"Freeze" of Employees By Government Order Explained; Ranch Hands Included

The nationwide labor stabilization plan adopted by the Regional Office of the War Manpower Commission and made effective at midnight April 23 is now in full force throughout Texas according to Mr. Fuller, manager of the local United-States Employment Service at Alpine.

The new plan affects all workers in this area except workers in lumbering and non-ferrous metal mining activities, and every worker who contemplates changing his employment should first consult his present employer and learn what he must do to comply with the regulations before he quits his job. If the employer is unable to furnish the information, either workers or employers may get full information from the Employment Service office. It is especially important, said Mr. Fuller, that all workers learn the facts about the regulations if they plan to seek work in another community or another state, because in many cases it is necessary for workers to establish clearance with their last employers before they can be given a new job, either locally or elsewhere.

Under the new stabilization plan, any employer in essential activity may hire any new employee who for the preceding 30 days was not engaged in essential activity. Employers not in essential activity are forbidden to hire any new employee who during the preceding 30 days was engaged in essential activity, if the wage rate would exceed the rate most recently received by the new employee.

Employers engaged in essential activity may hire workers from other essential employers without regard to wage rate, but only if the worker presents a "statement of availability" from his former employer or from the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission. Workers in essential activity shall be issued a statement of availability by his employer, or by the United States Employment Service, (if the employer refuses to issue it), if the worker is discharged, laid off for an indefinite period or for seven days or more, or can establish that his present employment does not utilize him at his highest skill, or that he is employed at less than full time. Employers may also issue certificates of availability for other reasons than those listed, if they desire to do so. In addition, the United States Employment Service may issue a certificate of availability to a worker when it is established that separation from his present employment would further the war program.

No restrictions are placed on the movement of workers from one job not in essential industry to another job that is not essential. The regulations apply to farm and ranch workers, as they are essential.

"Essential work" means employment in any of the thirty-six activities listed by the War Manpower Commission as essential to the war effort, and a copy of this list is on file in every United States Employment office.

The regulations also make provision for appeal by either worker or an employer, if either is dissatisfied by the ruling of the United States Employment Service in any case where a "certificate of availability" is requested, said Mr. Fuller.

TRAINING PLANE MAKES LANDING ON HIGHWAY

A two-motored training plane landed on the highway just west of town Wednesday morning about 4:30 because of a shortage of fuel. The plane had made a routine training flight from its base at Marfa to the Pyote field, and upon returning to Marfa discovered the field blanketed by a thick fog which prevented their landing. It was decided to try for a landing at the Wink field but the pilot and other occupant became lost and ended up at Sanderson.

No damage was suffered by the plane or the occupants and the ship took off that afternoon and returned to its base after it had been serviced by truck.

Essential War Material Found In Big Bend Area

New deposits of an essential war material—fluorite—have been uncovered in Texas' Big Bend, the University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology has announced.

Perhaps as much as 250,000 tons of milling grade fluorite—required in the manufacture of steel, glass, hydrofluoric acid and other war industries—are available in Hudspeth County, in the area west and south of Hot Wells in the Eagle Mountains, the bureau reports.

Analyses of samples of these deposits reveal an average calcium fluorite content of between 40 and 50 per cent, it was stated.

Possibilities of commercial development of these deposits is enhanced, bureau officials believe by favorable milling conditions—the form in which the mineral is found, the high fluorite content, and proximity to rail facilities.

Trainman Succumbs While Making Regular Run Sat.

G. W. Blankenship, 37, brakeman for the Southern Pacific Lines, died suddenly Saturday afternoon while making his run from Sanderson to Valentine.

He was working with Lee Sims and A. B. Gates, and during a stop at Marathon had eaten. Shortly after leaving Marathon he became ill from what he thought was acute indigestion, and was in such a condition that a message was phoned ahead requesting a doctor be present when the train arrived in Alpine. Mr. Sims was with him, doing what he could to alleviate the suffering, but he was pronounced dead from coronary disease when the doctor reached him.

The body was returned to Sanderson that night by Oberkampfer funeral directors coach, and was shipped by train the following morning to Galveston where funeral services were held. The body was accompanied by the widow and by a Mr. and Mrs. Davis of Del Rio who came to Sanderson to accompany Mrs. Blankenship.

LIGHTING AND DRAINAGE COMPLETED ON AIRPORT; BASE COURSE CALICHE GOING ON

All lighting facilities are complete at the Defense Area Landing Field near Mofeta, as well as all of the drainage system. Ninety percent of the grading has also been finished and crews left this week for Fort Stockton.

The lighting plant is powered with two generators and will furnish ampel current for lighting the entire field and will be wired to a control which will automatically turn the lights on when it becomes dark and will shut them off when the sun is shining.

This week saw the starting of the base course of caliche on the runways although the shortage of water has retarded progress to a great extent. The contract, which was awarded to C. Hunter Strain, calls for two layers of caliche base with an asphalt seal coat. The two runways are to be 150 feet wide and will be 4,525 feet long, forming an X on the field.

The difficulty in obtaining ample water will be alleviated if the second well, now in progress of being drilled, develops into as good a producer as the first well put down which will pump thirty gallons per minute without shutting down. Additional water will also be secured from a well on the Phillips ranch some four miles from the field. Equipment has been purchased for pumping this well.

F. G. Tappan is the engineer in charge for the Civil Aeronautics Administration and F. W. Callahan is the superintendent in charge for the contracting firm.

Annual Junior-Senior Banquet Held Friday Night

One of the most colorful banquets in the history of the Sanderson High school was held Friday night of last week when the graduates of '43 were honored guests. The "Mardi-Gras" motif was carried out in decorations, food, and entertainment. The brilliantly decorated hall was a mass of bright streamers of many colors from which serpentine decorations and balloons were hung, making a gay carnival of color.

The table decorations carried out the idea of the "Mardi-Gras" parade and each table was centered by a clever float depicting some scene from storybook land. At the head table the beautiful white and silver center piece represented the Queen's float on which sat a miniature queen regal in a blue velvet gown set with gold stars. Rows of pomegranate blossoms formed the pathway down the tables and added bright color to the scene.

Each place was marked by a dainty silver mark which was edged in bright colors. The programs of blue, were decorated in typical "Mardi-Gras" fashion and were tied with silver ribbon. The plate favors were miniature metallic hats and were worn throughout the banquet.

Jay Tom Holley, president of the junior class, served as toastmaster and gave the toast to the seniors following the invocation by Principal C. G. Bradford. The response to the toast was given by Margaret Ruth Yeates. The toast to the faculty was given by Maurine Frazier and the response was heard from Miss Marion Brieger.

Following a talk by Supt. Tom Holley, songs were rendered by D. L. Duke and David Duke, Jr. after which the class will be read by Eldridge Murray. The senior class then sang the senior class song and the class prophecy was given by Maurine Cox. A song by the junior girls brought the program to a close.

Delicious food for the banquet was served by girls in clever costumes who added much to the color and enjoyment of the occasion. These girls were Doris Lee Cooke, dressed as a Dutch maid; Mary Jean Ogle, dressed in Brazilian costume; Wilma Jean Northcut and Helen Holmes in Hawaiian costume; Gloria Mae Watkins as a Spanish senorita; and Earline Cox as a Mexican Charo.

DANCE FOLLOWS

Following the banquet the junior room mothers entertained with a dance at the Masonic Hall, which was attractively decorated to carry out the same motif as the banquet hall. Music was furnished by "Stumple" Duke and Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson.

The dance opened with a grand march led by the presidents of the two classes and their partners. Parents of the students dropped in during the evening, many of them remaining the entire time. There were also other guests from Sanderson as well as several out-of-town guests.

Mrs. J. C. Green of Del Rio is here this week visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Jack Laughlin and Mr. Laughlin.

Punch and cookies were served to thirty-five members and thirty guests.

PROSPERITY

Prosperity in the United States has been able to collect for their work. When "fair pay" I mean as much for honest, effective effort as men of similar skill get. The nearer we ever came getting a fair for what they did was in 1919 when the average worker earned 83 per cent as the average industrial

ANNUAL BURDEN

This column has said becoming a skilled occupation is also hard work. Forgetting the fact farmers ought to be paid for their skill. But they are paid poorly for their labor, and the skill is forgotten. Farmers bear the brunt of floods and tornadoes, and they have also taken the rap in post-war adjustment.

The last-mentioned calamity avoided. Farmers can get a better deal out of America's war already made, working measure of success, and (though they be) they now would be a blow to agriculture. A work-a-days anything that in organization, but post-management certainly equalize farmers' income of industrial workers.

Farmer prices now would be higher. Higher living costs for workers, and there no end. If ceilings fall the run-away price ball be out, with the sky. And as this war is a price-flight now wilder than that of the inevitable crash on the one that ruined farmers in the 1920's.

A new member for the Terrell County Selective Service Board was sworn in last week when D. B. Herbert qualified for the place and took the oath of office.

Early Diagnosis Best Weapon Against Tuberculosis

Urging the importance of early diagnosis as the surest avenue of recovering from tuberculosis, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, declares that the danger of this disease lies not so much in its virulence as in its stealthy attack.

"If a tuberculosis patient realized his plight in the earliest stages of the disease, immediate treatment could very likely save his life," Dr. Cox said.

The victim usually has sufficient warning of the onset of the disease, but all too frequently ignores them.

"The warning signs are usually noticeable enough to attract attention," Dr. Cox said. "A cough that persists, loss of weight, easy tiring—if any of these symptoms are present, delay in seeking proper medical attention only lessens the chance of arresting the disease."

"It is the better part of valor, in the presence of such symptoms, to seek the advice of the family physician without delay," Dr. Cox asserted. "Early diagnosis and early treatment are the real foes of tuberculosis. To deprive oneself of their immeasurable advantages results at best in a long period of treatment, and all too frequently in premature death."

TWO-WAY COOPERATION NEEDED

Government authorities have asked producers and distributors to cooperate to the maximum of their ability in the task of supplying necessities to civilians and military personnel. They have been told that they must also prepare to supply these necessities to other nations, all from the resources of the United States. This is a big order. It can only be fulfilled if cooperation comes from both sides, from the government as well as from the private citizen. It cannot be fulfilled if the private citizen is threatened with jail every time he makes a mistake. It cannot be fulfilled unless common sense is a part of government policy.

A good example of how to create more chaos recently came to light in the nation's capital. A large department store has been named defendant by the Office of Price Administration in legal proceedings for alleged violation of price regulations. In view of the facts the question of whether the store was actually guilty is more or less academic. According to news reports, the store's price bureau now has on hand three bound volumes of price regulations which total 13,423 pages of closely printed, small-type text, and contain an estimated 11,275,000 words. The store is now spending more than $40,000 a year in direct costs to maintain its own "price compliance" bureau. This bureau has 27 full-time employees. Working full time in addition to these, is a mimeographed operator who in the last six weeks has turned out 50,000 forms. A regulation involving the price of toilet paper took a lawyer and three store executives five days at full time to make it understandable. In another case, picked from scores, 106 pillows were purchased. Before they could be sold, 104 different and distinct forms had to be filled out establishing 104 price ceilings because there were 104 different styles among the 106 pillows.

The manager of the store in question has been in business 31 years. He said that: "We are antagonistic toward the price ceiling, nor do we want to be arrayed against the OPA." This manager is like thousands of other retail merchants throughout the country. He is like millions of farmers who produce the food we and our Allies eat. They are trying to get a job done. They will get it done quicker and more efficiently if they are not treated as criminals by a lot of bureaucrats. All they ask is a common-sense plan reasonably enforced. There are signs that we are on the way to achieving that end.

TIPS ON WASHER CARE
• Drain, rinse and dry washer tub after each use.
• Remove any soap curd or lint from tub, agitator or suction cups with soft cloth or sponge.
• Dry rolls and frame of wringer. Release pressure on wringer to save springs and rubber.
• Wipe connecting cord dry and hang up carefully. Avoid kinking. It cracks rubber insulation.
• Do not try to jam too many pieces through wringer at one time.
• Remove buckles, large buttons, etc., before running clothes through the wringer. Saves rolls from being chattered up.

Lend to Avenge — Buy War Bonds

"Is it true, what they say about War Bonds?"

THEY SAY—"Hey, Bill, I heard that in order to pay for the planes and tanks and guns America needs for Victory, each of us should be putting at least 10 percent of our pay into War Bonds."

IT'S TRUE—"That makes sense to me, Joe. Those things cost plenty of dough."

THEY SAY—"Sure, I know that. And I've got a hunch our soldiers are going to need more and better equipment than any fighting men ever got before!"

IT'S TRUE—"You bet they will! And here's the way I look at it, Joe. Us guys who can't tote a gun or fly a plane can at least do our share by helping to pay for the things our fighters need."

THEY SAY—"Yeah, you're right, Bill. But we're really not paying that money to the Government, either. It's just a loan to Uncle Sam, as I see it."

IT'S TRUE—"That's right as rain, Joe! You get it back—with interest. Every 3 bucks you put in brings you 4 at maturity."

THEY SAY—"It would be hard to beat that as a sweet investment, wouldn't it? And when you lend your dough to old Uncle Sam, you know he'll make good on his I O U."

IT'S TRUE—"Say! War Bonds are better than dollar bills in your pocket, Joe! Not only is each one an ironclad promise to pay, backed up by the strongest Government in the world—but it makes more money for you all the time!"

THEY SAY—"Supposing a fellow loses some of the War Bonds he buys—or somebody swipes 'em. I guess you want me to believe Uncle Sam will pay off on 'em then."

IT'S TRUE—"He sure will, Joe! Every War Bond you buy is registered in Washington—either in your name, or your wife's name, or whomever you pick. Nothing can happen to prevent your getting that money back—with interest."

THEY SAY—"One of the boys in the forge shop was trying to tell me that if everybody buys a lot of War Bonds, it helps keep prices down."

IT'S TRUE—"He's right, Joe. Look! Now that the United States is making war goods instead of cars and radios, peacetime goods are getting scarcer. So, if people with a lot of cash in their jeans start bidding against each other for those scarce goods, up go the prices!"

THEY SAY—"My wife has the idea, now that I'm earning more money, that War Bonds should be the Number One item on our budget—sort of a savings plan for us and the kids."

IT'S TRUE—"She's a smart woman, Joe. You're going to need a lot of things when this war is over. And there's no better way on earth to get the money for them than to save regularly now—by buying War Bonds."

THEY SAY—"Must be a lot of people owning War Bonds by now, aren't there, Bill?"

IT'S TRUE—"A lot of people? Listen! Fifty million of 'em have bought War Bonds—and I'm one of 'em. Fifty million Americans can't be wrong!"

THEY SAY—"Our plant has a Pay-Roll Savings Plan. I'll sign up tomorrow for 10 percent. Hmm—maybe I can make it more than that. I'll see."

IT'S TRUE—"Believe me, Joe, you're not making any mistake when you put every dollar you can into War Bonds—and then a little more!"

Look! Listen! Live!

Two women and three small children drove up to a railroad grade crossing. The gates were down to protect the motoring public from an approaching train. They stopped their car in a safe position. Another automobile approached from the rear, rammed into the standing car, and knocked it through the lowered crossing gates into the path of the approaching passenger train. The woman driver was killed and the other occupants of the car injured.

This is typical of accidents of this character which are occurring almost daily. In more than 80 per cent of such accidents, the crossing has some special protection such as gates, flashlight signals, watchman or bells. But these warning measures, which have been installed for the protection of the traveling public, often are ignored.

The National Safety Council is conducting a special campaign to stop these accidents which every day delay 38 trains a total of 22 hours—a damaging drain on the nation's war transportation effort.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Observes Birthday May 10th

The birthday meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church was held Monday, May 10th, in the home of Mrs. J. W. McKee. The meeting opened with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers" followed by the reading of the scripture prayer by Mrs. Byrd.

Following the business meeting an interesting program was led by Mrs. J. H. Lochausen: "Where Our Birthday Offering Goes," by Mrs. W. E. Grigsby, "Mexican Birthday Fiestas," by Mrs. J. H. Lochausen, and Mexican music by Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson.

The Bible study was led by Mrs. C. C. Mitchell.

In keeping with the theme of the program a pinata was filled with the birthday offering by the members. Everyone then retired to the lawn where another pinata was suspended from a tree. The members took turns trying to break this pinata which when successful candy, nuts, and fruits for the children of the members fell to the ground.

A social hour was enjoyed by the members during which the hostess served hot chocolate and cookies.

The following members were present: Mrs. Joe F. Brown, J. W. Byrd, J. T. Dillard, W. E. Grigsby, J. H. Lochausen, C. C. Mitchell, Lee McCue, J. W. McKee, John Nichols, Earl Pierson, W. H. Savage, M. ster. Others in the substantial supporting cast include Lionel Atwill and Maria Ouspenskava. Lon Chaney portrays the Wolf Man, a role described as his most terrifying.

The story, filmed from an original screen play by Curtis Siodmak, is said to pick up the careers of the Frankenstein monster and the Wolf Man from the mysterious means by which they apparently perished in their previous movies. Their ferocity is claimed to be undiminished in the film.
