Turner Office of Constable, Precinct 1

Turner this week announced to the Sanderson Times that he will name before the people of Precinct 1 for consideration the Democratic primary office of Constable for one year.

Turner states that he was born in Terrell County and has lived here, and feels familiar with the duties of the office which he seeks to fulfill.

Turner is engaged in the ranching business and in the trucking business during the past several years.

There are 17,452 different jobs in the United States and "they" don't know one of 'em suit uncle Yulick.

Yulick says the world is a livin' but is the hardest to get anything out of. Sometimes it just won't pay it.

Yulick is burnt out on politics. He says these campaigners with their music are neither hill-billy musicians, but for the better and cheaper.

Mrs. C. P. Peavy was fortunate enough to escape with only a bad shake up and bruises the first of the week when her car overturned near Pumpville.

Upon getting clear of the wreckage Mrs. Peavy became confused and started walking away from Pumpville, which was only a few miles distant.

She had traveled about 5 miles when A. A. Shelton drove up and brought her to town. The car was badly damaged.

COWBOYS OF EARLY DAYS SOUGHT BY WAGON BOSS

Sloan Matthews of Alpine, "Wagon Boss" for West Texas for The National Old Time Cowboys' Association, was in Sanderson Wednesday looking for cowboys who punched cattle before the year 1900.

The organization was started in Billings, Montana, February 18 of last year by Bill Splan and other ex-cowboys of Montana and Wyoming for the purpose of organizing all the old-time cowboys and ex-cowboys into one big national association or brotherhood.

The object of the association is purely social and was organized in honor of those who have "gone on" and to perpetuate the traditions of the old cattle days and promote that Western spirit of friendliness. The first annual roundup was held at Billings on August 16, 1939 and the next general roundup will be held sometime next summer, time and place to be named at a later date.

Anyone who was an active cowboy or rancher in any cow country in the United States in the eighties or nineties, regardless of where he is now living or what his present occupation may be, is eligible to join as a charter member and does not have to pay dues. Sons and daughters of those who rode the range in the same years, may join as associate members and anyone else who was active as a cowboy or rancher between 1900 and 1920 may join as an associate member. All associate members pay one dollar a year dues, payable in advance. No initiation fee is required.

"The Range" has been divided into districts with a "Wagon Boss" for each district. His duties are to contact eligible persons and keep the "National Range Boss" informed as to the happenings and progress in his district.

Mr. Matthews stated that anyone eligible who wishes to join the association write him at Alpine and he will mail them a membership card to be filled out, and furnish them with any information they might desire.

BILL BOGGESS CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Bill Boggess, son of Judge and Mrs. W. F. Boggess of Del Rio, today announced to the Sanderson Times that he is a candidate for representative of the 87th Legislative District, subject to the action of the Democratic voters in the primary, July 27.

Bill is well and favorably known to the people of Del Rio.

BILL BOGGESS

Val Verde County, and the people of the district. It is his first venture in seeking political office, although, despite his age, 25, he has followed keenly the activities of the Legislature and the Democratic party for many years. Moreover, the principles of true Democracy has become inherent in Boggess by cultivation around the fireside and through family association, from early life.

Bill Boggess was born and reared in Del Rio, and was graduated from the Del Rio High School. Later he spent a number of years as a student at the University of Texas, where he found great interest in watching the actions of the Legislature, and kept closely informed on the proceedings, particularly in legislation which might affect this area.

He comes of excellent pioneer Democratic Texan stock. His father, Judge W. F. Boggess, is one of the best known and most highly respected Democratic leaders in all Texas, and has practiced law in Del Rio during his entire professional life.

In announcing his candidacy, Boggess stated that, if elected, he will represent all the people in the district, and will vote on legislative matters with a view toward the protection, and the promotion of the welfare of the people of the district. He proposes to consult with his constituents on every subject, and will follow closely every problem brought before the body.

Young Boggess, like his father, believes sincerely in the ancient principles of our Democratic government, as founded by the fathers of the country and of the party; he is against all isms and un-American activities. He desires to represent his fellow citizens with complete devotion to the work at hand, and to give untiringly of his time and effort in their interests.

He earnestly solicits the support of all the people in the district, and will appreciate any effort made in his behalf.

OGLESBY'S OGLES

By Whitfield Oglesby

It is quite evident from foreign dispatches that the flame of war will spread to the Mediterranean within the near future. The pressure is being applied to Italy to define her position. I have always contended that Italy will fight with Germany and I see no reason to change my opinion. The German victories in Norway have been impressive on Mussolini.

With his position more secure after the withdrawal of Allied troops from southern Norway, Hitler is ready for another lightning thrust. Will it be the Balkans or Holland? I had expected Holland to be next, but at the present with the flare-up in the Mediterranean, I hesitate to call that shot. However, I do believe it is reasonable to believe that the thrust thru Holland will be the go-ahead sign for Japan in the Dutch East Indies. And that will be the beginning of our headache.

A rolled rib roast is easy to prepare, easy to serve and a definite attraction for Sunday dinner. All bones have been removed leaving the solid piece of meat which when properly prepared is temptingly flavorful and juicy.

Inez S. Wilson, home economist, advises you to roast the meat at a low temperature, 300 degrees, on a rack in an open pan. It should not be covered nor should water be added; you don't have to sear or baste it, you don't even have to turn it. If you have a roast meat thermometer you can really just forget about it all until the thermometer registers the degree of doneness you desire.

If you have no thermometer the time-weight relationship is the best guide. A rolled rib roast takes longer than a roast with a bone. You'll need to plan twenty-eight and forty minutes per pound for rare and well-done roasts respectively. About forty minutes per pound will take it to the well done stage.

Green peas and buttered whole carrots are shown with the roast serving as a colorful garnish as well as a nutritious accompaniment.

To carve the rolled rib roast, the host makes uniform slices by cutting the slices across. He carves enough to serve everyone at the table before serving any of the guests. Since the roast is held by the cords, the carver must cut them one at a time, serving each with the point of the knife and loosening it with the fork. In making the slice the carver draws from right to left across the surface of the roast. The thickness of the slice depends upon personal preference and varies from one-eighth to three-eighths of an inch.

"JUDGE HARDY AND SON" COMING

Ann Rutherford and Mickey Rooney in "Judge Hardy and Son"

Lewis Stone, Mickey Rooney and the rest of the Hardy Family will bring new thrills, heart interest and comedy to audiences at the Princess Theatre where "Judge Hardy and Son," latest of the family series will be shown Monday and Tuesday.

This time, instead of traveling the family works out its destinies at home in Carvel. Mickey becomes involved in complications with three new charmes and his sweetheart, played by Ann Rutherford. When the mother of the family becomes ill and is close to death, he turns from boyhood to manhood, inspires his worried father with a new courage, dares a raging flood to bring his sister to her mother's bedside, and figures in gripping dramatic moments.

Lewis Stone as Judge Hardy has some of the most dramatic scenes ever written into the series of family adventures and becomes a compelling figure. Mickey Rooney's transition from boyish to adult psychology is a skillful piece of acting. Cecilia Parker acquires herself perfectly in the dramatic moments of the story. Fay Holden is the lovable mother who won't give up life and desert her brood. Sara Haden as the aunt has interesting moments with young Rooney. Three new charmers enter Mickey's life in the persons of June Preisser, Martha O'Dris-oll and Margaret Early. Outstanding character work is contributed by

"Gulliver" On Film Still Great Classic

"Gulliver's Travels"—the book that most of us read in the nursery and re-read with increased pleasure as adults—has reached the screen in a brilliant feature-length cartoon, and those who cherish fond memories of Jonathan Swift's immortal story should sit down immediately and write Paramount thank-you letters for its perfect translation into celluloid!

The technicolor "Gulliver's Travels," which comes to the Princess Theatre Wednesday and Thursday of next week was conceived, constructed, produced and practically everything else by Max Fleischer, whose "Pop-eye" and "Betty Boop" have already become outstanding cinema institutions. But Fleischer will go down in the record for "Gulliver"—an accomplishment that should be the envy of every producer in the industry.

All the charm, beauty, humor and rich fantasy of Dean Swift's story of the English seaman's amazing adventures in the miniature land of "Lilliput" comes to life on the screen as if by magic. The story, a perfect piece of material for a feature cartoon, combines with lively dialogue, hit parade music and some of the grandest color-work ever to appear on the screen to make an as-faultless-as-can-be piece of entertain-

The story of the changed only slightly original shows what (mental as well as physical) do to avert a war in where pettiness reigns. Here is where Swift's satire comes in, and the biting wit has been included in Fleischer's "Gulliver," of course in "Lilliput" the land everything is miniature due to the vagaries of storm. At first made a little "Lilliputians" the seaman frees himself bonds and turns himself national hero by his miraculous feats of The story turns on his accomplishment of all, ing of a war that cause two kings cannot to which of two nations ems should be played wedding of their children.

Shop Classes Complete Sidewalks

The two classes in industrial arts in the Sanderson High School, under the direction of Hugh A. Gauntt, teacher of the course, have recently completed construction of a sidewalk connecting the Ward School and High School buildings. The boys did all the labor as a part of their course in the study of concrete work. The funds for the materials were furnished by the school board from a building fund which has been in the bank since the erection of the High School in 1930.

The sidewalk is some 350 feet long and is five feet in width. It is the only sidewalk around the school buildings.

The boys who assisted Mr. Gauntt in the construction of the walk were:

Joe Bean, Ralph Burleson, John Clark, John F. Charlton, Hilario Carrasco, Marshall Cook, Wilton Dishman,

Three Honored With Party In Cargile Home

Erma Lee O'Neill, Robert Lochausen, and Kenneth Litton, three 1940 seniors, were honored with a party at the Cargile home last Friday evening.

Party games and table games were among the diversions of the evening. Two victrolas furnished music throughout the home and on the spacious front porch. Flowers and soft lights gave the occasion a festive touch. Refreshments of iced punch and cake were served at 10 o'clock on the rock terrace and on the porch to the following seniors and juniors:

Erma Lee O'Neill, Ruth Murrah, Mary Bess Hardgrave, Margaret Jane Higgins, Reba Burleson, Catherine O'Connor, Doris Cochran, Lois Mae Bassett, Bernice Harris, Helen Ruth Harrell, Joyce Yeates, Marzee Haynes, Roberta Lochausen, Billy Rae Bowden, Bob Lochausen, Kenneth Litton, David Allen.

Ralph Burleson, Rodger Bassett, John Clark, John Fisher, Charlton, Bobby Lee McCue, John Hardgrave, Martin Bodkin, Earl Hurst, Campbell Kerr, Jim Wilkinson, Ross Underwood, Al Creigh and Bill Cargile.

Also present were Mrs. Underwood and Margaret Ruth Yeates. Hostesses were Mrs. Yeates and Mrs. Cargile.

SNOOPER—

Correction: Jane has informed the Snooper that she has not been riding around with Joe Ross. I guess that it was someone else that we saw.

The Snooper caught a lot of things on the hayride besides hay—

Ralph and Doris were doing all right, and so were Bernice and Johnnie.

Don't our eyes deceive us? We saw Dewaine taking Maurine F home Thursday instead of Margaret Ruth. Margaret Ruth, you'd better turn on the old appeal!

That blonde junior is out in the cold again. It seems that Kenneth has been making eyes at Margaret Jane lately.

James House seemed awfully happy about sitting beside Wilma Lois. Well, wouldn't you?

It can't be that a certain senior boy is beating Ross' time with a certain junior lassie.

Roger and Mary Bess had a very touching little scene together in the senior play, as did Vivian and Bobbie Lee and Ethel Laura and Edgar. Aw gee, folks, it's just a play.

And by the way, we understand that Lillian has been out

Student Elections Held Monday

The student elections for the most beautiful girl, the most handsome boy, the most popular boy and girl, were held at the Sanderson High School Monday. Also elections for the best all-around boy and girl were held.

The senior class voted that the rest of the school select candidates from the senior class for the most popular boy and girl, and the most handsome boy and most beautiful girl. The election was held as an ordinary election would officially be held. The polls opened at eight in the morning, again at noon, and for a short period after four o'clock after which the votes were counted.

Candidates for the most beautiful girl were Martha Bassett and Erma Lee O'Neill. Martha winning the election. Candidates for the most handsome boy were Ralph Burleson and Robert Lochausen, Robert winning the election. Candidates for the most popular boy were Len Haynes, Wilton Dishman, Robert Lochausen and Kenneth Litton. Kenneth was chosen as the most popular boy of the senior class. Ethel Laura Nance and Erma Lee O'Neill were selected as candidates for the most popular girl. Erma Lee won the election. For the best all-around girl, Pauline Bell, Doris Cochran, Reba Burleson and Billie Raye Bowden were placed as candidates. Reba and Doris ran a close race with Doris coming out ahead. Campbell Kerr, Kenneth Litton, and Len Haynes were chosen candidates for the best all-around boy. This election was also a close one. Campbell won the election by a few points.

The elections caused interest and excitement during the day and proved to be very worthwhile.

of town. Undoubtedly, because we saw Wallace with Mary Bess at the show the other night.

WHEN Your Boy Grows Up!

ALL mothers and fathers want their children to have worthwhile employment when they grow up.

The Texas oil business is manned by Texans... the Texas boys and girls of yesterday. 225,000 of them earn good livings for themselves and their families—a yearly payroll of $271,000,000.

Oil pays good wages... maintains reasonable working hours... and offers opportunity for promotion.

Old age retirement and unhampered development of the oil business will provide many new jobs each year for our young Texas workers.

But the growing tax burden is a serious factor in wages and employment, since the Texas oil industry now pays taxes equal to 36 per cent of its labor payrolls.

Unwise laws and excessive taxes can retard and stop the growth of this industry which means so much to the future employment of our boys and girls.

Quick War Relief Given by Red Cross

Shipwrecked U. S. Citizens, Wounded Poles, Refugees, Repatriates Aided

Washington.—The American Red Cross moved quickly at the onset of hostilities in Europe to organize relief for war sufferers and give aid to American citizens stranded in danger zones or rescued from sea-wa- fare catastrophes.

Red Cross officials pointed out that following contact of German-Polish forces on September 1, the organization made available medical relief for civilians and armies of Poland; provided aid for Americans repatriating from Europe as they landed in the United States ports; granted medical and maintenance assistance to American survivors of the "Athens," first sea casualty of the war; gave financial aid to the American Hospital in Paris, France, and developed a comprehensive communications system to allay the fears of distraught relatives.

Norman H. Davis, chairman, called the International Red Cross Committee in Geneva on September 1 asking what relief would be needed from the American Red Cross. In a first step in consolidating Red Cross relief forces throughout the nation, 1,700 Red Cross chapters were authorized to begin producing refugee garments and to accept contributions for war relief.

A quick response from the Polish Red Cross to Chairman Davis' cable to the International Committee resulted in an American Red Cross appropriation of $50,000 for the purchase of 45 items of medicines, and for army blankets and a quantity of large hospital tents capable of housing 50 stretcher cases each.

A grant of $25,000 was also made to the American Hospital in Paris to evacuate American patients from the hospital and to purchase in the United States a 100 bed hospital unit for shipment to the American organization, it was said.

To meet needs which were thought likely to result from bombardment of rural villages and the passage of hostile armies, the Red Cross called upon 21 of its large city chapters to roll surgical dressings of a special new type for European warfare injuries. More than 500,000 yards of gauze were purchased and 45,000 pounds of cotton, enough to make 137,000 surgical dressings.

On September 2, the American Red Cross announced it was organizing to meet repatriating American citizens at support cities through chapter reception committees. Citizens without resources were given temporary shelter, and aided to re-settle in their former homes or work.

Between September 5 and 7, the American Red Cross cabled $20,000 through the State Department to help American survivors of the "Athens," who had been taken into Irish and Scotch ports.

Lee McCue, Wilton Murray, Ralph Burleson, Kenneth Litton, Edgar Pollis, Robert Lochausen, Len Haynes, Malcolm Davis and David Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fletcher left Sunday for Houston where Mr. Fletcher went for medical treatment.
