Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Higgins and children were shopping and visiting with friends here Tuesday from their ranch home near Dryden.

The Commissioners Court authorized the issuance of the school bonds at their meeting on Monday of this week. These bonds, which were voted this past October, will be for the building of a new high school building.

Sanderson registered one hundred per cent this week when on Monday the quota assigned her was secured for membership in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

If present plans are carried out Sanderson will be headquarters and will be recognized as an official sheep dipping station.

At the regular meeting of the County Commissioners Court, was held on Monday, the Central Power and Light Company was granted a franchise to come into Terrell County.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Blackwell are the parent of a daughter which was born to them on Saturday, January 12. Both mother and baby are doing fine.

Ozona Stockman—A skeleton bedecked in metal arm bands, a necklace of long, tapered and bored bone-like beads, a silver ornament and other trinkets, believed to be that of some early-day important Indian chief, has been placed on display in the high school museum here.

The skeleton was found by George Thompson, Jr., on his ranch on the Pecos river in the western edge of Crockett County.

Big Bend Sentinel—Hereford cattlemen of the Highland section "took stock" Saturday in Marfa at the annual meeting of the Highland Hereford Breeders' Association, found conditions in encouraging shape and decided that George Jones, Marfa cattleman, was the man who should direct their association's activities.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—Pecos County's first Fat Stock show, a combined 4-H Club and breeder's exhibit, will be held on Saturday, February 3 at the barns of the N. M. Mitchell farm (former Trent place) a mile northeast of Fort Stockton.

Crane County News—The purchase of 100 acres of McElroy land north of town between Tidewater and Humble Camps Monday by the commissioners' court marked the actual beginning of Crane County's $50,000 diversion park for which Engineer H. P. Caldwell of Fort Stockton was named to lay out plans for arrangement.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—A 25-man crew of the Shell Oil Company is arriving in Fort Stockton this week to begin geophysical work in Pecos County and perhaps other territory, operating out of Fort Stockton.

Ruth Hussey, Edward G. Robinson In "Blackmail"

With a thrillingly entertaining story plus spectacular background, scenes of intense dramatic action sweep across the screen in "Blackmail," starring Edward G. Robinson at the Princess Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

In vivid outline against roaring oil well fires, the love of a man for his wife, and an un-

General Motors Builds 25-Millionth Unit

Brief ceremonies were held in the Chevrolet assembly plant at Flint, January 11, marking completion of this car, the 25-millionth unit built by General Motors. In behalf of the thousands of workers who had a hand in its manufacture, 75 members of the final assembly line crew handed M. E. Coyle, Chevrolet general manager, a commemorative scroll for presentation to W. S. Knudsen, president of General Motors, Veteran Chevrolet employee, and executive of the Buick and AC Spark Plug divisions, were present as special guests.

just incarceration in a jungle prison camp, Robinson portrays which is perhaps the most dynamic role he has brought to the screen since he first blazed his way into public notice.

The story teems with action from the very first scene when an oil well fire is dynamited, right up to the very climax in which Robinson drags Gene Lockhart, his enemy and betrayer, up to the brink of the flaming pit in the enactment of one of screen's most gripping scenes of terror and revenge.

Robinson is cast as an oil well shooter who tries to live a new life under an assumed name after an escape from prison to which he had been unjustly sentenced. Along comes the real criminal in the person of Lockhart, who, professing humility and friendship, tricks Robinson secures his confidence, blackmails him, and then has him turned to the prison camp.

It is an utterly sympathetic role for Robinson. He promises his wife, played by Ruth Hussey, and his son, eight-year-old Bobs Watson, that he will not attempt an escape, then he will come back to them with his record clean. But he learns of Lockhart's further treachery, seethes within himself as he burns for revenge, and at last makes a dash for liberty so that he may carry out his vengeance against the man who had betrayed his trust.

Miss Hussey and the Watson boy are both stellar. Lockhart turns from his accustomed comedy to villainy with a performance that is as surprising as it is convincing.

Gunn (Big Boy) Williams as Robinson's assistant, John Wray as his convict pal, Arthur Hohl as a prison guard, and Esther Dale contribute notable performances in the unfolding of the stark dramatic story. The picture was directed by H. C. Potter, who has brought to the screen such brilliant successes as "The Cowboy and the Lady," "Shopworn Angel" and "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer."

RATTLE OF THE RAIL

A special train of CCC boys passed through west Tuesday morning en route to New Mexico points.

The rail detector car went east Monday making a trip over the division.

J. G. McCullar, traveling engineer, was here Tuesday enroute to El Paso.

The ninth freight fireman has been placed on the Del Rio-Sanderson district.

The Rules Instruction cars held classes several days this week.

B. M. Bridges B and B outfit, which has been here for some time has moved to Haymond.

L. F. Tadlock, trainmaster, was here from El Paso Monday.

John Clark, machinist, has returned to work after two weeks illness.

A passenger special of twelve cars, fruit growers, passed through east Monday enroute to Houston.

Fred Young, formerly foreman on this division but now in the train service on the Salt Lake division of the S. P. visited here this year.

Texas Hatcheries To Produce More This Year

Austin, Texas—Having increased production of fish in its ten hatcheries by nearly 2,000,000 during 1939, the Texas Game Fish and Oyster Commission is preparing to turn out an even larger crop this year and improvements at four hatcheries which will cost $30,000 are under way or will be started soon, it was announced today by the executive secretary of the game department. WPA funds and labor will be used for part of the work.

The biggest project being undertaken by the Game Department is at the Huntsville Hatchery. That hatchery's thirty-two ponds will be augmented by the addition of four more, each of which will be approximately an acre in size. To improve the watering system at Huntsville, the drainage ditches will be lined with rock masonry and reinforced concrete. A new filling system to carry water into the ponds is being built, under the direction of the Department's hatcheries' engineer. Most of the present ponds at Huntsville will be deepened.

Repair work on the large levee at the Olmito hatchery has already been started.

A drag line will be used to deepen the canal through which water enters the San Angelo hatchery. Work there will start within two weeks.

The finishing touches are being put on the Medina hatchery near Natalia. That hatchery is the latest addition to the

DEFINITIONS

(Editorial)

The dictionary meaning of "investigation" is "an investigation, a careful inquiry or inspection for a test of knowledge." Instead of saying the long, heated looking word, "excitation," it is shortened to "excite." It seems that the word implies something extremely difficult. Older people seem to think that they are hard. They don't seem to realize that they involve plenty of work and "pounds" of

There are many serious, yet things that go on while an exam. Some girl is twisting a curl around her finger. Others drawing their fingers through their hair, while some are frantically scratching their heads searching for that little piece of knowledge—somehow, somewhere, has been heard. Fingernails sudde-ly all of their polish, being to and fro. Weary eyes lifted dreamily to the window, and rest on some object.

Why are you wonder why student examinations?

WHO AMONG SENIORS

In the great round Chicago shed its beams upon the banked city, and bedecked the lakes with sparkling white, a tiny brown eyed baby appeared in the Bassett. That was on December 7, they christened her Marjorie Bassett, bundled her and brought her to Texas. She started school in San Antonio in 1933, and this year graduating. She is taking English IV, Plane Geometry, and History, Bookkeeping, Business Training. Martha dislikes squash and peare, and likes most people named Joe, air, and skates. Her graduation, Martha is planning on taking a course in mathematics at the University of Antonio.

Mr. Bassett first saw the day on May 9, 1922, in Antonio, Texas. He was a boy among three girls, instead of being a "sissy" was up to be one of Sanderson's foremost Eagles.

Mr. Bassett is taking English IV, Algebra II, and Economics. His dislikes are Literature and something awful, but he likes football and dancing.

His graduation, he plans to go to West Point if it is possible.

Basketball Boys Defeated in Tourney

The Sanderson Eagles' basketball team was defeated Saturday night, January 13, in the finals of the Trans-Pecos Tournament in McCamey by the McCamey Badgers, 30-23.

In the first game of the Semi-Finals, Friday night, the Eagles defeated Monahans 38-15, playing exceptionally well. Then they played Grand Falls Saturday evening, and won 26-19.

At 8:45 Saturday night the finals were played off between the Eagles and the Badgers. The Eagles scored at the half, 12 off. Final score was 30-23. Len Haynes, as the outstanding player, made all-tournament. For a reward, Len will receive a gold basketball.

The Eagles were awarded a beautiful trophy—a bronze figure on ivory.

Can Present Day Students Write?

Most of you grown-ups can possibly remember the days of "ovals and push-pulls." Your teacher made you sit for perhaps an hour getting the proper arm movement. You took more pains with your writing then than our present day students do now.

Today is a day of short hand and type-writing, and fast scribbling.

Arm movement writing has been practically abandoned in our schools of today. Neat, readable papers are required by all of the teachers, but a fancy handwriting is not. In George Washington's day everyone was striving for a beautiful, shaded, handwriting with curly tails and sweeping capitals. Present clothing has become practice, comfortable and brief.

—E-N—

Can Present Day Students Spell?

Can present day students spell? (No).

Miss Sweeney, who has had several years of experience going through papers and putting "sp." in red letters on the margin, says that pupils are getting worse day by day. She stated the fact that on papers more errors in spelling than in any other thing. She also says that she doesn't know what the world is coming to if people keep on spelling the way they do. The word that is probably misspelled more than any other word is "get." Someone in mid-term examination spelled "poor" "pour."

Spelling bees used to keep people on the alert. Miss McWilliams, who has a less pessimistic view on the subject, thinks that pupils would spell better if they thought a little more about what they were spelling.

No doubt, it wouldn't degrade any one to try to improve his spelling.

LEN HAYNES WINS AWARD

Len Haynes, senior in the Sanderson High School, was the Sanderson Eagle chosen by the vote of the coaches to be one of the members of the all-tournament team at McCamey last week-end. The other members of the all-tournament team chosen were Carr of Grandfalls, J. Dillard of Andrews, Webb of Big Lake, and Choate of McCamey. Gold basketballs were given to each of these players.

SCHOOL BUYS NEW TYPEWRITERS

The typewriting department started off with a bang this year, receiving three new typewriters. They are two Underwoods and one Royal all of which are streamline models. Including the new ones, there are now fifteen typewriters in the department, none of them over a year old. There are thirty students enrolled for typing which is not a required subject, making it one of the most popular subjects in school.

Miss Nixon says, "Stress is placed on accuracy, not speed."

Band Announces Contest Piece

The selection to be played at the district band contest was announced by C. F. Pickard, instructor of the Sanderson High School Band. The name of it is "Hero", an overture by Harold M. Johnson.

Tuesday, the band was pictured for the first time with their new drum major's uniform worn by B. F. Davis and the director's uniform. Also it will be the first time a band of fifty uniformed members was ever pictured in Sanderson High School.

Safety to and From School

To the mothers who are afraid to risk their children out many dangers, their fears may be quenched. For the most part S. H. S. students are safe. The building is fire-proof, and free of explosive dangers. Due to Sanderson's being a small town, there is very little danger of traffic.

One of the main dangers of students, is the way in which some of them drive. This can be corrected by carefully following the traffic rules.

Pictures Being Made at School

Boys, straighten your collar! Girls, smooth your curls! Mr. W. H. Congdon is here making pictures again. Mr. Congdon has made pictures for Sanderson Schools for several years, and it is his business to make pictures in the schools.

Pictures have been made of each class and organization, as well as of the twenty-six members of the senior class individually in caps and gowns.

Sanderson League Directors Named

Teachers have been named as directors of various activities in the Interscholastic League in Sanderson High School and in the elementary grades. The directors are merely to guide the pupils in their work of preparing for various contests. The directors in High School are Rachel Sweeney, debate and one-act play; Duane E. Smith, extemporaneous speech and athletics; A. B. Caraway, athletics; R. G. Morgan, arithmetic; C. F. Pickard, spelling; Mildred Rankin, girls' athletics; Marjorie Thornton, spelling and declamation in seventh grade; Marjorie Nixon, declamation and typewriting. The directors in the elementary school are Paul Patterson, boys' athletics and declamation; Mildred Rankin, girls' athletics; Lily Albertson, choral singing and spelling; Lila Christopher, story telling and ready-writers; Pauline McWilliams, declamation; and Anita Harrison, music memory.

The county meet is to be held in March and the district meet is usually held in April.

—E-N—

SNOOPER

I wonder why so many students looked so down-hearted Monday morning? Could it have been their exam grades?

Billie Raye and Jane looked pretty glum over the week-end. Perhaps it was because their basketball heroes were out of town.

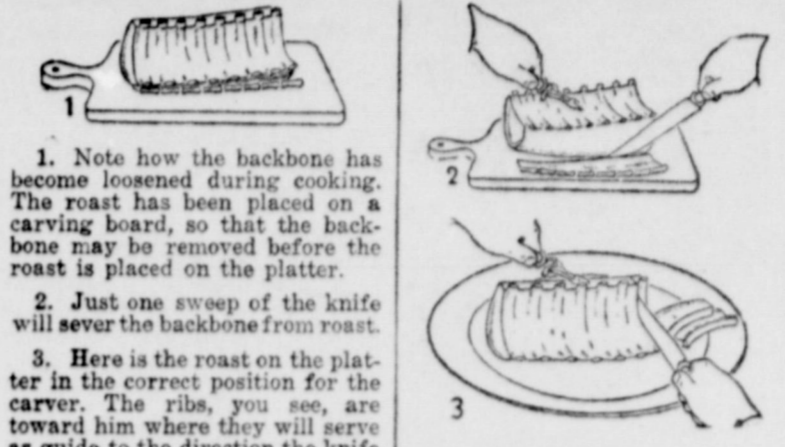

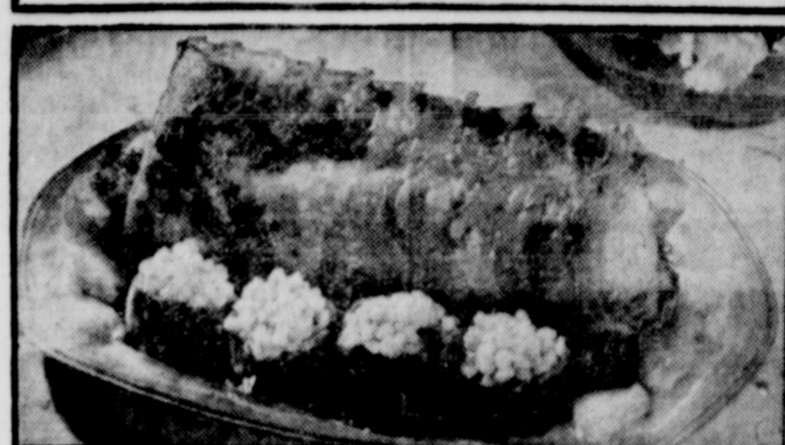

Roger and Lois Bea were at the show together Friday night. Ho-hum, this romance is getting old. Can't you learn some new ideas from these shows, chillun?

High School Assembly Programs

High School assembly programs are usually held on Thursdays in the High School Auditorium. There seems to be a full schedule from now until school is out. Students always welcome assemblies, because of the break in monotony, and the time they lose out of class. Starting January 16, there was a program given by the civics class. It was a mock trial. Then there will follow programs such as singing, a speaker, a spelling bee, a George Washington program by the American History class and a history of the calendar by the World History class. In March, the programs will consist of declamations, one-act play, extemporaneous speaking and choral club. In April, singing and band, and in May, one-act play and singing.

THE ART OF CARVING PORK LOIN

1. Note how the backbone has become loosened during cooking. The roast has been placed on a carving board, so that the backbone may be removed before the roast is placed on the platter.

2. Just one sweep of the knife will sever the backbone from roast.

3. Here is the roast on the platter in the correct position for the carver. The ribs, you see, are toward him where they will serve as guide to the direction the knife should take.

The carver should hold the roast steady by inserting the fork in the top as shown in the illustration. Roast pork is more tempting if the slices are cut thin. The carver cuts close against both sides of each rib. Every other slice will be boneless. If the loin is small, the slice will be thin enough if the cut is made between each pair of ribs—then every slice will contain a rib. With a large loin, two boneless slices may be cut between ribs.

Traces of Early Civilization Are Found by Geologists

Oldest traces of man's existence on the North American continent were reported last week by a University of Texas geologist to the Geographical Society of America convening in Minneapolis, Minn.

Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the University's Bureau of Economic Geology, produced what he believes to be "ironclad" proof of man's habitation of this hemisphere at least 25,000 years ago—man made stone images, the oldest trace of sculpture yet found on this continent, coupled with evidences of a prehistoric "elephant hunt."

He reported discovery near Beeville in South Texas of the fossilized remains of a Columbian elephant surrounded by 25 flint artifacts—spearheads, knives, scrapers. A second excavation in the Texas Panhandle, he recounted, had given up remains of five elephants, three spearheads five inches long, and one flint knife—all within a radius of 40 feet. One of the spearheads was lodged within three inches of the elephant's neck vertebra.

Traces of both elephant hunts were approximately 25,000 years old, he said.

However, overshadowing the pre-historic hunting scene traces Dr. Sellards pointed to his most recent discovery in East Texas—a 150-pound egg-shaped, rust colored sandstone object, two feet in length and eighteen inches wide, with slant eyes, holes for nose, mouth and chin.

The first of these stone faces was unearthed ten years ago in a Henderson County gravel pit in East Texas. Dr. Sellards withheld judgment. In 1935, twenty-five feet deeper in the gravel face of the pit, a second identical image was discovered. Three years later, with WPA cooperation, Dr. Sellards began painstaking search for another face. Early in December he found it, in the third terrace of the banks of the Trinity River—cut when the river was a young stream. He examined and photographed the images position before removal, studied and photographed the 22-foot stratified bed above it.

Possibility of counterfeit—bug-abbou to all paleontologists—was banished. Dr. Sellards believes, by the perfect preservation of the stratified earth above the fossils in each dig. Had any of the fossils been "planted" the 22 foot deep, even layers of earth and shale beds, one deposited upon the other, which geologists use for time-tables, would have been broken.

Exactly what the stone faces mean, the University scientist is not sure, except that they are "considerably older than 25,000 years."

"They are unique further in that they represent one of the very few evidences of ancient man's sculpture in existence," he said. "The usual things are either flint implements or skeletal remains."

New Pollution Drive

Cities in the Rio Grande Valley have new methods available for preventing pollution of the streams in that section by refuse from citrus fruit plants as a result of research done by the State Health Department and a strict campaign of enforcement of the anti-pollution laws is being planned by the State Game Department. Pollution of the streams and lakes in Texas by refuse, sewage and salt water from oil wells kills hundreds of thousands of fish annually and it is the unceasing task of the Game Department to prevent pollution.

Freaks continue to show up in Texas woods and fields. Earl Brownrigg recently killed a white crow. Gerald Liberty of Big Spring killed an albino deer early in the season. John Neun of the State Highway Patrol possesses a black prairie dog he shot recently.

Van A* Hamilton, Palestine newspaper man, has no love for alligators. He recently shot two ducks over a lake near Palestine. Before he could reach the birds an alligator scooped one of the ducks into its mouth and disappeared. Hamilton was able to retrieve the other one.

LINDY PASSES ON TUESDAY MORNING

Few residents of Sanderson would have to ask who "Lindy" was if they lived here very long and had occasion to see Fred Savage or Miss Ella Savage on their daily rounds.

Lindy has been their constant companion for the past seven years, and it was with a sad heart that they realized Tuesday that Lindy was dead when Miss Ella tried to rouse him to accompany her.

He had frisked around playfully in the early morning and had fallen asleep on the porch never to awaken, for he died of heart attack.

Hal Rowlett and Johnny Whistler were business visitors in Fort Stockton Tuesday.

tion of that policy. Speaking to the Chamber of Fascios and Corporations he held a scrupulously even balance between Anglo-French and German responsibility, the while underlying Italy's reiterated attempts to safeguard the general peace. The effect of Count Ciano is to dissuade any cautious man from speculating upon Italy's future course.

Here and There: One of the interesting results of the Russian attempt upon Finland has been the failure of Herr Goebbels' machinery to stem the tide of German popular sympathy for the Finns, and of admiration for their defense. It is not forgotten in Germany that twenty years it was the German al Count von der Goltz who a German division, helped eral Mannerheim to defend land against the Red Guard that in 1918 the new P even offered the crown to Frederick Charles of Hea

Charles was the brother of the Kaiser. There is a one years' tradition of ship between the Britis German people.

SLY SI SAYS

By Paul Patterson

Roosevelt in the comin' presidential election, is like gran' pa's model T—we never know whether he's gonna run or not.

The best way to find out whether a man will run or not is to get a Finn after him.

Statistics show that schools spend from $36.99 to $167.51 per year to educate each child and they also show that the child with the $30 education is as capable as the one with the $167 learnin'. It also shows that kids in magnificent marble edifices don't learn no more than them in the little red school houses made of wood. In other words it means that you are as apt to find marble-headed teachers in great marble buildings as you are wooden-headed schoolmasters in wooden shacks.

A Russian general promised Stalin Finland for his birthday but it looks like Joe will have to see a few more birthdays before he's big enough to handle it. One shouldn't give a child dangerous fireworks.

The 1940 census will tell us how many cowboys are left in the U. S. Be ye not deceived by the thousands of booted civilians alose in all parts of the country—most of them are Fuller brush men and the nearest to a hoss they've ever been is the charley hoss they developed tryin' to walk bowlegged. Actually, nowadays, men in all walks (and rides) of life wear remote resemblences of cowboy boots.

Stalin has in a hundred of his officers from Finland so's he can shoot 'em. That's like callin' your dog in out of the rain so's you can bathe him.

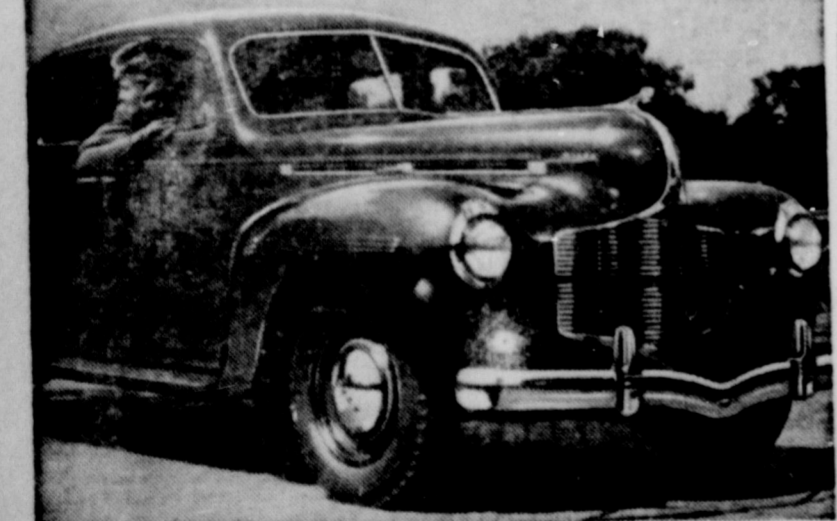

Them Finns are still fightin' like voters at a Louisiana 'lection. They're fightin' in white suits behind snowbanks, trees, etc., and they're fightin' on ice skates and ski—the skis the limit.

Russia thinks that a lie about Finland produc'in' some of the wor.d.'s greatest runners.

The paper says that our criminals are gettin' younger year by year. Well, they got to start younger if they ever expect to do their full 99 years.

KATIE KILOWATT Says

Why slave over a broom and dustpan when you can clean your rugs electrically for a fraction of a cent each?

Cleaning rugs by hand is tiresome, dusty work and it's so unnecessary, too. At today's low average electric rates, one penny's worth of electricity will operate a heavy duty vacuum cleaner 40 minutes—more than ample time to give all the rugs in the average home a thorough cleaning. And that's only one of many household services electricity performs for pennies and fractions of pennies. Let electricity do more work for you in 1940!
