CHAIN LETTERS ARE ILLEGAL

Postmaster Clyde Griffith requested the Times this week to make known to all residents of Terrell County and surrounding communities that it is unlawful for any person to mail any kind of chain letters and that persons found mailing them would be reported to postal authorities.

This warning came as result of information that many people had started chain letters in regard to Defense Stamps. Although the promotion of the sale of Defense Stamps was a commendable move, it was pointed out that it had been ruled that chain letters were a form of lottery and therefore illegal.

Postmaster Griffith stated that hereafter the mails would be watched closely for such letters and postal authorities would be notified immediately. He also pointed out that penalties for the offense ranged from a heavy fine and a term of imprisonment to being banned from the use of the United States mails either for mailing out or receiving a letter.

HOW MUCH

Is a Bank Worth to its Community?

You may know how much a week you should pay a good cook, bookkeeper or ranchhand, but how much are the services of a good bank worth to you?

A good bank's services should be worth what it costs the bank to handle your account, including a fair return on invested capital. By maintaining a compensating balance in proportion to your account's activity, or by paying a service fee on small, or highly active accounts, which otherwise would cause the bank a loss, you "do your part."

Sound banking requires support from the public as well as from bankers.

PAPER HOARDING WARNING

Drastic action under Priorities regulations may be taken against all persons who go beyond a "practicable working minimum" in building inventories, the OPM has warned all manufacturers, converters, users and distributors of pulp, paper and paper products.
Due to the unprecedented demand, the net supply of all types of paper as current levels of operation has risen to more than 21 million tons, OPM officials said, adding that the supply is not adequate to the establishment of unnecessarily high inventories for every consumer. Partly responsible for the heavy demand is the desire to increase inventories of supplies of pulp, paper and paper products, and materials used in the manufacture, printing and publishing thereof, brought on by fear of possible curtailment in the industry or increased prices.

Priorities Regulation No. 1 now prohibits users from accepting delivery of materials for inventories in excess of a practicable working minimum.

Facts About Your Income Tax Return

Some of the items that are deductible from gross income to determine net income are listed in this article. Lack of space prevents a full explanation of the various deductions. If in doubt on any item consult the nearest collector of internal revenue, deputy collector or internal revenue agent.

Typical business expenses of a mercantile establishment are amounts paid for advertising, hire of clerks and other employees, rent, light, heat, water, stationery, stamps, telephone, property insurance and delivery expenses.

A professional man may deduct all necessary expenses incurred in the pursuit of his profession.

A loss arising from "fires, storms, shipwrecks, or other casualty" need not be connected with the taxpayer's trade or business. If his home or his automobile is destroyed by fire he may claim a deduction for the loss sustained unless compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

Loss of property by theft is an allowable deduction. In general, taxes are deductible only by the person upon whom they are imposed. Certain taxes are not deductible, such as those assessed against local benefits, and the Federal income tax. The Federal tax of 10% on the retail sale of jewelry, furs, and toilet preparations is not deductible by the purchaser. Other taxes not deductible are those imposed on employees by the Social Security Act, Federal estate and gift taxes and State inheritance, estate, legacy, or succession taxes. The Federal taxes on automobiles, gasoline, cigarettes, and liquor are imposed upon the manufacturer, producer, or importer, and are not deductible by the purchaser or consumer.

Charitable contributions and gifts made by an individual are deductible within certain limitations, if actually paid within the year. The organization to which the gift is made, for example a corporation, trust, community chest, fund or foundation must be created in or organized under the law of the United States or any possession of the United States or under the law of any State or territory, or of the District of Columbia and must be organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals. Gifts to an individual are not deductible.

Amounts paid or accrued within the taxable year 1941 as interest on indebtedness are deductible, with certain exceptions, from gross income. The Internal Revenue Code provides for a "reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property used in the trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence." For convenience such allowance usually is referred to as depreciation.

Why was Marianne Duke so solemn and disappointed at nine o'clock Saturday night?
 Wilma Northcutt, how was the show Friday night?
 It seems that certain ones are always fussing but they always seem to make up. Isn't that right, Jacky and Clara Alice?
 Snooper wonders why so many are singing "Why Don't We Do This More Often?"
 Old Snooper wonders what some of the lower class girls are going to do when the seniors go on their trip. Just think, they will be gone ALL week-end.
 Maurine Frazier, you had better watch Lee. Kathryn Nell might beat your time.
 Why weren't you boys at volleyball practice Thursday? Mighty pretty girls there, boys.
 Joe Ross, where was your chewing gum Thursday. Sure missed the smacking.
 Earline, where does Glynn go on the week-ends?
 Allister was lonely Thursday afternoon, Marianne.
 Clara Alice, Jack Duke seems to like volley ball practice very much.

Dit-Daw Students Train for Future In Morse Code Club

This is not a secret message to a battleship or army post but just one of the Sanderson High School boys practicing his Morse Code before a meeting of the Club.
 The Morse Code Club was organized for the last part of this semester for the boys who want to learn it. There is now a great demand for men who can operate a key and who can receive over twelve words a minute.

Mr. Thornton is teaching the boys how to learn the code by sound of a buzzer rather than a sounder because of the more simple technique of the buzzer. The boys supply their own key and buzzer so that each will have his own material and they are able to take it home and practice. And too they may get together with other boys and send to one another.

Mr. Thornton says that every boy and girl who is taking Morse Code should be able to send and receive twelve words a minute by the time school is out.

H. E. Girls Explain Benefits Received From Home Practice

"Practice makes perfect" is the slogan used by the homemaking girls. In order to profit by what the girls study in homemaking classes at school, they must do some practical work at home. During the beginning of the semester, each girl chooses some type of work that she will do at home. The girls should select something which they feel would give them the most valuable experience. The variety of experiments of the first semester included the following:
 Learning to cook; preparing breakfast, or other meals; preparing Christmas dinner; cleaning and taking care of a room; taking care of a small child; redecorating a bedroom; choosing and making curtains; making a small table from an old stove; making-up the bed; decorating the home for Christmas.
 The following are some of the stories of the experiments as carried out by the students.
 Mary Nell Higgins: Project: Improving the kitchen.
 Why I took this project and what I expected to learn:
 The kitchen stove, now unused could be made over, and the kitchen looks improved. I expected to learn how to make curtains, and to learn ways to make a kitchen look attractive.
 Story of project:
 The first thing I did was to measure the old oil stove and buy a piece of wood to cover it. Next I had the corners of the wood rounded. I sand-papered it and applied two coats of varnish. I then painted the stove a color of green that harmonized with the colors in the kitchen. I thumbtacked a green plaid table cloth around the edge of the wooden cover and put it on the oil stove. This made an attractive table.
 The next thing I did was to make new curtains for the kitchen. I made the curtains for two windows and the door. The material was thin with red, green and gold dots in it.
 I helped mother make an uncooked fruit cake. This year I did more in the making of it.
 My criticism:
 In doing this project, I learned how to make something useful out of a discarded piece of furniture. I also learned how to smooth and paint. I also learned how to choose colors.
 Willie Faye Jeffers: Project: Keeping house and taking care of a two-year-old child.
 Why I took this project and what I expected to learn:
 I took this project in order to pay my room and board so I could go to school. I expected to learn more about managing the house in general, and cook well-balanced and low-cost meals.
 Story of project:
 On week-days I would do the following: In the morning before school, I got up at 7 o'clock and prepared breakfast and left it on the table for the family.
 In the afternoon when I got

 "Hitler's Goebbels", said a fellow to me last Tuesday, "should be able to use to good advantage this new time change."
 "For instance, he can tell the German people that the 'slave-masters' in Washington took from us one morning while asleep, an entire hour; and now they're making us go to work an hour earlier each day to make up for it."
 The conversationalist then bit into his inner jaw, glanced aside at the pigeons, and said:
 "If you have any scraps of either the wool yarn or cotton outing, give them to some girl in the Junior Red Cross or call or send them to the homemaking department at the high school."
 The outing will be used to make covers for hot water bottles.

and as though arguing with me counseled, "And yet there's the possibility that the German people won't never hear about the lost hour. After all, it gives us an extra hour each day to prepare for the fight."
 Again there was that doubt. Then the thinker reflected, "But what I can't figure out is, where did the hour go."
 At this a bystander, unknown to either of us quoth, "There's only one answer to that. That hour went where the pigeons go when they find out they're buzzards and not doves."
 I confess the explanation went wide of me as a target.

New Band Teacher, Sans Hobbies, Says Music Offers Many

Mr. H. C. Goldwire, new teacher in Sanderson High, is a local "boy". He knew a lot of his students when they were only little things. Teaching history and band, Mr. Goldwire has no hobbies. He says music has so many variations, you can find many hobbies in it itself.
 Before teaching in Sanderson, Mr. Goldwire taught band in Carlsbad High School, Carlsbad, New Mexico. He graduated from high school in Sanderson, went to Texas University, and did graduate work at Columbia University. He first taught in San Antonio.
 As for the band, Mr. Goldwire states that the students are doing well, but he would like to see more students in it. He has an order of all new music coming out, and with practice, hopes to have a band to compare with the best.

Junior Red Cross Seeks Scrap Cloth

The Junior Red Cross composed of the girls in Homemaking classes would like to have your scraps of wool yarn and cotton outing or flannel. The wool yarn, of any color or length is being knitted into blocks for room. We made a dressing table out of wood boxes and a piece of plywood. We put peach cloth around it. Around the quilt box I had for extra quilts we put light blue and painted a white lamb on it. We got a pretty white chenille bedspread with colored flowers. My bed is a light tan. The chest-of-drawers are a light tan and a desk is combined with it. The curtains are peach colored. The floor is of hard wood. I had so much fun redecorating my room. After I had finished my work, I had a very attractive room.

FOOD CONSERVATION URGED

Pledge Against Waste Asked by Consumers Division

Consumers are being asked to pledge against waste. The Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., is asking consumers to take care of their food. In calling on the nation's consumers to pledge against waste, the Government says:

Food builds the muscle and health of your family. Food gives the strength of your nation. We can't afford to waste it.

Revealing that the this year must be a quarter of the nation's production of food as well as supplies to Russia and other Allies. Secretary of Agriculture, Harold H. Wickard, said the nation's 60,000,000 farmers to grow more food.

Your Electric Refrigerator

A Powerful Weapon in the WAR AGAINST WASTE

A campaign against waste of all kinds—particularly of food—is being launched by the Consumers Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. "Buy food wisely, cook it carefully, stop and think before you throw away even a single tablespoonful of leftover potatoes," is the plea of this organization, which is asking consumers all over the nation to pledge themselves to a program of rigid conservation.
 Saving food is not only a patriotic duty; good household management demands it in these days of rising prices. Your electric refrigerator can be a big help to you in your personal program of food conservation. It prevents spoilage . . . permits you to utilize every scrap of leftovers . . . enables you to buy in quantities at bargain prices . . . and does all these things at the cost of a few pennies per day.
 There was a time when a certain amount of food spoilage in the home was unavoidable, but today, thanks to cheap electricity and your dependable electric refrigerator, you can prevent this waste . . . make your food and food dollars go further . . . and contribute to the war effort by helping to conserve an essential national resource.

Response of Red Cross Chapters Very Gratifying

The response of chapters for acceptances of war relief quotas including sewn and knitted garments, surgical dressings, and the more recent program of knitted garments for the armed forces, has been "overwhelmingly gratifying", according to information from the American Red Cross headquarters. "We deeply appreciate the fine spirit of unselfish service being shown by volunteers," stated Eula B. Stokely, director of volunteer special services.

"In many chapters, we realize that production chairmen are faced with the very real problem of lack of material to keep their volunteers working. Our nation is now at war and all normal processes of communication are curtailed. Not only are manufacturers having difficulty in filling orders promptly, but transportation is also slowed down on the delivery of materials", she continued.

"The requisitions for this government material have to clear through the Procurement Division and are subject to considerable delay before the shipments actually reach you. The orders for yarn for the Army and Navy sweaters and other knitted articles are placed direct with the manufacturer and shipments are made promptly.

"Owing to the fact that there is an obvious shortage of wool, Chapters should do their utmost to cooperate with the Office of Production Management."

CCC Seeks Members As Enrollment Drops; Payroll Plan Altered

Mr. J. S. Murchison, Executive Director of the State Department of Public Welfare, Austin, has just been advised by wire from the Directors Office in Washington, that the pay schedule for members of the CCC has been changed, as of February 1, 1942.

"For several years the members of the CCC were paid $8.00 cash, sent $15.00 home to their parents and saved $7.00", said Mr. Murchison, "effective this month changes allow the boys to get $12.00 cash, send $10.00 home and save $8.00. This is, of course, in addition to the food, clothing, medical attention and training all members of the Corps receive."

Mr. Murchison observed there is a great need for applicants for the CCC. Texas is being called upon for over 3,000 new men this month and every boy who desires to make application should do so at once, the enrollment will be on February 20th. Application should be made to the local office in each county of the State Department of Public Welfare.

"There are 8,000 Texas boys in the Corps now," said Mr. Murchison, "This is the smallest number in the years of its existence, but we are glad that there is so much employment in Texas that these boys must remain at home. However, the training in National Defense work is being increased in all camps and our boys are leaving camps to take good jobs in civil employment every month—our cooks, bakers, truck and tractor drivers are especially in demand."

Mrs. W. E. Lea returned last week from a month's visit in points in California, spending the majority of the time at Burbank with her son, Bob. He is employed with an aircraft company there.

Larry Horgan and William Lea left Sunday for Houston where Mr. Lea went for medical attention. Mr. Horgan returned the first of the week but Mr. Lea will remain there for several months.

THEY DIED WITH THEIR BOOTS ON

(Wednesday and Thursday)

If you're wondering just what did happen to General Custer when he and his 7th Cavalry met the Sioux Indians at Little Big Horn, there's a vivid description in the coming picture. "They Died with Their Boots On."

The story takes up with Errol Flynn as George Armstrong Custer enrolling at West Point just prior to the Civil War, and he graduates when the strife between the states breaks out. His feats during the struggle gain for him the later commission of General, which he aspired to for many years.

Olivia de Havilland is Elizabeth Bacon, who becomes his wife and who gains for him, on top of his record, his high position in the army. It is she who prevails upon the higher-ups to reinstate Custer after his release from the army with the end of the war. And at the end of it all we find a sorrowing widow, who can never believe her husband is dead.

Many picturesque characters crop up through the motion picture, among them being U. S. Grant, Phil Sheridan, Winfield Scott, and several others of the bloody war. Don't expect to see Robert E. Lee; he won't be there.

KATHLEEN

Shirley Temple, now twelve years old, has broken her retirement after a brief two years and is returning to films. That should please some people. But she's still the singing, dancing, tearful little earful.

Herbert Marshall portrays her widowed father, who waits a long time to find out just what his daughter expects of him.

Gail Patrick is the scheming would-be step-mother in search of riches, which Marshall, incidentally, has. Shirley has trouble with her.

HENRY ALDRICH FOR PRESIDENT

(Tuesday)

Advance publicity gives this show much promise of being a wow. Not that it's a great picture, it isn't, but that it's about kids—kid pranks and kid emotions. There's the school girl siren June Preisser; the 'steady', Mary Anderson; and the school villain.

The stars are mostly new, many of them hired for the first time for this picture, but they're good enough, and carry out a good performance of a race for high school president that includes all the campaign tactics of a Texas gubernatorial fracas.

Jimmy Lydon is Henry, John Little, father, Dorothy Peterson, mother and Martha O'Driscoll is sister.

UNDER FIESTA STARS

This is Gene Autry and Smiley Burnette again and they have added another member to their party. He is Tadpole, Frog's little (?) brother, and his main chore is to jeer Frog's technique with women.

Gene gets hold of a mine when the owner dies, but he gets hold of a partner at the same time. His job summed up is this: keeping the partner, Carol Hughes, from selling the mine; and proving the guilt of the villains. He does both.

ROYALTY COUPLE MARRIED HERE SAT.

Aubrey Puckett and Miss Marie Stephen, both of Royalty, were married here Saturday of last week with Mrs. Mabel Yeates, justice of the peace, performing the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Osgood left Tuesday of last week for Houston. Mrs. Osgood returned Friday but Mr. Osgood remained for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Sessoms and Mrs. W. E. Lea went to Del Rio Monday where Mr. Sessoms received medical attention. They were accompanied home Tuesday by Mrs. V. R. Gildea, mother of Mrs. Lea, who will visit here this week with her.

Mrs. James Daniel returned Wednesday from El Paso where she has been for the past two weeks visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Harrell.

ROOM For Rent—Outside and adjoining bath. Inquire Times.

Mrs. H. Colby Jones and baby daughter, Charlotte, left Thursday to spend several days with Mrs. Jones' parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Capehart, in Austin.

Mrs. Jack McKee returned Saturday from San Antonio where she had spent the past two weeks visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Maxey T. Hart.

Mrs. A. B. Gates and children spent the week-end in Houston where they visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Raney and children went to Charlotte and San Antonio for the past week. Mrs. J. W. Richardson returned to her home in Rocksprings with them after she had visited here for two weeks. She is a sister of Mrs. Raney.

AUXILIARY MEETS

The Presbyterian Auxiliary meets for Bible study at 3:00 o'clock Monday afternoon, February 16, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Lochausen. Mrs. Lochausen will present the last chapter in the series of Bible Lessons.

Miss Vashti Mixon and Miss Mae Featherstone visited Miss Mixon's sister, Mrs. Carl Eddins, in Pecos last week end.

Mrs. S. H. Underwood and son, Ross, are in Rochester, Minn., where Ross went for medical attention.
