School Expects Many Visitors

Over 200 special invitations have been sent out to adults asking them to attend special school activities during Public Schools Week March 6-10.

These invitations were addressed to those adults who are more advanced in years and probably do not have children in school.

These invitations were sent in addition to those sent through the students to parents.

"It is the hope of school officials and faculty to have one day set aside to feature those people in the community who have, to some extent, lost direct contact with the school system because all children have graduated or because they have never had children in school," the invitation says. "It would be a pleasure to have these people visit our schools and see the progress that is being made."

A 30-minute program is planned for visitors Tuesday morning at 10:30 in the auditorium. After that, visitors will be free to visit the school and go on guided tours of the buildings. They will also be invited to eat lunch in the school cafeteria.

Vern's Views

One never knows how many friends he has until he starts getting threatening letters.

Just last week, W. L. "Preach" Edelman promised that if this writer is lynched, he will personally direct efforts to see that I get a decent burial.

At last count, 39 men had entered their names in the special senate election.

There are so many of them, that probably few people can even learn all their names. Practically no one will be able to make a serious study of what each of the 39 stands for. Voters will have to pretty well stick with the major candidates and pick from them.

So far, this writer has been unable to decide just who we're for, but there are plenty that we are against.

That may be a poor way to think, but most Texas politics are operated that way. Texans don't vote for something or someone, they vote against things and persons.

June and Aubrey Rhodes say the tree thinning work in city park was causing quite a bit of speculation around the county.

The Rhodes said some of their Bovina friends asked them recently if the trees are being removed to make way for the courthouse. They claimed that rumors were flying in both Farwell and Bovina that the county offices might move.

But the real reason the trees were being removed was to make space for some grass to grow.

Anytime the government gives people a chance to decide for themselves on any issue, we think it is a step in the right direction. Of course many think we need to be protected from ourselves. Candidates Make Dash To File

Rush Expected In City Race

With the Saturday filing deadline swiftly approaching, prospects of a city election without anyone's name on the ballot were increasing since no one had filed by Tuesday afternoon.

But City Secretary Albert Field said he expects several candidates to file in the days remaining before the deadline. Terms of aldermen Bill Nichols, Danny Bainum and Deon Awtry will expire. None of these has disclosed whether he will seek re-election.

The election will be held on April 4, the same day a statewide election is conducted to choose a successor to Lyndon Johnson as Texas Senator.

The two elections will be held separately.

Friena Wins Fourth In Hog Judging

Friena's FFA judging team took fourth place at the Southwestern Duroc Congress conducted in Abilene last weekend.

The team was composed of Max and Floyd Reeve and Tom Gee. Gee was seventh high individual. All three of the boys showed animals in the congress. Floyd Reeve's boar placed 14th. The other animals did not place. The show was for all breeders of Durocs and not one designed especially for FFA or 4-H members. Animals were shown from nine states.

This week, another group of boys is representing the Friena Chapter in Houston in both stock show competition and judging contests.

David McVey accompanied the boys to Abilene, and J.C. Lane is in Houston with the other group.

Civil Defense Units Will Be Organized

A civil defense organizational meeting was well-attended here Tuesday night and several items were worked out in preparation for establishment of local units throughout the county.

Representatives of fire departments, police, home demonstration clubs, schools, in addition to county officials, medical society and federal employees were present from Farwell, Bovina, Friena, Lazbuddie and Oklahoma Lane.

A second meeting will be announced later when actual organization of community units will be accomplished.

County Judge Loyde Brewer was in charge of the meeting. He showed a film concerning probable reactions of individuals in the event of nuclear attacks.

Federal employees are already organized for duty in case of disaster. ASC personnel would be responsible for food for human beings and feed for livestock.

CCA Men Will Testify Before House Hearing

Friena Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture has been notified that it will be offered the chance to testify before the House Agricultural Committee at the hearing on whether to extend the current Sugar Act.

Chamber representatives had requested the chance to present this area's case for consideration as a sugar beet growing area and a telegram from Carl Albert, of Oklahoma.

This area's hopes for additional sugar beet acreage have been endangered by a bill soon to be introduced in the house that would add a two-year extension to the Sugar Act, which is scheduled to expire this month. The proposed extension would make no provisions for new growers in this country.

The Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association has begun all-out efforts of contacting congressmen in an attempt to head off the measure.

Hereford has become the center of activity in the fight to get more beet allotments in the United States. A majority of the sugar beets produced in Texas are grown in this area, and those pushing for legislation to allow more acres to be grown here, feel there would be good chance of a sugar refinery locating in the area.

Congressmen from the Panhandle-South Plains area are supporting residents of this area in their efforts to secure a bill that will allow new growers to receive beet allotments. But some other congressmen are opposing these efforts because of the alleged influence such legislation might have on foreign relations.

Ten Men Awaiting Grand Jury Action

The most heavily-populated dwelling in Parmer County this week is probably the county jail at Farwell.

Eleven persons have taken up residence in this small two-story building behind the courthouse, some of them have been there for several weeks, and 10 of these boarders will be there at least for another two weeks.

"It's the first time we've had that many felons in custody in a long while," says Parmer County Sheriff Chas. Lovelace. Nine of the men in custody are charged with an offense that will require grand jury action. The jury is scheduled to convene on March 6, and the sheriff is hopeful that the jail population will be thinned out somewhat at that time.

Besides the nine, one man is serving a sentence for drunkenness and another man, charged with a felony, has already been indicted by the grand jury.

In addition to the 9 men in jail, six others are currently out on bail and will also be appearing before the grand jury when it convenes.

The list of men who will make up the grand jury will be summoned next week, the sheriff says.

The latest member to be added to the family of prisoners was Jim Beasley, who was extradited last week from Arizona. He is charged with swindling several persons in Parmer County as well as Castro county. Beasley was arrested in November but wouldn't waive extradition, so local authorities had to take the necessary proceedings to get him back here to face charges.

The extradition papers were served last week and Parmer County Deputy Sheriff Tom Atkins went to Phoenix and brought the prisoner to Farwell. Beasley was indicted by the grand jury last October and he will be tried in district court following the grand jury session.

In other activity for the sheriff's department, Jesse Andrews, 31, who lives on the east side of the county near Muleshoe, was arrested Friday and charged with sodomy.

Bond was set at $100 by Justice of Peace J. R. Thornton and the case was bound over to the grand jury. Charges were filed against Andrews by his wife.

Parmer County authorities also arrested Mario Gomez north of Friena Saturday for the sheriff's department at Andrews.

Also arrested Saturday was Cecil Norman of Bovina. He was charged with drunkenness for the second time in a month and was fined $23.50 by Justice of Peace Thornton.

Golf Course Work Starts

Ground was broken Monday for Friena Country Club's golf course, work on the bases for greens of the nine-hole course has been progressing since then.

At a general membership meeting Friday night in the bank building, members voted to begin constructing the greens. They also decided to meet again March 17, when plans will be completed for a $25,000 club house and fairways and water systems which will cost in the neighborhood of $16,500. The club will then ask for bids.

The club will continue to work for more members. One director said 115 members will be needed to maintain the club. He did not say how many are now in the organization, but the number is supposed to be over 100.

The club will be located southwest of Friena on Frio Draw. In addition to the club house and golf course, it will provide members access to a heated indoor pool being constructed by Truett Johnson.

Plans Take Shape For County Show

Technicalities for conducting the 1961 Parmer County Livestock show were discussed at a 6 a.m. breakfast here Wednesday morning.

Five In School Bid; More Are Expected Soon

Five names had been filed in the school trustee election by Tuesday afternoon and more were expected Wednesday as candidates hurried to beat the filing deadline.

Wednesday was the last day a candidate could file for a spot on the ballot in the April 1 election, which will fill three trustee places.

C.W. Weatherly was the lone incumbent to announce for re-election. C.V. Potts announced he definitely would not make the race, and Arthur Drake also indicated he wouldn't seek re-election.

Others filing were U.S. Akens, owner of Piggly Wiggly Supermarket here, Glynn Don Hughes, nurseryman and farmer, Curtis Murphree, farmer, and John W. Renner, a farmer.

Drake, who has served as secretary of the local board of trustees, had his name filed in Farwell for county commissioners, but wrote Judge Loyde Brewer a letter requesting that his name be withdrawn because he doesn't wish to make the race.

Superintendent Alton Farr said at least three other petitions had been picked up at his office, and he expected them to be filed sometime Wednesday.

BULLETIN!

Two other trustee candidates filed for a spot on the ballot Wednesday morning.

Newman Jarrell Jr. and Danny Mac Bainum, both Friena businessmen will join the field of candidates. Bainum is currently serving the final part of his term as city alderman.

110 hogs and 30 sheep to enter the show. Orho Whitefield will be in charge of the sheep show and M.C. Osborn will oversee the steer showing. A swine supervisor will be named later.

The finance committee has already guaranteed several buyers, but Kenneth Williams, J.B. Williams, Marion Fite, Andy Hurst and Ralph Shirley are still working to secure enough buyers to keep the show on par with those in the past. Last year total sales at the show totaled around $29,000.

Working on the finance committee are J.G. McFarland, Wes Long, Deon Awtry, and Martell LeVeque.

Ewell Linder of Lubbock has been secured as judge of the show.

At the Wednesday morning meeting, plans were made for handling the animals, shifting them from pen to pen and scheduling the times for bringing animals to the show barn.

STUDENTS ENTER SOLO CONTEST

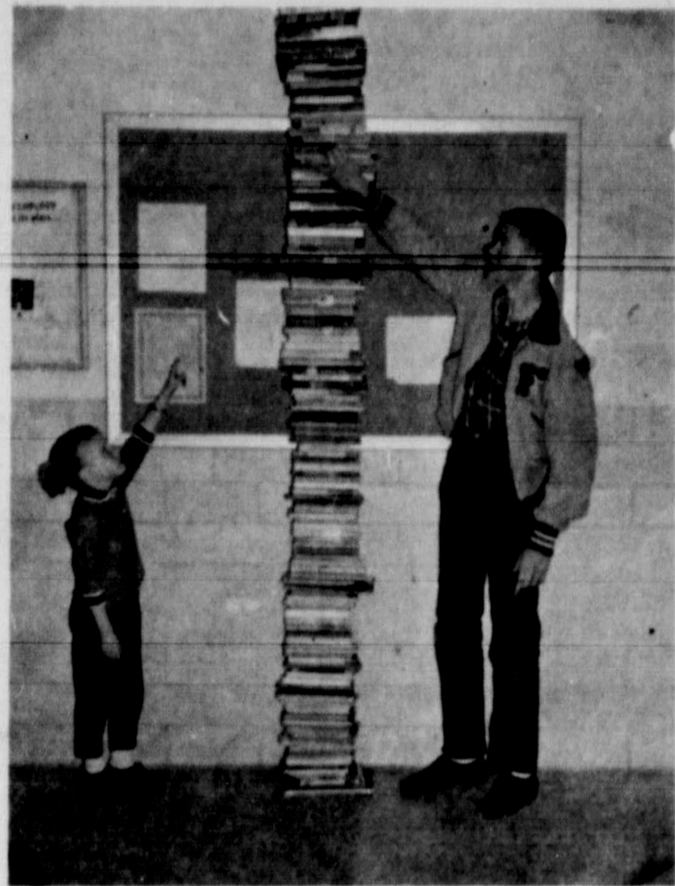

The vocal solo contest will be held on campus of Amarillo College Saturday, March fourth.

Three students from Friena High School will enter. They are Karen Turner, SuZanne Taylor and Jere Buske.

Lowell Bynum, choral director, will accompany the trio to the contest.

PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK visitors will include Mr. and Mrs. David Moseley, whose youngest children graduated from high school in 1947. They are shown reading the special invitation sent out by the school to older persons to attend the activities planned in their honor. Mrs. Edith Johnson of Friena is their daughter and graduated from high school in 1938. Hugh, of Farwell, and Jack of Friena were 1947 graduates. Kay and Joe Bob Johnson are grandchildren of the Moseleys who are enrolled in Friena schools.

Joy Hall Wins Bowling Match

Joy Hall defeated Christine Ivy two games out of three Sunday afternoon on Panhandle Star Bowlers area telecast.

Both ladies were from Friona and both earned the right to appear on the show by bowling the two top scores in the Panhandle.

Both bowlers received an expense-paid trip to Amarillo for the contest. Mrs. Hall's winning prize money was $150 while Mrs. Ivy's prize money was $100.

A change has been made in eliminations that determine who will participate in the television contest. The Panhandle has been divided into four districts, with four of the 16 bowling establishments in each district.

Each Saturday night, the two top bowlers from each establishment go to a district roll-off where the top two bowlers in the district will be decided. These two top contestants will have earned the right to compete in a Sunday morning roll off to be held in Amarillo. The top bowler from this meeting will then have earned the right to challenge the "king of the hill" on the next week's program.

Bowling at both roll-offs will be free.

"We think this is a much better way to decide the challenger," said Ed Hicks, manager of Friona Lanes. "It will rule out the possibility of a bowler having a short hot streak that would put him on the program. To get on now, he would have to stay hot for a long time."

The Best System

Each month two groups of men meet and spend several hours conducting public business. To witness a session of either the Friona City Council or the Board of Trustees for Friona Independent School District is an experience that convinces one of the value of our democratic process.

Here is local government operating at its best. These men are not paid for their time and effort and the many times they have to try to explain their group's action to an irate citizen. They denote their time, but each man on the two local boards carefully studies each proposal before he is ready to act.

It is as if the board members and councilmen were spending their own funds and conducting their own personal business. But most of the time, the members of the governmental bodies have no more personal interest in the school or city than does the individual who is constantly complaining or criticizing the action of these groups.

Being human, these individuals make mistakes or decisions that may prove incorrect later. As a general rule local school boards and city governments rule much more wisely than they are given credit for.

When a man takes a position on one of the governing bodies, he knows that the only thing he will gain from his tenure of office will be enemies. It is amazing therefore, that these local elections always seem to have enough persons willing to serve so that self-government may be preserved. Possibly an individual is willing to assume one of the positions, because he knows that those enemies he makes while doing his duty as a member of the local governing body would be undesirable as friends.

In less than two months, qualified voters of this community will select trustees and city aldermen again. Those of us who do not have the guts, or pride, or inclination to become candidates should remember these facts about those elected to these "thank you" jobs.

Some other facts are almost always true about operation of local governments:

1. The individual who complains about the group's action the most would never accept a position as member of the group where he could do more than complain.

2. Those who think they are a little better than the average citizen and therefore deserve special treatment from the governing group and the organization it controls, are actually not quite up to par as citizens.

3. There are a few cases of sloppiness in local governments, but usually the individual that calls up a councilman or trustee to "bless him out" is displaying his selfishness and ignorance of the situation. High interest and citizen participation in local government pays well. The citizen has no better time to act than on election day. Elected groups are always open to citizen opinion and any time a group is interested enough in their aims and objectives, the elected officers are willing to listen.

It is a good system, not perfect, but the best available.

Texas Tech's Red Raiders will have to win Saturday night in Lubbock to take their first Southwest Conference Basketball Championship.

If Del Ray Mounts had not been injured during the game with Rice, the Raiders would have surely copied the title then instead of having to wait for the climax this weekend.

With all due respect to the other members of the Raider squad, it is apparent that Mounts makes the Raiders go.

They have other good men, notably Mac Percival, Roger Hennig, and Harold Hudgens, but Mounts makes them tick.

This is no world shaking news. What many sports fans do not realize, however, is that Mounts went to Tech to try out for a baseball scholarship. He hadn't even been offered a basketball scholarship.

The little Perryton athlete decided to try out for basketball, and was impressive as a freshman. He was also impressive as a baseball player and ended up with scholarship offers for both sports when his sophomore year began.

From there on, his basketball record is well known by West Texas cage fans. He has also been impressive as a hurler on the diamond, but since baseball is a poor-relation type of sport at Texas Tech, you don't hear much about Mounts the pitcher.

Del Ray is an example of many of the fine athletes who are overlooked by the recruiters from large schools, who usually look for a overgrown boy and then check to see if he can play anything.

This writer has been present at several college workouts when the season was just beginning and inevitably there is a kid from some small high school trying to get a place on the squad.

The kids from big high schools with big names are the ones who get the most attention in these opening drills. Generally speaking they are the ones who will carry the ball when they reach varsity competition. But in almost every group of freshmen, there is a kid who may not have shown much in high school who like Del Ray Mounts could make a star performer in college.

If the coaching staff would take special care during the first week of drills to be sure these clods from the country were really talentless, there would be more athletes starting today who have had backgrounds very similar to that of Del Ray Mounts.

As a former no-talent athlete, I can really admire a man like Mounts, who doesn't have the height usually considered necessary for a basketball star, but who has developed into the best player in the conference.

The weatherman's wild predictions soon made him the laughing stock of the small Texas town, so he put in a request for a transfer. In the blank he was asked the reason for requesting a transfer, he wrote, "the climate doesn't agree with me."

Old Jim was telling about his close shave with a bear. "It chased me across my hill field. I hoped to make it to that oak tree on the edge of the pasture," he declared, "and when I got there, I saw that my only chance was to jump up and catch the big limb which was about 20 feet from the ground."

"Did you make it?" a spectator asked.

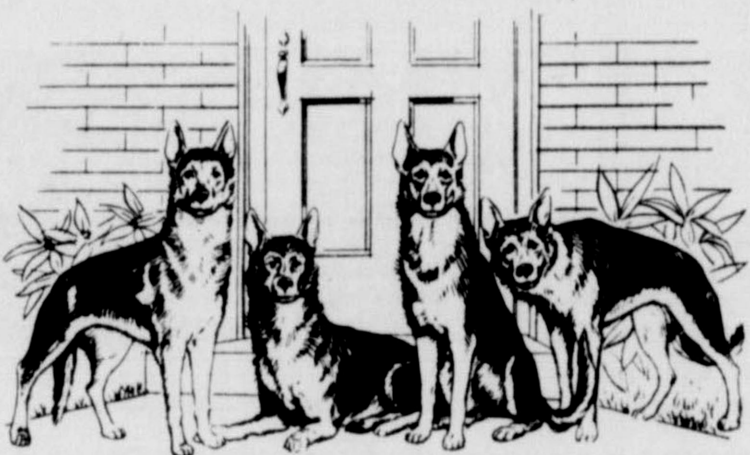

"Well, the truth is," Jim concluded, "I missed it going up, but caught it on the way back down."

A snobbish young Englishman, visiting Washington's home at Mount Vernon, asked the gardener:

"Ah--er--my man, the hedge! Yes, I see. George got this hedge from dear old England."

"Reckon he did," replied the gardener. "He got this whole blooming country from England."

WHY HAVE FOUR when one will do the job?

One watchdog is all that is needed . . . if it's the right kind for the job. The same is true for insurance policies. That's why the new four-in-one Homeowners Policy is one of the most popular we've ever offered.

It gives all the basic protection the average homeowner needs in a single package . . . and at a lower cost than that of carrying separate policies. One policy provides fire and windstorm insurance on your home and your personal property, plus theft and comprehensive personal liability coverage. You have only one premium to pay . . . one agent to deal with. And there is no question of overlapping coverage.

This is your opportunity to put your insurance on an orderly, systematic basis . . . and at a substantial saving. Let us explain it in detail. You will not be obligated in any way.

12.5 Percent Of Income Used On Medicine

"Among the older farm families 12.5 percent of the family net income was used for medical expenses. About 9 percent is used by all other families."

This was a quotation used by Miss Ettie Musil, County Home Demonstration Agent, in a leader training Friday, February 24, at 2:00 in the County Courthouse.

"In planning a health insurance program consider your health insurance costs, any related benefits for which you are eligible, such as employee sick pay and veteran's benefits, the coverage possible through group policies, and the amount you can afford," explained Miss Musil.

The training also included types of protection, sources of health insurance, how to select health insurance, what to do after purchasing a policy, and a check list of a health program.

Leaders attending the training were: Mrs. H. R. Cocanougher, Mrs. A. L. Reznik, Mrs. Shirley Smith, Mrs. Luella White, Mrs. Billy Dollar, Mrs. Henry Haseloff, Mrs. Lee Campbell, and Mrs. J. B. Williams.

Volunteer leaders of each of the home demonstration clubs in the county will present this training "Hospital Insurance" to their respective clubs.

Play It Safe

Never go out in a boat without a lifebelt or at least a life-saving cushion handy. This applies especially to canoes because of their easy-to-tip-over habit. And in canoeing, always wear the lifebelt.

No matter how well you can swim, wet clothes and wet shoes can pull you under should your craft capsize.

Check Trotlines Often
When running trotlines at night be sure to check them at least every three hours.

Rough fish take a good toll of trotline bait--and empty hooks catch no fish. Keep those hooks baited by frequent checking.

Warning Bells
A turkey bell rigged on the shore line, dangling from your trotline, will save many trips running hooks. The bell will ring when your bait is tampered with. No ring, no rebaiting.

Retrieve In Spurts
Your retrieve should be more or less erratic when spinning for bass.

This is especially true when using a spoon, as the steady twinkle when viewed by a fish, unifies when viewed by a fish. Let the spoon dip and rise, slow down and speed up, for life-like action.

Color and Deep Fishing
The deeper you fish the less important color becomes. Colors on your lures tend to lose individuality the deeper they sink. Red is the first to lose distinction.

So concentrate on plug action in deep water, and never mind the color of your bait.

On the surface, however, color does count, with red and white the most popular. Contrast of the two colors seems to please (or displease) bass especially.

Summer Fly Fishing
Small wet flies usually are thought of as early spring bait. But it is surprising how often they work in dead summer when the water is sluggish and clear.

Fish 'em deep and slowly in the pools.

Stretch Trotline Tight
How you stretch the main line of your trotline is very important. Market catfishermen know this and their catches are generally big.

Stretch line tight, so that when a fish bites, the hook will set at once.

When glue dissolves in blood, pour mixture in a shallow bowl or pan and let cool until thick. Cut into short, bait-sized blocks or strips and then go bait your lines.

Make A Hit With Misses
When a bass strikes and misses, wait a spell before casting out over that spot again. This is especially true of bait-casting. But even fly fishermen can profit by this advice.

Improving Cheap Flyrods
Avoid buying cheap flyrods. Among obvious drawbacks is the fact that they do not have enough guides to control the line properly.

But if you already have such a rod, it can be improved by re-spacing its guides and adding a few of your own. These can be bought at any sporting goods store for about the cost of a cigarette each.

Clear Water Fishing
Clear water is hard to fish. Even old pros have trouble with it.

You can help matters a lot by using patience. Cast out your plug. The fish will scatter. Let the plug sink to the bottom. Leave it there -- three-four-five-six minutes -- then start your retrieve.

By that time the fish will have forgotten the original splash of your plug and may go for it.

Change Dry Flies Often
Wet flies and dry flies are different in many ways.

One important point to remember is that the dry fly loses its efficiency once it gets water-logged. Conversely the wet fly increases its allure the more beat-up it gets.

So change dry flies often and let the wet flies stay on your line.

Add Glue to Blood Bait
Blood bait is great for trotlines and throwlines. But it does not stay on the hook well.

To make bait that has good sticking properties, take a pint of warm blood (chicken, beef, etc.) and pour in a jar. Mix in 3 tablespoons of casien glue.

Unchained-- by the Rhea Farm Bureau and Jack Patterson, publicity chairman, cordially invites everyone who is interested in seeing the film to be present.

Something To Think About

6th. Street Church of Christ
Box 515 -- Friona, Texas

God's gracious purpose as revealed in Jesus Christ, His beloved son, is a purpose of love and is intended to bring joy into the hearts of men. And certainly there is nothing that men so ardently and universally seek after as joy. But with countless thousands today, joy is an elusive thing which they never really grasp. Nor because God would hinder their possession of it, but because they have failed to seek it through the only channel through which it can be reached -- obedience to His will and in accordance with the provisions set forth by the Saviour. Jesus does not promise exemption from the common problems and hindrances, but he does promise that this joy can be ours if we seek it humbly and are resigned to His will. He offers us the comforting assurance that He will not forsake us, and pleads with us not to forsake Him. From these observations there is one all important conclusion -- if we never find the real joy of Christianity, or if we become alienated from Him after once having known Him in the forgiveness of our sins, it is our personal responsibility, not His. "The Lord is not slack concerning His promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance." (2 Peter 3:9) God is ready to save. Are you ready to demonstrate the "obedience of Faith" (Romans 16:26) without which there can be no joy?

Vern's Views-- Pearly Gates, His Face was scarred and cold; He stood before the man of fate For admission to the fold.

"What have you done, St. Peter asked, To gain admission here? I've been an editor, sir, he said, For many and many a year.

"The pearly gates swung open wide, St. Peter touched the bell, Come in he said, and choose your harp, You've had your share of hell."

I think every editor, school teacher and preacher should memorize this little verse and quote it to himself when he is told by someone that his paper, school or church is run by a moron.

I once knew a man who would quote during droughts the Bible passage about God sending rain on the just and unjust. Then he would say, "If he would just send it on the unjust, I would be glad to carry it in a bucket to pour on the just."

Teachers Meet-- You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves. --Abraham Lincoln come to church-sunday

From Isaiah to Joel -- a span of several centuries -- voices of the prophets were raised with one accord in the interest of Israel's deliverance. At first, as the chosen people of God, Israel was to bring the nations to Him. Then, as the experience of the centuries mounted, it became clear that Israel herself was in need of deliverance from the enemies and sins.

Gradually, persistently, the idea and feeling grew that Israel's deliverance would come in the form of a Messiah. He would save His people and raise their hopes as a nation.

Many offices were ascribed to Him by the prophets: Shepherd, King, Man of Peace, Suffering Servant.

None fitted Him so well and came so near to His real office as that of Redeemer. The angel visitant shocked Joseph into rapt attention with the words, "Thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins." Today, if we will listen and heed, He becomes our Saviour.

Additional Funds For Farm Housing Made Available

An additional $50 million has been made available to the Farmers Home Administration for farm housing loans, Billy R. Boling the agency's county supervisor announced today.

He said that the new loan funds assure an adequate supply of this type of credit for eligible farm families during the balance of the fiscal year. Loans made so far this year plus those being processed had practically exhausted the funds previously available.

Farm housing loans are made throughout the rural areas of the United States. The loans provide farm families with an opportunity to acquire an adequate house and efficient service buildings.

Applications for farm housing loans may be made at the local office of the Farmers Home Administration, Boling said. The loans bear 4 percent interest and are repayable over periods up to 33 years.

The major demand in Parmer County is for loans to construct and modernize farm houses and grain storage, and most of the funds are used for new construction.

To be eligible a farmer must own a farm that will annually produce for sale or home use at least $400 worth of commodities based on the 1944 prices and be of sufficient value to adequately secure the loan.

In addition, he must lack the resources needed to obtain credit elsewhere and have sufficient income to pay farm operating and family living expenses and meet payments when due on his debts.

WITH JUNE

There was a unique baby show at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L.R. White in the west part of town Sunday afternoon. Of course, there was no advance publicity, prizes for the most beautiful baby or anything of that sort.

It all began when Marie White Hughlett and her young son, Kent, came up from Brownfield to spend the weekend with her parents. Marie, a 1956 graduate of Friona High School, was joined by two former classmates with their children.

Others present were Sandra Brock Roots and her daughter, Ruthella, of Bountiful, Utah; and Linda Miller Tims and her two young daughters, Sally and Roy Evelyn, of Friona.

Picking a winner in the boy's division would not have been any chore, but since no prizes were awarded each mother just admired the offspring of the other two.

Friday wasn't the 13th, but the Star's publisher, W.H. Graham, had some bad luck and also some good luck. If you are one of the persons who are wondering how he got the hole in his windshield, you will be interested in the following story. As he was returning home from Albuquerque Friday evening an owl decided to hitch a ride, but instead of standing by the road holding out his thumb, he just flew right in via the windshield.

To substantiate his story of how the hole got there, Graham left the owl and the feathers in the car for his family and employees to view.

Spring must not be very far away. Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Brannon are looking forward to a fishing trip in the not too far future. Spring flowers are beginning to peep through the ground in sheltered places.

Friends and family members of Mrs. Mae Magness were anxious about her whereabouts a few hours Monday evening. The way the story reached us was that she left here for Lubbock about 3:30 p.m. Since she usually takes about 2 or 2 1/2 hours to make the trip, her four or five hour delay due to the snow was cause for a great deal of apprehension.

Right now it looks like Frionans will be enjoying swimming in one of the most modern swimming pools in West Texas in the near future. Haven't talked to Truett Johnson about when he plans to open the pool for business, but from outside appearances, it will not be very long.

Although not new to this area, the Coy Pattons will soon be new residents of Friona. Their new house, which is in the northeast part of town, will soon be ready for occupancy.

Everyone who doesn't make a habit of reading Bob Crozier's Farmer County Soil Conservation News column in the Farm and Home section should be sure to read it this week and next.

Members of the senior class are working diligently on the annual senior play. Let's all keep Thursday, March 2 or Friday, March 3 open so we can see some home town talent.

Ladies — be beautiful AND safe!

Loveller hair colors, gayer lipsticks, more fragrant perfumes and deodorants all await milady's choice. But besides being chic, the American housewife wants to be safe, too. One Missouri lady became seriously ill from the hair dye she used. Another housewife in New York discovered she was allergic to an ingredient in the deodorant she was using to keep her fresh in the wintling summer heat.

The National Association of Claimants' Counsel of America, a national group of 9,000 trial lawyers who have inaugurated a new program of consumer protection throughout the U.S., points out that manufacturers have a clear legal 'duty to warn' and in addition, that warning must be complete and adequate.

The mere fact that only a small percentage of those who use face powder or lipstick may turn out to be allergic to them doesn't lessen the seller's responsibility, explains NAACA. Buyers should know about "warranties" which is the legal idea that products sold to the public must be fit for the use for which they're intended.

So be alert that the maker of your best new perfume is doing his duty, gals, and the old wives' tales about green hair and purple nail polish won't plague the pretty — and safe — American house frau.

Two Englishmen were sitting in adjoining easy chairs in the cloistered quiet of their club. One looked up from his Times and murmured:

"I say, old man—terribly sorry to hear about your wife."

"Eh? What's that?" asked the other, looking up from his own copy of the Times.

"I said," explained the first, "I was sorry to read that they buried your wife yesterday."

"Yes, of course," said the other, preparing to return to his reading.

Then he added as an afterthought:

"Had to, you know, Dead."

One of the smallest towns in the State rates not one but two names. Many years ago, the hogs used to roam along the banks of a creek in Eastland County to feed on the mast from the groves--so the stream was called Hog Creek! and, when a village appeared, it was named Hogtown.

After a while, however, sentiment developed in favor of a name with more dignity. Squire Winn, the justice of the peace, had a pretty daughter, Desdemona, and a gallant young lawyer from Eastland suggested that her name be given to the town. This was done.

Many in the county, though, kept on calling the place Hogtown so that, when the oil rush of 1918-20 came, the town had two names, both of which became famous over the nation. In fact, Hogtown alias Desdemona had a third name, for a few facetious individuals residing in rival communities combined the two words into Hogdemonia -- but the use of this cognomen was usually the signal for a fight.

What
Ura-Green
Nitrogen Solution
Can Do
For Your Wheat

Nothing can give wheat a boost like a topdressing of nitrogen. Where phosphorus and potash levels are adequate, a topdressing of Spencer URA-GREEN Nitrogen Solutions has increased wheat yields as much as 25 bushels an acre in some areas!

"But what can it do for my wheatland?" you ask. Well, being conservative, we'll guess that a topdressing of 40 pounds of nitrogen (about 120 pounds of URA-GREEN) will increase your wheat at least 8 bushels an acre. This is not a large yield increase, as increases from nitrogen go, yet this increase alone would more than double your return over your fertilizer investment!

Can you afford not to have your wheat topdressed with URA-GREEN Nitrogen Solution? See us now! Each day you delay means less chance of getting it on in time for maximum crop response. See us or call us today for your nitrogen needs. We will apply your nitrogen for you.

Farmers Must Sign Up For Feed Program

To be eligible to participate in any feed grain sorghum that may be forthcoming from Congress this year, Farmer County farmers must sign up at the county ASC office before March 16, it was announced Wednesday by Prentice Mills, ASC manager.

Letters are being mailed to all farm operators and/or owners this week, and each of them will be given a certain time at which they can appear at the ASC office in Farwell, Mills said.

The purpose of the "signing up" will be to record a history of a farmer's land during the years 1959 and 1960, so that a base can be set on grain sorghum, barley, oats and corn.

Currently pending in Congress is a bill that will provide farmers with a price support on these grains, provided they will lay out 20 per cent of their acreage for some soil conservation practice.

To be eligible for this program, if it passes Congress, or any other emergency program that might be forthcoming, all of these crop bases will have to be established at the ASC office before March 16, Mills said.

The ASC office will start meeting with farmers Tuesday, "and we plan to handle about 125 a day next week and the week after," Mills said.

Mills and Farmer County ASC committeemen were in Lubbock Tuesday attending a special meeting where the sign-up program was outlined.

Dates Set For License Sales

Lee Thompson, Farmer County tax assessor-collector, this week announced the dates and locations for license plate sales throughout the county.

He also advised vehicle owners to buy their plates early to avoid the last-minute rush, which normally occurs during the last few days of March.

The license plate sales are running a little ahead of last year, Thompson said, but he added that there were still a lot of them to be sold. Deadline for registering vehicles is April 1.

Locations other than the courthouse in Farwell, where Thompson will sell the license tags, are as follows (He will be at these locations from 8:30 to 5 p. m.):

- Thursday, March 16--Black, Tri-County Elevator
- Friday, March 17--Bovina City Hall
- Saturday, March 18--Friona City Offices
- Thursday, March 23--Lazbuddie, Church of Christ
- Friday, March 24--Bovina City Hall

New Hope For The Epileptic

BY GLADYS WOOD

Dr. L. M. Long, a Texas-born chemist, has developed an antibiotic, Dilantin by name. This medicine may be the key that unlocks the door for the epileptic.

He does not resent this. He only wants his equal chance, no extra care or special attention. Least of all, he does not want pity. He does not need pity.

Some of today's distinguished leaders are epileptics. The ailment did not overcome them. They overcame it.

A beet-factory in the Texas-panhandle would be in the epileptic's favor. Dilantin is a sweetish compound in beet-juice.

The testing of soil and the recommendations which accompany the returns to the sender are leading the way to more profitable crop and pasture production in Texas. W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, says a very noticeable upturn in the number of soil samples from the Blackland Prairie area has resulted from benefits obtained from following recommended practices in that section. He suggests that soil samples be submitted now from fields on which spring crops are to be planted. This is the slack season in the testing laboratory, and test results can be gotten back to the farmer in the shortest possible time.

The organic matter deficiency which is common to many garden soils can be materially aided through the use of compost. Tree leaves now cluttering most yards can be quickly converted into compost if they are mixed with soil and fertilizer as they are stacked. Ask your local county agent for details on compost making.

According to an old superstitious belief, the wearing of a turquoise would preserve one from injury by falling. A medieval king who wore a turquoise ring asked his jester one day:

"What do you think would happen if I jumped off the highest part of the castle with this ring on my finger?"

The jester replied with a ready wit worthy of his office, "The turquoise, my lord, would probably not be hurt."

About every tenth new dwelling in 1958 was a trailer.

WATER IS A REALLY NICE ITEM

Highly recommended for rowing on, swimming in and washing with.

Water was invented before the wheel. Fortunately, too. Without water, no water wheel. No grist.

Water is highly favored by fish, stumps, rubber boots and parched tongues.

Branch water is highly favored by bourbon. Branch water is just one of many available varieties. Spring. Warm. Tepid. Hot. Cold. Standing. Running. Falling. Occasional. Casual (found on golf balls). Hard. Soft. There are more. Clean. Dirty. Dish. Actually, there are two kinds of branch water. That which comes from branches of main streams and that which has dead tree branches in it. Both are essential.

Water is needed for drowning. It serves other worthwhile purposes. Makes a swell oasis. Also waves.

Frozen water was responsible for the ice man about whom many lousy jokes you have heard. He has been replaced by the meter man (gas, electric, water), the mail man, the milk man.

Except for vast arid areas, water is prevalent everywhere. Under foot and roofs with holes in; over head; in stocks; on knees and brains; by beaches.

Fire water used to be universally acclaimed by Indians but now they have their reservations.

For making rust, water is hard to beat. Goes great under bridges and over dams, too.

You'll be surprised to learn that the most common cause of outboard motor trouble is lead poisoning. It costs many outboarders considerable time, pleasure and money.

To put it plainly, the trouble stems from the use of gasoline which contains lead compound.

For you, the simple answer is to demand marine white gasoline for your two-cycle outboard motor. It costs less per gallon. It performs better in the two-cycle engine. And it doesn't injure your motor like the more expensive, high octane fuels do.

Both the regular and the premium grades of automotive gasoline contain sufficient lead to cause trouble when used in two-cycle outboard motors.

Fuel requirements of the automobile motor and the two-cycle outboard differ greatly. The two-cycle outboard engine has low octane requirements, unlike the high compression four-cycle automobile engine.

In the two-cycle outboard, oil is mixed with the gas, therefore oil enters the combustion chamber. Lead-fouling of the spark plugs is a natural result. Accumulated lead deposits on the insulator tip, and on the electrodes, eventually short out the spark plugs, because the lead deposits are electrical conductors.

This, of course, prevents ignition of the fuel-air mixture, which in turn leads to wet-fouling--due to the accumulation of unburned fuel on the electrodes.

Researchers with Kiekhaefer Corporation have been studying the problem for some time. They say that projecting spots or flakes of deposited material sometimes becomes incandescent and ignites the fuel-air charge before the spark occurs, causing pre-ignition. Result is loss of power and possibility of engine damage.

Another problem is obstruction of the exhaust ports by deposit build-up.

At this point, faced with an expensive engine tear down to remove deposits, many outboard owners make a second mistake in an effort to correct the trouble caused by leaded gas. They resort to a detergent motor oil. Then the trouble really starts.

Outboard motor manufacturers and engine lubrication experts are in solid agreement that modern automobile oils are not suited to outboard use. In fact, the worst oils for two-cycle outboard engines are the higher priced "heavy duty" or "premium grade" automobile oils.

Mercury's engineers point out that automobile engine oil contains a dilution inhibitor which makes the oil extremely resistant to mixing with gasoline, as required for outboard motor fuel.

Gasoline-oil separation puts a layer of oil at the bottom of the outboard tank, with gasoline at the top and various proportions of gasoline and oil between. Since the fuel pick-up is located at the bottom of the tank, the engine may get a high proportion of oil when the tank is full and almost straight gasoline when the tank is nearly empty.

Therefore the engine may smoke excessively and foul plugs at first, then overheat, and possibly score the pistons because the remaining fuel contains insufficient oil.

Other additives in automobile engine oils are the "viscosity index improvers" which minimize viscosity changes due to temperature variations.

These are desirable in automobile four-cycle lubrication systems, to insure adequate oil flow and distribution for cold weather starting and warming up; also to prevent excessive thinning of the oil at normal operating temperatures.

However, these additives are unnecessary for two-cycle outboard engine lubrication and only add to the accumulation of harmful deposits.

Furthermore, the advance of high compression, high output automobile engines presented new lubrication problems which necessitated the addition of metallic detergents to the oil for the purpose of inhibiting varnish formations and piston ring sticking.

In four-cycle engines the oil is effectively confined to the crankcase and very little leaks past the piston rings into the combustion chamber.

In a two-cycle engine the oil must be mixed with the gasoline and so practically all of these metallic detergents and other additives enter the cylinders, above the pistons, and form deposits when they come in contact with the hot surfaces of spark plugs, piston crowns and combustion chambers.

These deposits cause pre-ignition and detonation, which result in piston crown burning, piston scuffing and cylinder wall scoring. Frequently metallic deposits bridge a spark plug gap so that it cannot fire and this, in turn, results in the spark plug fouling.

According to Mercury engineers the preferred outboard oil is refined from paraffin base crude obtainable only from wells located in specific geographic areas. The base stock is blended with organic detergents rather than with the inorganic metallic detergents used in automobile oils.

Such blends insure adequate lubrication under the special conditions encountered in two-cycle engine operation, while inhibiting formation of varnish and carbon deposits and keeping piston rings from sticking in their grooves. The oil contains no automotive type anti-dilution agents and, once thoroughly mixed, the gasoline and oil will not separate, even when the fuel tank stands idle for indefinite periods.

Any two-cycle outboard motor gives best results with white marine gasoline. But in occasional emergencies, it will perform well when mixed with a good quality automobile gasoline of low lead content.

Since the need for high octane fuels and special fuel additives is strictly a four-cycle engine problem, and there are few such outboards, there is little reason why outboard owners should be plagued with it. Two-cycle outboard engines run best, longest, and cleanest, on marine white gasoline. Its octane rating is ample to accommodate most outboard engine designs currently in production for pleasure boat use.

Marine white gas can be readily available if outboarders demand it. It's the only way outboard owners can cure the outboard's most common malady--lead poisoning.

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
ROAD TO YESTERDAY
NO man can travel the road to yesterday except in memory. Some things that he once knew have changed as he turns his feet into an old road. So I found recently in driving through a country which I knew as a boy. The dirt road that once followed the crooks and turns of a sluggish stream now cuts across the bends and is paved and smooth for speeding cars when once there were only buggies and wagons. Several old homes I did not see because they were left in a bend or fire and decay had come to them.

JUST A THOUGHT:
It is much better to live better today and plan for tomorrow if we rely upon the achievements and the mistakes of yesterday and remember the lesson that we have learned from them.

There were places I once knew that were no longer tenanted by persons who had been my friends. Some are in the churchyard laid and some now dwell far from the old home. But a few places have not changed and some dear friends remain and I thank God for the good to be still found along the road to yesterday.

And so may you find along the road to your yesterday the blessed balm for the healing of each wound of the past and the restoration of each rose.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

By James E. Edwards

Why don't they make a shoe that will elongate when baby's feet grow?

Such a shoe is now made under patents granted to the Jumping Jack Shoe Company but neither the public nor the shoe retailers were prepared for the introduction of such a radical change when the shoe first appeared on the market in 1944.

One amazingly simple misconception stands between the success and failure of a shoe that will grow. All of us neglect to note that toes do not grow like fingers. Fingers grow more in length than the main body of the hand but the mass of the foot grows six to eight times as much as the toes grow.

If the picture is clear, the reader will agree that to accommodate foot growth the expanding part of the shoe should not be up front but behind the ball of the foot because that is where the major growth occurs.

To permit expansion at the heel the leather under the heel and up the back must be in one continuous piece. That is the process patented by Jumping Jack.

If you can think of another way to make a shoe that will grow, whisper it to me and we'll get rich quick.

Two Friona 4-H Clubs Organized

Two new 4-H Clubs have organized with 48 girls in the Friona Junior 4-H Girls Club and 16 girls in the Friona Senior 4-H Girls club. Officers were elected during the first meeting Wednesday, February 15, at 4:00 p.m. in the Friona High School Library.

Sherri Tannahill was elected president of the Junior 4-H Club. Other officers are Debbie Hays, vice president; Pat Tannahill, secretary-treasurer; Judy Shirley, reporter; Darla Howell, council delegate; Kara Beth Sides, pledge leader; and recreation leader, Glenda Mingus.

Officers of the Senior 4-H club are Linda Schilling, president; Willene Baxter, vice president; Gloria Patterson, secretary-treasurer; Cordelia Parr, reporter; Pat Baxter, recreation leader; and Peggy Adams, pledge leader.

Adult foods, clothing, and organization leaders will be chosen to assist the girls in their programs. Adult leaders are the backbone of all 4-H clubs. Approximately nine leaders are needed in each of the foods and clothing programs of the Junior 4-H Club. For the 16 girls in the Senior 4-H Club about 4 leaders are needed in each of the subjects. Two organizational leaders are needed in each of the two clubs.

More program plans will be discussed in a meeting of the Friona Junior 4-H Girls Club Friday afternoon, March 3rd, at 4:00 in the High School Library. Miss Ettie Musil, County Home Demonstration Agent, will present a special program "How to Give a Method Demonstration."

Friona Senior 4-H Girls Club will meet Tuesday afternoon, March 7, at 4:00 in the High School Library. The program "How to Give a Method Demonstration" will be presented by Miss Musil.

Assisting in organizing these two 4-H Clubs were Mrs. Billy Sides and Mrs. Tress Tannahill. Approximately twenty mothers, also, attended the first meeting.

suggested where the side dressing program is followed the sidedressing should be done in June, while the cotton is still rather small and before the first irrigation. Mr. Walker pointed out that sidedressing alone can not be practiced on poor soils, where the young plant needs the added plant food from the very beginning, but works alright where soils are fertile enough and no plant food deficiency of the young cotton plant occurs.

The researcher cautioned farmers about the possibility of being unable to get the sidedressing on at a proper time due to rain or other pressing work. He also pointed out that fertilizer on cotton is unlikely to be of much benefit on soils as fertile as ours except on years when the cotton comes up and gets off to a good start.

Billy C. Gunter, area agronomist with the extension service, stationed at Lubbock, used a set of colored slides to do a jam up good job of presenting the seedling disease story of cotton. He and Mr. Walker both stressed the influence cold wet soils have on cotton seedling disease. Several points were stressed by Mr. Gunter that would help alleviate our seedling disease trouble, so I'll try to mention a few that come to mind.

The agronomist pointed out that resistant varieties would help, but suggested considerations other than the fact it is a resistant variety must be considered. You can't select varieties on disease resistant alone he said.

He also pointed out that a minimum soil temperature of 60 degrees before planting would be very helpful. The sixty degree soil temperature is arrived at by averaging 10 consecutive morning readings taken at 8 A.M. at the depth the seed will be placed. Avoid planting in a hole, cover seed with one and one-half to two inches of soil. The raised seed bed will afford warmer soil temperature in the seed area and give the plant warmer conditions when it emerges.

The value of acid delinted seed for disease control was stressed. Crop rotation should be practiced, the agronomist said. He also pointed out that seedling diseases enter the plant through breaks in the plant tissue wall, so insect damage, sand damage and all other mechanical damage under control of the farmer should be kept to a minimum.

In next week column I will bring you some of Dr. Pope's research findings on fertilizer placement, sources and time with wheat and grain sorghum.

4-H Club News

Farmer County Junior Leaders 4-H Club met in the James Mabry home in Lazbuddie on February 21. Pat Chitwood presided at the meeting, with Dickie Chitwood leading the pledge.

A report on the March of Dimes drive was given by Bruce Billingsley, and Gerald Foster reported on the council meeting.

During the business session plans for an exhibit for National 4-H week were made. The exhibit will be set up in the county courthouse with each member working on the project. Members also made plans to start a campaign to sell subscriptions to the county newspapers after National 4-H week is over.

The program on giving method demonstrations was given by Joe Jones and Ettie Musil, county agriculture and home demonstration agents.

Attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Dee Chitwood, Pat and Dickie; Mr. and Mrs. James Mabry, Johnny and Terri; Mrs. Leon Billingsley, Bruce and Janis; Mrs. T.O. Lesley, Viann and Peggy; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jones, Russ and Brad; Cooper Young, Robert Tomlinson, Gary and Gerald Foster and Miss Musil.

Our president was not here so Jack Walker took his place. Mike Camp gave the 4-H Club Motto. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Joe Jones had to call the calf tour off because of bad business. Joe talked to us about our projects, then about method demonstrations, and how to give them. He then told us of several different kinds of method demonstrations, some are field crops, how to poison Johnson grass, and ways to give artificial respiration.

Jack Walker is to give a demonstration on Home Safety, March 8th, at the Courthouse, and then at Canyon on April 28th, for the District Contest.

HD Agent's Gossip

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

It's garden planting time! Spring is just around the corner when tiny little shoots of plants and weeds begin to pop out of the ground. Several vegetables can be planted 4 to 6 weeks before the frost-free spring season. April 10th, is our average date of the latest killing frost.

You may want to plant asparagus, broccoli, cabbage plants, English peas, lettuce, onions, potatoes, or turnips now. These vegetables can withstand more cold than most of the other more delicate, warm temperature plants. Be sure to plant seeds as deep as the instructions ask on the package. By all means you need to have the garden soil spaded or plowed, leveled, and ready for planting. If you use the same garden area as last year you will have better results if you rotate planting the vegetables in different rows.

Asparagus is easy to grow and care for. Plant 1 year old roots 15 to 24 inches apart. The roots are put in a trench 1 foot deep. As the plants begin to grow, soil is pulled around the young shoots until the furrow is completely leveled off. Shoots should not be cut at all the first growing season and only 3 of 4 weeks the second year. This will help the root system to become well established.

Incumbents Names Appear On Ballot

Names of the three incumbents whose terms on the Parmer County School Board of Trustees are expiring have been submitted for re-election, according to County Judge Loyde Brewer.
 Deadline for filing for the election, which is slated for April 1, was Wednesday. The present office holders, whose names will appear on the ballot are J. L. Shaffer, Pct. 1 (Friona), Jack Wilson, Pct. 2 (Bovina), and Clyde Magness, Pct. 3 (Farwell).
 Each of the terms will be for two years, and the election will be held in connection with local elections at each of the school districts.
 At Lazbuddie, six candidates will be running for three positions on the board of trustees of the Lazbuddie Independent School District. The six candidates are Earl Peterson, Joe B. Jennings, E. A. Parham, John McGehee, Ben Foster Jr. and R. B. Seaton.
 The three men elected will serve for three year terms. At Bovina, five candidates are running for two positions on the local board. They are Don Sides, C. R. Brandon, J. D. Kirkpatrick, and Jack Clayton.
 The terms will also be for three years. Kirkpatrick and Clayton are seeking re-election.

TRAFFIC REPORT

A frustrated motorist tried to pass a huge truck for many miles. It was no use. Finally at a stop sign, the motorist pulled alongside the truck driver's window. "Well?" said the trucker, glaring viciously. "Nothing important," the motorist replied. "I know what you are. I just wanted to see what one looks like."

When a cow had been killed by a train, it fell to the lot of the foreman to make out a report of the accident on a form that the railroad had provided for the purpose. He checked all the facts and filled in all the lines readily enough until he came to one headed: "Disposition of carcass." The foreman scratched his head for a moment, then wrote: "Kind and gentle."
