NUMBER 30

FROM TEXAS TO TOKIO

Killed in France Staff Sergeant Elton H. (The "Red") Stirman was killed in action in France on August 1, according to the wire received Friday morning by Mrs. H. G. Holt and Mrs. R. T. Keys of Alton. His sister, Mrs. Keys, informed last week that he was slightly wounded on the same date. Sergeant Stirman was the son of Mr. J. A. B. Stirman of Alton. Further information will be published when available.

Kenneth Litton, U.S.M.C., is his father that he is getting along fine. "Since I've moved to this island in the Philippines, lots of things have happened that I would like to talk about, but due to censorship regulations I cannot say much. When I first arrived I lived in shelter halves about a week. The first night I didn't have my bedding and I had to sleep on the ground. The mosquitoes, lizards, and frogs kept me awake most of the night. Today several of us got off in the morning and went down to a river to get our clothes. We haven't had a chance to get our clothes washed for about a month. It's funny, but they have to be washed sometime. I am engaged to three pictures of Dick (Van) and myself that were taken on the last island that I stationed on. So far, I haven't seen Dick since I've been here but I know he is here, going to give him some of the pictures when I see him. Today I received two Sanderson Times, one an April issue and one a May issue. Mail really slows down when we move and, but I guess it will start coming in regularly from now on. When does Gene think he'll be back in the States? He'd be in the States in at six months. Well, I'll be off for now."

Norberto G. Barrera arrived last week for a twenty-one day tour to visit his parents, Mrs. Exaltacion Barandiaran and family. He has just returned from Italy where he has been for a year and five months engaged in three major campaigns. Joe Ross Phillips, U. S. F., writes that he is in Manila now. He says the conditions are beautiful, and that he has seen some good-looking girls in the vicinity. Joe Ross writes that if things keep on as they have been, he may be here by Christmas.

Malcolm Davis, U. S. Signal Corps, was recently promoted from private first sergeant. He is stationed at Camp Greig, Missouri. Jean D. Thompson, stationed at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming, is in the Railroad Battalion. He says that the men under three blankets, wear clothes the year around. Several hundred railroad men comprise the company of which Jean is part. With him in Cheyenne are Lowell Slay and Fred Edwards. Seaman First Class U.S.N., writes from Pearl Harbor that he has shipped out about a month following the South Sea action in the South Pacific, including combat at

Chewing Gum Patches Flak Hole in Liberator

Ridden By Sgt. Raymond Phillips of Sanderson

Written by a Crew Member

An Eight AAF Bomber Station, England,—usually flak comes up in puffs of four, making symmetrical little black clouds on either side of your ship, with somebody saying on the interphone, "Cheez, that was close!" On a recent mission, however, the puffs were in boxes of six and Adolph's Flaketeers were laying them in close; we could hear them break below us, "currrrrrrrrrunch," and then feel the shattered metal bouncing through the ship like marbles on a tin roof.

We were leaving the target at Nantes and heading north to the invasion coast, thence over the boat-laden Channel to home base. I was in the middle of solving a disturbing wind vector when the engineer, Sgt. Edward Barnes of San Diego, Calif., crawled up toward my nose navigation compartment looking for hydraulic leakage. There was none up front, so I disengaged my oxygen mask, flak suit, and heated suit, and wiggled down to the bomb bays to see what caused the hydraulic pressure to drop.

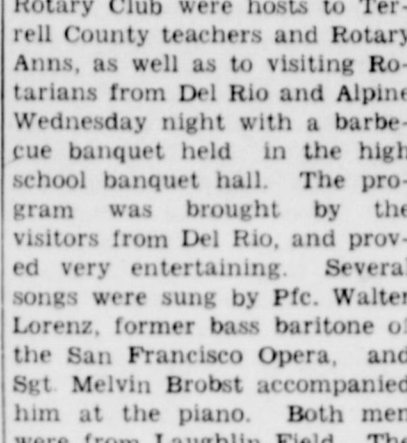

The bomb bays were slippery with a pink-red oil spewing from two holes in the metal hydraulic lines, a disconcerting sight. Flak had come up through the bomb-bay doors into the pipes. I held my gloves over the two leaks, which were close together. Some of the fluid gushed out and my flying suit was a mess. We were at about 15,000 feet, and it was cold enough to take all sensation from our hands. Sgt. Barnes and I took turns stopping the leaks. The situation was serious, but at the same time it was hilariously funny. Each of us had one foot on the catwalk and the other on the bomb-bay doors, getting saturated with what looked like blood gushing from two arteries. We decided it was time to make repairs. I stayed to hold the leak in the dike while Barnes went back for material from the emergency kits.

He returned in a little while with his mouth full of frozen chewing gum and his hands laden with tape and wire. Again we couldn't help laughing. Chewing gum comes in handy to relieve pressure in your ears, but we never thought it would be useful in an emergency like this. We set about thawing the gum. Barnes would chew for a while, then I'd try to break off a piece of the gum the proper size before it could freeze and jam it into the leakage. After several futile attempts, sure enough, it worked; the gum froze into place and plugged the holes. We wound tape around the gum and wire around the Prophets of business trends for several years before Pearl Harbor were predicting a building boom to be in progress about now. They reasoned that one fourth of America's population, an unusually large share, would reach an age to be married between 1940 and 1946. It seemed reasonable enough to guess that a lively demand for new homes would develop quite naturally.

TAX LEAKS

World War No. 2 gave this forecast a setback but did not change the facts much. A record-breaking number of new families are being started now without new houses and the looked-for building boom is growing while it waits. "When war ends and restrictions are removed from lumber and hardware," the experts say, "Look out for a big, hurry-up demand for places to live."

Build Good Homes

A home is a valuable thing, worth owning; every new one brings lasting benefit to a community if the house is worth what it costs. But houses that are not of sound construction are public liabilities. The owner of a good house in a good community pays taxes on his property willingly but an abandoned house yields no taxes and lowers the value of every other house for blocks around.

Most residences are built before they are sold and are bought with borrowed capital, mortgage. There was a time when a mortgage was ample protection because land gained value faster than houses lost it, but not lately. Houses cost five to ten times as much as lots and, back in 1936, the government began insuring mortgages to keep business active.

Costs You and Me

The depression-born idea still lives. The banker carries the house-buyer and the national treasury carries the banker, but who carries the Treasury? Answer: the taxpayer! If Mr. Buyer's new house is a "jerry" he abandons it. The banker takes it over and the Treasury pays off but the payer of federal taxes is stuck. He has a financial interest in every government-financed house.

Local taxes are involved even more. Building helps a town, indeed. Each new home in a good subdivision means a new man to help pay the cost of running the city, "broadens the tax base." But vacant houses pay no taxes. They only raise the rates on other, older homes in more substantial parts of town. Such leaks of revenue ought to stop. With every economy, taxes will be higher after this war than ever before.

Everybody's Business

Building booms affect everybody. Business improves when they start, prospers while they last and goes into a lull when they stop. But a boom can be a counterfeited. Loans ought to be easy on well-built houses and impossible on poor ones. When government underwrites a shoddy shack it amounts to making taxpayers guarantee a sweet profit to any dishonest builder who can fool a banker. It has been done.

At a very small additional cost any honorable builder can give assurance of a quality structure to his customers, to their bankers and to the Treasury, with a certificate of structural rating. Organizations of established real estate brokers have power to enforce standards of home construction as high as any community demands. Workable machinery exists already, at the command of civic leaders and taxing officials.

BOOST OUR OWN SYSTEM
Government has grown to be such a giant in this country and has so many millions of persons on its payroll, that it is the biggest problem business and industry are going to have to contend with in the so-called readjustment period.

Already there is an army of economic planners at work to keep the check rein of government on every private activity. This will be done under the guise of preventing inflation, and creating employment. Business and industry will have to figure out ways to operate and exist and employ labor and pay taxes, in spite of all the plans that all the planners can heap upon them.

Very few of the planners are sincerely outspoken in their desire to restrict government competition or domination of busness, and encourage the individual to go out and try to create the postwar jobs and production which they talk about.

Most of the planners, by innuendo or plain threats, say that if business doesn't maintain record employment, government will. And many of them seem to be hopeful that they can lay enough stumbling blocks in the way of private enterprise so that they will have an excuse for saying that government must take over.

Imagine the spirit of optimism that would prevail in this nation if business and industry felt that our government and the powerful bureaus that now dominate it, were wholeheartedly in favor of promoting private enterprise under fair and reasonable regulation. If risk capital was encouraged to take a chance, it is safe to say that our natural resource industries would experience new growth after the war, as the world is going to want the products of our mines, farms and forests in unheard of quantities, in exchange for the goods that they must sell to us. Why not uphold the American system for Americans, instead of aping in so many ways the socialized systems of Europe, where some bureaucrat throttles the opportunity of the individual? It is time the people of this country

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The war sure has made a lot of changes in this old world of ours, hasn't it, Judge?"
"Plenty of them, John. One that few people realize is that the rubber producing center of the world is now right here in the United States."
"When the Japs conquered the big natural rubber producing centers of the world they thought they had us licked. But in two short years, thanks to American industry, we are now producing synthetic rubber enough to supply all our military and essential civilian needs."

"Our rubber experts knew how to make it but the problem was to get the huge amounts of industrial alcohol needed. Almost overnight the country's beverage distillers stopped making whiskey and converted 100% to the production of this vital ingredient. A high government official said recently this was "...an almost unparalleled example of the overnight conversion of an entire industry from peace to war."
"Come to think of it, Judge, it was a mighty fortunate thing the beverage distilling industry was in existence, wasn't it?"

It Happened In Sanderson TEN YEARS AGO

This Week — Remember

The Sanderson poloists won at the Fort Stockton airport last Sunday when they met the club of that city in the first of a series of games. P. C. Coates, Banks Stocks, Monty Corder and Kendrick Harrell composed the Sanderson team, with Malone Mitchell playing for both teams.

The Sanderson Rotary Club entertained with its annual banquet Friday evening, September 14, at the high school, honoring the board of trustees, members of the faculty and other guests.

The many friends in this city of Robert Johnson will be glad to hear he has recently been appointed as page in the Texas legislature, receiving the appointment through Representative E. E. Townsend. Robert made his home in Sanderson with his mother until about a year ago when they moved to Austin to make their home.

The regular monthly meeting of Clarence Hallie Mulkey Post No. 160, American Legion, was held last Thursday night at the courthouse, with a large number of veterans in attendance. At this time the following were elected as officers to serve the coming year: Ray Caldwell, commander; Willis Harrell, 1st vice-commander; Sgt. H. L. Richardson, 2nd vice-commander.

ernis Halsell, finance officer; Alfred E. Creigh, Jr., adjutant; W. C. Cargile, chaplain; C. A. Wilburn, historian; D. L. Duke, service officer; and Andy Anderson, sergeant-at-arms.

A portion of the west end of the railroad stock pens, located about a mile west of here, was partially burned about Wednesday before the fire was discovered. An alarm was turned in and the blaze extinguished with very little damage being done. The fire, which started at the chute used for unloading stock from trucks, was supposed to have been started when someone carelessly threw down a cigarette stub.

Maintenance crews of the State Highway Department have been busy in the west end section of the city this week repairing and patching up the highway which runs through the main section of Sanderson. All holes and worn places in the highway, particularly at street crossings are being filled with crushed rock and then hot asphalt mixture is poured over this and packed.

AT THE PRINCESS—"LIFEBOAT", FILM SAGA, HITCHCOCK-STEINBECK TRIUMPH

Alfred Hitchcock's production of "Lifeboat" by John Steinbeck—which opens at the Princess Theatre Sunday and Monday fills our hopes far beyond the greatest expectations. In brief, "Lifeboat" can be acclaimed the most powerful entertainment the screen has ever known.

Tallulah Bankhead, who is starred, scores an outstanding triumph in what is, by all odds, the greatest portrayal of her career, supported by William Bendix, Walter Slezack, Mary Anderson, John Hodiack, Henry Hull, Heather Angel, Hume Cronyn and Canada Lee—all inspiringly cast in equally unforgettable roles.

"Lifeboat" is the stirring and suspenseful drama of three women and six men whose ship having been torpedoed, find themselves adrift in mid-Atlantic—stripped of the veneer of civilization by the imminence of death... and with no law but that of the wild sea and their own tempestuous emotions a more never-to-be-forgotten and richly portrayed lot never seen on any screen.

There is "Connie"—Bankhead—the beautiful, coated newspaper correspondent no lady, perhaps, but all who calls a spade a spade and claims a rough-and-seaman for her man. The "Gus"—William Bendix—five-mad sailor from Brooklyn whose only interest is and Roseland. And the commander—Walter Slezack who sank their ship; he them his life and repays Nazi-style. And the army nurse, "Lieutenant"—Mary Anderson—traveling halfway around world to meet the wrong... with the right one side. And "Kovack" (Continued to page

While cooperating in the saving of gasoline, tires, fats and other war essentials, let's not overlook another vital national resource—GOOD EYESIGHT.

Even in these war-busy days, anyone can take these four simple precautions against eyestrain. Read them carefully and teach them to your children.

- 1 Sit close enough to your reading lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes.
- 2 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your work or book. Shadows strain eyes.
- 3 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing light. Have all lamps properly shaded.
- 4 Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision will be greatly helped with proper glasses.

SENIORS PRESENT ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Friday's assembly program was presented by the seniors who gave a short skit entitled "USO" (Unscrupulous Senior Orgy). Al Dishman as Capt. America led the cast through their paces. Several special numbers were given and, after sufficient begging and threatening, the audience laughed and applauded with vim and vigor. Marilyn Blackwelder and Joan Anderson accompanied by Miss Brieger sang a request number, "I'll Walk Alone".

Former students were welcomed and the various class officers were introduced.

Joyce Boyd—Reporter

NEW STUDENTS

Buddy McMillan's name was omitted from last week's "New Students" list. Buddy comes here from Eldorado with his family. He is a Freshman. "Scuse us, Buddy!"

This week we add Birdie Turner who comes from Ft. Worth where she attended the W. C. Stripling Jr. High last year. She is a member of the Sophomore class.

BARBECUE HONORS COLLEGE SET

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. McAdams entertained the younger set with a barbecue honoring the college set who are leaving for school this week. The guests of honor were Miss Chookie McAdams, James Kerr, David Duke, Sidd Surratt, Elmer McMillan, Jay Tom Holley, and Don Allen. The older high school crowd made up the rest of the gay party.

Rev. and Mrs. James Todd had charge of the entertainment.

TEACHERS RESIGN

Mesdames Jenkins, teacher of Girls P. E. and part of the Sixth Grade, and Buchannan, Librarian and history teacher, resigned last week to accept positions in the Alpine schools.

NEW BUS ARRIVES

That big orange and black job that Jimmy Caroline slipped into town with late Saturday or rather early Sunday is the new Dryden School bus. Billy Smith, teacher at Lamar Ward, will drive the bus. The student body is already "figgering out" how it may be used for football and basketball trips—if and when gas and tire rationing is lifted.

FIRST GRADE NEWS

There are thirty children in the first grade. There are thirteen boys and seventeen girls in the class.

These children have brought flowers for the schoolroom: Jaunice and Myrl Gilley, Terry Derl Beckett, Carol Bost and Mary Bentley. Eddie Hanson brought leaves.

The class has a house cleaning each Friday afternoon. The children have brought a good supply of clean rags for this purpose.

ALL ABOARD!

The college bell is ringing now and most of the students have started on their way. The first to take off were James Kerr to St. Mary's in San Antonio, Margaret Pierson to Austin College in Sherman, David Duke to Shreiner in Kerrville, Don Allen to ACC in Abilene, Elmer McMillan to Sul Ross in Alpine and Maurine Frazier to business school in El Paso. Very soon to follow will be Sid Surratt and Jay Tom Holley who will enter A and M at College Station and Mary Nell Higgins who will attend Southwestern at Georgetown.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

Twenty-one pupils are now enrolled in the Seventh Grade. With one exception all are pupils who have attended Sanderson Public Schools before. Edgar Lemke is the new student. He comes from Victoria where he has attended school since he entered the first grade. Betty Cooke would have been a member of the class, but due to illness is unable to attend school at present. She is studying at home and hopes to be able to fall in with the group in a few weeks.

The class elected officers and the following students were chosen: President, Barbara Anderson; Vice-president, Nancy Peavy; Secretary-Treasurer, Bill Chamberlain; Reporter, Edgar Lemke.

On September 22, at 10:30 o'clock, the Seventh Grade has charge of the assembly program. The outstanding feature of the program will be a play entitled, "Welcome Scholars" in which every Seventh Grade pupil stars.

FIFTH GRADE NEWS

The Fifth grade has a Club called "The Good English Club". The Club meets every Friday, during our English period. The officers are: President, James Bean; Vice-president, Jimmy Harrison; Secretary, Barbara Rose; Treasurer, Jean Elliot.

We will change officers every month. There are twenty members of the club.

All of the fifth grade pupils attended school here last year except two—Herbert Salger came from San Antonio, and Lavell Marris came from Los Angeles, California.

FORMER STUDENTS VISIT

It was a pleasure to see the following ex's around the building last week: Johnnie Whistler, Frank Stavley, Kat Nell Nance, David Duke, Jay Tom Holley, and Mary Nell Higgins.

FRESHMEN WERE INITIATED

The halls fairly reeked of onion last Tuesday, September 14, 1944 when the Sophomores saw fit to initiate the Freshmen. The girls had to wear as many pigtails as they were old, and hang an onion around their necks. The boys had to wear "war-paint" and carry a doll or a teddy bear.

The Sophs all agreed that the Fish were all a bunch of very good sports. They are wondering if the S. H. S. is going to get painted this week?

Lamar School Notes

The committee appointed by the Parent Teacher Association, Pablo Ochoa, Mrs. Fidela Garza, and Mrs. Sara Escamilla, appointed the following room representatives.

IRENE CALZADA

suspenseful power and mighty schene entertainment. Into "Lifeboat" they, and Producer Kenneth Macgowan and script-writer Jo Swerling have packed enough action, terror, romance, drama, humor and humanity for a lifetime of motion pictures. No mere words could do justice to the tremendous impact and memorable motion picture enjoyment "Lifeboat" has to offer. Put it at the very top of your "must see" film list!

"YOUTH ON PARADE" COLLEGIATE PICTURE
With none of the chief players beyond that glorious, giddy age of carefree youth, "Youth On Parade," strictly collegiate, strictly for fun purposes, set appropriately among campus greens, school auds and school-back-stage, is a natural in these macabre days of reality.

The fast-paced filmusical will prove it when it opens at the Princess Theatre Tuesday.

Magnificently acted, it has all the ear-marks of the season's premier fun riot.

The story has to do with a psychology professor (John Hubbard) who believes he can regiment the jiving, woo-pitching, rug-cutting students of Cotchatootamee College.

But the sororities and fraternities kicked over the traces, kicked the professor's obnoxious "numbers -instead -of -names" system out of the window and converted the professor himself into a first class campus Romeo.

John Hubbard's poker-faced playing in the early scenes was a startling, but happy, departure from his more ebullient comedy roles of the past. He demonstrates that he can take stardom when it comes.

Ruth Terry as the giddy little minx who turns a college upside down with jive-patter, hipsling, and hilarious Broadway double-talk adds abundant laurels to her fair brow—as does Martha O'Driscoll, the more romantic of the feminine duo.

The man with five children says that the old saw about two living as cheaply as one is a bit shortsighted.

When our fighters fly at 400 miles an hour with a Jap Zero or a Messerschmidt on their tails there isn't much time for cogitation so the Army and the Navy show as many motion pictures of actual dog fights and air battles as possible to our student fliers.
