IN APPRECIATION OF:

An exciting year-a year of good sportsmanship, clean playing and team work. We salute the football boys of 1945.

We remember with pride how you met each opponent-whether out-weighed or not-with that same hard-driving, solid tackling spirit. We liked the team work we saw. We have seen you come off the field winners but our pride in you was even greater when we saw you come off the field defeated but with a smile on your lips-chins up! It was then that we began to realize just how much guts and grit you had.

And so, hats off to the football boys of 1945! We appreciate you for more than we can say. A Fan

SPORTSMANSHIP

Sportsmanship is the basis of every game; football, tennis volleyball, and countless other games enjoyed by the people of the world.

Sportsmanship is that thing that compels it's victim to never bosat, never quit, never complain-respect the coach and officials, accepting their dicisions and practicing their suggestions. The sportsman in a game never forgets that the colors he is wearing stand for a definite thing-his school including every person in his school and that he is to represent that school, trying to win the game through honest effort

Now, sportsmanship surely is not only for the members of the team, it is for the coach, the officials, and the spectators as well.

The true coach knows his team and is certainly proud of course we don't know why she it. He knows that the team is should be. (Ha-Ha) proud of him, and look to him for leadership. The coach at all times shows confidence in his team and though defeated in actual score, he feels proud and confident in that his team is not beaten-----that is sportsman-ship! The coach loves the game and that is what gives him the "stuff" with which to push his team.

The official can't call the game on any other basis than on that the bond selling contest those in which he sees it. The true official is not pulling for either side but is pulling for the game and to the best of his ability sees that it is played ant scored fairly.

Last of all who require sports- student with the most points manship are the spectators will be presented in the high Generally you feel that there is school, grade school, and Lamar no reason why the spectatormust be a sportsman-he is not playing the game-the reading first $5.00 worth of war stamps the score board dosen't depend on his ability-surely not, but the the spectator in order to get his kie book The class which wins money's worth out of the game the contest will be given a half must really bear down and accept defeat or victory in the same manner as the team-with for the year a cheer for the sport, not for the final score. Of course the score means a lot-it is the thing that shows for the effort put forth by the team and coach in training and the main event as well Just remember-90% of any sport is played from the shoulders up.
