MONDAY APRIL 30, DEADLINE FOR ALL CLOTHES DONATED

INFANTS', MEN'S WEAR SHORTAGE IS IN COLLECTION

Mrs. Jim Kerr, chairman of the local United National Clothing Collection Drive, announced this week that generous donations of serviceable clothing have been made in Terrell County.

Sanderson women have put in lots of hours in the Red Cross room, which serves as a receiving and packing station for clothing contributions. Merchants and businessmen are doing their share by providing boxes and rope with which to prepare the garments for shipping.

The class of clothing ranking highest in amount donated is women's garments, with men's and infant's clothing in that order received in lesser amounts. Bedding and infants' garments are desperately needed according to national drive headquarters.

Terrell County has set itself no quota on the drive, since whether or not a quota be set has been left up to the individual drive areas, but the quota suggested by the national chairman in case it was desired is five pounds of clothing per person. This would mean that if every citizen in the county contributed his share the amount of clothing collected would be around 12,500 to 13,000 pounds of clothing sent in from Terrell County or over six tons.

As has been announced, the United National Clothing Collection Drive will close Monday April 30; now is the time to take time for making a household canvass of clothes closets and cedar chests and gather up what will be your contribution to the material welfare of the people who got what you have been spared—war on their doorsteps.

Strawberry shortcake and iced tea were served by the hostesses to Misses Margaret Lattimore Made Conger, Anna Lee Allen and Mesdames Seth R. Davenport, Wiley Cox, Henry Goldwire, Jr., Bill Jourdan, M. H. Greenwood, Gay Franks, Conway Pickard and two guests. Mesdames L. D. Hasty and Jack Hardgrave.

Tech. Sgt. F. A. Weigand Sees The "Death" of Hitler

Five men of the 127th Field Artillery Battalion, saw Hitler's skull busted wide open when a Jerry shell exploded less than ten feet away from them without causing injury to any member of the group. Hitler's busted skull was only a statue but as Captain Robert Heine, one of the five men involved, observed "It's very symbolic of things to come."

It all happened just before the Ninth Army's swift march across the Rhine. With Captain Heine were Captain Clyde Smith, First Lieutenant Leonard L. Charney Staff Sergeant Newton P. Wilson of Emporia, Kansas, and Technical Sergeant Frank A. Weigand of Sanderson, Texas. The men were watching one of the many Allied air strikes against the German Rhine positions when the Jerry shell exploded practically in their midst. Investigation of the small shell crater brought to light the buried bust of the "Fuhrer" with the head split open by the German shell.

CADET NURSES ARE URGENTLY NEEDED NOW

As the demand for nurses grows each day because of the increasing needs of the armed forces, there are still opportunities for girls in Texas to join the Cadet Nurse Corps of the U. S. Public Health Service according to Mrs. Ella M. Tipton, State Recruitment Officer.

Created by the Bolton Act at the request of leaders in nursing and hospital fields, the Cadet Nurse Corps offers all personal allowances for its members, and official outdoor uniforms. In turn, Cadet Nurses pledge, health permitting, that they will remain in essential nursing for the duration of the war. High school graduates and college girls with good scholastic records and in sound health who can meet the requirements of the nursing school selected are eligible. Age limit is from 17 and 18 to 35 years.

"Student nurses are needed now," says Mrs. Tipton to provide nursing care on the home front and to help release graduate nurses for active duty with the military services. Recruitment headquarters are located at 1001 E. Nevada St., El Paso, Texas.

Johnnie Breg, Mediterranean, Atlantic Veteran, Puts In Time At Naval Hospital

It's "wheel chair duty" these days for John Lewis Breg, a patient at the U. S. Naval Hospital at St. Albans, Long Island, New York, but he's doing nicely gaining weight, and "feeling fine."

That's the kind of a report that is received here (Marfa) by his mother, Mrs. C. H. Fogg daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Logan.

Of course, there has been one operation that wasn't a bit pleasant, and there are two more to come. But that's expected and it isn't much of a price to save a leg, and that's the goal. One has to bear quite a bit when his leg is paralyzed from the hip downwards, especially when there's gangrene thrown in "for good measure."

Breg, who was a Gunner's Mate, 2nd Class, volunteered when he was eighteen, in May 1942, and was sent from Houston to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station in Illinois. After six weeks he left for overseas duty.

First, there was Mediterranean duty on the destroyer "Bristol." It was sunk in the Mediterranean. Of course, there was a bit of action for Johnnie Breg at Salerno, Algiers, Sicily but, as he would say it, "why bring that up?"

Next came L. S. T. duty for Breg in the European area. After three days service a mine got in the way of his L. S. T. The crew was blown from the vessel and most of them were seriously wounded or killed. That's war. A month in an England hospital was in order for Gunner's Mate Breg. Last July he was flown back to "the states."

But Breg isn't complaining. War's war and someone has to take it. He was ready to do his part, and did. It isn't fun, though, to take up residence in hospitals and have those surgeons doing their best with their scalpels to see that a fellow gets his God-given right to use both of his legs.

Gunner's Mate Breg was born here but went to school in Sanderson and after school years was a Terrell county worker, engaged in county road construction.

His country believes that it's men like Breg that win wars. He wears four Bronze Stars on his service ribbon and he has a citation for bravery. Then there's the Purple Heart that was awarded him after the circumstance of war that resulted in the paralyzing of his leg.

Breg doesn't feel that he has any cause for complaint. He just didn't hit it lucky. It's a lot of satisfaction, though, to know that everything possible is being done to save a guy's leg and to make it useable so a man can get out and make a living for himself just like everyone else.

War's bad, all agree, and not many things are worse but Johnnie Breg still can look on the bright side of things.

More power to you, Johnnie Breg—Big Bend Sentinel.

GIRLS 20 YEARS OLD ELIGIBLE TO ENLIST IN SPARS

Girls who have reached their 20th birthday and want to take part in the final "push" to victory—now is your chance to join one of Uncle Sam's fighting forces, the SPARS. The women's reserve of the U. S. Coast Guard is taking applications from young women between the ages of 20 - 36, who have a birth certificate, no children under 18 at least 2 years of high school or its equivalent, and who can pass the aptitude test and physical examination.

Write or visit the Spar Recruiting Office, 401 Federal Building, San Antonio for a preliminary application which places you under no obligation. If you meet the preliminary requirements and do not live in San Antonio, you will be furnished round-trip transportation in order to take the aptitude test, physical examination, and personal interview.

Central and South Texas Spar recruits leave every six weeks for training at the U. S. Coast Guard Training Station, Manhattan Beach, New York. After six weeks indoctrination, SPARS who qualify may attend the General Office Training Course School, or Cook and Baker School.

BROTHER OF LEE SIMS SUCCEUMBS IN TENNESSEE

Guy Sims, brother of Lee Sims, former resident of Sanderson, died last Tuesday in Oneida, Tennessee. Funeral services were held in Calvert, Alabama. His daughter, Miss Jane Sims, at one time attended school here, residing with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sims, her uncle and aunt, for a year.

Ed Leatherwood Sees Sub Sunk As Crew Member USS Hayler

Edward E. Leatherwood, Gunner's Mate Third Class, U. S. Naval Reserve, of Ozona, Texas, is a member of the crew of the U. S. S. HAYTER, one of four destroyer escorts which in mid-Atlantic recently trailed and destroyed a German submarine, is has been announced by Admiral Jonas Ingram, Commander in Chief, U. S. Atlantic Fleet.

Zigzagging in a long and desperate effort to elude its pursuers, the enemy sub was finally blown to pieces in deep water. Debris, oil and personal belongings of the crew—such as a song book and the bowl of a pipe—told the crews of the destroyer escorts that their hunt was ended. The four ships displayed an excellent brand of teamwork. They attacked the enemy vigorously. Each of the commanding officers has commended his officers and men for the cool, well-disciplined and skillful manner in which they conducted the operation and action, a Navy Department spokesman said.

Gunner's Mate Third Class Leatherwood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Leatherwood, who reside at Ozona, Texas. They have another son, J. W. Leatherwood, who is a Machinist's Mate First Class in the U. S. Navy.

Before entering the Navy Gunner's Mate Third Class Leatherwood attended the Ozona High School, Ozona, Texas.

He wears the American Theatre of War and the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre of War ribbons for active service in those areas.—Ozona Stockman.

SENIOR PLAY SET FOR NIGHT OF MAY FOURTH

The Senior Play for 1945, "Digging Up the Dirt", will be presented Friday, May 4, at 8:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium, under the direction of Mrs. Tom Holley.

A comedy of errors, the drama promises to be a hit, with the curtain scheduled to rise on the plight of two boys who have lost their clothes due to an unhappy encounter with a skunk and are forced to masquerade as Indians in order to maintain their decency.

Students of the high school will busy themselves about town selling tickets for the coming attraction, and those who are missed or out of town at the time of soliciting can gain admittance at the door of the auditorium, where tickets will be on sale.

Military Academy in 1926, received his pilot wings at Kelly Field, Texas, in 1927. He is a resident of Chester, Pa.

COLLEGE STATION, April 27—The cream of Texas boyhood will meet Mexican youths of corresponding age when 24 selected members of boys' 4-H clubs tour the neighboring republic from May 23 to June 7. According to announcement by L. L. Johnson, state boys' club agent for the A. and M. The boys were chosen upon their achievements in community leadership, war work and production, as well as character and personality. Each is 16 or older and has had a minimum of three years in club work.

The trip is sponsored by a Foundation established by a big mail order house in cooperation with the Texas Extension Service, and Mr. Johnson will be in charge of the party.

The boys selected are: Wilbur Lee Bryant of Hartley County; Billy Hancock of Hall; Oren Eubanks of Castro; Mack White of Swisher; Joe Edd Sweatt of Knox; Jack Jones of Dickens; Billy Ray Himes of Tarrant; Billy Miller of Somervell; Horace Bridges of Wood; Gerald Chamberlain of Van Zandt; Frank Thiem of Howard; James De Long of Irion; Milton Underwood of Eastland; Calvin Lefteste of Mason; Daniel Zaveik of Falls; Alton Fritz of Bell; Cliff Brooks of Rusk; Campbell Corley of Nacogdoches; Clyde Jacob of Goliad; Dietrick John Gemblor of Bexar; Johnnie Szymanski of Fort Bend; Scott Howell of Waller; R. and release juices, she explains. Constant low temperatures also will prevent the fifth common difficulty, rancidity. The specialist also recommends that poultry meats be thawed almost completely at room temperature or in a refrigerator so that the meat will retain most of this moisture during the cooking process.

Ozonans are just not going in for victory gardens on such a large scale as usual this year or they are just lax in applying for their special victory garden credit on their water bills, is not yet clear, but the fact remains that only 39 water customers have so far listed their gardens with the water office to qualify for the special rate. Bill Cooper, manager, reported yesterday.

Give Pointers On Preparation Of Frozen Poultry

COLLEGE STATION, April 27—Proper preparation and care by home-makers and locker managers can eliminate the five most common troubles in frozen poultry products—discoloration, off-flavors, drying out, excess "drip" or "ooze," and rancidity, according to Winifred J. Leverenz, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Discoloration, or dark color in frozen poultry meat, usually is a result of insufficient bleeding, she says. Off-flavors usually are caused by not chilling the meat quickly enough. She attributes drying out of the meat to a poor wrap. Poor wrapping also will cause discoloration. Tests by many research workers have shown that cellophane currently is the most ideal wrapping material for meat, and poultry especially.

Mrs. Leverenz says that many homemakers have found that in frying chicken previously frozen often the crust will flake off the pieces. This is the result of a drip or ooze. Sharp freezing at 20 degrees F below zero and keeping the product at zero without fluctuation in temperatures will prevent this difficulty. Too high temperatures or fluctuation in storage will cause crystals in the product to enlarge, break down more quickly

4-H Dairy Girls to Vie for Honor Medals And Savings Bonds

Rural girls in this state have an exceptional opportunity to help speed victory, and at the same time gain valuable experience in public speaking and in developing team-work and sportsmanship, by enrolling in the 1945 National 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstration. The activity is conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and U. S. Department of Agriculture cooperating.

In this activity, 4-H Club girls learn how to prepare nutritious dishes, salads and desserts essential to a healthy family diet by using milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products. They also receive training in demonstrating what they learn before public audiences in their community, which will inspire many rural housewives to use the 4-H girl recipes. This, in turn, will result in a widespread contribution to the "Food for Freedom" program, a highly important factor in the nation's war effort.

Outstanding records of achievement in this activity will be awarded on county and levels. Awards donated by Kraft Cheese Company of a silver medal to the individual demonstrator, gold medals to the two members of the top ranking demonstration team in each participating county. A State champion individual and team, selected by the county winners, will receive a $50 U. S. War Savings Bond.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS . . .

"Judge, remember that place up in the mountains where we went trout fishing last year?" "I sure do, George. We had a great time up there, didn't we?" "I'll never forget it. But this will interest you, Judge. I heard just yesterday that the revenue men raided a big still right near there. Guess that's where all that high-priced moonshine we heard about has been coming from." "Wouldn't be a bit surprised. I saw in the paper the other day where the Government has raided thousands of such stills during the past year."

"Sounds sort of reminiscent, doesn't it, Judge?" "Exactly and it's not hard to figure out. As soon as the distillers stopped making whiskey and devoted their entire facilities to the production of industrial alcohol for the Government . . . the racketeers muscled in again." "I hate to think of how that might have spread, Judge, if the Government hadn't found it possible, without interfering with our war effort in any way, to permit a short resumption of legal whiskey production recently."

TREE PLANTING CEREMONY AT COLLEGE STATION

Every baby born in the community during the last two years was honored at a tree planting program arranged recently by the Palo Duro home demonstration club in Moore County.

The trees, Chinese elms, were planted along a country road which leads into the community. In addition to the eight which were dedicated to the community's new babies, two others were planted as a tribute to county home demonstration agents who have served in the county. Miss Dyora Crowder has been the agent for nearly four years.

About 50 men, women and children attended the tree-planting program. County Agricultural Agent G. C. Shearer conducted the demonstration with the help of the men and boys present. Mothers and the children to whom the tree was dedicated stood by, while club members gave appropriate quotations on trees.

He has attended school in Sanderson for twelve years; and after graduation, he plans to attend Texas A & M.

Francis' high school days have been busy with activities such as: Band, four years, Secretary and Treasurer of the Freshman class, Junior play, choral club senior play, basketball and football.

Francis' pet peeves are broken shoe strings and being broke. Francis has many favorites:

SNOOPER

Sees Nothing—
Hears Nothing—
..... Tells All

We hear the dignified seniors are planning to do "sumpin" about S. H. S. hill.

Say, do we really look like our pictures or vice versa?

New girl—watch out boys! or should we say—girls?

Well—the Marfa trip must have been successful—for some at least.

Gee, we miss the sheep herders, don't we?

New name for Helen Holmes could be—"Speck"—but it isn't, of course.

The long faces after report card day were caused (in part) by the fact that parents have clamped down on school nite affairs.

Have you heard—Joyce Boyd and Sid will soon be home?

You should have seen the kids at Billie's dance—Such fancy steppin'!

Have you seen the latest snap shots of "leg-art"—not bad at all.

We hear the audience will get plenty of laughs out of the Senior play. Bill, how do you and Al manage without your clothes?

There is a new romance—I do mean new. Can you guess? Just watch for sly smiles and hand-holding between classes near the fountain.

Doris didn't seem too alone Saturday night, did she?

Doyce certainly likes variety—Well, who doesn't?

Guess which boys have dates for Friday night—Don't look now!

Our choice for the girl of the week is a blond-bomb. She's a cheerful, likeable, and a "hard to beat" gal—always has a smile for everyone. Thinks more highly of the others than of herself, and what's more she isn't afraid of work. If you want to find her just look around for a swell sport, a real friend, and freckled face.

Your Help Please!

COME TO THIS OFFICE TO Render Your Property

Due to the present shortage of help, and the fact that clerks in the office have been kept from their duties on account of illness, we are asking the cooperation of taxpayers this year in securing rendition of property for tax purposes.

Heretofore we have called on property owners for renditions. However, since adequate help is not now available, we are asking property owners to come to the office to sign rendition blanks.

Renditions must be completed before April 30. It will take but a few minutes of your time to complete the form at the office, and we will greatly appreciate your help in this emergency to get the work completed on time.

"BIG SHOW-OFF" STARS ARTHUR LAKE HERE, FRI., SAT. AT PRINCESS THEATRE

Refreshingly different entertainment is the verdict on "The Big Show-Off," the film starring Arthur Lake and Dale Evans which plays at the Princess Theatre Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5.

While a lavish hand has been used in preparing the musical sequences featuring Anson Weeks and His Orchestra, the plot of the film has not been neglected. Arthur Lake is the shy, gentle pianist of the Blue Heaven Night Club, run by Lionell Stander who is indebted to Lake for saving his life. Lake is in love with Dale Evans who is also being pursued by her man Master of Ceremonies, George Meeker. When Dale professes an interest in her, Meeker as a result of a visit to the wrestling matches with Meeker, Stander tells her that Lake is in reality the "Devil," masked wrestling champion whose identity no one knows.

From that moment, Lake's troubles begin. When the "Devil" breaks a leg, Lake puts his in a cast. When he reads in the newspaper that the "Devil" has recovered, Lake has some difficulty in removing the cast in order to make a fictitious appearance. When Lake discovers that Dale has turned Meeker down because he has fibbed to her, his tribulations mount.

How it is all solved is one of the most amusing twists that have been seen in a long while. Especially funny are the scenes in which Lake tries to persuade the "Devil," played by Paul Hurst to retire from wrestling and the scene in which Lake is escorted to the police station.

BARRYMORE, GRANT IN "NONE BUT THE LONELY HEART" HERE MAY 2, 3

Starring Cary Grant, and presenting Ethel Barrymore in a return to the screen after twelve years, the picturization of Richard Llewellyn's best seller, "None But the Lonely Heart," unfolds a thrilling drama of life in the seamy East End of London. The picture will play at the Princess Wednesday and Thursday.

Cary Grant's role is that of Ernie Mott, a cockney ne'er-do-well embittered by poverty and the squalid conditions of life. Ethel Barrymore plays his mother, Ma Mott, the hard-working owner of a small second-hand shop beneath their home.

Ernie, though an expert piano tuner, furniture and clock repairer, does nothing to help his mother. He spends most of his time at a neighboring Fun Fair and kidding around with his neighbors. There is a girl, Aggie, a young musician, who has always loved him, but he falls madly in love with Ada, a girl at the Fun Fair.

Relations between Ernie and his mother get so bitter that he decides to leave home, but before he can do so learns that his mother has not long to live.

Hardened though he is, this brings him up with a jolt, and he settles down to try to make her last days easier. Driven to desperation by the hopelessness of ever being able to provide her a heavy machine gun and walked forward into the face of the with the necessary material things of life he throws in his lot with a gang of crooks in order to make a little easy money. At the same time, his mother finally succumbs to a long-resisted temptation to accept stolen goods in her little shop. They are both eventually arrested.

FRONTLINE STORIES OF TEXAS MEN WITH THE SEVENTH ARMY IN FRANCE

WITH THE 36TH "TEXAS DIVISION OF THE SEVENTH ARMY, FRANCE—Pfc. Gilbert F. Nauert, Austin, Texas, a member of the 36th "Texas" Division's Quartermaster Company saved an eleven-year-old girl's life when strafing planes hit her in the leg with machine gun fire.

Pfc. Nauert was working at the gasoline dump when a burst of machine gun fire drove him behind a small clump of grass and a mound of earth. Then four German planes roared across the area.

The planes turned to come over again when Pfc. Nauert noticed a little girl lying in the path of the enemy fire. Leaving his place of cover, he raced out, scooped up the child and dashed back to his position. "She was crying and screaming and whimpering something awful," he said. "One leg had been torn off."

Pfc. Nauert waited until the planes had finished their run. Then, with the girls in his arms he raced across the open field again, to a stone house where it was possible to give her some treatment. "Luck was with me," he said later. "They had three chances and they missed me every time."

Mrs. Doris Nauert, wife of the soldier, lives at Route 2, Austin, Texas. A member of the 36th Quartermaster Company since 1940, Private Nauert has seen action in North Africa, Italy and France. He also participated in the Salerno and Riviera invasions.

WITH THE 103RD DIVISION OF THE SEVENTH ARMY IN GERMANY—The big Texas sergeant slung a belt of ammunition around his neck, picked up enemy, firing from the hip, enabling two companies of the 410th Infantry Regiment to move forward to safe ground.

The Texan is T-Sgt. Bernard Brast, of San Antonio, Texas (634 Cedar St.). The action happened during the 103rd Division drive against the Germans.

The Americans were held down at the low end of a slope by strongly entrenched German positions on the top. Several small men crawled through a culvert to come out on the other side of the road and the cover of an embankment. But the big men couldn't get through the culvert.

So Brast went into his one-man act and sprayed the hill while the men ran across the road to the embankment. Then Brast coolly ran back, picked up a machine gun and tripod that had been left behind, and ran across the road again to the cover of the embankment.

WATCH DATES ON LICENSES, DRIVERS WARNED

AUSTIN, APRIL 27—Approximately 250,000 persons driving motor vehicles in Texas do not have valid operators' licenses, Director Homer Garrison of the Department of Public Safety said today.

This isn't a deliberate, wholesale violation of the law, Garrison observed. It's simply the result of drivers failing to observe the expiration dates of their licenses.

J. B. Draper, chief of the Drivers License Division, reported that sporadic renewals create a difficult situation in that division, and urged motorists to check the date stamped on their licenses. Ordinary operators' licenses expire two years from date of issue; chauffeurs' and commercial operators' licenses, one year from date of issue.

Application blanks are available at Drivers License and Highway Patrol offices, court-houses, and some city halls, fire stations, and service stations.

JOHNNIE LEWIS BREG

Was born July 9, 1923, in Marfa, Texas. His mother, Mrs. C. H. Fogg, is a Marfa resident. Johnnie has lived in Terrell County all his life, attending school in Sanderson, except for the one year he went to school in Alpine. Before he entered the service, he was employed by the county on road construction. At the end of his training, he went to Boston, Massachusetts, where he was assigned to the destroyer Bristol. He went to sea, in Mediterranean waters, after serving three months on shore patrol duty. In the Mediterranean, Johnnie saw action in the Sicily campaign and at Salerno, and on the way back his ship hit a mine and was sunk, but most of the crew was picked up and returned to the States in November. After his leave, and more school Johnnie went back overseas in April of 1944, where he was assigned to an LST, scheduled to take part in the Normandy invasion, but the boat hit a mine. He was wounded badly and sent back to enter a naval hospital in New York, where he is now.

Is Your Refrigerator Ready for Its Summer Work?

NOW'S THE TIME TO CHECK UP
 Don't wait until hot weather to have your electric refrigerator checked over and any needed repairs or adjustments made. Refrigerator repairmen are busy now and will be extra busy during the midsummer rush. You'll save possible food losses and inconvenience later on by having your refrigerator put in first-class condition now.

Follow These Tips—For That "Ounce of Prevention"

- Defrost whenever frost reaches thickness of one-quarter inch.
- Wash interior, including freezer, with weak baking soda solution each time you defrost.
- Wash exterior with mild soap and warm water. A thin coating of wax will help protect finish.
- Wipe grease from the door gasket promptly. Grease deteriorates rubber.
- See that gasket makes tight seal. Do not open door oftener than necessary and always close it quickly.
- Cover all liquids and keep defrosting tray dry to retard formation of frost on freezer.
- Don't set control for colder temperature than necessary. Use fast freezing sparingly.
- Keep unit compartment clean. Do not let dust accumulate on condenser coils.
- If an open unit model, check to see that belt is not worn and fits properly.
- Oil open unit models periodically as per manufacturer's instructions. Sealed unit models need no oiling.
- Place refrigerator in coolest part of kitchen where there is plenty of room for ventilation.
