SANDERSON, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1940

NUMBER 27

OIL WELL TEST TO BE MADE ON ROSE RANCH EAST OF TOWN

has been announced by and White that a deep oil test will be made on the ranch east of Sanderson. The test, which will be known as Sides and White's Bassett Trust No. 1. Rose, will be located 440 feet from the west line and 440 feet from the south line of section 15, Block 148, T. & St. L., which places it about nine miles east and one mile north of Sanderson. It will be drilled with cable tools to a depth of between two and three thousand feet and in such a manner that if it has not encountered production there it can be carried through the Pennsylvanian formation to the ordovician with rotary equipment.

Mr. White has had the area worked by geology as well as by geophysics, the latter work being done by Richard A. Conkling of Oklahoma City who was former chief geologist for the Amara and Shell.

Mr. Sides is not a newcomer to Terrell County as he drilled one of the first deep wells in the county on the Bates and Phelps ranch in the extreme northeast corner of the county in 1930-31. Total depth of this well was 5600 feet. He has just completed his second well on Blackstone-Slaughter & Lackey some 30 miles north of Sanderson. He has a reputation of always finishing his wells regardless of the difficulties, and equipment is already being placed on the location to begin the drilling.

26 New Men Added to Border Patrol

Twenty-six additional patrol inspectors have recently been added to the Alpine sub-district of the Border Patrol, according to Earl Fallis, chief patrol inspector. At least that many more will be assigned to this district in the Department of Justice's plan to double the patrol force on the Mexican and Canadian borders.

The new patrolmen must complete a month of intensive training in the school at El Paso and a year of satisfactory duty in the service before they become full fledged officers. It was stated during this time they are on probationary duty.

This sub-district will have a total of around 80 patrolmen, or patrol inspectors, when the expansion program is completed. Mr. Fallis said. The district extends from Van Horn on the west to the eastern Terrell county line on the east and north to the state line and includes also a few extreme eastern New Mexico counties.

Eleven new automobiles have also been received here recently to be used by the patrolmen and additional horses will be sent here for the officers to use in the rough, more inaccessible parts of the district.

Another examination will be held in the near future for applicants desiring to enter the patrol service, Mr. Fallis said. Information concerning this examination can be obtained at the local postoffice—Alpine Avalanche.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bodkin and family moved Friday to their new home recently purchased near Lytle.

CAPT. W. L. BARLER

BUICK AUTOMOBILE STOLEN IN CALIF. RECOVERED HERE

W. B. and C. J. McPheeters were carried to Del Rio and appeared before the U. S. Commissioner Friday and pleaded guilty to charges of automobile theft. They were bound over to Federal Grand Jury.

The brothers and O. L. Pierce were occupying a 1937 Buick sedan when apprehended by the local sheriff's department. The car had been stolen from C. H. Schenider at Holtville, Calif. by the two brothers and Pierce had been picked up near Yuma, Ariz.

The three were placed in jail here, but after questioning O. L. Pierce was released and the two McPheeters taken to Del Rio. Mr. Schenider came for the automobile and drove it back home.

IN CASE OF FIRE—

In case of fire, go to the nearest telephone and call the operator, informing her as to where the fire is so that no delay will be caused in turning in the alarm. Most important thing to do is always tell where the fire is, for unless that is done the operator will be unable to direct members of the department to it.

Also of vital importance is the matter of following the fire truck, of running over the hose, and of driving cars so close to the truck that the working efficiency of members of the department will be hindered.

Do not follow the fire truck as soon as it passes, there might be a group of firemen in a car who must be at the fire without delay so they might make the truck.

Don't forget, if your home, or your neighbors home catches on fire, call the local operator and tell her where it is—she will turn in the alarm to the department.

Mrs. Luella Lemons and Mrs. Grace Wheeler and son, Edward, were visitors in Loraine the first of last week with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lemons Jr.

Coon Chandler returned Wednesday from El Paso where he attended the rodeo.

Capt. W. L. Barler Retires From U. S. Customs Service

Effective the first of this month Capt. W. L. Barler was retired from the United States Customs Service after giving 15 years of his life to that work.

Capt. Barler enlisted in the Ranger service in 1915 as a private, serving at Del Rio and Eagle Pass. Two years later he was commissioned as a captain of Rangers and served in that capacity until 1920. Leaving the service at that time he spent the next five years doing special investigating work for banks and other concerns in Del Rio and other points.

In August of 1926 he entered the U. S. Customs Service and was located at Del Rio, later serving in Sanderson, Eagle Pass and Falfurrias coming back to Sanderson in 1937 and serving here since that time.

Previous to his entering the Ranger service in 1915, he was deputy of Lalo County for four years. Since his retirement from the service he has been made special investigator for ranchmen in the Sanderson section who comprise the Terrell County Ranchmen's Protective Association.

REV. JOHN W. BYRD IS INSTALLED IN SPECIAL SERVICE

Sunday evening at the Presbyterian Church, a Commission of Western Texas Presbytery met to examine and install the Rev. John W. Byrd as pastor of the Sanderson Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Byrd was received from the Presbytery of El Paso. His former pastorate was in Pecos where he had served the First Presbyterian Church for 13 years.

This Commission met at the new Manse in the afternoon and officially received the Rev. Byrd into the Presbytery. At the regular evening service, the Commission met with the congregation at the Church, and in a very impressive service proceeded to install the new man as pastor. The Rev. Brooks I. Dickey of San Antonio presided and proposed the constitutional questions to the Rev. Byrd and to the congregation. The Rev. J. J. Wester of Rock Springs preached the sermon, the Rev. Charles Solomon of Del Rio charged the pastor and the Rev. V. P. Dickey of Uvalde gave a solemn charge to the congregation. MANY TOURISTS PAY VISIT TO PROPOSED BIG BEND PARK AREA

Demands for tourist accommodations in the Big Bend National park area are far in excess of the facilities now being developed, according to a report made last week to the Texas Big Bend Park association.

Approximately 2,000 visitors, including 680 in July, have registered at the temporary Big Bend park museum in the Chisos Mountain basin and more than half of these were seeking accommodations for extended stays in the cool and lofty mountains. Kirk H. Scott, project superintendent of the National Park service, advised the association.

Work on six tourist cottages has been started and we hope to have these completed by Jan. 1," Mr. Scott said. "We have just completed the drilling of a well in the basin area which gives all indications of furnishing an adequate water supply for further development. All utilities such as water, sewerage and light will be in before the next tourist season."

With only six tourist cottages contemplated under the Civilian Conservation corps' program for the development of tourist facilities this year, even the current demand can not be met. With the continued increase in visitors to the park area, the tourist facilities being provided will be ample to serve only a small fraction of those required.

But the association points out that the development of adequate facilities for week-end visitors and vacationists must await the development of the Rio Grande's Big Bend as a national park. While plans have already been made by the National Park service and the development under-

RANCHER CHARGED WITH THEFT OF CATTLE, BUTCHERING

Williams had been under suspicion for some time of butchering cattle other than his own and selling and using the meat. When arrested he had a beef without a hide or any other means of identification, which he had brought to Sanderson to dispose of.

After the arrest officers went to his place and uncovered the hides of a yearling claimed by Daniel Rodriguez, Mexican rancher nearby, and of a cow which was branded. To date, however, no owner has been found for the brand carried by the cow.

Williams was turned over to Sheriff Elmer Taylor of Alpine as the actual butchering occurred in Brewster County. He was indicted last week and the trial set for Tuesday of next week.

Meteorite Located Near Odessa By Texas U. Geologists

Odessa, Texas, Aug. — After several months' probing in the country's second largest meteor crater—a 600-foot-wide debris-filled pit near here—University of Texas geologists have reported the discovery of the object they sought.

The meteorite which blasted into the Earth thousands of years ago is so deeply imbedded, however that University-WPA excavators will have to dig for it according to Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the University's Bureau of Economic Geology.

The crater, second in size to that made by the great Arizona meteor, is almost completely filled in. The Texas meteorite, whose presence was spotted with a magnetometer, may be as much as a hundred feet underground. Since the project was launched several months ago, there was considerable doubt as to whether the original mass would be recovered as the meteor might have exploded on impact with the earth.

To study the effect of that impact, trenches have been cut through the upturned and twisted layers of rock which form the lip of the crater. Major of the excavation, however, now possible with the knowledge that the meteorite is actually still in the pit is the analysis of the projectile itself, Dr. Sellards said.

Today that event would blot out war headlines, but something misfired in 1863, and the world knew little of that authentic, amazing event. Fame and fortune passed them up, and today Mrs. Parker, a white-haired woman of 77, lives on a meager pension at Silver Lake, N. Y. She is a widow and the mother of seven children. Mrs. Alice Hughes of Phoenix, Ariz., is the other surviving sextuplet.

THEY MADE MONEY

When Boscoe Yeates and Curtis Litton paid $3 for a burro, they did not buy it with the idea of turning it at a profit, but with the idea in mind as to how much pleasure it would afford them when they were not in a hurry and did not want to walk.

It turned out to be a good investment, however, for H. M. Bralove of Maryland, tourist passing through, saw the animal and wanted it. Thinking he was kidding him, Curtis replied "Ten dollars", when asked what he would take for his steed. He was surprised when the gentleman handed him the ten and took the burro.

The new owner had a crate made for shipping it, which cost him another $10, and then paid $40 shipping charges on him to Washington, D. C., besides $2 for feed. Total outlay for the burro was $62.

The new owner may never find it out, but that was a trained burro, too. He could be made to lie down and play dead and a few other tricks, but they don't believe he is tricky enough to find his way back to Terrell County again.

Anyway, the boys say, you can get another one cheap and Curtis likes to train them.

When Boscoe was asked how old the animal was, he replied that he didn't know but he thought he was about old enough to vote.

Baby Robins Sing for Their Breakfast

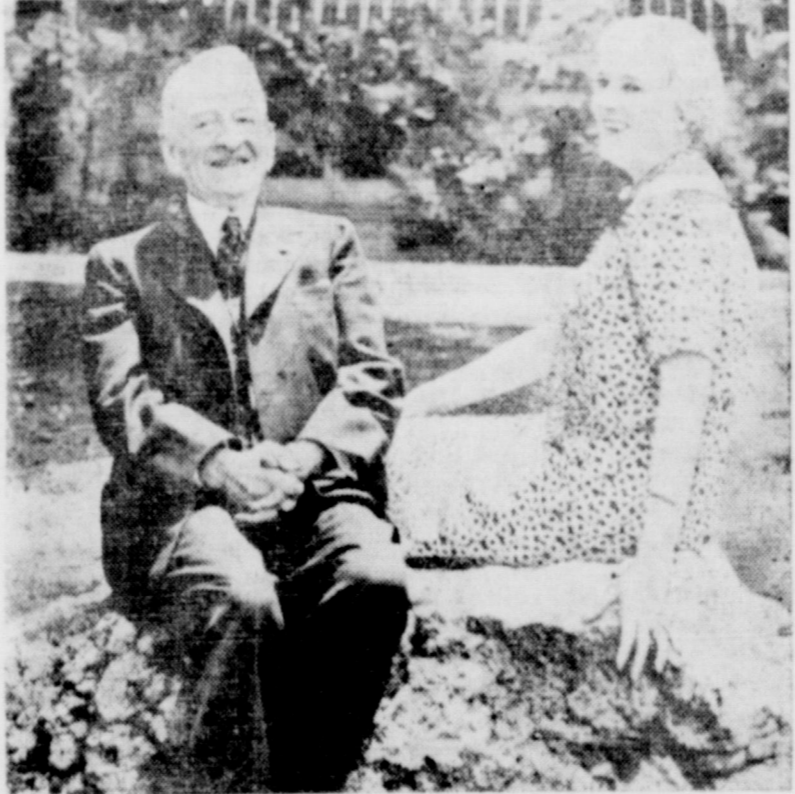

It's mighty convenient when a picture flies right into the hands of a cameraman. That was the experience of a photographer in Baltimore who took the above views of a Robin family. The birds built their nest in his yard and he was able to snap the parent bird, left, looking anxiously to see if the other parent is on the job digging up worms. At right, papa has just returned, his beak full of worms for the babies who are mighty hungry. He'll dole them out evenly.

This 'Haymaker' Explosive Was No Dud

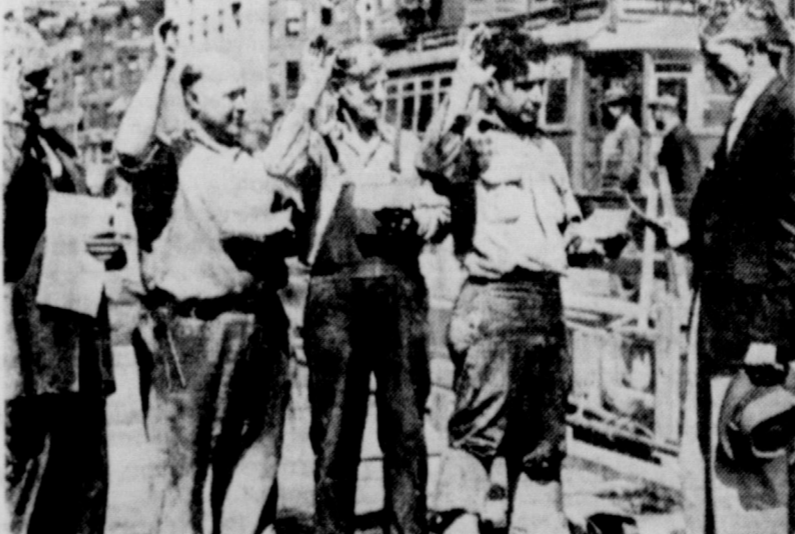

No dud was this lethal missile which Ken Overlin, middleweight boxer, explodes against the chin of Harry Balsamo, his opponent, in a 10-round charity non-title bout in New York city. This fight action was caught by the 1/100,000th-of-a-second photographic speed of the camera. The bout ended in the ninth round with a knockout victory by Overlin.

FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE

In present day, people place great stress on having convenient. Many conveniences are taken as a matter-of-course—especially those of an intangible nature, such as services of a modern bank.

Merchant has no calls for an item, he no longer contemplates to stock it, but he is always glad to keep things for there is a steady demand. When you buy from him, it is possible for him to keep on hand the things you want, and thus, you add to your own convenience.

Merchandise offered by a bank is service. When you use your local bank, you add to your own convenience and to your community. We invite your business.

Attitude Toward Fire Changes With Passage of Time

Interesting changes in the public's attitude toward fire have been pointed out recently by Marvin Hall, state fire insurance Commissioner.

He says that in the United States a man who has a fire in his home, store or factory is regarded as unfortunate, but during pre-war days in Europe he was assumed to be a public offender.

In France, if a fire spread beyond a man's property and damaged that belonging to his neighbor, he had to pay his neighbor's loss. In Germany, if a man had a fire the police ordered an investigation.

Carlessness was assumed from the fact that the fire occurred. If he could not prove in court the next day that he had taken every reasonable precaution, he was fined, and for his negligence he had to pay the city for the unnecessary use of the fire department.

Two of the nation's greatest milking shorthorns which have been entered in the Milking Shorthorn Show at the 1946 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 9 to 23.

Top is Kingstone Pride, grand champion of the 1939 International Livestock Exposition at Chicago, and the United States All-American bull, bred, owned and will be exhibited by Ed King of Victoria, Illinois.

Bottom is Duality Juniper, All-American 3 year-old and the grand champion at the National Dairy Show held at the Golden Gate Exposition at San Francisco. She has a record of 10,084 pounds of milk and 477 pounds of butter fat in a two year old. She is owned by John E. Gage, Mayor of Kansas City.

Books

Books are such nice friends to live with. To read and learn and dream with. They may be old and torn and gray. But to me they never cease to say: "We're your friends no matter what our age. We're your friends from page to page."

Books are such learned friends to cultivate. With their tales and truths which fascinate. They never fail to teach you something. Be it deep, worthwhile or nothing. But books are like people we know. Their influence can be had or make our mind grow.

Within a book's cover it may hold. Some modern work or treasure old. There may be novels, poems or plays. Or tales of civilization in bygone days. Or on its pages, history told. Or revelations of some romance bold.

What is to be treasuring more than these. With their character on their leaves? Some books their pages fill with knowledge or nothing more than "Jack and Jill". But some are written in words so confusing. While others are colorful and most amusing.

But one book which is more perfect than all. Is the book written by those Peter, James and Paul. Within its covers it tells of His life. His deeds. His mission. and His strife. Within its pages, it tells us to love, not to hate. Words the world would do well to meditate.

Yes, books are such nice friends to live with. To read and learn and dream with. They may be old and torn and gray. But to me they never cease to say: "We're your friends no matter what our age. We're your friends from page to page."
