Lewellyn, formerly of Sanderson and well known here, got the best of a prowler in their home one night last week when she awakened at 3:47 in the morning to find him beside her bed. She tumbled out of bed and tackled the man by the legs calling for her father at the same time. As Mr. Lewellyn and his son, Harry, entered the room the burglar broke away and fled from the residence.

The negro had first gone into the room occupied by Mr. Lewellyn and had searched his pockets for money but did not find it. He then entered the room occupied by Alois.

A SENSELESS BILL

Senator Gordon Burns of Huntsville has introduced in the Legislature a bill described as the most severe ever placed before that body to regulate the practice of a profession.

This bill would restrict the advertising of optometrists to such an extent that they would be unable to use the columns of newspapers, the radio, printed handbills, bill-boards, display signs, lighted signs or any other device, means or method to tell of their services.

The optometrist, under this bill, could be fined $500 and put in jail for six months for advertising his business address or office location in type larger than his name, and each day would be a separate offense. It would allow cancellation of licenses of optometrists for 13 practices and make 15 practices unlawful and punishable by jail sentences and fines.

If Dr. Joe Doakes purchased the most modern and expensive equipment obtainable for use in his practice, he would be prohibited by law from telling any of his friends and patients about it in any form of advertising.

This bill, in short, would put a senseless restraint upon optometrists. It would make it virtually impossible for department stores and other merchants to lease space to optometrists as a convenience to their patrons, for the important reason that they would be unable to state in their advertising that first-class service was obtainable in their establishments.

Advertising is a legitimate means of telling of one's goods or services. The optometrist should have the same opportunity to tell of his services as the merchant, the manufacturer, or whatnot.

The avowed purpose of the bill is to stamp out "unethical advertising." But going about it by stamping out ALL advertising is like throwing away a whole barrel of apples to get rid of one rotten one.

The Burns bill has no place on the Texas statute books. It should be defeated.—Editorial from the Houston Press.

It Happened in Sanderson TEN YEARS AGO This Week—Remember?

(Feb. 15, 1929)

Walter Stansel is making arrangements to have his ranch put under the state game preserve.

George W. Baker and Lee McCue of Del Rio recently sold 10,000 acres of the Charles Downie ranch to H. C. Goldwire of Del Rio. The price paid was nine dollars an acre; the and is on the west side of the Fort Stockton Highway and runs up to within a mile of town. Possession is to be given at once. Baker and McCue bought this tract of land only a few months ago.

Mrs. Clyde Griffith was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club at her home last week. The Valentine motif was pleasingly carried out in the decorations and refreshments.

There were three tables of players that enjoyed the afternoon playing bridge. Mrs. Annie Ware made high score and Mrs. Max Bogusch made second high score.

Refreshments of shrimp salad, cake and coffee were served.

Joe Kerr who has been suffering from head and ear trouble for several days, left Wednesday morning for El Paso for medical treatment.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Sabinal Sentinel—Accumulations of wool in two Uvalde warehouses were cleaned out by a number of sales made the past week, three buyers getting a total of 235,000 pounds at prices ranging from twenty cents to twenty-five cents per pound.

Ozona Stockman—At the suggestion of the Texas Centennial Board, the new memorial to David Crockett, carved from Texas granite and recently erected in the city park here, will be dedicated at a ceremony in the park, date for which has been set as May 1, it was announced here this week by Miss Wanda Watson, chairman of the Crockett County Centennial committee.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—A draft for $355.51 was sent to Dallas this week covering the net profits on the President's Birthday parties held throughout Pecos County last week and from the "March of Dimes" campaign for funds to combat infantile paralysis.

Alpine Avalanche—Creation of the Big Bend National park, an area of 788,000 acres in Brewster county along the Rio Grande, today had been proposed in a bill offered in the House of Representatives by Rep. Albert Cauthorn of Del Rio.

Monahans News—The Ward County Health Committee discussed favorably a proposed expansion in its health work, at its monthly meeting Tuesday, January 31. Miss Lucille Maudlin reported.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—Pecos county ranchmen are being advised of a meeting of the Pecos County Livestock Protective Association at the Hotel Springhurst at noon Monday, Feb. 20th. The meeting will discuss continued work on its efforts in livestock theft prevention and other ranch problems.

Some effective investigating, why not call in the heads of the insurance department for a few questions and answers? Yet your local fire officials wonder why they can't get the rate reduced on down to what it should be!

One hundred and fifty editors and their wives stood and cheered when Governor Lee O'Daniel was escorted into their meeting here Friday for a speech which was liberally applauded. Oh, yes, there are many who disagree with him, but it is surprising how many say the governor is sincere in his efforts. Or is it surprising, despite the huge amount of criticism which has poured on the new Chief executive.

Legislators were deluged this week with hundreds of letters daily from all over Texas, letters from folks demanding what will be done about the Old Age Assistance program. Many frankly say they want whatever the governor wants. And, although scores of legislators now admit openly they do not like the governor, yet no legislation so far has come out of committees looking toward any sort of tax to financing pensions. A hearing will be held one day this week in the House on the transaction tax proposal.

Manior Westbrook, East Texas legislator, received much favorable commendation this week when he pleaded for "early action and less holidays and picnics." "When will we quit adjourning on Thursdays?", asked Westbrook. "We are being paid ten dollars a day for seven days a week, yet we have adjourned every week on Thursday until Monday. It is high time we went to work. The old folks and others are desperate and we should do something."

The House and Senate both passed the bill authorizing the Board of Control to borrow $900,000 for the pension fund and the bill is now on Governor O'Daniel's desk for action this week.

The Senate held a hearing last week on the proposed increase in the 7000-pound load limit for trucks, at which time some 2000 truckers from all over Texas flooded Austin in person, demanding relief. Some 500 came from the Lower Valley with the plea "something must be done at once as only one-third of our citrus crop has been moved whereas two-thirds of the shipping season is gone." The fight for the load increase is being borne by Valley representatives. Railroad representatives, who are against the proposed truck load increase will have a hearing in the Senate on Tuesday of this week, while truckmen get another hearing on Tuesday, the 21st, in the House. Valley folks maintain their very existence depend on repeal of the present law, which is likely, judging by expression from many leaders in both houses. Governor O'Daniel has said he favors the increased load. An injunction was granted at Edinburg Saturday restraining officers from stopping trucks for weighing purposes. This will release many of them from the blockade which has been in effect two weeks.

The Senate committee on state affairs voted unfavorably on continuing the State planning board but the bill to continue the board will be brought to the floor on a minority report. The Senate rejected Truett Smith of Tahoka for life insurance commissioner. While this was, for all purposes, a fight between Senator Nelson and Lt. Gov. Coke Stevenson

(the latter not favoring Smith), it is reliably rumored the big insurance companies were afraid of Smith! Those companies like to dictate the policies of that department and will fight undercover to get a man favorable to them.

Joe Kunschik of Austin, telephone company desk man, took over his duties as the new Labor Commissioner on Wednesday following confirmation by the Senate. Kunschik, bitterly opposed by Labor leaders over the State, is a pleasant-faced youngster who likely will wish, before many weeks, he was back on that desk job. Although he is 29, he looks even younger. Labor is not taking it sitting down, pardon the pun, but have started petitions in Houston and other places asking for recall of the Governor. As state law does not provide for a recall, this will likely end in publicity. But this will not save Young Kunschik from many perplexing problems that are due to come up as the weeks go by when he will match wits with labor leaders.

Texas may soon have a big open beach for swimming purposes along the Gulf Coast, in Brazoria County, if a bill introduced by Paris Smith of Bay City goes through, whereby he would have a State park created along the Coast, "between high and low tide, near the old town of Quintana." Park department folks say the only way to improve the proposed new park would be to use convict labor on same, as the Federal government is cutting down on the C. C. camps in Texas which have been so valuable to the parks system. More money is needed for maintenance of the 36 State parks, otherwise many improvements will fall into decay. How to get an economy-wise legislature to grant more funds for the parks department is the big worry now.

Short Shorts—Attorney General Mann was denied $20,000 for purpose of investigating the cement trust in Texas. Five hundred Rio Grande Valley citrus growers asked the governor to declare martial law to keep weights inspectors from stopping overloaded trucks but so far have not had any action from the governor. C. C. Hudson of Iowa Park, here for the press meet, told us that Zeke Sez is not "hot enough", that more exposures should be brought out! How do you like this one, C. C.? Julian Capers, Boyce House and the writer have decided to introduce a bill to license columnists, to make new applicants take an examination, and representative about it. We believe the bills to make political subdivisions publish semi-annual audits of where their money is spent should get the support of one and all, especially all newspapers. Eh? See you next week! yours, Zeke

New Film Star Appears First Time in "Brother Rat"

In "Brother Rat," which shows at the Princess Theatre, Friday and Saturday, Eddie Albert of the Broadway cast steals the picture with a performance certain to assure him a brilliant future in films. Wayne Morris, Priscilla Lane and the other Warner familiars unquestionably rate top billing in behalf of his introductory picture. William Tracey, from the road company, also turns in a sparkling portrayal and Jane Bryan advances her stock tremendously in short but potent appearances with Albert.

William Keighley directed with telling change of pace the Macaulay and Jerry Wald made from the original by John Monks, Jr. and Fred F. Finkelhoffe, graduates of Virginia Military Institute, scene of the story. Robert Lord, associate producer, dipped deeply into the Warner coffers to provide the utmost in accuracy of setting, procedure and atmosphere. The net result of these gentlemen's efforts is a college picture and a Service comedy that is like no specimen of either that has been offered the public.

Morris plays the most reckless of three room-mates, Ronald Regan the sanest but susceptible one, and Albert, the stolid romantic who has married secretly and is about to become a father. Discovery of this fact interferes with his pitching, and in their efforts to offset wagers made on a baseball game, the others get the trio ensnared in various violations of Academy rules which constantly threaten to bring about expulsion. The commandant's daughter, played by Jane Wyman, and her friend, played by Miss Lane, round out the romantic side of the story. The baseball game, it may be noted, is only a passing episode, not the climax of the picture.

William Tracey is extraordinarily effective, as the underclassman hazed by the principals. Henry O'Neill is his usual competent self as the commandant. Johnny Davis does an excitable senior acceptably. Olin Howland has some acceptable moments as a taxi driver, and Louise Beavers returns to the screen in a well done bit.

Albert is unmistakably a find. His personality is in the ear of Stuart Erwin vein, with a dash of Will Rogers, although distinctly and most promisingly his own. He and Miss Bryan inject seemingly effortless moments of tense, human emotion abruptly into a swiftly flowing current of comedy, in a manner sure to give audiences that inner glow so often striven and so seldom achieved.

Austin (Special)—Flash! Here is hot news, believe it or not! If the legislators are really in earnest about cleaning up State departments, let them look into the methods employed in running the insurance department. The fire boys in your town can verify this statement from their experience, if any, with the state department. Article 4878, Chapter 10, Statutes of 1925—Said Commission shall ascertain as soon as practicable the annual fire loss in this state; obtain, make and maintain a record thereof and collect such data, etc., etc.

Yet, several years ago, someone removed all "power" to a private "checking bureau", located in a downtown office building in Austin, owned, operated and maintained for the insurance companies—not for the people or the public. If you should want a detailed report of fire losses in your town for the year, you cannot find these records in the State department which is required, by the above will be found in this private checking bureau and no one there will tell you anything. Yes, the manager of this private bureau, which has the records, draws a reputed salary of $25,000 per annum—from the companies. Nuf Sed! If you legislators wish to do

College Station—No peddling surprise but big business is the family table.

The average person needs more than a ton of food a year, as compiled by the foods committee of Texas A. and M. Extension Service show. Estimates are based on the requirements of a safe diet as recommended by nutritional experts.

With some 500,000 farm and city families, the No. 1 market of Texas agriculture could amount around 2,390,000 tons, or equivalent of 119,500 cars, of food a year.

H. Williamson, director of Extension Service, recently pointed out that this No. 1 market "requires no trade agreements, no foreign bargaining, no freight rates or distribution adjustments" and that if every citizen engaged in agriculture the state were provided with the best rate diet with sufficient variety to be conducive to health, this would represent a net value of $250,000,000, or equivalent of six million acres of cotton at eight cents a pound.

Included in the adequate diet is per person for one year these items, most of which are produced on the farm: 30 dozen eggs, 30 pounds of meat and fat for cooking, 200 pounds of other meats, 100 pounds of citrus fruits, 200 pounds of other fruits, 170 pounds of grain products, 20 pounds of butter, 70 pounds of sweets, including honey, and 15 pounds of peas and beans.

Twenty Percent of School Students Malnourished

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said "The past half-decade has seen malnutrition become a matter of concern to officials, physicians and parents in Texas. It is estimated that 50 per cent of the school children in the state are malnourished to some degree. And a few of unemployment and economic conditions in certain groups of the population, malnutrition is being greatly intensified," states

Dallas—Another increase in taxes on crude oil was sustained last year by the Texas oil producers, raising the average tax per barrel of oil produced from 8.4 cents to 9.3 cents - the highest level in the State's oil history, according to facts just released by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Loss of markets to other states, particularly Illinois where taxes on oil producers are less than two cents per barrel, caused a seven per cent decline in Texas production which together with additional ad valorem tax levies last year boosted the Texas oil tax nearly one cent per barrel. This is about 11 per cent above the average tax rate paid by Texas oil producers in 1937 and is 22 per cent

In numerous counties of the State, reduced oil production and a further increase in the tax load has added from three to five cents more per barrel to oil producers' tax costs. Thus, in the face of reduced oil output and severely reduced income through lower market prices for oil, many Texas oil operators are now paying an average of 11.7 cents per barrel in State and local taxes.

Last year, according to official figures obtained from the tax rolls, oil producers paid in State and local taxes the huge sum of $44,090,808 which was an increase over 1937 of $1,148,482. Over the past three years, State and local taxes levied on Texas oil production have increased $15,722,596, a gain of 50 per cent.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said "Strictly speaking, malnutrition is not a disease but rather a condition due to poor or faulty nourishment. The child is usually thin, though he may be fat or flabby. He is often pale, with dark hollows under the eyes, lacks muscular tone, has round shoulders and in the more advanced stages, malnutrition produces a child with a narrow and flat chest, protruding abdomen and without spirit or mental vigor.

Specific causes of malnutrition are insufficient or unsuitable diet, wrong food habits, insufficient sleep, chronic fatigue, lack of exercise, disease, physical defects and an element of heredity.

"Malnutrition in itself justifies concern. However, the results of malnutrition present the biggest problem and involve stunted growth, anaemia, nervous irritability and diminished energy. Its most serious consequences, moreover, is increased susceptibility to disease and lack of resistance to it. Too, the relation between malnutrition and tuberculosis is conclusively and pathetically established. In short malnutrition is an abnormal condition which if it is permitted to continue, in many cases, results in serious illness and possible death," Dr. Cox further stated.

"Increased malnutrition is facing not only Texas, but the nation at large. A well balanced program of meals is the best weapon against it. Parents must realize the importance of an intelligently applied dietary. Communities can ill afford to underestimate this vital and elemental factor in their welfare activities.

"It is not too strong a statement to make that malnutrition among our youth, especially among the families of the unemployed and the low economic stratas, represents a powerful enemy against the nation's future welfare. Intelligent action is needed to successfully combat it.

"The State Health Department of Texas is doing its part and will send free of charge nutrition information and sample menus embodying the principles of well-rounded dietary to all who request it. A penny postcard addressed to the department will bring the information by return mail.

Receding of grasses By Deferred Grazing Leads Range Practice

National reseeding of grasses by deferred grazing led all other range and pasture improvement work in Texas during 1938 as the practice was applied to 4,779,371 acres. In deferred grazing, livestock are withheld from grazing a portion of the range for a period of six months or so. The practice not only allows the grass to seed, but gives the plants a rest period in which root reserves are accumulated.

Altogether more than 8 million acres of grass land were improved during the past year while over a million and a quarter of grass and clover seed were sown, according to figures compiled by R. R. Lancaster, pasture specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, from the annual reports of county agricultural agents.

Much of the improvement consisted of clearing land of objectionable growths that shade grasses and take away moisture and plant food, and 1,370,104 acres were cleared of prickly pear, mesquite, lechugilla, cedar, and other varieties of brush.

M. R. Bentley, extension agricultural engineer, said 385,000 acres of Texas range and pasture land was contoured and terraced during 1938. Much of the deferred grazing, contour, and eradication work was done under the AAA's range conservation program.

While West Texas furnished much of the volume in the improvement process, most of the 822,279 pounds of grass and 431,253 pounds of clover seed were sown in the more humid regions of the state. The same is true of the 266,868 acres mowed to improve grass lands.

Rhodes grass, Southwest Texas best bet in intensive pasture improvement, is now established on 45,000 acres, Lancaster said. King Ranch alone planted 16,000 acres in 1938.

Gary Cooper and Merle Oberon Starred

Lanky Gary Cooper's portrayal of the gentleman of the first part of the title is easily the outstanding asset of this deliberate comedy, "The Cowboy and the Lady" which comes to the Princess theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. Merle Oberon plays the lady of the second part.

The funniest sequence is a pantomime stretch in which Mr. Cooper furnishes an incomplete home on the range in his imagination, with gestures so convincing that half a dozen cowhands come in and sit down on imaginary chairs to drink imaginary drinks from imaginary glasses. His performance is among the best if not indeed at the top of them.

The screen play by S. N. Behrman and Sonya Levien from a story credited to Leo McCarey and Frank R. Adams is about a daughter of wealth who masquerades as a lady's maid, meets a simple cowboy, falls in love and marries him without telling him she is the daughter of a candidate for presidential nomination.

When he learns the truth he denounces her father and friends and returns to his ranch. Her father, contrite, relinquishes political ambition and flies her to the cowboy's ranch in advance of his arrival. When he gets there everything is adjusted satisfactorily.

Second best of the humorous passages is one near the start of the film wherein Harry Davenport, as the girl's uncle, delineates the jitterbug phenomenon to "A Tisket, a Tasket" which is used thereafter, mildly symphonized, as basis of the music score.

Patsy Kelly, Walter Brennan, Fuzzy Knight, Mabel Todd and Emma Dunn are others active in the comedy department. Henry Kolker is the serious father and Berton Churchill his political backer.

After a comedy introduction and before the comedy windup which is its strongest point, the story goes somewhat breathlessly romantic and continues in that vein, aboard a fog-ridden gulf steamer, until the captain marries them. In this stanza the technique of emotional sus-

At 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon P. E. Neale, New Mexico State College, will start the work on judging the men's Rambouillet breeding sheep.

Final judging will be started Sunday morning at 9 o'clock when Gen. Henry G. Whitehead, retired, of Winchester, Ky., will place colts in the colt show.

Mr. Deal expects all judging to be completed by Saturday night with the exception of the colt show and this will be finished Sunday.

upstairs to find a man rifling the cash register. Sheriff W. S. Willis took charge and the man, who gave his name as Hal Petmecky of Austin, was fined $50 and costs, a total of $63. In justice court there the next morning. As one ranchman remarked, "He'll be out with the birds, and the bees, and the flowers in the spring!"

Joe Kerr, wool and mohair Sanderson, feels that 1939 is going to mean good luck for the sheep and goat men. He is looking for better prices on lamb, as well as for wool and mohair. Lambing has started in the Sanderson section, with the peak of the crop expected this month and next.

The new Spanish style, white stucco home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fields of Sonora is near completion. Mr. Fields will enter the coming wool season as buyer for Tom Richey for A. W. Hilliard & Son. He has been associated with the Sonora Wool & Mohair Co. for the past six years.

The Santa Fe had a crew of men busy at Fort Stockton this week building a new double-deck loading chute and preparing to put up lights for the coming busy season. Ranchmen of that section are particularly jubilant about the prospect of lighted loading pens, too many of them having tried to talk sheep into dark cars and ending up with a personal touch at loading time. Bill Tilton, the Santa Fe's livestock agent, was in Stockton this week on business.

In the way of trading, the most significant of recent sales were: Ben Nittell of Sonora has delivered between 600 and 700 three-year-old bred ewes which he sold in the wool at $6.50 around.

Pruett & Mitchell of Marathon sold a string of 2,500 yearling ewes in the wool for May 1 delivery to a San Angelo commission firm at $6 a head. C. R. McKensie of Fort Stockton, through Russell Payne, sold 200 short age calves to A. R. Freeman of Eastland at $27.50 a head.

Ben B. Dickson, manager of the San Pedro Farm & Ranch Co. near Fort Stockton, shipped four cars of cows and calves from Hodgins to a Canadian, Texas, stockman.

The price received was $60 for cows and calves and $52.50 for dry stock. Dr. W. H. Moore of Fort Stockton sold 500 cows, three's to sixes, to W. W. Brunson of Midland. The deal was made about a month ago and the stock have just been delivered. The price was $50 a head.

Russell Payne of Fort Stockton has completed delivery of about 1,500 light ewe lambs for Alf Ten Eyck, who ranches west of Fort Stockton, to W. W. Brunson of Midland. The price was $4.25 around.

camp near Ozona who used to serve as cook for Al Capone. The boy says that the gangland chief used to force his cook to eat a part of everything that was put on the table. Not that he didn't trust his chef, but he didn't like the idea of a poison death.

The Ozona Wool & Mohair Co. at Ozona got its first batch of new mohair when Walt Turner, who ranches near Ozona, suspended shearing because of a threatened cold spell and brought his mohair into town.

Allen Mayes, who until two months ago had a part of the Combs Cattle Co. leased and stocked, has bought the two trucks operated by Herbert Johnson of Fort Stockton. Mayes sold his stock to Fred Barrett of Comstock and is giving his time to his trucking business.

Westbrook Estate of San Angelo sold 1,100 two and three-year-old dry ewes out of the wool for spring delivery at $5 a head. They went to C. C. Bledsoe, also of San Angelo.

Henry Reginald (Reg) Bankhart, associated with Swift Wool Co. of Boston, died at Newtonville, Mass., on Jan. 31 at the age of 58. He was well known in wool circles over the entire country.

A. B. Rogers of San Marcos sold A. Bodney of San Antonio the well-known old Jacobs Well Ranch near San Marcos. The consideration was $5,500.

John Pikes and Maurice Klud have divided and are fencing the 645 acres of land adjoining their ranches near Camp San Saba which they purchased recently from Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jordan of Mason. The land brought $20 an acre.

Announcement has been made by the Sonora Lions' Club and H. C. Atchison, county agent, of the date of the club's annual livestock auction and the 4-H Club wool show, to be held this year on June 9 and 10.

The show committee is comprised of W. J. Fields, Jr., G. H.

Davis, Joe M. VanderStucken, Fred Earwood, Joe Berger, W. H. Damerson, George D. Chalk, Arthur Simmons, Edwin Sawyer, with Mr. Atchison as chairman. H. V. Stokes is chairman of the solicitation committee, and will work with Atchison, B. M. (Bustle) Halbert, Tom Bond, and the Rev. R. C. Brinkley. Through the 1938 livestock auction the Lion Club realized enough money to carry on their welfare work for the year.

Officers elected at the recent meeting of the Marfa Production Credit Association include Joe Mitchell, Marfa, president; Jack Rawls, Marfa, vice-president; David Combs, Marfa, secretary-treasurer; and N. O. Chaffin, Marfa, assistant secretary-treasurer. Directors are Wade Reid, Fort Davis, Wynn Hamilton, Saragosa, and O. M. Bunton, Marfa. Combs resigned from the directorate to serve as secretary-treasurer, replacing R. B. Wesson, who has not recovered from serious injuries received in an automobile accident last November.

Attending the session at Marfa were John Seale, secretary of the Production Credit Corporation of Huston, Lawrence Clarke, field representative, and J. C. Marshall, field accountant. Clarke and Marshall have been at Marfa doing relief work during Wesson's absence from the office.

Meeting at Church of Christ Draws Good Attendance

The meeting, now four nights old, is drawing good crowds. Much interest is being manifested by the people of the town. The preaching is plain and positive.

The entire community is invited to attend all of these services. The services are being conducted each evening at 7:45. We want you to come and enjoy the good congregational singing and join into the study of the Bible without prejudice, with us. The preaching will be done in the spirit of love, yet will be positive. We have no creeds of human origin. We believe and preach the Bible alone as the only creed given by God to man to guide him through this life. We invite you to come and be with us. CENTER STRIPE PAINTED ON HIGHWAYS FOR SAFETY

Describing work of the State Highway Department in its efforts to make Texas highways safer for all motor vehicle operators and pedestrians, Harry S. Phillips, Traffic Engineer of that Department, today called attention to the appearance of additional paint lines on highways throughout the state.

"Under a recent program all hard surfaced roads on the state highway system have been painted with a center stripe," Mr. Phillips said. "The addition of one or two lines to the existing center stripe indicates a warning where single lines of traffic are essential."

One additional line is used on curves and hills where sight distance is restricted, the Traffic Engineer pointed out. It is placed on the right-hand side of the centerline approaching a point of short sight distance and continues to a point from which the driver is able to see at least 1,000 feet ahead.

"In certain sections of the state where the highways have limited sight distance each way, warranting single line traffic in both directions they are painted with three stripes," Mr. Phillips said, "and motor vehicle operators should never pass another vehicle in such locations. Not only does there exist a possible chance of meeting an approaching vehicle but frequently the curvature of the road demands a slower speed."

Four-lane highways have a continuous double stripe which should never be crossed, the Traffic Engineer cautioned, and traffic should stay on the outside lane except when passing, using the inside lane for passing only.

Answering questions before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which later favored his nomination to the United States Supreme Court by a unanimous vote, Felix Frankfurter said: "It doesn't matter whether the Constitution is invoked for ends I like or ends I don't like, so long as those who invoke it keep within the framework of the

JUDGES SECURED FOR SAN ANGELO STOCK SHOW

Judges for the various divisions of the 8th Annual San Angelo Fat Stock Show and Rodeo, March 3-6, have been obtained. Culberson Deal, show manager, has announced. Deal says that each one is recognized authority in his particular live stock line.

Foremost among the Judges will be Sam R. McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska, from Lincoln, who is president of the American Hereford Breeders' Association. McKelvie, who runs 500 registered animals on his ranch near Lincoln, is to judge the men's Hereford show. McKelvie has visited the show here but has never served as a judge.

Two other judges are P. E. Neale and John H. Knox, both from New Mexico State College at Las Cruces, New Mexico. Neale is to judge the men's Rambouillet breeding sheep and Knox the boys' baby beef show.

John H. Jones, Texas A. and M. College College Station, is to judge the boys' fat lambs and E. J. Hughes of the soil conversation service here, will judge the men's Delaine breeding sheep.

Judge of the colt show, a new feature of the exposition, will be Gen. Henry G. Whitehead, retired, of Winchester, Ky.

Rounding out the list of judges will be H. A. Fritzhugh Bexar County farm agent from San Antonio, who will judge the boys' breeding sheep. Fritzhugh was coach of the Menard, Texas, judging team which won first in the national contests held last fall in Chicago. He formerly served Menard as county agent and previously was vocational agriculture instructor at Bronte.

OUT WEST WITH THE HARDYS

Four previous productions: "A Family Affair," "You're Only Young Once," "Judge Hardy's Children" and "Love Finds Andy Hardy," have established a ready market for the "Judge Hardy" series. The familiar players, Lewis Stone, Mickey Rooney, Cecilia Parker, Fay

Holden and Ann Rutherford, again will be seen Monday and Tuesday at the Princess Theatre. Further name value is represented by Virginia Weidler, Ralph Morgan, Sara Haden, Don Castle, Gordon Jones and Nana Bryant.

George B. Seitz continues as director from a screen play by Kay Van Riper, Agnes Christine Johnson and William Ludwig.

Comedy that precipitates many diverse involvements will be the essence of the show. The family moves out to the wide open spaces, but finds itself in the dazzling luxury of a dude-type layout. While the Judge tries to save the property for, secretly, an old school day flame, the daughter falls in love with a doggy cow-puncher, while son "Andy" runs into all sorts of trouble trying to demonstrate that he is a real he-man of the West. Miss Weidler will be seen as a pestiferous kid sister.

Story as well as production quality has improved successively.

TRUCKS FIGURE IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Accidents in which trucks were involved on Texas highways during 1937 resulted in the death of 670 persons and injury to 3,360 others, according to information contained in a booklet now being distributed by the Railway and Express Employees Association of Texas. The same figures for 1938 are now being compiled.

This 96-page booklet, just off the press, was prepared from actual accounts of highway truck accidents appearing in Texas newspapers during the year. It shows that in 1937 there were 2,640 truck accidents, an increase of 442 over the previous year, and that while the number of persons injured was slightly more than in 1936, fatalities increased by 94.

In a tabulation the booklet shows that 1937 led all other years from and including 1932 in total number of accidents in which trucks were involved, as well as in number of persons killed and injured. In the six-year period there were 11,233 accidents which resulted in injury to 15,183 and the death of 2,936 persons, which is said to exceed the casualty list of any major engagement during the World War.

Leading causes of accidents, listed in the booklet by Texas towns and cities are shown as: truck out of control, faulty brakes, sideswiping and drivers falling asleep at the wheel.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morris and son, Campbell, were Fort Stockton business visitors Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Brown arrived Sunday and will make their home in Sanderson, Mr. Brown has accepted a position with the McKnight Motor Company.
