Nazi Bombs Hit London Orphanage

The top age is three at this London orphanage which was recently hit by a Nazi bomb. The bomb exploded only 10 feet from the babies' dormitory, and, very fortunately, there were no casualties. The children are here pictured playing in the shadow of the orphanage ruins, quite unaware of their narrow escape from death.

Christmas Seal Theme Portrayed by Children in Song

Three children lifting up tiny voices in a carol of the season is the pictorial theme of the 1940 Christmas Seal of the Terrell County Tuberculosis Association. The annual Seal Sale started November 25.

The cherubic faces expressing so vividly the perennial spirit of youth and joy come from the brush of Felix Martini of Los Angeles. Though landscape painting is his hobby, Mr. Martini was delighted to turn to this warm close-up to present his charming picture of three happy healthy children so earnestly united in song. Inspiration, too, must have come from the two daughters of the artist, and a second hobby, which is music.

Mrs. J. L. Newton, general chairman of the Christmas Seal Campaign in Sanderson, today disclosed some of the details of the life of Mr. Martini, a newcomer in the ranks of distinguished artists who have lent their talents to the Seal Sales which have been going on for thirty-four years.

Artist Martini was born in Milan, Italy, the son of a painter who had won many prizes in international exhibitions. His parents brought him to America when he was two and a half years old. When painting proved less lucrative in America, the elder Martini turned to carving at Barre, Vt. From him and from the well-known sculptor, Carlo Abate of Barre, young Martini received his first art instruction.

At seventeen he was a proficient carver, earning wages as high as any carver in New England at that time. But this lasted only three years. Keeping a promise made to his father when he died, Mr. Martini turned to painting and a career that took him from Boston and Worcester to California.

Stories of picturesque California told to him by his grandmother first lured Mr. Martini to the West Coast, but he admits it took several trips ultimately to convince him of the merits of the Golden State. His career has been varied by a period of once he tried his hand at theatricals, as manager of a group of vaudeville performers.

Mesdames George Baker, Lee McCue, Mary Lou Kellar, Austin Nance, and W. D. O'Bryant and son, William Doyle, spent from Monday until Wednesday in San Antonio.

Tom Lane of Blanco and Jack Kramer of Dallas were visitors in the W. C. Cargile home last week. They were enroute to Alpine for a hunting trip. Mr. Lane is a brother of Mrs. Cargile.

A check of the records of oil and gas leases filed in Terrell County reveal that it is not so much the "Forgotten County of West Texas, as one might think. Among the major companies holding titles in the County are Gulf, Skelly, Tidewater-Associated, Phillips, The Ohio Co., Darby Petroleum Co., The Trans-Western, formerly T. B. Slick, and many smaller companies and independent operators. These blocks range in size from 35,000 acres down to a few hundred acres for some of the smaller.

Another well that is being watched with interest is located in Brewster County a few miles northeast of Terlingua. It has reported several shows of gas and oil in drilling to around 800 feet. It has long been the belief that Terrell County has deposits of minerals that could be worked commercially. A recent discovery of a large deposit of manganese is reported just across the line in Brewster County. This mineral, used in the making of steel is on the United States Government war needs list. Small deposits have been found near Shumla in Val Verde County and on the Mills Ranch in the same county. With the discovery to the west it is reasonable to believe that deposits may be found between these two in Terrell County.

Offering another enterprise, Terrell County has one of the largest and best deposits of building stone in the entire nation. Some twenty carloads were shipped from Dryden to San Antonio last year. The rock is easily quarried and breaks in straight lines. Some one should develop this natural resource.

FIREMAN'S DANCE AND TURKEY SHOOT SUCCESS; TO HOLD CHRISTMAS DANCES

Members of the Volunteer Fire Department were well pleased with the success which the annual benefit dance and turkey shoot met with.

Proceeds taken in at the dance including the raffling of the turkey, amounted to $245.10. Of this amount, $150 was paid the orchestra, $10 for advertising, $3 for the turkey, and $16.40 for decorations, wax, telephone and telegrams. The use of the hall for the affair was donated by the Kerr Mercantile Company. A net balance of $63.70 was realized after all expenses.

The turkey shoot which took place also showed a good profit with the gross receipts amounting to $103.50. Profit from the shoot combined with the profit from the dance totaled $124.04.

The department has already started plans for two Christmas dances and also at least one turkey shoot. Music for the dances has not been secured as yet but it is assured that nothing but good music will be furnished.

The turkey shoot is scheduled for December 22 and possibly one the following Sunday, December 29.

Members of the department express their sincere thanks for the support given the fire department efforts to raise money to purchase a central alarm system for the town. This is a much needed item, as well as housing facilities for the engine, and the money to take care of these matters will be raised by putting on dances, turkey shoots, and other things. Donations are not being asked but the full support of the community is very much appreciated in all their efforts.

Those winning turkeys in the 90-yard rifle shoot were: J. S. Nance 2; J. J. Whistler 2; R. E. Corder, 2; B. H. Gifford, 2; Monte Wallace, 1; D. L. Duke, 1; George Young, 1; Robert Duncan, 1; Gene McSparren, 1; Bill Beagle, 1; Bud Haynes, 1. Only 2 were allowed to any one person.

The Red Cross sewing room needs more sewing machines.

More helpers are needed also. Lay aside that pretty afghan or bed spread a little while and give some of your time to the making of relief garments for those war sufferers. FOR OUTSTANDING ATTRACTIONS—

The above photo is a daylight and night shot of one of the famous Hollywood show cars now being used by the Princess Theatre to advertise an outstanding attraction. This car is elaborately equipped and decorated with several hundred feet of neon. The dark portion of the photograph shows a portion of the neon being used on the truck. The Hollywood show car this time is advertising the return of a sensational technicolor subject, "Trail of the Lonesome Pine", starring Henry Fonda, Fred MacMurray, Fred Stone and Fuzzy Knight. This technicolor feature was released four years ago and is one of the most unusual subjects of its kind. It has been brought back by demand. The technicolor in the print of "Trail of the Lonesome Pine" was voted as the most outstanding color ever used in a picture. The outdoor story is one of action, romance and thrills of the Kentucky feuds. Unusual attractions warrant unusual exploitation of this kind said Manager Carlton White. "We are extremely proud that we are able to again present to our patrons, this mighty motion picture and advertise it through the medium of this famous show car."

The picture traces Rockne's life from his early childhood in Norway to his tragic death in 1931. The film, with Pat O'Brien cast as the Notre Dame football wizard, faithfully portrays a life full of excitement, despair, love and triumph.

FIFTH GRADE PRESENTS ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM

Grammar school's contribution to the observance of American Education Week and Armistice Day was a play, "The Sign of America," presented by the 5th grade under the direction of Miss Lily Albertson. The children made a mural depicting sections of America and labeled the sections 1. Mountains and rivers. 2. Lakes and woods. 3. Many farms. 4. Big cities. 5. Millions of people. ...

A fairy queen and helpers took the various gifts to make the sign. While waiting for the return of the fairies, the children sang "America, the Beautiful". The fairy helpers then entered carrying the sign of America which was a large American flag. Three speakers entered and recited "A Song of Our Flag" by Wilbur Nesbit. America told the significance of the colors, red, white and blue in the flag, and asked the children to remember that wherever they see this sign, the American flag, that it stands for America, the land of the free. ...

Rev. J. Y. Bowman Makes Talk to Student Body

The fourth in a series of talks by the ministers of Sanderson was made by the Rev. J. Y. Bowman Monday morning on "Living Dangerously." He mentioned three words—Stop, Look and Listen—America's best known signal which has saved countless thousands of people tragic deaths, and another caution signal not so well known, "Safety First." "It is not to these signals I would direct your attention, but in contrast my subject is, 'Living Dangerously,'" he said. "We have all seen ponds of water after rains. After they stand for awhile the water becomes stagnant because of standing still, while the water that tumbles down the mountain side is clear and good to drink, so I caution you to do something." "Around the Mediterranean Sea many things of importance have happened and a great deal of human history has been enacted. Before anything was known about this side of the world there was inscribed three words in Latin on the pillar of Hercules which mean "Nothing More Beyond." One day a man had courage to go out and see if he could find anything worth investigating beyond and as a result discovered a new world. Other religious men did what Columbus did. A young man named Abraham was dissatisfied and dared to lead his people into a new land and establish the Hebrew race and Hebrew religion. We have just observed the traditional Thanksgiving season which was observed first by a little band of people who dared to face peril for something worthwhile. Now we are living in dangerous times. Boys and girls in school are getting the inspiration that will carry them out into the world and keep America great, but America cannot be kept great by sitting down and doing nothing. America needs men who are willing to risk their lives to keep America great and to keep America free. The accusation is being brought against American people of becoming soft and easy. We are facing dangerous times, times filled with pressing problems, but times filled with opportunities which should challenge us to service.

"A word of caution—you are still young, developing bodies and minds. Do not get too anxious to go out into the world—do not grab a dull ax and go out, but stay in school and do not let anything take you away from your school life. Do not say 'I can take it easy now and later I will work and do something' because now you are determining what you will be in the future. You are either getting preparation or a lack of it.

"Finally, we worship as our Savior and our God a man who dared to live dangerously, a man who dared to give his life to work to save others. May God help us one and all to be as daring, to face duty as unflinchingly as He did."

JUNIOR BUSINESS CLASS STUDIES VOCATIONS

The students in the Junior Business Training class have been working on a unit in vocations in which they studied a large number of representative occupations in relation to the ability requirements, and at the same time discovered their own interests and abilities in relation to those requirements.

They learned that there are two reasons why so many fail to "make good" at the job of earning a living. 1. Many have never had proper guidance—they have not learned that there are scientific ways to plan for earning a living; and 2. planning for the future requires more concentration and will power than many people possess.

The unit included first, self-analysis. The pupils learned that in selecting a vocation they should get a thorough understanding of themselves so that they may determine what they want to do and what the can do, and that discovering "What Kind of Person Am I?" takes much time and effort. This analysis included a study of school, physical, and health records, special aptitudes and abilities, special interests, outstanding personal characteristics and educational opportunities.

Third, the unit included the understanding of job requirements. There are many things one should know about an occupation before he can make an intelligent choice and before he can tell whether he would like the work or whether he is fitted for it. The following outline is used as a guide for the study of occupations:

What is the present status? What appear to be the future prospects? What are the jobs or divisions of work? In what jobs may a beginner start? What are the steps to better jobs? What are the educational requirements? What vocational training is required? What are the physical and personal requirements? Are there capital or other requirements involved? What wages are paid? What income may be expected? What are the working hours? Are there health hazards? Is the work safe? What are the compensation provisions? Does the work offer security? Permanency? Are there opportunities for advancement? Where may training be secured and what is the cost of training? How long is the required training period? The study of different vocations will continue throughout the year. Each pupil selects one particular occupation he is interested in, gets all the information he can about it and prepares a term report.

A minister tells of a strapping fellow who brought his demure young bride to church for matrimonial purposes.

"According to my usual custom," says the minister, "I turned to the bridegroom at a certain part of the ceremony and said: 'John, this is your lawfully wedded wife.' In the excitement of the occasion John turned in the direction of his newly acquired lifemate and stammered: 'Pleased to meet you.'"

"It's his second—let's ask him why he picked the Gas Refrigerator this time!"

"Uncle Harry's a smart old boy," says Mary to me. "If he chose the refrigerator that freezes with NO MOVING PARTS for his second... maybe we should choose it for our first!"

1 "No moving parts to wear..." Uncle Harry explains, when we ask him "How come?" "You see, this freezing system hasn't any machinery. It simply can't wear or become noisy. Just listen to Servel Electrolux!"

2 "Can't hear a sound, Uncle..." we agree. "Is Servel always like that?" "You bet it is," he says. "And it's the only refrigerator I know of that is. You don't hear anything now—and you never will as long as I have it."

3 "Look at these savings, too..." he beams, showing us his bills. "They're something. Other refrigerators may be pretty inexpensive to run when new, but it takes one with no moving parts to run for only a few cents a day...year after year."

4 "A tiny flame does all the work..." adds Uncle Harry. "That's Servel's secret. Nothing in the freezing system so wear out or make a noise... Do you wonder I changed to a Servel Electrolux for my second refrigerator?"

5 "Let's make ours a Servel!" That's what more and more people are saying every year... whether they're replacing old, worn-out automatic refrigerators, or buying their first ones. Take a tip from those who've had experience: get a Servel yourself! The 1940 models are on display in our showrooms right now... more beautiful, more full of modern conveniences than ever before. Come in... pick the model you want, and begin enjoying the advantages of refrigeration without moving parts yourself!

DEATHS BY FIRE SHOW DECREASE IN SEPT. AND OCT.

Austin—A sharp decline in the number of fire deaths during the months of September and October was reported today by Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner.

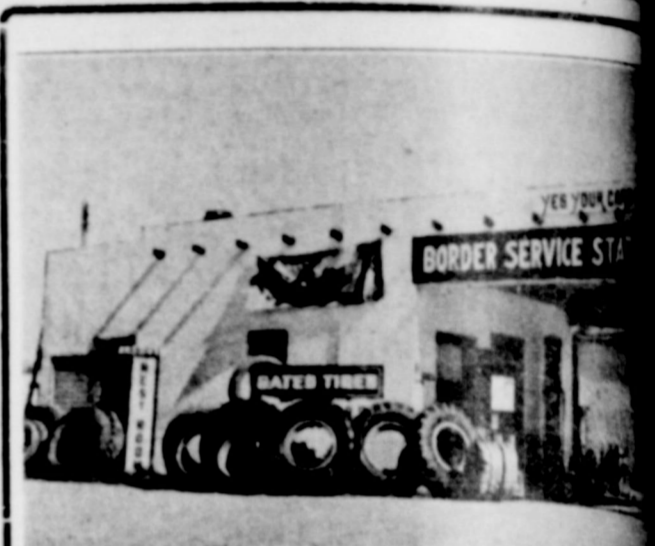

The monthly average through August had been approximately 32 deaths, but only 47 Texans were burned to death during September and October. This report reflects a great deal of improvement, but the record is far from perfect," he said. "Our most dangerous fire-death months are upon us, and I want to impress upon every person the importance of exercising caution, particularly in the homes."

The number of fire deaths for the first ten months of the year totalled 337. The leading causes of fatal burns were standing too close to open fires, improper use of gasoline, lack of proper exits, explosions.
