FIRE DESTROYS FEED AT DEATON BARN FRIDAY

Volunteer firemen answered a call last Friday from the Jack Deaton ranch, where hay had caught fire in a small tin shed. Efforts to save the hay failed when the firemen ran out of water, but by pulling the burning feed out into the opening, away from the nearby barn, the flames were kept from spreading and did no further damage.

At the time, Mr. and Mrs. Deaton were in Fort Stockton, and the fire was discovered by one of the ranch hands who came to town and reported it.

Mrs. Anderson Holds Open House For Methodist W. S. C. S.

The beautiful new home of Mrs. Ben F. Anderson was opened to the Woman's Society of the Methodist Church, Monday afternoon, February 23, when that auxiliary met for their program and social meeting. Spring flowers of yellow jasmine, pink stock and plum blossoms decorated the rooms, and to give the Washington Birthday atmosphere, a miniature cherry tree with hatched, was placed on the dining table.

During the business session, plans were formulated for the year's work and committees appointed for various activities.

The subject theme "We Are Not Divided" brought out interesting topics and discussions of better racial understanding, social justice and brotherhood when presented by the program leader, Mrs. J. Y. Bowman and her assistants, Mesdames Neal Deaton, Wade and Gates. The booklet "Worship Services", was used by Mrs. Clyde Higgins in the devotional period, with songs, prayers, meditation and responses unfolding still further the idea of justice and tolerance.

An enjoyable social hour followed the program and guests were privileged to roam at will through the home of the hostess to admire its many novel features and beauty.

The patriotic color scheme was carried out in the serving of refreshments when Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Gayle Mussey, as co-hostess, served molded tri-colored salad topped with cherries, wafers and coffee.

Members present at the meeting were Mesdames Herman Ezzelle, W. B. Vincent, John Neal, A. B. Gates, John Deaton, Pat Beard, Lee Grigsby, Eliza Wade, H. C. Goldwire, Gayle Mussey, J. Y. Bowman, Clyde Higgins and Miss Kate Frazier.

J. H. Lochausen Jr. In Graduating Class Of Army Air School

Lemoore, Calif., Feb. 23—Aviation Cadet Jesse H. Lochausen Jr., of class 42-D, whose home town is Sanderson, Texas, completed the nine week period of Basic Training at the recently established Air Corps Basic Flying School, Lemoore, Calif. today.

While at Lemoore he engaged in a strict routine along with his classmates, all future flying officers, which is designed to give Uncle Sam's airmen the same fine training that they had before the outbreak of hostilities. This daily schedule includes a well rounded program of athletics, drill, ground school, flying, study hours, and recreation.

Entering this school from the Primary Training Detachment at Visalia, Calif., he already had 60 hours of flying to his credit; in moving on to Advanced Flying School for either single engine pursuit or twin engine bomber instruction, he has successfully concluded another 70 hours of flying in the BT 13-A training plane, 120 hours of ground school covering Military Law, Meteorology, Navigation, Radio Communications and code, and Airplane Mechanics, and he has passed strenuous flight checks and examinations.

This cadet is being trained in the West Coast Corps Training Center, which covers the eleven western states and is charged with supplying one third of the pilots in the United States each year.

War Department Personnel Office Opened in Lubbock

A new personnel office is opened in Lubbock to handle applications of men—and in some cases of women—who desire to volunteer their services to the War Department.

Many branches of the War Department are authorized to re-select commissions for men especially qualified for certain duties, over and above the officers to be commissioned through the Officers' Training Camps now in operations in dozens of army camps.

Many men of some military experience can be used in civilian jobs in the Army. And, in this connection some women can be used in administrative duties. To date, nothing has been announced from Washington on the status of the Army's plans for a woman's auxiliary organization.

Men—and women—who feel they have special qualifications which can be utilized by the war department, and especially men who are not in the "Class I" classification by their local draft boards can write to or call at headquarters, West Texas Recruiting District, Post Office Bldg., Lubbock, Texas. Their qualifications will be analyzed, and if it is thought they can be used by the War Department a detailed "Questionnaire" will be given to or mailed to the individual concerned.

When this Questionnaire is returned, it will be forwarded to the War Department, and there it will be carefully analyzed, and if there is a place for the applicant, he will be notified at once.

If there is no place where the applicant can be used, the Personnel Placement Agency of the War Department will classify and file the questionnaire, so that, if need develops later, the individual can be contacted quickly.

People writing to Headquarters, West Texas Recruiting District, Lubbock, Texas, are urged to give complete details, such as name, address, age, classification by local Selective Service Board, education, business and technical experience, and military experience, if any.

CONSTANCE DUNCAN

Constance Duncan Big Bend 'Ranch Girl' At Ft. Worth Show

Fort Worth—Selection of Miss Constance Duncan, of Alpine, as one of seven 1942 Ranch Girls who will participate in the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, Mar. 13-22 was announced this week by John B. Davis, secretary-manager.

She can set a steel coyote trap, spot a panther or bear as quickly as any man, and outshoot them after the quarry is discovered. On the side she is taking bayonet and manual of arms instruction in Alpine.

She will ride her Palomino, Forty-niner, in the Ranch Girls feature, an act of the world championship rodeo held in the Fort Worth indoor arena.

Sugar Ration Books To Be Ready Soon; Hoarding for Canning Is Unnecessary,

America's great sugar rationing program will begin in a few weeks. Like other tasks in the vast world-wide fight to preserve freedom, this program began as a job of printing. It is the greatest single job of printing ever tackled, though, by the Government Printing Office. It is a job which called for more than 700,000,000 forms and cards and booklets. These required between 11 and 12 million pounds of paper!

These little booklets and cards and forms are the tools with

A resolution to buy three $100 bonds was passed at the meeting of the Sanderson Culture Club, held in the ranch home of Mrs. Ira Deaton with Mrs. A. F. Buchanan as co-hostess.

Mrs. Deaton, chairman of defense stamps and bonds, reported that the ladies had purchased since January 1, $58.62 in bonds and $35.50 in stamps.

In the interest of the "Food for Freedom" campaign, the Texas Defense Commission presented a program in substitution of the regular program. Dissertations by the various members were as follows:

The "Food for Freedom" campaign, what it is and the necessity of it—Mrs. Sesoms; Conditions in America—Mrs. Will Savage;

Post-War World—Mrs. J. W. McKee;

What about the farm program defense production?—Mrs. Hugh Rose;

The club woman's responsibility—Mrs. J. W. Sesoms;

During the meeting, buttons and labels were sewed on Red Cross garments.

Refreshments consisting of cherry pie with whipped cream, coffee, and tea were served to Mesdames A. D. Brown, Joe Brown R. A. Gatlin, H. C. Goldwire, J. R. Link, J. H. Lochausen, O. H. McAdams, J. Peavy, Austin Nance, Mary Lou Kellar, J. S. Nance, Bustin Canon, Lee McCue, Tol Murrah, Walter Grigsby and R. D. Holt. Tea guests were Mrs. Ira Deaton and Mrs. Roy Deaton.

Mrs. W. E. Stavley is here this week from Del Rio visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Schuppach Sr.

which Americans are to build a monumental structure of self-sacrifice. There will be 190,000,000 copies of the War Ration Book itself, besides consumer application forms, trade registration forms, cards upon which retailers are to mount ration stamps taken in exchange for sugar. There will be printed instructions to local boards, instructions to consumers and registrants.

The amounts of these booklets and forms exceed the country's population, of course, since it is necessary to allow replacements for books that may be lost or destroyed, for births during the next six months and also for demand in certain communities greater than has been expected.

"This printing job was no small affair. The Army headquarters staff consulted maps. Other officials pored over population charts. Every possible approach to this unprecedented assignment was considered, tested, eliminated.

The job required 300 carloads of paper. Specifications were prepared, contracts were awarded. Six mills had to get to work on full-time production to turn out paper stock for the ration books alone. This was a very particular task, for a special paper had to be prepared to give protection against counterfeiting. Ordinary newsprint paper is to be used for the consumer application forms.

GLUE OR NOT TO GLUE

Another question: Should the backs of the ration stamps be glued? The experts finally said "no." That would have required more paper, to insert a protective sheet in each ration book. The solution was this: The glue will be on the card upon which the retailer mounts the stamps as they are collected.

Also, the ration book's 28 stamps had to be divided from one another by rules and perforations. Printing with perforated rules is not a common practice. The Government Printing Office tried this out. (Continued to back page)

FT. STOCKTON AIRPORT CLOSED TO CIVILIANS

Fort Stockton Pioneer—The status of the Pecos County airport 3 miles east of Fort Stockton remained uncertain this week, as government rulings effective Sunday prevented its use so long as a full-time guard is not maintained, and by the further requirement that any civilian flier must file a complete flight plan with the Civil Aeronautics Authority at Amarillo before taking off from any point. These rulings had the effect of closing the port and grounding local pilots.

The United States Army Air Corps, which seeks a lease on the port, has stipulated in a contract received this week by Judge H. H. Butz that only civilian craft having two-way radio facilities could use the port.

MAN WANTS LONGHORN OX TO REPLACE CAR—GOT ONE?

Ozona Stockman — Anybody have a nice, gentle Longhorn ox for sale?

If so, there's a ready market for him. No, a Hereford bull won't do.

Down here where sleek white-faced Herefords replaced the scrub of Longhorn stock before the turn of the century, and where there is an average of two motor vehicles to the family—somebody seeks to buy a good, gentle Longhorn ox.

And so may we before long if we don't hurry and slap the Jap back on his puny island.

The foresighted fellow who is preparing for the end of the automobile era, just in case, is a Wichita Falls, Texas, man who writes:

"I am in the market for a good gentle Longhorn ox. If you know of someone in your community who has one for sale, please give him this letter.

"State color, age, length of horns (from tip to tip) and the price."

We are still looking for someone to take the letter.

CIVILIANS WARNED AGAINST TAMPERING WITH TARGETS

Wink Bulletin—Officials at the Midland Flying School announced Tuesday that the Army has located a number of bomb targets in this vicinity, and that in the near future bombing operations will commence.

The type of bomb used is a practice bomb, but due to the fact that it contains three pounds of black powder, it could result in serious injury to persons who might tamper with it, field authorities warned.

Surrounding each bombing target, and spaced approximately one-half mile apart will be located sign boards approximately 6 by 8 feet in dimensions.

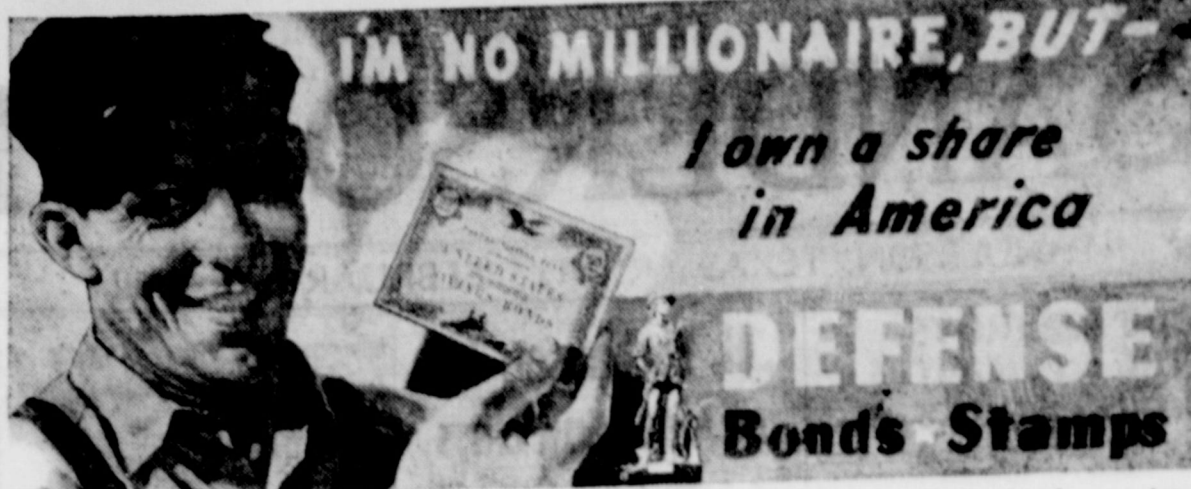

The sign will bear the following warning:

DANGER!
U. S. Army Air Force Bombing Range
KEEP OUT!

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE RICH to help American Defense. That's the theme of the above poster, one of the newest of the Defense Savings promotional pieces now going up in streetcars, on bulletin boards, and at other public places. This poster emphasizes the point advanced by the Treasury Department that every American can—and must—pitch in if the United States is to have the arms and the tools necessary to protect her freedom.

More than 750 demonstrations in livestock were given by 4-H Club boys in extension district six during 1941. Scores of these were in sheep, one of the principal industries of the southwest and trans-Pecos counties. Facts About Your Income Tax Return

Taxes due on a return filed for the calendar year 1941 may be paid in full at the time of the filing of the return on or before March 16, 1942. The tax may, at the option of the taxpayer, be paid in four equal installments instead of in a single payment in which case the first installment is to be paid on or before March 16, the second on or before June 15, the third on or before September 15, and the fourth on or before December 15, 1942. If the taxpayer elects to pay his tax in four installments, each of the four installments must be equal in amount, but the tax due, if any, should be paid in cash at the collector's office, or by check or money order payable to "Collector of Internal Revenue." In the case of payment in cash, the taxpayer should in every instance require and the collector should furnish a receipt. In the case of payments made by check or money order, however, the cancelled check or the money order receipt is usually a sufficient receipt.

As I Was Saying . . .

By Aynah Nemus

Several boys from some of the nearby army posts were sitting in a local cafe a night ago discussing on various subjects as they came to mind and I interrupted them (rude of me, yes) with the question, "How did you come to be in the army?"

The answers were varied and no two were categorical.

"One day," said the first soldier, "I strolled into the office at the site of my employment, and the boss stormed. You should have been here at 8!" And I said "Why, what happened?" I'm in the army now."

"To be brief about it, said a second soldier, "I sat down to supper one night and asked the wife, 'Who put mustard on my waffle?' While throwing her clothes in a bag she sobbed. 'I never will make another lemon pie.'"

The waitress gave the third a glass of water and while he sipped it he more or less mused as though pondering my question, then said, "I helped my old man on the farm in McClellan County. One day he sent me to town for a milk cow he had bought. She was stubborn and wouldn't go up in the truck—I would have succeeded, really, if any installment may be paid, at the election of the taxpayer, prior to the time prescribed for its payment. If an installment is not paid in full on or before the date fixed for its payment, the whole amount of the tax remaining unpaid is required to be paid upon notice and demand from the collector.

The tax must be paid to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer's return is required to be filed, that is, to the collector for the district in which is located the taxpayer's legal residence or principal place of business, or if he has no legal residence or principal place of business in the United States, then to the Collector of Internal Revenue at Baltimore, Md.

The tax due, if any, should be paid in cash at the collector's office, or by check or money order payable to "Collector of Internal Revenue." In the case of payment in cash, the taxpayer should in every instance require and the collector should furnish a receipt. In the case of payments made by check or money order, however, the cancelled check or the money order receipt is usually a sufficient receipt.

the rope on the crane had been stronger. Anyway I got her up to the top of the sideboards. I guess the pavement must have been too hard."

And the fourth man sunk his head in apparent shame but finally managed to mumble, "My number was 127."

Never worried me very much; I figured when the time was ripe Uncle Sam would make them smoke their pipe. Our Navy's big; our Army's strong; Whippin' 'em wouldn't take very long. HOW MUCH

Is a Bank Worth to its Community?

You may know how much a week you should pay a good cook, bookkeeper or ranchhand, but how much are the services of a good bank worth to you?

A good bank's services should be worth what it costs the bank to handle your account, including a fair return on invested capital. By maintaining a compensating balance in proportion to your account's activity, or by paying a service fee on small, or highly active accounts, which otherwise would cause the bank a loss, you "do your part."

Sound banking requires support from the public as well as from bankers.

RIGHT VS. WRONG REV. BYRD'S TOPIC TO STUDENTS MON.

The Rev. John Byrd, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, talked to the students of the American Ward School and High School in assembly on Monday morning.

The program opened with the audience singing "Keep 'Em Flying" and "America, the Beautiful." Rev. Byrd, thinking along lines of Washington's Birthday, reminded the students of the qualities that made Washington's greatness. He said that the students would be faced with making right or wrong decisions during their lives and that "right is something to be coveted and wrong is something to be shunned." He told the students that their conscience is a "voice that speaks to us when we do something wrong."

He closed his talk by stressing the need for being able to tell where right stops and wrong starts, especially living in times like we are at present.

LIFE OF A SENIOR

By Lois Bea Osgood

On July 31, 1923, in Sanderson, Pablo Perez was born. Most of his friends call him "Poi". He is now eighteen years old and a member of the "dignified senior class". He has black hair and brown eyes and from all reports is a very good "jitterbugger".

Among Pablo's likes are the school colors, black and orange. Betty Grable, Tyrone Power, hot tamales, collecting souvenirs, and flirting with cute little senoritas. His favorite movie of the year is "In the Navy". Pablo also likes football and is a member of the Eagle team. He is also a basketball player on the Eagle team. Pablo is a member of the Morse Code and Military Training Clubs. He likes the Morse Code better. Poi has no dislikes, either that or he just wouldn't tell them. He gets along with his classmates without any trouble. He likes all food. This year in school he is taking English IV, physics, economics, and algebra II. His favorite is physics. After he graduates Pablo plans to attend Coyne Electrical School in Chicago, Ill.

"Sergeant York" (Sunday and Monday)

On October 6, 1918, Alvin C. York, tall Tennessee mountaineer, performed the almost incredible feat of killing between 20 and 25 German machine gunners and capturing 132 prisoners. York was one of a detail of seventeen men ordered to silence enemy gun nests that were holding up the American advance in a sector of the Argonne Forest.

Six of the detail were killed, three were wounded, by enemy gun fire. York, then a corporal, took command of the survivors. A celebrated sharp shooter, he picked off German after German, until the morale of the remaining machine gunners was broken and they surrendered. Corporal York and his seven men brought their wounded and 132 prisoners to the American lines.

Because he didn't want to capitalize on his services to his country, Sergeant York, now as then a farmer, refused to sell his story to any of the multitude of producers that approached on his return to the U. S., but he returned to his Tennessee mountains to seclusion. But with the outbreak of the present war and the fear that the U. S. would be drawn in he accepted an offer to present his story to bolster the morale of the army.

The film story is long, because it doesn't deal only with the battlefield exploit, but the period before York's entry into the war, when he was a conscientious objector and refused to be drawn into a position where he would have to kill. It shows him as the bootlegger, the poor farmer, who couldn't make a living for himself on his farm, but wanted to get one that would suffice for him and his bride-to-be. And it shows after the war his triumphant return from Europe, with the country shouting his praises, and his return to the simple farm to be one of the Tennessee 'hill-billies' again, settling down with the girl who had waited for him.

The cast is made up of many favorites; Gary Cooper as Sergeant York, Joan Leslie as the sweetheart, Walter Brennan as the preacher who gave York religion, and many others in roles of famous people who are yet famous today.

So that everyone may have a chance to see this extraordinary picture it will show in two matinee periods; one Sunday afternoon and again Monday. There will be the regular Monday night show. Prices will be raised slightly to allay increased costs.

"Birth of the Blues"

(Wednesday and Thursday)

Bing Crosby, Mary Martin, Jack Teagarden and orchestra, Brian Donlevy, Rochester, J. Carroll Nash and Carolyn Lee top the cast in a picture which stands out because of the songs it includes.

It is the story of American music, the beginning of modern music, and as the alligators put it, "when they took American music out of the rut and put it in the groove."

This musical contains more songs than any picture before, with the entertainers playing and singing more than a dozen.

There's "Memphis Blues", "After the Ball", "Shine", "St. Louis

"Blues", "Tiger Rag", "St. James Infirmary Blues", and a host of others.

"Tuxedo Junction"

(Friday and Saturday)

The Weaver Brothers, Abner and Cicero, and Elvira are the toppers in this film.

With them are Thurston Hall, a millionaire who doesn't like hill-billy music; Frankie Darro, a kid who can't trust nobody; Sally Payne, who proves he can trust her; and Clayton Moore and Lorna Gray, who make sure the show has its romantic angle.

The gist of the picture is the fight between the Weavers and the millionaire, and shows how right and hard work win in the end, I'm told.

and ran its press all night to see what would happen. The method worked out all right.

PRINTING JOB DIVIDED

The Government Printing Office staff split the country into sections according to products and distribution areas. It also had to keep a sharp eye on transportation facilities, because the distribution of the ration books and forms will involve some 200,000 bills of lading.

More than 350 bids were received on the printing work, and from these contracts were awarded to 23 firms located strategically between the East coast and the West coast. These firms, of course, will supplement the work of the Government Printing Office itself.

Fourteen of these plants will turn out the ration book, printing from plates cast from molds provided by the Government Printing Office.

The whole program will require 30 days. The Government Printing Office received the order to go ahead on February 7 and expects to have the forms March 7.

That means the printing plants and the government's own crews will have to keep working on a three-shift basis to do the job, turning out 25,000 ration books an hour.

OPA TO DISTRIBUTE

The printing firms will deliver the books and forms to the Office of Price Administration, and the OPA in turn will send them either to state rationing directors or directly to county rationing agencies, for distribution among local registration agencies.

Names of the companies doing the printing work aren't being revealed. In fact, the gov-

PLENTY CANNING SUGAR

Housewives are going to have plenty of sugar for home canning this summer and every effort is being made to have it available. That is the assurance of J. B. Joyce, acting manager of the War Production Board's Southwest priorities field office in Dallas.

Mr. Joyce emphasized that monthly allocations of refined sugar are taking into account the sugar that will be needed this summer for home canning. "The supply may be somewhat limited, but it will be sufficient to enable housewives to can what they need."

He added that reports have come to his office that some housewives are buying more sugar than they need for normal family use, and are explaining that they want to be sure of having enough sugar for home canning this summer.

"That sort of buying is unnecessary and it also unwise," Mr. Joyce warns. "It aggravates a situation that already is difficult. We're making every effort to see that sugar is made available for home canning next summer and Washington advises us that the Office of Price Administration will handle its distribution."
