Miss Ethel Laura Nance Becomes Bride of R. C. Haley in Candle-Lighted Ceremony

MRS. RICHARD C. HALEY

In a candle-lighted ceremony Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the home of Sheriff and Mrs. J. S. Nance, their daughter, Miss Ethel Laura, became the bride of Richard C. Haley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haley. The Rev. Taft Holloway, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated using a double ring ceremony.

The improvised altar, in front of the fireplace, was decorated with large baskets of pink gladioli against a background of fern and greenery and lighted by tall white tapers burning in crystal holders.

Guests arrived to strains of a program of pre-nuptial music played by Mrs. E. J. Chastain, who also accompanied D. L. Duke who sang, "I Love You Truly." She also played Lohengrin's Wedding March, the first strains of which announced the entrance of the bride and bridegroom. B. F. Davis, cousin of the bride, was best man and Miss Ruth Murrah was maid-of-honor.

The bride's dress was of russet brown chiffon with white accessories. She wore a corsage of gardenias. For the traditional something old she wore a cameo lavalere belonging to her mother and for something borrowed and blue she carried a handkerchief. The maid-of-honor, Miss Ruth Murrah, wore a frock of white with matching accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Following the wedding an informal reception was held for members of the family and immediate friends. The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with pink roses and shasta daisies, flanked by crystal candelabra holding white tapers. The wedding cake, a 3-tiered confection of white with pink rosebuds and decorated with a miniature bride and groom, was served by Mrs. Tol Murrah. Miss Jane Ord served the punch.

Organizations Can Purchase U. S. Defense Bonds

AUSTIN. — The following statement by Frank Scofield, State Administrator:

"Lately it has come to my attention that a number of fraternal organizations, unincorporated associations, such as lodges, churches, or societies, have desired to purchase bonds but have been refused the right inasmuch as they are organizations of this character.

"I would like to take this opportunity to correct this misunderstanding because Defense Bonds and Savings Stamps may be purchased by any private corporation or association, whether incorporated or unincorporated, any partnership, trust funds, retirement or pension funds, any sovereignty, such as a State, County, City, Town, Village, or School District, any constituted public body such as a board or commission.

Picture Industry Making Every Effort For National Defense

Citizens of Texas are thinking in terms of Defense Bonds and Saving Stamps. Everyone seems anxious to help and are casting their mites in way of Defense Stamps. They know that Canadian people were asked recently to subscribe $600,000,000 to put over Canada's Victory loan that these friends on the north went over the top by buying $710,598,950 of these securities.

The secretary of the treasury, Henry Morgenthau Jr., said:

"Defense Saving Bonds and Stamps give us all a way to take a direct part in the building of the defense of our country—an American way to find the billions needed for National Defense.

"The United States is today as it has always been, the best investment in the world. This is an opportunity for each citizen to buy a share in America."

R. E. Griffith, Dallas, president of Wes-Tex Theatres, a string of show houses covering West Texas, has presented each member of the organization with a card bearing $1.00 Saving Stamps, according to Carlton White, manager of the Princess Theatre, Sanderson, states that not only is the personnel of the Princess Theatre and other members of the Wes-Tex organization 100 per cent Savings Stamps purchasers, but the show houses are co-operating in running films which have National Defense the main subject, in trying to interest the general public in buying Savings Stamps and U. S. Defense Bonds.

Texans Give Oil To Great Britain

JOHN F. CAMP, San Antonio oil operator, heads the "Oil for Britain" movement by Texas producers to lift the shutdown to permit an extra day's allowable from their wells to be given to the President of the United States with the request that it be released to the people of Great Britain. The plan sponsored by Camp, when perfected and given final approval by the Texas Railroad Commission, should make available to Great Britain a million barrels or more of Texas crude. The Texas gift is to be made direct to the President who, in turn, will pass it on under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act.

The San Antonio man has already donated 5,000 barrels of regular production from his wells. In acknowledging the gift, President Roosevelt said: "This gift demonstrates that democracy in action is not a bare and meaningless phrase; it symbolizes the spirit of patriotism and unselfishness which exists throughout the country today."

To clasp her hand in the better

Never to part again."

NEW BOOKS

THE KEYS OF THE KINGDOM

A. J. Croin's first novel since THE CITADEL, August Book-of-the-Month.

In its choice among books of so many kinds I doubt whether the committee has ever decided more timely for our present season. The reader needs and must have his mitigating escape from incessant anxiety. This novel which has no bearing upon our present horrors, is nonetheless full of invigorating courage. Those who benefit by its magical melodrama will be grateful for hours in which they will not hear the world-tempest at the window. Such are the keys to the kingdom of fiction." — Christopher Morley.

NEIGHBORS

The Uvalde Leader-News—The past week end was marked by unusually heavy rains over this entire part of the State, varying in different localities from one to six inches or more.

At Uvalde 2.86 inches was recorded last Tuesday night and on Monday .05 was recorded, to bring July rainfall to 41 of an inch above the normal average for the entire month.

The past week or ten days also has been marked by extremely hot, sultry weather, although the highest temperatures recorded this summer has been only 101 degrees, recorded on both July 9 and 10. Weatherman Harry Carper blames the oppressive heat of this week on "humidity." Absence of the usual breeze prevalent in this section has made the weather seem much hotter than the temperatures of from 96 to 98 degrees recorded this week would indicate.

The State Observer—As Governor W Lee O'Daniel left on an inspection tour last week of national defense camps and projects in Texas, sources close to the Governor advanced the suggestion that he would take the oath of office as U. S. Senator on August 4.

While without official confirmation, the suggested schedule for the Governor-Senator-elect and his family included a mansion wedding for Daughter Molly to Jack Wraether, Jr.—for which event Molly and her mother were shopping in Dallas.

The Governor's trip includes inspection of planes at Fort Worth, Sheppard Field at Wichita Falls and Saturday he was guests of Major General William S. Key in a review of the 45th division at Camp Barkley.

The Monahan American—Murray J. Howze, Ward county U. S. O. Chairman, is in receipt of a warning from National Headquarters of the U. S. O. that "fake" solicitors are operating in some locations. Mr. Howze warned Ward County citizens to only to make contributions to local members of the county committee.

Ward County quota has been raised, but local people wishing to make contributions at this time may make them to Mr. Howze, W. F. Harwell, Secretary, Tom Tunstall or any other member of the Ward County Committee.

The Ozona Stockman—Crockett countians and former Crockett countians will gather from far and wide in Ozona next Tuesday to take part in the Old Settlers Reunion and home-coming in celebration of the county's fiftieth anniversary.

On that day Crockett county is putting on a celebration for home folks much after the style of the patriotic celebrations on the Fourth of July that have been a tradition in Ozona since the county's beginning fifty years ago. Of course, everybody who cares to come will be welcome, as always in Ozona, but no attempt is being made to stage a show of the magnitude of this city's former radio and racing event to attract visitors from far and wide—just a one-day gathering of old timers and all Crockett County residents for an old-fashioned celebration.

Nuces Valley News—Mr. and Mrs. Derby from Sanderson, spent the week-end with his brother Mr. and Mrs. Richard Prince.

The Livestock News—J. B. Gambrul, one of the government trappers of this county, is having very good luck catching coyotes recently, considering that so many have been caught, lessening the number of such animals to be found. Gambrul came here recently from Culberson county.

They Say, in Eagle Pass Guide—The war of "communiques" continues with unabated ferocity, both sides winning tremendous victories and the casualties so great that both Russia and Germany have now annihilated each other. So many airplanes have fallen that they are now shooting those that were planned to be built.

Texas Mohair Weekly—Showers continue to fall over a majority of Edwards county, and from reports revised this week, we gather that every section of the county is now in excellent condition along range line, and that weeds and grass provide all that is needed in livestock raising. Creeks throughout the county have been flushed out during the past week, and the East Nuces was on a five-foot rise last week-end.

The Wink Bulletin—The Wink Lions Club is endeavoring to procure a great from the Board of Regents of the University of Texas for the use of a strip of land adjoining the government airport on the south for the use of private owners who wish to erect hangers. Permit has already been granted by Mr. Anderson, who has the land under lease for grazing.

The Iraan Herald—A six-pound yellow cat which lived in the Llano River proved too piggy for his own good and, as a result, honors of catching him to go two youngsters. The fish took both their hooks at about the same time.

The boys, Vernon Gavitt, 11 and Jim Merkel, 12, were fishing in the river in the city of Llano. They were using pole and line. Suddenly each felt a jerk on his line and started hauling it. They soon found the same cat-fish had hooks from each line firmly embedded in its mouth. The boys, according to the Austin American-Statesman, nearly lost the fish when one line broke when the cat was near the bank. Young Merkel grabbed the prize with his hand and received several bad cuts from the fish's fins.

A You can cash your Bond at any time, after 60 days, for the full amount paid, plus any interest due you.

It is said that the trail was used by the Comanches in making raids into Mexico. The Indians set out on their raid every year on the September Moon, and that moon came to be known to the Comanches as the "Mexican Moon" and to the Mexicans as the "Comanche Moon". The trail was explored by Lts Hartz and Echol in 1859 while they were experimenting with camels for use by the United States army. Why not demand a nominal fee on such copy, and thereby get something besides a headache out of it? How long do you suppose it would be before this cluttering up of the editor's desk would stop?

In Lampasas a long time ago a young fellow of foreign extraction put in a picture show. One day he called on the editor of the daily paper, and said: For why you don't put my show in your paper? I furnished you with news items about so-and-so in so-and-so at my show? It help fill up.

The editor, an elderly man, replied: That would be advertising and you have made no arrangements for running an advertising account. The young fellow came back with "Dot's not advertising, dot's news. News, news, I told you, to help the paper out. News! bah, you don't know what news is. After about forty years in the service the editor thought he did know where to draw the line between news and advertising and told the young man so. One word, and then another brought on an argument which the newspaperman ended abruptly by grabbing the broom and running the upstart out of the office.

Nothing more came of the incident until about three days later when the young man came by the office and the editor who had chased him out with the broom, was sitting in the doorway. The young man stopped and accosted the editor with I told you, if I lose my head like you did the other day, there be a fight already once.

Just another case of trying to work a harassed editor out of some free publicity, by cajoling him into the belief he was being helped beyond degree in the matter of publishing paper. But it didn't work in this instance, as it should not in the present day offers of help.

For two days this week, Monday and Tuesday—citizens of Sanderson were regaled with "canned music" from the advance truck of the Plainsman, which showed at the Princess Theatre. Late and modern tunes, and tunes of the 'gay nineties, awaken many a railroad man, who had worked the night before and was trying a daylight hitch to catch up with Phœdia Morphus. Of course the driver of the music truck did not hear what the awaken railroader had to say about the music nor to what place the whole show had been consigned.

A little girl told her mother one day that the garbage man was a Christian. How do you know he is? the mother asked. Well, the other day while carrying out our garbage can the bottom came out and the swill ran all over him, he stopped and I heard him talking to God. I know he must be religious!

The Plainsman, starring Gary Cooper as Wild Bill Hickok Jean

Arthur as Calamity Jane, and James Ellison as Buffalo Bill, played a return engagement here Monday and Tuesday nights to large audiences. The picture said to be the greatest outdoor picture of them all, is given up to be one of Cecil B. DeMille's greatest of all time productions. The company presenting the picture used an unquite lobby display as one of its publicity stunts.

A display of some eighteen saddles of ancient vintage, all classes and description, and a few oldtime rifles were used. The display attracted considerable attention, and no doubt greatly helps in making the picture a money-maker. Saddles of 50 and 65 years ago were shown in the group which also included a few sidesaddles, not only of ancient design but extinct, as far as manufacture and use is taken into account. Many young people of this generation had never seen a sidesaddle. To them the real article was an oddity. The sidesaddle went out when women began to wear men's pants, bob their hair, and take on other items of man's apparel, and more especially when women took to riding astride. It would be a sight to behold in this day and time to see a woman ride astride with the long riding habit which was in style when sidesaddles flourished. It couldn't be done, that's all.

An old farmer at the animal tent of the big circus stood looking at the giraffe. After gazing his fill and giving the animal the once over, looked up at his head then let his eyes rove down the giraffe's long slim neck, and as he turned to the next pen of animals his partner heard him muttering to himself: That Giraff-fy, tain't no sech animule, all I gotta say, igranny!"

Lately we bothered our mind with the question of how old is Terrell County, when organized, from what county was Terrell cut, and for whom named?

Realizing that the nearest distance between given points is a straight line, we went to some oldtimers. They didn't know. Still consumed with the question we asked several Sanderson residents for information. None was forthcoming. But at last the Texas Almanac, published by the Dallas News gave the answer, and here is what it says: "Terrell—In the lower Trans-Pecos, created and organized in 1905 from Pecos County, named for A. W. Terrell, author of Terrell election law. Average square miles 2,635; population 2,950; population to square mile 1.1; number of farms 128; autos reg-

The above article gives the Dreamer great hopes. 27 years is a long time to keep in mind a lost wedding ring, but with success at the end of that time gives one that "grand and glorious feeling." While time lasts there's still hope for the recovery of lost articles, and the Dreamer thinks there is a chance his lost ring will turn up, in time.

The purser of an ocean liner went to the Captain and said: Captain is anything considered lost when one knows were 'tis? No, you fool, it aint! Thank heaven to hear you say so, for I just dropped the silver overboard.

The other day while perusing weekly exchanges, one paper, which was lousy as to make-up and general composition, contained an excellent editorial anen; the war situation. It struck us as peculiar that an editor could write such really good stuff and allow his paper to carry the appearance of the tall end of hardtimes otherwise.

Then we got to paying more attention to the editorial columns of each paper examined, and came to the conclusion that some foreign company was really cleaning up in this western territory. All the papers examined patronized the same source—all editorial were identical in thought, wordage, each article run as original and as coming direct from the editor's versatile (?) pen. If an editor can't write a home-owned, home-produced editorial or news item, then why not try "Now is the time to advertise."

One time we worked on a paper where all this kind of copy written in New York or Chicago, or some other northern town, was used, but the editor gave proper credit. It was all run under a box head: "Canned Editorials."

This kind of reading matter is all right but should be given some sort of credit line, even if paid for, and not passed to an unsuspecting reading public as original with the editor of the paper in which it appears.

In the present time no editor need exert himself to write anything. There is much propaganda being scattered around, and loads and loads of publicity of this and that and the other organization seeking recognition through the press. all free, of course, just to "help" the editor get out a paper without too much brain work or exertion of any kind. The copy is being sent for a purpose, the editor is led to believe he is helping himself, when in fact, he is just assisting some propagandist further his own interests.

'The Pinto Kid' Shows Action of Old West

In a swiftly-paced narrative said to be ideally fitted to his 2-fisted, gun-flaming talents as an outdoor action star, Charles Starrett returns on Friday Aug. 1 to the Princess Theatre screen in his newest Columbia picture, "The Pinto Kid." Lovely Louise Currie, a newcomer to the screen, is cast opposite the hard-riding star, and the singing Sons of the Pioneers again supply tuneful range ballads in support of the star.

"The Pinto Kid" is a hoof-thundering story of the old West, just after the Civil War. Hatred for the South still played a part in the new frontier and a cattleman from Texas discovered, in addition to that lingering antagonism, the more understandable dislike of Northern ranchers who feared that Texas cattle would destroy their own business.

As "The Pinto Kid," Starrett rides into such an unwelcome scene, bringing with him a herd of cattle for sale. He meets and is attracted to the lovely owner of a Northern ranch and he runs into a mess of trouble when efforts are made to pin him on a bank holdup and a rustled cattle herd.

It isn't until Starrett's daring courage, after exciting and breath-taking adventures, has exposed the true culprit and rid the countryside of a terror-bent

Priscilla Lane Stars In Comedy

"Million Dollar Baby," starring Priscilla Lane, Jeffrey Lynn and Ronald Reagan, makes its local debut Saturday at Princess Theatre. In the featured supporting cast are May Robson, Lee Patrick, Helen Westley, George Barbier, Nan Wynn, John Qualen, Walter Catlett and many other well-known players.

The new film is a delightful romantic comedy dealing with the adventures of a shoppirl who inherits a million dollars. Pretty Priscilla Lane, star of the "Four Daughters" series, is, of course, the "Million Dollar Baby," and Jeffrey Lynn, her "Four Daughters" sweetheart, is the young lawyer who first brings her news of her inheritance, then stays to sue for her hand Ronald Reagan, popular young star of "Brother Rat," who won such wide praise for his work as George Gipp in "Klute Rockne—All American," is cast as the cynical young composer who is in love with Priscilla, too, but prejudiced against her money. Veteran May Robson plays the eccentric old woman who gives Priscilla the million dollars for reasons of her own.

THE PASSING OF THE Boomtown

Oil boomtowns exist today only in the movies. The old-time "gusher" wells are gone forever.

In the early days, as long as oil flowed, the boomtowns flourished. But soon the wells failed and the booms collapsed, carrying with them the income and security of those who had depended on them.

Today, through a sound program of conserving oil and gas, hundreds of Texas communities are enjoying a permanent type of petroleum development. Furthermore, because of conservation, we have the largest oil reserves in the world, one of our greatest assets for National Defense.

Oil now builds stable communities. It provides assured tax revenues and greater ultimate tax returns than were ever possible in boomtown days. And every citizen benefits from the income oil creates.

Conservation not only protects Texas oil resources. It also assures for many years the prosperity which oil brings to every community where it is found.
