It Happened in Sanderson TEN YEARS AGO This week—Remember?

Two camps of the reforestation army with approximately 200 men to the camp beside the officers in charge arrived in Marfa last Friday morning before day break and were transported to the camp site three miles northwest of Fort Davis on the scenic drive before noon by citizens of Marfa and Fort Davis.

Ted Attaway was a Del Rio business visitor the first of the week.

Mrs. J. B. Harrell and daughter, Miss Myrtle, left Monday morning for San Antonio and Waeider where they will visit relatives.

Mrs. C. P. Peavy had as her guests over the week-end her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pruett of Marfa.

V. I. Cargile of El Paso spent the week here looking after his insurance business and visiting with his brother, W. C. Cargile and family.

Miss Lillian Halley has as her guest this week, Miss Mildred from their ranch.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Ozona Stockman — Soldier crews from the San Angelo Air Force bombardier school in San Angelo were successful last Saturday in loading a huge slab of limestone, cut from the Ozona quarry on the hill east of the grade school building, after more than a month spent in cutting it from the quarry and attempting to load it on a truck.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—Thursday, June 24, 1943, was a momentous day at Gibbs Field, and Fort Stockton, for it marked the first anniversary of the beginning of primary flight training of United States Army Air Force Cadets by Pacific Air School, Ltd. On June 24, 1942, just 365 busy days ago, the first class of cadets arrived for training from the West Coast Reception Center.

AT THE PRINCESS-

"REAP THE WILD WIND" IS THRILLING SEA STORY

Three rousing cheers for Cecil B. DeMille, the only man in Hollywood who could have made "Reap the Wild Wind" the rousing, rowdy, resplendent riot of color, adventure and sheer "bigness" that it is. The film, starring Ray Milland, Paulette Goddard and John Wayne, will show at the Princess Theatre Sunday and Monday.

DeMille took a thrilling story, written by Thelma Strabel and published in the Saturday Evening Post, and turned it into a thrilling Technicolor movie as the eyes of this reviewer have ever seen.

Set in 1840 when America's sea borne trade was threatened by wreckers who operated out of Key West and took advantage of wild hurricanes of the Caribbean, "Reap the Wild Wind" tells the exciting story of a boy and a girl, Milland and Paulette, who helped to end the piracy. Behind the love story is the broad sweep of history, forerunner of a later day when steel-hulled undersea pirates would wreck ships off the very same shores.

While the shipwreck and hurricane scenes are exciting enough for a half dozen thrillers, the film's highlight comes when Milland and Wayne battle to the death in a fathoms deep rendezvous with a giant squid. This sequence alone is enough to insure for "Reap the Wild Wind" a secure spot in cinema history.

MACDONALD, YOUNG STAR IN MIRTHFUL, MUSICAL 'CAIRO'

Brimming over with melody and mirth, "Cairo," starring Jeanette MacDonald, shows Wednesday and Thursday at the Princess Theatre.

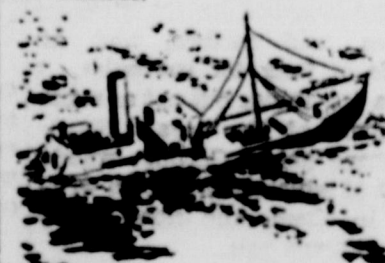

Robert Young teams with the singing star for the first time in the romantic comedy poking fun at Hollywood's conception of spy dramas. Ethel Waters, famed colored actress and singer, has a featured role in "Cairo."

Miss MacDonald has a made-to-order role. She plays Marcia

"A wash amidship!" "Sparks," the radio operator, has sent his final message from another U-boat victim. The lifeboats are pulling away from the doomed vessel as millions of dollars' worth of food, supplies and munitions settle to the ocean bottom in another allied catastrophe in the Battle of the Atlantic.

Millions of dollars' worth of material that was paid for by the dollars we saved and invested in War Bonds. Thousands of man hours have been lost.

Warren, a famous American movie star who is stranded in Europe when war breaks out. Young is a small-town newspaper reporter sent abroad to cover the war. He meets Miss MacDonald in Cairo, where the singer is giving a concert for British soldiers. The plot is given an amusing twist when Young begins to believe Miss MacDonald is a spy and she thinks the same about him. He is hired as her butler and the hilarious situations come thick and fast.

Carefully and expertly woven into the gay, frothy story are the musical numbers sung by Miss MacDonald and Miss Waters who plays her maid. The red-haired star sings the haunting "The Waltz Is Over" and the beautiful title song, "Cairo." Miss Waters pleases swing fans with her renditions of "Buds Won't Bud" and "A Woman Without a Man."

AUTRY STARS IN ACTION-MUSICAL WESTERN SPECIAL

Gene Autry, proclaimed America's "Public Cowboy No. 1," rides again! His "Boots and Saddles," opens Friday and Saturday at the Princess. Gene turns in an excellent performance with his usual catchy songs and his nonchallant manner. In the course of the production he reforms two hoss-rustlers, and a spoiled ten-year-old brat as well.

Assisted by an able cast including "Smiley" Burnette, Ra Hould, Judith Allen and Guy Usher, it is no wonder that Gene's latest picture has been eagerly awaited by his hosts of fans.

Spud, young owner of the ranch Gene manages, arrives in America to sell it to Neale, an unscrupulous rancher. Neale, intending to use the ranch for training army horses, is furious when Gene suggests to Spud that he do likewise without selling the property. Gene and the boys ride out to the army post to present their bid and Gene meets and falls in love with the Colonel's daughter, Bernice.

The Colonel, perplexed by the closeness of the bids from Gene and Neale, declares a race, stating his intention to award the contract to the winner. Neale, inflamed further at Gene because of his love for Bernice, burns down the stable sheltering Gene's horses. Nevertheless, Gene manages to win the race.

WHAT TO WRITE SOLDIERS

"The soldier wants the intimate details of life back home," says Chaplain (Major) Alvie L. McKnight of Cleveland, Miss., who has just returned to the U. S. after five months of duty on Guadalcanal. "That the girl two doors down has taken a war plant job, or that the couple across the street have had a baby may make your letter read like a personal column in a small-town weekly newspaper, but that's what he wants. By all means, don't tell the soldier about your troubles. He has enough of his own. Domestic

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS... "Yes, I'm afraid there's no denyin' it, Judge... jeeps and trucks and other kinds of motorized equipment have taken the place of the good old horse in modern warfare." "It's true of lots of things in this war, Eben. Every day we hear of new tactics and requirements and new uses of products. For instance, take the alcohol that is used for war purposes. In World War I, this vitally needed product was used mostly in making smokeless powder, chemical warfare materials and medical supplies. Today it must do far more... it must provide the base for such indispensable products as synthetic rubber, shatterproof glass, lacquers, plastics and many other of our requirements so essential to victory. "As a result hundreds of millions of gallons are required every year... half of which is being produced by the beverage distilling industry. Bet you didn't know that, Eben." "As a matter of fact, I didn't, Judge. That's a mighty important war contribution that had escaped me completely."

Ranchmen to Construct Fish Ponds

Department to Furnish Initial Supply of Fish

Supplement the family at the same time to on meat purchases near time. Farmers and of the State were urged by the Executive Secretary of the Department to con- sider on their properties suitable for the produc- tion of fish. Within the limits of the Department will furnish ponds with an initial supply of fish that over the proper manage- ment will increase greatly. Hun- dreds of small and large ponds have been constructed, and the demand made upon the State's hatcheries must be met. The Department will be glad to assist any landowner in the construction of fish ponds. This information has been placed in a plain- ly stated average citizen in a bulletin by the State's Chief Aquatic Biologist. The bulletin may be obtained upon request from the Department, Austin.
