LOOKING AHEAD

By Dr. George S. Bensen

PRACTICALITY

Uncommon pieces of machinery, some of a secret nature, built in the last two years to make implements of war now occupy uncultivated acres of floor space in American factories. The tools belong to the government. The factories are privately owned. They used to turn out things as peaceful as plows, pencils and pianos and they hope to do the same things again soon.

Senator Harris S. Truman of Missouri, in a speech in New York not long ago, suggested that the government (owner of the tools) ought to hurry up and price-tag the ones it would be willing to sell when the war is over. After that, he pointed out, manufacturers now using the tools can decide which ones they can use profitably and afford to buy for peacetime work.

A Wise Suggestion
Think of the moving and wrecking and time-killing palaver this would save. I respect all leaders who are down-to-earth and I am convinced that Truman is not rattled. The urgency of this emergency prompts us sometimes to look the other way and shrink from facts that concern us vitally. I suspect that some of our leaders get weak knees occasionally from hearing their jobs called colossal.

I am not suggesting that any of us lower our sights; but I do believe that if we are to see matters of world and national import clearly we must scale them down to our size and see what they mean to us and our neighbors. If they don't make sense on that basis, perhaps they don't make sense at all. Money matters provide an excellent example.

Arm Prosperity
One well-established fact is very handy for measuring national economy in terms of family pocketbook. Here's the fact: When factory workers have money, farmers are prosperous and most honest people fare well. Right now, due to war (not to sound thinking), American labor is fully employed and well paid. Farmers are prospering because the workers have extra money and live well.

Nobody needs a crystal ball to see that this will change when war ends unless something is done about it. Now, if you were the government, responsible for all these things that can delay the whole of reconversion, I hope you would shoo away all the big grisly fears and think first of your sons and brothers quitting the service and looking for a job; also about that war-working neighbor. What's to become of him?

Will your own job end with the war? If so, can you go back to your old one? Farmer, if you are specializing in some war crop, what will you raise in peacetime? Automobile dealer, how soon will you get cars to sell? Manufacturer, when will your government contracts be settled and your floors cleared of war-working machinery? Can you get busy before your competitor hires away your best men and grab your market?

Face the Facts
Straight-thinking citizens will not say matters like this are in the hands of super-men with super-minds. They are not! Government men are only men, and all their authority comes from the people. Nothing helps good leaders more than approval from thinking voters. I hope Senator Truman gets plenty of support for his common-sense proposal. It would surely help the machine-tool industry.

But of more importance than that, the Senator knows what's good for the farmers of Missouri in the post-war slump. He

WAR FUND QUOTA FOR TERRELL IS SET AT $3,000.00

MORE THAN TWICE AMOUNT ASKED IN LAST DRIVE

Terrell County War Fund Chairman R. E. Corder has announced that the quota for the campaign this year is set at $3,000.00, or more than twice the amount asked last year.

This announcement was made this week and letters of appeal were mailed to citizens of the community, asking their cooperation in meeting this call by the American Red Cross. The organization needs $200,000.00 to carry out its 1944 program because of the increased calls for service as a result of the war.

Quotas for Terrell County have always been met in the past, Mr. Corder stated, and he felt confident that the people of this community would come forth with the help that will be necessary in meeting this one. All persons who receive the letters are urged to return their check in the enclosed stamped and addressed envelope as soon as possible. The drive is scheduled to last through the month if necessary, but if it can be cut short it will save a lot of time for those who are in charge, and will also save the necessity of a committee calling in person on individuals to ask for their cooperation.

County Chapter Is Organized For Paralysis Fight

Final Report On Drive Made By Chairman Sudduth

Through the cooperation of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis a Terrell County Chapter of the organization has been formed with W. W. (Buddy) Sudduth named as chairman. J. T. Dillard was named as vice-chairman of the local chapter and James Caroline was named as secretary and treasurer.

Sudduth, who was also chairman of the March of Dimes drive, announced that a working committee composed of the three above men, and Mrs. J. W. Downum, Judge R. S. Wilkinson, Dr. D. M. Randall, C. P. Peavy, O. T. Sudduth, and Simon Lopez, had been named to work with the organization. He also announced that proceeds from the March of Dimes drive had amounted to $511.03, including donations, revenue from the dance, and funds collected at the Princess Theatre. After deducting expenses of $91.37, a balance of $419.66 was divided evenly between the national organization and the local chapter.

In a letter from the National organization it was further pointed out that a county chapter was necessary to secure proper help, including an iron lung and other assistance, in case of an epidemic of infantile paralysis in the county.

TO GILMER

Mr. and Mrs. Press Nichols left Sunday for Gilmer where he will be several weeks receiving wool shipped from Sanderson Wool Commission Co. warehouses to that place. The wool, which is owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation, will be stored there to make additional room in the local building for spring clips.

Misses Janice White and Kathryn Nell Nance arrived last week-end for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. I. White and Sheriff and Mrs. J. S. Nance. Both young ladies are attending Trinity University at San Antonio.

Mrs. W. H. Farley Succumbs To Heart Attack Friday

Funeral Services Held From Local Presbyterian Church

Funeral services for Mrs. W. H. Farley, 67, who succumbed to a heart attack Friday afternoon at about 4:30 o'clock at her home, were held from the Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the Rev. John Klassen, pastor of the First Methodist Church officiating. Interment was in Cedar Grove Cemetery with Oberkampf Funeral Directors in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Farley had been ill for sometime, but had gotten up Friday, going about the house. She appeared to be feeling about as usual at noon, and Mr. Farley went as usual to his duties at his place of business. On going back to the house he found her body laying across the bed.

She was born in Bexar County, near San Antonio, on May 30, 1876. At the age of 13 she became a member of the Methodist Church and had been faithful to that faith throughout her life. In 1908 she was married to W. H. Farley, and in 1912 they moved to Sanderson and have resided here since that time.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three sisters, Mrs. B. C. Farley, Sanderson; Mrs. Joe Robinson, Los Angeles, Calif.; and Mrs. A. A. Musgraves, Bisbee, Ariz.; and two brothers, S. D. and E. W. Jeffers, both of Los Angeles, Calif. A niece, Mrs. Harry McNutt and children of McCamey, were here for the funeral services.

Palbearers were R. S. Wilkinson, J. S. Nance, Joe Nichols, Ruel Adams, Ervin Grigsby, and W. J. Ferguson.

THIRD TEST FOR V-12 PROGRAM TO BE HELD MARCH 15

The third Army-Navy College Qualifying Test for the Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Program V-12 which will be given throughout the country on Wednesday morning, March 15, at 9:00 o'clock, will be administered at the Sanderson high school, according to announcement by Principal C. G. Bradford. The test will be given to students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive who are high school graduates or who will be graduated by July 1 of this year. Intent to take the test should be made known to Mr. Bradford immediately so that necessary supplies may be ordered.

The same examination will be taken by both Army and Navy candidates. The examination is for the program of college designed to test the aptitude and general knowledge required training and all qualified students are urged to take the test. At the time of the test each candidate will be given choice of service preference but taking the test does not obligate the candidate to enlist in the service.

The Army Specialized Training Program is aimed to meet the Army's needs for specialists and technicians in certain critical fields of study. Academic work is at the college level at government expense.

The Navy College Program also enables students to continue academic training at government expense. Successful completion of the prescribed courses may, following further officer training lead to a commission in the Navy.

SON TO CULBERTSONS

A nine pound and seven ounce baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Culbertson February 18, in an Iran hospital. The name of the young man was not learned, but both he and his mother are getting along fine.

LOCAL DRAFT BOARD DEFERS SHEARERS TEMPORARILY

PETITION BY RANCHMEN BRINGS ACTION

At a special meeting of the County Selective Service Board held Saturday night at the Terrell county courthouse, the board members made known that they would defer all shearers in the county until June 1, unless new regulations from Selective Service made it necessary that the deferments be canceled, or unless the shearers deferred failed to remain at their posts.

J. C. Mitchell, chairman of the board, stated that this was done so that wool and meat already produced, could be sent to war fronts for use of sons, husbands and fathers of local people. He said that because of the shortage of shearers from a national, as well as a local standpoint, and so that the full benefits from products already produced could be obtained, the board felt justified in making this decision.

The action was brought about by the petitioning of the board by ranchmen of the community who stated that they felt the shortage of experienced shearers would result in the loss of a big part of the wool produced and hinder the movement of mutton and lamb to markets.

Upon receipt of the petition the Selective Service Board, composed of Mr. Mitchell, Joe Nichols, and D. B. Herbert, wrote state headquarters asking what action should be taken. They were notified that they could take upon themselves, with the permission of state headquarters, the responsibility of deferring the shearers if in their opinion such action would further the cause of the war effort.

In making the announcement to a group of ranchmen and to a number of shearing captains who were at the meeting, Mr. Mitchell pointed out that all shearers must remain with the captain they start out with so there will be no loss of time in moving from one job to another. He also stated the board included ranch employees in its decision to cancel deferments of all who failed to comply with regulations.

Mr. Nichols pointed out that there were only 38 shearers left in the county who are of draft age, and a general survey showed that shearing machines in the county carried 119 drops. A survey of shearers for these machines showed that there were approximately 70 available, some of which were being brought in from other counties.

KILLED IN ITALY

Word to this effect was received in a telegram by his mother, Mrs. Agustina Garza of Sanderson. A letter of conformation which followed was dated February 26, and read in part: "It is with regret that I am writing to confirm the recent telegram informing you of the death of your son, Private First Class Louis Garza, Medical Department, who was killed in action on January 29, 1944 in Italy."

PILOT CRASHES CRIPPLED FORT ON TARGET

SANDERSON MAN COMPARES FLYER WITH COLIN KELLY

AN AMERICAN FORTRESS BASE IN BRITAIN, Feb. 26. An unidentified Fortress pilot became one of America's post-humous air heroes yesterday when he deliberately crashed his hopelessly battered plane right on the target, taking "a few Germans along" as another airman put it.

United States airmen who went on the mission to Regensburg, Germany, paid tribute to the unknown Yank as the "fightingest B-17 pilot ever seen."

First Lieut. D. B. Herbert of Sanderson, Texas, compared the Fortress pilot's courageous act to that of the late Colin Kelly, who dived into a Jap warship. "It was a crazy spectacle," Herbert said. "The pilot knew he was going to crash, so he decided to take a few Germans along with him."

LAST ENGINE

Another airman, who had a "ring-side seat" at the Fortress pilot's last battle, was Second Lieut. Robert V. McCalmont of Chillicothe, Mo.

"I watched this guy do everything but snap off his fort, trying to shake off four Germans, who were out with everything they had," McCalmont declared. "He dived, climbed, and banked, and at one time went so close to the ground that the plane and its shadow seemed to converge. Then he climbed again, with one fighter still hugging its tail. The fort levelled off below us and radioed: 'That's all brother! You're looking at my last engine!'"

GALLANT BATTLE

Three of his engines had been knocked out in his gallant battle. Presumably the rest of his crew had been ordered to parachute to earth.

Then, with his full bomb load, he went into his final drive. He took the plane with its bombs right into the target.

"I don't know whether flack or German fighters got that Fort but I saw him crash and explode right into the target. Soon a number of buildings were blazing. Four hours later when we came back past that target the fires were still burning."—San Antonio Light.

Sam Bell and daughter, Miss Pauline, were business visitors to Del Rio Monday.

LOCAL SCHOOLS ARE SPONSORING PLAY DAY MAR. 24

WILL REPLACE INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE MEET

Decision has been made by the local school faculty to hold a play day in Sanderson March 24, which will replace the regular Interscholastic League meet which has been held heretofore. It was felt that this move would prove more satisfactory with the present-day shortages and considering the distances Sanderson entrants would have to travel for participation in other than local contests.

The high school and elementary school has been divided into two groups that will compete in the events participated in during the contests. Rules for the events will be the same as those laid down in the Interscholastic League Bulletin where practicable, and many of the preliminary athletic events will be run off prior to the date set for the finals and for the literary events. Each event will have a director who will be held responsible for the contests. A complete calendar of events will be published soon.

REVIVAL MEETING SCHEDULED FOR CHURCH OF CHRIST

Elvin Bost, minister for the local Church of Christ, has announced that a revival meeting will be held beginning Sunday, March 19, and continuing through Sunday, March 26.

Preaching will be done by the local minister, and a cordial invitation is extended the public to make their plans so they will be able to attend a part or all of the services.

Certificates Of Title Must Be Shown By Owners

Officials Urge Early Payment To Avoid Rush

Certificates of title must be presented when vehicle owners apply for their 1944 licenses, according to an announcement by J. S. Nance, tax assessor and collector.

Mr. Nance suggested that persons who plan to purchase licenses check and see if their certificate of title has been misplaced. This will be of value to the vehicle owner as a duplicate must be obtained in case of loss before the licenses can be issued.

Applications for duplicate copies are made out in the sheriff, tax-assessor-collector's office at the courthouse, and it takes about two weeks for these copies to be made.

The deadline for purchasing vehicle licenses is April 1, and licenses cannot be issued without the proper certificate of title.

SHORT-SIGHTED ATTACK

It would seem that the food production industry is faced with enough problems today so that men within the ranks of that industry would not seek to add to its burdens.

But now comes a spokesman for what he calls "the manufacturing food industry" (commercial canners and packers) and proposes the enactment of legislation to eliminate marketers of "private brands" (foods canned or packaged by stores under their own brands).

After reading the argument advanced for such restriction of free competition, one becomes aware of the fact that this is just a left-handed attack to restrain retailers from canning, packaging or bottling products under their own names and brands, in competition with "the manufacturing food industry."

Well, why shouldn't a farmer's wife, an independent store or a chain store put out a private brand of food that complies with the food laws, and sell it to anyone who wants to buy it? That is good, healthy competition. In addition, it gives the public food at lower prices than otherwise would have been the case. Possibly this is the reason for the attack on private brands by "the manufacturing food industry." It could better employ its talent putting out a superior product, more widely advertised, thus creating public demand for it.

It is the height of folly for any branch of the food industry to seek to create business for itself by throttling a competitor through legislative restrictions.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS... "Somethin' special catch your eye in the paper, Judge?" "Sure did, Chet... an article here telling about prohibition in India being written off by the Madras government as a dismal failure after a three-year trial. They found out that enforcement was ineffective and that there was a steady increase in bootlegging and other violations of the law which increased penalties failed to check." "It all goes to prove what I've said time and time again, Chet... prohibition does not prohibit. It's been tried in this country 47 times in the last 33 years and discarded everywhere except in three states. Was found to be a failure and abandoned in Canada, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia, too. Medals Won By Marines

MEDAL OF HONOR

The Congressional Medal of Honor (Navy) is America's highest award for heroism on land, sea or in the air. It is awarded for valor and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty. Established in December, 1861, it is awarded in the name of the Congress of the United States. The medal is worn about the neck.

BREVET MEDAL

The Brevet Medal of the Marine Corps has not been awarded in recent years. It was originally awarded to subordinates (officers or men) who were forced by circumstances of battle to lead landing parties or detachments after their commanding officers had become casualties.

LEGION OF MERIT

The award of the Legion of Merit is made to outstanding officers and enlisted men for "extraordinary fidelity and essential service." It constitutes a reward for service in a position of responsibility, honorably and well performed. It stems from the Badge of Military Merit, established in 1782.

DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS

The Distinguished Flying Cross is conferred upon any member of the air forces of the United States who, while serving in any capacity, distinguishes himself by heroism or extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight. The medal is identical in all services.

NAVY CROSS

The Navy Cross is awarded for extraordinary heroism in the line of duty. It ranks in third position following the Brevet Medal. A small gold star on this decoration and service ribbon indicates a second award of the same decoration. This medal was established in 1918.

SILVER STAR

The Silver Star, instituted in 1935, is granted to persons serving in any capacity with the armed forces of the nation cited for gallantry in action which does not warrant the award of the Medal of Honor or the Distinguished Service Cross. It replaces the tiny Silver Star of 1917-1918.

NAVY AND MARINE CORPS MEDAL

The new Navy and Marine Corps Medal is awarded persons in the Navy and Marine Corps for acts of heroism other than those performed in actual combat with the enemy. It has been granted for courageous conduct such as rescues at sea.

AIR MEDAL

The Air Medal is awarded to any person who, while serving in any capacity with the armed forces of the United States, distinguishes himself by meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight. It is granted in cases where the act of meritorious service does not warrant the Distinguished Flying Cross.

PURPLE HEART

The Purple Heart, originally established by General George Washington in 1782, was not issued for many years. It was reestablished in 1932, and made retroactive to cover awards to all officers and men who were wounded in action in any war or campaign under conditions entitling them to wear a wound chevron.

Morgan and Irene Manning, with a supporting cast of such favorites as Bruce Cabot, Lynne Overman and Gene Lockhart. Filmed in gorgeous Technicolor, the picture has successfully recreated the wild beauty and indescribable loveliness of North-ern Africa, which is supposed to be the setting of the story.

"The Desert Song" has been modernized and brought up to date for the film production. The intrigue of German agents operating in North Africa, using the French as unwitting cat's paws, has been drawn on to give the story present day significance.

Dennis Morgan portrays a dual role in the film. As Paul Hudson, he is cast as an itinerant American musician, stranded in French Morocco. This is the character he portrays to hide his identity—as that of El Khobar—long-time friend of the Riffs, who spends the major part of his time aiding their cause in lightning-like raids to free them from enslavement by the Germans.

Running throughout the story are exquisite renditions of the beautiful Sigmund Romberg music, all of which has been included in this successful present-day version. The much-loved and familiar numbers such as "One Alone," "The Desert Song," the stirring "Riff Song," and others are greatly enhanced as sung by the youthful singing team of Morgan and Manning. The two stars who began their careers as singers, prove beyond doubt that their sojourn as straight dramatic stars did nothing to dim the beauty of their voices.

A popular supporting cast is headed by such favorites as Bruce Cabot, Lynne Overman, Gene Lockhart, Victor Francean, Faye Emerson and Felix Basch.

OLSEN AND JOHNSON IN HYSTERICAL "CRAZY HOUSE"

A fabulous comedy production, "Crazy House," starring Olsen and Johnson, comes Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 11, to the Princess Theatre. The company which made the hilarious picture, has succeeded in cramming more entertainment, more feature attractions and more laughs into one movie than would be believed possible. The astonishing parade of popular headliners seems to continue endlessly as the comical story runs its mad course.

Hollywood itself and a monster movie studio are the chief backgrounds for the dizzy plot which shows how Olsen and Johnson go about making a screen successor to "Hellzapoppin'." Seen prominently are Cass Daley, Martha O'Driscoll, Patrick Knowles and Thomas Gomez. As the action proceeds, Tony and Sally DeMarco, Count Basie and his orchestra, Marion Hutton and the Glenn Miller Singers make sensational appearances along with Chandra Kaly and his dancers, the Delta Rhythm Boys and Leighton Noble and his orchestra.

Surprising novelty sequences feature such well-knowns as Percy Kilbride, Richard Lane, Billy Gilbert and Edgar Kennedy together with Franklin Pangborn and Hans Conried. A spectacular musical score in keeping with the magnitude of the film, is presented under the direction of Charles Previn and the lavish musical production numbers were staged under the supervision of George Hale. Robert Lees and Frederic Rinaldo wrote the original screen play which ingeniously incorporates the appearances of such guest stars as Allan Jones, Leo Carrillo, Andy Devine, Robert Paige and Alan Curtis.

If we all sprang from monkeys, it's our guess that women sprang further than men.

SEEING THE SENIORS

To Mr. and Mrs. Tip Frazier on Jan. 28, 1927, in Sanderson, Texas a sweet baby girl was born. She was a beautiful baby with brown hair and green eyes, and she was given the name of Maurine.

Maurine grew up to be quite a tomboy, and when she was six she started to school in Sanderson. She made things lively for girls, boys, and teachers, we understand, during her first few years. She was usually found in the midst of every fight, especially when she thought W. T. needed a little assistance.

Since Maurine was a youngster her ambition has been to become a nurse; her hobby is keeping scrap books; dancing is her favorite pastime; asparagus her favorite food; blue her choice in colors; and, bookkeeping her favorite subject. She especially likes Glen Ford; her favorite book is "They Were Expensible." She detests conceited people and her favorite song is "My Ideal."

Maurine is very athletic, liking tennis and volleyball particularly. She has been very active in literary events also, and ranks as one of the top students in her class. She is a member of the choral club, press club, and band; has been a leader in the pep-squad for two years; has gone to district meet twice in declamation and once in tennis. During her Freshman year she served her class as vice-president; as secretary during her Sophomore year; and is vice-president her Senior year. In the popularity contest held this year, she tied for most popular girl, was runner up for both the most athletic girl and the best all around girl. She was elected queen of the High School for the Halloween Carnival.

In her school years she has the very unique honor of having a perfect attendance record.

Maurine plans to go to college next year, and with her will go the very best wishes of all Sanderson. May she be as successful there as she has been here.

SEEING THE SENIOR

On Sept. 16, 1927, in the city of Dallas, Texas, the stork dropped on the doorsteps of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Holley, their one and only son, Jay Tom. He was a cute baby, so we hear, with black wavy hair and gray-green eyes. From the very beginning his ambition was to be a flyer and if things keep up much longer it may happen that he will get to be one-only, for Uncle Sam.

Jay Tom has had most of his education in Pleasanton schools. He came here with his parents two years ago and started his junior year. He's added much to his classes and has acquired many friends in this short time. Jay Tom says his hobby is collecting pictures and as he didn't say what kind we take it for granted that he meant pictures of pretty girls.

For Jay Tom's favorites, he takes eating as his pastime, and lemon pie as his favorite food. When he reads, which is very seldom, he likes to read "Northwest Passage," and he likes to see Gary Cooper any day, rather than Betty Grable. Jay Tom has a gift for singing and anyone can tell it too when they hear him sing "Shoo-shoo-Baby," which happens to be his favorite song. Jay Tom likes all his subjects, but Basic Math. is his favorite, and blue is the color he chooses. His pet peeves are people who can't keep their hands to themselves. After graduation Jay Tom plans to enter A. and M. College and we wish him lots of luck.

During his years in school he's been very active in school activities. He has been president of his class in the freshman and Junior years. He's played basketball three years, football two years, baseball two years, and tennis two years. Jay Tom has participated in declamation three years, and has also been in band a number of years. During these years Jay Tom has been a member of the Boy Scouts has attained the rank of Life Scout. Last but not least, Jay Tom was duke at the coronation of the queen in 1942, and then this year the student body voted him the most handsome boy in high school.

It's really been an honor having Jay Tom with us these last two years of our high school days and he's added much life to the classes. After this is all over with, we all wish you, Jay Tom, the very best of luck.

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

Lem Martin's dog went on a rampage last week . . . killed four of Ed Carey's best hens.

Naturally, Ed was pretty mad. Went around vowing he was going to get his shotgun and blow the blazes out of Lem's dog when he saw him. And Lem says, "Let him try it and I'll blow the blazes out of him. Ought to keep his chickens locked up, anyhow."

But Ed and Lem are really mighty sensible fellows. And the whole thing was settled when Lem invited Ed over for a glass of beer, and they sat around chatting over the quarrel as if it were a kind of joke.

"Shucks," says Ed, "them hens didn't amount to much no-how." And Lem says: "Just the same I'm bringin' you a barrel o' apples to pay for 'em."

From where I sit, it would be a lot better for the world if folks would settle their arguments peaceful-like—sitting around over a friendly glass of beer—instead of going off half-cocked, and making mountains out of molehills.

THE PRINCESS—

AWFORD, MACMURRAY TOGETHER FIRST IN NEW FILM

action and thrills follow fast the heels of Joan Crawford and Fred MacMurray as they share a honeymoon with a hunt in "Above Suspicion," being at the Princess Theatre Friday and Monday. They are together for the first time in their theatrical careers.

Joan Crawford and MacMurray are honeymooners who are led by the British Intelligence to discover the whereabouts of a missing British agent while in Germany, since they will be typical tourists, consequently above suspicion.

They lead the Nazis a merry chase all over the continent and accomplish their mission, finally escaping into neutral Switzerland in a photo finish. Placed in the background of Paris and southern Germany, the film exposes the extent of Nazi espionage being practiced even then, and shows what the British did to counteract its influence.

Miss Crawford is superb as the bride who has seen too many Hollywood thrillers and enjoys partaking in one herself. MacMurray is tailor-made to his role, as the Oxford professor more interested in trading kisses with his bride than matching wits with the Nazis.

Felix Bressart and his ever-present mustache contributes an outstanding pit as a member of the underground. Conrad Veidt discards his typical villain role and portrays a member of the German underground with charm and assurance. Basil Rathbone is creditably "slimy" as the Nazi spy who meets his just deserts in a spectacular climax.

PROGRAMS OVER THE WORLD ON DAY OF PRAYER

Friday, February 25th, was World Day of Prayer and fifty countries besides the United States observed this special day. The chain began in the Fiji Islands, the first meeting place that morning, and went all the way around the world to Alaska, the last meeting place that night.

In observance of this day, the assembly program at the Sanderson high school Friday morning was centered around the theme of prayer. The first part of the program was a candle lighting service in which red, brown, yellow, black and white candles represented the five different races of the globe. As each candle was lighted, the need for prayer of that particular race was told. This was followed by prayer by the Rev. John Klassen of the First Methodist Church. Lizzie Belle Phillips gave a brief history of the World Day of Prayer.

Vocal numbers were supplied by the girls of the 6th and 7th Grades who sang "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," and by the girls of the Choral Club who sang two numbers, "Holy, Holy, Holy," and "The Lord is My Shepherd." An instrumental number, "Onward Christian Soldiers," was rendered by the Junior members of the Band.

The program was climaxed with a talk by Rev. Klassen. His subject was, "The Value of Prayer." His message was timely and helpful.
