Age Limits For WAC Enlistment Are Adjusted

Women From Ages Twenty to Fifty Years Accepted

Age requirements for enlistment in the Women's Army Corps have been changed to include women between the ages of 20 and 50, according to Lt. Neva Kerr, local WAC recruiting officer. However, twenty year old women must have the written consent of their parents before acceptable by the Army. Changes in qualifications for enlistment in the corps have been numerous the past three months. It is no longer necessary to have two years of high school before being eligible, but a candidate must attain a higher score on the mental alertness test that is given all potential WACs.

It is possible at this time to apply for a commission directly from civilian life. Women who have had four years of business experience beyond the high school level entailing responsibility and initiative may be selected to enter the Womens Army Corps as officer candidates.

Man Reported Dead Tuesday Telephones Mother Wednesday

One Initial and Place of Residence Makes the Difference

Tuesday night of this week, at about 10:00 o'clock, word was received by Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Mason of Dryden that their son, Woodrow M. Mason, U. S. Navy, had died of malaria fever in Oakland, California.

Wednesday morning all arrangements were made for funeral services. Shortly after 12:00 o'clock noon, Mrs. Mason received a telephone call from her son in Oakland. He told her that a lieutenant had informed him that his parents had been notified of his death the night before and he wanted to advise them of the error.

It seems that there were two Woodrow Masons in the hospital, both from Dryden. One, however, was Woodrow M. Mason of Dryden, Texas, and the other was Woodrow H. Mason of Dryden, New York. To make the error even easier both men were from the same ship; both men had malaria fever; and both men were in the same hospital. Woodrow M. Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mason of Dryden, Texas, has been in the navy since 1941 when he volunteered. He was home recently on sick leave and has not been released from the hospital to date to return to duty, although his condition is good.

Woodrow H. Mason of Dryden, New York, was the young man who had given his life in the service of his country.

RATION STAMPS IN BOOK THREE TO BE VALID SEPT. 12

For Purchasing Meats, Fats and Dairy Products

Brown ration stamps in War Ration Book Three will be used by consumers to purchase rationed meats, fats, oils and rationed dairy products beginning September 12, the Regional Office of Price Administration announced today.

This is the first official announcement validating stamps in the recently distributed War Ration Book Three, a replacement book containing ration currency to be used as the stamps in current ration books run out.

At the same time, OPA set the validity dates for red stamps "X", "Y", and "Z" in War Ration Book Two.

The validity dates for the red and brown stamps are as follows:

Red stamps from Book Two: "X" stamps valid August 22; "Y" stamps valid August 29; "Z" stamps valid September 5; all expire October 2.

Brown stamps from Book Three: "A" stamps valid September 12; "B" stamps valid September 19; both expire October 2. "C" stamps valid September 3; all expire October 30. The stamps have a value of 16 points.

As in the past, stamps will become valid on successive Sundays, but hereafter, they will always expire on the Saturday nearest the end of the month.

This will give consumers and the trade the advantage of knowing the day of the week on which the meats - fats stamps will always expire, and will permit them to plan accordingly.

Between September 12 when the first series of brown stamps becomes valid and October when the final sets of red stamps expire, both red and brown stamps will be used for purchases. After October 2 only the brown stamps in War Ration Book Three will be used for purchases of meats, fats, and rationed dairy products.

The brown stamps in War Ration Book Three are similar in size and have the same point value as the familiar red stamps of War Ration Book Two.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Link and children of Marathon was here Thursday visiting with friends.

After the program the members and guests were invited into the dining room for the social hour. Each took her place around the table, which was laid with a lace cloth. A large, low crystal bowl filled with queen's wreath formed the centerpiece. Delicious refreshments of sherbet and angel food cake were served.

FROM TEXAS TO TOKIO

By Billie Corder

PRIVATE ERNEST E. HARRIS, U. S. Marine Corps, writes from San Diego: "We've been in the Marines for a month and here at the range for a week. We're about half through with boot camp. The worst is over with . . . I'm definitely going to shoot right-handed. You should see the glasses I wear when on the firing line. The coach got an old pair, broke the lenses out, and then covered the left side with tape, in order that I would aim from the right side . . . I sure feel awkward shooting from the right shoulder! . . . I got a letter from Campbell Kerr yesterday. He may come out to see me next Sunday . . . I sure would like to see him . . ."

From the Camp Peary "Seabee" publication, Bee Lines, August 2 issue, comes the story of a Seabee platoon walking away with first place in a drill contest in competition with soldiers and Marines . . . It is believed that BILL LEA, SEAMAN Second Class, U. S. Navy, is with this outfit: "79th Island 'X' - (CBN) - Lt. Comdr. Alec T. Brown (CEC) USNR, OinC of this battalion announces that a 'crack' platoon of the Seabee contingent recently took first place in a drill competition against similar groups from both the Army and Marine Corps. In making the announcement Lt. Comdr. Brown said, 'Naturally it caused quite a bit of comment for an outfit that is generally supposed to be essentially a construction organization to win in military competition with essentially military units.' This battalion, situated in the Alaskan area, is in a 'relatively' quiet location functioning as a maintenance unit. Their prowess calls for a half a day a week on drill and military refresher courses."

JAMES ALBERT MANSFIELD, SEAMAN First Class, U. S. Navy, was recently transferred from Little Creek, Virginia, to Ft. Pierce, Florida . . .

RUSSELL WALKER, civil engineering in Canada with JOHN-NY SCANNELL, writes: "The Times has a wide circulation." They were reading the July 2 issue on August 2, he said, but "It was all news to us!"

LIEUTENANT M. D. KELLY, U. S. Army, Railroad Battalion, writes that he received a clipping from the Times telling about the boys he knew . . . Ex-brakeman SERGEANT H. B. LOUWING is in the same outfit running a train an "doing a swell job" . . . Lieutenant Kelly said, "Tell all the guys 'hello' and to write."

"Out of the night" comes the latest on Camp Hood doings . . . Fresh out of Preliminary basic, PRIVATE BILL MCPHEE, U. S. Army, describes the situation: " . . . and now we start in on tactics and night problems. I always did like night problems, so it should be a cinch. They have a very neat system of learning how to read a map here. At about 11 o'clock at night everyone is divided into squads, given a compass and a map, and then we are taken into the wide open spaces. From there on you are on your own. If you don't arrive at the designated spot on time you have to walk back to the barracks. Of course by this time you are so completely lost that you have no idea where they might be. But you have no idea how hard it becomes to lose a good A. S. T. B. man after one hike back! Some of the fellows may not make it back to their barracks, but they are a cinch to find the WAC's. So all that would be necessary would be to post a guard at the aforementioned spot . . . Say 'hello' to everyone for me."

Aviation Cadet Pete Horton, U. S. Army Air Corps, is in primary at Ballinger now . . .

Mrs. S. H. Underwood and son, Ross, and daughter, Mrs. Conway Pickard, left Saturday for Ballinger where they will visit with relatives for a week.

A TIP FROM MUSSOLINI

It is becoming increasingly obvious that aspiring holders of public offices are going to seek renewed tenure on the strength of their war records. No one should object to that. But what everyone should object to is the tendency to glorify government by intimating that it has fought the war almost singlehanded—even to the extent of being primarily responsible for the quantity and quality of tanks, planes and ships with which our men are fighting. That is the way of the dictators, to seize all the credit for every achievement. And once they begin seizing the credit for the accomplishments of the people, experience has shown that they soon begin seizing the resources which made the accomplishments possible.

Therefore, it is imperative that the American people be not deluded as to how and by whom this war is being fought. Due credit should be given to the political and military leaders who are coordinating and directing the armed forces. Beyond that, the credit goes to the people for whatever degree of military success the nation may enjoy. The tanks, the jeeps, the planes and the ships were not created by government any more than were the men now in the service of their country.

Private industry, managed and operated by private citizens, is the mainspring of the war effort. From the men deep underground in the mines to men and women in the front offices, not the glorification of government, the mighty electric power, transportation, and production facilities, without which the war effort would halt in the wink of an eye, are furnished by countless individuals operating their own business with a single determination to help wipe out alien governments that think they are bigger than the people.

Our political leaders should heed the ignominious end of the first dictator to fall in this war—Mussolini. Mussolini claimed the achievements of his people as his own. He dominated their souls and their property in the name of government. By so doing, he brought defeat to himself and to his nation.

THE CORRAL

By Bill Gray

The sprawling Spade ranch, with 250 sections lying south of Colorado City and 90 sections near Lubbock, shared with the also large Gage Lightning Bar ranch near Marathon in making cattle news of the past ten days. Spade sold 1,200 of its two-year-old steers from the Lubbock ranch at 13 cents, Oct. 20 delivery. Weisbart Brothers of Denver were the buyers, reported Otto Jones, Spade manager. (Jones, the big genial fellow of the Spade "domain," recovered sufficiently to ride in the Colorado Round-up last week after being overcome by heat earlier in the week.)

The other part of the big news in the West Texas cattle market of the last week was the contract of the Gage Lightning Bar calves — 6,000 head — to H. L. Wilson of San Antonio at 13-14 cents. The calves will deliver in November. The Means calves of Valentine also sold for November delivery, same prices. These and the Spade prices appear "a little high" in the current market but both deals, made little more than a week ago, involved large numbers and uniform calf crops of long standing reputation.

Tom Donaho of Sweetwater, back from a visit in the Corn Belt, says the Iowa feeders definitely won't pay the high prices of recent weeks for feeder calves this fall. Feed is high and they will sell it at good prices rather than buy high calves, a lot of them told him. Government control of the beef situation has caused quite a bit of uncertainty among the feeders just now.

George Lister of Sweetwater, livestock buyer and formerly of Iowa says buying is very quiet there now. The last deal he made was ten days ago when he bought the David Burrows muttens — 500 head — and yearling ewes — 350 head. He paid $7 straight through.

They contract registered Hereford calf crops too. Winston Brothers of Snyder have contracted this year's registered calf crop for November delivery for $2,000 to R. L. Allison of El Paso. Harris Winston says the horse market is really slow—he and his brother, Wade, are perhaps the biggest dealers in horses in West Texas, buying and selling. For the fourth consecutive year Winstons have contracted 50 bull calves to Gen. Antonio Guerrero of Chihuahua, Mex. fall delivery.

About the calf market, nobody knows, said Leonard Proctor of Midland the past week. Frank Smith, Colorado City Commission man, concurs. "We don't know what we want to pay and they don't know what they want with such uncertainty existing," Proctor said at Midland. He and his brother, Foy, have but one contract for fall calves. Usually they have dozens by now as they buy around 20,000 head annually for northern parties. Proctors sold 2,500 older ewes with lambs a few days ago to Ft. Stockton and Midland parties at $15 a pair. They have sold all of their dry ewes.

It's hot and dry in the Del Rio country (and a lot of other places for that matter) reports Jimmy Mills, Del Rio livestock dealer. He has been buying and loading almost daily in the last two weeks, getting the C. B. Wardlaw, Miers and other lambs. The price is definitely 11 cents now and the weights are from 60 to 65 pounds, he said.

The war has hurt the West Texas show horse (gaited Saddlebred horses) business but the better known breeders are still breeding and training, a checkup in the Midland, Big Springs and Colorado City area showed last week. Chappell Davis, Midland, has a two-year-old filly from an Arabian mare and thoroughbred stallion cross and expects to start jumping the filly at three. He thinks this will make a perfect jumper. Davis, an oil man, has ribbons to show that he is one of the foremost gaited enthusiasts of Texas—is now shoeing his own horses. Says it's an art with show horses to get correct shoes for certain gaits, etc. Frank Kelly of Colorado City got out of the business, now has a bunch of young stock that he is training. R. R. McEwen of Big Springs, automobileman, has a top notch stallion that other horsemen are breeding their mares to. M. E. Allen, Big Spring cotton oil mill man, says the drouth has cut cotton 50 per cent, feed worse, in his area. The combine maize in the Sweetwater-Snyder area is coming out remarkably well against the blistering heat-drouth. "We haven't got a commission man in town," says A. L. Walker, livestock auction operator, of Big Springs. He says they run about 700 cattle through weekly.

A moment of kindness... a day of cheer

Interesting, isn't it, how some animals steal their way right into your heart? ... Take a frisky pup for example, or a playful kitten or doe or calf. One look from those soulful eyes and the strongest man surrenders.

Most folks feel that animal friends add a lot to the fun of living that they play an important part in our lives. A fellow feels proud of their confidence because it tells the world the sort of person he is.

Cultivate the good things. Enjoy and treasure them... and be sure to include among them the friendly cheer and cool refreshment of grand-taste Grand Prize. A beverage of moderation... Grand Prize is one of the pleasures that add much to the joy of living.
