Fire from an overheated stove caused a slight blaze at the Harrell Dairy Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Soon after the blaze was discovered the alarm was sounded and it was not long before volunteer firemen were fighting the blaze.

Lynn Harrell owner of the dairy and who discovered the fire, stated that about $500 damage was done.

Alpine Avalanche—The meat shortage is the paramount problem facing the local cafes and one that the Alpine chamber of commerce is attempting to untangle. In the meantime, three cafes have closed, reporting as the main reason—inability to obtain sufficient food for their customers.

Ozona Stockman—Because of one-sided restrictions imposed by the Office of Price Administration controlling the wholesale and retail price of milk without any control over the price of feed, Ozona's only dairy, like many other small dairies throughout the West Texas area will shut down its production on February 1.

The Guide, Eagle Pass—In tune with war-time production a crew of 100 women will take over operation of the Eagle Pass Food Products, a new frozen foods plant to open about March 1, it was announced today by the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission. Although ten or fifteen men will be employed to engage in heavier work, women will assume the greater amount of work in the plant.

HEARS NOTHING SEES NOTHING TELLS ALL

All the Eighth Grade girls were singing "Why Don't We Do This More Often" after the backward party Thursday night.

We hear that the English IV students are becoming staunch friends with Emily, Emily Post, of course.

Mary Nell is sad because she has no body-guard to take care of J. M.

Snooper hears that Clara and a butcher-boy had words. Why are so many students studying each day. Could it be that the proud parents have taken matters into their hands? Well better late than not at all, I always say.

Who is the little Freshman girl that thinks so highly of herself that she hogs every conversation?

What Tadpole got tired of waiting for his date and started out to meet her. Now you see how it is when you are late.

Who was Miss Lattimore's date. We hear that it was a dashing personality.

Snooper wonders why some students don't read a few advertisements, if your friends range land of the Gage Ranches, mammoth Highland place, were burned Saturday afternoon and evening, beginning at a point near the Marfa AAF Advanced Flying School and extending to the top of one of the mountains north of the highway leading to Alpine.

Uvalde Leader—News—Kid mohair in the original bag struck a new seasonal top last Friday when L. Schwartz Co., sold a quantity at 75 cents per pound. The Schwartz sale, made to two buyers, totalled 90,000 pounds at 50 cents for the grown, 65 cents for the kid. Guy Burton for Forte, Dupe, Sawyer Co. bought 50,000 pounds of this accumulation and Tom Richey, representing A. W. Hilliard, took the remaining 40,000 pounds.

The Uvalde Wool & Mohair Co. sold around 130,000 pounds of hair to Burton at 50 and 70 cents. These sales, it was reported, left about a carload or a little more of unsold mohair in the Uvalde warehouses.

JUNIORS PRESENT MINSTREL

Friday, the Junior class presented their assembly program in the form of a Negro Minstrel. The Negroes were: Maurine Frazier, Frank Stavley, David Duke, James Kerr, Harold Surrat, John Lewis Whistler, Freddie Talbot, Maurine Cox and Gene Thompson. Jay Tom Holley was the interlocutor.

Ross Underwood and his Stardust Sereaders (including W. T. Frazier, Bill Savage, David Duke, Harvey Rogers, and Maria Bustamente) added a touch of swing and sentimentalism by playing Stardust, Waltz You Saved for Me, When the Lights Go on Again, Darktown Strutter's Ball. They also played Mr. Five by Five with the vocal by David Duke. Maurine Frazier and John Lewis "jitter-bugged" to fame to In the Mood. Mrs. Bradford was the director for the Minstrel.

Makeshift Substitutes FOR FUSES ARE Dangerous Penny Used as Fuse Is Cause of Blaze A penny, used to bridge a burned-out fuse, Monday was held responsible for the early morning fire that drove the family out into the street in night clothing and caused $1,000 damage to their five-room frame residence at West Daggett. Roof of the house at West Daggett caught fire as a breeze carried burning embers to it, and firemen estimated damage there at $250. Assistant Fire Marshal Owens announced the cause of the fire, which was reported at 6:33 a. m.

A Blown Fuse Should Be Replaced Only With a New Fuse of Correct Size

The fuses on your electric circuits protect you from the hazards of fire. When a "short" or overload causes more electricity to flow through a circuit than it can carry safely, a right-size fuse will burn-out or "blow," preventing the wiring from overheating and protecting electrical equipment from further damage. For maximum protection, blown fuses should be replaced only with new fuses of correct size. (15 amperes is right for most household branch circuits.) Never put a penny behind a fuse or use other makeshifts and never use a fuse of larger amperage. To do so is to invite danger and costly damage. It's a good idea to keep extra fuses of right size on hand and to learn how to use them, if you do not already know how. Then you can restore service quickly without waiting for a serviceman. And you'll be helping to save precious rubber by eliminating a trip by a service truck.

WHAT MAKES FUSES BLOW Blown fuses are usually caused by damaged or loosely-connected cords, defective appliances or circuits overloaded with too many appliances and lights. Before replacing a blown fuse, disconnect cord or appliance suspected of causing the trouble. Have it repaired before using it again. HOW TO TELL A BLOWN FUSE Notice this metal link has melted and a gap, or if glass is broken and you cannot see the filament has blown and should be replaced with a new fuse of correct size. (It will differ from type shown for specific instructions.)

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

We'll gladly show you how to replace fuses if you'll call our office. We can't make a special trip for this purpose but we'll get to you as quickly as possible on a regular trip.

New Conditions----

During the coming months, all of us will be called upon to do without things to which we have long been accustomed. Each must make sacrifices in one way or another, but all will do it cheerfully so our great nation and its cherished institutions may be preserved.

Many things will go on much as before, and, on these, we may learn to place higher value. As in the past, your local bank will be ready to serve you, and we shall endeavor to keep our service attuned to the times.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I was just tellin' my brother Fred this morning, Judge...there's never been a time in our lives when we got to live up to that old sayin' 'United we stand, divided we fall' more than we have to today." "How true that is, Herb. And for the life of me, I can't figure out why, at a time like this, some folks insist on raising a question like prohibition. I can't imagine anything that would tickle our enemies more than to get us folks over here taking sides against each other, arguing about an issue like that. We've got a he-man's job on our hands to win this war and we can't be wasting our minds, our money and our strength fighting about something we tried for nearly 14 years and found couldn't work." "I say there's a time and a place for everything, and this is no time or place to be doing any fightin' except the kind that's going to win the war."

NEWS

It has been discovered that a girl in S. H. S. has at least one article of clothing? If it's a dress, it's a blouse, or a pair of red anklets to tams, shoes and handkerchiefs. Mary Ferguson rallies the crowd and our word for the day is underwood and Mary's exceptions. Zada Van Clatter, Jeanette Cobb, and Lillian Halley have red jackets and skirts alike. Mildred Stavley wears a complete red riding habit which is the only one of its kind owned by a school girl.

But wearing apparel is not the only advertisement for red! Take for instance these students who have red hair: Mildred Hurst, Mildred Fawcett, Florence Hurst, Rosa Mae Clark, and Bennie Mussey.

Red lips and cheeks are of course seen on most of the chic Sanderson High School girls, and occasionally one sees hands adorned with red fingernails.

Even the students go around singing "Red Sails in the Sunset," and it's known for a fact that "The Lady in Red" is a very popular song, also.

LOOKING BACK TO THE YEAR OF 1936

The boys' basketball season has closed for the remainder of the term. Coach Smith says that his boys have played and won many good games. Sy Mussey won a gold basketball for the best player in the district meet held at Ft. Stockton. Jesse Lockausen and Lloyd Gant will probably go out for tennis this year. The girls have not decided as yet who will go out for the girls' tennis matches.

Elton Halley and Donald Nelson will probably go out for track, and prepare for the Interscholastic League contests.

Spring football will open in another week. All of the boys will be going out for this, although they will not play any games. This is mostly to keep the boys in good practice.

SEEING SENIORS

By Mickie Corder
Mildred Imogene Woodruff is a new comer to our Senior Class, but she is well-liked by us all as she has a very charming personality. Imogene was born near Barksdale, Texas April 17, 1926 and was presented with merry blue eyes and dark brown hair.

This energetic little girl went to Grammar school in Campwood, Texas and high school in Campwood and Sanderson. She has been quite busy during high school for she has been on the baseball and volleyball teams and has been in district in tennis. Imogene was May queen when she was a freshman and I imagine she truly deserved the title.

Imogene's hobby is collecting snapshots and her favorites in color, food, movie stars, and songs are blue, chicken, Robert Taylor, and "White Christmas". Her favorite pastime is reading and she likes to read "Wild Geese Calling".

Imogene's ambition is to be a secretary and so naturally her favorite subject is shorthand. After she graduates Imogene plans to go to college or business school. Her pet peeves are silly people and smartalecs.

It's about time we had one of the younger boys of the senior class and that's just what Eldridge "Butch" Murray is. In fact—he's the youngest, being born January 21, 1927, in New Orleans.

Butch, an appealing lad with brown eyes and, as he puts it, sandy brown hair, started school in New Orleans at Capdeau Grammar School. He has never entirely lost the charming accent obtained there that won him the name of "Butch". (His older brother really got it and Eldridge sort of inherited it.) Later he came to Sanderson to grammar and high school.

After Eldridge graduates he plans to attend college and then enter the Naval Air Corps if the war is still in progress. His ambition is to become an aeronautical engineer. During his years

HOMEMAKING

The Future Homemaker's Club entertained with a backward party Thursday, January 28. The members and their guests met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Greene Cooke, and then went to the theatre.

Members and guests present were: Lauretta Dillard, Marjorie Jessup, Carolyn Courtney, Mona Ogle, Mary Nell Gates, Betty Jo Kerr, Cecelia Goode, Ruth Bendele, Ora Mae Blackwelder, Doris McSparren, Jeanette Cobb, Mary Alice Allen, Doris Lee Cooke, Virginia Ruth Roney, Wilma Northcut, Miss Margaret Kinkler, Mrs. Frank Early, Miss Margaret Lattimore, Doyce Wells, George Reynolds, Will J. Murrab, Jimmy Davis, Jimmie Merritt, Monte Goode, Willie Grigsby Molloy Winston, Charles Hill, Bosco Yeates, William Sutton, Don Frazier J. M. Harrell, and Douglas Smith.

During the first semester each of the girls in homemaking classes did a home project. Wilma Jean Northcut, Freshman, did the following project for Homemaking I.

Redecorating My Room
I chose this as my project because by room was so bare. I thought that I would learn how to paint and how to choose colors.

The jobs that I did trying to redecorate my room were measuring paint, matching colors, painting, and hanging pictures. It took about thirty minutes to hang my pictures. Painting the first coat took me about two hours. Mother put on the second coat.

I think that my room looks a whole lot better with white in school, Butch has participated in basketball, football, and track. He was president of the Model Airplane Club.

Butch's hobby is, —and I admire him for admitting it—kissing different girls. You gals had better be on the look-out. His pet peeves are things sticking out of closed drawers, and can you imagine, "Smart Alec" people.

In his spare time he plays pool. When eating he likes oysters. The favorite color of Master Murray is royal blue, and Errol Flynn is his favorite movie star. That's where Butch differs from the rest of the boys. He likes books similar to "Northwest Passage" and the song "Moonlight Becomes You."

If you ever hear a clattering noise it's only Butch delivering papers in his little blue and red car.

HEY! BRING BACK MY CLOTHES!

walls, two pictures, and new bedding. My color scheme is green and white.

The first thing I did for my room was to scrape my walls. The next thing I did was to find out how much paint I already had. I had to buy more paint later. Then I put the first coat on the wall. It took a long time as that was the first time I had painted. After I put the first coat of paint on, Mother put the second coat on. I had to go to town and select my pictures. I bought one picture of Jesus and the other one was an English tea. Then I had to buy some bedding. I bought two blankets and a quilt. I then hung my pictures. I like my room much better than I did.

CAN-U-IMAGINE?

Kids making good grades on their mid-term examinations. So many new romances, John Lewis with a date, Billy Thomas talking a lot, Marjorie Jessup with something to say, Marshall Cooke not getting his words twisted, Wilma Lois without a soldier, Joe Bean with his shirt tail in, Frank Stavley going down the hall with a girl on each arm, Bill Cochran liking red hair, Don Allen liking the name Violet, Jeanette Cobb liking William Sutton, Joan Anderson not being mad about something, John Lewis not playing "hard to get", Clyde Griffith without Diana, So many new boys starting school, So many girls without dates, All the Juniors at play practice.

The Seniors learning how to talk—intelligently, Harold asking whether to eat jello with a spoon or with a fork, The female "Tadpoles" escorting their husky dates to the show, "Casa" without an argument to keep the class interesting.

STUDENT WORK

The Typing classes are typing telegrams and business letters. They keep improving all the time and Miss Mixon reports that by the end of the term there will be some really good typists out of these classes.

The Jr. Business Training class is taking up Sales Organization. It seems to be an interesting study.

Miss Kinkler reports that the students in the Spanish I class are trying to increase their vocabulary and are studying pronouns.

The Spanish II class has begun a unit on Mexico. The class plans to attend the Spanish picture show "Mil Estudiantes Yuna Muchacha" next Sunday night.

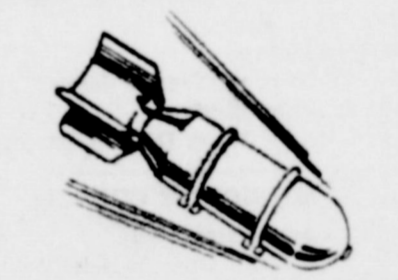

English IV is doing a unit on "Good Manners in Speech and Conducts".

American flyers with the RAF are raining demolition bombs on Nazi cities today. These instruments of destruction so important in razing Nazi war plants, interrupting railroad transportation and other war objectives, range now unto several tons.

The 500-pound demolition Bomb is one of the lighter ones. Bands are attached to facilitate handling and the fins are not attached until the Bomb reaches the airfield, because bending would injure accuracy. They cost up to $500. Your purchase of War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan will help provide Bombs for our airmen. Let's "Top that Ten Percent."

LIBRARY NEWS

The library has just received two new books, Let the People Know, by Norman Angell, and Guadacanal Diary, by Richard Tregaskis. Both books are the January selections of the Book-of-the-Month-Club.

Let the People Know is a book dealing with facts as they are presented in this war torn world, and which John Citizen should know about. This book is a "must book" according to many news commentators.

One can get the true story and a picture of the daily lives of the soldiers on Guadacanal from a news reporter in his book Guadacanal Diary. Dorothy Canfield says one reason we should read the book is "that the book satisfies our intense desire to know in detail about the daily life of our service men in action".

Don't forget to come to the library and get a book to read.

Lamar School Notes

At the close of the first half of the school term the teachers of the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades found by averaging the half term reports that there was only one pupil with an average of "A". The low grades can be accounted for partially by the fact that the school attendance is not up to standard. It has also been suggested that pupils do not do enough home work. The honor roll by grades follows.

In the seventh grade those making a B plus average were Ernestina Ochoa and Pablo Ochoa. Those making a B average were Eufemia Martinez, Maria Pena and Dionisio Venegas. In the B-class was Jose Olivarez, Jr. This percentage is not low considering that there are now only 15 enrolled in the grade.

The percentage of low grades is small in the sixth grade where there are 31 enrolled and only seven falling within the brackets of the B group: Arturo Gutierrez and Cecilia Marquez ranking B plus; Jose Escamilla, Reymundo Gutierrez, Herminia Surita with B averages; and Petronila Martinez and Estela Valles with B- marks.

In the fifth grade, where there are 45 pupils, the highest average was B with seven pupils making this grade: Rosavia Olivarez, Sella Marruffo, Regino Falcon Ramon Ortiz, Concha Valadez, Jose Benevides, and Dionicia Villegas.

Gloria Marquez and Gudella Lopez were classed at B- students.

The fourth grade was proud to have the one "A" pupil as one of its number. This pupil was Manuela Gutierrez. However, Manuela was promoted to the fifth grade at mid-term and the fifth grade now may be proud of her.

Other honor students of the fourth grade are: Mario Escamilla, Sotero Perez, and Eugenio Marquez with B plus averages; Pablo Perez, B; and Engracia Hernandez and Anita Landeros, B- pupils.

The sixth grade and seventh grade girls sponsored by Mrs. Dixie Hayre, have organized three volleyball teams. Consuelo Chavez is captain of the seventh grade team. Ernestina Ochoa, Maria Pena, Eufemia Martinez, Engracia Perez and Magdalena Gonzales are on this team. Cecilia Marquez is the captain of one of the sixth grade teams.

Other members of her team are Estela Valles, Ernestina Aguilar, Gloria Escamilla, Gloria Olivarez and Octavia Fuentes. Irene Calzada is the captain of the other team from the sixth grade. Candelaria Venegas, Petronila Martinez, Isabel Florez, Estela Rivera, and Elida Ochoa are on this team. Substitutes for the three teams are Enriqueta Escamilla, Mary Nieto, Vicenta Perez, Herminia Surita.

The members of the volleyball teams go to the high school gymnasium every Tuesday and play from 3:00 to 3:45 P. M. Everyone will be glad when the weather gets warmer as the girls plan to practice every day at recess. Then the best team can win when we have a tournament in the gymnasium.

Mrs. Berta Clark Lassiter, principal, and Miss Doris Fabian, teacher of the fourth grade, spent the week-end in Alpine visiting their respective families.

HEAD OF FAMILY EXEMPTION

A single person, or a married person not living with husband or wife is entitled to a personal exemption of $1200 for the year if he can qualify as head of a family. A head of family is "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation."

Examples of head of family status would be a widower or widow who maintained a home for a dependent child, or a son who supported and maintained a household for a dependent father or mother. In order to meet the test of actual support and maintenance as head of a family, the benefactor must furnish more than one-half of the support and maintenance.

The term "in one household" ordinarily means under one roof, but if a father is absent on business or a child or other dependent is away at school, or on a visit, the common home being still maintained, the head of family exemption would still apply. Where a parent is obliged to maintain his dependent children with relatives or in a boarding house while he lives elsewhere, the additional exemption may still apply. If, however, without necessity, the dependent continuously makes his home elsewhere, his benefactor is not the head of a family irrespective of the question of support.

The term "closely connected by blood relationship" applies to a person's progenitors and lineal descendants, to his brothers or sisters whether by the whole or half blood, and to his uncles, aunts, nephews, and nieces. Irrespective of any legal obligation of the taxpayer to support such dependent relatives, a moral obligation to do so exists, and if the individual is actually supporting and maintaining in one household relatives of this degree he is entitled to head of family exemption.

A taxpayer is considered to be "closely connected by marriage" with his stepsisters and stepbrothers, but whether his right to exercise family control and provide for these individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation must be decided upon the facts in the particular case. The same considerations apply to the status of a taxpayer because of support furnished to his father-in-law, mother-in-law, brother-in-law, and sister-in-law. First cousins by blood, and cousins of lesser degree, are not regarded as so "closely connected by blood relationship," as to give rise to a head of family exemption.

A legal guardian who may maintain and support in his home a dependent ward is not entitled to the personal exemption as head of a family if the ward was not connected with him by relationship by blood, marriage, or adoption nor is a taxpayer entitled to exemption as head of a family by virtue of maintenance and support of a child not legally adopted.

HAIL DEMOCRACY'S FLYING AVENGERS IN "THUNDER BIRDS"

Fifty thousand planes will roll off American assembly lines this year; over one hundred thousand, in 1943. Who's to fly them? That's the story of 20th Century Fox's Technicolor "Thunder Birds," Soldiers of the Air. With every promise of becoming one of the best films of the year, the film opening Wednesday and Thursday at the Princess Theatre tells the story of Democracy's flying avengers, how they win their wings and sometimes lose their hearts in the process.

Gene Tierney, one of Hollywood's most enchanting young stars, carries top billing, while Preston Foster and John Sutton head a large and imposing featured cast. But here's an additional cue for moviegoers who like action that's hot and heavy: much of the action was filmed on location at Arizona's famed Thunderbird and Falcon fields, with cadets from 11 United Nations participating.

The plot, mounted on a background of roaring action in the sky, concerns the efforts of Foster, a flying instructor, to sprout wings on the burly shoulders of Sutton, who appears as an English cadet. Together they work toward that goal on the field. But after hours they are bitter rivals for the affections of Miss Tierney, a young lady living at a ranch not far from the training grounds.

The film was directed by William A. Wellman noted director of adventure pictures, whose "Wings" still is considered the classic drama of the sky. The impressive cast includes such favorites as Jack Holt, Dame May Whitty, George Barbier, Richard Haydn and Reginald Denny. Lamar Trotti who wrote the screen play also produced the film.

BILL BOYD BACK IN NEW "HOPPY" ACTION THRILLER

Back on the screen in a blaze of adventure, "Hopalong" Cassidy rides again in "Undercover Man," the roaring thrill film opening on Tuesday at the Princess Theatre through United Artists release, with two-fisted Bill Boyd in his accustomed role as the cowboy sleuth.

In this fast-moving film, "Hoppy" and his sidekicks, Andy "California" Clyde and Jay "Breezy" Kirby do their guntwirling and hard riding along the Mexican border where a gang of outlaws has been raiding gold mines, rustling cattle, burning ranchos and, in general, causing as much trouble as a minor war. Of course, the Mexican rancheros blame the American ranchers and, in turn, the ranchers blame the rancheros.

All is set for a goodly "bullet across the border" storm when "Hopalong" and his pals arrive and start shooting. The trio complete their job with plenty of romance, plenty of excitement and plenty of comedy. They not only bring peace to the Rio Grande country but do their bit for Pan-American friendship as well.

Filmed in the best traditions of action packed Western drama, "Undercover Man," based on the famous Clarence E. Mulford stories, promises a session of real thrills. Chris Pin Martin, as Miguel, and Andy Clyde, ably aided by Eva Puig, provide the comedy. For romance there is Esther Estrella, dark-eyed Latin who portrays Dolores, daughter of Señor Tomas Gonzales, the Mexican commandante. Gonzales is played by Antonio Moneno. Others in the cast are Nora Lane, John Vosper, Alan Baldwin and Jack Rockwell.

'GIRL TROUBLE' DUE HERE; ROMANTIC COMEDY

Don Ameche needed a valet. Joan Bennett wanted a job. The two got together, causing endless "Girl Trouble" for dapper Don and creating a design for living as modern as love in a black-out. The 20th Century-Fox film, which comes Sunday and Monday to the Princess Theatre, is essentially a romance, but previews seemed to think there were at least as many hearty laughs as heart pangs throughout Miss Bennett's merry misadventures.

Indirectly, the rubber shortage is the cause of it all. Don plays a South American plantation owner trying to interest an American tire magnate in his product. Incidentally, he also tries to interest beautiful Miss Bennett. Circumstances prevent her from spurning his blandishments and, indeed, force her to stretch the point and pose as his maid.

The film is hardly calculated to affect Pan-American relations or the rubber situation. Instead, it guarantees only to provide an hour or so of mirthful diversion, a noble function which, judging from the cast and story, it is fully armed to carry out.
