PERPETUATE AMERICAN AIR SUPREMACY

At the close of World War I commercial aviation was in its infancy and presented no post-war problems. Today it is a vital branch of transportation, and its place in domestic and international trade can only be assured by wise and careful planning.

The federal government recognized its responsibilities to aviation when it enacted the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938. The wisdom of its action has been well attested by the praises of the air transport industry from high military and naval officials for its great contributions to the prosecution of the war. But plans and policies adopted six years ago, are becoming as obsolete as the airplanes of the pre-war days.

questions must be solved involving trunk routes, feeder lines, additional airports, zoning regulations, contract carriers and duplicating state and local laws. In the international picture, there must be established new trade routes and international rights and treaties. Still other problems are involved in the aircraft manufacturing industry, and the development of mechanics.

As a nation, we must solve these problems through legislation designed to promote and coordinate the national and international transportation system. The committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce of the House of Representatives has been working to prepare practical legislation along these lines. Congress must act on well considered findings in order that America's system of airways may be kept the finest in the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Landon Rose and son, Hugh, were week-end visitors in Del Rio.

Mrs. Pearl Howell left the latter part of last week for San Antonio where she will spend her vacation with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Duke and children left Wednesday for San Antonio and Fort Worth where they will visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Glass of Sterling City spent the weekend in Sanderson as the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Grigsby.

Miss Willie Mae Green spent several days in El Paso this week, visiting with relatives and friends.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

Hudspeth County News—More than $60,000 worth of fluorspar has been shipped from the Western Fluorite Mine in the Eagles near Hot Wells in the last few months with a large dump of milling stuff ready to run as soon as the new mill is in operation.

The 100-ton mill which is being installed at the mine will be ready for operation by September.

Brackett News-Mall—Some of the regular army station personnel were leaving Ft. Clark last week for other and new stations. Included in the group was Sgt. Russel L. Snyder who was ordered to Camp Bowie for station. Sgt. Snyder who has been at Ft. Clark for about 20 years, was retired from service June first, but recalled to active duty next day. His family will remain in Brackettville where he recently purchased a home.

Fort Stockton Pioneer—A dozen 4-H Club members of Pecos County have begun their livestock projects for the coming year. County Agent W. T. Posey has announced. The group is headed by nine members—both boys and girls—who have started feeding calves.

With a brilliant record of achievement hardly topped by any other county club in the state, the Pecos Co. 4-H Clubbers already have baby beeves well on the way to record-breaking development for next spring's showing.

Big Bend Sentinel, Marfa—The gratifying toll of 111 coyotes and bobcats in a period of three months (April, May, June), eliminated from Presidio county, has been reported by Darwin Ivy of the Division of Predator and Rodent Control, U. S. Department of the Interior.

Mr. Ivy is particularly proud of the report in view of the fact that in the same three months last year only 97 predators were killed, with an average of eight government trappers at work then. This year an average of only six trappers, assisted by Mr. Ivy, got a better job done.

Alpine Avalanche — The annual session of Paisano Baptist encampment got under way at the camp grounds 11 miles west of Alpine Monday with the largest attendance since the war started, it was stated yesterday. A record enrollment of 376 was noted in the boys and girls camp, held in conjunction with the encampment.

Ozona Stockman—That rodeo fans who come to Ozona August 12 and 13 for the first revival of western sports in Crockett county since the outbreak of war will have opportunity to see twirling talent unexcelled in Madison Square Garden or any other show is emphasized this week in announcement by rodeo officials that a matched calf roping contest has been arranged for the local shows between

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Good morning, Doc. Your good wife tells me you're working night and day now that so many of the younger doctors are in the army. That's right, Judge, and I'm glad I'm still able to do it. Had a long letter from Harry... that bright young fellow I was breakin' in to take over my practice. He said the boys in the service are getting the best medical care of any armed force in our history. They really should with all those brilliant doctors and plenty of supplies to work with." "Speaking of supplies, Doc, not many people realize that a large part of the alcohol required to make the medical supplies that are being used right this minute to alleviate pain, combat infection and save human lives, is produced by the beverage distilling industry. For nearly two years this entire industry has been working night and day producing nothing but alcohol for the government's program." "Nobody knows better than I, Judge, what an important contribution to our war effort that has been."

"LADY IN DARK" GREAT STAGE HIT MADE INTO MOVIE "Lady in the Dark," that fabulous Moss Hart play that ran for three years on Broadway, has been made into a picture by Paramount, with Ginger Rogers, Ray Milland, Warner Baxter and Jon Hall co-starred and Mischa Auer in a top supporting role. Filmed in glorious Technicolor, and produced and directed by Mitchell Leisen, "Lady in the Dark," is showing Sunday and Monday at the Princess Theatre.

The picture retains the original Kurt Weill-Ira Gershwin music and has added a new tune called "Suddenly It's Spring."

The song that stopped the show, however, and will probably give fans an equal kick, is "The Saga of Jenny" in which Ginger sings and dances and gives an account of what happened to a girl who always made up her mind. This one of the dream sequence numbers and Ginger sings it in defense of her inability to make up her mind.

The story of "Lady in the Dark" concerns the confusion and unhappiness of a successful magazine editor—Ginger who sees psychoanalyst for help, and learns a great deal about herself and the men in her life. By means of dream-analysis, Ginger finds herself and the man she really loves.

According to advance reports on the picture "Lady in the Dark" is, in the vernacular of two of the nation's top rodeo hands.

Uvalde Leader-News—An international touch will soon be seen at Garner Field when the first class of Turkish student officers arrive for their primary training. Plans were completed for their arrival when Lt. F. Arsin, in charge of the Turkish student officers, and Lt. Philip Philibosian, the American liaison officer for the Turkish student officers, visited the local field recently. The student officers are now completing their pre-flight training at SAACC in San Antonio.

show business, a terrific piece of entertainment, so film fans have a rare treat ahead of them.

"TIMBER QUEEN" THRILLING STORY OF BIG OUTDOORS

The colorful lumberjack—the man who risks his life daily to supply the timber for America's vital war industries—is the gent who receives a cinematic salute in Paramount's outdoor action romance, "Timber Queen" which shows at the Princess Theatre Tuesday.

The story concerns a beautiful night club songstress who inherits valuable timber land only to learn that she has sixty days in which to pay off a note or lose the property. She falls in love with an Air Force pilot, Richard Arlen, who handles the project battling against time and saboteurs.

The climax comes when Arlen has to resort to dive bombing tactics to break up a log jam. But the real howl of the evening comes in watching Arlen solve the manpower problem. He enlists the unwilling aid of a gang of hoodlums who had never done a real day's work in their lives. Watching this coterie of characters turn lumberjack is excellent comedy fare.

The cast which the Hollywood specialists of the action drama have assembled are veterans both in the field of adventure and comedy. Richard Arlen, as the Army pilot home on furlough, and Mary Beth Hughes, as the night club singer, provide the love interest. The comedy is handled by Sheldon Leonard who scored comedy successes on the stage in "Three Men on a Horse" and "Having Wonderful Time," June Havoc, of the beautiful but dumb variety who turns out to be not so dumb when she helps save the project and George E. Stone who plays the midget body-guard to Sheldon Leonard. Dick Purcell and Tony Hughes round out the supporting cast.

BEST INGREDIENTS MIXED

WELL RESULT IN FINE FILM FARE

Hollywood put the pep and vitality of Jane Withers, the spirit of Jimmy Lydon, the experience of Frank Craven, the pedantic comedy of Frazer Pangborn, and the fine sin of Fortunio Bonanova, all together, mixed it well, named "My Best Gal," and turned the most delightful concoction of Americana that's come of filmland in a long time.

At least, that's the impression made on this reviewer of seeing the newest musical shows at the Princess Theatre on Friday and Saturday, August 18 and 19, because the musical numbers, cast, direction and photography are all blended together to illustrate on the American will to succeed.

The plot concerns a group of eighteen-year old hopefuls trying to get a break on Broadway. With most of the action to place in a drug-store near "Gay White Way," and Greenwich Village, the story is written to give plenty of lee-way to professional talents of the stage.

Jane Withers, in her adult role, proves that professional talents of the stage have not been wrong in keeping her in front of a camera for past ten years during which time she has starred in 40 pictures by giving a performance that will assure her remaining on screen for another or forty-five films. It seems to writer that Miss Withers probably one of the most versatile of the younger stars in Hollywood. In "My Best Gal," she dances, has eight love scenes and can turn on the drama when necessary. To this Jane is one actress who can do herself in a role, yet you are conscious of the fact she is behind each word movement she makes.

Jimmy Lydon is excellent the young playwright trying to get his musical comedy on Broadway stage. Frank Craven plays the role of the ex-vaudeville troupier and grand-father of Miss Withers, Franklin F. Born steals quite a number of laughs as the drug-store owner who is outsmarted by

JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto Section 51-e and 51-f; Section 51-e provides that cities and towns of the State shall have the authority to provide a system of retirement and disability pensions for its employees; and that no such system shall be set up in any city until it has been approved by an election by qualified voters entitled to vote at an election on the question of the system of tax supported by the Legislature shall have authority to provide a system of retirement and disability pensions for its employees and towns to operate Statewide or by districts under such a plan and program as the Legislature shall direct and shall provide that participation therein by cities and towns shall be voluntary; provided that the Legislature shall never make an appropriation to pay any of the cost of any system authorized by this Section.

SECTION 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendments shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State in November, 1944, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon, "For the Constitutional Amendment providing that the cities and towns in this State shall have the power and authority to provide a system of pensions for their appointive officers and employees," and "Against the Constitutional Amendment providing that all cities and towns in this state shall have the power and authority to provide a system of pensions for their appointive officers and employees." All ballots at such election shall also have printed thereon, "For the Constitutional Amendment giving authority to the Legislature to provide for a system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of the cities and towns," and "Against the Constitutional Amendment giving authority to the Legislature to provide for a system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of the cities and towns." Each voter shall scratch out two (2) of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the two (2) expressing his vote on the proposed Amendments.

SECTION 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereto.

SECTION 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

any one year; providing that before such Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in such levies that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; providing that if and when such re-allocations and changes in such county tax levies have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of any county as herein provided, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of the election at which same shall be approved, unless the same again shall have been changed by a majority vote of the qualified property tax paying voters of such county, voting on the proposition, after submission by the Commissioners Court at a general or special election for that purpose; providing that this section shall not be construed as a limitation on powers delegated to counties, cities or towns by any other section or sections of this Constitution; making certain provisions for said election and ballots thereof and the method thereof; directing the issuance of proclamation therefor; prescribing certain duties of the Governor of the State of Texas; and making an appropriation to defray the expenses of said election.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. That Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"SECTION 9. The State tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed thirty-five (35) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation; and no county, city or town shall levy more than twenty-five (25) cents for city or county purposes, and not exceeding fifteen (15) cents for roads and bridges, and not exceeding fifteen (15) cents to pay jurors on the one hundred dollars valuation, except for the payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of the Amendment September 25, 1883; and for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, waterworks and other permanent improvements not to exceed twenty-five (25) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, in any one year, and except as is in this Constitution otherwise provided; provided, however, that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the foregoing county taxes by changing the rates provided for any of the foregoing purposes by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of said foregoing county taxes exceed eighty (80) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation in any one year; provided further, that before the said Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in said county taxes that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election, and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; and, provided further that if and when such re-allocations and changes in the aforesaid county taxes have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of any county, as herein provided, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of the election at which the same shall be approved, unless the same again shall have been changed by a majority vote of the qualified property tax paying voters of such county, voting on the proposition, after submission by the Commissioners Court at a general or special election for that purpose; and providing that this Amendment shall not be construed as a limitation on powers delegated to counties, cities or towns by any other section or sections of this Constitution."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

"AGAINST the Amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the county tax levies authorized in said section by changing the rates provided for any of the purposes authorized in said section by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of such taxes exceed eighty (80) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for any one year; providing that before such Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in such levies that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; providing that if and when such re-allocations and changes in such county tax levies have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of such county, voting on the proposition, after submission by the Commissioners Court at a general or special election for that purpose; and providing that this Amendment shall not be construed as a limitation on powers delegated to counties, cities or towns by any other section or sections of this Constitution."

SECTION 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a general election to be held throughout the State of Texas, on the seventh day of November, 1944, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

"For the Amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the county tax levies authorized in said section by changing the rates provided for any of the purposes authorized in said section by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of such taxes exceed eighty (80) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for any one year; providing that before such Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in such levies that the same shall be submitted to the qualified property tax paying voters of such county at a general or special election and shall be approved by a majority of the qualified property tax paying voters, voting in such election; providing that if and when such re-allocations and changes in such county tax levies have been approved by the qualified property tax paying voters of such county, voting on the proposition, after submission by the Commissioners Court at a general or special election for that purpose; and providing that this Amendment shall not be construed as a limitation on powers delegated to counties, cities or towns by any other section or sections of this Constitution."

same published as required by the Constitution and Laws of this State.

SECTION 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.
