REGISTRATION FOR GAS RATION CARDS SET NOV. 9; BOARD MEMBERS NAMED

Registration for gas rationing will begin November 9 in all parts of the country except the already-rationed East, according to information released from Washington last week.

No definite plans have been announced here as to where the registration places will be nor at what time, although three men, R. V. Raney, Sid Harkins, and John Clark, have been recommended as members of the members of the Rationing Board panel which will handle the rationing of gasoline.

In gearing gasoline rationing more closely to the tire conservation program, OPA made these innovations in the plan now operating in the East:

1. Periodic tire inspections as a requirement for any renewal of rations, as well as any application for tires or recaps.

2. Certification that the applicant owns no more than five tires for any vehicle.

3. Revocation or reduction of rations for drivers who exceed the 35-mile-an-hour speed limit.

The registration beginning November 9 will be for a coupon book, with the rationing plan to go into effect November 22. Each applicant will be required to list the serial number of all tires he owns. If he lists more than five tires for each car, he will be denied an A book until he shows he has disposed of the excess tires.

All car owners registering next month will receive A books containing coupons for mileage at the rate of 2880 per year. Applications for supplemental rations, which the OPA said would receive the "most careful scrutiny" may be filed any time after the basic A book has been received.

To qualify for a supplemental ration, the applicant must show he needs more than 150 miles per month of occupational driving, and that he has formed a car sharing club for carrying three or more persons, in addition to himself, to and from work regularly.

Motorists with more than five tires may sell the excess to the government. OPA announced. Details of the plan will be announced in the near future.

REV. J. R. BELL RETURNED TO LOCAL CHURCH

The Rev. J. R. Bell returned Saturday from El Paso where he went to attend the New Mexico Annual Conference, and stated that he was returned to the local Methodist Church for another year.

Rev. Bell has been serving the local church for the past six months, coming to Sanderson from Santa Rosa, N. M.

Miss Adeline McConaughy spent the week-end here visiting with her mother, Mrs. D. O. Bosworth, and Mr. Bosworth. She is a student nurse at a San Antonio hospital.

Get Your Driver's License Before November First

All drivers with Texas Operator's Licenses that were issued before 1941 have an opportunity to renew them without undergoing further examination. To do this, it will be necessary to get application blanks from the office of Sheriff J. S. Nance and mail them in to Public Safety Department, Austin, before the first day of November, 1942.

A renewal ordinarily involves nothing more than submission of an application and the payment of a 50-cent fee, which pays for a license good for two years. Anyone operating an automobile after his license has expired will be subject to a fine and will have to take a stiff examination before he can obtain a new license.

Pamphlets Available For Merchants at Rationing Office

J. M. Hayre, chairman of the Terrell County War Price and Rationing Board announced today that the Board has available for wholesale and retail food merchants copies of a pamphlet explaining how they must comply with Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 22 which covers additional foods brought under price control effective October 5.

This Regulation was issued by Price Administrator Leon Henderson to spread the emergency price ceilings over virtually all food items that previously had been exempt from control and was designed to put into immediate effect President Roosevelt's directives.

By this move Mr. Henderson increased from about 60 per cent to a full 90 per cent, OPA's control over the average family's food budget. The 60-day emergency food ceilings made effective on October 5 puts into effect a "freeze" on the price of these foods at the levels of the 5-day period from September 28 through October 2.

The only important foodstuffs exempt for the time being are: fresh fruits and vegetables (except potatoes, dry onions and citrus fruits), and exempt, too are fresh fish and peanuts.

"We hope that merchants concerned will call at our office and get a copy of this pamphlet," Mr. Hayre said, "because it explains how every wholesale and retail food merchant must preserve his records relating to prices, prepare a statement of prices that may be examined by customers, specify ceiling prices; and this digest will guide the merchant in the proper procedure for complying with the Regulation."

Merchants who sell clothing were also advised by Mr. Hayre that his office now has a quantity of pamphlets explaining how to set ceiling prices for men's and boys' tailored garments and staple work clothing.

It is important that every merchant have one of these pamphlets for a reference in his store. One of the pamphlets deals with Maximum Price Regulation No. 177, governing the prices for men's and boy's tailored garments, and the other pamphlet deals with Maximum Price Regulation No. 208, governing the price of staple work clothing.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Stumberg went to El Paso Sunday and returned home Tuesday. Mr. Stumberg attended a AAA meeting held there. George J. Henshaw, local county chairman, and Mrs. Dorothy W. Mey, county secretary, also attended the meeting.

Mrs. J. W. Espy of Fort Davis and Mrs. Gay Howard and daughter of Marfa, visited here Wednesday and Thursday with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Johnnie Williams and family.

More than 150 samples of the two minerals were collected and will go through chemical and petrographic analysis.

Uvalde Leader-News—First sales of the fall on graded mohair were made Wednesday by Vernon Smith, owner of the Sabinal Wool & Mohair Co., when he sold 49,000 pounds of the staple to two buyers, one of whom bought 20,000 pounds of grown hair and the other getting 20,000 pounds of the kid clips.

Rudy Vaughn of E. R. Greenwood was the purchaser of the grown mohair. Ten thousand pounds of No. 1 spring mohair went at 60 cents per pound while a like amount of No. 1 fall clip went at 56 cents a pound.

Buyer of the kid hair was Louie Ragland of R. P. Collins Company, who bought 10,000 pounds of No. 2 kid hair at 62 cents and a similar amount of No. 1 kid at 72 cents.

theatre Sunday and Monday when Irving Berlin's long-awaited "Holiday Inn" is shown with stars Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire topping the players.

Casting Hollywood's most popular warbler and hooper together seems to be a stroke of showmanship genius. Adding Irving Berlin's music—eleven new hit songs and two old ones, two lovely-to-look-at singing and dancing girls, Marjorie Reynolds and Virginia Dale, plus a delightful story—and you have a silver platter of entertainment the like of which isn't dished out every day!

The film tells the story of Bing Crosby's efforts to live the kind of life which will leave him free to rest and relax a good part of the time. He hits upon the idea of converting his Connecticut farmhouse into an inn open only on holidays, so he'll have the balance of the year to himself.

On each of the holidays he puts on an appropriate floor show with the assistance of Marjorie Reynolds. Astaire is trying to steal Marjorie from Bing to be his dancing partner, replacing Virginia Dale who has walked out no him. Virginia complicates the situation by returning at the wrong time. There's quite a romantic to-do among the four principals, but it wouldn't do to tell all.

☆☆ TIM HOLT STARS IN ADVENTURE OF NEW MEXICO

Bringing Tim Holt to the screen in another vivid story of frontier adventure, "Riding the Wind" deals with the struggle between an unscrupulous promoter and a group of cattlemen over water rights on grazing land.

Holt plays the part of a young rancher whose herds are threatened with extinction when the promoter builds a dam across the Turkey River and shuts off all water to the ranchers below him. Rather than pay the exorbitant price the crook asks for the precious fluid the ranchers try to fight him in the courts, while Holt gets the services of a windmill expert to help him by sinking enough wells to avert the drought until a decision is reached.

The promoter and his satellites learn of the scheme and do their best to wreck the windmill equipment. The ranchers outwit him, only to have the completed wells dynamited just when they are starting to flow. How the desperate cattlemen secure a court ruling against the promoter in the nick of time and Holt manages to defeat his scheme of revenge by dynamiting the dam, makes for the stirring climax of this fast-paced offering.

Like most of the Holt vehicles, the film gives an authentic glimpse of conditions on the frontiers when the West was developing. Because of the aridity of many parts of the cattle country, water and water rights held a highly important place in the scheme of things and disputes frequently led to savage gun-fights as well as to the courts, as is vividly shown in this picture.

The part of the resourceful young rancher gives Holt an excellent opportunity for his talents as a rider and fighter, and he is again supported by Ray Whitley and Lee "Lasses" White as his loyal buddies. Mary Douglas has the feminine lead and Eddie Drew plays the role of the promoter.

The film comes to the Princess Tuesday.

SANDERSON EAGLES WIN FIRST GAMES OF BASKETBALL

The Sanderson Eagles opened their 1942-43 basketball season Friday night, in the high school gymnasium, with the team from Presidio as their opponents.

Many of the Eagles were seeing first competition. They are: Charles Yeates, Doyce Wells, Don Allen, Donald Babb, Jay Tom Holley and Bobby Edwards.

The Eagles won by a score of 38 to 12. The starting five men on the Eagle team were: Bill Cochran, Joe Bean, John Lewis Whistler, Harold Haynes, and Frank Stavley.

Bill Cochran was high point man with nine points; Joe Bean was second with eight and John Whistler was third with five to his credit. The second string was responsible for 17 points.

The Eagles played Presidio the second game on Saturday night, winning with a score of 42 to 21. The Eagle second string played most of this game.

High scores Saturday were made by Bill Cochran with eight and John Whistler with six.

There are twenty boys out for basketball practice and the Eagles are expecting a good season.

Friday and Saturday nights, October 23 and 24, the Eagles will go to Rankin for games.

LIBRARY NEWS

To date the library has sold $22.65 worth of defense stamps to boys and girls in the high school. The seniors are still leading the other classes with the purchase of $19.00 worth of defense stamps. Both Bill Davis and David Duke have bought a $25 bond through the library.

Last week the library received two books, which should be of interest to Terrell County people, the 1942 yearbook of agriculture, and the book "Sketches of Finland".

Mr. R. E. Thomason, representative from this district, sent the agriculture yearbook to the library. The text of the yearbook "Keeping Livestock Healthy" should be of special interest to the ranchers of Terrell County.

The library received from the Finnish Information Center in New York a copy of "Sketches of Finland", edited by the Finnish Section of the New York World's Fair. The book is full of interesting information and beautiful pictures of the little country, which has so recently played an important part in the world's history.

HONOR ROLL FOR FIRST SIX WEEK PERIOD

Twenty-two students of the Sanderson high school were on the honor roll the first six weeks. To be on the honor roll, a student must have an average of 88 (B plus) with no grade lower than B-. The following are on the honor roll:

Seniors—Bill Cochran, James House, Margaret Pierson, Imogene Woodruff.

Juniors—Bill Calk, Jay Tom Holley, Wilma Woodruff.

Freshmen—Don Frazor, Clyde Griffith, Dianna Hampton, Dudley Harrison, Marjorie Jessup.

Eighth grade—Charles Hill, Jeanette Cobb, Mary Nell Gates, Avis McDonald, and Mona Ogle.

Eighteen members of the American ward school were on the honor roll. They are as follows:

First grade—Johnnie Floyd, Jan Lovell and Mary Wolff.

Second grade—Mary Lou Cargile and Tropha Ann Turner.

Third grade—James Bean.

Fourth grade—Betty Fay Sullivan.

Fifth grade—Barbara Anderson, Joan Byrd, Betty Cooke, Nancy Peavy, Peggie Robertson.

Sixth grade—Joan Lemons and Lizzie Belle Lemons.

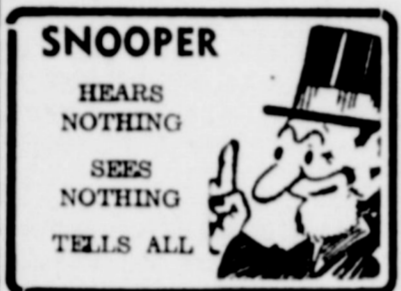

Seventh grade—Margie Lou Duncan, Harriet Pierson, Patty Jo Robertson and Betty Ann Peavy.

happened at Janice's Sunday night.

Because of the great commotion at Mickie's Friday night about the "hat" milk we wonder what was in it. Would you know James Albert?

Ann Bell, looking very nice at the dance Saturday night, was sadly disappointed because someone couldn't come to town, but from her looks Tuesday morning he was here Monday night.

A certain cute blonde in the sophomore class wonders why the sophomore boys are so unconscious of the girls.

Advanced styles of bathing suits are expected to open the swimming season.

Bill Stirman would make good advertising for a firm selling ideas for reducing.

It's going to be interesting to see which boys will make good kings and dukes.

Kathryn Nell and Janice—getting sick on your own cooking isn't a very good recommendation to the boys.

If the teachers would take all the assignments they make and add the times they have to repeat it for students who were not listening, they would send in a requisition for a retreat on their tongues.

The eighth grade boys surely are interested in Hop Scotch. The other day, they were having so much fun they didn't hear the bell.

Ten pretty girls all in a row—and Jay Tom and Bill Cochran admiring them. That's the picture every day at lunch.

After school typing practice has stopped for a couple of girls since certain boys have started basketball practice.

Our first cold day brought out many bright new S. H. S. sweaters. Snooper is wondering how long it will be before girls will be wearing these sweaters.

It seems that Donald Smith is taking Loys Deaton's place of last year—going with eighth grade girls. This time it's Hazel Babb.

Edward Kerr, a certain blonde eighth grade girl says you asked to take her riding. What's the matter with the seniors?

Butch Murray, who is the young blonde who puts those sparks in your eyes?

James House likes dancing so well, we expect him, at any minute, to open a branch studio of the Arthur Murray School of Dancing.

Jack Buchanan makes a good clothes line—tiresome work, Jack. We suggest you take a little math.

Snooper wants to know how much Allister Dishman's Orchestra charges for a one night dance.

With the first six weeks being history, and grades not a history (at least with parents) perhaps some of the vacant looks will leave certain students faces—at least during class.

Snooper wonders why the upper classmen don't demand a "paint job" on the S. H. S. rocks on the hillside.

Who was that vivacious brunette that Jay Tom was seen escorting to the dance Friday night?

We hear that since the cutie Connie Conrad has come to Sanderson high the boys are coming to school very well groomed.

Since some of the senior girls such as Betty Frazor and Janice won't tell us, we wish some one would enlighten us as to what strangely enough, the whole is not greater than one of its parts. Miss Lattimore learned that there is a new vitamin—vitamin R.

Miss Mixon learned in junior business that thrift is wasteful spending and that business is a means of communication.

GETTING ACQUAINTED WITH OUR FACULTY

That agreeable looking young man with the ear-to-ear smile that we see strolling up and down the halls of S. H. S. is none other than C. W. Long of Sweetwater, Texas.

Mr. Long graduated from McMurray College in Abilene and taught the last two years in Toyah, Texas. He teaches science, chemistry and physical education in the Sanderson high school. "Huey", as Mr. Long used to be called, isn't as tall as his name would imply. He likes to fish, play golf and go to the movies, but he has no favorite actors or actresses. He also likes to travel and states that he wants to see Yellowstone National Park and the west coast before he dies. "Grand Upnor" music does not appeal to him, but semi-classical music does.

He has no favorite colors, likes them all, but he insists he would not buy a green or purple suit.

Ice cream, fried chicken, and strawberry shortcake top his favorite food list, and he prefers books of history and biographies.

Mr. Long is the freshman class sponsor but has already won a place in the hearts of all the students.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

DON'T ever argue with Grandma Hoskins about American history unless you know what you're talking about. Because when Grandma states a fact, it really is a fact.

The other day we got to talking about George Washington—who besides being a great general, was a public surveyor, a successful farmer, and a wise statesman.

"And he made mighty good beer, too," says Grandma.

That was news to most of us. "You can see his private recipe for beer right in the New York Public Library," Grandma Hoskins tells us. "In his own handwriting, at that."

And then she opened up on how Washington and those others who founded America believed in beer and moderation. Told us about William Penn who had his own brewery down in Pennsylvania, and Israel Putnam... Samuel Adams of Massachusetts and James Oglethorpe of Georgia.

"Beer," Grandma goes on, "has grown up with the country because it's a symbol of good fellowship and moderation."

Way back in 1789, she told us, James Madison stood up in the House of Representatives and made the motion urging "the manufacture of beer in every State of the Union." And that same year Massachusetts passed an act stating that "the wholesome qualities of malt liquors greatly recommend them to general use."

From there on—until early in 1918, the brewing industry kept growing and beer and ale kept getting better and better.

Then came prohibition... thirteen dark years that bred vice and crime. Grandma says it taught us something though—something that George Washington and all those other early American statesmen knew all along... that no law ever takes the place of self-restraint and moderation.

That's why they were friends of beer and made moderation a cornerstone of American freedom. They were right about a lot of things—Washington and Adams and Penn. And from where I sit, they certainly were right about moderation, too.

and excitement of the story. The film features one of the most dynamic acting trios in Hollywood—Ann Sheridan, Ronald Reagan and Richard Whorf.

Sheridan, who recently scored such a grand hit in a difficult characterization for "Kings Row" follows it up with a different type but equally difficult role in "Juke Girl". She is cast as a girl to whom dancing means everything. Wherever there's music and gaiety, there you'll find Ann. When the picture opens Ann and her girl friend, played by Faye Emerson, are working in a Florida tavern frequented by a bunch of gruff but friendly itinerant fruit and vegetable pickers.

The people are hard-workers by day and spend their nights trying to crowd every minute with enjoyment. Into this town come two pals, played by Ronald Reagan and Richard Whorf, looking for work. They are completely different emotionally and in their ideas of right and wrong. When they first meet Ann Sheridan, Reagan and she are attracted to each other almost immediately, but Whorf doesn't pay much attention to her. They soon learn that Henry Madden, a role played by Gene Lockhart, who owns a large packing plant, runs the town's industry and to a large extent its social life. When anyone wanted a favor or a job they had to see Lockhart or his cohorts.

A happy-go-lucky vegetable farmer, played by George Tobias, is neither happy nor lucky when Lockhart refuses to pay him a reasonable price for his produce. Reagan and Sheridan side with Tobias and try to help. Whorf thinks it more practical to string along with Lockhart and there occurs a definite parting between the two friends.

Reagan and Tobias form a partnership which goes along favorably until Lockhart interferes and Tobias is killed during a brutal fight. The film reaches a roaring climax when Lockhart implicates Reagan and Sheridan with the killing and organizes a lynch mob to take care of them before they can be brought to trial. The highly dramatic series of events which follow make the picture one of the years cinematic highlights.

LON CHANEY APPEARS AS MONSTER IN HORROR FILM

Three times the 'Frankenstein' films have blazed a trail of terror across the nation's screens to prove the top attractions in the field of horror drama.

Now comes a fourth, "The Ghost of Frankenstein", which is advanced as the most sensational film of the series. It shows at a midnight matinee, October 31.

The drama has Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Lon Chaney, Lionel Atwill, Ralph Bellamy, Bela Lugosi, Evelyn Ankers and Janet Ann Galloway in the cast.

Original film in the series, "Frankenstein" was a horror hit of 1931.

In the new offering, Hardwicke plays "Dr. Frankenstein," son of the infamous doctor who originally created the devastating monster.

Among eerie situations in the new drama is one in which the doctor attempts to perform a daring operation, to give the Monster a sane mind and trans-
