SALVAGE DRIVE CONTINUES

Although the salvage campaign up to and including Rally Day was a great success in Terrell County, citizens are reminded that the salvage drive goes on and on for the duration.

One mighty important item was overlooked during the first few days of the drive which has been called to the attention of the people. This was the collection of keys, small pieces of copper and brass. In every home there are numerous keys which are of no more value. Keys which will probably never be used again, or which are for inside doors which are never locked. There are also small pieces of brass and copper which are laying around the home which you probably thought too small to turn in earlier. Those keys are made of a special metal which is needed badly, as is the brass and copper. Gather all these items up and place them in the barrel which has been stationed at the Salvage Depot. If you only have one useless key, turn it in. There may be three or four of your neighbors who also have one each and with them all in the collection you have a quantity of that vital metal.

It has been noted that the first of the week practically all of the scrap iron and steel had been shipped from the local Salvage Depot. The latter part of the week saw the junk heap growing again, however, and it is hoped that it will continue to grow and grow. Every person in the county should take that second look around their premises to see what little piece of iron, steel, brass, copper, plumber, or other vital salvage materials they failed to uncover the first trip.

There is that piece of scrap metal that you hate to throw away because it might come in handy some day. Well, that piece of metal will come in handy right now by making it available so that it might be thrown at Hitler, or that it might be made into weapons which will save the life of your son, or the son of your neighbor. When the report comes in that some native boy has been lost how do you think the parents will feel when they pass your place and see that scrap iron, steel, etc., laying around which you have failed to turn in. BRING IN YOUR SCRAP AND GET IN THE SCRAP.

"THE BATTLE OF MIDWAY" COMES IN TECHNICOLOR

"The Battle of Midway" will be shown at the Princess Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

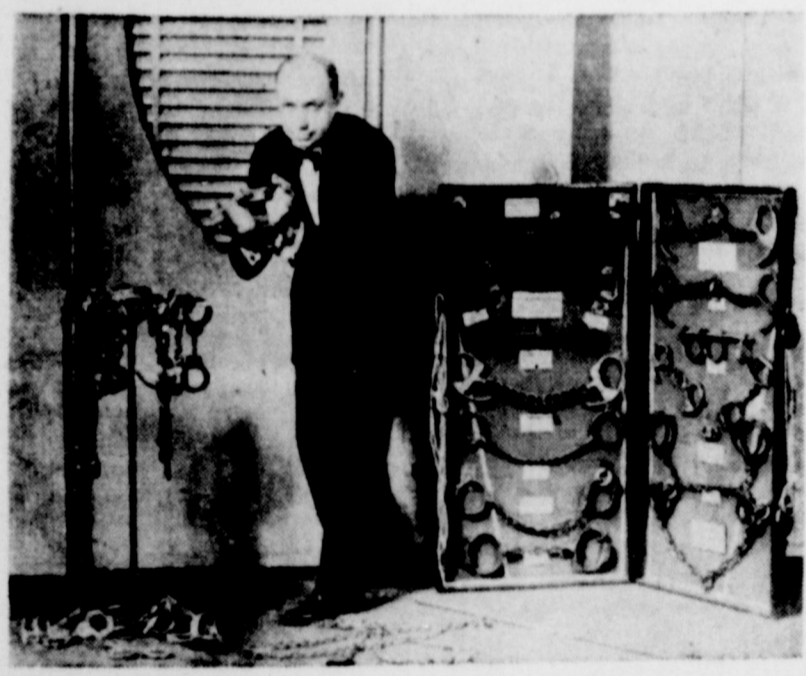

This picture shows authentic scenes from the battle in technicolor and will enlighten the majority of theatre goers as to just what is going on in this war.

IN TRAINING

Mrs. Russell Walker of San Antonio arrived Wednesday to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Arrington.

America's Handcuff Wizard To Be First Lyceum Number Offered Here

Announcement was made this week by Supt. Tom Holley that six programs were to be presented during the school year, the first to be presented Monday night, Oct. 5, at 8:00 o'clock. The program will be staged at the high school auditorium and will be sponsored by the senior class.

Earl Lockman, internationally famed escape artist and noted American magician, will appear in this program. It is said that during his world travels and experiences he has acquired the world's most formidable collection of handcuffs and legirons. Some of these date back to mediaeval times.

During his travels in the Orient Lockman studied Oriental magic. He hobnobbed with Hindu Rajahs, smoked hashish with the Turks and penetrated some of their deepest mysteries. He has witnessed many exhibitions of thaumaturgy by the Hindus. Concerning high-caste magic, such as hypnotic feats and experiments in apparent death, he speaks as inferior to that of our American conjurers.

In later years Lockman became acquainted with Harry Houdini and Joseph Kolar. This association meant much to Lockman as an escape artist.

Bound and tied—by a committee from the audience—with ropes, locks, chains and regulation handcuffs, Lockman will quickly free himself. Mail bags straight jackets and restraints of all kinds are used to prove "Locks don't hold Lockman".

In addition to the amazing escapes from all kinds of restraints, Lockman will also present some outstanding magic.

The humorous animated cartoons drawn by Lockman offer a unique introduction for Mrs. Lockman's art of making pictures from ordinary rags. These pictures are surprisingly life-like and resemble oil paintings in their effectiveness.

This program, as well as the other five to be scheduled later were selected for their entertainment and educational values, and will be brought to the people of Terrell County at the very low price of 11 cents for children and 22 cents for adults.

Three of the programs are to be sponsored by the senior class and three of them by the junior class. These classes retain all proceeds above actual expense for carrying on their class work. The public is cordially invited to help make these lyceum numbers successful as well as enjoy the benefits of entertainment and education.

Church of Christ Gospel Meeting Begins Thursday

L. M. Baze Buys Rocksprings Bank

(From Texas Mohair Weekly) L. M. Baze of Melvin has purchased a majority of the stock in The First State Bank of Rocksprings, and has assumed active management of this banking institution.

He also held the position of vice-president and cashier of the Sanderson State Bank several years and comes to this community highly recommended by financial and business interests as well of the citizenship of the communities in which he and his family have lived.

Mr. Baze has had wide experience as a banker, having assisted in organizing the Security State Bank of Fredericksburg which opened for business in April, 1941, he holding that position of vice-president and cashier of same until he resigned the place on account of bad health.

Mr. and Mrs. Baze and son Lyall, will make their home in Rocksprings and we hasten to welcome these folks among the citizenry of this section of the state.

In conversation with Mr. Baze Monday morning we gathered that he does not at this time contemplate any changes in the personnel of the First State Bank, and intends to conduct the institution on a plan that will make of this bank one of the outstanding institutions of its kind in this particular section of the state.

Lon R. Smart, Jr., resigned his position with the bank recently and is now in Kerrville, taking training at Schreiner Institute in the aviation branch of the government.

J. A. Miller will continue with the new organization for some time at least, while Miss Marjorie Moody remains as assistant cashier.

We understand the sale of the first State Bank does not in any way have a bearing on the Edwards County Wool and Mohair Commission Company, which institution will continue, for a time at least, in operation under its present set-up.

WOOD COUNTY BOY TELLS DARING STORY OF FLYING FORTRESSES

(From Wood County Democrat)

Morris Mansel Jr., of Houston a former Wood County boy, who is a group navigator on a Flying Fortress in Great Britain, has written a letter to his father which is of such interest especially the part the United States is playing in the war that it is being printed in full. Mansel is the son of Morris Mansel Sr. who now resides in Houston, and is a grandson of Mrs. C. C. Mansel of Mineola. The letter in full follows:

Dear Dad:

Received your letter day before yesterday just after leaving for a raid on a Nazi fighter airfield which we completely blasted off the face of the earth.

I am very glad to hear that you are well and happy and that your business is going so well. I really wish, as does every one of us, that I could be home for about a month's leave around Xmas, and it is vaguely possible that such might be the case. Sure hope so. I know you are anxious to know how things are going with us and I will try without making the censor mad, to let you know as much as possible. After all its all in the papers over here, so I'm sure you must be reading about it back home too. Whenever you see anything in the papers at home having to do with the U. S. Army Air forces flying fortresses in England (that's us) another name for the flying fortresses is the B-17. I've been made Group Navigation Officer and assistant group operations officer (a group is comprised of 5 and 6 squadrons) and it is my duty to plan the raids. BONDS, STAMPS IS PAYMENT FOR FARMERS' BEEVES

When 400 baby beeves from six Texas counties went to market at Carthage recently, an example was set that deserves to be widely emulated. The farmers got no money for their livestock—but they all went home well satisfied with the transaction.

The Marshall Production Credit Association arranged for payment in War Savings Stamps and Bonds. When the auctioneer announced a sale, the buyer turned his check over to Elvin E. Justice, the Association's secretary, who issued Bonds and Stamps in lieu of cash to the seller. That event, Mr. Justice explained, was no mere pat on the back for patriotic farmers. Most Texas farmers would buy more War Bonds if they had the ready cash. The Victory Calf Club auction simply offers the opportunity to substitute a calf for cash.

UNDERGOES APPENDECTOMY

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Savage and son, Billy, left Monday night for San Antonio where Billy underwent an emergency operation for removal of his appendix. Mr. Savage returned home Wednesday and reports him getting along satisfactorily.

Basketball Season To Be Opened With "Skirts" Playing

The basketball season will be opened Thursday night of next week at 8:30 o'clock when two teams from the senior class will clash at the high school auditorium.

Since proceeds of the game will go toward financing "senior day", players were selected from the senior class only, and to make distinction of players easy it was decided to dress one of the teams as girls. Both teams were so anxious to be properly suited out it was necessary to toss a coin to see who received the "skirts" according to reports.

The public is invited to see this first game of the season at which the nominal entrance fee of 10 cents will be charged. Following the game there will also be a cake sale.

DR. SHEARRER TO PREACH AT LOCAL CHURCH SUNDAY

A cordial invitation is extended to one and all to be present for these services.

GASOLINE RATIONING

National rationing of gasoline as recommended by the Baruch Committee, is not proposed because there is a shortage of motor fuel. To the contrary, there is an abundance of gasoline of all ordinary grades, and in the producing areas the oil companies are hard-put for storage facilities. Gasoline rationing is to be imposed, instead, to save rubber—and to save rail and water transportation facilities for other uses.

At the present time, gasoline is rationed in 17 Eastern states. According to Leon Henderson it will be extended to the balance of the country on precisely the same basis. That means that the average motorist will be entitled to four gallons weekly—enough to carry him about 60 miles. Supplemental allowances are given "essential" drivers. Practically all pleasure driving will be eliminated for the duration.

The effects of this will be felt most severely in the West. In the East, with great cities and heavily concentrated populations, the motor car has not been nearly so necessary as it is in the West where distances are vast and cities are few and far between. Furthermore, public transportation has naturally attained a higher state of development in the big-population areas. The street car and bus systems, outside of the largest cities, are simply not adequate to handle the load that has long been carried by private automobiles.

Drastic restrictions on automobile use will work a veritable revolution in this nation. West of the Mississippi, where distances are great and interurban transportation limited, no one can estimate the effect of the slow-down that will occur. The motor car dominated our fashion of living ever since the First World War. To millions of people, the family car is practically as necessary as food and shelter. During the twenties and thirties, there was an ever-increasing migration away from towns and cities into suburbs. Men and women lived ten or twenty or more miles from their places of business. Just how these people will get back and forth now that car operation is to be cut to the bone, is an unanswered question. It is impossible for them to move closer to their jobs, for the reason that there are severe housing shortages in all areas which have wa-industries of any kind. The desirable solution to this problem is to produce enough artificial rubber to keep our cars moving. But it seems impossible to find out just how well or badly the synthetic rubber program is doing. The oil industry is making progress in the manufacture of rubber from oil derivations. The tire companies say that they can produce tires from reclaimed rubber which will give fair service if driven slowly. A start is being made to produce another kind of synthetic rubber from grain alcohol. However, there seems little question but what the program in general is still moving too slowly—and that is largely the fault of the government. No two high public officials have been able to agree on just what should be done. As a result, it will probably be a long time before anything resembling even an emergency supply of rubber is available for civilians.

Within the next year, without rubber, transportation problems will become acute. Tires are really going to wear out in volume now, and more and more cars are going into dead storage for lack of rubber. This is going to hit farm production in a critical manner. Street car and bus companies are doing the best job possible, for the most part, but they simply haven't enough rolling stock to meet the need

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Essential in the equipment of every Soldier, Sailor, Marine or Flyer is a first aid kit, consisting of bandages and antiseptics for instantaneous use. These materials are packed into a compact box and cost about $1.50 each.

We need millions of these first aid kits for emergency treatment. They are also used by Red Cross workers, in field hospitals and wherever needed until hospital treatment may be obtained. Even a child could buy one or more of these kits through purchase of War Stamps. Buy War Bonds and Stamps every pay day and invest at least ten percent of your income in these government securities. STRICTLY BUSINESS

by McFeatters

The report from our new representative in Argentina is not very informative. It merely says, "Whoopee!"

Interurban transportation was abandoned long ago in many parts of the country, and the tracks were torn up. We in America depend almost entirely on the motor car for short-haul transport. So the lack of rubber remains our Number One domestic problem.

AIR-POWER

The argument goes merrily on between the air-power enthusiasts and those who think that the airplane, vital as it is, can't win a war alone.

Such persuasive friends of the plane as Major de Seversky are convinced that of the United Nations could build and keep in operation enough planes, Germany and Japan could be literally obliterated from the skies—and that major land operations would thus be unnecessary. The fact that the airplane has not yet proven a decisive weapon means nothing in his opinion—because no nation has as yet been able to keep up air attacks on the scale necessary.

The majority of military experts don't go as far as this. They argue that relatively few of the bombs dropped by planes ever hit important objectives, and that the damage done can, as a rule, be swiftly remedied. They point out that constant progress is being made in air defense—such as camouflage, anti-aircraft guns and fighter planes. They think that the airplane can do an all-important job in softening up an enemy and in disrupting his supply lines—but that it will be up to the navies and armies to finish the job.

No one can say with certainty which side is right. In the meantime, the United Nations' high command continues to prepare for a grand-scale invasion of Europe. If that invasion is to succeed, they figure, at least a million superbly-equipped fighting men must be landed—and there must be another million in reserve. This, when it happens, will be the greatest military operation in history.

"INVISIBLE GREENBACKS"

Many an American may wonder why the government doesn't finance the war almost entirely by borrowing from the banks. All that would be needed is for the Treasury to make arrangements, through the Federal Reserve System, for the banks to buy all the notes and securities the government issued.

The truth is, of course, that this kind of financing would be the surest known road to inflation—and to a national fiscal debacle which would be as ruinous as military defeat in war. For as Harry Scherman recently wrote in a Saturday Evening Post article, "The catastrophic German inflation of the twenties had its beginning in just such government-borrowing-from-banks."

The reason for this is that when the banks buy government bonds, they create new bank deposits. That, in turn, creates what Mr. Scherman terms "invisible greenbacks". The total money supply is rapidly increased, precisely as if the printing presses were turned loose to grind out bills. And when that happens, the volume of purchasing power runs ever farther ahead of the volume of goods available, and a disastrous inflation becomes inevitable.

The banks are doing a big job in the war. They will continue to do a big job in a thousand important financial fields. But if we are to preserve our economic system and the integrity of our currency, the great bulk of war costs must be paid for by all the people. They must be paid for, in part, by taxes. In addition, they must be paid for by the heaviest possible individual investment in Government Bonds.

That is why the Treasury is attempting to vastly increase public bond purchasing—and that is why economists of all schools are supporting the Treasury policy. To quote Mr. Scherman once more, "Cold arithmetic leads to the simple sober ultimate truth: that only our personal savings can now save our civilization." No one, in short, can do the paying for us. This is all the people's war.

It Happened in Sanderson TEN YEARS AGO

This week—Remember?

September 23, 1932

A fairly large crowd was in attendance at the Fall Rodeo and Race meet which was held last Friday and Saturday on the Big Hill Dude Ranch in Highland Park, 7 miles west of this city. The event which was held on the ranch properties of the King-Downie Estate, was under the management of W. A. Banner. Entries in each event held both days included local rodeo performers as well as rodeo stars from Fort Stockton, Pecos, Abilene, Toyah, California, Del Rio, Hondo, Girvin and Uvalde.

Miss Vanola Lane who is teaching this year at Pandale was a week-end visitor in the city.

Ervin Grigsby left Wednesday morning for San Antonio where he will enter the M. & S. Hospital for a minor operation.

Miss Kathleen Sullivan, who is teaching at Comstock, spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Sullivan.

Monahans News—Possibilities and preliminary plans for the building of a Soldiers Recreation Hall in Monahans were discussed at a meeting of the directors of the Monahans Chamber of Commerce this week. Manager Glenn Ratliff has been instructed to file letters with the proper authorities for information on establishment and carrying on of the center.

The span set forth by the chamber of commerce is that all civic clubs including the Rotary Club, Lions Club, all Study Clubs, all Women organizations both connected with the church and otherwise, American Legion, B. & P. W. Club, and all other such organizations be enlisted to cooperate in handling finance, upkeep, and other necessities. Such cooperation would make it light on all clubs involved.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—Picturesque Chihuahua City, capital of the neighboring state of Chihuahua, Republic of Mexico, has a lot to celebrate this week, and Lt. Governor H. L. Coke Stevenson, detained in Austin by pressure of the gasoline rationing problem and other matters, asked Lt. Gov. Winfield to represent Texas at the celebration.

On the occasion of the 132nd anniversary of Mexico's Independence, Chihuahua City also celebrated completion of its 235-mile paved road to Juarez, which links it with the United States by modern highway.

Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa—Organization was completed of a Presidio County Chapter of National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., at a meeting Tuesday night at the Community House, Marfa City Building.

NEW FUN THRILLER TO BE HERE TUESDAY

New Orleans, city of color and gayety—the Madri Gras city—is the scene of murder, mystery and mirth in Paramount's "Night in New Orleans," showing at the Princess Tuesday.

The picture features Preston Foster, Patricia Morrison, Albert Dekker, Charles Butterworth and Cecil Kellaway and is said to be jam-packed with thrills, chills and laughs. It tells the story of two lieutenants on the police force—Foster and Dekker—rivals for the captaincy.

Foster breaks into the home of a wealthy playboy to retrieve love letters written by his wife Patricia Morrison, before she was old enough to know better. He finds the playboy on the floor dead. He is implicated in the murder, Dekker doing his best to pin it on him.

Foster and Patricia roll up their sleeves and go to work to find the real murderer. Instead they stumble on another corpse and get even further involved before they finally catch up with the double-dyed villain who committed both crimes.

"Night in New Orleans" is reported to be an exciting adventure with the killer so well shielded by the plot that the picture constitutes a challenge to every arm-chair detective. You will want to figure him out for yourself and it's pretty certain you'll have a swell time doing it.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

In the square of a little village not far from here I came on the prettiest flower garden you ever saw.

It was a lot of flowers all mixed up—hundreds of different kinds, I guess. So I asked a passerby if he could tell me about it.

"Well," he says, "in this town whenever anybody plants a flower garden and has any seeds left, they scatter them over this plot."

Then he leans over and pulls out a couple of weeds. "We all have to help pull out the weeds too," he tells me. "That way the village has a flower garden to be proud of."

That's about as pretty an illustration of co-operation as I ever come across. But there's plenty of examples of co-operation and civic spirit these days.

We were talking just yesterday about how the brewers and the beer distributors are working together and co-operating with law enforcement authorities.

You see a lot of friendship and fine old customs have grown up

SENIORS PUT ON ASSEMBLY PROGRAM FRIDAY

The seniors put on a program in assembly Friday morning. First came a "truth or consequence" contest, with Mickie Corder asking Marshall Cooke James House, Maurine Frazier Yvonne Oberling, Jay Tom Holley, John L. Whistler, and Misses Mixon and Brieger the questions. Of course the contestants were not able to answer such brain teasers as Mickie had thought up so they had to pay the consequences.

Marshall had to pretend that he was a little boy with the tummy ache. (Did it really hurt Marshall?)

Jay Tom had to sing a song with gestures. He chose "Rock-a-bye Baby in the Tree-top." You should have seen the gestures. Not bad, Jay Tom.

Yvonne seemed to have had experience by the clever manner in which she impersonated a man stealing in home late at night.

James was to crow like a rooster three times but the sounds just stuck so he substituted another consequence. Stage fright, James?

Maurine had to pretend to rock a baby to sleep, put it to bed, and slip from the room. (Do you still play dolls, Maurine?)

Miss Mixon was definitely the hit of the show as she ran screaming up the aisle as if she had lost her mamma. (Why did you run to Miss K?)

John Lewis gave impersonations of a rodeo rider roping and tying a calf. Casa was the horse.

Miss Brieger was to tell a joke or story but if no one laughed she was to tell another. The audience framed her so she had to tell two.

Part II
The second part of the program was a silent movie entitled "A Prairie Romance," with Margaret Ruth Yeates as commentator. The characters were: Laura Belle Lovely, Janice White, Snake Foot Sue, Betty Frazier, Dashing Dan, Bill Cochran, and Snake Foot Sue's faithful followers: Curtis Litton, Joe Bean, Bill Davis, Harold Haines, and Donald Smith.

Miss Brieger led the group in singing.

This Friday the seventh grade has charge of the program. The time is 10:30 on Friday.

BAND NOTES—

The band is busy brushing up on the old favorites, "Port Conway," "His Honor," "Little Giant" and others. New music has been ordered and should be here any day.

The band marched Thursday for a part of the period. Turns pivots, and other maneuvers were learned.

LIBRARY NEWS

Boys and girls, do you know that there is talk of rationing gasoline all over the nation? We cannot use our cars to take trips or go anywhere. What will we do for entertainment? Did you know that there is a library up at your school with any number of good books to read?

There is no better way to entertain yourself than to settle down in a nice comfortable armchair with a good book. Think of the trips you can take while you are sitting there! If it's excitement you are wanting read a good football story. The thrills you can get from reading a good detective story, a western novel, or a lively adventure story! Maybe it's hero worship you are after, or maybe you won't be able to see your favorite sports hero play this year; then why not try reading a good biography of our great heroes.

The library is full of good books and is overly anxious to serve you. This year let's read more books than we ever have before, and entertain ourselves at home.

Time of meeting was set for the first Tuesday in each month.

SENIOR NEWS

Thrills and heart throbs, the senior rings came! Just look about and the students with the biggest smiles and proudest looks will be seniors. You can also tell them by the way they stand or sit admiring their little hands.

Senior Day is now a reality. As the plans stand—the place is Garner State Park, the time—Oct. 2 and 3. The problem—ways to go what to carry, money to finance the event. The seniors are working to solve the problems. They plan to have a cake raffle and a basket ball game next week so save your dimes—help them put over their plan. We admit that this is a hard time to be a senior, that gas and tires will limit our fun—but watch our smoke. We'll make the best of the situation.

Why should we gripe? A lot of our boys in service are missing things too.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT HAS REACHED TOTAL OF 601

Two new teachers were added to the faculty this week. Mrs. Berta Clark Lassiter of Alpine will be principal of the Latin-American grammar school. She takes the place left vacant by the resignation of Mr. C. C. Jones who accepted a position in Uvalde.

Mrs. Dixie H. Hayre will teach language arts in the upper grades.

Mrs. Shelton's room, the fourth and fifth grades, won the P-T A attendance prize.

The freshman class met Friday and elected the following officers for the school year:

President, Don Frazor; vice-president, Betty Jo Kerr; secretary and treasurer, Doris Cooke; reporter, Mary Alice Allen.

Mr. Long was chosen as class sponsor. The fish hope to have a class that will be outstanding.

4-H CLUB NEWS

The 4-H Club met Friday afternoon to elect officers. They were as follows: President, Frank Stavley; vice-president, Don Allen; secretary, Billy Joe Short.

SPORTS

The basketball boys were sporting new shoes last week. Since it was necessary to cut out football the boys are planning on big things in basketball. With so much good material and such a spirit the team will make basketball history.

Here's wishing them the best of luck and hopes for a district championship.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING

Plans for a party, class dues and ways of earning money were the topics under discussion at the junior class meeting Tuesday.

"Woody" Leatherwood is here on a short leave. He expects to leave for the Pacific soon.

Pat Sullivan is leaving Monday for San Antonio where he plans to join the Navy Air Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Harris are visiting his parents. Pat has been working in an airplane factory in California.

Joe Kerr Jr. has been transferred to Pecos.

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Terrell County at the Court House thereof, in Sanderson, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. D. 1942, then and there to answer Plaintiffs' First Amended Original Petition filed in said Court, on the 31st day of August, A. said plaintiffs alleging that on or about January 1, A. D. 1942, they were the owners in fee simple and entitled to possession of said lands, that thereafter on or about January 2, A. D. 1942, the defendants unlawfully entered upon and dispossessed plaintiffs of the above lands and now withhold from them the possession thereof to plaintiffs' damage in the sum of $5000.00. Plaintiffs further allege that they have had continuous, peaceful and adverse possession of said lands under title and color of title for more than 25 years prior to January 1, 1942, that said lands have been continuously enclosed under good and substantial fences, that they have made valuable improvements thereon, and that they, the plaintiffs, have good title to said lands under the 25, 10, 5, and 3 year statutes of limitation of the State of Texas.

Plaintiffs pray for judgment for title and possession of the premises, for damages, costs, and general and special relief, as is more fully shown by Plaintiffs' First Amended Original Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Sanderson, Texas this 31st day of August A. D. 1942.

R. R. Ellisons, Marfa, Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary This Week

(From Big Bend Sentinel)
Their sixth decade of married life will be started Monday by Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Ellison, Marfa they first came to the Highland section, soon after their marriage.

The Ellisons, who will be honored by fellow church members at the First Christian Church Sunday afternoon at a five o'clock tea, to which all their friends are invited, were married at Alex. Indian Territory community, on Wednesday, September 21, 1892. Mr. Ellison adds the information that the settlement was on what was known in those days as "Hell Roaring Creek."

In excellent shape after the half century since the wedding is the invitation sent friends and relatives and one of which the Ellisons treasure greatly. Engraving on the folder was in a neat script type. Portions of the folder were cut out so that the engraving might be seen. The paper stock was gayly decorated with a raised floral design. The best man at the wedding was G. A. Howard, Marfa today as he has been for many years. Relatives who attended the wedding and who are known to be living are Mr. Ellison's brother Tom H. Ellison of El Paso; Mrs. Ellison's sister, Mrs. Winnie R. Kilpatrick of Marfa; Mrs. Ellison's brother, Charles W. Well of Castorville, Calif.

The Ellisons came to Marfa in December, 1893, and have lived in this section since that time with the exception of a period of eighteen to twenty years when they were El Paso residents. They returned here in 1933. One daughter, Mrs. S. L. Plumley lives in El Paso; a son, Clarence is a resident of Alpine; and a daughter, Mrs. John Reininger makes her home in Sanderston. Mrs. Reininger will be here to spend the golden wedding anniversary week-end with her parents.

Two grandsons of the Ellisons—Robert E. Ellison and Tommy H. Ellison—are serving in the United States Navy and are a source of much pride to the Marfans.

Sea in flames, the others very hurriedly collected themselves and made off toward Germany

2 more were steadily losing altitude and smoking. Cannon fire from one, had killed several men and a co-pilot in our squadron, and injured the pilot, but the plane returned and landed safely, with the rest of us. Oh yes I forgot to mention, we kept going and bombed the target and ruined their submarine factory. Since then, they are very wary and cautious when they attack a squadron of B-17's, and they break away from the attack before they reach the best range. Two squadrons were sitting up there above us. But we don't expect such an easy time all the time. The fighters have a good healthy respect for a Flying Fortress now, but the ship I've been in has been hit several times by anti-craft fire, though not in a vital spot luckily. Hope my, or our luck holds out. Not much more to write about.

Weather is lousy today, so no raid, it is a relief in a way for we've been on 3 in the last three days, and they are very trying and that anti-craft fire is tough on the nerves, they really throw up the barricades and the formation has to constantly get 4 or 5 ships hit.

Contrary to some wild German claim of 27 of our ships brought down, we haven't lost one though we've had a few boys killed and wounded. We're doing all right though so do not worry. Every time we drop a bomb we say "this is for one of our friends or relatives." You have an enemy airplane hanger probably filled with fighters, to your credit, in case you didn't know it. Already we have done a lot to clear out the opposition to an invasion of France, and hasten the day of Hitler's doom.

Hope things continue well for you Dad. Be sure and write as often as you can find the time. Give my best to everyone at the office, and tell them I said Old "Jerry" isn't so tough, but he is damned clever.

Love,
Morris Jr.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

When the American Expeditionary Force landed in Ireland recently newspapers reported the citizenry remarked at the similarity of the steel helmets worn by our boys with those worn by German troops. These steel hats are protection from shrapnel fragments and other light missiles. We need thousands of them for they are a regular issue to every American soldier.

A smart strap fastens under the chin and they are padded for comfort. One steel helmet costs $5 so every time you fill a $5 stamp book you are buying protection for an American soldier. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. Help your community reach its War Bond Quota.

things are different in America. Here people have free speech free enterprise and a voice in government.

"The American system is not perfect," is the constant cry of its jealous critics. Even so, it is the best system in the world, proved by practical demonstration. It is much too good to be junked in favor of anything in use now elsewhere. American fathers and mothers, especially those with sons in war, have every right to pass their priceless heritage of freedom along to posterity, and every reason to preserve in America a permanent foundation for representative constitutional government and free enterprise after the war.

Elton (Dutch) Halley of San Diego, Calif., who is serving in the United States Navy, arrived Saturday night of last week for a ten-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Halley. He is to report back at his post on the 28th of this month.
