BIRTH DATES TO SERVE AS DRAFT ORDER

Washington - National selective service headquarters dis- closed today the 3,000,000 youths 18, 19 and 20, who will register for the draft Tuesday, will be given their order numbers on the basis of their birth dates, instead of by holding another national lottery.

Draft headquarters, in an official bulletin, pointed out 20-year-olds who register June 30 will be liable for military service, and that the younger registrants also will be liable to be called to the colors as they become 20.

Selective service officials announced the June 30 registrants will be given their order numbers in the following manner: "The local board will arrange the registration cards of registrants in a pile according to their respective dates of birth so that the cards of registrants born on January 1, 1922, will be on top, the cards of registrants born on January 2, 1922, will follow, and so on to the bottom of the pile where the cards of those born on June 20, 1924, will be located.

When the local board has cards for two or more registrants born on the same date, such cards shall be arranged in alphabetical order."

Youths registering June 30 will be placed at the bottom of the list of present registrants comprising men between 20 and 44, inclusive.

Plans for July Election Made By Demo. Committee

Members of the County Democratic Committee, with G. J. Henshaw as chairman, met Wednesday of last week to set the order of names to appear on the ballot for the July 25 primary, assess filing fees, and to transact other business in connection with the primary election.

Filing fees for offices of county commissioners were set at $5.00; county judge, clerk, sheriff-tax assessor and collector, and attorney were set at $10.00, as were those for county treasurer and district clerk. Fees for candidates for precinct officers were set at $5.00.

These filing fees are assessed in order that costs of the election may be met.

Presiding judges were not announced although they will be announced before the election.

The committee also met Wednesday and opened the meeting for the purpose of making up the ballot for the election. Because of a telegram received from state chairman, the meeting is being held open pending further word from the state chairman regarding the matter of an injunction suit filed to prevent filing of names for state office after the deadline set.

JUNE 30TH LAST DAY FOR PAYING OF SPLIT TAXES

Announcement from the tax-collector's office calls attention to the fact that June 30th is the last day on which the second installment of split taxes may be paid before becoming delinquent.

Those who took advantage of the law and paid one-half their taxes in November with the second half to be paid in June are affected as their taxes become delinquent if not paid before July 1st. Payment of this second half of taxes before July 1st will mean a saving of penalties which will be added if taxes are allowed to become delinquent.

Texas Traffic Deaths Drop 19 Per Cent In First Five Months

Austin - Patriotism, curtailment of traffic and stronger law enforcement reduced traffic fatalities 19 per cent during the first five months of 1942 as against the same period last year, State Police Director Homer Garrison announced this week.

"It is encouraging that Texas is leading the Nation far and away in traffic death reduction, but Texans have done so many outstanding things in this war that Texas leadership is taken for granted."

"The Texans who bombed Tokyo and Roumania aren't satisfied with a first. They want to keep on striking until their task is completed."

"It's going to take that kind of spirit here at home. It's not enough that Texas is ahead. It's not enough that 138 lives were saved in five months. We must think of the 574 lives that were lost in this period. We must forget any notions that the traffic problem has solved or will solve itself."

"If the time comes when all tires are worn out and gasoline rationing has been forgotten, autos still will move in Texas and the Nation. Our economy is geared to automotive transportation, and nothing is going to stop it."

"This needless loss of human life will not stop until pedestrians and motorists alike accept their patriotic responsibilities to be careful for the sake of the war effort. Local officers and the Highway patrol are helping some of the more stubborn ones. Last month the Highway patrol arrested or warned 25,625 persons, against 20,125 in May, 1941, for traffic law violations. This was a 22 per cent increase. It may be larger in June."

Valentine Youth, Killed in England, Raced Draft to RCAF

By Barry Scobee
(In Alpine Avalanche)

Though the Jeff Davis county youth who raced the first registration to Canada was killed March 11 in England, details of his accidental death have just come to public attention.

The young man was Royce Norval Coleman of Valentine. He tried to enter army aviation in the United States, and failing to get into the air corps because of technicalities, and realizing that the October 16, 1940, military registration would catch him, perhaps tie his hands, he hit out in his car to reach Canada and join up there before the date arrived.

In Kansas his car struck a pig and was damaged so that he was delayed. He failed to reach Canada by the 16th, which fateful date found him in North Dakota, where he registered, having his papers sent to Fort Davis. He went on into Canada and was accepted for flying in that country. He returned then to Fort Davis and squared himself with the draft, and became a Canadian flyer. Last autumn he was back in Fort Davis on a visit, in the uniform of the RCAF. He was considered a fine-looking, courteous man, proud of his service. A little later he was sent overseas.

Five Killed in Crash
On March 11 this year, as a flight sergeant, he piloted a bomber on a mission across the English Channel, according to information here. Four men were with him. They completed their task successfully and were returning to their British field when they encountered heavy fog. In attempting to land at their own 'drome, the plane overshot the field in the bad light and crashed into a tree. All five occupants of the bomber were killed.

Flier Coleman's father, J. C. Coleman at Marfa, received the news weeks ago. Young Sergeant Coleman described himself, before he went, north as "crazy to fly." He was buried somewhere in Old England.

TERRELL COUNTY RUBBER COLLECTION HITS 27,000 POUNDS

Terrell County's response to the National Rubber Collection Campaign followed the example in other patriotic gestures from the citizens with the report that including Thursday, about 27,000 pounds of rubber had been turned over to local collection agents.

Estimates made earlier by local agents indicated that the amount collected had doubled the expected. Officially, the campaign is to last until Tuesday, June 30, with reports to be sent in by July 3. By that time, the national council hopes to be able to announce the entire contribution over the country.

In an announcement Thursday, the Petroleum Industry War Council, national rubber collecting agency, said that over the nation, the donations represented 1.52 pounds per person. In Terrell County, the per capita collection amounted to nearly ten pounds, far above the national mark. The rubber industry had announced before the opening of the campaign that enough equipment and raw rubber is on hand to regenerate 360,000 tons or 720,000,000 pounds of old rubber. Thursday's report stated that in the first six days of the drive, 200,881,000 pounds had been collected, much less than the amount desired.

This campaign and survey, to determine whether gasoline rationing will become nationwide and other possibilities, is still in full swing, and will be until next Tuesday. R. E. Corder, county salvage committee chairman, said Thursday, "We are still asking that those who still have scrap rubber on hand, dig down today and bring it in. Each person should set his own quota (all he has), but with as small a quota as four pounds per person, as some counties have taken, the request is simple. Four pounds does not include much rubber, and only a few items will fill such a quota for anyone."

"Though the rubber collected doubled many estimates in Sanderson," he added, "We should like to see it triple or quadruple any amount anyone has estimated or quoted. We want the nation to know that Sanderson and Terrell County is ready to back any campaign designed to aid in the war for freedom from the oppressors."

"Let me reiterate," he went on to say, "The campaign is simple. All that anyone has to do is to find all the rubber he can and turn it over to the volunteer collectors, committee, civic and charitable groups or patriotic and service organizations. Or, if he wishes, take it to any filling station—designated by the President as the official repositories for the drive."

SUBSCRIPTION PRICES (TO BE PAID IN ADVANCE)
One Year $2.00 Six Months $1.25

We are at last beginning to feel the colossal changes war has forced on the economic and social life of the nation. And, in the next six months or so, changes in a far greater degree than anything we have yet experienced will inevitably take place.

It should be clear to everyone by now that the American standard of living, which has been infinitely luxurious by comparison with that of most of the rest of the world, will be largely abandoned for the duration. This year, our national income will be the largest in our history. But the amount which the people will have to spend for goods and services will be down to the lowest depression levels and perhaps lower. There are three principal reasons for this. First and most important, is the tax burden, which will be felt in the lowest income groups, and will reach staggering proportions in the middle and high income groups. Second, War Bond purchases, whether voluntary or enforced, will take a substantial part of everyone's remaining income. Third, the price level is far above that of 1932 and 1933.

For the most part, we have not felt yet any particular lack of "luxury goods." While manufacture of such goods was stopped some time ago in most lines, stocks on hand have kept store inventories adequate. Soon it will be impossible to buy a refrigerator, an automatic heating plant, a radio, an office machine, and ten thousand and one other items, unless you have a first-class priority rating, and the item is needed for a purpose directly connected with the war. And it is generally expected that card-rationing system, similar to that now in effect for sugar, will be extended to other foods, to clothes and to many additional necessities.

Whole professions are being virtually wiped out. For example, there is the plight of the salesman. There is no need for his services if his industry is engaged in war work. If his industry is not in war work, its production is swiftly declining and he has less and less to sell. These people are being absorbed by war industry, for the most part. After the war they will face another difficult problem of readjustment.

Whole industries are in the same position. The mortality, for instance, in the businesses which have been built up about the automobile—service stations, repair shops, roadside restaurants, resorts, etc.—is great, and before long it will be tremendous. All their proprietors and employes can do is to close shop and get a war job. There is no

This week—Remember?

June 24, 1932

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ferguson and family were visitors in San Antonio several days this week.

Mrs. Dee McConaughey of Dryden and D. O. Bosworth of Sanderson were married at 10 o'clock Thursday night in Las Cruces, N. M., at the Baptist parsonage, Rev. J. E. Hoyle officiating. They will make their home here.

Mrs. R. E. Stirman left Monday afternoon for Del Rio where she will undergo a minor operation at the Williams Sanatorium. Her husband and sister, Mrs. E. J. Chastain, accompanied her.

Mrs. Greene Cooke returned home Monday from El Paso where she has been the past several weeks with her twin children, Betty Jane and Bobby Greene, who have been under the care of a baby specialist in that city.

Judge G. J. Henshaw was a business visitor in Del Rio several days this week.

Mrs. John Clark and children spent last Friday in Del Rio with Mrs. R. B. Mussey, sister of Mrs. Clark, who has been there in a hospital for the past two weeks.

Contracts will probably be let on the 30th of this month for the grading and small drainage structure on that part of Highway 90 in the eastern part of the county that has not been finished provided that the necessary right of way can be secured by then.

On the 10th of June the annual ranchmen picnic was held at the Garrett Bell well on the E. W. Hardgrave ranch with an attendance of between 80 and 100. This picnic which is held every year, is attended by all ranchmen and their families that live in the northeastern part of the county.

The face of American communities of all sizes is changing swiftly. Gigantic war plants are being developed in sections where there was little industry before. In many defense areas, population growth—unprecedented in its rapidity—has created an exceedingly severe housing and transportation problem. These problems have not yet been adequately solved, and they will grow worse. They constitute a major headache to governmental authorities.

The population trend from country to city is intense. Agricultural workers, attracted by

"Why, David—are you trying to say you want me to be co-owner on your War Savings Bonds from now on?"

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Big Bend Sentinel—Marfa and Alpine citizens attending the Monday night mass meeting heard the statement made that there is a possibility that their United States government may buy the tract of land made available recently for the construction of an air force training school to cost "less than three million dollars."

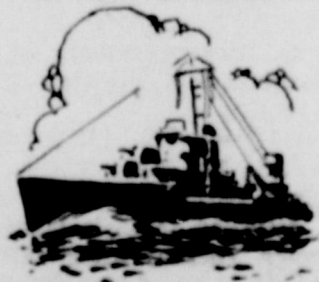

In the event that outright purchase of the area, rather than the using of it on a lease, is accomplished it is likely that the ultimate cost to the three participating governmental units—Presidio county, City of Alpine, City of Marfa—will be far less than was anticipated. The day of the mass meeting Alpine citizens voted 205 to 2 for the issuance of bonds for that town's share of the cost of the project, and Marfa citizens, by a vote of 80 to 1, declared they

the big wages paid by war industry, are literally leaving the farms in droves. The farm operator can't get enough labor, and even when he can, he must offer wages that in many cases are beyond his ability to pay. This has offset a good part of the benefits of increased farm income.

The foregoing simply illustrates a few of the almost revolutionary changes that are occurring in this country. And they illustrate, by inference, what our post-war problems will be. Authorities in both business and government seem convinced that none of the problems are insoluble. They know that there will be many mistakes and many errors in judgment. But they believe that, after the war, this nation's incredible industrial plant will be able to provide jobs for all employables, and will in time bring the general standard of living to a level well beyond anything we have known. It is a healthy sign that, even as we grapple with the immense problems of war, we are also thinking ahead to the peace to come.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Ships of the Destroyer type comprise the bulk of our fighting ships in the American Navy. Their average displacement is about 1800 tons, and they are fast, powerful, and hard hitting. They have been particularly effective in convoy duty and gave a good account of themselves in the Coral Sea engagement. They cost approximately $3,600,000 each.

Every Navy shipyard is turning out Destroyers in record time. They are essential for our two-ocean Navy. Purchase of more and more War Bonds will assure all-out production of these vital units for the Navy. Buy every pay day. If everybody invests at least ten percent of his income in War Bonds we can do the job. U. S. Treasury Department

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

MAYBE I shouldn't admit it, but there are a few things about this writing job I really like. For instance, I like the part where... after all the writin' and routine is done... I just set back and think about things in general. (Oh, yes, that's part of the job, too.)

Doesn't matter much what I think about. Sometimes I concentrate on one thing. Sometimes I think of lots of things, one right after the other.

Usually, when I get to thinkin', I send down for some beer. Seems a glass of beer not only touches the spot but it also sort of helps the thinkin' mood along.

It's such a peaceful, friendly beverage. Sort of honest and human. And it tastes good.

I like to hold my glass of beer up to the light and look through it. That beautiful, golden-amber color kind of fascinates me. Reminds me of the sunny barley fields where beer gets its start.

ELECTRIC TOASTER

Be careful in cleaning your toaster. Never put it in water. Wipe outside with damp cloth, using mild abrasive if necessary. Heating element cleans itself when you turn on the current.

Most toasters have removable crumb trays. Use a small brush to wipe out crumbs if your toaster has no tray.

Be careful not to drop your toaster; it may break connections or damage thermostat.

COFFEE MAKER OR PERCOLATOR

Never immerse a metal percolator in water. Stand on dry drainboard, wash inside with warm soapy water, rinse and dry. Wash outside with damp cloth, being careful not to let water get into electrical connections.

If you have a glass coffee maker with cloth filter, rinse filter cloth thoroughly with cold water after each using. Between usings, keep cloth in glass of cold water.

If you have a metal coffee maker or percolator, substitute a tablespoonful of baking soda for coffee occasionally and proceed as though you were making coffee. This will remove coffee oil adhering to metal and eliminate that bitter taste.

WAFFLE BAKER

To clean waffle baker, wipe edge of grids with clean dry cloth. If any particles stick to grids, remove with wire brush. Never wash grids. It removes absorbed grease that prevents sticking.

Wipe any spilled batter from outside with damp cloth then polish with soft polishing cloth. Never put waffle baker in water.

If waffles stick, due to improper preheating or insufficient shortening in batter, remove all particles from grids with wire brush, then with a small brush thoroughly cover grids with salad oil or unsalted melted fat. Connect iron and heat until grid begins to smoke. Pour in enough batter for one waffle and bake until done. Discard this waffle — as it has absorbed most of the conditioner — and you won't have to grease waffle baker again if you take good care of it.

"I guess about eighteen munts." "They're too slow. In England 'twould have taken about ten months."

fishman made his usual query. "Ow long did this bridge tyke in building?" The cowboy turned his head to the window with a surprised expression and exclaimed, "By jingo! When I passed yesterday, this bridge wasn't here."

Minor Physical Ails No Bar to Enlistment Under Navy Rule

If you were ever turned down for enlistment in the Navy because of bad teeth or bad eyes, the chances are that you can be enlisted now, Chief V. L. Ryan of the San Angelo Navy Recruiting sub-station said this week in announcing lowered physical standards for the Navy.

Whereas formerly a man had to be able to read half inch type at 20 feet with one eye at a time he can now pass Navy tests if he can read the same type with both eyes at 15 feet, provided that with the worst eye alone he can read it at six feet.

As for the teeth requirements, if a man has enough teeth in his mouth on which to hang a dental bridge, and will buy the bridge, he can now be enlisted, Chief Ryan said.

Minimum height is now 62 inches and maximum is 76 inches. Age limits are 17 to 50, and married men are eligible for enlistment. Openings for petty officers and non-rated men are still plentiful in all branches of the Navy.

Passage of the new pay bill means a good pay scale and extra allowances for men with dependents, Chief Ryan explained.

Applications for enlistment may be made any day of the week at the recruiting station in the San Angelo post office building, or on Wednesday from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. in the Ballinger post office.

Preserving Fats, Oils, A Wartime 'Must', Says Food Specialist

College Station — Conserving kitchen fats and oils is a wartime "must" for every housewife, says Hazel Phipps, specialist in food preparation of the A&M College Extension Service. "Don't waste fats and spoil foods cooked in fats with too much heat."

When fat starts to smoke it starts to break down chemically. Food cooked in smoking fat will be harder to digest and may be irritating to the digestive tract. Once fat reaches the smoking stage it gets rancid more quickly if saved for future use. Many fats may be saved and reused. For example, fat used for deep fat frying may be saved and used several times afterward if it is strained each time before being put away. For this purpose several thicknesses of cheesecloth or other clean white cloth are suitable.

Ms Phipps advises using fats while fresh. But she cautions against adding fat on top of fat continuously and letting that poured out first (on the bottom of the can) get rancid.

"Every bit of surplus fat, unless it is too strong in flavor or has been scorched, may be used for cooking," Miss Phipps says. "Fats which have objectionable odors, tastes and colors easily may be clarified at home. To do this, melt the fat with an equal volume of water, heating at a moderate temperature for a short time, stirring occasionally, and then cooling until congealed. The fat then can be lifted from the water surface."

All fats should be stored in closely covered containers in a dark place and away from strong-flavored foods. Table fats should be kept very cool, in a refrigerator if possible.

War or no War, More Texans Fishing Now Than Last Year

Austin—During the first ten days of June, fishing license sales showed a gain of approximately 5 per cent over those during the same period last year.

Indicating, the Executive Secretary of the Game Department said, that at least so far Texans are going fishin', war or no war.

The war, as a matter of fact, has increased the desire of the outdoors-loving public to get a little relief from the high tension necessarily brought on by wartime conditions, according to reports from Game Wardens over the State. Many soldiers stationed in Texas find excellent recreation during their off hours at the old fishin' hole. And since fishing generally has been good to date it seems that Johnny Bass and Red (Eared) Bream have been trying their best to make the future fighters happy.

Factors other than the desire for recreation have contributed to the increase in fishing, however. Officials pointed out that in Texas this year there is much more fishing available to the public, the most conspicuous example being the pride of North-west Texas, huge Possum-Kingdom Lake located in Palo Pinto, Young and Stephens counties.

Further, many good-sized farm and ranch ponds have recently been completed over the State and stocked with fish, principally by the Game Department, and these ponds today support a sufficient population to justify removal of a considerable number of fish. Most of them are re-warding the anglers handsomely, Wardens report.

Another factor luring the anglers to the cool water is the fact that some chains of lakes, such as the Lower Colorado River Valley's systems of Buchanan, Inks, Marshall Ford, and Tom Miller lakes, are just now coming into their prime, so far as fishing is concerned. They have been scientifically stocked for several years under the direction of the Game Department's Chief Aquatic Biologist, and the results, according to reports, are today more than pleasing to the angler.

"Fishing won't win the war," the Executive Secretary said, but it will keep our minds and bodies healthy and clean, and more fit for the hard jobs that are still ahead."

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. McKnight are at home after several weeks in San Antonio where he has been receiving medical attention. He was suffering from an infection in his jaw but his condition is much better.

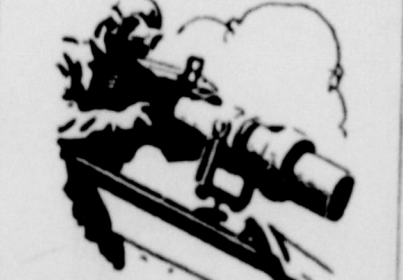

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Leath were called to Bonham Saturday night of last week because of the serious illness of his mother.

Ross Underwood left Tuesday for Ballinger where he will visit with his uncle, Charlie Lee.

Mrs. Seth R. Davenport of Abilene visited here this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Nichols.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaissance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your county go over its War Bond Quota.
