SANDERSON EAGLES TO MEET FORT STOCKTON SAT.

The Sanderson Eagles will play their first football game of the season Saturday when they tangle with the Fort Stockton Panthers at 2:30 o'clock at the American Legion Park.

Coaches Duane E. Smith and A. B. Caraway have been working out plays and drilling the local players in preparation for the game, which should prove to be one of the best of the season. The Sanderson club is heavier this year than in the past several years and will be ready to go when the whistle is blown. The Panthers have already played their first game, meeting McCamey last week-end. McCamey won by a score of 12 to 0.

More interest has been shown in the squad this year by the town, and indications are that they will have good support on the sidelines when they go into action. Hope is expressed by the coaches that more interest will continue through the football season than has been the case heretofore.

Other games scheduled will be found on the page placed in this issue of the Times by the football boys and their boosters.—Page 5.

SAVELL LEE SHARP TEACHING IN SONORA SCHOOLS

Word has been received here that Savell Lee Sharp, graduate of Sanderson High School and also a graduate of Sul Ross College last May, has accepted a position with the faculty of the Sonora schools.

He teaches band, orchestra, directs the choral club, and also teaches typing. Mr. Sharp has many friends in Sanderson who are glad to learn of his accomplishments.

"SHE LOVED A FIREMAN" BENEFIT SHOW SUNDAY, 2:30

Everything is all set for the benefit show for raising funds to provide fire-fighting equipment for Sanderson, according to the management of the Princess Theatre.

The show, "She Loved a Fireman," has been chosen as an appropriate feature for the event, which will take place Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All proceeds from the show will go into a fund that will be raised for purchasing equipment to fight fires in Sanderson. The management furnishes the film free for the occasion and regular admission prices will prevail at the box office.

Attendance is urged for no matter how much money is raised by this means it will only be a starter. The balance of the necessary funds will be raised by a 1% donation on the rendered value of real property by the owners. Those behind the movement feel that every property owner in Sanderson will be glad to donate to that extent to secure fire protection.

PEP RALLY SET FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

At 7:30 p. m. Friday, the first pep rally of the football season will be held on the east side of the Kerr Mercantile Company. The rally is in honor of the Sanderson High School Eagles, who will meet the Fort Stockton Panthers at the American Legion Park at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

The Sanderson High School Band and pep squad will be at the rally to cheer the Eagles for the approaching game. The public is cordially invited and urged to attend the rally and the game. Support your home-town team!

Leo Daniels left Sunday for Dallas where he will enter Baylor Medical College again this year.

COACH DUANE E. SMITH

Aided by assistant coach A. B. Caraway, has put forth every effort to have the boys in the pink of condition when they meet the Fort Stockton Panthers here Saturday afternoon.

Improvement on Sanderson Road Is Ordered

A program designed to make Highway 285 from Fort Stockton southwest to the Terrell County line an all-weather road has been ordered by the Texas Highway Commission in a minute passed at its first-of-the-month meeting in Austin.

A copy of the minutes, received here the first of the week by C. E. Casebier, Pecos County judge, provides an appropriation of $18,000 "for betterment work to provide for an all-weather road."

The State Highway engineer is instructed to proceed by day labor methods through the maintenance division to carry out the program.

Whether the all-weather road would be one with caiche surface or would also include building drainage structures across draws which frequently become flooded, has not been learned here. Judge Casebier doubts that drainage structures of adequate size could be built with the fund specified, and believes that the order intends to provide a better road-bed instead.

Reports from Pecos that the state was to improve the section of No. 285 from Fort Stockton to the Reeves County line on the Pecos road have not been confirmed. Since Judge Casebier has no information on this matter, he concludes that Pecos people were confused in the information received and that the work ordered was that from Fort Stockton toward Sanderson, rather than toward Pecos.—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

NEW LAWS GO INTO EFFECT ON WEDNESDAY

Austin, Texas—Nearly two-score new laws, some drastic but most merely revisions of old statutes, becoming effective in Texas Wednesday.

Intended to protect John O. Citizen, in overalls as well as white collar, the laws are the final batch of hundreds born of the longest session of the legislature in history. The lawmakers specified this group should be enforced ninety days after the session adjourned.

On Sept. 20: A new board and machinery to handle state land sales and vacancy claims—of major importance in Texas' huge oil industry.

Counties will be remitted one-half of state property taxes assessed after that date.

Hot check artists will face severe penalties.

Taxpayers will benefit by discounts for early payment of state taxes.

Only healthy citrus fruit and fertile planting seed may be imported into the state.

Stealing or destroying of timbers.

WE MAY PAY MUCH MORE

It's general knowledge among nations of the earth that human beings are prone to wait until calamity befalls them and then put forth efforts to remedy it or prevent it happening again.

And we wonder if people who live in Sanderson are going to have to learn their lesson concerning fire the hard way. We admit, with thanks to providence, that Sanderson has suffered no terrible losses from fire in the past. But what will happen in the future might be entirely a different story. We can cite you instances of which we know where a serious fire never occurred for many years, but when it did happen it cost many thousands of dollars because there was no protection—no means of combating the one enemy that takes a dreadful toll each year in our nation—no one was prepared.

We wonder, too, if they are going to say, "Yes, I know that we need some kind of fire protection but what can I do?" and let the matter drop at that. In such a case there will be no fire protection of any kind in our town. It is going to be necessary that a few who are interested enough in their community to fight for it, get out and go to work. We know that the majority are going to do as little as possible, especially if there is any time that will be taken from their own personal interests, and in case there is work to be done. So few people see farther than their own selfish interests in many of the civic matters that are so important to a community for it to live and prosper.

You think that your home will not burn—we all think that we are so careful that our homes are perfectly safe. Because we have been fortunate this far does not guarantee that we will always be fortunate, and because we feel so secure in our methods of preventing our own homes from burning we forget to figure out just what would happen if our neighbor's home caught fire some windy day. We fail to realize that maybe a fire might be started by other means than just our carelessness.

How many people in Sanderson know that our town as a whole pays out approximately $7,000 annually for fire protection on their homes and business houses? That if the good fire record which Sanderson now has was lost it would cost policy holders over $900 more each year? How many know that if Sanderson had a truck with a tank capacity of 250 gallons (minimum) with a booster pump to take the water from that tank that the insurance key rate would be reduced 3 cents, and that a saving of approximately $200 would be made for insurance buyers each year?

We believe that the most logical and economical fire fighting equipment for use in Sanderson would be a truck equipped with a water tank of 750 gallon capacity and a booster pump of 250 gallons per minute to throw that water where it is needed. A 250 gallon a minute booster does not mean that water in that amount will be drawn from the tank each minute, but it does mean that enough pressure could be maintained to throw water over the top of any building in Sanderson. This equipment is being advocated by the Sanderson Rotary Club, and funds for purchasing the equipment, according to present plans, will be raised by donation of property holders. Each and every property holder will be requested to donate 1% of the value placed on his property for tax purposes. Surely, if a person owns a $3,000 home that is rendered at $1,000, he would be glad to pay $10 to know that in case of fire he would have more than an even chance of saving the $3,000 investment.

Let's talk this matter up—let's get some protection for our town before we wake up some morning and find nothing but smoldering ruins where once stood thousands of dollars worth of property.

Junior Woman's Club Meets With Mrs. J. C. Kern

The Junior Woman's Club held its first meeting of the year Thursday evening, September 14, in the home of Mrs. J. C. Kern with Miss Vonceil Henderson as co-hostess.

Prompt Payment Of Tax Bill To Earn Discounts

Through action of its Commissioners Court, Terrell County has caught step with the state in promoting prompt payment of property taxes through the discount system.

Under a law passed by the recent legislature discounts ranging from 1 to 3 per cent are to be granted for prompt payment of taxes. This act, of course, applied only to the state's share of taxes. But under recent action of the local Commissioners Court, the same discounts are to be granted on prompt payment of county and school taxes.

The discounts are 3 per cent if paid before November 1, 2 per cent if paid before December 1, and 1 per cent if paid before January 1. The discounts do not apply to first half tax payments but do apply in the same order to the second half payments if paid 90, 60 or 30 days before the final due date, June 30.

MISS KATE FRAZIER RETIRES AFTER 28 YEARS SERVICE

Announcement has been made to the effect that the resignation and pension of Miss Kate Frazier has been approved by the Western Union Telegraph Company effective September 16, after 28 years of continuous service.

"Miss Kate," as she is called by her many friends in Sanderson, began her telegraph service in Tyler with the Postal Telegraph Company, coming to Sanderson some 14 years ago. And since that time she has served the people of this community faithfully and well, both in her capacity with the telegraph company and as a citizen and resident. Her many friends, who are numbered by her acquaintances, are glad to learn that she will remain in Sanderson and wish her many more years of happiness.

Miss Louise Graham, coming to Sanderson from Hobbs, N. M., has taken over the duties of the local office and will continue to render the same courteous service that has been the custom of the office in the past. Her home formerly was Arkansas Pass.

Geologists to Attempt Tapping of Huge Marble Supply

Austin—A survey to seek to tap the nation's largest supply of granite and marble will be launched this week by University of Texas geologists.

The 40-mile-square belt of the five-county Central Mineral Region, barricaded high behind the hills just west of Austin—termed the state's number one mineral frontier will be explored for potential industrial development.

Dr. V. E. Barnes, geologist for the University Bureau of Economic Geology, will investigate reported traces of two war minerals, chromium and nickel, discovery of which would bolster an "almost negligible United States supply."

Also reported in the region are traces of copper, lead, graphite, gypsum and gold.

A $5,000 legislative appropriation for the Llano area or Central Mineral Region, has adequately equipped the bureau for its work.

Construction of four dams on the Colorado River, affording a source of cheap power, will greatly facilitate commercial development of the region, Dr. E. H. Sellards, Bureau Director said.

Mrs. Joe Nichols and Mrs. W. C. Vaughan left Monday for Clovis, N. M., where they are visiting in the home of a sister of Mrs. Nichols.

The Rev. John V. McCall is in Alice this week attending a meeting of the Presbytery. He will return Friday.

HIGHLAND FAIR FEEDER SALE OCTOBER 5-6-7

MARFA Sept. 22—Not "from soup to nuts" but "something to interest everyone" might well be the slogan of the Highland Fair and Feeder Sale in Marfa, October 5-6-7, plans for which are rapidly rounding into shape.

Highlighting the three days of fun is the midget auto racing scheduled for Saturday, October 7. Ten cars from El Paso, manned by trained drivers and handlers, will race around a specially built track at the Fairgrounds.

The annual parade will open the Fair the morning of October 5. Free barbecue will be served those attending the Fair the first two days. Rodeo events will be staged both October 5 and 6 with a "local boys" rodeo furnishing amusement the morning of the last day. There will be a dance each night.

Sul Ross State Teachers College players will contest those of Texas A. and I. (Kingsville) on the lighted Marfa gridiron October 6.

Both Texas and northern feeders are showing great interest this year in the Feeder Sale, October 6, when the cream of the Hereford calf crop in the Highland section will go under the auctioneer's hammer. Forty-nine carloads have been consigned. Fair arrangements are directed by George Jones, widely known ranchman of this section who is president of the Highland Fair Association. W. B. Mittenell and Sons are the sale managers of the Feeder Sale.

Mrs. Ingham Sells Stock to Lessees Of 23-Section Ranch

Mrs. B. B. Ingham, who recently retired from the ranching business and leased her 23-section to her brother, Morris Dudley, and her sons, B. B. and Dudley Ingham, has sold the livestock on the ranch to the lessees. She will keep a small bunch of pure bred Rambouillet ewes which she will run on the halves with her son, Dudley. Mrs. Ingham has been operating the ranch since her husband's death three years ago.

Morris Dudley has leased the acreage on the Crockett County side of the Pecos River and the Ingham boys will operate the land on the Terrell County side. Mrs. Ingham will retain her home on the ranch headquarters and will build a new home for Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Ingham across the river. Mr. and Mrs. Dudley will occupy a house near Mrs. Ingham's in which Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Ingham have been living.—Ozona Stockman

Honored With Special Program Tuesday Evening

At a regular meeting of the Eastern Star held Tuesday evening at the Masonic Hall the Past Matrons and the Past Patrons of this Chapter were honored with a special program. Gifts in appreciation of their services were given each Past Matron and Past Patron present.

Mesdames Eula Brown, Member of Board of Directors, Eastern Star Home, Martin Ezell, Mabel Beard, Caroline Merrell and Avora Owens from the Alpine Chapter were guests of this Chapter.

After the meeting refreshments of fruit salad, ribbon sandwiches and iced tea were served to members and guests.

UNGOES APPENDECTOMY

Mona Ogle, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Ogle, underwent an operation for appendicitis in a Del Rio hospital Friday of last week. She is reported doing fine.

Ben Gilbert purchased 330 head of four year old ewes from G. F. Hill of Sonora, delivery being made Wednesday. Purchase price was not learned.

Who was The Man in the Iron Mask?

Historians for nearly a century have battled over this question, but still there is no definite conclusion.

That a man in a mask did exist and that he was incarcerated in the dread Bastille on personal order of King Louis XIV of France cannot be disputed. The records of the Bastille itself, as well as other documents, prove beyond any possibility of doubt that there was such a person. But who he was and why he was locked up in such painful circumstances is, even in this enlightened day one of the most weird stories of history.

The whole question—and it is one which has at times flared to stinging heights of literary genius—is revived with announcement that the story penned by Alexander Dumas has been brought to the screen by Edward Small as "The Man in the Iron Mask" and its set for its initial showing at the Princess Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday through United Artists release. Once before it was made, with Douglas Fairbanks Sr. as the star and that time, also the Dumas story was used as the basis for the screen plot.

After all Dumas' story, even with its flamboyant disregard of history in favor of romance, seems to be as close to the real story as any. That is that the Man in the Iron Mask was a brother, either a twin or one born out of wedlock, to King Louis XIV. Louis, so the story goes, had this brother encased in a mask and locked in prison, to keep his identity forever a secret, thus thwarting anyone who would seek to remove him from the throne in favor of his relative.

Only one thing is definitely certain and that is that a man in a mask actually was incarcerated on order of Louis XIV and that his real identity was a closely guarded secret. Records show that he died in the Bastille on November 19, 1793, and that he was buried in the cemetery of Saint Paul under the name of Marchiel.

How long he had been a prisoner is not definite. Records show that Saint Mars arrived from Penedole in Piedmont, in 1698 to become governor of the Bastille and that he brought with him the prisoner in the mask. He was registered simply as Marchiol, aged about 45. No one, save possibly Governor Saint Mars, was permitted to see him without his mouth and the prisoner was not treated as other convicts. He was given special quarters, more comfortable and roomy than others in the Bastille and was given special food, also presented to him by the governor himself.

It was not long after his incarceration in the Bastille that the man in the iron mask was the subject of whispered conversation. Men and women of the royal court knew of his presence, but dared not speak of it. The story spread to the streets of Paris but no one dared openly discuss his identity.

The first book or pamphlet touching on the subject appeared in Amsterdam in 1746. This story identified the man in the mask as the Duke of Vermandois described as the natural son of Louis XIV and Mile La Valliere. That this theory was entirely in error is proved by the fact that the Duke of Vermandois died in 1683, whereas the man in the mask lived until 1793. Yet, the story caused great commotion, to the end that it was barred from circulation and once again a strict order went out against discussion on the subject in court circles.

In all, a total of 75 books have been written, published on the Man in the Iron Mask but by far the most popular one of all was the one by that title written by Alexander Dumas and on which the current production by Edward Small is based. It co-stars Louis Hayward and Joan Ben nett.

Ritz Brothers
Film Hit Based On Dumas Novel

The Ritz Brothers have turned time of your life watching these three half-wit Hawkshaws tracking down a wierd man-killing beast in "The Gorilla", the 20th Century Fox screen version of the famous stage hit which breezes into the Princess Theatre tonight.

The action takes place in a house that is a maze of sliding panels. The time is something close to mid-night—in the midst of a raging thunderstorm. The host Lionel Atwill has just received a threatening note from "The Gorilla" threatening him with murder at midnight.

Into this scene wander those super-detectives, Harigan, Mulligan and Garrity—The Ritzes, of course—and from then on anything can happen—and it does!

It would be unfair to spoil the fun-and-fright feast that waits you by revealing the story of the "chilliarious" developments that ensue when the Ritzes begin stalking the beast, which has been described as "so ugly that when snakes get drunk they see it."

The Ritz Brothers are ably aided and abetted in this merry mystery by Anita Louise, as Atwill's niece; Patsy Kelly, as the panicky maid-of-all-work; Bela Calleia, as a sulking stranger; Edward Norris, as Anita's sweetheart; and Wally Vernon, as a roving sailor.

Paul Muni Has Leading Role In
'Juarez', Mon., Tues.

This is a picture of sweeping proportions about an idea. It dramatically relates a triangular issue between corrupt autocracy Napoleon III, kindly but inept royalist Maximilian; and a theory of democracy, Juarez.

There are stirring conflicts, movement of personages great and small, glammers and shudders, pageantry and politics, loves and hates—but the story is about Democracy expounded by Paul Muni as "Juarez" against a background of historic coloration pertaining to the Europe, but mostly the Mexico of three quarters of a century ago.

The product is rich in moods and vibrant, contrasting intensities, all given increased accent by exceptional attention to the musical component which is so woven into the structure of the telling that the spectator has no intrusive awareness of it.

The basic materials are history, but history dealt with in about all the freedom accorded to the creative artist concerned with his special purposes. Most apparent among these elements of treatment is the stylized handling of "Juarez" in Mr. Muni's role in the garb and mien of Abraham Lincoln—and to a degree perhaps beyond the acceptance of some adherents of the traditional Lincoln concept.

John Garfield as Porfirio Diaz a general in Juarez' army and later to become dictator of Mexico. Gale Sondergaard as Empress Eugenie; Donald as Marechal Bazaine; Joseph Calleia, Gilbert Rowland, Henry O'Neill, Pedro de Cordoba, Montagu Love, and a score of others contribute, sharply-etched, distinguished characterizations.

To the making of this massive picture the producers have brought unusual production values. The Palace of Tuileries (residence of the French Kings until 1871) and the Aztec palaces of Chapultepec, the Palacio and the grand old Cathedral of Mexico City are the settings for the man who would be Emperor.

The arid and rugged terrain, the Indian village and the mountain crag for the background of the indomitable Mexican Leberator.

The story of "Juarez" begins at that period (1863) when the French troops had occupied Mexico for nearly two years, in a vain effort to collect loans made to the dictator, Santa Anna, now deposed for concessions and land.

Benito Juarez, who had established a constitutional democracy and was now president, had declared a moratorium on these debts; and now the wily Napoleon III was weaving a web of international design, which resulted in Maximilian von Hapsburg accepting the "nomination" in response to a "plebiscite" in Mexico demanding an Emperor.

From these beginnings the action moves swiftly through blood-drenched Mexico to the inevitable finale.

The screen version, based on a play by Franz Werfel and the novel "The Phantom Crown," by Bertita Harding, bears out conclusions of such writers as Jose Luis Blazio, who served as secretary to Maximilian during the Ephemeral Empire, that the brother of Franz Josef of Austria was a lamb among wolves, an idealist who believed he was "called to Mexico by the free expression of the will of the people."

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. O'Bryant, Jr., and Mrs. Mary Lou Kellar went to San Antonio Saturday returning home Tuesday.

Mrs. Theresa Friend left Friday for Sonora where he will visit relatives.

The second covey of quail in Texas containing rare white quail discovered during the last two years has been reported to the Game Department by the Game Warden at Roby, who found five of the Bobwhites, one pure white and four streaked with brown, near Abilene recently. One other white quail was reported in Northwest Texas recently and a covey found in East Texas nearly two years ago.

White quail are the result of the lack of pigments in the feathers of the birds, but white or any other pees of birds animals is not considered a term most commonly applied to them unless they have eyes.

Trapping in Texas offers possibilities. It is estimated Chambers, Jefferson and O counties could produce an annual crop of furs valued at $2,000. The Game Department is aiding in adding to the wealth of the state by assisting in storing fur-bearing animals.

Fall Clothing Styles Set

College Station—A seasonal epidemic, the new clothes fever, is spreading in Texas as college girls become fall clothes conscious and smaller children get the back-to-school urge, according to a diagnosis announced by Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the A and M College Extension Service.

"Mother and Dad feel they can't be left out, so all in all it means that clothes for the entire family have to be in readiness for fall and winter needs."

In answer to the parental questions about what the well-dressed woman will be wearing this fall, black, as per usual, is the leading color but it is brightened by gold jewelry. "Don't be disturbed if you can't wear black because there are plenty of other colors which you can wear—comet blue, tunic blue, harvest wine, deep amethyst, tourmaline, shades of plum, navy, green, and the new mossy green which is a gorgeous bronzy green," Mrs. Barnes says.

The most radical change is evident in coats. There is the new fitted coat with the modified shoulder which is still broad but not exaggerated; however, the greatest difference is in the skirts. Fullness is used in a variety of ways, at the sides, in the front at the back, or all around in a ripping youthful flare.

Speaking of hats, Mrs. Barnes adds: "Style means wearing something becoming something that does something for you and this season you can purchase hats that are becoming whether it is a high or low crown, wide or narrow brim."

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

Trapped last spring Trans-Pecos and Trans-Pecos new range thrived during summer, it is reported Game Department regional manager in that the physical condition of animals is excellent and dropped young. reported this year in Colorado, Austin, DeWitt and Refugio counties by Game Department officials. Young birds in Refugio County flourished so well they were difficult to distinguish from the adult birds in June. Birds have been located in several sections where they had not previously been, but in other sections the converting of more land to rice fields each year is cutting down the range of those fine game birds, Game Department biologists report.

Natural foes of rattlesnakes continue to take their toll. The latest incident to come to the attention of the Game Department was reported by P. W. Krauter of Medina County, who recently observed a coachwhip snake crawling very slowly in a circle. Coming closer, Mr. Krauter saw the snake make a quick movement. It grabbed a three-foot rattler about midway of its back and shook it, apparently breaking the rattler's back. After the venomous snake was dead, the coachwhip snake ate it.

M-Culloch County's State Game Warden recently observed a large number of vultures scratching up turtle eggs out of a large sandy beach on the San Saba River and eating them.

Feeding turkeys, attempted by the Texas Game Fish and Oyster Commission only in times of stress, helped overcome the effects of a drought in the Hill Country this year. As a result, that section of the state, faced with the possibility of having its seed crop of the big game birds wiped out, should have a sufficient stock of adult birds for the next breeding season.

Figures made available by the executive secretary of the Game Department reveal that a total of fifty-three feeding stations were established and that forty-five of them were used for turkey until July 10 when the feeding program was discontinued due to the general rains over the area helping alleviate the situation. It is estimated by the regional game manager of that area that more than 3,000 adult birds used the feeding stations. More than 3,300 pounds of maize and 54 bushels of corn were used in the drive to succor turkeys. The Game Department does not advocate the artificial feeding of turkeys except upon unusual occasions because it produces heavy concentration of birds at the feeding stations and thus makes them more accessible to predators.

The crop of young turkey is negligible this year due to the effects of the drought.

With the dove hunting season in full swing some pertinent DON'T'S which may save sportsmen considerable trouble with state and federal game wardens have been formulated by the Game Department's secretary. They include:

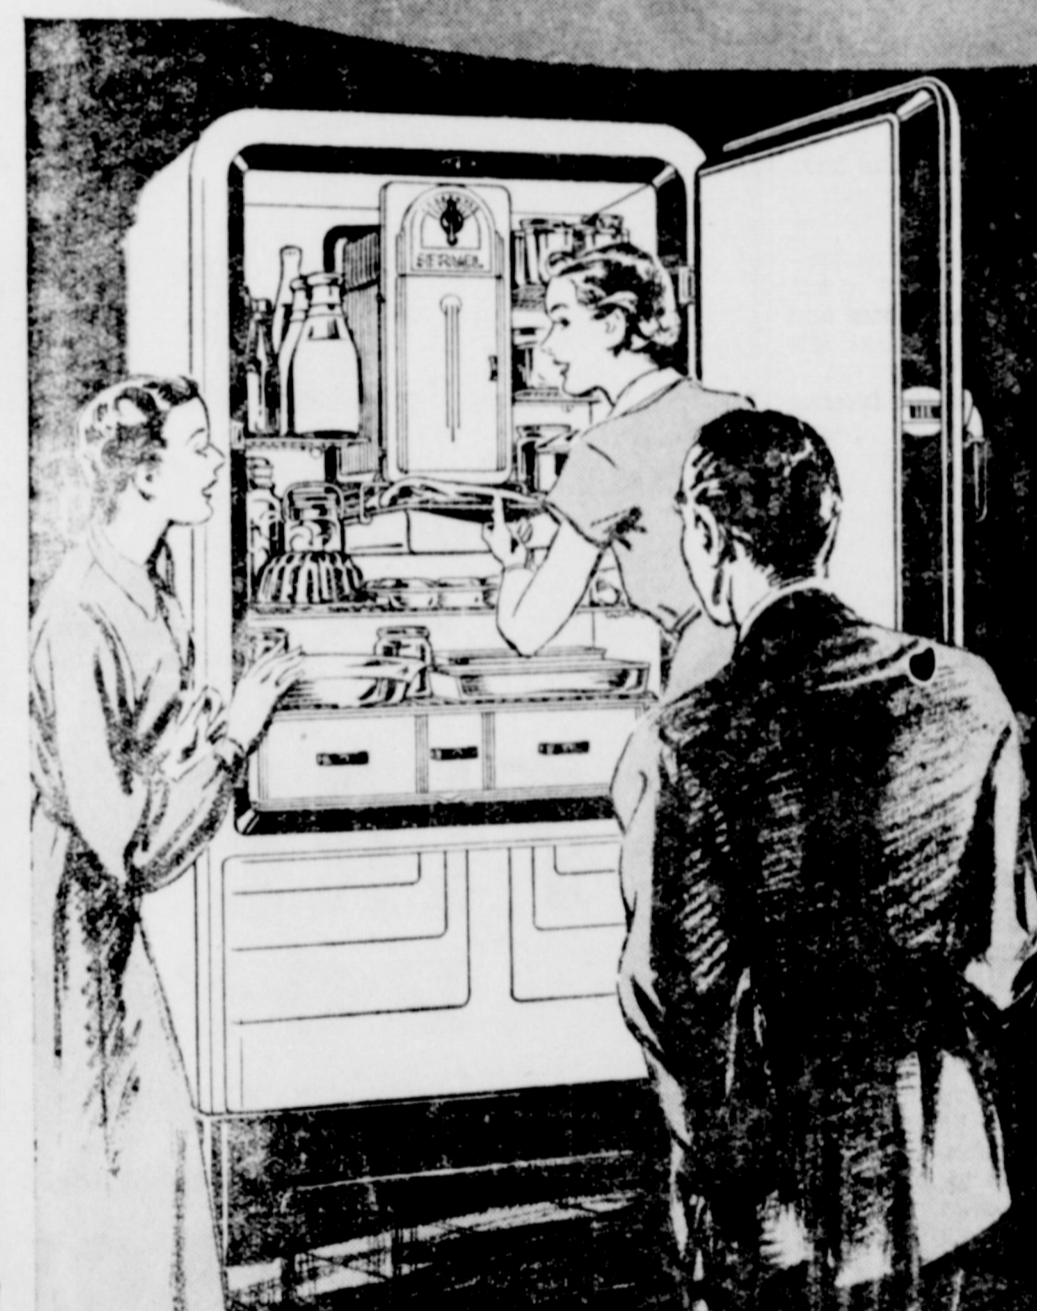

- Don't shoot doves before 7 a. m. nor after official sunset.
- Don't shoot from a car or from on or along a public road.
- Don't shoot doves with any gun except a shot gun not larger than 10 gauge.
- Don't forget to plug your gun to a three-shell capacity.
- Don't forget your hunting license if you leave the county.
- Don't kill more than 15 doves per day and don't have more than 15 in your possession.
- Don't shoot when you cannot see; there might be another hunter behind those trees.
- Don't leave gates open and always get permission to hunt on private land.
- Don't forget that quail season does not open until Dec. 1.

4-H Club boys of Warda, Fayette county, are now building quail shelters on farms in that section after having received instructions in constructing them during a recent course conducted at Warda by a Game Department regional game manager and other officials of the department.

Few Changes are Made in Dove, Duck Regulations

The majority of Texans will have the same dove and duck hunting seasons this year as in 1938 under both state and Federal regulations. The only changes in the law lowered the daily limit on geese from 5 to 4

HUNTING SEASONS

Doves—Northern zone, September 1 to October 31. Southern zone, September 15 to November 15, except south of Texas-Mexican railroad where hunting is allowed on Saturdays, Sundays, but regulations do not apply to Webb and Zapata counties. Bag limit 15 per day, not more than 15 in possession.

Ducks and Geese—Nov. 15 to Dec. 29. Bag limit on ducks 10 per day with not more than 20 of all kinds in possession. Canvasback, red head, bufflehead and ruddy ducks limit 3 of any one kind or 3 in aggregate with possession limit 6 of any one kind or 6 in the aggregate. Geese bag limit 4 per day of all kinds or 8 in possession.

Quail—Dec. 1 to Jan. 16. Bag limit 12 with not more than 36 in any one week.

Whitetail deer—Nov. 16 to Dec. 31. Bag limit two bucks per season.

Mule deer—Nov. 16 to December 31 except west of the Pecos River where Nov. 16 to Nov. 30 are the dates. Bag limit one.

Turkey—Nov. 16 to Dec. 31. Bag limit 3 per person per season except in 21 counties which have universal license law, where only 2 may be taken.

Javalina or Pecarry—Nov. 16 to Dec. 31. Bag limit 2 per season.

and place Ellis County in the northern Zone for dove shooting.

Sportsmen hunting doves in the counties of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Jack, Wise, Denton, Collin and Hunt, all counties north of these and the counties of Parker, Tarrant, Dallas, Rockwall, Kaufman, Johnson, Hopkins, Delta, Franklin and Ellis, will shoot from September 1 to October 31 in the remainder of the state the season will be September 15 to November 15, but shooting will be allowed only on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays south of the Texas - Mexican railroad, except in Webb and Zapata counties. The bag limit is 15 in one day and not more than 15 in possession at any one time, with the possession limit to include an aggregate of both mourning and white wing doves.

TEXAS OUT-O'-DOORS

Some of the early settlers of Texas must have been very conscious of, and possibly grateful

Shooting hours are from 7 a. m. to sunset.

Duck hunters in the Southern Zone of the United States, of which Texas is a part, will open their sport November 15 and the final shooting will be December 29. Water fowl regulations allow hunting from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Regulations on waterfowl hunting place the daily bag limit for ducks at 10 in the aggregate and the possession limit at 20 in the aggregate. However, when any daily limit includes canvasbacks, redheads, buffleheads and ruddy ducks, not more than 3 of any one or more than 3 in the aggregate of these kinds may be taken and possession of these particular kind of ducks is limited to not more than 6 of any one kind or 6 in the aggregate. Last year the daily limit on geese was 5 and the possession limit 10, but in 1939 hunters will be allowed to take only 4 geese of all kinds in one day and the possession limit has been placed at 8 in the aggregate.

No more than 2 days' bag limit of lawfully possessed ducks and geese may be transported in any one calendar week out of the state in which taken.

The daily bag limit on coots continues at 25.

The regulations forbid taking water fowl by means of bait or use of live decoys and continues the 3-shell limit on repeating shot-guns, which must be not larger than No. 10 gauge. Federal regulations on ducks and geese were announced by Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, to whose department the United States Bureau of Biological Survey was recently transferred from the Department of Agriculture. The regulations have been approved by President Roosevelt.

Secretary Ickes also announced that it would be legal to kill ducks and geese with bow and arrow stating that the bow and arrow was added to the list of weapons because of the interest that has developed in recent years in archery. Other regulations were announced as follows: Snipes, rails, gallinule (other than coots), woodcocks and painted tail pigeons, also protected under the Migratory Bird Treaty act, may be hunted in season from 7 a. m. to sunset.

The daily bag limit on rails and gallinule, other than soras and coots is continued at 15 in the aggregate. Other bag limits are soras, 15; coots, 25; Wilson's snipes and jacksnipes, 15; woodcocks, 4; and painted tail pigeons, 10. Possession limits of these species may not exceed the daily bag limit, except that in the case of woodcocks possession limit for them has been raised to 8.

Hunting seasons for migratory waterfowl have been set in 3 zones: the Northern which has a season of Oct. 1 to Nov. 15; the Intermediate, which has a season from October 22 to Dec. 6, and the Southern, Nov. 15 to Dec. 29.

In connection with the announcement of the dates for dove and migratory bird hunting Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the game Commission announced that while the drouth has greatly decreased the crop of turkey in the state and has cut into the quail and doves in parts of Southwest Texas and western portions of the lower plains, most of Texas will have an excellent quail and dove season this year. Deer are in good condition practically everywhere and in certain sections of southeast Texas there is an unusually large supply of that species of the game. The drouth which made the turkey crop practically nil did not hinder deer forage to an appreciable extent. The outlook for quail and dove hunting in the northern portion of the state appears especially bright, Tucker said.

Blue quail unlike the bobwhite in Southwest Texas was not affected by the drouth in Southwest Texas and hatched more young than ever before. The food supply was sufficient because all desert plants on which the blue quail feeds, including mesquite beans, prickly pear apples and black bush beans were plentiful.

for, the wild game found in the Lone Star State. Witnesseth names of some communities: Quail, Turkey, White Deer, Antelope, Antelope Gap, Badger, Beaver Dams, Buffalo, Buffalo Gap, Buffalo Springs, Crow, Deer Creek, Deer Park, Dove, Eagle, Eagle Flat, Eagle Lake, Eagle Pass, Goose Creek, Swan and Crane.

Educational activities of the Game Department continue to broaden out and with excellent effects in the campaign to conserve and restore game and fish in Texas, the Executive Secretary points out.

Demonstration of three types of quail were prepared for farmers attended a meeting at Hallettsville. More than 1,000 farmers said they would build shelters on their respective land.

The game department will have an extensive exhibit of live game birds and animals at the State Fair of Dallas. The Fayette County Planning Board is arranging a wildlife exhibit for the joint county fair and American Legion celebration November 11. An educational exhibit was staged at the Tom Tom Festival at Lavaca. The Game Department's color motion pictures of game birds are being shown extensively and are booked weeks ahead.

Landowners clearing mesquite, chaparral and cedar from their lands could aid the quail crop by leaving numerous brush piles rather than burning them. Many farmers and ranchers are doing that, it is reported by game managers of the Game Department and birds are moving in rapidly.

A grey fox, not satisfied with the two rats he had captured and was carrying away, pilfered a squirrel from Dr. C. M. Hall of Hico. He reported to the Game Department last week. Dr. Hall shot two squirrels and before he could reach them a fox came along, added one of them to the rats he was carrying and scampered away to his den in the hills along the Boque River near Hico.

Birds are being given considerable credit for the lack of grasshoppers in West Texas this year. Hordes of hoppers destroyed crops last year, but large flocks of Swainson's hawks and horned larks as well as thousands of burrowing owls moved in on them and destroyed many of the pests, according to word received by the Executive Secretary of the Texas Game Fish and Oyster Commission from the affected areas.

Not only did the birds destroy vast numbers of grasshoppers, but one game manager observed a flock of hawks numbering more than 1,000 feeding on mature hoppers last week and also scratching and digging around in the ground. After the flock flew away he checked the large field closely and was unable to find any egg pods. Thus is shown another good reason why the wildlife of Texas should be protected and why it worth millions of dollars to landowners as well as sportsmen, the Executive Secretary pointed out.

Austin—The growth of deer herds in Colorado County from 125 in 1924 to approximately 7,800 fifteen years later despite the fact the big game animals had been hunted a great deal in that district is an excellent example of why Texas is one of the leading deer states in the country. The total for 1939 was determined by a recent survey made by Texas Game Fish and Oyster Commission officials.

Of the 7,800 deer now in Colorado County, 4,800 are adults and 3,000 are fawns. Of the adult total 1,500 are bucks and it is estimated by veteran game officials that 650 bucks can be killed in Colorado County next season without going damage to the breeding stock.

Game Department officials throughout the state are issuing warnings that the 1938-1939 hunting and fishing licenses expired August 31 and that fishermen using artificial lures and hunters above the age of seventeen who shoot outside the county of their residence must procure new licenses for 1939-40. Hunting licenses are $2 and artificial lure licenses $1.10.

the maternal instinct is in the breasts of wild things came to light recently in Kerr County, where two days in a row a turkey was observed beating off an attack of five-foot whipsnakes who attempted to steal her chicks. C. M. Hill, caretaker of L. T. Davis Ranch saw a huge reptile repeatedly dash through a brood of little turkeys, each time grabbing one in its mouth. The old hen, which is of half wild, jumped up and down, pecking at the snake, each time, pecking striking it with her wings. The young turkey was and the snake fled. At third attack by the snake Hill killed it. The following another snake attacked brood, got the same turkey from the hen and was grabbed by the ranch caretaker.

Cold, Infections Cause Loss of Many School Days

Austin—Loss of hundreds of school days during the approaching school year could doubtless be saved with some advance home teaching in connection with the prevention of colds and other respiratory infections, according to the State Department of Health.

A considerable reduction would result in school time lost if parents would instruct children regarding the proper use of the handkerchief. School children should be taught to cover the mouth and nose when coughing and sneezing. Both channels must be covered to prevent the spread of infectious material.

The common cold virus in conveyed in secretions of the mouth and nose of infected persons. Colds are the most common of infectious diseases outnumbering any of the other communicable diseases about twenty-five times, according to some estimates. Other diseases spread by respiratory discharges are influenza, scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles, whooping cough, smallpox and meningitis.

The State Department of Health advises that school children go to bed at the first sign of a cold and stay there until at least twenty-four hours after the temperature is normal if there has been fever. At school, children who have recently had a cold should avoid conversing with others at close range, and should take care to use a handkerchief whenever they cough or sneeze.

Because of the complications of the common cold, it is a disease of major importance; among possible complications are sinus infection, middle ear and mastoid infection, throat infection, bronchitis and pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cargile were visitors to Leakey from Thursday of last week until Saturday. They visited in the homes of relatives while there.

SLY SI SAYS

War in Europe has started our mohair to bringin' from 50 to 90c per pound, but that's no sign it should make us goats like the other war did.

War over there runs up the cost of livin' over here to a point where us poor boys can only make a livin' over here by dyin' over there for our insurance.

Us Americans say we don't want to fight but just put a brass band behind us, and a few brass buttons in front of us and we'd want to whip everything in Europe.

Communiques have it that both sides are highly trained war machines and we grant that when the last shot is fired you can say you saw more war than Warsaw saw. Yours insecurely,

Science magazines say that the world's population is increasin' at the rate of 100,000 per day, but we betcha the machine gun powder magazines say it ain't.

If America don't stay in neutral durin' this fuss there's no other gear for her 'cept reverse.

Temporarily, let's declare a armistice and dig into our own state of affairs—They gave Seymour Weiss the New Orleans crook five years and $5,000 fine for sellin' the University some furniture they already owned. At least, he's different. Most salesmen sell us furniture that we never will own. Furthermore, in the latter case, the sentence is on us and the fine applies (in some mail order cases) to anything but the quality of the furniture.
