NUMBER 46

VOLUME XXXVII

FROM TEXAS TO TOKIO

Lieutenant General George S. Patton, Jr., commanding the Third Army, recently commended the 90th Division through General Walton H. Walker, commanding the XX Corps, for its communication reading: "The capture and development of your bridge head over the Belle River in the vicinity of the Magmasher will ever rank as one of the epic river crossings in history. Please accept for yourself and pass on to the officers and men of your valorous division my high commendation in the superior manner in which you and they performed a truly magnificent feat of arms." Cpl. Wilburn (Shorty) is a member of this division. He writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Short, that he is doing along fine, but that the weather was terrible—raining so much they couldn't do anything. He says they did all right.

Mrs. M. G. Northcut received a letter recently from her brother, Pfc. Millard (Mickey) Holmes, AAF, dated December 3, headlined: "I finally got to Paris. I got the day off and it in. It sure is a pretty place. I went on a sight-seeing tour and saw all the historical monuments and art museums. . . and sent some picture souvenirs from there."

Technician Fifth Class Robert Allen, U. S. Artillery, writes from Germany on December 14 his wife: "Tonight we didn't have to work after supper, so I and I cut each other's hair and really had a lot of fun doing it. At least we uncovered our ears and got it out of our hair, whether it looks good or not. I think we did pretty good amateurs though, but you know that I have sheared sheep and had a little advantage over them. We have a little stove made from a ten-gallon oil can here in the room and so we are making a spot of cocoa using chocolate shavings from the cocoa. Wish you could drop in and have a cup with us. . . . We get so muddy with grease that it is almost comical at times. There was a time when while working on a truck I could wipe my hands on my trousers to clean them; but now when I was working, I had to be careful not to touch my pants because I didn't want to get my hands dirty." A letter written in Belgium, dated December 23 states in part: "I have been moving around a lot. It has been mighty lucky, fortunate, or blessed, thank God for that. Most of the nights we manage to sleep in barns on hay that is really nice compared to a muddy field. Tonight we are in a house with a table and chairs for writing and electric lights and a little stove. It certainly is an improvement over the dark hay barns. The people here in Belgium certainly are nice, and it makes me feel better, and it around friendly people here. Tonight I was up the street and a man invited me in; there were three of our boys already there. His wife fixed me some bread and butter and jam sandwiches and he gave us coffee. It is really fun and interesting because we can't understand a word the other is saying, but as one boy says, they say bring out some food, and that is what counts!"

Lloyd Utterback graduated December 23 from Advanced Training at Foster Field, Victoria, Texas, with a second lieutenant and was married the afternoon of the same day in the Episcopal Church of Victoria to Dorothy Gable of Waco. Immediate members of the family attended. Lieutenant Utterback will be remembered the son of Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Utterback, who formerly resided in Sanderson, and are now living in San Antonio.

The Baptist W. M. S. will meet at the church for their "Baptist Centennial" program Monday night, January 15, at 8:00 o'clock. All members of the Baptist Church are urged to be present. After the program tea and sandwiches will be served.

SPEAKS TO ROTARIANS—

Staff Sergeant Raymond Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Phillips of Dryden, was a visitor at the Sanderson Rotary Club Wednesday and gave an interesting account of some of his experiences while a tailgunner on a B-24 over Germany. He told of being attacked while on a bombing mission by Goering's Flying Circus, a group of seasoned German fighters who paint the spinner of their plane yellow. Men are allowed to join the Goering squadron only after they have a certain number of Allied planes to their credit, and are tops as fighter pilots. Raymond said that his group consisted of 31 bombers when hit by the yellow-nosed fighters and that all but three were knocked down. His bomber was one of the lead ships and was one of the three that escaped. The fight lasted only about five minutes. Raymond wears a cross on his jacket indicating that he shot down one of the German fighters. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with four Oak Leaf clusters, four Bronze Stars indicating four major battles, and the Good Conduct Medal. He will report to Santa Ana, California, January 19 for further assignment.

MARCH OF DIMES TO START JAN. 14; DANCE SET FOR 30

The March of Dimes, scheduled to get under way Monday of next week and to be climaxed with the President's Birthday Celebration, January 30, is credited with enabling several thousand small victims of the infantile paralysis malady to be walking on the road back to health as results of treatments paid for out of collections made in 1944. Sister Kenny treatments, and other physical therapy and timely surgical aid are among the many benefits made available by dimes and dollars contributed by persons interested in fighting this disease.

W. W. Sudduth, Terrell County chairman, stated this week that dime boxes would be placed in business houses, and that a dance celebrating the President's birthday was scheduled for Tuesday night, January 30. of this property being donated by the county. It is felt that the matter of water will be greatly alleviated with the field built in the lower part of this block so that water caught on the hillsides and in the canyons will be utilized. The levy built across the front of the block several years ago to prevent waters from flooding and washing property to the south, will also be an advantage in retaining the water.

The terrain at present is rough, and will require considerable grading and clearing. Some of the grading has been promised as a donation as well as a portion of the labor which will be necessary. It is felt that additional help will be forthcoming after construction is under way, and it is also hoped that the field may be completed in time for the 1945 football season. Lights are to be installed as soon as materials are available. These will be reversible so that later a rodeo field may be constructed beside the football field and the lights may be used on both fields.

Mrs. Hugh Rose, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, named a committee composed of Tom Holley, chairman, Mrs. John Harrison, treasurer, and Mrs. H. B. Persch, to conduct the campaign for funds. This committee was named at a meeting of the executive board last week, and the committee members held their first meeting Monday.

It was pointed out that donations may be mailed in or may be left at the Sanderson State Bank with C. P. Peavy, who has consented to act with the committee in accepting donations. Complete plans for the field including grandstands, etc., have not been made pending the support that is received from the community.

SERVING LABOR

San Francisco was the first big city I ever saw. Young and interested in everything I stopped one day to look at a big piece of plate glass being installed in a storefront. It was the lunch hour and the workmen were not busy. As they ate they drank milk from bottles. When the bottles were empty, they broke them. The incident gave me a distinct shock, and I never forgot it.

Back in Oklahoma, 60 miles from a railroad where I had learned to walk as well as to plow, every manufactured thing was deemed to have value. My mother literally hoarded bottles for many useful purposes. A milk bottle would have been prized in her collection. My curiosity won a battle with bashfulness and I asked the workmen why they broke the bottles and they told me.

Idea to Make Work

"You see, buddy," the foreman explained, "we work in glass. So do the working men who make the bottles. The more bottles we break the more work they will have." Later I learned that this was a tradition of the industry, supposedly based on fellowship and loyalty to Labor. At first I was very much confused—loyalty to Labor seemed entirely right to me, destructiveness entirely wrong.

Just recently, Edward T. Cheyfitz, national chairman of an important labor union, a member of the National Reconversion Committee of the C. I. O. touched on the subject in as clear and sound an economic treatise as I ever read. It appeared in the December issue of "Fortune". He called bottle-breaking a waste of labor and raw material, typical of an old fashioned wrong attitude toward jobs and wages.

For High Production

This big labor leader said, "I know of numerous cases in pre-war days where workers deliberately held down production because they had been made to feel that this was the road to wage and employment security. We must educate union membership," he continued, "to practice high productivity. Certainly labor can not increase its own share of goods by producing less."

To sum up the whole article, Mr. Cheyfitz contends that labor and management must find a common ground if our nation, as now constituted, is to survive. He said the survival of labor unions depends on the same thing. To find this common ground, the C. I. O. man suggests that labor and management travel the same road of maximum production. Let me add: He is 100 per cent right.

A 40-Year Record

History backs him up. High production has always helped labor. In 1899 the average factory employee toiled 60 hours a week and earned only $420 a year because what he produced would sell for no more than $1,030. In 1939 the average factory worker put in only 38 hours a week, turned out $3,140 worth of merchandise and earned $1,150 a year. Good tools make the difference.

With better equipment, the workers produce three times as much and therefore earn three times as much. The formula is still good. Greater and more efficient production will make many jobs at good pay in the post-war years. It will require better equipment but this can be provided wherever employers and employees see eye-to-eye. Mr. Cheyfitz points to the only hope in sight for labor or capitalist either.

Well, well, of all the cute boys Saturday but Snooper decided that our boys are just as cute as the others.

Well, it seems as though Carolyn, Cecilia, Mary Nell and Jeanette had all of the Stockton boys. At least it looked like it on Main Street, and at the dance.

Five girls sure got hungry Saturday night when they saw a certain station wagon in front of the Best Cafe! How about that kids?

Red coats certainly seem to be popular with our Eaglettes! They're cute, girls!

Be careful Jeanette, Robert and Bill got together Saturday.

Clara looked so cute Saturday till this ole' Snooper decided that there must be someone special.

Weren't the identification tags cute? At least the out-of-town boys knew our names.

Jeanette, what bracelets were you wearing Saturday night? One on each arm! Not bad!

We wonder what Freshman is missing Robert Joe since Friday?

Too bad Betty Joe Beckett was gone to San Antonio Saturday. Someone from Stockton was looking for her!

Say Ora Mae, why weren't you at the dance Saturday?

Doris Hill, whose ring do you have now? Couldn't be Jack's could it!

We missed Doris Me at the dance Saturday night.

What was wrong with Al Saturday night? Was he sick or love-sick?

Mary, who took you home Saturday night? Was he as "wolfish" as ever?

We wonder who Wilma really wanted, Scotty or Richard Reeves?

Could it be Jimmie's identification bracelet that Aggie is wearing?

Cooke, tell us about the airplane ride Saturday afternoon.

Doris Me, you wouldn't know who stole Scotty's heart, would you?

We always thought Malloy shy, but he has the sweetest smile that he always saves for Ruth.

Willo, why did you and Bob leave the dance?

Edward Kerr didn't do much dancing. Wonder if it was because he didn't take Hazel.

Its good to see Mary Alice having a nice time.

Wonder why Cecilia got so mad when Aggie cut in on her and Jackie?

Tuffy isn't half bad, is he Birdie?

DANCE FOR VISITORS

Saturday night after all the "whooping and hollering" at the games had at last died down the boys from Marathon, Marfa, Fort Stockton, and Rankin were given a dance at the Masonic Hall by the Sanderson boys and girls. Although most of the boys were a little tired after their day's playing, they still managed to "cut a neat rug" according to all reports and everybody had a "super" time.

An Army That's Never Been Beaten

THIS vast American agricultural army doesn't know the meaning of defeat. These millions of American farm and ranch people are advancing along the road to final victory, shoulder to shoulder with the men and women in the armed services. No "E" flags fly from the ridge-poles of their barns. . . . no medals are pinned on their shirt fronts. Their reward is the inner satisfaction of a job well done.

Look at their record of victories! In 1944, food production again reached an all-time high—158,950,000 meat animals were slaughtered; 3,101,000,000 bushels of corn, 1,115,000,000 bushels of wheat; dairy products, poultry, eggs, etc., in record or near-record quantities! And because they produced all this food, the meat packing industry was also able to process and distribute a record volume of meats—25 billion pounds.

Each year since the war started, what seemed to be "impossible" goals were set for food production. Each year these objectives have been reached and surpassed in spite of shortages of help and machinery. Farmers and ranchers have produced the staggering tonnages of foods required to feed millions in the armed services and the rest of the nation at home.

America is proud of the victories won by this "Army That's Never Been Beaten."

CEILING PRICES ON LIVE HOGS

Under the present regulations, the ceiling price for all live barrows and gilts is $14.75 per hundredweight and for all sows, stags and boars the ceiling is $14.00 per hundredweight. These ceiling prices are for Chicago only, and vary from market to market. The difference between the ceilings for sows, stags and boars, and for barrows and gilts is 75c at all markets, however.

Present support prices are as follows: "Good" to "Choice" barrows and gilts that weigh between 200 and 270 pounds have a floor price of $12.50, Chicago basis. At terminal and interior markets other than Chicago, the support price is $2.25 below the ceiling price (as of Nov. 15, 1944) at that market for hogs within the 200 to 270 pound weight range.

These support prices will remain in effect until June 1945.

Another new year starts, full of promise, and questions for American agriculture. Will the war end in 1945? How much food will Europe need from us? Will rationing and price controls be relaxed? What about the feed situation? These are but a few of the "ifs" we are up against when we make plans for the coming year. To help livestock producers, we here condense opinions recently expressed by War Food Administration economists.

CATTLE: They foresee for '45 an increase in the number of cattle and calves slaughtered, partially as a result of the tendency to reduce the size of herds. They also expect an increase in the number of cattle fed for slaughter. From 1946 to 1949, they expect a gradual decline in slaughtering, with yearly slaughter around 28 to 29 million head.

HOGS: Their estimate of total 1945 hog slaughter is about 79 million, against approximately 100 million in '44. They expect hog production in 1946 to be close to 1945 levels, depending on the feed situation.

SHEEP, LAMBS: Slaughter in '45 will likely be the smallest since 1929, due to recent selling of breeding stock. By 1946, they see a demand far exceeding the supply, leading to possible expansion of flocks over the following five years. This trend may be upset by wool-factor uncertainties.

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

In nearly 20 years with Swift & Company, I have talked with thousands of farmers and ranchers in all sections of the United States, and have tried to bring about a better mutual understanding in the American livestock and meat industry. I have benefited greatly from these talks. But even in 20 years, a man can get the viewpoint of only a relatively few people. That is why this page has been born, so that we can talk things over with more of you than it is possible to do personally. We want your constructive ideas, views, and thoughts for the betterment of the livestock and meat industry. We will welcome your suggestions and fair criticisms. Any questions you raise will be answered in these columns, or by letter. Should you feel like writing me a letter about any agricultural matter, please do so. Or if you are in Chicago, drop in at my office at Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards. If you haven't time to visit, perhaps you can phone me at this number—Yards 4200, local 710. May the new year bring to all of you good weather, good crops, good returns for your work, good health, and an end of war.

SODA BILL ALLOWS: —If you use all the steam to blow the whistle, what'll you do for power to turn the wheels? —A man is successful when his earnings catch up with his yearnings.

Another new year starts, full of promise, and questions for American agriculture. Will the war end in 1945? How much food will Europe need from us? Will rationing and price controls be relaxed? What about the feed situation? These are but a few of the "ifs" we are up against when we make plans for the coming year. To help livestock producers, we here condense opinions recently expressed by War Food Administration economists. CATTLE: They foresee for '45 an increase in the number of cattle and calves slaughtered, partially as a result of the tendency to reduce the size of herds. They also expect an increase in the number of cattle fed for slaughter. From 1946 to 1949, they expect a gradual decline in slaughtering, with yearly slaughter around 28 to 29 million head. HOGS: Their estimate of total 1945 hog slaughter is about 79 million, against approximately 100 million in '44. They expect hog production in 1946 to be close to 1945 levels, depending on the feed situation. SHEEP, LAMBS: Slaughter in '45 will likely be the smallest since 1929, due to recent selling of breeding stock. By 1946, they see a demand far exceeding the supply, leading to possible expansion of flocks over the following five years. This trend may be upset by wool-factor uncertainties.

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN In nearly 20 years with Swift & Company, I have talked with thousands of farmers and ranchers in all sections of the United States, and have tried to bring about a better mutual understanding in the American livestock and meat industry. I have benefited greatly from these talks. But even in 20 years, a man can get the viewpoint of only a relatively few people. That is why this page has been born, so that we can talk things over with more of you than it is possible to do personally. We want your constructive ideas, views, and thoughts for the betterment of the livestock and meat industry. We will welcome your suggestions and fair criticisms. Any questions you raise will be answered in these columns, or by letter. Should you feel like writing me a letter about any agricultural matter, please do so. Or if you are in Chicago, drop in at my office at Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards. If you haven't time to visit, perhaps you can phone me at this number—Yards 4200, local 710. May the new year bring to all of you good weather, good crops, good returns for your work, good health, and an end of war. F. M. Simpson, Agricultural Research Department

"GOING MY WAY" REPORTED AS BING'S BEST TO DATE

Nary a single person ever suspected that Bing Crosby, as a man of the cloth, could give a heart-warming performance. From all reports, though, Bing's characterization as a priest in Paramount's "Going My Way" brings him into the limelight for top Academy Award laurels.

A major share of the credit must go to Leo McCarey for his delicate direction of this great motion picture which opens Sunday and Monday at the Princess Theatre. His understanding of human elements blessed the production with goodness from the very start. Preview audiences marveled at the tempo and pacing of "Going My Way" and humbly paid their respects with salvos of applause to the actors who made scene after scene so life-like.

Hollywood is ready to admit right now, after observing Barry Fitzgerald as Father Fitzgibbon, that it will be a long, long time before any actor eclipses the veteran's performance. He holds audiences spell-bound, reporters say, whether he is seen in company with Bing, Frank McHugh (Father O'Dowd), Rise Stevens, Gene Lockhart or James Brown. The shining characters portrayed by all the players in fact are all such warm and human figures as to make the entire cast grateful for the opportunity to play them on the screen.

The story is the simple saga of a young priest dispatched to a small parish to take charge of activities and establish it on a sound financial basis. Bing, as Father "Chuck" O'Malley, finds it difficult at first to put any of his measures into practice. Rather, he poses as assistant to Fitzgerald and unobtrusively injects his methods without drawing the suspicion of the lovable Father. Self-effacing, Bing takes orders, cajoles Fitzgerald, bows to the older man's whims and still manages to organize such an unheard-of thing as a boy's choir, settle a lover's quarrel, placate the bank president, who holds the parish mortgage and sell a song to raise money for a new building.

"THE CONSPIRATORS" TO SHOW AT THE PRINCESS

"The Conspirators" an excursion into the field of romance and intrigue, will show at the Princess Theatre Wednesday and Thursday starring Hedy Lamar and Paul Henreid. The vehicle also serves to bring back that priceless triumvirate of international knaves composed of Peter Lorre, Sydney Greenstreet and Victor Francen.

Fredric Prokosch's widely read novel of the same name provided the foundation for the film which depicts graphically the stirring account of the hidden war carried on against the Nazis from the neutral city of Lisbon.

Mr. Henreid and Miss Lamar assume the burden of the film's sympathetic lovers. Messrs. Lorre, Greenstreet and Francen portray furtive figures of frightening propensities and are surrounded by a competent supporting cast which includes Jo-

SCREEN "TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT" HITS ENTERTAINMENT JACKPOT AT THE PRINCESS

Stand by for the jackpot surprise—and be prepared to come out a happy winner!

"Take It Or Leave It," Phil Baker's tremendously popular laugh-and-quiz show is coming to the screen of the Princess Theatre, and for this reviewer's $64 it's as perfect an answer to the movie entertainment question as has come this way in quite some time.

In its clever filmization of the air show, 20th Century-Fox has taken all the elements that go into the terrific listening appeal "Take It Or Leave It" holds for some 35,000,000 radio fans, and has ingeniously added to it an overwhelmingly bewitching eye appeal that makes it the big surprise musical of the year.

There is, of course, Phil Baker himself—complete with the suave manner, high humor and keen wit that makes him the refreshing screen personality. While he scored handsomely in "The Gang's All Here," in "Take It Or Leave It," his first starring film vehicle, gives Baker the full go-ahead signal and he goes all-out in making the most of the opportunity with a performance that's tops in every way.

In addition, there are Phil Silvers, Edward Ryan, Marjorie Massow and Stanley Prager. Against the background of the program, the film's scriptwriters have woven an enthralling story of romantic suspense involving Ryan and lovely Miss Massow. Ryan carries forward the promise of exceptional talent he displayed as the youngest of "The Fighting Sullivans," and while this is Marjorie Massow's first film, her delightful performance is one that calls for an early encore. Stanley Prager again proves himself one of the screen's brightest comedians.

But "that ain't all!" "Take It Or Leave It" delivers a great big surprise—PLUS! By a wonderfully novel way it brings you all of your favorite stars... all your favorite tunes... in a walloping all-time, all-star, all-tune hit parade that makes the film a brilliant extravaganza of mirth, melody, song and dance that would be difficult to match.
