REGISTRATION SUPPLIES RECEIVED; DRAFT BOARD NAMED FOR TERRELL

Registration supplies for Oct. 16 have been received by D. L. Duke and registration placards have been posted about Sanderson showing persons eligible for the draft just what questions they will be required to answer when they register. For the benefit of those who have not been privileged to see them the questions to be answered are reproduced below:

1. Give your first name, then your middle name in full and your family name last. Spell out each name as you give it.
2. Give the address where you actually live. If you do not live at a particular address, then give the address where mail will reach you quickly.
3. Give a telephone number where you can easily be reached; either your home phone or your

Telephone Exchange Considering New Equipment Here

According to local manager O. H. McAdams, the Del Rio and Winter Garden Telephone Company is considering offering to residents and business men of Sanderson an opportunity for them to express themselves as to whether or not they want a new telephone system installed.

The contemplated system will be a common battery flash light system with automatic ringing. This equipment will cost the telephone subscribers an estimated 25 cents or 50 cents more per month, but the added convenience of automatic ringing would be more than value received for the small additional monthly charge according to some.

Due to the fact that the new equipment will necessitate an added charge the company plans to issue a questionnaire soon with the hope that subscribers will express their desires as to whether they prefer to continue with the present system or pay the small additional fee and enjoy the automatic ringing system.

Forty-four Make Applications for Range Checks

Forty-four applications for payment covering work completed under the 1940 Range Conservation Program were mailed to the state office at College Station Monday, according to Mrs. Seth Davenport, secretary of the Terrell County Agricultural Conservation Association.

These applications are for the payment of $47,908.64, approximately half of the amount the county will earn. Over 80% has already been earned but application can not be made for any ranch payment until November 30, unless all of that ranch allotment has been used. Mrs. Davenport stated.

The first applications were submitted last year on December 5.

Mrs. T. R. Arrington and her mother, Mrs. Henry Gates, visited in San Antonio from Thursday until Sunday when Mrs. Arrington returned here and Mrs. Gates returned to her home in Fort Worth. Mrs. Gates has been visiting in the Arrington home the past several months.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Pickard spent the week-end in El Paso visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Newton and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Haisell left Wednesday for a visit to San Antonio.

Mrs. W. F. Bohlman returned Sunday from San Antonio and Giddings, visiting at the latter place with Mr. and Mrs. John Simmang.

If you have taken out first papers only, you are not a citizen of the U.S.A. Give the country of which you are still a citizen. If you have an alien registration card, give the number here.

7. Give the name of the person most likely to know your whereabouts at all times. If you are living with your wife, parents, or other close relatives, give the name of the family member who can locate you easiest and quickest. If you are not living with your family, give the name of some person who can locate you quickly. In answering this question, say "Mr.", "Mrs.", or "Miss", followed by the first name, middle name, and then the last name of the person.

8. Give the relationship to you of the person who you have said will always know where to find you quickly.

9. Give the address of this person. Give first the street number, then the street name or R.F.D. number, city or town, county, and finally the State.

10. Give the name of the company, firm, or person by whom you are employed. Give the company name, not your foreman's name. If you are in business for yourself, answer "Self." If you are employed by more than one employer, give the name of the one who can usually reach you. If you are a Federal, State, or local government employee, give the department or bureau for which you work. If you are working on a WPA project, answer "WPA project." If you are not working and are a college student registering in the college precinct, say "Jonesville College student." If you are unemployed, not on WPA, and not attending school, answer "None."

11. Give the street number or location of the place where you are employed. Also give the city or town, county, and the State. If you are in business for yourself, give your business address. If you are on WPA give the address of the WPA assignment office. If you are a student in a college and not working, give the college address. If you have answered "None" when asked for your employer's name, the registrar will enter a dash (-) and not ask the question.

Sign your name as you usually sign it. If you cannot write your name, make a cross mark (X). When you sign this card the registrar will have you swear that the answers are true. If your religious belief will not permit you to swear to this, you may affirm that the answers are true. The registrar will accept your affirmation.

Members who compose the Local Board for Selective Service for Terrell County are Alfred E. Creigh, Jr., W. F. Harrell and J. C. Mitchell. These members were recommended by the State Department of the American Legion and are veterans of the World War. In naming them it was so designed that a man on the board would represent men engaged in railroad service, men in the ranching industry, and the public at large.

The Terrell County Board is No. 1 in District 10, which comprises the counties west of Terrell to El Paso. Board members and the County Clerk will attend a school in San Antonio today.

Persons who are interested in helping with this work are earnestly solicited to report to Mrs. C. P. Peavy for knitting and to Mrs. Alfred E. Creigh, Jr. for sewing. Materials have been obtained for the work and the only thing now is the making up of the garments so that they might be shipped.

Sanderson P.-T. A. To Sponsor Carnival Again This Year

"Yes sir! You guessed it! It is the Big, Better Than Ever P.-T. A. Carnival on Halloween night."

At least that is the version of Parent-Teacher Association members of the carnival to be put on again this year by the Association. At the last meeting of the executive board, committees were named and plans discussed. They feel that it will be the most successful affair Sanderson has ever put on if there is any truth in the old saying that "Well begun is half done."

The help of all persons is needed and the committee urges everyone to become carnival minded and be ready to extend aid in putting this project over with a bang.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION MEETS OCT. 3RD

The Parent-Teacher Association met in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, Oct. 3, and the following program was given:

Prayer by the Rev. John W. Byrd which was followed by group singing which was led by Mrs. Duane Smith. Songs were rendered by the fourth grade and Mrs. Clyde Higgins discussed "Texas Congress Birthday Observance." Mrs. A. B. Gates gave a discussion of the subject for the program, "Well Founded Attitudes." In her discussion Mrs. Gates emphasized the fact that the principles and conduct must be right or they cannot expect their children to have well founded attitudes.

In the absence of Mrs. D. M. Wells, Mrs. Will Savage was program leader. Ted Baker took the room attendance, awarding the fourth grade the prize.

Jack Hayre and O. T. Schuppach Sr. were business visitors in Alpine Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hayre returned home Friday after spending last week in San Antonio and Waelder.

BIG BEND PRAISED AS ONE OF GREATEST TOURIST ATTRACTIONS

Four days of exploration through the mountains, canyons, deserts and range lands of the Big Bend area has convinced M. R. Tillotson, Santa Fe, N. M., regional Park service, that Texas has one of the nation's greatest potential tourist attractions.

Frequently during the long trek afoot on horseback and by automobile, Tillotson expressed amazement at the scenic beauty, ruggedness and completeness of the biological island within the area.

"Rocky Mountain National Park has its lofty peaks, Grand Canyon its deep abyss, and Death valley its broad desert, but none of the national parks embodies all the features found in the Big Bend area," Tillotson said. "It also is the only area which contains so nearly a complete biological unit."

"Only one of the national parks is at all comparable from an international point of view and that is Glacier National Park in Montana, which joins Waterton Lake Park in Canada."

Tillotson added that the Big Bend area is suitable for a national park in every respect, since it has many sites for the development of tourist facilities and at the same time all the space needed for wild-life reservations.

"It is truly a national park project because of its isolation from heavily populated areas and because of its importance to the entire nation as a vacation land," Tillotson said. "Because of its primitive ruggedness, it constitutes the last wilderness of the last American frontier and this atmosphere should be preserved in its development. Instead of automobile roads there should be trails and all buildings should be widely scattered and of the ranch type."

Accompanying Tillotson on his initial visit to the area were several members of his staff, including Ross Maxwell, regional geologist; Harvey Cornell, regional architect, and John C. Diggs, West Texas inspector. All make their headquarters at Santa Fe.

Also with the group were E. E. Townsend, former Brewster County sheriff and ranger, who is credited with being the original proponent of the project and the man best acquainted with the area; Nelson Lee Jr., manager of the Alpine chamber of commerce; John Newell, a member of the chamber; Capt. K. H. Scott, project superintendent; Loyd Wade, a ranchman in the park area and owner of Pine Canyon; Harry Connelly, Fort Worth, executive secretary of the Texas Big Bend Park association; Wayne Gard, Dallas, representing the Dallas News, and Paul S. McAllister, Fort Worth representing The Star-Telegram.

Dr. H. W. Morelock of Alpine, vice president of the Big Bend Park association, and Max Bentley, Alpine, editor of West Texas Today and activities director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, accompanied the group on the first day of the trip. Dr. Morelock declared the four-day tour of the park service officials demonstrated their interest in the project and that Texans should take advantage of this interest and the publicity the project has secured to carry it to completion.

TYPICAL BROTHER AND SISTER—

If there ever were two youngsters typical of brother and sister in the average American family, it is Cecilla Parker and Mickey Rooney, the Andy and Marian Hardy of the famous Hardy Family pictures latest of which "Andy Hardy Meets Debutante" will be shown on the Princess screen Monday and Tuesday. After their usual quarreling and bickering, Marian slips her boisterous brother a little spending money to smooth the path of his latest romantic conquest.

Hardys See Big Sights of New York In New Hit

The glamour of modern New York shares honors with Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland and the Hardy Family in "Andy Hardy Meets Debutante," current attraction at the Princess Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

Dozens of the sights that thrill visitors to the nation's greatest city are seen in the picture through the eyes of the Hardy Family. The great bridges that have been thrown across the Hudson, the city's mountainous skyline as seen from the Jersey side, the stupendous Rockefeller Center development, New York University's Hall of Fame, swank Fifth Avenue, a dazzling coming-out party which is typical of Manhattan's Four Hundred, the New York Surrogate's Court in which dozens of famous law cases have been fought, all are faithfully shown and make "Andy Hardy Meets Debutante" as good as an actual trip to New York.

The story, one of buoyant and sometimes robust comedy spiced with moments of poignant human interest and tense drama, overshadows even the impressive background against which it is played. Mickey as the lively Andy Hardy, becomes infatuated at long range with New York's prettiest debutante and his attempts to crash her acquaintance put him through a score of hilarious trials and tribulations.

Meanwhile Lewis Stone, as Judge Hardy, almost meets a crushing defeat in the most important law case of his career involving the welfare of the Carvel Orphanage, and wins out finally only with the aid of Fay Holden as the well-loved "Ma" Hardy.

Judy Garland enters the series for the second time to portray Betsy Booth, the sweet New York miss who befriends Andy in his attempt to meet the debutante.

The Women's Society of Christian Service met with Mrs. Roy Mason at her home. After a business meeting a social was held and refreshments served.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living

BY SUSAN THAYER

A great man stood before the microphone the other day in a city scarred by bombs. Fires were raging at the docks of its historic river and there was a threat of greater bombing in the night to come.

The man spoke calmly, courageously to the people of an harassed empire. He told them of the situation as it stood that awful day and warned them of the impending danger of an invasion. There was no effort to minimize the frightfulness of the ordeal before them. Yet there was no sign of flinching.

He called upon them to remember the greatness of their past and to realize the significance of the battle they are waging. Then in closing that magnificent speech, Winston Churchill turned for a moment from the horror of the present conflict and looking toward the future, spoke confidently of "the long and better days that are to come!"

If the Prime Minister of Great Britain, in such an hour could speak with confidence of the future, how much more hopeful should we be, here in the United States. Not only because we are an ocean away from the actual conflict but because this country of ours was founded for the sake of those "better days" as they were visioned by our forefathers 200 years ago.

With our representative democracy and our free enterprise system, we have already come nearer than any other nation to those "better days" of which great men in every age have dreamed. The highest standard of living the world has ever known... education for a larger per cent of our young and those precious privileges of being able to say what we please... to write what we think... to go to the church we believe in, has made this land of ours the envy of the world.

Yes, we have endured 10 years of "hard times" during which for the first time in our history, we have failed to advance our standard of living. But our country is still rich in natural resources... still under-populated... and we still have that genius for invention, production and organization that has built up the greatest industrial system ever known! When the world finds Peace again and Industry can once more devote itself to the... of the myriad... make the life of the man and woman... more beautiful and... as a nation to an increased individual opportunity... deed those better days... nearer!

Flats, seedbeds, and soil are now sterilized, and quickly with chemicals the "tear gas" of "Treating soil to destroy ful organisms is merely an area a shot or two from into which a small amount of 'needles' the gas below face.

Tipsy Drivers May Have Tough Time In Texas

AUSTIN—Three little words may mean bad news next year for the drinking driver in Texas, according to an informative article on the safeguards being taken against drunkenness on the highways, written for Texas Parade by George Clarke, executive secretary of the Texas Safety Association. The three little words—point-one-five—may chase the drinking driver right off Texas roads into Texas jail cells, writes Mr. Clarke in the article, "If You Want To Die Young." It appears in the October issue.

"Point-one-five—15 hundredths of one per cent—is the amount of alcohol in the blood that scientifically brands a motorist as too drunk to drive," explains the author. "It is the weapon science is using to knock the props from under the tipsy motorist and his alibi in those states where progressive legislatures have kept abreast of the public demand that murder be taken off the streets and highways.

"That efforts will be made to arm Old Man Texas with a similar weapon for attack upon the drinking driver is indicated by developments of the statewide Committee on Investigation of Drunk Driving appointed by The Texas Safety Association. For 10 months this committee has been diligently compiling data of every description on the drinking driver together with analysis of the situation for a report to the next legislature. Included in their recommendations will be a thorough discussion of scientific testing for intoxication and the results of its use in other states.

"Point-one-five has just about ruined the time-honored excuses and glib alibis of the highway souse in those states where intoxication tests are permitted. Before the development of intoxication tests and before their reliability was firmly established, juries were reluctant to bring in verdicts of guilty in the face of claims by the defendant that he had "been taking insulin for diabetes," which made him act like liquor does, or that he had "got a bad bump on the head in the accident." It was just one man's word against another's. Even when a juror's common sense told him the defendant probably was guilty, the lack of concrete proof left a reasonable doubt in his mind. Thus it was that police and prosecutors resorted to charging offenders with reckless driving instead of driving under the influence of liquor. It was easier to get convictions.

"But all this has changed in little more than a year in many states, since the accuracy of body fluid and breath tests has been established and widely accepted in the courts. The first indifference to a new-fangled to ever-increasing acceptance although for 20 years it has been an established fact in medical circles that a chemical analysis determines the exact degree of intoxication of a person. Cautious investigation and experiment led to endorsement of the tests by safety leaders, medical associations and judges. With gathering momentum, courts and enforcement departments throughout the country are welcoming the chemical tests as the long-awaited answer to the driver's alibi.

"That there is need for legislative attention to the problem of the drinking driver in Texas is obvious from the official statistics of 1939 which revealed that more than 20 per cent of the traffic fatalities were due to drunken driving.

"The present Penal Code of Texas makes driving while intoxicated, or when a person is under any degree of intoxication, a felony. This applies irrespective of damage or injuries caused by the intoxicated driver.

"Tracking the axiom of law enforcement that certainty of punishment, proves more of a deterrent to law violators than the severity of punishment, the investigating committee will seek reconsideration by the legislature of the present law. The committee will recommend that the first offense be regarded as a misdemeanor carrying a fairly high fine or jail sentence. This would not make a felon of the offender and would be more easily enforced than the present law. And second, in case of personal injury or death, the first offense could be made a felony.

Third, on second offenses of driving while intoxicated, even though no damage was done or person injured, a felony could be charged against the offender.

"With such enforcement methods of punishment, together with the incorporating of scientific tests for intoxication into the state's safeguards against drinking drivers, perhaps next year's motorists will be a more sober and safer driving legion."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmidt were visitors in Alpine Saturday.

5,000 Texas Boys To Enter C. C. Camps This Month

Five thousand Texas boys will have opportunity to enroll in CCC camps October 17-18. It is announced by Washington and Austin authorities. Every county in the State will be permitted to enroll some of its boys.

The popularization and enlargement of the CCC program, its approval by President and Congress, have caused enrollment to be eagerly sought by youths all over the Nation.

Admission to the CCC camps does not make a boy more liable for military call. Nor are the enrollees given distinct military training. The training is of a non-combatant type, calculated to aid the country in case of a national emergency. But it is primarily intended to fit the boys for profitable places in civil life.

Vocational and business training of many types are given in the camps, as well as regular school work for those needing it. A competent staff of technical and academic teachers is on duty at each camp. Instruction and books, as well as good food, shelter, and medical care are provided the boys in the CCC.

The purpose behind the Civilian Conservation Corps is not chiefly to keep boys off the streets, but to make of them good American citizens.

Thousands of boys each month go directly from the Camps to worthwhile jobs, as a result of their training. Only ambitious boys are sought for enrollment, those willing to work and to take instruction.

All boys are required to enroll for six months. A shorter period accomplishes nothing and is expensive for the government.

CCC rules now permit enrollment of all boys "employable and in need of employment." This includes the sons of families receiving some type of public assistance, and hundreds of worthy boys whose families are not on public assistance rolls, but who are in need of employment and training. Youths without families or proper support can enroll.

Boys between the ages of 17 and 23 1-2 years are accepted. They must be of good moral character, and able to pass a reasonable physical examination by camp physicians. Boys with police records will be rejected. All CCC boys with dependents, and this includes the majority, are required to enroll monthly to their families other dependents. The $8 for spending money without dependents, is deposited a $22 allotment government's Finance Department be returned to them on completion of enrollment.

County Welfare throughout Texas are making applications for their officers should at once by parents interested in enrolling.

Mrs. Georgia Smith, 3111 N. Loop West, arrived Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. Nance.

E. J. Chastain and ward, were San Antonio last week-end.

Here's what makes Vibration, TIRE NOISE and Car Rumble

WHEN a tire-tread made up of blocks of rubber rolls over the road, you get a bumping action (illustration above) which causes noise and sets up vibration.

NEW Scientific Tire Tread Gives you 'SILENT RIDE'

With no out-jutting knobs of tread to bump the pavement, vibration vanishes. Rumbling, humming, and many noises disappear. Moreover, the straight-line traction of the tire enables you to pull straight through mud and sand no old-style tread ever would!
