THOSE INTERESTED INVITED TO BE AT COURTHOUSE MON.

A special meeting of ranchmen of this section will be held at the Terrell County courthouse Monday afternoon, November 29, at 4:00 o'clock for the purpose of discussing problems which confront them.

All ranchmen and others who are interested are invited to be present for this meeting, and to bring before the group any topic which they are concerned about and which they wish discussed. It is felt by ranchmen of this section that such a meeting is necessary so that definite ideas and plans may be presented by ranchmen from this section who attend the Sheep and Goat Raiser's meeting which will be held in Dallas December 7 and 8.

All interested parties are not only requested, but are urged to be present for the meeting and help work the best plans for meeting today's problems for the ranchman.

Red Cross Worker Here for Visit Monday, Tuesday

Letter Received Bearing Thanks For Service Kits

Mrs. Estell Penry, field representative for the American Red Cross, was a visitor here Monday and Tuesday and advised with members of the local chapter on work to be done. It was decided that additional service kits would be prepared and the quota for Terrell County was decided.

A letter addressed to the American Red Cross, Terrell County Chapter, was also read. This letter was received from a man in the service who had received a kit which was prepared last year, and is reproducing below:

"To the Women of the Terrell County Chapter, American Red Cross:

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for the very useful toilet article bag which I received from your chapter. It certainly is most sincerely appreciated.

Gratefully,
Cpl. Joseph Beccheth

SANDERSON COURTS SOLD TO M. L. ROBERTSON

A deal was consummated Thursday whereby M. L. Robertson became the owner of the Sanderson Tourist Courts, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Williams for the past five years.

The Williams purchased the camp from the builder, R. E. Fred, who with Mrs. Fred operated it several years before selling to Mr. and Mrs. Williams. Mr. Robertson has been in Sanderson for the past three years and is now operating the Phillips 66 and the Gulf stations in the western part of town on the Alpine highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams had made no definite announcement as to future plans and Mr. Robertson had not announced what his plans were regarding the camp and his present business.

Mrs. N. E. Charlton spent from Thursday of last week until Monday in El Paso visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hurst and other friends.

Miss Elizabeth Brown of El Paso spent the week-end here visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brown.

WILL VISIT TEXAS

Wendell Wilkie, 1940 Republican presidential candidate, will eat his Thanksgiving turkey in Texas. Mr. Wilkie plans a five-day visit to Texas and will include Houston, San Antonio, Dallas and Fort Worth in the list of towns at which he will stop. He will be in Dallas on Thanksgiving.

CHRISTMAS SEALS TO BE MAILED TO RESIDENTS MONDAY

OTHER UNITED NATIONS TO USE SEALS FOR FUNDS

Christmas Seals symbols of the fight being made against tuberculosis, have been received in Terrell County and have been prepared for mailing, according to Mrs. Hugh Rose, chairman of the seal sale campaign.

In making the announcement, attention was called to the fact that four other of the other United Nations are using the Christmas Seal of the National Tuberculosis Association to raise money for their fight against the disease. Nations using the seals are England, Canada, Brazil and Mexico.

The Christmas Seals Sale will open here Monday, when seals will be mailed out, and will continue until Christmas.

"The use in 1943 of the identical Christmas Seal by five of the United Nations is particularly significant in the face of the wartime rise in tuberculosis that is occurring in many parts of the world," she said. Figures are not yet available to show exactly what is happening in this country as a whole, but a rise in the disease has occurred in certain industrial areas.

A universal Christmas Seal, to be used each year by all the countries belonging to the International Union Against Tuberculosis, with headquarters in Paris, has long been the plan of the tuberculosis associations in the United States. The war has forced the international organization to curtail many of its activities, and the plan of a universal seal has had to be temporarily abandoned. However, having five of the United Nations using the identical Christmas Seal this year is a long step toward the final fulfillment of the plan.

Persons who receive seals in the mail are urged to respond as soon as possible, and it is hoped that the support of every individual will be received. This support is needed because of the increase in tuberculosis caused by the war.

In an advertisement for the Modern Beauty Shop which appeared in the last issue of the Times the Public was notified that the firm would be open for business "between the hours of 6:00 o'clock A. M. and 9:00 P. M." This line should have read "between the hours of 9:00 o'clock A. M. and 6:00 P. M." Just the matter of getting the hours transposed, which makes about six hours too much difference, according to Mrs. W. D. O' Bryant, who owns and operates the shop.

AAA COMMITTEEMEN TO BE ELECTED NOVEMBER 19TH

TO BEGIN SERVICE MONTH EARLIER THAN IN PAST

Triple-A community committeemen for Terrell county will be elected on November 19, to serve from December 1, 1943 through December 1, 1944, according to John Harrison, county AAA chairman.

Formerly, committeemen were elected in December and began serving on January 1, but since in connection with 1944 food production program should begin in December, the election dates have been changed to allow the new committeemen to begin work a month earlier.

"How well the Food Program in this county is run next year depends to a large extent on the men who are elected to hold these committeemen jobs," Mr. Harrison said. He continued: "The Triple-A committee in this county will handle the rationing and allocation of farm machinery, equipment, building supplies, and other agricultural materials and facilities. It will issue farm livestock slaughter permits, handle the farm transportation program, including recommendations for the issue of certificates for tires, off-highway gasoline and tractor fuel. These are only a few of the many important wartime jobs which the committee will handle in this county."

The machine does precision filing on the teeth of the saw after another attachment has set the teeth, using spring tension to drive the hammer so that all teeth are set with the same pressure. Mr. Shaffer stated that he could take care of hand saws, circle saws, and almost any other type of saws that needed sharpening.

Miss Mary Ferguson, P. E. Dishman, Jr. Are Married Wed.

Ceremony Performed In Home of Bride's Parents By Rev. Byrd

The marriage of Miss Mary Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ferguson, to Prince Evans Dishman, Jr., was solemnized Wednesday morning at 9:00 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John W. Byrd.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an ice blue two piece dress of wool jersey with pink accessories and carried a white testament. She was attended by Mrs. Clarence Jessup as matron of honor, Jack Deaton was the groom's best man, and the participants marched into the room to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding Chorus played by Mrs. Frank Warren.

Gladioli and white mums with green fernery in the background decorated the living room, and white candles in blue holder burned on either side of the improvised altar.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for guests, who were relatives of the two families and close friends. The dining table was laid with a lace cloth and was centered with a bowl of lavender and white mums. The three-tiered white wedding cake, embossed with pale pink rosebuds, was served by Mrs. Ervin Grigsby after the first slice had been cut by the bride. Mrs. Robert Duncan presided over the coffee service.

Immediately following the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip. For traveling Mrs. Dishman wore a navy blue suit with blue accessories.

The bride is a graduate of the Sanderson high school and the University of San Antonio. She later attended Gradwell School of Technicians in St. Louis, where she completed work as a laboratory technician. She was technician at the Base Hospital, Fort Sam Houston, until she resigned her position last week.

The groom, pharmacist's mate first class, in the United States Navy, is also a graduate of Sanderson high school.

He volunteered for service with the Navy in June, 1940, and had served two years in foreign service when he received a leave to visit his parents. He reports again for active duty the latter part of this month, and the couple plan to make their home in California where he will probably be stationed for the present.

Others present for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Dishman, Sr., parents of the groom, and Allister and Robert Joe Dishman, brothers of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, Staff Sgt. W. J. Ferguson, Jr., brother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Houston Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Nance and daughter, Vanna Jo, Mrs. Annie Nance, Robert Duncan, Clarence Jessup, Frank Warren, Mrs. Mary Lou Kellar, Ervin Grigsby, Mrs. Jack Deaton and son, David, and Mrs. Byrd.

Legion Auxiliary Gives Report On Expenditures, Cash

Proceeds From Poppy Sale Here Amount to $87.37

A report of expenditures and collections of monies received by the American Legion Auxiliary from the sale of poppies, has been made by Mrs. Donald Duncan, secretary-treasurer.

The poppies were purchased from the veterans at Legion Hospital, Legion, Texas, and afforded compensation to many of the disabled who are not able to earn from any other source. Cost of the poppies for the local Auxiliary was $10, which comes out of the collections made. Other expenses was a $20 Christmas gift check sent to the veterans at Legion; a $10 gift check to the rehabilitation state treasury which was used for supplies for veterans of World War II, and $5 which is spent each year for the purchase of a tuberculosis bond during the Christmas Seal sale. The balance of the money is to be kept in Terrell County and will be expended for assistance to needy local veterans and their families. In October a $100 war bond was purchased with money already in the treasury.

The sale of poppies is carried on under the direction of the Auxiliary each year on Armistice Day, and the committee making sales this year expressed its sincere thanks for the support given the rehabilitation program by the purchase of the flowers. The committee was composed of Mrs. S. H. Underwood, chairman, Mrs. Tip Frazier, Mrs. B. F. Anderson, and Mrs. R. E. Corder, president of the Auxiliary.

AN UNAPPRECIATED TRUTH

Our government will go bankrupt if highly productive private industry capable of paying heavy taxes, is not encouraged and maintained in these days of hundred-billion-dollar war budgets. A majority of people have no conception of truth of his assertion. A single industry, the railroads, are at the present time paying more in taxes than the total cost of the Federal government a few short years ago.

Railway taxes for the first eight months of 1943 totaled approximately $1,296,362,000, or an average of $5,353,000 a day. This is at the rate of $2,044,000,000 a year. Statistical experts are of the opinion that rail taxes for the calendar year 1943 will be in the neighborhood of possibly a little more than $2,000,000,000. It is estimated that 21 or 22 per cent of total railroads revenues in 1943 will go to pay taxes.

It is not an accident that the railroads are able to pay such astronomical sums. Neither is it just a matter of writing a law and sending the tax collector around. Back of the railroads' $2,000,000,000 tax bill is an epoch of transportation development.

The railroads were laid down to make commerce move. To do that, rail managements had to achieve and maintain efficient, reasonably-priced service. As traffic demands increased, they had to be prepared to extend this service. In boom or depression rail transportation continued unflinching. Billions of dollars of private savings were poured into the expanding plant. The lessons of experience became the yardstick of operating efficiency. Railroad men had but one objective—good railroads.

These are a few of the reasons why the government today is able to collect $2,000,000,000 in taxes from a railroad industry. The same story could be told of other heavily-taxed industries that were originated and developed through the ingenuity and courage of free American citizens.

American automobile users during 1942 cut down their consumption of gasoline by 17 per cent, according to the Public Roads Administration of the Federal Works Agency.

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Uvalde Leader News—Government appraisers working at Uvalde recently, appraised approximately 150,000 pounds of fall wool in the L. Schwartz Company warehouse. This amount represented all the fall wool that had been brought to the warehouse to that date.

According to Tom Hardin, office manager for L. Schwartz Co., 75 per cent of the accumulation brought 43.7 cents per pound net to the grower, a price which, he said, was higher than that received for the eight-months wool last spring.

Monahans News—Monahans citizens, accustomed to waking with only the sound of passing auto and trains in their ears were shocked wide awake early Thursday morning when a wave of bombing planes swept over the town dropping their cargo of explosives mercilessly on residential sections as well as industrial areas for approximately twenty minutes.

Children screamed, mothers and fathers ran into the streets dressed in bathrobes and gowns to find out what was disrupting the usual complacency of eventless West Texas sunrises.

Fortunately, the raid was not a real raid by enemy bombers, but was made by six planes of

A new anti-tank gun which makes a soldier the "master of any tank which may attack him," the "bazooka" will penetrate armor, drive through brick and rock walls, shatter bridge girders and "perform other seemingly miracles."

Though it has long been in mass production and supplied to both American and Allied forces, most of the details of the Bazooka remain military secrets. However, a revealing incident is one wherein the commander of six enemy tanks in North Africa surrendered when an American soldier fired his bazooka at the Civilian Air Patrol as a part of the observance of Texas State Guard Week—a gentle reminder of what a real bombing would be like.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—Welcome news for Pecos county Pearl Harbor fathers was released Wednesday by the Pecos County Selective Service Board, which heretofore has been unable to predict when the draft of fathers would begin in the county because of uncertainty in draft quotas and regulations.

"We won't need any fathers for the December quota," stated the board Wednesday "and all will get to enjoy one more Christmas at home with their families. But look out in January, for we are "scraping the barrel" to meet the December quota, and will have to call fathers in January and thereafter.

Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa—The Highland country isn't exactly a goat country but Dr. A. J. Hoffman had a goat-request from Lt. (jig) George McLellan, athletic and morale officer at the Naval Ammunition Depot, Hawthorne, Nev. He did something about it.

Texans stationed at Hawthorne wanted a real Texas billy as a mascot. They got it.

Harper Rawlings of Rawlings Storage and Commission heard of Dr. Hoffman's dilemma. He selected a billy from his herd and after careful grooming, feeding and taming, "Texas Red" was on his way. Right now he's undergoing the training of—and by—Texas "middies." It may be that he'll get a few butts at Hitler or Hirohito.

Alpine Alavanche—Fall shipment of cattle from the Alpine area are practically completed, local ranchmen say, with approximately 80 percent of stock to be moved already gone.

It is estimated that the number of cattle shipped this fall will be around the usual figure, with most of the calves going to feed lots in California and the Corn Belt. Calves, contracted earlier in the year, sold at around an average of 12 and 13c., it was stated. Feeder cows brought around six cents this year.

Ozona Stockman—Setting a new record for the opening month of the taxpaying period, Crockett county taxpayers in the month of October paid in 71 percent of the total ad valorem tax bill of the county for state, county and school purposes, A. O. Fields, deputy in charge of collections, announced yesterday.

The month's grand total of collections was $105,691.19 out of a total amount due of $147,739, the collector reported.

One-third of all gasoline produced in the United States is required for military purposes.

tanks. The enemy thought they had been hit by 155-mm guns whose projectiles are the size of a bread-and-butter plate.

Actually, the bazooka, fired from the shoulder of one man and loaded by another, has a smaller projectile. It is the explosive and penetrating power that makes the difference.

Used successfully in North Africa, the bazooka's fame has been enhanced by such stories as the saga of the American soldier and his bazooka. This describes the taking of a small but strong enemy fort by a single soldier who had detached himself from a landing party, waded ashore and fired one shot from his gun.

The bazooka is very easy to operate and can be used by drivers, orderlies, clerks, etc., in defense operations leaving other men free to bear their customary arms.

Not considered as a substitute for existing guns, the bazooka was designed as a supplemental means of battering tanks, smashing pill boxes, and blowing gaping holes in fortifications. Primarily it is for use at extremely short range.

"FOR THE DURATION"
By W. D. Black

We hear the above expression quite frequently. Men enlist for the duration, and we are rationed on tires, sugar and other things for the duration. If we knew how long the duration would be it might not go so hard with us, but we don't know. We are buying War Bonds and Stamps and doing everything we can to shorten the duration, and to help win this war, and it is right that we should. But I am wondering if Christian men and women are keeping faith with God and are praying, and will they keep it up for the duration. "Pray without ceasing" is a command from high Heaven to Christians. (1 Thes. 5:17) Does it do any good to pray? I believe it does. If I didn't I wouldn't pray, but since I read in the word of God where an inspired Apostle, one who knew what he was talking about, said "Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus". (Phil. 4:6-7.)

While out in meetings this summer I heard Christian fathers pray, and in their prayers they would remember the boys out on the front. I also saw little mothers at home alone, and knew that they were praying too. I said in my heart it is surely right. Sitting on a man's front porch looking out across a peanut field to the timber that skirted the field; the following thoughts came to me, and I hereby dedicate them to all praying mothers and their boys who are on the front to protect our lives and liberty, our homes and all that we have that is near and dear to us. SHALL WE FAIL THEM?

A Praying Mother

My little mother alone at home, While I my country serve. The billowy waters around me foam, Her life and liberty I preserve. The battle rages at furious pace, Shells around me the waters spray. But I can see my mother's face, As silently she kneels to pray. Dear Lord: my boy on duty stands, His life for mine he gives. While on the way to foreign lands, Your love and mercy ever lives. Wilt thou Dear Lord: protect him now, While enemy planes around him fly. May he to thee renew his vow, When the command comes to stand by. This prayer I hear above the roar, Of shells and planes aflame. My thoughts to thee upward

WARTIME SAVINGS SUGGESTIONS for Electric Appliance Users

Electric Range Economy Tips

- When you're roasting meat in the oven, bake potatoes, a pudding and a casserole dish of vegetables, too. Saves using top units.
- If you have sectional pans, cook two or more vegetables on one unit at same time.
- Switch the top units to low heat promptly when food comes to steam.
- Cook more one-dish meals, such as hash, Irish stew, etc.
- Use only enough water to prevent food from scorching. Some vegetables, like greens, need no water.
- Don't toast one or two slices of bread in oven. Broiler is economical only for toasting in quantity.
- Use well cooker for long, slow cooking operations, such as cooking dried beans. Plan more cooker meals.
- Use covered, flat-bottomed utensils that fit unit. Pans that are warped or too small waste electricity.
- Switch off surface units when food is nearly done and finish cooking on stored heat.
- Avoid excessive oven peeking.

Uncle Sam Says:
Waste of anything in wartime is a crime. Don't waste electricity just because it isn't rationed. Wasting electricity involves a waste of fuel, transportation facilities, manpower and critical materials needed elsewhere in the war effort. Use all the electricity you need — but need what you use.

Ha! Ha! What do you know? A new couple, Mary Nell G. and Edward C.

Mary Agnes seems to be the apple of William S.'s eye. A new couple No?

We heard Sid just couldn't find a girl to suit him. A little secret Sid. Look into the Sophomore class.

Well! Well! Jeanette. Why so down-hearted Friday?

We hear that Mary Alice and Jeanette are both writing to a boy in San Antonio. We wonder who will get him.

Look out, boys; Carolyn has something up her sleeve.

On Sadie Hawkins night David D. was really putting Marjorie through. She had to do all the opening of doors and everything.

To bad W. T. and J. D. had to keep their dates waiting. Now boys you know they don't make you wait that long.

Maurine F. left town for the week-end. Must have had fun, aside from the scratch on her chin.

What's this about Jimmy D. and Mona?

Clara Alice was certainly in a "what cha' call it mood" over the week-end.

Joan seemed to miss Frank until he came home Sunday. Say Frank what's the matter.

Harvey R. was seen with Wilma again. Say Glynn you must be slipping.

Snooper is glad to see Holley back and up and around again after her operation.

Snooper has missed Dan M. lately. What's the matter, Dan? Are you "afraid" of the girls too?

Friday night there seemed to be quite a number of boys that were looking for dates. Could it have been because of the party. Let the gals have one night a year at least.

Snooper is waiting to see what will happen when Margaret Ruth gets home.

A little birdie over heard a conversation the other day. It seems there was a "bargain" made last May that some one wants to keep "awfully bad."

Who were the "dear little boys" who tried to crash the hen party? Too bad they couldn't take a hint.

Wish we had a movie of the "animal race" at the P. E. Party.

SCHOOL OBSERVES ARMISTICE DAY

While Sanderson School did not declare Thursday, Nov. 11, a holiday, a special assembly was called in observance of the day. The following program was given:

Pledge of Allegiance.
"Star Spangled Banner."
"What Armistice Means to Us Today" a short talk by Mr. Holley.

One minute of silent prayer for those gallant men who lost their lives in the last war.

"Rose of No Man's Land" sung by Joan Anderson, Maurine Cox, and Maurine Frazier.

A Group of World War I songs was sung by the assembly.

THE SCRAP DRIVE

Our armed forces have been winning many battles lately but as yet we have not completely won the war. To win we still need to send thousands of planes, guns, and tanks to our allies as well as to our boys at the front.

War workers will have to speed up production even more, but we have a job to do, too. The war plans need more of the materials that make tanks, ships, planes, and guns.

Severe shortages of some of these materials still exist. For instance, they need scrap iron for the making of steel. Also they need tin, fats, greases, and paper.

Right now all Sanderson school children need to collect is scrap iron. Last year the school of America gathered in more than any other organization. But our government wants them to do an even better job this year. For 15 million tons of iron must be collected before 1943 is over. The Salvage Division is responsible for this. Schools need to collect 3 million tons of scrap.

Heavy scrap iron is preferred over light metal. Light metal has to be baled and so it takes more power, equipment, and time.

Our school gets half the profit off the iron we bring in. So come on folks, let us do our best! Locate all scrap metal and report it to some school authority and it will be collected.

FOOD FIGHTS FOR FREEDOM

Betty Ann Peavy

The whole month of November has been set aside as "Food Fights for Freedom" month. The slogan is "Produce, Conserve, Share."

There are ways that everyone can produce food to hasten the day of victory. First of all, most of us can produce a little food by raising a victory garden in the front yard or in the vacant lot. Some of us have a few chickens, some fryers and some for eggs. A few of us can keep a cow.

We can conserve food, too. We can eat all that we take on our plates. Don't take it if you won't eat it! Don't throw away leftovers. Put a cover over them and put them in the ice box. Starve the garbage can.

We can also share our food. If you have a victory garden you can give your neighbor some of your crop. There are other ways we can share food, too.

We civilians will get plenty of food if we "play square," are careful of black markets, and pay only the ceiling prices. For the duration we will have plenty of food we save.

Today 75 percent of all the food produced in America goes to the civilians, 13 percent goes to our armed services, 10 percent to Allies and lend-lease, and 2 percent territories of the U. S. and to South America.

SO PRODUCE, CONSERVE, SHARE, AND PLAY SQUARE.

FOURTH AND FIFTH GRADE NEWS

The Fourth Graders are building the town of Sanderson in miniature.

The Fifth Graders are making a museum of articles collected in and around Sanderson. Both grades are making books of stories they have read.

PARENTS INVITED

The Commercial Department will be in charge of the assembly program December 3. All parents are invited.

"HEN PARTY"

Last Friday night the girls physical education department sponsored a "Hen Party" for all the girls in high school. The girls already out of high school and the faculty were invited guests.

The refreshment committee served iced cokes and cookies. Everyone had so much fun that plans are in the making for another party in December.

EIGHTH GRADE ASSEMBLY

The program included two plays. One play "A Matter of Names" was played by the following characters:

Mr. Ginch, the boss of Eureka Employment Agency; Robert Joe Dishman; His Secretary Harriet Pierson; A deaf Customer; Joe Mussy.

The second play called "Quiet Please" was played by the following characters:

A country medico, Buddy May; A small town grocer, David Thompson; Lily, who had a date, Doris Duke; Her Date, Joe Niel Brown; Two musicians, Edgar Wells, Betty Ann Peavy; An errand boy and his pet peeve, Billy House, Betty Jo Beckett; Mrs. Persch, the class sponsor, directed the plays, Margie Duncan was the announcer.

Pet Peeves

Willo E. "My pet peeve is to see a girl who thinks she is better than anyone else."

Bland G. "People who come around and ask me to tell my pet peeves, smells and color."

Mary Nell G. "My pet peeve is Jimmy always hitting me."

Malloy Winston "I hate for anyone to call me Molly."

Doris Lee "Fickle-minded boys."

Mr. Holley "A smart Alec."

Violet "People who brag."

Gloria "The boys who are social outcast."

Stump Duke—"Lack of sufficient funds."

WOOL SUPPLIES ABOUT SAME

The supply of wool for civilians wearing apparel is approximately the same as last season. To meet military demands and equip civilians, existing wool facilities will be operated to the limit of capacity. Manufacturers are reducing the variety of colors and counts of their yarns; weavers are dropping some of the non-essential numbers from their lines. Materials produced will be familiar, popular, and practical types. No colors are prohibited.

POULTRY TRUCKERS

Truckers hauling poultry must post within their trucks the name and address of the persons to whom it is being shipped, the place from which the items were shipped, their quantities, types, grades and weight classes, and the number of head of each, the OPA has ruled.

Women's rayon hosiery does not have to be labeled as Grade A or Grade B, the OPA said recently, although ceiling price and gauge or needle count regulations are still in force. The choice as to whether the Grade A or B mark will be placed in rayon hose is now left to the dealer.

Texas' Wild Rubber Plant To Add To Diminishing Supply

Guayule To Be Taken From Big Bend Section

A small supply of natural crude rubber will be added to the Nation's dwindling stock pile as the result of a guayule harvesting project now being conducted by the Forest Service in cooperation with the Rubber Reserve Company, the Department of Agriculture said today.

The rubber is coming from a scattered stand of wild guayule, a semi-desert shrub which grows in the rough "Big Bend" country of Southwestern Texas, the Forest Service reports. The amount of rubber expected is only a minute fraction of the country's needs, but is of extreme importance because of the need for natural rubber to blend with synthetic rubbers.

Wild guayule also grows, and in better stands, in parts of North Central Mexico where it has supported a stable rubber industry for forty years.

There was once a guayule mill at Marathon, Texas, but over a period of several years it processed all the shrub considered accessible and ceased operations in 1926. The critical shortage of natural rubber has caused the Government to survey remnants overlooked by the former operators, and second growth stands. Between 1,500 and 2,000 tons of shrub suitable for harvesting have been located.

A contract has been let for collection of the shrub, which is scattered over several hundred thousand acres of means and canyons in the remote Texas cow-country. Provisions have been made in the harvesting plans to leave sufficient guayule on the range to insure future reproduction of the plants.

Shipment of the Texas shrub already has started to Salinas, California, where it will be reconditioned factory operated by the Department's Emergency Rubber Project. Some 880,000 pounds of rubber were recently milled from nearby cultivated guayule fields at Salinas.

Rubber extraction processes have been improved since the days of the Marathon mill in Texas, officials of the Forest Service say, and methods of collecting the shrub are much more efficient. These factors are expected to help offset the extra cost of harvesting the sparse stands in rugged country.

Where the usual practice had been to pack the shrubs out on burros and bale it in crude hand presses, the foresters are using tractors and trailers to do the collecting and power balers to prepare it for shipment. Such practices have helped to reduce labor needs. Camps have been pitched out on the range.

The plants, which look very much like sagebrush, are pulled out of the ground, since branches and roots alike yield rubber. In extracting rubber, the entire plant is growing up in water. The rubber separates from the plant fibers and floats to the surface in particles. Cultivated strains of the plant produce as much as 20 percent of their dry weight in rubber, it is reported, but yield from the wild shrub is somewhat lower.

Guayule has been cultivated experimentally in a limited manner in the United States for the past 30 years and has been much improved as to rubber content. Under cultivation, the shrub may be harvested in two or three years when grown on irrigated land; or five years on dry farm land. The average age of the wild shrub now being harvested is believed to be about 14 years.

TEXAS TO TOKIO— (Continued from Page One)

complete so the other, a patient at present, completed it. The poem follows:

THE SICILIAN INVASION
In the cover of night,
Through the deep blue sea,
A gigantic convoy moved.
It moved along like a Phantom Fleet,
On through the night and sea of blue.
Silent men scanned the gloom ahead,
They were watching for the distant shore.
The prevailing silence would soon all end
By wars terrific crash and roar.
Above the fleet the bright stars shone,
Across the sky a shooting star soared,
This soon would be all blotted out
By planes as they onward roared.

Far up ahead the gloom was pierced
By a bursting rockets' flare
And instead of peace and silence,
Death and destruction filled the air.
By the light of the bursting bombs and flares,
The gigantic fleet moved in
And the screams of the wounded and dying.

Now has added to the battle's din,
Through the boiling sea, men reached the shore,
And steadily they pushed on,
They must, they could, they would take the beach.
Before the coming of the dawn,
Roaring tanks rushed into the fray,
Their guns belching death and flame,
Bombs were bursting everywhere,
Dropped by speeding planes.

On through the roaring surf they fought
Not once thinking of defeat,
These heroes brave that struggled on,
Knew not the word defeat.
These men were fighting for liberty,
They were fighting to free the world,
And up ahead in the thickest of all,
The Stars and Stripes were unfurled.

Through a living hell they still fought on,
Many fell in the raging sea,
But those gallant men that fought and died,
Are the ones who made the whole world free.

The anguish and torture through which we went,
No human tongue can tell,
Blood, flesh and soul could suffer no more,
Not even in the depths of Hell.
So let us all forever remember,
Men gave their lives for what was right,
And no man can rule who denounces faith,
In God and His Righteous Might.

A Patient of the 43rd Sta. Hospital.

MAKES HONOR ROLL

Miss Mary Bess Hardgrave, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hardgrave, is listed on the honor roll at Abilene Christian College for the first six weeks of the second semester.

Sgt. and Mrs. W. J. Smith and children, Billy Charles and Patricia Ann, arrived Friday from Manitou, Colo. Sgt. Smith left that night for Camp Carson, Colo., where he is stationed, and Mrs. Smith and children will make their home here for the duration. She is a sister of Mrs. Willie Banner.

SYNTHETIC RUBBER PRODUCTION GOOD; FEW TIRES AS YET

Although synthetic rubbers are being produced in large quantity, the tire situation will be the most serious during the next six to nine months, according to the Fourth Progress Report of the Office of Rubber Director, issued recently by Rubber Director Bradley Dewey.
By early 1944 all plants in the synthetic program will be in operation, but that does not immediately assure sufficient tires. Necessary production of tires requires plant expansions that will not be completed until well into 1944. High tenacity rayon and cotton tire cords must also be produced in greater quantity. Production of these is being expanded but the full program for rayon cord will not come into operation for almost a year.
The rubber director's goal is 30 million synthetic tires in 1944. During 1943, only 17,200,000 tires of all kinds—new, used or reclaimed—will have been distributed. Because of their starvation diet of tires during 1942 and 1943, American motorists would now buy much more than their normal peacetime consumption of 50 million tires annually if they had the opportunity.

New synthetic tires are available now only to those whose gasoline ration permits 601 or more miles of driving per month. Other motorists, including all A and B ration book holders, will have to get by on their present tires, used tires, or with recapping. For a long time recapped tires must continue to carry much of the transportation burden. No ration certificates are required for passenger car tire recapping. Camelback for recapping is now of much better quality than even a few weeks ago, being made of a combination of reclaimed rubber and 40% Buna S.

The bus and truck tire situation is extremely serious. Shortages of manpower, rayon cord, and tire building equipment for new, large-sized tires together account for this situation. Overloading and speeding, especially on hot pavements, must be eliminated and every possible tire carcass must be reclaimed.
Military requirements, especially for large tires, are tremendous. One large bomber tire, according to the report, cancels several large truck tires or as many as 30 passenger-car tires.
New passenger car tires are now being made from synthetic rubber (Buna S). If properly inflated, properly loaded and not abused, these tires can be driven at reasonably high speed over smooth roads and will give 90% or more of the wear of first-line, pre-Pearl Harbor tires, but heating, speeding, and rough roads damage them more easily. Buna S tires also are standard for motorcycles, tractors, implements, wheelbarrows, bicycles, and smaller trucks and buses.

Buna S is still inferior to natural rubber for tubes. Butyl will be used for tubes, according to present data. Butyl will hold air better than natural rubber and will resist heat and tearing very well. Production of butyl is still small, however.

During the next six to nine months bus and truck operators must cooperate as never before, and every car owner must redouble his conservation efforts if there are to be enough tires for essential civilian transportation and minimum military requirements.

In the first 12 months of war, the quantity of petroleum and petroleum products sent to United States troops was more than 80 times that shipped in the first 12 months of the last World War.

Additional Women Wanted for Nurses Training in Army

Each Nurse Corps Cadet Helps Send Graduate to Front
Twenty-five hundred more graduate nurses are needed every month for the fighting forces. Six nurses are needed for every 1,000 soldiers, to assist behind battle lines, bring soldiers home from the fronts, and serve in hospitals.

To meet this wartime need, the United States Cadet Nurse Corps offers young women a chance to get nurses' training with living expenses paid, with distinctive wartime uniforms provided free, and with an allowance ranging from $15 to $30 a month for the training period of 24 to 36 months.

A girl can enter the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps at a younger age than she can enter other branches of the armed services. As soon as she enrolls, the nursing assistance she gives helps send a graduate nurse to the front. And when the cadet herself graduates she, too, may join the armed services.

Army and navy nurses are commissioned officers and receive pay, allowances, and insurance according to army and navy pay schedules.

After her war-time service, the trained nurse will need of her services, helping to handle problems of disease, malnutrition, and war shock. Her profession offers many types of career in the post-war world—administrative, educational, industrial, public health, institutional, and community organization—with pay that on the average is better than that of women in other profession.

Possibly because nursing develops qualities which are admired by men, a higher percentage of nurses marries than in any other women's profession. Many nurses take time out to marry and raise a family, then return to nursing, while others practice their profession on a part-time basis to add to family income.

Young women between 17 and 35 who are high school graduates and who would like to become cadet nurses should go to their local hospital for information or write to the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, Box 88, New York, N. Y.

In Tunisia 18,000 gallons of gasoline were consumed for every hour each mechanized division was on the move.

Large increases in the production of peanut butter and peanut oil from the 1943 crop to farmers' stock peanuts, expected to approximate 1,425,000 tons—375,000 tons more than last year—are urgently needed to meet wartime requirements, says WFA. Approximately 413,000 tons will be made into peanut butter—375,000 tons for civilian consumption and the remainder for the army and navy.
