LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President, Sanderson College
Sanderson, Arkansas

ON OUR WAY

People in the United States are still allowed to own property. We are all used to it and it does not seem strange to us, but in some countries it is not allowed and many people in far-away Muscovy and some people right here in America think it is wrong to own property. They are not talking much about it because they would do them no good now. But they are gaining converts quietly.

Fortunately a big share of the property is elected by farmers, yet farmers own property and like it. Suppose some state congressman should suggest that all farmers surrender their fields to the government and take a government job. He would be a false representative; would face sure defeat. That's why communists like to hide from congressmen they cook their imported beans into medicine for you.

First Objective

One of the main things that communist politicians are aiming at is the "abolition of private property." Of course they will argue anybody into the idea of giving away their property. They know that the only way they can separate an owner from his property is to make it possible for him to keep it the easiest way to do that is to tax it so high he can't afford to own it. That's what's happening here now.

The communist platform of Marx has in it two wicked ideas for transferring property to government from private individuals, such as farmers: (1) A heavy graduated income tax—the bigger the income the higher the rate. (2) Killing the right of inheritance. Together, these two instruments can do foul work they are designed to do. By the way we have No. 2 in America already. No. 2 has been seriously advocated in our Congress.

Deliberation Necessary

Congress could set up no better defender against communism in this country, could devise no better strategy for the home front, than to take tax more intelligently in hand. There is movement on foot already to amend the Federal Constitution as to make 25 per cent the tax rate on gifts and inheritances and, except in war time, personal incomes. Maybe 25 per cent is high, but it's a ceiling and I'm for it.

Already 14 states: Alabama, Kansas, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, and Wyoming have passed the move by act of legislature. Such a Constitutional Amendment would bring incidental benefits to personal prosperity besides setting up a safeguard against the safer of private property in the hands by the tax route.

Incentive Live

Only recently this column told of an aged man of means planning to finance a promise-home enterprise because the most possible return (after tax) on his investment could justify the risks involved, though they seemed small.

About a chance for financial movement, old men will not their savings, nor will young men contribute their energy and ingenuity. Tax like 85 cents on the dollar paralyze progress.

Opportunities to make a profit start new industries and old ones going. The United States is sure of an employment boom after the war, unless the country is freed from the ball-and-chain effect of present taxation. The real remedy for unemployment is the creation and maintenance of work opportunities.

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE OFFICIALS VISIT BIG BEND AREA LAST WEEK

DELIVERY OF DEED OF CESSION HOLDS UP ACCEPTANCE

Paying an annual visit to the Big Bend National park this week and making studies on future development plans are a group of National Park Service men from Chicago, Santa Fe and Berkeley, Calif. The group arrived in Alpine Monday, after visiting a number of the leading state parks in Texas. Several days will be spent in the Big Bend area.

National, state and local park groups had expressed a hope that the 700,000-acre park would be in the hands of the National Park service by the time the group of nine men had arrived, but so far, no word had been received from Washington.

Miss M. Everett, Wynn Haynes Are Married In Alpine

To Make Home In Sanderson Where He Is Employed

Miss Marjorie Everett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Everett of Fort Davis, and Mr. Wynn Haynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Haynes of Sanderson, were married in Alpine Sunday morning, April 30, according to announcement this week.

Upon their return to Sanderson a dinner was given for them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Carter, the bride cutting the wedding cake.

Mrs. Haynes graduated from the Fort Davis high school with the class of 1940, and until her marriage was employed with the telephone company in Marfa and Fort Davis. Wynn, well known to friends in this section, is employed with his father in the well drilling business, and the couple will make their home here.

LAMAR WARD P-T. A. OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

The Lamar Ward Parent-Teacher Association met in regular session Monday evening, May 8, at 8:30 o'clock with the president, Pablo Ochoa presiding. The main business was the installation of officers.

A mother's Day playlet was presented by the third grade students, taught by Miss Armenta Ragsdale, after which the guest speaker, Miss Marion Brieger, spoke on the subject, "Recreation." The seventh grade won the award of $1.00 for having the greatest number of parents present.

The following officers, with Mrs. W. H. Savage acting as officer-in-charge, were installed for the 1944-45 school term:

President, Roman Zepeda; vice president, Mrs. Isidoro Flores; secretary, Mrs. Dorothy T. Lindley; treasurer, Francisco Venegas. Retiring officers who have served the organization during the past year are: Pablo Valadez, vice-president; Miss Armenta Ragsdale, secretary; and Mrs. Fidela Garza, treasurer.

BURNS CAUSE DEATH OF TIP JESSUP SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jessup and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jessup were called to Alpine Saturday of last week because of the serious burns received by their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Tip Jessup.

Mr. Jessup died Sunday as a result of the burns received and funeral services were held in Sheffield Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

where Amon G. Carter, president of the Texas Big Bend Park association, was reported to have the last document, the deed of cession, to present to President Roosevelt or to Secretary of the Interior Ickes. The terms of the agreement have been declared agreeable to the National Park service and this organization will take over as soon as the deed of cession is turned over to them.

Deed Signed Dec. 20

After the governor of Texas presented the deed to the land to a representative of the National Park service in Alpine Sept. 5, 1943, work was begun on the preparation of the deed of cession. Governor Stevenson signed this document Dec. 20, and so reported to the Texas Big Bend Park Association. Then on February 12, the governor took the document to Fort Worth and presented it in person to Mr. Carter with the request that the instrument be conveyed to the proper authorities.

On April 1, Mr. Carter wrote Newton B. Drury, director, National Park service at Chicago, the following: "I have arranged to be in New York the 17th of April and it is my plan somewhere about the 20th or 21st to be in Washington and present the deed to both the president of the United States as well as the Secretary of the Interior. I hope this slight delay will not inconvenience you as it will be physically impossible for me to make the trip sooner. Having been associated with the Big Bend park as president, I am naturally extremely happy to be able to carry out the governor's request. In fact, I have tried to prevail on him to be present himself if possible. We in Texas hope that the Big Bend National Park will eventually prove to be one of the outstanding attractive features in your National park system."

Tolson Heads Group

Heading the visitors this week was H. A. Tolson, assistant director of the National Park service from Chicago. Also from the Chicago office are Herbert Kahler, chief historian; Tom C. Vint, chief landscape architect, and Freeman Tilden, collaborator. Dr. Herbert E. Bolton, head of the Department of History of the University of California and a member of the National Park service advisory board; Dr. Ross Maxwell, who will be superintendent of the park; Natt Dodge, regional naturalist from Santa Fe, and Frank D. Quinn, executive secretary of the Texas State Parks board, completed the party.

From Alpine, the visitors will go to Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico. They were accompanied to the Big Bend by Alpine chamber of commerce officials. —Alpine Avalanche

RECREATION HALL NOT TO BE OPEN ON TUES. NIGHTS

Announcement is made this week by the Recreation Hall Committee that the center will not be open on Tuesday nights as heretofore, but will be opened only on Friday and Saturday nights. Attention was also called to a change made in the time of opening and closing. Henceforth the hall will be opened at 9:00 o'clock and closed at 12:00 o'clock.

Closing of the hall on Tuesdays was made necessary because of the conflict with meetings held by the local Masons and because of the light attendance that was had on these nights.

Notice is also given that the hall will not be open on Friday night, May 19, because of the commencement program.

INFANT SON DIES

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Coupland of El Paso, died Friday shortly after it was born.

Corder, Carson, Ask Voters Support In Commissioner Race

R. E. Corder Seeks Re-Election Precinct 1; Carson Running in 2

The Times this week has been authorized to place the names of R. E. Corder, present commissioner of precinct one, and E. B. Carson before the voters of their respective precincts for consideration in the democratic primary to be held in July.

Mr. Corder has served the citizens of precinct one and Terrell County for the past two terms as their commissioner, and is more capable of caring for the duties incumbent with the office because of his past experience. His efforts and the manner in which he has conducted the county's business in the past are well known by those who have entrusted the duties to him.

Mr. Carson, who asks the support of the voters in precinct two, has been a resident of the county for the past fifteen years, engaging in the ranching business. In making his announcement he states that he asks the support of the people without any promises other than that he will put forth every effort to care for the duties and work of the precinct, and of the county, in the best possible manner of which he is capable if he is elected. He feels that having lived in the precinct and in the county for such a period of time, he is familiar with the needs of that precinct.

Mrs. Leonard Barksdale and daughters of Del Rio accompanied Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stavley home on Sunday and are visiting her this week.

Grover Sellers, attorney general of Texas, has announced that he will be a candidate for a second term in that office in the 1944 primary. In making the announcement, Mr. Sellers stated: "When elected my one effort will be fair and impartial administration of all laws and the constitution as written by the people. I shall continue to work in complete harmony with other officials and state departments in the efficient operation of our state government. TEXAS FAILED TO MEET QUOTA FOR SALVAGE FATS

GOVERNOR ASKS GREATER EFFORT BY CONTRIBUTORS

Texas has failed by 34 per cent of attaining its quota of salvaging household fats. Governor Coke Stevenson has been advised by the War Production Board. "A greater effort in this direction must be made," the communication stated.

"A large source of our supply of fats was cut off with the Japanese occupation of the Philippines and Dutch East Indies which stopped imports from the Far East. This has presented a crucial problem in the manufacturing of explosives for the Allied Nations, and the public will have to salvage almost two trillion pounds of grease annually to make up for the deficit in that amount caused by the Japanese conquests," the WPB statement continued.

"In behalf of this vital problem I urge every Texas housewife to save at least one tablespoon of fat daily. I urge every butcher to accept the fats and to see that they reach the nearest renderer," Governor Stevenson said.

PASSOVER SUPPER TO BE EXPLAINED SUN. AFTERNOON

Announcement is made this week that the Passover Supper will be explained in every detail Sunday at 3:30 o'clock at the Baptist Church, with Johnny Cohn in charge of the service.

He stated that the table would be set and all articles the orthodox Jew uses at the Passover Supper each year will be explained. The prayer shawl will be shown and explained as each knot and twist represents something to the orthodox Jew.

Mr. Cohn pointed out that the Passover preceded the Lord's Supper and is a beautiful service that all should see. He said that the unleavened bread, which he brought for the occasion, would be on the table and cups to be used are from a synagogue in the old country.

The public is cordially invited to be present for this service.

BETTY SMITH AND LT. SCHREIBER MARRIED IN ARIZ.

Word has been received here of the marriage of Miss Betty Smith, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Smith, who was at one time employed with the local AAA office, to Lt. Frank Schreiber, Jr., of Bloomington Ill.

The ceremony was held at five o'clock Sunday afternoon, May 7, at Saint Phillips of the Hills, Tucson, Ariz., with the Rev. Ferguson officiating at the ring ceremony.

Mrs. Schreiber attended the Sanderson schools, and was a popular member of the high school student body.

FROM TEXAS TO TOKIO

Aviation Cadet L. C. Smith, who has been seriously ill in a Naval hospital at Chelsea, Mass., was somewhat improved Tuesday of this week according to information received here from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith, who are there with him. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were called there last week.

Cpl. Jack Hardgrave, another son, who has been stationed at Moscow, Idaho, where he has been attending the University of Idaho, has been transferred to field artillery and stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington, according to word received here.

Still another son, Cpl. Allen W. Hardgrave and his wife, returned to Lubbock last week after a visit here in the Hardgrave home.

Pvt. Coomer Elliott, who has been stationed at El Paso since his induction last month, passed through Sanderson Tuesday morning enroute to New Orleans, La., where he is stationed with a railroad battalion.

An interesting item is found in the Gunners Target, a camp newspaper published at the Laredo Army Air Field, which reads:

We announce with pride the loss of Staff Sgt. William J. Ferguson, Jr. Bill has been discharged . . . to accept a commission as 2nd lieutenant in the Finance Department. After completing the course of instruction but prior to the final examinations at Finance O. C. S. Duke University, Durham, North Carolina, Bill became ill with pneumonia. Next following a siege of eight months at Camp Butler, Moore General and Brooks General hospitals at which time Fergie emerged after successfully combating two more attacks of pneumonia. Thus after a delay of one year, Fergie is getting the commission he earned at Duke. Our most sincere congratulations and best wishes go with you, Bill, on your new adventure."

Lt. Ferguson has returned to Duke University to receive additional training for a few weeks before he is assigned.

Pvt. Marshall Cooke, stationed at Camp Barkley, Abilene, was a visitor over the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Greene Cooke.

Word from Lt. Theron Horton, received by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Downum, is to the effect that he has been in England for three weeks (at the time the letter was written) and that he doesn't think it is bad. Also states that he is ok and has been going to school most of the time. He says, "The first person I ran into when I got to this base was Horace Shelton. He said that Cliff Roark was here but I haven't seen him. Went to London last week and spent three days and had a very nice time."

Theron also stated that he had a very nice trip going over by boat, stating that ". . . being my first cruise enjoyed it more than if I had flown across. Joe Louis was aboard the ship."

May 11, 1934

With visitors in attendance from as far west as El Paso, and east to Kerrville, together with local citizens, the Dryden rodeo held last Friday and Saturday at the airport was witnessed by a large crowd.

Mrs. A. C. Clatfelter spent several days in San Antonio this week visiting and shopping.

Mrs. J. W. McKee left Tuesday morning for San Antonio where she visited this week with her daughter. Mrs. T. Maxey Hart and family.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. W. Carruthers, Sr., and daughters, Misses Eva and Christine, spent several days in Del Rio this week.

Mrs. Maude Sullivan and daughter, Miss Dorothy were visitors in Del Rio the first of the week.

J. W. Downum, manager of the Kerr Hotel, has been busy this week making needed improvements around the hotel. New lights have been put in at the last entrance to the dining room, which makes quite an attractive improvement. The screen doors of the main entrance have been made new with brass panels and at the register desk Mr. Downum has had a new top put on.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Uvalde Leader-News—Citizens of Uvalde and Real counties apparently are more liberal with their blood in an effort to save the lives of their fighting men than they are with their dollars. This was the summary given this week following a two-day stop of the mobile blood donor unit of the American Red Cross for the purpose of receiving contributions to the Red Cross blood bank from donors in the two counties.

At the close of their work Wednesday afternoon it was announced that a total of 402 pints of blood had been contributed in the two days.

Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa—Panama, that Pan American nation which has the balboa as its unit of currency, soon will have a palomino from the Highland country of West Texas as the property of the country's government.

"Flying Sappho," 2-year-old Palomino of W. B. Mitchell's Sons breeding, recently was consigned to the government of the Republic of Panama and is on its way there, via New Orleans, port city which is 1,616 miles from Colon, a terminus city on the Panama Canal.

Ozona Stockman—Long delayed and therefore doubly welcome where the rains which came again to West Texas over the week-end.

Scattered falls, ranging from a reported 3 to 4 inches in limited areas of the southeast section of the county to good showers, gave relief to the Spring drought which had begun to deepen the creases in the worried brows of livestock raisers.

Monahans News—The Permian Basin oil fields in West Texas and Southeast New Mexico have nearly 4 billion barrels of oil in reserve and can come to the aid of California, L. M. Glasco of Dallas, secretary-treasurer of the Pacific War Emergency Pipe Lines, Inc., said Wednesday. Application for priorities to get materials for the line were expected to be completed this week.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—T. W. Hillin, owner of the Hillin Ranch Supply Company, has sold the feed department of his business to O. G. Childs of San Angelo, who already has taken over that portion of the company.

Hudspeth County News—Late spring here has been accompanied by freak winds. Dry whirlwinds have unroofed out houses and piled the sand in homes. A corral shed was unroofed at the Tidwell ranch and the E. C. Davis garage at his home in Sierra Blanca was unroofed.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hunsaker of Fort Stockton have bought the 12½-section ranch of H. L. Phillips on Madera Canyon in the north part of the Davis Mountains in Jeff Davis county 12 miles southwest of Toyahvale.

AT THE PRINCESS—

RUSSELL, AHERNE WILL APPEAR IN DYNAMIC COMEDY

Couple the name of the screen's sprightliest comedienne, Rosalind Russell, with that of its most artful and droll comedian, Brian Aherne; add its newest sensation, Willard Parker, with his 6 feet 4 inches and 200 pounds of charm, put them into a scintillating story and the movie-going public should expect entertainment of the highest order.

Since these three are in "What A Woman!" at the Princess Theatre on Sunday and Monday, and advance reports say "It's the sprightliest, gayest, most enchanting comedy in years" that same public's expectation undoubtedly will be fulfilled.

"What A Woman!" is all about Carol Ainsley (Rosalind Russell), a high-powered artist's representative, and her attempt to find and sell a movie company a new star to play the title role in "The Whirlwind," the year's top, best-seller novel which she herself has just sold for a picture. It's no easy task. But she must succeed because she has built a big reputation for herself and has staked it all in an advance publicity campaign which has the whole nation agog.

Trailing her every frantic step is one Henry Pepper (Brian Aherne), ace magazine interviewer, who is writing a so-called profile" of her and claims the only way in which he can do justice to her volatile and complex character is to be with her during practically every waking moment.

The idea of having Brian around like that would be enchanting to most women but not to Rosalind. He gets in her hair and, although she doesn't realize it, into her heart.

She thought her troubles would cease when she had found her "heman" for the "Whirlwind" but they just begin. The one she picks is a college professor (Willard Parker), the author of the book. He's not easy to handle. While he's not the absent-minded professor type, he's shy and he's not a very good actor. Under Henry Pepper's guileful ministrations, however, this professorial shyness soon disappears and the wolf in the professor roves the range. That seems to make him a better actor as well as a suitor.

The yarn of how this threesome solves its difficulties and untangles itself into the proper twosome for the final clinch is said to contain the funniest, merriest, and liveliest situations its stars have ever gagged their way through.

"CRY 'HAVOC'" DRAMATIC, VIVID STORY OF 13 NURSES

"Cry 'Havoc,'" the new film showing at the Princess Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, is an intense and gripping drama realistically depicting the heroism of thirteen women who stayed behind with the wounded during General MacArthur's delaying withdrawal from Bataan.

Margaret Sullivan, Ann Sothner and Joan Blondell star as three of the courageous women whose confidence in their country never wavers. At a base hospital in Bataan, nurses and nurses' aides care for the wounded. Fay Bainter, Margaret Sullivan and Marsha Hunt are the only remaining workers in their unit. Six girls volunteer to help them. These girls are from all walks of life but united by a common cause.

From the very first friction develops between Ann Sothner, a good-hearted but wise-cracking girl, and Margaret Sullivan. They are both in love with the same man. It is not until he is killed in action that Ann learns he was secretly married to Margaret. With this disclosure all their differences are patched up.

"Cry 'Havoc,'" which is based on the successful stage play of the same name, presents a vivid and real picture of the epic struggle on Bataan. The all-star cast rises to the inspirational theme and every performance stands out as a sharply etched characterization. Margaret Sullivan is lovely and sympathetic in the role of the overworked nurse. Diana Lewis as a delightfully dumb Alabama-born flirt is charming and fluffy. Dorothy Morris will never be forgotten as the young English girl whose mind is deranged by the shock of undergoing a Jap bombing in a foxhole.

"PHANTOM LADY" STARS TONE AND ELLA RAINES

One of the most intriguing mystery dramas to be brought to the screen in the age of sound is the novel production,

"Phantom Lady," which opens at the Princess Theatre, Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20. "Phantom Lady," with a superb cast headed by Frank Tone, Ella Raines and Alan Curtis, is in no sense a "no film, nor is it just another "whodunit" of the cops-criminals pattern. It is, rather, a highly ingenious tale de-often presented by chance, circumstance and human psychology.

The story develops tremendous suspense as it unfolds, is enhanced further in entertainment value by virtue of truly excellent performance. Tone, Miss Raines and Curtis in particular. To a high degree the same may be said of principal supporting players including Thomas Gomez.

WILMA WATTWASTER

—who leaves her range units on high after food begins to boil

Switching to low heat promptly when food comes to boil not only conserves electricity but also prolongs the life of the units. Don't forget and leave them on high like the young lady above. And follow these other timely tips on the use and care of your range:

- Use surface units in rotation. Favoring one unit will cause it to wear out before the others, and in these days replacements are difficult.
- Make sure oven units are pushed in tightly. A loose fit causes arcing, which will pit and burn terminal points.
- Use utensils that fit the units. Utensils larger than units spread heat to porcelain finish and may craze it.
- Wash porcelain finish with warm, mild soapy water. Don't use gritty cleaners or abrasives and be sure range is cool. Wipe up spilled milk or fruit juices promptly to avoid staining finish.
- Don't use sharp instruments to clean surface units. Spilled food will burn away.
- Don't slam oven doors and don't let the children sit on them.

Your range is probably the most important single piece of equipment in your home. Don't neglect it. Keep it in top-notch condition for the duration.

 This week I present to you another of those seniors, Freddie Talbot. Freddie was born on June 29, 1927 at Sanderson, Texas. His proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Talbot. Freddie has black hair and hazel eyes. Freddie is one of the seven seniors who started together in the first grade, and are finishing this year.
 Freddie's hobby is collecting post cards, arrow heads, and match books. His ambition is to own a ranch and become a big rancher.

For pastime Freddie takes building model airplanes. Devilled eggs is his favorite food, and "Bounty Trilogy" is his favorite book. His favorite song is "When My Blue Moon Turns to Gold", and his favorite movie star is Gary Cooper. Red is his favorite color, and history and math are his favorite subjects. For sports Freddie likes tennis and archery.
 During his school years, he has been in the band eight years, as well as a member of the Airplane Club, the Radio Club, and the Morse Code Club.
 After school is out Freddie plans to join the Marines. Freddie, we all wish you the very best of luck and hope that you get everything you deserve. Good luck!

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM
 Following the banquet the Junior mothers entertained with a Junior-Senior Prom in the Masonic Hall. A festive air was given the hall by the colored streamers which covered the windows and lights. However, the most attractive features of the decorations were the three white flower-covered arches which were placed down the center of the hall. Through these arches the grand march began the dance and "Home Sweet Home" ended it.
 The grand march, which was very outstanding in many ways, was lead by James Kerr, president of the Senior Class, and Clara Alice Bell, vice-president of the Junior Class; and Bill Savage, president of the Junior Class, and Maurine Frazier, vice-president of the Senior Class.
 Very, very danceable music was furnished by "Stumpy" Duke and Jeanette Cobb. The most popular dances seemed to be "Paul Jones," "Ladies Choice," and the "Schottische." During intermission confetti and serpentine were passed out and the fun began. No one was safe from bombardment.

SENIORS HONORED
 Thursday evening, May 4, the Seniors were honored with a dinner given by Mrs. Cash and Mrs. Stavley, at the Best Cafe. The tables were laid with white linen and the place cards were of white paper shaped like a diploma with the names written in maroon ink. The menu consisted of fruit cocktail, chicken croquettes, potatoes, pineapple salad, English peas, hot rolls, iced tea, ice cream and cookies.
 The dinner was delightful and the Seniors enjoyed every moment of it. We wish to thank the hostess for such a wonderful dinner.

Working to forget is better than forgetting to work.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET
 The Annual Junior-Senior Banquet was held Friday, May the fifth, at eight-thirty o'clock, in the high school banquet room. The theme of the entire banquet was that of a "Good-Will Tour". The hall was decorated with brightly colored flags and streamers, which gave a festive air to the whole affair. The table decorations carried out the same motif.

The speakers table was centered with a sparkling silver plane in which the tour was supposed to be made. The entire length of the table was lined with the Pan-American flags with ivy interwoven at their bases. On one side table an interesting scene typical of our good neighbor, Mexico, was laid. The other side table was centered with a scene from Brazil, which showed the natives busy preparing coffee for market. Both tables were lined with colorful charm strings. Place cards were Porto Rican Hats which stuck in the brightly colored mint cups, while the programs, which were printed on colored paper, were bound in white and decorated with a colored map of the western hemisphere. Individual place favors were miniature traveling bags which were filled with candy. Colorful spring flowers completed the table decorations. On the piano was an interesting Hawaiian beach scene complete with palm trees, hula girls, surf boards and a grass shack.

Bill Savage, president of the Junior Class, was Master of Ceremonies and the following program was enjoyed:
 Invocation, S. J. Lovell; Toast to Seniors, Clara Alice Bell; Response, James Kerr, president of Senior Class; Toast to the Faculty, Al Dishman; Response, Miss Margaret Kinkler; "Sweet Lailani", a vocal duet, Joan Anderson and Marilyn Blackwelder; Senior Prophecy, Billie Babb; Novelty number, Doris Lee Cooke; Address, Supt. Tom Holley; Senior Song.
 The guest list included all the members of the Junior and Senior Classes, the high school faculty, and the room-mothers. The food which was prepared by the Junior mothers, was served by the Sophomore girls, who were dressed in costumes of many of the Pan-American countries as well as Hawaii and Porto Rico.

ORCHIDS TO
 This week the juniors and Mrs. Holley are really passing out the flowers.
 To the Junior mothers who worked so long and so faithfully to make the banquet, reception, and prom the success they were.

To the Junior grandmothers who also worked so hard for the same cause. (Mrs. Lee Grigsby, Mrs. J. W. McKee).
 To Mrs. Sam Bell for being such a wonderful room-mother.
 To Mr. Lovell who helped with the decorations.
 To Pete Aguilar who did so much extra work to have things just perfect.

To Mrs. J. T. Dillard for her help in designing the programs.
 To the lovely Sophomore girls who added so much to the beauty of the banquet with their costumes and splendid service.
 To Doris Lee Cooke for her super entertainment.
 To the Seniors for the crepe paper used in the hall decorations.

To Marjorie Jessup for helping at the reception.
 To all the loyal friends who furnished flowers for decorations.
 To Miss Brieger for preparing the musical numbers.
 To Stumpy and Jeanette for a wonderful job with the music.

ASSEMBLY, FRIDAY, MAY 5
 The English II class sponsored a one act play, "Let's Go Forward". The characters were:
 Fred Saunders, Monte Goode; Agnes Saunders, Marjorie Jessup; Billy Saunders, Don Frazor; Bud Saunders, Bobby Edwards; The Maid, Doris Lee Cooke.

Remember the good old days when a girl could keep her make-up in good order for a month with a nickel's worth of prepared chalk?

MRS. BRADFORD ENTERTAINS SENIORS WITH PARTY
 After the dinner given by Mrs. Cash and Mrs. Stavley, the Senior Sponsor, honored the seniors with a theatre party. The seniors went to the first show and after that Mrs. Bradford took them to the drug store where they enjoyed ice cream and drinks. Favors were white napkins with the autographs of all the seniors on them. We wish to thank Mrs. Bradford for being such a wonderful hostess and sponsor.

DINNER FOR SENIORS ON SENIOR DAY
 Friday, at noon, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Surratt had the seniors at their home for dinner. The living room was decorated with spring flowers. Tables were laid with white linens, while the napkins were of different colors. (These were for the seniors to keep as favors). The menu consisted of baked chicken, dressing, giblet gravy, jellied salad, peas cranberry sauce, olives, pickles, hot bread, iced tea, and angle food cake with whipped cream and cherries.

The dinner was served buffet style, with plenty of second "helpings". Needless to say this was one of the most enjoyable occasions—especially for the boys.
 This dinner will be long remembered by the seniors of '44. Orchids to Mr. and Mrs. Surratt!

JUNIOR RECEPTION
 As a delightful prelude to the banquet, the Juniors honored the Seniors with a reception in the front corridor of the high school. Large baskets of cut flowers made an attractive background for the boys and girls who received a host of friends and relatives during the reception hour.

Two large tables covered with lace cloths held punch bowls which were banked with sweet peas, fern and pink stock. Punch was served by four Junior mothers who were assisted by Miss Marjorie Jessup.
 The reception was in the form of a farewell party for those who were to take off on the "Good-Will Banquet Tour". Each guest who was to attend the banquet was required to get his passport during the reception hour. Promptly at 8:30 the take off bell sounded and the banquet began.

HOMEMAKING NEWS
 The Homemaking II class enjoyed a trip Tuesday morning down to the Empire Cleaners. The girls present were Helen Holmes, Betty Jo Kerr, Betty Pearl Davis, Marjorie Jessup, Doris Lee Cooke, Wilma Northcut, Doris McSparran, Earline Cox, Mary Alice Allen, and Mary Catherine Evans. The girls enjoyed hearing Mrs. Dishman tell the process of the cleaning. The clothes are first placed in a large cleaning bath, then a container where the fluids are removed from the clothes, then they are put in an electric dryer. After this they are taken out and spots are looked for. These are removed and the clothes put back in the dryer. After this they are pressed, hung up, and delivered.

 Mrs. Dishman also added that lately it had been a problem to all cleaners about how to clean all the new materials, and buttons. It would be a great help to all if the customers would remove all plastic buttons and trimmings which might be ruined during the cleaning process. This would save the dry-cleaner quite a bit of time.

Betty Jo Kerr
 In Homemaking class I there are six of us. We had to make something over, or something out of what we already had at home.

Lois Willie fixed the hem in a white dress and embroidered a tablecloth that her mother had made out of sacks. Rita Silvas made two dummies out of material she had left and made a skirt out of a dress. Doris Hill made a blouse for herself out of her father's shirt. Luisa Silvas made a dickyie from left-over material and embroidered a pillow top. Eula Mae Adams made her little brother a shirt out of her mother's blouse and I (Paz Montalvo) made two dickyies of material I had left and then I learned to knit.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

What Makes "A Real American Town?"

Visitor said to me the other day: "Joe, you've got a real American town here—a town you can be proud of."

Afterwards, I got to wondering just what he meant. We aren't much different from any other town our size. A few nice stores... a village green... and 27 blue stars on the Service Flag in Town Hall.

Not much exciting happens, either. We work hard... have our Friday evening socials at the Parish House... and the kids play baseball and go fishing...

In our private life, we live and let live. If we often disagree on politics... if some of us like beer, some buttermilk... we still respect one another's rights and opinions.

What makes our town "American"? From where I sit, it's not because we're different but because we're so much like all other towns that add up to America—where self respect and tolerance are guiding principles.

"I have been getting my copy of the Times and really do enjoy it, especially 'From Texas to Tokio', which is more truth than title on my part.

"I am sure you have heard about the cavalry by now, and what a lot of good it has done here in the Admiralties. You can take it from me, it was plenty 'rough'. I never saw so many dead Japs in my life, and I don't know if they stink worse when they are dead or alive.

"I have been close to some of the boys at home at times, but didn't know their address so I couldn't look them up. I was within three miles of Buck Murrach back in Guinea, but I didn't know his address until mother sent it to me after we left. I have written to him and I hope to get an answer soon.

"There are a lot of things I wish I could tell you, but I know the censor would cut it out. I can say one thing tho, if and when I get back to Texas, I never want to see another tree larger than three feet high, and I won't ever say a thing about it not raining." Zack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Blair.

A letter from John Fisher Charlton tells us that he was called back to active duty with the Navy April 14 and sent to Farragut, Idaho, and is taking a new training course before an assignment to a station. Says that it is a bit cold there as snow is still on the hills around camp and blankets feel good at night. "Had some snow today but it melted when it hit the ground."

Pfc Julian Perez, Jr., who has been stationed in Alaska, arrived here Wednesday for a 20-day furlough with his father. This is his first visit to Sander-son in three years. He will return to duty at Riverside, Calif., when his furlough is up.

Franchot Tone, whose top-rung Hollywood stardom is founded on a succession of appealing romantic portrayals, departs his expected role as leading man and emerges in "Phantom Lady" as the "menace," or villain for the first time in his screen career. And the villain he creates causes one to ponder why the polished Tone postponed the experiment so long.

Tone's delineation of a brilliant young sculptor, who creates objects of beauty out of a love for mankind, and of his disintegration into a wanton killer, the tragic outgrowth of paranoia, is a skillfully subtle job of transition which bids fair to go unsurpassed this film season.

Ella Raines, co-starred with Tone, suffers not at all by his dominating performance, for Miss Raines establishes in "Phantom Lady" that, although her young career numbers less than the screen to date, she arrived well-prepared to adequately hold up in finished thespic company.

Miss Raines has her own opportunities for dramatic transition as the level-headed yet imaginative young woman who stubbornly refuses to believe that Alan Curtis though duly tried and convicted, is a man who would coolly strangle his wife. Miss Raines, it can be said strikingly makes the most of these opportunities. It is likely no one will be

MY MOTHER

My thoughts may travel around the Universe
But today they come back to me;
They bring memories of you, dear mother
When as a child I played about your knee.
You dried away my tears, my heart-aches and pains,
'Tis of you, dear mother, my thoughts come back again.

The rock-me-to-sleep songs and your voice I recall,
Bring memories sweet of the shadows as they began to fall;
As you laid me-down-to-sleep with gentleness and care,
You'd lift your voice to Heaven with thankfulness and prayer.
My footsteps you've guided through all my childhood days
And now I hear your voice as it sings of Heavenly Praise.

These days will come no more but memory lingers on
As I think of you, dear mother, and loves old sweet songs.
The songs that you sang while rocking me to sleep
Come once again as memories begin to creep
May God bless and keep you through all your days
Is my earnest prayer, dear mother, now and always.

Farm Labor Problem Keeps Extension Service Experts Busy

Farm labor trouble-shooters for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service currently are focusing their attention on helping get Texas' estimated 10,223,000 sheep and 3,200,000 goats sheared.

Shearing of Sheep And Goats Has Been Current Task

A survey made by county agricultural agents shows that most of the goats already have been sheared, and about one-third of the sheep. C. Hohn, assistant state agent, who is directing the farm labor program for the Extension Service, says some progress is being made in locating shearing crews and shifting them from community to community and county to county as efficiently as possible.

D. D. Steele, formerly Coleman County agricultural agent, and J. B. Kidd, former Val Verde agent, temporarily are assigned to this labor hot-spot. Kidd is maintaining headquarters at San Angelo and Steele is at Extension headquarters here.

Extension workers are already preparing for labor pinches when small grain harvest begins in earnest in North Texas in about 30 days. Harvesting of grain sorghums in the Nueces-San Patricio area will begin before oats and wheat are gathered. Surveys are being made to determine needs in the affected counties, and it is believed that the shortage of trucks for hauling grain to storage will prove more serious than the shortage of combines. On a county basis, county agricultural agents will help route combines and threshers, and the movement in the plains area of Texas will be supervised by D. A. Adams, former Young County agricultural agent, whose headquarters are at Plainview.

Last year the shortage of har- vesting equipment in Texas was somewhat alleviated by the movement of combines into the state from Oklahoma where drought reduced the crop. This year, Extension workers expect to work with Oklahoma and Kansas in orderly direction of combines and some custom operators are expected to follow the harvest as far as Canada.
