to Celebrate Girls Week 5 to May 2

Boys and Girls Week celebrated throughout the States from April 25 to May 2. Griffith of Chicago, athletic Commissioner of the National Girls Week committee of the United States, says, "Our girls must be trained to be self-reliant, conscientious citizens, but schooled to be ready for the responsibilities of the new world. This generation is being brought up to demand the right, loyalty and application which they are capable of. They must strive unselfishly to do their part for that responsibility."

Plans which have been made for Boys and Girls Week will stress the educational, physical and social growth as essential to complete development of boys and girls. They will obtain knowledge of various occupations and professions so they may make plans for business careers, and upon them their parents and local government officials.

Ranchers Assisted With Freight Rates By T S & G R A

It was recently announced by the Interstate Commerce Commission that livestock and livestock products were to receive only a 3 percent increase in freight charges as compared to 6 and 10 percent granted on other rates. This will result in the saving of thousands of dollars to Texas livestock producers.

Early in January railroad interests filed with the ICC for a general ten percent increase in all rail rates. This was granted for passenger and pullman fares while most freight commodities received a six percent increase. All new rates were authorized for the duration of the war and six months thereafter.

The railroad interests also filed to permit charging for equipment furnished by them rather than charging for the equipment ordered by shippers. A new order has recently been issued by the ICC to eliminate these charges as far as livestock is concerned except that follow-up cars have been canceled.

Holding freight increases to 3 percent for livestock and livestock products, as well as holding charges for livestock cars furnished rather than cars ordered, was the result of the efforts of Chas. A. Stewart, traffic counsel for the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, Charles Blaine, of the National Wool Growers Association, and the officers of the various state livestock organizations. State and Federal railroad commissioners also recognized the freight burden already carried by agriculture.

Gov. Stevenson Sets off Next Week For Defense Clean Up

Civilian Defense Clean-Up Week in Texas has been designated for March 29 to April 4, in a proclamation issued by Governor Coke Stevenson.

Calling for cooperation of city and county officials, fire departments, public schools—both urban and rural, civic and patriotic organizations, the Governor in his proclamation has emphasized the need of a clean-up campaign at this time in the interest of public health and fire prevention.

"The health of our citizens and the preservation of property from destruction by fire is of vital importance to our nation as an important part of its Victory program," the Governor declared.

Doctor Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, stated that the health of the nation in time of peace or war was of paramount importance. The men in our armed forces must be in perfect physical condition, and those engaged in supplying war materials and other defense activities can not have their efforts dissipated by sickness or accidents. This week should kindle a desire on the part of all to make health a part of their war effort.

"Fire prevention has always paid liberal dividends where it has been practiced," Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, said. "The value of fire prevention now is more important than at any time in the past twenty-five years. The growing list of every day articles being removed from market as more plants are converted to war production makes it vital that all resources be protected from fire losses. A thorough clean-up with the removal of fire hazards is of major importance in fire prevention."

It has been pointed out that scrap and waste collections for the war effort can be given added emphasis during Civilian Defense Clean-Up Week by organizations engaged in such activity.

"In collecting waste paper," Commissioner Hall cautioned, "care should be exercised in storing it so as not to create a new fire hazard."

Gerald C. Mann Named to Head Texas Navy Relief

Gerald C. Mann, attorney general for Texas and former Southwest conference football star, has been appointed chairman of the Navy Relief Society Texas State Citizens Committee. The announcement was made Tuesday from the Society headquarters in New York City.

A quota of $210,000 in the $5,000,000 fund-raising campaign for the Navy Relief Society has been set for Texas.

The Society is the official organization which cares for members of the families of Navy men who are prevented from sending prompt remittances home through remoteness of their stations or the fortunes of war.

"The Navy Relief Society is a very vital part of our national war effort," the youthful attorney general said. "The men who man the guns can man them better when they know that their loved ones back home are not going to suffer. The fund is devoted exclusively to the aid and support of Navy families in need."

"I am proud to be a part of this great nation-wide movement," Mann said, "and I am confident that Texas, which has given more men to the Navy than any other state, is going to do its best in this part of our war program."

Mann pointed to the fact that families of Texans serving in the Navy probably would receive, in (Continued to Page Four)

Texas Rangers Offer Services To T S & G R A

The Texas Rangers, widely known for their ability to apprehend all cases of thefts, are now assigned with one major operation as that of curbing livestock thefts in Texas. This company is now working in close cooperation with the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association in combating the theft of sheep and goats.

The territory covered by Company E extends to El Paso on the west, Midland on the north, Llano on the east, and to Uvalde and the Rio Grande on the south. This area comprises a large portion of the sheep and goat producing area of the state.

Ranger companies operating in other sections are ready to assist Company E with theft cases. Captain Best, Rangers Jim Flournoy, Zeno Smith, and Dan Westbrook are stationed in San Angelo, with H. D. Wachtendorf stationed in Brady, Rangers Leo Bishop and Pete Crawford are in Alpine. This entire company, Captain Best stated, is ready to assist the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association at all times.

Captain Best further urged all association members to report thefts to the Ranger offices or to the Association office in Sonora.

During scouting duty over the sheep section, Rangers visit the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association office with reports and calls of theft cases. This cooperation with the sheep and goat interests will be of immense value to the industry.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Iraan Herald—A range fire which covered approximately fifty sections and killed between 25 and 30 sheep, according to the best estimate to date from ranchers on sections of the ranches of J. M. Tippett, Virgil Powell and Jack Smith, was put out last Thursday night about nine o'clock after burning during the day.

The fire was started when bombardiers from the Midland Army Flying School hit a target located in that vicinity. One hundred and fifty students from the school came down to fight the fire along with others from Rankin and vicinity.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—Hiram Franklin Stephenson, 72, one of Pecos County's most colorful and generous old-time cattlemen, died last Thursday night in an El Paso hospital where he had been critically ill for only two days. He had been employed at Fort Bliss for the past year. Born in Virginia on July 16, 1869, he came to Gonzales County with his parents, T. E. and Jennie Stephenson when one year old. He lived in Gonzales until he was 18 when he came to Pecos County, in the year 1887.

Eagle Pass Guide—Calvin C. Huffman, state representative of the 87th district of Texas, this week announced his candidacy for re-election to the office he now holds, and appealed to the voters of Maverick, Kinney, Val Verde, Terrell and Brewster counties for their support in the Democratic primary of July 25.

Brackett News-Mail—Definite word concerning the fate of John Edwin Wickham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wickham of Brackettville, has been received confirming a recent Navy dispatch which included John as among the American marines who were believed to be prisoners of the Japs.

As I Was Saying . . .

TO THE COUNTRY EDITOR

Of Marble Halls I've never dreamt,
Neither of Midsummer Nights.
But some of the things that come in dreams,
Have been of awful frights.

There was the purple cow and calf,
And horses with horns and vests,
And chickens laying coconuts,
And flies and Jack Benny jests.

Cabbages and kings and bombs,
And ear-splitting screams of mules,
And rubber tires with runners on,
And chess and auto tools.

Millions of tiny Christmas trees,
Blisters and shaded doors,
Train tracks glistening with printers' inks,
And airplanes without any floors.

Mountain Peaks and Columns by Kid,
And aftermaths of war,
Cafe kitchens and holiday sinks,
And roads leading far and far.

And I have sworn that from now on,
No matter wrong or right,
I'll get the weekly out on time,
Instead of late Thursday night.

SKYLARK

(Sunday and Monday)

Pardon this guy for kinda getting off the beam, but there's something that's been worrying me about these movies that have been appearing here of late. From the days when Edison and his cohorts and ilk first began making pictures move, they have been telling the stories of fresh romance where the boy and girl start off from scratch and work up. Now they've dispensed with the first part and start them off at the end and continue from there.

The husband and wife angle is what I'm getting at: "Moon Over her Shoulder", "Bedtime Story", "Two-Faced Woman", and on down the list. They're growing scarce these tales of budding love, and getting to be fading blooms until someone pours water on them to wake them up.

That's what happens in the next such picture. "Skylark" is the tale of a woman whose husband insists that business is more important than homelife; so the wife proceeds to search for another husband until the ins make themselves look better than the outs.

The play is full of wisecracks, funny situations, and the cast is well-picked when it comes to running opponents into a fray against each other. Claudette Colbert is the wife whose husband's business dictates how she shall run her house, until she starts pulling the big customer's wife's hair. Ray Milland is the husband who doesn't realize that the diamond ring he started marriage with is turning into a Reno rock. Brian Aherne makes the middle man who is due to become the divorcee's husband. Walter Abel, remember him in "Hold Back the Dawn?" gets several gray hairs trying to interpose, and muddling up things in a general sort of way are Binnie Barnes, Mona Barrie, Ernest Cossart, and Grant Mitchell.

Dillirium seasickness with all the tremens makes the final decision, and Claudette proves that it's one thing you can't hold down. Or as she tells the captain of the ship when he asked her if the anchor had come up. "Did I eat that too?"

MALTESE FALCON
(Friday and Saturday)

For you who like your pictures about the rough, tough and mysterious, here's the show for you. The story was written years ago, but Dashiell Hammett, the author, is still limelighted by it.

"The Maltese Falcon" is not a feathery bird, but only a reasonably accurate facsimile, but twice as dangerous.

There are people who have their eyes on this little bird, and they want it at all costs, even a few lives.

Humphrey Bogart with the corner-mouth smirk, is hired to be the noble defender of the bird, and he finds that there's more to this bird than meets the eye. Mary Astor ties him with her to seek the bird, and he finds there's more danger being with her than without her. Peter Lorre, droopy-eyed menace, Barton McClane, hireling, Lee Patrick, and Gladys George appear one by one from the alley doors to creep into your blood during the 100 minutes of showing.

The idea behind the picture is to find out where it is, what it is, and whose it is—the falcon I mean.

THE BUGLE SOUNDS

(Wednesday and Thursday)

A novel combination of factual army life and fictional adventure, with Wallace Beery as the star, will show next week as "The Bugle Sounds".

The picture was filmed with the cooperation of the War Department, which permitted camera crews to accompany the regular troops out of Fort Knox, Ky., in the war games in Louisiana. Another unit went to Fort Lewis, Wash., and Beery himself made scenes at Fort Ord.

A logical drama of a leather-faced sergeant of cavalry has been woven into the action of the regular army. As a result, when Beery barks and grumbles at his platoon, he has the authentic support of roaring tanks and droning planes, together with thousands of regular army men who went under camera fire for the picture.

Appearing in the supporting cast are Marjorie Main, as the sergeant's fiancée for 19 years of army roving, and Lewis Stone the Judge Hardy of the screen, as colonel in command. Donna Reed is the appealing bride of a selective service soldier, portrayed by William Lundigan.

A well-rounded supporting cast includes George Bancroft, Henry O'Neill, Chill Wills, Tom Dugan, Guinn Williams, and

Jerome Cowan as the leader of a band of the

Industrial Arts Course Gives Students Chance To Show Ingenuity

The industrial arts department of the Sanderson High School carries two accredited courses and one non-accredited course. The accredited courses are woodwork and laboratory of industries. These courses are offered to high school students only. The non-accredited course is woodwork offered for the seventh and eighth grade students.

Woodwork consists of cabinet making and various kinds of furniture making. This work includes plain faced work and woodturning. The two kinds of woodturning are face plate turning and turning between centers. The laboratory of industries course consists of four quarters of work: mechanical drawing, woodwork, metal work and concrete work.

Bland Gates is building twin beds or early American type bunk. Bland has also built a bicycle trailer house. This trailer house is just long enough for Bland to lie in and it has an end section for clothing. James Kerr has almost completed a barrack kit. He also built a lathe table. Bill Cochran is building a coffee table of red cedar. Harold Haynes has completed a checker board. The white squares of the board are made of white pine and the dark squares are of gum. Eugene Thompson and Freddie Talbot are building end tables. Eugene is making his of walnut and Freddie is making his of cedar. Aubrey Harrell has made a base ball bat of oak wood.

Not only the students of Sanderson High School are taking an interest in the shop. Three teachers also are doing shop work. Mr. Hunter is working on a cedar end table. Mr. Thornton is also working on an end table. Miss Wiemers destroys the theory that women always smash fingers when doing woodwork. She shows no bandaged fingers, yet few men could build a better coffee table than she has just completed. The table is made of cedar. Mr. Lovell has made a radio table.

SNOOPER

HEARS NOTHING
SEES NOTHING
TELLS ALL

A senior was heard complaining that all the juniors had dates on Sunday afternoon. Surely the juniors aren't beating the senior's time.

Mary Nell and Doyce are using their bicycles these days. The shortage of tires doesn't seem to be causing them any trouble.

J. D. Vincent and Betty Frazor looked cute riding horseback the other day. It seems that it was Betty's first ride because she had to have someone to hold her on.

Margaret Ruth and Dewain again—this time sitting together in assembly.

Ivy Lou is back in school. Nice for both the boys and the girls. Ross Stavley calls blonds, "Palmino blonds". He also has some very good ideas that a number of girls would like to hear.

Bill Cochran and Clara Alice Bell (nice couple) were playing tennis together the other day. Clara missed a ball and Bill said, "Do something besides look pretty." We think it's something to look pretty, Bill.

Miss Williams was seen walking very slowly to the cafe Sunday night. It seems that she had been horseback riding for several hours and was out of practice. Monday morning she was wishing there were no stairs in school.

Miss Kinkler is a super horsewoman. She gallops around on a horse and sticks on in spite of the fact that her feet don't reach the stirrups.

Mr. Smith asked Miss Mixon if she wanted to enter the tennis tournament, telling her at the same time that she would play in the high school division.

Marshall Cooke was responsible for getting the food for the basketball picnic. Mr. Hunter said he made a profit instead of its costing anything. Mr. Hunter explained that if you added up the money that each of the boys on Bill's team gave, it added up to more than the amount of food they had. Even so, everyone had more than he could eat.

Treating the Sick Is Present Topic For H. E. Students

Everyone should make the resolution to be in good health more than ever since we are in war. We must keep in good health so we will not need the medicines, doctors and nurses which are needed for our fighting men. These are ways in which we can keep ourselves in good health: dress comfortably, get plenty of rest, keep our bodies and homes clean and sanitary, have a good mental attitude and eat the right food.

Everyone should be able to recognize symptoms of communicable diseases. If we can recognize these symptoms we can stop the spread and get the upper hand of the disease before it gets fully developed. We should quarantine the house as soon as we know it contains a communicable disease. This will stop the spread.

These are some of the symptoms of disease or illness: Begins slowly or rapidly; sore throat; patches may show on tonsils; pains in the side, head or stomach; bad color and skin in bad condition; eyes miscolored; nervousness and many others can be seen or felt.

The person to care for the patient who has a communicable disease should know how to care for the sick person. She should wear simple clothes which can be washed. She should wear very little jewelry, just a watch with which she can take the pulse and respiration. She should have a pan of water and a bar of soap and a towel on a table outside the sick room, in which she should wash her hands before entering and upon leaving the room. She should wear a smock which buttons down the back. She should put this on before she enters the door; she should not touch the outside of the smock with her hands. She removes it before leaving the sick room.

The sick room should have just enough furniture in it to make it cheerful and not too bare. The furniture and the floor should be easily cleaned. The floors should not be carpeted. This is the necessary furniture for the sick room: a bed, 2 chairs which are straight, a high backed chair with arms, a dress, and a bed side table.

These are some things which the home economics girls have learned that you can use in place of expensive things: in place of a rubber sheet, you can use old newspapers. You can make a serving table out of an apple carton and cover it

LIFE OF A SENIOR

By Lois Bea Osgood

Miss Anita Cardenas, a dignified, black-haired, brown-eyed senior of the Sanderson High School, was born in Del Rio on May 21, 1922. She is known to her best friends as "Annie".

Miss Cardenas started to school in Comstock and went there about five or six months and then moved to Longfellow, and she enrolled in Sanderson in 1930.

Please, if anyone has a good fried chicken dinner, don't forget to invite Anita because that is her favorite food and past-time. But, for heaven's sake, don't serve spinach for she hates it, or any other kind of greens.

Miss Cardenas' main petty annoyance is to hear someone talk about themselves all the time. When she is in a good mood, you can always tell, because she'll be singing "Perfidia", or reading a good magazine, which is her hobby. Her favorite movie is "Honky Tonk" and her favorite stars are Clark Gable and Lana Turner.

This year in school, Miss Cardenas is taking algebra II, economics, bookkeeping and English IV, of which her favorite is economics. She only participates in one club, Choral Club, and she enjoys the work very much. She is a very good student in school, makes good grades, likes everyone, and everyone likes her.

After she graduates in May, she intends to enter Sul Ross State Teachers College in Alpine. We hope she does as well there as she has done in high school.

with oilcloth. You can use bags of hot sand, smoothing irons, or hot bricks instead of a hot water bottle. In place of an inhaler you can take a small pan, place the bowl with the medicine in it, then take a paper bag, cut the top out in a 4 inch by 2 inch hole, then you can put your nose or mouth over this.

There are many other things you can use also. These are just a few of the things the home economics girls have learned about care of the sick.

assistance and benefits. Much more than the $210,000 quota set for the state. Of the total quota of $334,000 for the entire Eighth Naval District, Texas has been assigned the task of raising nearly half that amount.

A cheering note as the Texas drive opened was the announcement that a $400 check from the Foreman's Association of the Consolidated Steel Corp., Orange, has been accredited already to the Texas quota. In forwarding the check to Mr. Clarence Dillon, chairman of the Citizens' Committee at Navy Relief Campaign headquarters in New York, Mr. H. B. Hird of the Consolidated Steel Corp., sent the following message:

"Having served over 35 years in the Navy before my retirement nearly three years ago, I was deeply impressed when this check was handed to me to be forwarded to you for the Navy Relief.

"So far as I can ascertain," he added, "this donation was entirely unsolicited and is being made to the Navy Relief by the Foreman's Association in the belief that it will result in more ultimate benefit to the real defenders of our country than it could through any other agency."

With this check already in the Texas quota fund, Chairman Mann said he would appoint a state-wide executive committee to help conduct the campaign in Texas.

"This work is vitally important," he said, "as the Society often has the responsibility of entire families sometimes for months subsequent to the death or capture by the enemy of a father or husband."

wish to qualify for these positions should apply immediately to the nearest U. S. Navy Recruiting Station or Substation for application forms. Expenses to and from Houston for such applicants with living expenses while in Houston are paid for by the Navy. Commander Wood pointed out. Those who qualify and enlist are placed on inactive duty and returned to their homes at government expense in order to permit them to close out their personal affairs before being called to active duty, he explained.

Petty officer rating with generous pay and allowances are available now for men who can qualify having had previous experiences in construction work such as auto repairing, blacksmithing, carpentering, concrete working, copper-smithing, drilling, electric installation, mechanics (shop and station), painting, pipefitting, steelworking, telephone line work and instrument installation, general laboring and many others, the commander informed.

The age limit for men in this class is 17 to 50 and they must pass general and physical requirements for enlistment in the Naval Reserve before they are acceptable in the Construction Regiment. The only waivers from regular physical requirements in the Construction Regiment, the announcement continued, is color perception and loss of teeth replaced by satisfied dentures.

that the mayors and county judge, as municipal and county defense coordinators, are eligible to borrow these prints and may obtain them by writing the Executive Department at Austin. A service charge of fifty cents for each film, to cover cost of repair and handling, will be made by the two film distributors who have been designated by the Office of Civilian Defense to handle these prints. Express or postage costs will also be borne by the borrower.

Inasmuch as the number of prints available for loan is small, Governor Stevenson has requested that the prints be returned to the distributor within twenty-four hours after they are received by the local defense coordinators so that as many communities as possible can be given consideration. It is requested that these films be used only by instructors of civilian volunteers.

"We shall take care of these requests in the order in which they are made, and it will be necessary for each community to await its turn," Governor Stevenson said. "We hope to have trained instructors in all civilian defense activities in the various communities shortly, and they will be equipped with portable sound motion picture projectors and films which will greatly aid their discussions."

The Governor pointed out that there are many sixteen millimeter sound film projection machines in Texas, and it is likely that one can be obtained through local superintendent, the chamber of commerce, civic clubs, or from photographic and film supply houses. If no projectors are available locally, it was suggested that the coordinator communicate with the Governor's Office where information can be obtained regarding the nearest projection machine distributor.

The Office of Civilian Defense has advised that eleven more sixteen millimeter films are being made at this time and that the National Defense Committee for Texas will receive approximately ten prints of each. The titles of these films are not yet known, but as information is received in the Governor's Office, bulletins will be released to the local defense coordinators.

Governor Stevenson stated that there are several films available through film distributing agencies which have the ap-

Beans Without Cans To Be the Fare When Supply Gone

College Station—Because of tin shortages, there won't be any more canned pork and beans or baked beans when present supplies are gone.

This curtailment shouldn't bother homemakers, because there are plenty of dried beans available. These keep well and taste good if they are prepared right, says Hazel Phipps, food preparation specialist for the A. & M. College Extension Service.

In preparing beans right the first rule is to give them plenty of time to soak—overnight in cold water or five or six hours in lukewarm water. Be sure to wash beans before soaking them, and cook them in the water in which they are soaked, for this will save minerals and vitamins, she says. Beans are rich in iron and vitamin B1 and these food values "soak out into the water."

The specialist says use soft water if it is available, for hard water toughens beans. Cook them at a moderate temperature. In other words, simmer them—don't let them bubble and boil, for hard boiling cracks the skins, toughens the protein and makes the beans mushy. Miss Phipps gives this caution: Never use soda to cook beans. This destroys the Vitamin B1. Bake beans in a slow oven, about 250 degrees F.

As far as cooking is concerned, dry beans may be treated pretty much alike. That is, although a recipe may call for one type of bean usually almost any other variety may be substituted. Season beans with something salty, sour, fresh, crisp, or bright and spicy. Beans are bland and they combine well with crisp bacon, ham knuckle, salt pork, chili, a dash of lemon juice, onion or tomatoes.
