Brother... quit being so human!

★ Remember 1933 — when times were tough? Maybe you didn't have a job. Maybe you and your wife and kids didn't eat too well — dress too well — have too much fun. Maybe you swore then that if things were ever different, you'd make up for it.

Chances are, today, things are different. You've got a job. You're getting good money. And you'd naturally like to have a little fun with it. You'd like to buy some of the "extras" that you and your family never had during the hard times.

It's only human to feel that way. But right now — we've got to quit being so human!

Right now, over in England, a bunch of fellows are getting ready to tackle one of the bloodiest jobs ever given an Army. In the Pacific, another bunch is playing hide-and-seek with an enemy that thinks the right treatment for a wounded prisoner is a bayonet through the guts. Others are sweating in Africa — still others are on cold, dreary, fog-bound islands near the Bering Sea.

That's their job.

But it's our job to give them the tools they need to win — by buying War Bonds! And so far, we aren't doing our full job!

Right now, there are still people who ought to be buying War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan — but aren't.

While plenty of people in the Plan are investing more than the 10% Uncle Sam needs, a lot are putting aside less than they can.

The fellows who aren't yet in the Plan — or, being in, haven't yet hit their 10% — aren't unpatriotic, or 5th Columnists, or anything like that. They're just human. They just haven't realized their Country's bitter, crying need — now! They haven't realized that Americans have been licked in battle for lack of planes, ships, tanks and bullets — tools that the money we'd like to spend for fun has got to buy!

Uncle Sam hopes that every single one of us will realize it — by January 1st, 1943. By that date, everybody on a payroll should be on a Payroll Savings Plan — and we'll "Top That 10% by New Year's."

So, if you aren't setting aside your 10%, go on in and tell 'em you want to raise your sights. Not to 6%, or 7% or 8% — but at least 10%. If you can put in more than 10% — do it. If you aren't yet in on the Payroll Savings Plan — sign up tomorrow!

P.-T. A. PURCHASES PROJECTOR FOR USE IN SCHOOLS

The past week the Sanderson Parent-Teacher Association purchased and presented to the Terrell County schools a 16mm sound projector. It has been announced that this projector will be available to the community and will be used for visual education in schools and for war films for both school and public.

Christmas Time Brings Additional Fire Dangers

Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, suggests that plans for the coming holiday season include careful consideration of fire prevention.

"We must not allow destructive fires to burn our homes, or to cause injury or death to our families," Hall said. "This can be avoided by being careful in planning our decorations for Christmas. The decorations more commonly used are highly combustible, and therefore create additional fire hazards during the holiday season."

Several fire safety practices mentioned by the Commissioner were:

See that decorations are kept a safe distance from stoves or other heating equipment; do not allow them to come in contact with electric light bulbs, or appliances; prevent the accumulation of trash, papers, boxes or rubbish; "black out" matches, cigars and cigarettes before discarding them; keep matches beyond the reach of children; be careful to keep electric circuits from being overloaded.

If a tree is used, secure a fresh one, keep it dampened and outside the house until actually needed. When set up, place the tree in a room where it will be as cool and moist as possible.

Mmes. W. Grigsby and R. Rose Hostesses At Bridge Party

Mrs. Roger Rose and Mrs. Walter Grigsby were hostesses at a bridge party Wednesday afternoon in the latter's home. Bouquets of chrysanthemums were used to decorate the entertaining rooms.

Mrs. C. P. Peavy was winner of high score prize, Mrs. C. F. Pickard won second high, Mrs. Richard Haley received the consolation prize and Mrs. Lee McCue was awarded the traveling prize. Defense Stamps were used for prizes.

The hostesses served pecan pie and tea to Mesdames Bustin Canon, Jack Deaton, Robert Duncan, John Harrison, Lee McCue, Mary Lou Keller, Austin Nance, J. S. Nance, Gus Prickett, Horace Fletcher, S. H. Underwood, Jack Laughlin, C. P. Peavy, P. E. Dishman, James Kerr, John Reininger, John Kerr, Web Townsend, Roy Bogusch, Bill Tisdale, W. H. Savage, C. F. Pickard, Bill McElroy, and Richard Haley.

Doris Lee really was alluring in that pretty white dress—yes, we think it made an impression on HIM.

Douglas Smith seemed to be taking his big bud's place with Connie.

Mary Jean, you better watch out, now that little blonde sister of yours has started stepping out.

Believe it or not, Alister was at Doris' with bells on and he actually seemed to be having a swell time, even though a certain Del Rio brunette wasn't there. He was thinking of her though.

That swell Bill Savage and Margaret La Forge Romance has gone on the rocks, it seems. Tsk, tsk, what happened?

Tom's song is "Mr. Five by Five". Think you're gonna qualify?

Margaret, what happened, did W. T. scare your voice away Friday?

Girls, be wise and get you a boy friend before Christmas, 'cause if you don't they might all be gone.

Butch, have you fallen hard for Jimmy Merritt??

Ge, but I wonder how Connie can stand to ride in that strip down with Lee and Maurine when she was all by her lonesome!!

Harvey just returned from San Antonio and it seems like he purchased a new set of drums. Say boy, you might lend a hand and beat out the war dance for some of the certain kids here in school.

Say, Mickie, why were you so happy the other morning when you had a letter from San Diego, Calif. I'll bet I know who it was from.

Janice returned from El Paso Sunday and I wonder who saw her first?

We wonder why Vivian Mc was so angry at D. D. during their play. Could it have been because the script called for DD to hug JN.

Robert Joe, what has come over you and Patty Jo?

DEFENSE SAVINGS STAMPS

The Sanderson High School has sold $72.05 worth of defense savings stamps since the stamps went on sale in October. The senior class is still leading the other classes in their purchase of defense stamps. To date they have bought $50.45 cents worth of stamps. Two more $25.00 bonds have been bought since the last news report. Mrs. Tom Holley and Bland Gates Jr. have both bought bonds.

ELEMENTARY GRADES BUY STAMPS

The grade school children are doing their part in the War Saving Stamp drive. Each teacher encourages the purchase of stamps each week. The following is the record up to December first:

Mexican School, $26.00; American School, $75.00, making a grand total of $101.00. With the cooperation of parents a valuable lesson of thrift and patriotism can be taught at this time.

FIRE CAN BE FINAL

Millions of people will soon have to walk to their offices and their grocery stores because the United States is desperately short of rubber. And yet in a single fire we allowed one-tenth of our total crude rubber supply to go up in smoke! We allowed carelessness to do the work of an enemy bomber. We allow the same carelessness to destroy hundreds of millions of dollars in property and thousands of lives every year. The taxes we pay to support fire departments, cannot protect us against our own carelessness. Nothing can protect us except a final realization that uncontrolled fire is a deadly menace. Once we realize that, the problem of fire can be solved.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has published a book entitled "Fire Prevention Education". It is written expressly for the use of teachers, community leaders, fire chiefs, public officials, Scouts and civilian defense aides. It applies to home and factory alike. For example, it points out that 40 fires a day in the United States are due to careless use of the electric iron; the bill for this particular piece of neglect is $1,625,000 annually. Most of these fires could be eliminated merely by the use of an automatic temperature control switch which prevents the iron from attaining excessive temperatures.

And so it goes. The bulk of our annual fire loss could easily be averted. All that is necessary is a little individual effort, something that too many of us fail to exert until it is too late. And then we never get a second chance because fire is very often like death. It can be final.

TALKING THRU OUR HATS

We are beginning to get a taste of the real meaning of authoritarian government. The business man, the farmer, the laborer, the housewife, even our children will soon feel the cold clutch of Washington edict. We accept it as a part of the price of winning the war. Nine of us like it. We are assured that it will be temporary, that all controls will automatically terminate when the emergency is over. Whether this proves true, depends upon the people themselves. Any nation that spends 300 million dollars to win a war can be sure of nothing. And we probably will spend a lot more than that.

The recent elections were analyzed by the experts as a condemnation of the bungling of the war by the Washington politicians. Democrats attributed their defeat to the rubber fiasco, the bureaucratic handling of the selective service, rationing, or the fear that war news was not given fully and truthfully. The Republicans had their pet reasons for winning. They jibed substantially with those of the Democrats. The fiscal problem received scant attention. And yet in that problem lies the question of whether we will be able to revoke wartime dictatorship once victory has been won.

If we survive this war in a state of regulated bankruptcy, dictatorship will be permanent. At present we are headed in that direction. We are paying for the war largely on borrowed money, in spite of the fact that national income it at a record high. England, and even Germany, are paying for their fighting on a fifty-fifty basis. They receive a dollar in taxes for every dollar they borrow from their people. Of course this means suffering. So far, we have avoided suffering. We are fighting what Life magazine has termed a "Happy War".

"We talk about post-war rehabilitation, of security. We pay lip service to the American system of free enterprise. But the only thing we are really doing is talking through our collective hats. There can be no effective plan for the future unless a sane non-political program of war taxation is adopted and adopted soon, a program that hits every citizen, hits him until he is on the verge of destitution. Only then can we begin to feel assured that freedom will return to this country after the war.

It Happened in Sanderson TEN YEARS AGO

This week—Remember?

December 9, 1932

A toy balloon released on last Halloween night in Alpine, during a school carnival, was found November 20, by Garland Williams of Crisp, Texas, eight miles east of Ennis. The balloon bore the name of Mrs. Lois McIntyre, Alpine, and in that way was identified.

Carl Cochran was a business visitor in Alpine this week.

Sam Harrell has been on the sick list this week with influenza.

Silver dollars, apparently counterfeited in Mexico and coming across the border are giving Treasury Department employees plenty of trouble on the border, according to Ed Tyrrell, agent in charge of the United States secret service in San Antonio.

A. E. Creigh Jr. and son were Alpine business visitors last Saturday.

There are quite a few cases of influenza and some pneumonia prevalent in our city this week.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Alpine Avalanche—Fifteen miles of heavy maintenance work on the road between Terlingua and the Fresno mine was announced this week by W. J. Newell, president of the Alpine chamber of commerce. Included in the project is a low water crossing across Terlingua creek between Terlingua and the Study Butte mine, another across Tornillo Creek, and several other smaller ones. The project calls for $2,000 per mile to be spent on the road west from Terlingua.

Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa—A heavy influx of army and civilian personnel transferred here preparatory to start of training operations at the Marfa AAF Advanced Flying School created a new housing crisis in Marfa this week which prompted Army officials to issue an urgent appeal to Marfa homeowners to make new efforts to absorb the newcomers.

Capt. Ralph D. Robinson, Marfa representative on a housing advisory committee appointed by Col. Gerald Hoyle, Commanding Officer, announced that personnel for the school was arriving in such large groups that the demand for houses, housekeeping rooms and bedrooms had exceeded the supply.

Ozona Stockman—A new passenger car and mail service, which will provide bus connections at Barnhart for Ozonans who wish to go by bus to San Angelo, and twice daily mail service between Ozona and Barnhart will be inaugurated next Saturday by T. W. McLaughlin, operator of the mail and freight line between Ozona and Barnhart.

Alpine Avalanche—Members of the Lions and Rotary clubs, chamber of commerce directors, members of Sul Ross faculty and several others were guests of C. W. Davis, Granada theatre manager, Wednesday at 12:30, at a private showing of "Along the Texas Range," a Fox Movietone travelog made by Lee Orr, nationally known photographer last spring.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The tradition of American cavalry threads back to Indian warfare days and although modern armies are largely motorized today, the cavalry still plays an important role. Sturdy, well trained horses and excellent equipment and trappings are necessary.

When men are in the saddle for hours, their saddles, saddle rolls and other equipment must be made to stand the wear. Complete with carbine and helmets, the equipment for the cavalryman runs into hundreds of dollars. You can help provide this with your War Bond purchases. ### THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, there's been quite a bit of talk going around about prohibiting liquor in various spots around the country... around the Army camps for one thing. What do you make of it?"

"Well, Henry, I size it up about like this. It looks to me like the folks who are doing the talking are shooting a little bit higher than most people seem to realize. Sort of like the salesman who gets his foot in the door and before you know it he's sold you a bill of goods. Wouldn't surprise me a bit if what they're really aiming for is to take in the whole country again. We all know it didn't work the last time. All we got was bootleg liquor instead of legal liquor... plus racketeers, gangsters and the worst crime wave the country ever saw."

"Seems to me we've all got our hands full to win this war without starting up an argument we just got through settling a few years back."

Women AT WAR

Janey

Janey closed the bedroom door and locked it. Alone at last! She threw back her head and heaved a deep sigh. Then she peered out of the corner of her eye at the mirror to see whether she really did look like Hedy LaMarr. Quite a lot, she decided.

And now to business. She drew forth from the bottom of her top bureau drawer the sheet of pink writing-paper and the envelope that she had been saving for this day. She sat down at the table by the window and dipped the pen into the bottle of green ink that her sister Rose was such a pig about. She wrote, with beautiful arabesques, "Dear Mr. Morgen-thau," and held her head back to admire this effort of the best pupil in penmanship class.

"Here are my stamps for a bond," $18.75. I started last Christmas when I got $3.00. Not counting 50 cents, I have earned all the rest, working one or more days a week at a local grocery store, and I'm quite proud to say I worked hard to get it."

Janey stared out of the window at Peterson's house and beyond at the big yard where the kids were playing football. She held her pen elegantly in air.

"Sitting here looking out the window, I see a peaceful little town, and I wonder how the world can be in such a turmoil and the people of this world can have such hate for their fellow men. So I'm proud to send these stamps because I know I'm helping to make the whole world peaceful again like our little town."

She signed her name with an important flourish, not forgetting a conspicuous "Miss" in front of the "Janey." After she had sealed the letter she went on staring out of the window. It really was awfully peaceful. Overhead she heard a plane go humming by through the sunny afternoon air.

Then the voice of her best friend, Betty, called from outside—"Janey!" In an instant Janey was on her feet and tearing downstairs and out. She was not Hedy LaMarr nor a deep philosopher any more, but exactly twelve years old.

VERSE EXPLAINS CENSORSHIP

The following verse was received by Miss Armenta Ragsdale from a friend in the service of the United States Army who is stationed at some unknown post. A notation at the top of the poem says: "A verse which explains a bit how things are."

SERVICEMAN'S LAMENT

Can't write a thing,
 The censor's to blame.
 Just say that I am well
 And sign my name.

Can't tell where we sail from.
 Can't mention the date,
 And can't even number
 The meals that I "ate".

Can't say where we're going,
 Don't know where we'll land;
 Couldn't inform you
 If met by a band.

Can't mention weather,
 Can't say if there's rain.
 All military secrets
 Must secrets remain.

Can't have a flashlight
 To guide me at night;
 Can't smoke a cig
 Except out of sight.

Can't keep a diary
 For such is a sin.
 Can't keep the envelopes
 Your letters come in.

Can't say for sure, honey,
 Just what I can write,
 So I'll call this a letter
 And close with "Good Night".

Added at the end was: (P. S.
 Can't tell you where this came from.)

Women AT WAR

Margaret

Margaret turned off the humming vacuum cleaner, and straightened the covers of the armchair and the daybed that she had pushed up to go over the rug. Then she stood quite still in the doorway and looked at the small bedroom with its southern exposure. It was as neat and impersonal as a pin. It might never have been lived in. The door stood open on the clean, bare closet. There was not a pennant, not a team picture, not even so much as an old Arithmetic book left to show whose room it had once been.

Margaret stared at the walls, the furniture, and deeply, slowly, she realized that no matter what lodgers with their own trinkets and pictures might occupy it, she would always see it the old way. It was the old way that she saw it now. A pair of hard-worn gray pants lay on the floor where they had been dropped. Three baseball bats were stacked with a fishing rod in the corner. A battered red cap with a letter on it lay on the bed. And through the bed, as though it were transparent, Margaret saw another bed, smaller, and with high slatted sides.

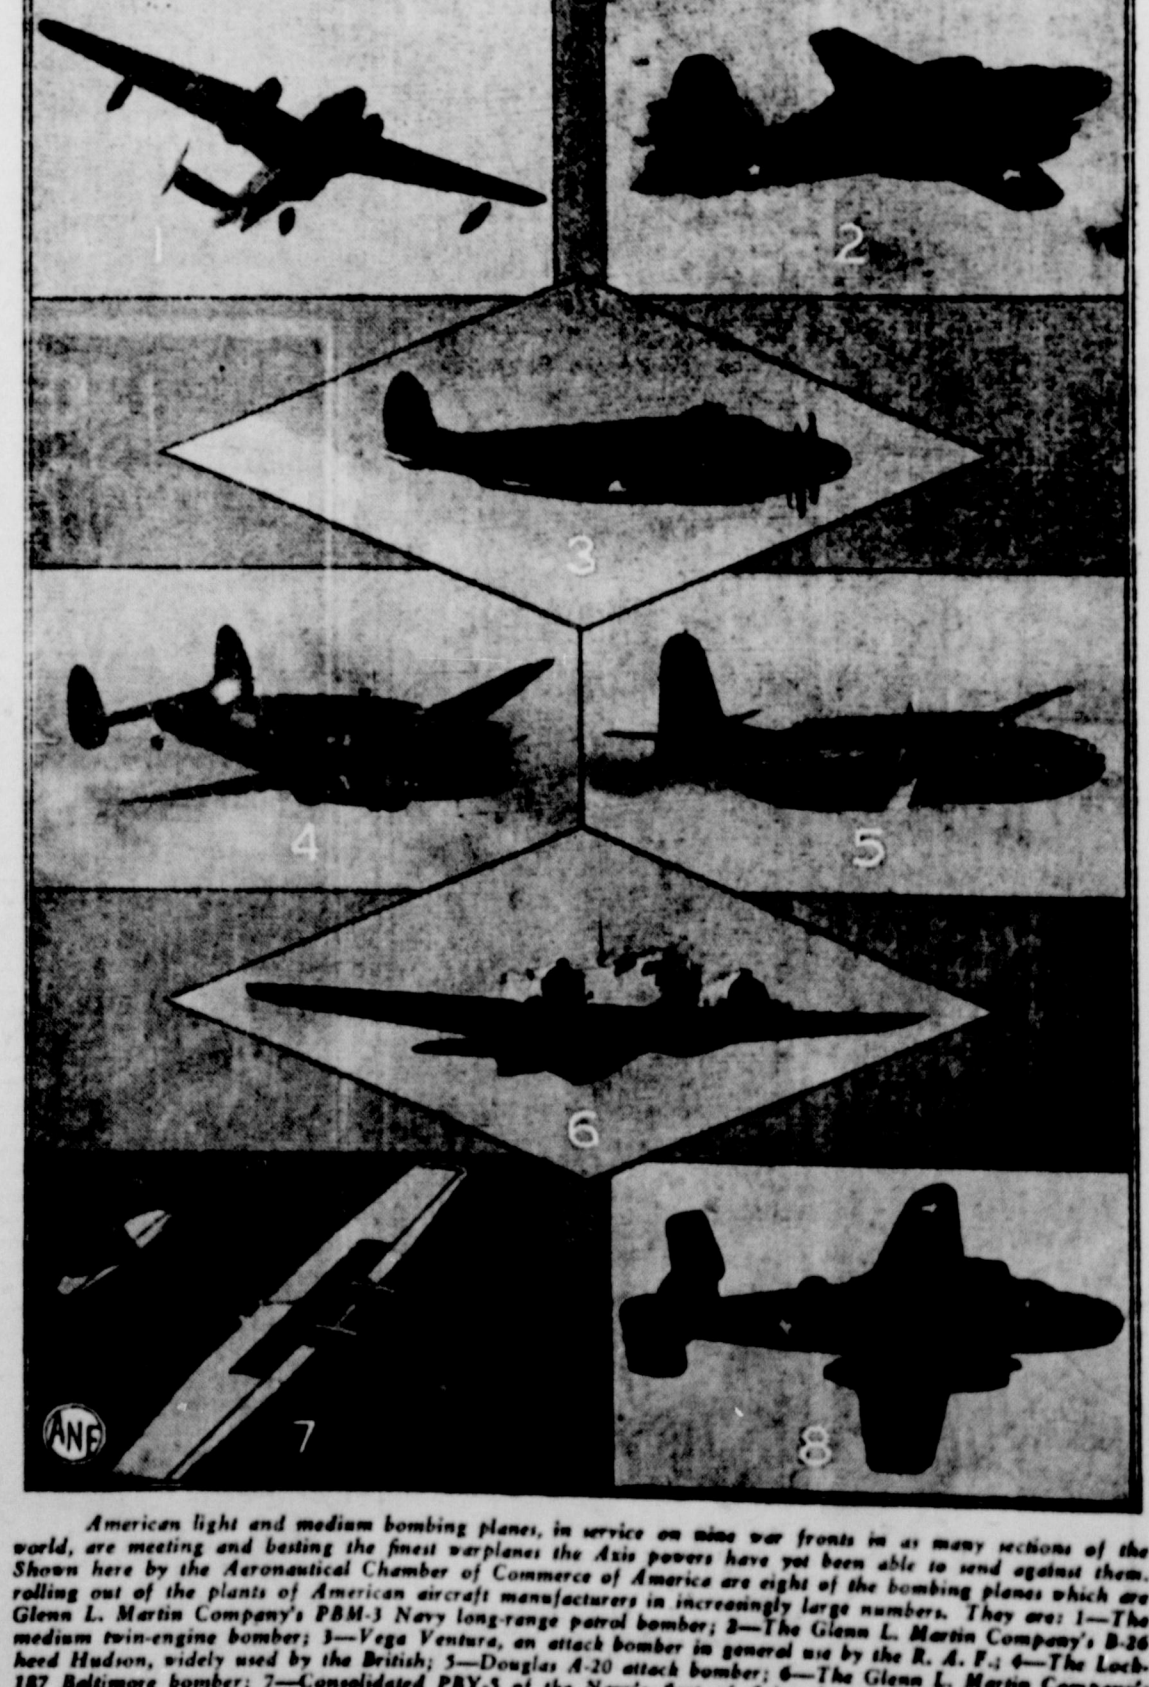

She put the vacuum cleaner away and went down to her desk in the sitting-room. She took the fifteen dollars rent that the new lodger had paid that morning in advance for the room, and added to it, from her purse, three dollars and seventy-five cents more. Then she drew out a sheet of paper and began to write on it, slowly, gravely.

"To buy a bond to help train a young man to replace Don, Jr.—killed on June 6th in the Battle of Midway."
