This makes it easier for the small teams to get a chance at the ball. From all indications the Eagles won't have much height this year but they will have speed.

EAGLES PAWED BY BUCKS

By Pat Harris

Eagles and Bucks play overtime in first quarter. The Sanderson Eagles and the Alpine Bucks played a little overtime in the first quarter of the hard fought game under the lights of Jackson Field last Saturday night November 12. The first quarter was some forty minutes long due to a slight mistake of the time keeper.

In the opening quarter of the game Sanderson kicked to Alpine, and a mighty nice kick it was. Alpine immediately took to the air and on the first play of the game John Glenn intercepted the pass and with some beautiful blocking went over the play strip for a touchdown. But the head linesman ruled that both sides were off-sides on the play and the ball was called back to the original line of scrimmage. A couple of running plays were run by the Bucks, then Sublette, the broken-field runner for Alpine took a pass over center and ran about sixty-five yards for a touchdown. The try for the extra point was good. Then Alpine kicked to Sanderson, and Sanderson started powerhouse plays and end runs. The Eagles marched right down the field to the Bucks' own forty-yard line. Glenn tried two passes which were incomplete and then dropped back to his own forty-five yard line and fired a pass at Fierro, who was wide open on the Bucks ten yard line. Lito took the ball and calmly stepped over the paystripe. The try for extra point was no good. Sanderson then kicked to Alpine and the ball stayed in Alpine's end of the field the rest of the quarter. At the end of this slightly overgrown quarter the score was Alpine 7 Sanderson 6.

session but it was not long before the Bucks took the ball and went over the paystripe. Incidentally, it was a similar play to which they scored their first touchdown on 'Their try for extra point was no good. The Bucks kicked to Sanderson, and the Eagles desperately trying to tie the score before the half ended tried all their tricks. But all their efforts didn't net paydirt. The half ended with the Bucks 13 to the Eagles 6.

The beginning of the second half Sanderson kicked to the Bucks Canon, by the way, got off some beautiful end over end kicks. The fight again started for the possession of the ball. Alpine lost the ball on downs. Sanderson started its march toward the goal but was stopped by the Bucks after a series of first downs. The ball exchanged hands in the third quarter but neither team seemed to be able to cross the paystrip. The score at the end of the third quarter showed the Bucks 13, the Eagles 6.

The final quarter of the game saw both teams fighting for paydirt which the Bucks finally got on a series of end runs and line plunges. Their try for extra point was good. The Bucks then kicked to the Eagles and back the Eagles came for more paydirt only to be stopped by the Bucks line. The ball was carried about the middle of the field the rest of the game with both teams playing their hearts out. But the man they call the timekeeper finally blew the whistle signifying that the allotted time for the game had expired and the Eagles took it on the chin 20 to 6.

The substitutes who saw service in the game were Burleson, Murray, Creigh and Morris. These boys made an excellent showing while they were in the game.

Glenn's passing, Bassett's running, Bob Allen's line bucking and Fierro's ability to catch passes all helped the Eagles to their lone touchdown. Of course, had it not been for the beautiful blocking of the line the plays could not have been executed effectively.

Last Football Game Friday at 3:00

By Robert Lochhausen. The 1938 Eagle's to play their last game for the season with Fort Stockton Friday evening at 3:00. If the Eagles win this game it will keep them on the five hundred per cent basis. They also will be tied for the second with Marfa and Stockton.

There are four Eagles who will be playing their last high school game in this game. They are: Bobby Allen, Hicks Canon, and Johnny Glenn, who are seniors, and L. Fierro whose age will not permit him to play next year. So for these boys sake come on and go to Stockton and yell for these boys because they have played good ball all year as well as the whole team. I know the boys will sure appreciate it.

The pep squad and the drum corps is planning to go with the boys on this last game. The whole school is planning to go also. Get Behind the Eagles! —The Eagle News.

ALPINE ROTARY CLUB SPONSORING CLINIC, DEC. 13

Crippled Children From 10 Counties to Be Given Treatment

Dr. Joel Wright, general chairman of the Crippled Children's Clinic which is sponsored by the Alpine Rotary Club, and which will be held at that place December 13, gives a detailed explanation of what children are eligible for treatment in the following account. He also urges that anyone interested in this clinic because of their own children or anyone who knows of a crippled child needing medical attention and treatment get in touch with him at Alpine. Following is his explanation:

An organization to function most successfully must establish general policies of administration, and having established these policies must adhere to them at all times. The Act of the State Legislature in 1933, which created the Crippled Children's Division and placed it in the State Department of Education, and made ample provisions for such policies. This Act very definitely defines what constitutes a crippled child, and the requirements which he must meet in order to be eligible for assistance of the Crippled Children's Division shall set up definite policies concerning the approval of hospitals and surgeons fees to be paid for their services, methods of purchasing artificial appliances, and other items necessary in the proper physical restoration of crippled children.

"The Act defines a crippled child as any person of normal mentality under twenty-one years of age, whose physical functions and movements are impaired by reason of a bone joint, or muscle defect of deformity, to the extent that the child is or may be expected to be totally or partially incapacitated for education or remunerative occupation. To be eligible for service under this Act, the child's disability must be such that it is reasonable to expect that such child can be improved through hospitalization, medical or surgical care, artificial appliances, or through a combination of these services.

"Analyzing this definition, we see the first requirement is that the child be of normal mentality, under twenty-one years of age. Even though the child is crippled, and under twenty-one years of age, he is not eligible for the services of the Crippled Children's Division if he is not of normal mentality. It should also be remembered that it is impossible to continue paying for the treatment of a cripple child after he reaches his twenty-first birthday. This fact should be borne in mind and explained to the parents of the crippled child that the Crippled Children's Division can not pay for hospitalization if the child has reached his or her twenty-first birthday. The next point that we are to remember is that the child must be crippled. His physical functions or movements must be impaired by reason of or deformity to the extent that a joint, bone, or muscle defect of the child is or may be expected to be totally or partially incapacitated for education or remunerative occupation. In other words, it appears that the true intent of the Legislature in setting up this definition was that the child should be restored to the extent that it would be able to earn a livelihood. The next point is that the child's disability must be such that it is reasonable to expect that the child's

by Thornton W. Burgess

FARMER BROWN'S BOY AND BUSTER BEAR.

If you should meet with Buster Bear while walking through the woods. What would you do? Now tell me true. I'd run the best I could.

THAT is what Farmer Brown's boy did when he met Buster Bear, and a lot of the little people of the Green Forest and some from the Green Meadows saw him. You see, it was this way. When Farmer Brown's boy came hurrying home from the Laughing Brook without any fish one day and told about the him so much that at last his boy began to think that he must have been mistaken after all. So when he heard Blacky the Crow and Sammy Jay making a great fuss near the edge of the Green Forest he never once thought of Buster Bear as he started to see what was going on.

When Blacky and Sammy saw him coming they moved a little farther into the Green Forest still screaming in the most exciting way. They felt sure that Farmer Brown's boy would follow them, and so they meant to lead him to where Sammy had seen Buster Bear that morning. Then they would find out for sure if what Joe Otter had said was true—that Farmer Brown's boy really was afraid of Buster Bear.

Now, all around, behind trees and stumps and under thick branches and even in tree tops, were other little people watching with round, wideopen eyes to see what would happen. It was very exciting, the most exciting thing they could remember. You see, they had come to believe that Farmer Brown's boy wasn't afraid of anything or anybody, and as most of them were very much afraid of him, they had hard work to believe that he would really be afraid of even such a great big, strong fellow as Buster Bear. Every one was so busy watching Farmer Brown's boy that no one saw Buster coming from the other direction.

And there they were face to face.

great footprints he had seen in a muddy place on the bank deep in the Green Forest and had said he was sure that it was the footprint of a Bear, he had been laughed at. Farmer Brown had laughed and laughed.

"Why," said he, "there hasn't been a bear in the Green Forest for years and years, not since my own grandfather was a little boy, and that, you know, was a long, long time ago. If you want to find Mr. Bear you will have to go to the Great Woods. I don't know who made that footprint, but it certainly couldn't have been a bear. I think you must have imagined it."

Then he had laughed some more, all of which goes to show how easy it is to be mistaken and how foolish it is to laugh at things you really don't know about. Buster Bear had come to live in the Green Forest, and Farmer Brown's boy had seen his footprint. But Farmer Brown laughed so much and made fun of

You see, Buster had heard the racket Blacky the Crow and Sammy Jay were making. He had stood it just as long as he could and then he had started to see what it was all about. That was because he has a lot of that same curiosity that gets Peter Rabbit into trouble so often. He walked very softly. Big as he is, he can walk without making the leastest, weeniest sound. And that is how it happens that no one saw him or heard him until just as Farmer Brown's boy stepped out from behind one side of a thick little hemlock tree Buster Bear stepped out from behind the other side of that same little tree, and there they were, face to face! Then everybody held their breath, even Blacky the Crow and Sammy Jay. For just a little minute it was so still there in the Green Forest that not the least sound could be heard. What was going to happen?

condition can be improved. This means that hopelessly crippled children are not eligible for services of the Crippled Children's Division.

Even though a child meets all the above requirements, he is not eligible for the services of the Crippled Children's Division, if his parents are financially able to pay for the necessary treatment. A child with defective vision, bad tonsils or teeth will not be considered as being eligible for the services of the Crippled Children's Division, except in such cases that the handling of such disabilities is necessary for the complete recovery of the child suffering from one of the major disabilities coming under the provision of the Crippled Children's Act. A child in need of institutional care is not eligible. In other words, the Crippled Children's Division is not a child-caring agency, but a program of physical restoration, and its services cease when the attending surgeon states that nothing further can be done in so far as physical restoration is concerned.
