The meeting was opened with a prayer offered by W. S. Boyett followed by a musical selection by the high school band. Assembly singing was led by Miss Anna Lee Hall. Mrs. Clyde Higgins, president, presided over the business session.

Mrs. J. V. McCall, historian, read the history of the Sanderson Parent-Teacher Association. It was due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. McCall that the material was gathered and compiled into a very interesting history of the organization from 1811 to 1839. This history has been bound in a beautiful covering and is now a treasured possession of the organization. A lovely gift was presented Mrs. McCall by the members of the organization in sincere appreciation of the "Work of Love" as she so terms it.

Room attendance was taken by Paul Patterson and the third grade was awarded the book for having the largest attendance of parents at the meeting; and Mrs. R. E. Corder gave a rather unique discussion of the subject, "Sing a Song of Six Pence."

A hearty greeting was accorded Mrs. Will Rooney of Fort Stockton, one of the vice-presidents of the fifteenth district.

Refreshments were served by both hostesses as members lingered for a pleasant social hour.

Mrs. W. D. O'Bryant, Jr., and little niece, Rose Althea Jenschke, who has been visiting here for three weeks, left for San Antonio Sunday.

Mrs. Florence Grant of Philadelphia, Penn., is here this week visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Schupbach.

Grandfalls Downs Sanderson Eleven 24-2 Saturday

The Sanderson Eagles met more than their match Saturday night when they tackled the Grandfalls team on that field.

The Grandfalls team was about the same weight as the Eagles, and the Sanderson eleven continued to drive through their line for gain Fumbles, according to Coach Duane Smith, were what cost the Eagles so heavily. There were five fumbles made during the game each of which could have caused the loss of a touchdown.

The locals travel to Fabens today, Friday, and will tackle that team Saturday night under the lights. They are rated as a good team and unless the Eagles learn to hold to the pigskin they are heading for another defeat.

Mary Ferguson Made Member of Dramatic Society

Information has come from the University of San Antonio stating that Miss Mary Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ferguson of Sanderson has been made a member of the Alpha Psi Omega, a national dramatic society.

In order to become a member of this society a person has to give at least three outstanding performances in the major plays produced by the dramatic club of the campus of the university. This is quite an honor as there are only two persons elected each year for membership.

Miss Ferguson also was elected as the biology assistant for this year, and according to information received is an active member of the Press Club, the Ballet Club, the Dramatic Club, the Spurs, and an officer in the senior class. An article from the Press Club says in part "She is one of the outstanding and popular students here with her instructors as well as with the students. The dormitory is glad to have her as one of its members because she adds that certain something that can never be filled by anyone else."

LOCAL SCHOOLS OBSERVE FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

This week, Oct. 9 through 14, is being observed by the three Sanderson Public Schools as National Fire Prevention Week. Regular fire drills are being observed, at least two being required each month throughout the school year. Posters have been made by the classes in both elementary and high school grades. Pupils in high school have written themes and stories dealing with the subject. The art and music classes have also given special observance of fire prevention.

The Sanderson schools have taught fire prevention for the past several years, following the state course of study. The fire insurance key rate in Sanderson is reduced three per cent because of the teaching of the subject in the school. It is estimated that in one year the property owners of Sanderson thus save a minimum of $90 on insurance premiums alone.

JUDGE MONTAGUE CALLS SPECIAL COURT SESSION

A special term of district court was called Thursday by Judge Brian Montague of Del Rio.

The jury commission met Thursday morning to name a grand jury to investigate the death of Pete Radich which resulted when he jumped from a truck Thursday night of last week about 5 miles east of Dryden on Highway 90. C. A. McMahon is held in jail without bond after an examining trial held Friday afternoon of last week. Evidence at the trial indicated that McMahon had forced Radich, with LeeRoy Peoples, to accompany him on a ride in the Hiram Peoples truck which McMahon took charge of with threats of having a 22 automatic pistol and that he would kill them if they made a move. Hiram Peoples was also forced to get into the truck but went right on through and out the other side as the others were getting in behind him.

The grand jury is to convene Friday, today, at 10 a. m. to consider the case. Judge Montague stated that in case a bill was found against McMahon trial would probably be set for the 25 of the month, as he has court going on in three other places and will not be able to return to Sanderson before that time.

Charles A. Wiggan, companion of McMahon at the time of his arrest, was released by officers as there were no charges against him and he had not aided McMahon in any way with commandeering of the truck.

The body of Radich still remains in the Stirman Undertaking parlor as no relatives have come forth to claim the body. Relatives are known to exist but no trace of them can be found among his personal papers.

POST MOVED FROM CENTER OF STREET FIRST OF WEEK

Workers the first of the week removed a landmark form the center of the street intersection at the City Drug that will be missed by all automobile drivers.

The large concrete post which has kept traffic to the right was removed by order of Commissioner W. J. Banner. Removal of the post gives more room for traffic and has eliminated a hazard. The post at the other end of the street near the depot had been moved previously after a car had been wrecked there.

Mrs. S. C. Bodkin left Tuesday for her home in El Paso after stopping over for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fletcher and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bodkin. She had been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Tom Bryan, in Fort Worth for the past several weeks.

C. C. Lee and Mrs. D. D. MacLin both of San Angelo, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lee and son, Edgar of Sterling City spent Saturday and Sunday in Sanderson visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Allen visiting with their mother, Mrs. W. R. Lee.

tober 17, at 7:30, and will be held at the courthouse in the district courtroom. The committee, composed of W. J. Ferguson, G. J. Henshaw, O. H. McAdams, T. R. Kuykendall and Judge R. S. Wilkinson, prepared advertising which will be distributed the first of the week, and appointed Mr. Henshaw, Al Creigh, Jr. and Jack Hayre as a committee of three to be in charge of the meeting Tuesday evening.

Methods for raising funds for purchase of fire-fighting equipment as sponsored by the Rotary Club will be discussed and any other method that might be brought before the people at that time will receive due consideration. No definite plan has been made at present but it is hoped that with the gathering of the citizens of Sanderson and discussion of the matter publicly, a plan might evolve that will be practical.

The committee in charge will invite any interested person to bring forth plans that they think applicable to the situation in the town of Sanderson. They feel that to be successful of obtaining fire protection for the homes and lives of Sanderson citizens they will have to have full support.

Program for Restoration of Texas Quail Started

A state-wide quail restoration project, upon which $24,253 will be expended this year, is the latest move of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission to aid in the restoration of the much-sought-after little birds in the Lone Star State, it was announced today, by the executive secretary of the Game Department.

The project is a cooperative affair with the Game Department providing 75 per cent of the cost by the use of the Pittman-Robertson federal funds and the land owners contributing 25 per cent, much of which can be paid for in labor, but with the landowner receiving a small rental fee for the use of his land.

It is hoped to bring more than 100,000 acres under the project this year and twice that amount next year the executive secretary said.

"Tests made in various parts of the state by the Game Department have shown that quail can be increased as much as 400 to 500 per cent," the executive secretary said. "This is done by planting proper food for the birds, much of it on what otherwise would be waste land, such as along in gullies and on fence rows, and by providing some cover for quail."

"We are selecting key areas in many counties and we hope to be able to set up restoration areas in at least seventy-five counties and possibly 10 before the year is over. These areas will be from 500 to 4,000 acres in size and on each as many fenced shelters will be built as we believe necessary to produce an appreciable increase in quail. These fenced areas will vary in size from one-tenth of an acre to an acre. These will be provided with pole or brush shelters to protect the birds. If food is the limiting factor in any area, an attempt will be made to encourage native plants, but they will be supplemented by domestic crops."

These areas will act as incubators for many acres of land and it is expected the quail produced will spread into the surrounding countryside.

The project, under the direction of the Game Department's director of wildlife restoration, will cover a three year period. The areas which will be leased will be closed to hunting for a three year period. The areas which will be opened at the discretion of the farmer or rancher. Cooperation of the county agricultural agents, the county wildlife planning board and other interested agencies are being sought by the Department's game managers who will have charge of the projects in their respective areas.

Officials of the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey, who have charge of Pittman-Robertson fund expenditures, through John C. Gatlin, Regional Director of Albuquerque, N. M., have hailed the Texas plan for quail restoration as one of the most expected to succeed and announce ed it probably will be the type recommended to other states in the future.

Payment of a small rental to the landowner, as planned by the Game Department, was hailed as a step forward in farmer-sportsmen cooperation and Biological Survey officials indicated it was the best way possible to interest farmers and ranchers in game restoration.

"Since there is an inclination on the part of many states to stress bird stocking work without a suitable background," Mr. Gatlin said, "one may therefore appreciate that an unusual amount of interest is centered in the Texas quail restoration project, the successful operation of which is expected to set a standard for similar programs throughout the United States."

file for the purpose of feeding her cat rather expensive. Apprehended by the game warden stationed at Beaumont on a county road, the woman admitted she was shooting birds to provide food for her cat. She also admitted that the $36 in fine and costs she paid would have bought a lot of cat food from the grocer or butcher. She was violating three laws at one time, i. e. shooting from a motor car, shooting from a public road, and killing birds protected by state law.

Whether the cutting of large trees is detrimental to the squirrel crop of Texas will be determined by Regional Game Biologists who have started a squirrel and squirrel nest count in Robinson and Leon counties, where considerable logging is being started.

The total squirrel population of these counties will be determined before a large amount of timber is taken and another count will be made when the woods have been considerably thinned by the felling of trees to be made into ties, crates and boxes.

It is not definitely known whether cutting is a detrimental or an aid. It is possible that the thinning of timber will increase the available food supply for the little "nut eaters," or again it may be that too many suitable nesting sites are removed and the squirrel population will be hard hit.

Several ring-necked pheasants released in Colorado County last year have nested and brought 41 young birds, it is reported to the Game Department. It appears Colorado County may be one of the few places in Texas where pheasants will survive.

The passing of many centuries has not dimmed the wisdom which these few words suggest. If one wants to succeed, the thing to do is to take the first step.

For many the first step toward financial success has been a bank account. This friendly, helpful bank cordially invites you to open your business.

What a Needle and Thread can tell you about YOUR LIGHTING

TRY THIS SIMPLE TEST

Take a needle and thread and sit down as you'd sit to read . . . in your easy chair, for example. Then try to thread the needle. If you have difficulty . . . if you have to hold the needle close to the light, then you'd better look into "light conditioning."

FOR EASIER SEEING -- DO THESE TWO THINGS

1. Place an I. E. S. Better Sight Lamp beside every chair that's used for reading or sewing. These lamps are complete better sight units . . . they give you proper light for easier seeing, comfort and safety.
2. Fill empty sockets and replace blackened bulbs with new bulbs in sight-saving sizes—at least 100 to 150 watts for single socket lamps; two 60's for two socket lamps and three 40's for three socket lamps.

SLY SI SAYS

By Paul Patterson

We used to say "it's not what you make, it's what you save" but "Hit" and "Stall" have revised that adage. Now it "ain't what you make, it's what you take."

This bein' national fire prevention week don't keep us from wantin' a little blaze on these sharp mornin's.

Adolph's "fran" the Russian Seems quite a little "firsker." He took his stand in Poland And didn't risk a whisker. But "Hit" don't mind, he's now inclined

To love "Stall" like a brother. But we'll soon find that each has dined— One dog upon the other.

Stalin is pronounced "Stalin" now but he'll be called "stealin" before he gets through with Poland and Finland

The Fins already smell something fishy about Stalin's stallin' around in them parts.
