WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

The Fort Davis Dispatch—One of the few buffalo herds in the United States is located on Reynolds Brothers ranch out past McDonald Observatory. This ranch has only 700 sections and is in the wildest part of Jeff Davis County, so the buffaloes have quite a territory over which to range. During the fall, however, the herd has frequently been seen grazing near the road which leads into the mountains from the observatory.

The herd is now made up of about 41 head of fine specimens of this native American animal.

Many tourists and vacationists have made the trip into the mountains to see the buffalo in their native habitat. They are very gentle and may be inspected at close range.

The Menard Messenger—F. M. Richards received three buffaloes Tuesday which he has placed on his ranch in this county. The herd consists of a two-year-old bull, a four-year-old cow and a two-year-old cow.

Mr. Richards bought them from a man at Harmon, New Mexico, paying $100 a head for them—Brady Standard.

The Eagle Pass Guide—There are Lifters and Leaners in every town. Which are you? Do you help make the town or do you expect the town to make you?

The Fort Stockton Pioneer—

The Pecos River has been falling gradually since the first of the week at Grandfalls and Girvin, and Tuesday morning both Highway 82 at the Grandfalls bridge and 67 at the Girvin bridge were re-opened to light traffic.

The Ozona Stockman—An already established record for the year 1941 climbed higher during the past week to push the total so far this year to near the 37-inch mark.

Last Thursday night brought 88 of an inch of rain which came on the heels of slightly cooler temperatures. Then early Wednesday morning a fall began which amount to torrentials proportions, the day's fall ranging to 2.5 inches, making the week's total 3.38 inches.

The week's fall, added to the 33.5 inches recorded for the year up to last week, shoves the total to the staggering figures of 36.88 inches—and still two and a half months to go on the year.

LITTLE STORIES

By WILL E. JAMES

Overheard on the football field Saturday: "No wonder these Sanderson boys are playing such good football, they have 12 players, the opposing team but 10."

"What do you mean, 12 players?" asked a listener. "Twelve men, exactly, 11 on their side and one man on the other. Watch that Monahans fellow pick out a Sanderson man to throw a pass to, watch him."

Be sure to attend next Saturday's football tilt between the home squad and Alpine. The old dope bucket is due a mighty jolt when an "irresistible force"—something's got to happen. Both teams have never been defeated this season, and only Alpine has been scored upon. Come out and witness the collision. It will be a clash to tell your grandchildren about. The Eagles need your support; encourage them by a good turn-out.

Let's get behind our boys and push Maybe with our influence, encouragement, and financial help, Alpine will topple. Who knows?

Did you ever climb one of the hills which surround Sanderson? Well, take a phool's advice, and don't attempt it, especially if you happen to be a cripple and resort to the use of a cane.

FOOD PRESERVATION

Orange Marmalade

3 oranges
3 lemons
3 cups water to each cup fruit sugar—equal measure with fruit plus water.

Cut off a thick slice of rind at each end of fruit, and discard, because its use would make the marmalade bitter. Shred one measure fruit. Place in a smooth preserving kettle with water, and allow it to stand 24 hours. Cook by boiling for 10 minutes; set aside for another 24 hours. Measure to determine the amount of sugar to be used. Cook fruit and sugar until the juice gives the test for jelly. Only a few minutes will be required. Fill medium-sized jelly glasses previously sterilized, cover with paraffin and store in a dark place. This recipe will make 15 or 20 glasses.

SCOUT "HANGER" DRIVE

The Sanderson Boy Scouts had a coat hanger drive in which they collected 2,180 coat hangers. They received $10.00 for the hangers. The winning patrol was James Kerr's Horse patrol which collected 900. The members of the patrol are: Roy Davis Holt, William Talbot, Monte Goode, Jubber Bowden, Billy Carter, Willy Grigsby, Doye Wells, and James Kerr.

Twenty boys of the Scout Troop went on a hike Saturday, September 27. Leaving the Scout house early in the morning, they hiked up the Sanderson draw near the rock crusher. Here they cooked breakfast, and according to the scouts it was very good. Following this, a game of football was played on the football field. Fresh water from the Kerr windmill filled the empty canteens after the game. A very successful dinner was cooked and several scouts passed tests.

That afternoon several cars took the scouts to Longfellow Lake where many of the boys passed their swimming tests. Scouts were: Junior Trotter, Jack Lester, Jack Duke, Bill Savage, Billy Joe Short, Frank Stavley, Gene Thompson, Harry Brown, Eldridge Murray, Floyd Harrison, Francis Grigsby, Willie Grigsby, Don Frazor, Sid Surratt, Earl Pierson, David Thompson, Clyde Griffith, Ben Moorefield, Charles Yeates, William Talbot, Freddie Talbot and Joe House.

PEP RALLY

A 30 minute pep rally was held at the high school Friday afternoon in preparation for the Monahans game. Some songs and yells were given by the student body, and talks were given by the football boys and coaches.

DEFENSE QUIZ—

Q. Do retail stores receive any fee or percentage for the sale of Stamps?

A. No. The retail stores are offering their facilities as a patriotic service, just as banks, savings and loan associations, and others are giving their help in the sale of Defense Bonds.

Q. How can I form the thrift habit necessary for me to buy many Defense Bonds now, to help the Government?

A. The easiest way is to instruct your employer or banker to hold back a small fraction of your salary or other income. Even 10 cents a day and a dollar on your birthday will mount up in one year to $37.50, the purchase price of a $50 Defense Bond. Bigger savings buy bigger bonds.

NOTE.—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest postoffice, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., for a mail order form.

THE RECORD . . . Facts That Concern You

THERE GOES A TIRE! ...but why junk the car?

Any car can have a blowout in a tire. But you wouldn't junk the car. You'd just fix the tire—or replace it.

That's very much like a situation that exists in the retailing of beer. Beer retailing has its "flat tires," too—retailers who disobey the law or who permit unsavory conditions.

To protect your right to drink good beer, we of the beer industry want to eliminate the few "flat tire" retailers. Here's another reason: Right here in Texas, beer has provided employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and paid $2,273,968.64 in state taxes last year.

The state, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for material, equipment and services—from more than 100 other industries.

Those benefits are worth preserving. You can help us preserve them by patronizing only the reputable and legal places where beer is sold and by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

LIFE OF A SENIOR

By Lois Osgood

Bryan Ross Stavley, that brown haired boy with blue-gray eyes, and a star of the Sanderson football team, was born April 17, 1924. He already realizes that he is getting old because he tries to make believe that he is only sixteen and everyone knows he is at least seventeen years old.

This year in school, Ross is taking English IV, Bookkeeping, Civics and Physics, his favorite being Physics. "For Whom the Bell Tolls" is his favorite literary book, and he says that he likes it because it tells the truth.

When asked his favorite colors he reported that he liked blue a little bit, but that brown eyes were a lot prettier. "Yours," is his favorite song.

In food he likes everything except turnips and his favorite is chicken. "Chilli con carne" and "Hot Tamales" are his main by-words.

Betty Grable is his favorite movie star and to see her act when a certain pair of brown eyes are round, is his heart's delight. His favorite people are the high school kids and ex-seniors.

Ross likes football better than any other sport. He does not have any special plans after he graduates but he plans working as hard at whatever it is as he has done in school.

New Flour and Bread

By Debbie Nunn

Some time ago the head men of the milling, baking and chemical industries, vitamin hunting scientists, famine fighting physicians and government experts had a meeting.

Their common purpose was to find ways and means of restoring to American flour the life-giving substances removed by the modern wheat milling process.

What is this "enriched" flour? It looks and tastes like the white flour we have been used to, (some is slightly darker) but it contains specified amounts of at least two vitamins, thiamin (B1) and nicotinic acid, and one mineral, iron.

These added vitamins and minerals are often the same ones that a physician will prescribe in case of illness or run-down condition.

This enrichment of flour and bread, which should cost consumers little or nothing, will help make a stronger, healthier nation.

SHS

Food Preservation

The need of food production and preservation in time of National Defense has been the study in H. E. Ila.

A good diet is necessary to build us physically, spiritually, and morally. Food might become scarce during the present emergency and food prices are already advancing rapidly.

Homemakers can provide good diets and save on food by producing some food at home and preserve or can it.

Frame gardens were also discussed and the following decisions reached: They should be from four to five feet wide and any desired length. They should be covered with some cheap muslin, and be so fixed as to be able to lift the muslin top off. To keep soil rich and in good tilth, use well rotted manure which should be spaded up to ten inches or more. The garden can be watered with dish water. Winter vegetables such as spinach, carrots, parsley, lettuce, radish, mustard greens and turnips can successfully be raised in these gardens.

If we have surplus food on hand it might be spoiled by yeast, molds or bacteria, but it can be preserved by canning, cold storage, exclusion of air, preservatives, and drying.

In class both the oven and hot water bath were used to can tomatoes and pickled beets. Apple jelly, apricot and pineapple conserves, grape conserves, and orange marmalade was made.

Apricot and Pineapple Conserves

1 lb dried prunes or apricots
1 1/2 qt. (6c.) water
2 cans pineapple, cut fine
1 c. seeded raisins
1/2 c. cranberries
Juice and rind of 2 lemons
2 c. walnuts meats, if desired

Wash dried fruit and soak over night; cook in the same water until soft. Remove stones from prunes. Mash to a pulp and add other fruit. Weigh fruit and add half its weight in sugar. Add ice water and cook until thick and jelly-like (about 10 to 20 minutes). Store in jelly glasses. Fill prepared jelly glasses to within one inch of the top; cool. When perfectly cool, cover them with melted paraffin and tin covers.

HOW TO SET A TABLE

In homemaking this year the girls have learned to set a table. To set a table properly, one must have a centerpiece of flowers or fruit.

The homemaking class has some very nice dollies. One set of them is blue and white checked; another is of oil cloth, and another is of salt sakes having the red and blue stripes.

It is best to have plain plates rather than some with flowers. Then use attractive foods and centerpiece to add color to the meal.

When setting a table the fork should be placed on the left side. The knife on the right with the spoon on the outside; the blade of the knife turned toward the plate. It is best to put your dollies, plates and silver about one inch from the edge of the table. Always have a glass of water. It must set directly over the knife.

The handle of the cup should be turned so as to be conveniently reached.

FOOD PRESERVATION

Orange Marmalade

3 oranges
3 lemons
3 cups water to each cup fruit sugar—equal measure with fruit plus water.

Cut off a thick slice of rind at each end of fruit, and discard, because its use would make the marmalade bitter. Shred one measure fruit. Place in a smooth preserving kettle with water, and allow it to stand 24 hours. Cook by boiling for 10 minutes; set aside for another 24 hours. Measure to determine the amount of sugar to be used. Cook fruit and sugar until the juice gives the test for jelly. Only a few minutes will be required. Fill medium-sized jelly glasses previously sterilized, cover with paraffin and store in a dark place. This recipe will make 15 or 20 glasses.

SHS SCOUT "HANGER" DRIVE

The Sanderson Boy Scouts had a coat hanger drive in which they collected 2,180 coat hangers. They received $10.00 for the hangers. The winning patrol was James Kerr's Horse patrol which collected 900. The members of the patrol are: Roy Davis Holt, William Talbot, Monte Goode, Jubber Bowden, Billy Carter, Willy Grigsby, Doye Wells, and James Kerr.

Twenty boys of the Scout Troop went on a hike Saturday, September 27. Leaving the Scout house early in the morning, they hiked up the Sanderson draw near the rock crusher. Here they cooked breakfast, and according to the scouts it was very good. Following this, a game of football was played on the football field. Fresh water from the Kerr windmill filled the empty can-tees after the game. A very successful dinner was cooked and several scouts passed tests.

That afternoon several cars took the scouts to Longfellow Lake where many of the boys passed their swimming tests. Scouts were: Junior Trotter, Jack Lester, Jack Duke, Bill Savage, Billy Joe Short, Frank Stavley, Gene Thompson, Harry Brown, Eldridge Murray, Floyd Harrison, Francis Grigsby, Willie Grigsby, Don Frazor, Sid Surratt, Earl Pierson, David Thompson, Clyde Griffith, Ben Moorefield, Charles Yeates, William Talbot, Freddie Talbot and Joe House.

PEP RALLY

A 30 minute pep rally was held at the high school Friday afternoon in preparation for the Monahans game. Some songs and yells were given by the student body, and talks were given by the football boys and coaches.

DEFENSE QUIZ—

Q. Do retail stores receive any fee or percentage for the sale of Stamps?

A. No. The retail stores are offering their facilities as a patriotic service, just as banks, savings and loan associations, and others are giving their help in the sale of Defense Bonds.

Q. How can I form the thrift habit necessary for me to buy many Defense Bonds now, to help the Government?

A. The easiest way is to instruct your employer or banker to hold back a small fraction of your salary or other income. Even 10 cents a day and a dollar on your birthday will mount up in one year to $37.50, the purchase price of a $50 Defense Bond. Bigger savings buy bigger bonds.

NOTE—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest postoffice, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., for a mail order form.

THERE GOES A TIRE!
...but why junk the car?

Any car can have a blowout in a tire. But you wouldn't junk the car. You'd just fix the tire—or replace it.

That's very much like a situation that exists in the retailing of beer. Beer retailing has its "flat tires," too—retailers who disobey the law or who permit unsavory conditions.

To protect your right to drink good beer, we of the beer industry want to eliminate the few "flat tire" retailers. Here's another reason: Right here in Texas, beer has provided employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and paid $2,273,968.64 in state taxes last year.

The state, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for material, equipment and services—from more than 100 other industries.

Those benefits are worth preserving. You can help us preserve them by patronizing only the reputable and legal places where beer is sold and by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

LIFE OF A SENIOR

By Lois Osgood

Bryan Ross Stavley, that brown haired boy with blue-gray eyes, and a star of the Sanderson football team, was born April 17, 1924. He already realizes that he is getting old because he tries to make believe that he is only sixteen and everyone knows he is at least seventeen years old.

This year in school, Ross is taking English IV, Bookkeeping, Civics and Physics, his favorite being Physics. "For Whom the Bell Tolls" is his favorite literary book, and he says that he likes it because it tells the truth. When asked his favorite colors he reported that he liked blue a little bit, but that brown eyes were a lot prettier. "Yours," is his favorite song.

In food he likes everything except turnips and his favorite is chicken. "Chilli con carne" and "Hot Tamales" are his main by-words.

Betty Grable is his favorite movie star and to see her act when a certain pair of brown eyes are round, is his heart's delight. His favorite people are the high school kids and ex-seniors.

Ross likes football better than any other sport. He does not have any special plans after he graduates but he plans working as hard at whatever it is as he has done in school.

New Flour and Bread Food Preservation

By Debbie Nunn

Some time ago the head men of the milling, baking and chemical industries, vitamin hunting scientists, famine fighting physicians and government experts had a meeting.

Their common purpose was to find ways and means of restoring to American flour the life-giving substances removed by the modern wheat milling process.

What is this "enriched" flour? It looks and tastes like the white flour we have been used to, (some is slightly darker) but it contains specified amounts of at least two vitamins, thiamin (B1) and nicotinic acid, and one mineral, iron.

These added vitamins and minerals are often the same ones that a physician will prescribe in case of illness or run-down condition.

This enrichment of flour and bread, which should cost consumers little or nothing, will help make a stronger, healthier nation.

HOW TO SET A TABLE

In homemaking this year the girls have learned to set a table. To set a table properly, one must have a centerpiece of flowers or fruit.

The homemaking class has some very nice dummies. One set of them is blue and white checked; another is of oil cloth, and another is of salt sacks having the red and blue stripes.

It is best to have plain plates rather than some with flowers. Then use attractive foods and centerpiece to add color to the meal.

When setting a table the fork should be placed on the left side. The knife on the right with the spoon on the outside; the blade of the knife turned toward the plate. It is best to put your doilies, plates and silver about one inch from the edge of the table. Always have a glass of water. It must set directly over the knife.

The handle of the cup should be turned so as to be conveniently reached.

Frame Gardens

Frame gardens were also discussed and the following decisions reached: They should be from four to five feet wide and any desired length. They should be covered with some cheap muslin, and be so fixed as to be able to lift the muslin top off. To keep soil rich and in good tilth, use well rotted manure which should be spaded up to ten inches or more. The garden can be watered with dish water. Winter vegetables such as spinach, carrots, parsley, lettuce, radish, mustard greens and turnips can successfully be raised in these gardens.

If we have surplus food on hand it might be spoiled by yeast, molds or bacteria, but it can be preserved by canning, cold storage, exclusion of air, preservatives, and drying.

In class both the oven and hot water bath were used to can tomatoes and pickled beets. Apple jelly, apricot and pineapple conserves, grape conserves, and orange marmalade was made.

Apricot and Pineapple Conserves

1 lb. dried prunes or apricots
1 1/2 qt. (6c.) water

2 cans pineapple, cut fine
1 c. seeded raisins
1/2 c. cranberries

Juice and rind of 2 lemons
2 c. walnuts meats, if desired

Wash dried fruit and soak over night; cook in the same water until soft. Remove stones from prunes. Mash to a pulp and add other fruit. Weigh fruit and add half its weight in sugar. Add ice water and cook until thick and jelly-like (about 10 to 20 minutes). Store in jelly glasses. Fill prepared jelly glasses to within one inch of the top; cool. When perfectly cool, cover them with melted paraffin and tin covers.

Special Awards For Garments Made By 4-H Clubbers

For the first time the American Wool Council, the Women's Auxiliary of the National Wool Growers' Association and the International Wool Secretariat are actively cooperating with the National 4-H Clubs and will present special prizes to girls designing and making the best wool dresses and suits to be exhibited at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Illinois, between November 28 and December 6.

In announcing the special awards, G. L. Noble, managing director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, declared that this additional step in the club's campaign to encourage useful activity in young people should meet with great enthusiasm in the wool growing regions where the girls have a particular interest in furthering the increased use of wool in all types of garments.

The special prizes, which will be awarded to those exhibitors reaching blue ribbon class, are complete chests of silver which will be given by the three organizations. Each exhibitor properly entered will receive a minimum award of three dollars, and those exhibits reaching the blue and red awards will share in additional cash award. Each garment entered must consist of a 1 two or three-piece tailored dress or suit of woolen or worsted fabric, with chief emphasis on design and color combination.

The American Wool Council, the Women's Auxiliary of the National Wool Growers' Association and the International Wool Secretariat may make a further showing of the prize winning garments in various parts of the country as examples of the skill of 4-H Club members.

FULL OF SOUND AND FURY

The draftees, in battle and maneuvers, carried broomsticks for guns and were told when they yelled bang! it meant they were firing a rifle; bang! bang! meant a machine gun; swish meant bayonet attack.

One draftee made an attack on another in a woods, yelling first bang, then bang bang then swish. Then he demanded that his victim give the signal that he was killed. But the other shouted, "You stupid lummox, didn't you hear me say chug-chug? I'm a tank."—Raders Digest.

Man (to neighbor): "I wish you would sell that dog Yesterday my daughter had to stop her singing because your dog was whining all the time."

Neighbor: "I'm sorry, but your daughter started it."

'Charlie Chan', 'Wild Geese Calling' Top Princess Billings

An internationally favorite detective, movies' mildest cowboy, a jail-breaking bank robber and a bald-pate comedian are on the bill for the coming week at the Princess Theatre.

"HIGHWAY WEST"

This story, coming Monday and Tuesday, is of a bride's battle against a husband who waited until after the ceremonies to reveal that he is a bank robber. Revived for a time by his capture, she finds another man who patiently woos, though is quite puzzled by her reactions toward him. The action of the picture begins when Mr. Husband escapes and on returning finds the situation well out of hand.

The scene of the final reckoning in which the "other man" straightens things out gives the episode its name.

The bride is played by Brenda Marshall, the husband by Arthur Kennedy and the other man by William Lundigan.

"WILD GEESE CALLING"

The best entertainment of the week will probably be seen in this drama of the Northwest. It appears Wednesday and Thursday. The novel of Stewart Edward White's has been turned into a picture with Henry Fonda as the two-fisted lumberjack; Joan Bennett as the dance hall queen; and assistance to the actions is lent by Warren Williams.

Fonda leaves his camp in search of Williams, an old buddy, and while enroute meets and marries Joan. The realization that the buddy and the wife were once sweethearts leads the lumberjack into action that makes up the film.

HALLOWEEN SHOW

The time for spooks and witches always brings around a horror picture and this year is no exception. "Charlie Chan at the Wax Museum," starring Sidney Toler, will be shown at the Princess beginning at 11:30 Friday night.

Everyone is acquainted with the mild-mannered Chinaman who goes about quoting Confucius while tracking down the murderer. This time he finds his prey in a Wax Museum, which has been turned into a gang-

DOUBLE FEATURE

Gene Autry will mix it up with Leon Errol for honors on Friday and Saturday billing; former is one of his usual western dramas, and Leon in a slap-happy comedy. Smiley Burnette, of bulges and bangles, will assist the undeterable Autry in arranging things while crooning "Sunset in Wyoming."

Mousy Leon Errol finds difficulties with a mixture of his wife and an unescapable Indian in the comedy "Hurry, Charlie, Hurry." Indians, Errol met in Oklahoma, move in on him in his large small-town mansion, and the effects on wife and servants makes for the laughs.

Mrs. Jack Hayre visited in Waelder over the week-end with her parents.

Miss Myrtle Harrell, Miss Una Lee and Miss Pearl Howell visited in San Antonio during the week-end.
